Thus began one of the longest production sagas in Hollywood history. Ross took the project to R.K.O. and worked on it for a few years, meanwhile making other films. Finally, Ross related, he never found out why, he and Howard Hughes ended up by suing each other for $1,000,000.

"But I realized I would be in court five years, even if I won. So we reached an agreement whereby I could take 'The Robe' to another studio. The deal was all set a couple of times, then the studios called it off and acted as though they didn't even know me."

After failing with Metro Goldwyn Mayer, Ross was talking to Universal International when he heard that Darryl Zanuck of 20th Century Fox had bought Hughes' interest in "The Robe." Ross flew to Paris and made a deal with interest in "The Robe." Ross flew to Paris and made a deal with the vacationing Zanuck.

The picture is now set to begin in the fall, and will be Fox's most expensive production. Cost is estimated at $3,500,000.

Capsule reiew: "Somebody Loves Me," a musical biography, tells the careers of Blossom Seeley and Benny Fields with no particular imagination. Half the film consists of musical numbers engagingly presented by Betty Hutton, and to a lesser degree, Ralph Meeker, a promising actor out of place in a musical. Principally for music fans.

Government Prepares To Aid Stricken Town In Devon

LYNMOUTH, England (Reuters) Harold MacMillan, minister of housing and local government, trudged ankle deep through mud yesterday to see how the government can aid this seaside resort town wrecked by last week-end's flood.

The death toll in this southwest England area has risen to 13, with 28 persons still missing and presumed dead. In addition police said unofficially 50 more are unaccounted for. About 2,000 persons are being fed and sheltered by rescue workers.

Damage to roads, bridges and power and public projects is estimated at £1,800,000. Forty-two houses, cottages and hotels were destroyed, 17 partly wrecked and 20 more seriously damaged.

ASK FOR FUNDS

MacMillan urged "all our people at home and overseas who have ever enjoyed the beauties of the Devon coast" to contribute to relief funds.

Address to which cash contributions may be sent is: G. H. Hollis, National Provincial Bank, 65 High Street, Exeter, England. Cheques should be payable to the North Devon and West Somerset Relief Appeal.

Clothing bundles should be sent to the British Red Cross, care of the Town Hall, Lynton, Devon.

Male Secretaries

VANCOUVER (CP)—Men are moving back into the secretarial field largely occupied by women in recent years, William Emerson, vocational training school executive, said "male secretaries are gaining ever-increasing popularity. Qualified men make better secretaries."

Formal Greeting For U.K. Envoy

OTTAWA (CP) — Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald Nye, the United Kingdom's new High Commissioner to Canada, arrived last night to a formal greeting at Ottawa's Union Station.

The 57-year-old soldier-diplomat, whose army career took him from private to wartime vice-chief of the Imperial General Staff, said he wa "very happy" to be in Canada for the first time.

"And from everything I have seen so far my term is going to be just that," he added.

Sir Archibald was U.K. High Commissioner to India before his present appointment. He succeeds Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, who has been named to the Indian post.

Collective Precautions Aim Of France Now

DIEPPE, France (CP)—Two world wars have taught Canada and France that it is better "to discourage aggression by collective precautions than to have to repulse it," Defence Minister Rene Pleven said today.

He spoke at ceremonies commemorating the 10th anniversary of the 1942 Canadian raid on German-occupied Dieppe.

As Canadian Ambassador George Vanier and French dignitaries looked on, a huge monument symbolizing the breaching of the German Atlantic wall of defence was dedicated.

Roman Catholic and Protestant religious services were held at the cemetery where the Canadian dead are buried. A plane dropped flowers on the graves.

Accept New Contract After Hectic Strike

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — C.I.O. United Auto Workers last night accepted a wage contract to end their hectic 14-week strike against the jet plane parts plant of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company.

Only approval of higher U.A.W. officials and signing of the contract delayed a return to production of jet engine compressors and construction of the $10,000,000 plant.

A company spokesman said the new three-year contract provides immediate increase of 14 cents an hour for day workers and 19 cents for night workers, boosting basic pay scales to $1.53 to $2.33.

Television Folk Uneasy About Public Reception

By JOHN PATERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's $8,000,000 television youngster will make its official bow Sept. 6 in Montreal and two days later in Toronto.

The parent CBC is proud, but uneasy about public reaction. Mavor Moore, chief producer at the Toronto outlet, CBLT, said in a radio talk previously:

"We're good and scared. We're only too well aware that when we get on the air, you people sitting out there are going to compare us with the best being produced from New York and Hollywood, where they've been at it for years."

The CBC has been training television staff since January. Key men have been studying operations in the United States and Europe for 18 months.

PRIVATE STATIONS WAIT

For at least a year, possibly longer, CBFT in Montreal on channel 2 and CBLT on channel 9 will be the only television stations in Canada. An Ottawa outlet is due late in 1953.

Private stations will have to wait for television licences at least until the three CBC stations are operating.

One spokesman for private stations, Harry Sedgwick, president of Station CFRB in Toronto, said: "Our guess is that some private licences will be issued in about a year." CFRB first applied for a licence in 1938 and has repeated the application several times.

Montreal, with French- and English-language programs, and Toronto in English only will be television production centres for what is planned eventually as a nine-station CBC network. Besides Ottawa, other stations are planned for Vancouver, Winnipeg, Windsor, Hamilton, London and Quebec city. Halifax has also been mentioned as a possible station site.

At the outset Montreal and Toronto will have television programs running about three hours daily, mostly in the evenings, seven days a week. Both are expected to originate one or two hours of this daily time in their own studios, the remainder being made up of films and exchange shows on kinescope recordings.

MICRO-WAVE LINKS

Toronto expects to be linked soon with Buffalo by micro-wave, a new form of transmitting static-free electrical signals by radio, to permit broadcast of some U.S. network shows.

Montreal's 300-foot tower on Mount Royal is expected to have a coverage radius of 80 miles from Three Rivers on the east to Cornwall, Ont., on the west. The studios are in a downtown hotel, acquired and remodelled by the CBC.

Toronto, with a 500-foot tower, will cover a radius of around 65 miles reaching Cobourg, Kitchener, Orillia and Buffalo in the various directions. Television studios are in a new five-storey building adjoining the CBC radio centre on towntown Jarvis Street.

There were 103,454 television sets in Canada in May. Of these, 96,414 or 95 per cent are in southern Ontario, including 41,525 or 40 per cent in the Toronto and Hamilton district. Windsor had 36,955 sets and the Niagara peninsula 17,934. Montreal had about 1,400 sets. The others are spread across Canada.

PRIVATE RADIO CLAMORS

Private television interests are clamoring for a chance at what has been called "the most powerful engine of persuasion ever conceived."

D. Malcolm Neill of Fredericton, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, said the private broadcasting industry has been prepared for a long time to provide a Canadian television service coast to coast.

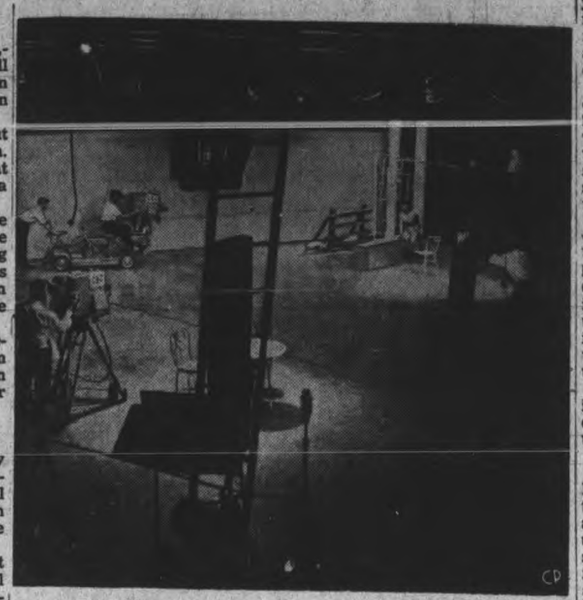
He said the government policy is "a slap in the face" to Canadians who have been forced to wait for Ottawa to give the green light necessary to enable this country to try to catch up with "other civilized countries."

Mr. Neill was commenting on a report to Parliament in July by Revenue Minister McCann. This report included a recommendation by the Massey Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences:

"That no private television broadcasting stations be licensed until the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has available national television programs and that all private stations be required to serve as outlets for national programs."

The government has lent $8,000,000 to the CBC for capital and initial program expenditures. The loan is at five per cent and the CBC hopes to repay it from licence fees—price not yet set, but $15 has been mentioned—and from commercial sponsorship of programs.

"DISTINCTIVELY CANADIAN"



Regarding the type of programs planned, Stuart Griffiths, CBLT's program director, said in an interview:

"Under the terms of the Massey Report we are in business to bring television to Canada and to ensure it will be distinctively Canadian. U.S. networks will provide only a minority of our programs."

CBC shows will be available to advertisers at $1,600 an hour in Toronto and $500 in Montreal, plus talent fees in both cases. An eight-second "spot" costs, respectively, $120 and $37.50. Montreal will charge less because of its fewer sets.

Among private applicants for one of the 12 television channels made available under a complex allotment system worked out for the whole continent are: Famous Players Canadian Corporation and CKEY, both Toronto; CFCF and CKAC, Montreal; CKNW, New Westminster, B.C., and CHML, Hamilton.

Program schedules so far announced by the CBC include parts of National Hockey League games; football, wrestling, boxing and other sports; variety programs, panel shows, full-length dramas, children's programs and dramas, and educational programs in association with schools, universities and social service agencies.

TELEVISION STUDIO—Singer Phyllis Marshall rehearses a song in the main studio of CBLT, the CBC's Toronto television station, due to begin broadcasting September 8, two days after CBFT, the Montreal outlet, officially begins operations. Two of the three cameras usually assigned to a variety program are shown with microphones and lighting equipment.

Car Goes Off Road — 5 Ratings Injured

MIDDLETON, N.S. (CP)—Five naval ratings, including an unidentified member of the women's division, were injured last night when their motor-car plunged off the road near here during a rainstorm.

Ab. Donald M. Jones, Windsor, Ont., was on the danger list in hospital here with a fractured skull and jaw. In less serious condition were LS. Roy J. Brown, Regina; AB. Roland K. Racine, Ottawa; OS. Kennth K. Gaskell, Fernie, B.C., and the Wren.

The group was travelling from Greenwood air base to Cornwallis training base, where they were stationed.

"COOL CONTROL"

THE STANCE

1-Square Stance

Balance and control are 'musts.' There are three basic stances — first, the Square Stance, as above. This stance requires both feet to be placed square to the intended line of flight.

2-Open Stance

All stances require the club to be soled directly back of the ball so that the bottom of the club sits evenly on the turf. If toe of club sticks up, you are too far away. If toe is down, you are too close. In Open Stance, left foot is drawn back from line of flight, and body is turned slightly toward left. Use when slice or fade is desired.

3-Closed Stance

Opposite from Open Stance. Draw right foot back from line of flight. Use when hook from right to left is required. Recommended for driving because of overspin imparted to ball when hit.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Malenkov Stalin's Successor?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A solid clue pointing to Russia's next ruler may emerge from the full-dress meeting of the Communist party congress in Moscow Oct. 5. And United States diplomats will not be surprised if 50-year-old Georgi Malenkov steps up as Josef Stalin's personal choice as next Russian prime minister. In fact, some suspect Stalin's aim in staging the whole affair may be to give a formal open hint as to who the next boss should be. This may be Stalin's way, they believe, of lessening the possibility of a bloody struggle for power after he dies. Until they have more time to analyze Moscow's announcement of the calling of the first Communist congress since 1939, U.S. diplomats say their view is a theory rather than a considered opinion. But here is what they think:

Stalin's heir apparent will be the man who is chosen to be chairman of the new praesidium, to be organized at the meeting to replace the Politburo.

The 12-man Politburo, now the top governing body, has no chairman or chief executive. But a praesidium under the Russian set-up generally does have one.

Anyone picked for this job would automatically be proclaimed publically as the most important Communist in Russia next to Stalin.

It is entirely possible that Stalin himself will be designated chairman of the new praesidium. But, if so, why for the first time since 1925 is he not to give the main address to the congress, the report of the central committee?

Malenkov is now scheduled to give this report, the most important thing on the agenda.

NO PROMINENT ROLE

Furthermore, neither Marshal Beria, head of the Soviet secret police and Deputy Premier Malenkov's main rival, nor Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov, is scheduled to play any prominent role in the congress party session. This may be a clue that Molotov is being pushed into the background, since he read the new five-year plan at each of the two previous congress meetings, in 1934 and 1939.

Molotov is 62 and his age has been considered a factor against him.

Malenkov was a key figure in setting up the Cominform, the guiding Soviet policy bureau for Russia's eastern Europe satellites. He is a member of the central committee secretariat under Stalin.

One Of Quintuplets Dies Four Others Doing Well

SAO PAULO, Brazil (CP)—One of the quintuplet girls born at Sao Carlos Tuesday night died in hospital here today. The other four were reported in good condition. The babies, who weighed about 2½ pounds each at birth, were placed in an incubator in a maternity hospital here.

The mother, Mrs. Maria Albano, 38, was reported in excellent condition. She lived with her husband, Jose, a laborer, in a house occupied by four other families in the interior town of Sao Carlos.

Hospital authorities said the parents are so poor the five babies arrived at the hospital wrapped in old clothes.

Hospital authorities said the parents are so poor the five babies arrived at the hospital wrapped in old clothes.

Dr. Francisco Sucupira of the hospital staff said the girls, born within three hours, are normal.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Albano was first attended by a midwife who quickly summoned a doctor when she realized more than one baby was coming. After the deliveries, the mother and quints were brought to hospital.

The Meridional news agency said it had learned that the babies had been named according to the sequence of their birth: Maria Primeira (first), Maria Segunda (second), Maria Terceria (third), Maria Quarta (fourth), and Maria Quinta (fifth).

The governor of Sao Paulo state, Lucas Garez, was quoted as saying the state would give every assistance to the family.

The Albanos were married 10 years ago. Four girls and three boys were born to them previously but five of these children died.

OTHER QUINTS WELL

Two other sets of quintuplets—the Dionnes and the Diligentis—are doing well.

The five Dionne girls became junior high school graduates last May 28 as they celebrated their 18th birthday at Corbeil, Ont.

In Buenos Aires, the Diligenti quintuplets—three boys and two girls—were nine years old last July 15. They go to different English schools and don't see each other often. Their millionaire father, Franco Diligenti, brought them together on their birthday for the first time in many months. He thinks it's better for the children to be separated.

Police Squads Search Gatineau

HULL, Que. (CP)—Squads of police concentrated a search in the Gatineau area north of here yesterday after identification of a stranger in the district as Henri Seguin, wanted for questioning for murder.

Seguin is wanted in connection with the death of Leonard Z. Hurd of Maxville, Ont., shot to death in his taxi near Maxville Saturday night and robbed of more than $1,000.

Excitement ran high for a time when one squad returned to headquarters here with an unidentified man. But officers said he had been spotted in a stolen car and was being booked on a car-theft charge. He had nothing to do with the Hurd case.

The search for Seguin began when army discharge papers bearing that name were found in an overnight bag in the back of the taxi. Seguin is also wanted by Cornwall township police on a theft charge.

The search swung north to Cascades, Que., about 20 miles north of Hull, when a man was seen sleeping in a coupe bearing the licence number of Seguin's car.

A hotel proprietor at Wakefield, Que., seven miles north of Cascades, identified a picture of Seguin as that of a stranger who drank beer in his hotel with an unidentified woman Monday night. The barman also identified the picture.

Arrest Hotel Manager After 90 MPH Chase

TORONTO (CP)—Police chased a speeding automobile at 90 miles an hour on the Queen Elizabeth Way, 10 miles west of here, early today and arrested Arthur Jex, 37, a Toronto hotel manager, on charges of speeding and dangerous and careless driving.

Shots fired by police in an attempt to halt the fleeing car aroused residents along the highway. Police headquarters was flooded with calls from citizens who feared a gun battle was in progress.

Torch Touches Off Blast Two Men Die In Gas Tank

QUEBEC (CP)—Two men were burned to death yesterday when an acetylene torch touched off a gas explosion and fire inside a 21,000-barrel gasoline tank being dismantled.

The dead were identified as Ronald Sudds, 28, Kingston, Ont., and William Ruether, 24, of Peace River, Alta.

Two others, Roger Kennedy of Kingston and Pierre Bedard, 42, of Quebec, were in the tank when the mishap occurred but escaped through an opening at the bottom. Kennedy suffered burns.

The steel tank, owned by McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. Ltd., was being dismantled by a crew working for Sparling and Davis Company Kingston contractors.

Bedard said the four men were building an iron scaffold inside the tank when the fire was started by a torch held by Sudds.

He said Sudds and Ruether were cut off by the fire, while he and Kennedy were near the opening, large enough for one man to pass through.

The tank, 40 feet high and 40 feet in diameter, had been tested for gas fumes and found to be safe for work, he said.

8 Remanded On 33 Game Counts

Former Magistrate, Deputy Warden Among Those On List

BURKS FALLS, Ont., (CP) Eight men, including a deputy game warden and a former magistrate and all from southern Ontario, were remanded today on 33 charges of violations of the Games and Fisheries Act nearly three months ago.

The men did not appear in court in this community 45 miles south of North Bay. They were remanded to an indefinite date in September.

Charged with taking 127 lake trout with gill nets from Tims Lake in Algonquin Park, about 40 miles east of here, are: George Laver, a deputy game warden from Cooksville; William Stubbs and Dr. James Thomas, Caledon; Lockwood Stubbs, Alton; former Magistrate John Kidd of Inglewood; Gordon J. Bredin, a bakery owner, and William Ferguson, a poultry dealer, both of Orangeville.

The seven also are charged with having more than 10 lake trout apiece in their possession which were seized May 27. Officials seized 42 other fish from the same party June 1.

Also accused is Otto W. Caven, an Alton funeral director, charged with giving false information to wild life officials.

Kidd also is charged with unlawfully hindering an officer and he and the others, except Caven, also are charged with unlawfully breaking a beaver dam.

Laver faces three special charges, two of abusing his authority as game warden and one of neglecting to perform his duties as an official of Butt township.

Templer Orders New Crackdown

PENANG, Malaya (Reuters)—Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, high commissioner for Malaya, threatened today to banish 79 natives from their village "forever" unless they ceased aiding Communist terrorists.

The 79 natives, entire population of the north Malayan village of Matang Tinggi, were placed under house arrest until they supply information about the murder of a resettlement officer last Friday.

The high commissioner's actions heralded a new crackdown in the four-year jungle warfare.

If the villagers refuse to speak by Monday, Templer told them, "you will never live here again as a little community. You will sever all connection with this village and district forever."

He said that in villages such as Matang Tinggi, Communists "can commit murder and other crimes without a hand being raised against them . . . I cannot permit this to continue."

Railways And Unions Can't Pick Chairman

OTTAWA (CP)—Arthur MacNamara, deputy labor minister, today said the railway companies and unions representing non-operating employees have informed the Labor Department they cannot agree on a chairman for a conciliation board to investigate a contract dispute.

Mr. MacNamara said the department now must name a chairman to the board within a week.

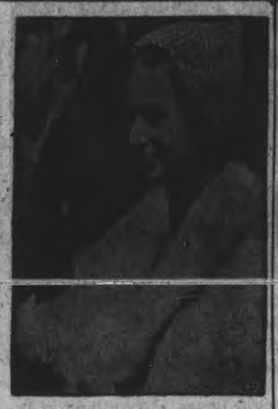
Paul Smith of Montreal has been appointed by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways. David Lewis of Toronto is the union appointee.

The 13 unions represent some 128,000 non-operating employees of the two companies. They are asking for a pay increase of 45 cents an hour, union security and an esclafor clause tying wages to increases in the cost of living.

Farouk Pays Half Overdue Hotel Bill

CAPRI, Italy (Reuters)—Farouk of Egypt yesterday paid about half of his two-week overdue bill for his 30-room suite in the plush Eden Paradiso hotel here, manager Micola Farace said.

The exact sum paid by the "no longer rich" former monarch is a secret but is believed to be about $4,480.



Farace said he had been forced to cut his rates for Farouk in order to get payment because tradesmen were clamoring for settlement of bills.

The top-floor suite is occupied by Farouk, now Prince Farouk Fuad, his wife Narriman, daughters Ferial, Fawzia and Fadia, the seven-month-old baby King Ahmed Fuad and a large retinue of henchmen and officials.

HAS 22ND BIRTHDAY — Princess Margaret is celebrating her 22nd birthday at Balmoral Castle today.

Princess Has Sad Touch To Birthday

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP)—A touch of sadness shadows the thoughts of Princess Margaret as she celebrates her 22nd birthday today within the granite walls of Balmoral Castle.

Presents and greetings were taken to the princess in her suite. But the occasion was different from the happy times spent within the same castle walls when her father was alive.

On other birthdays, Margaret ran eagerly to the breakfast table in search of a familiar card. It contained mysterious instructions that would lead her to a present—if she could figure out the message.

This first birthday since the King's death marks an intangible but real change in the life of the fun-loving young princess. Since her sister became Queen, Margaret in a sense has been living in "her sister's house." Buckingham Palace and Balmoral are no longer her own homes.

"Close as Princess Margaret is to the Queen," said a palace representative, "that makes quite a difference—even to a royal princess."

MAY LEAVE CASTLE

It is believed that this as much as anything else will take the princess from Balmoral before the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh leave for London in October. Margaret may visit friends in Scotland.

There will be no official birthday party today. The Royal Family and guests staying at Balmoral will toast Margaret's health and happiness at dinner, followed by an evening of dancing.

Still a careful, elegant dresser, the princess now favors a new short hair style with high, chunky curls fitting closely under her tiny half-hats. She has recently used a darker shade of lipstick and just a hint of mascara and eye shadow, lending a further sophistication to her dark blue eyes.

Air Woman Makes Off With RCAF Ambulance

OTTAWA (CP)—An R C A. F. air woman who made off with a service ambulance from Rockcliffe Air Station today was stopped by Quebec provincial police 15 miles west of Montreal after a mad, accident-dotted chase for 115 miles along the Ottawa-Montreal, highway.

Police said the woman, stopped at the village of Strathmore, was taken to Montreal for questioning.

She commandeered the blue-grey 1950-model ambulance from the R.C.A.F. station this morning and police all along the route to Montreal were advised.

At the village of Hawkesbury, 60 miles east of Ottawa, police Chief Henri Giroux tried to stop her but the ambulance sideswiped his car and slammed into two others and kept on going.

R.C.A.F. authorities said her name is Gladys Linda Rochon, 19, of Cedar, B.C. She joined the Air Force last Oct. 8 and was posted to the air photography section at Rockcliffe Aug. 13.

Tanker Rams Vessel During Gale

American Vessel Sinks Rapidly In Storm-Tossed Sea

DOVER (AP)—Two British lifeboats early today hauled the 37-man crew of the American freighter Western Farmer from the gale-swept English channel after the ship, rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in halves and sank.

The lifeboats landed Capt. Gunnar Utvik of Galveston, Tex., and the rest of his crew at this famous old port of southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorgholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the 7,239-ton Western Farmer.

The collision occurred late last night in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands, the "channel graveyard" eight miles off the southeast coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships—"right into the radio room." The crash put the U.S. ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from the tanker brought rescue craft.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her.

"The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sinking slowly," said First Engineer Dulcilio Santiago of Brooklyn, N.Y.

At another point off Britain's east coast a British crew was less fortunate. A small trawler, the 260-ton Magnolia, blew up and sank in seven seconds. Three of the crew were killed; eight were rescued.

Leave Factories Flaming Ruin

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations B-29 Superforts, B-26s and fighter bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over northwest Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B-29s last night and early today hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, after civilians were warned to get out. The air force said the big bombers rubbled 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning. All 38 planes returned safely, despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B-26s and fighter bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

Man Forces Boy 9, Take Part In Break-in

HAMILTON, (CP)—William Thomas, 37, today was sentenced to one year in jail following conviction on two charges of theft and contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Police, who described Thomas as "a modern Fagan," said he forced his nine-year-old son to accompany him on a break-in at a Hamilton scrap-metal yard.

Mrs. Thomas said she pleaded with her husband not to take their son along and that the boy did not want to go.

Magistrate Beamer Hopkins said Thomas was leading his son into a life of crime.

"I must give a punishment that will deter other parents and guardians from doing the same thing."

Dies At Cottage Before Help Arrives

BELLEVILLE (CP) — Edward Gowan, 54, of Kingston, died at a cottage near here Wednesday night before medical aid arrived. He was found in a dying condition by his niece Miss Betty Angor of Syracuse N.Y.

Dr. Cameron Wilson, Napanee, coroner, said the man died from natural causes and there would be no inquest.

TLC To Continue Restrictions On Blacklisting

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today decided to continue restrictions on the blacklisting of employers. After a controversy that spilled over from yesterday's session, the T.L.C.'s annual convention voted to keep up some qualifications on the right of local labor groups to brand employers as "unfair." The Congress spent much of its annual convention yesterday arguing the point. The T.L.C. executive itself wants the use of the blacklist weapon restricted, but spokesmen for several unions held there should not be these tie-downs.

At present, under an executive ruling of a few months ago, T.L.C. labor cannot blacklist an employer if he has a contract with some employees in a Congress affiliate. The debate produced sharp differences on the worth of this stand.

The Congress also heard reports yesterday from spokesmen for its affiliates in the United States and the United Kingdom, the American Federation of Labor and the Trades Union Congress.

John J. Hauck of Philadelphia, fraternal delegate from the A.F.L., described the Taft-Hartley labor law of the U.S. as a "legislative time bomb" and said management would use it as a weapon in hard times.

Frederick S. Kelland of London, representing the T.U.C., predicted the defeat of the British Conservative government in the next election. He also said the rift in the British labor party is not as wide as it seems abroad and forecast that Clement Atlee's supporters will carry the day over those of Aneurin Bevan in the September annual session of the party.

RETAIN STRIKE WEAPON

A declaration that Canadian labor will not give up its right to strike came yesterday from Percy Bengough, president of the 502,000-member T.L.C.

He was commenting on a suggestion by Labor Minister Gregg, in a speech to the Congress the day before, that labor should go easy on strikes while the democracies are in the arms-production race.

Mr. Bengough said labor has certain rights and will continue to use them. The convention took no special action on the point but apparently gave tacit assent to Mr. Bengough's statement.

Ring Feeding Dollars To Reds

TOKYO (AP)—United States military authorities and Japanese police today said they have arrested some American servicemen and 73 Japanese, Chinese and Korean nationals in connection with what they called a $3,000,000-a-year black market ring that feeds dollars to Communists.

Maj. Jack Elliott, judge-advocate for the Far East air forces, said the ring operates in this manner:

Military payment certificates, used in lieu of money by U. S. forces, is spent illegally by servicemen, who are not supposed to use it in dealings with Japanese. The certificates reach money dealers, who then pay other servicemen to exchange them for dollar drafts or money orders.

The money orders and drafts are turning up in Hong Kong, off the Red China mainland, Elliott said, and "it's a conclusion anybody can make that the dollars are going to the Communists".

Two Men Claim Position As New Consul

MONTREAL (CP)—Two men today claimed they are Panamanian consul here. Word is awaited from Ottawa and Washington to straighten out the situation.

Dr. Jose DeNobili, honorary consul-general here for five years, refused to give up the post to Tito Juvenal Arias who arrived in Montreal last week and said he had been appointed consul.

Dr. DeNobili says Arias' papers "are not in order," while Arias said his government had sent him here to take over.

"Something is funny," Arias observed.

Arias said the Panama embassy in Washington told him to wait in Montreal for further orders. He said DeNobili has received notification of the appointment. But Ottawa officials said they had no word of the Arias appointment.

DeNobili said he could give only one reason for the affair.

"It's politics," he said.

"It's mismanagement," Arias countered.

Thinks Allies Must Be Crazy

WITH U.S. EIGHTH ARMY, Korea (AP)—Somewhere in Korea there is a farmer who never will forget this day.

He was plowing a field when his ox stepped on a mine. The ox was blown to bits, the farmer scratched on the chest.

Allied troops took him to a nearby hospital for treatment. A little iodine and some bandage patched him up nicely, and he offered to help around the hospital tent.

He got sleepy, lay down on a stretcher inside this tent, and soon was fast asleep.

A helicopter landed to pick up a wounded soldier marine and fly him to a hospital ship at Inchon. Medics picked up the first stretcher and lashed it to the outside of the helicopter.

The farmer awakened high in the air. His beloved earth lay several thousand feet below. Only a thin piece of canvas held him aloft.

On the ground at Inchon, the farmer made his plight understood — between gasps. The pilot flew him back, this time inside the helicopter.

The farmer trudged slowly back to his field, still shaking his head.

Plan To Televise 6 Alouette Games

MONTREAL (CP)—Six home games of Montreal Alouettes in the Big Four will be televised, it was announced last night.

The games will be carried over CBFT, the Montreal television outlet of CBC with English and French commentaries. A manufacturer of television equipment is the sponsor.

Begin Sad Journey Home

Children Orphaned By Crash Showered With Presents

BRANTFORD (CP)—Four Ohio children, injured last Saturday in an automobile-truck crash that killed their parents, sadly resumed their journey home from a Canadian holiday yesterday.

James Wagner, 9, and Donald, 13, travelled by ambulance. Shirley, 14, and Larry, 16, drove in a private car with an uncle and aunt.

Shirley and Larry had been told their parents are dead. They were quiet and pale. The other two, who still do not know, seemed in good spirits.

The children carried with them gifts from sympathetic residents of this southwestern Ontario city of 37,000.

A woman telephoned to ask if she could prepare a picnic lunch for the children's journey home.

GET AUTOGRAPHED BALL

Then someone heard the three boys were keen ball players—and came up with a baseball, autographed by members of the Brantford Red Sox team.

A women's club bought a sweater for Shirley. When the store proprietor heard where it was going, he tucked a blouse into the parcel.

From another source came chocolate bars and candy.

In the accident James, the smallest, suffered a broken jaw; Shirley, a broken foot; Donald, contusions and cuts, and Larry, foot cuts.

Canada's Air Chief Goes Overseas To See Facilities

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's air chief is going overseas to see how facilities and planning for the buildup of Canadian air strength in Europe are coming along. Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff, leaves tomorrow for Britain and France, about a month ahead of the wing of three squadrons of jet fighters scheduled to fly to France in October. In his two weeks abroad, it is expected Air Marshal Curtis will inspect the two airfields now allocated to the R.C.A.F. on the continent and look at others which have been suggested for Canadian use.

The first two are near Metz, France, and Zweibrucken, Germany. They are roughly 50 miles apart.

The wing slated to arrive in the Metz area in mid-October is the second of four in the air division Canada has promised to have in Europe by 1954. The first is at North Luffenham, England, and will remain there for another couple of years.

The airfield situation now is the key to whether Canada meets her commitment to have an air division of 12 squadrons in Europe by 1954. The R.C.A.F. says there is little chance the squadrons won't be ready but the airfields may not be available in time to accommodate all of them on schedule.

Say Archbishop Refused Eden Church Wedding

LONDON (Reuters) — The Recorder, weekly Conservative newspaper, said today the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, refused to let Anthony Eden and Miss Clarissa Churchill be married in an Anglican church.

The ceremony took place last week in a registry office.

Prime Minister Churchill, the bride's uncle, wanted the church wedding, said the paper, but the archbishop gave a flat "no."

Main opposition to a church wedding was the fact that the Foreign Secretary had been divorced from his first wife, even though he had been the innocent party.

The Recorder said Miss Churchill was a "lapsed" Roman Catholic and thus a Catholic marriage was even more out of the question.

In another article, The Recorder said the Queen and court officials were seriously considering changing the rules which exclude divorced persons from being received at court.

Shoemaker Killed By Blows From Axe

MONTREAL (CP)—Mike Woodik, 65, a shoemaker of Mackayville, Que., south of Montreal, was killed early today by two blows from the blade of an axe. Police said they were holding Pola Astonjik, 70, for questioning.

Police said the man had apparently been struck while in bed.

The blows caught Woodik on the left side of the temple.

The victim's wife ran from the house and halted a passing patrol car.

Ceremony Spoiled Cornerstone Missing

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—"Lost: One 30-ton carload of granite, including the cornerstone for your New bank building."

That's the message officials of the Fidelity Savings and loan Association had for its 15,000 member-owners today.

The Association's new building was under construction, the invitations were mailed to all members for the ceremony, scheduled today. The cornerstone started west from Minnesota more than a month ago.

Fidelity officials believe they've located the missing stone on a siding at Havre, Mont. Now all they have to do is mail 15,000 new invitations to the ceremony.

Umpire's Smokescreen

AIRDALE, Eng. (CP)—Crickete in a match between Airedale and Wharfedale complained the umpire smoked his pipe until they were often unable to see the bowler's arm. An order was therefore made that umpires must not smoke in future matches of the Yorkshire Junior Cricket League.

Britain Clears Way Resume Talks

LONDON (AP) — Britain has cleared the way for resuming full-scale military talks with Egypt designed to bring that country into a western-sponsored Middle East defence alliance.

Two moves announced by the Foreign Office today clearly aimed to please Egypt's new rulers:

The British have decided to lift a 10-month-old embargo on the supply of equipment to the Egyptian armed forces.

They have also decided to renew facilities for training Egyptian army, navy and air force officers in this country.

MAY EASE BAN

Britain is believed to be considering also lifting the ban on supply of armaments to Egypt.

This would enable the Cairo government to buy British-produced jet-propelled fighter aircraft and tanks.

Britain clamped an embarg on such shipments last November when Egypt tore up a 20 - year treaty binding the two countries together in a mutual defensive alliance.

Loud Music, Posters In Chilean Campaign

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Loud music and louder wall signs are the chief outward signs of the Chilean presidential campaign now going on. The voting, to elect one of four candidates, will take place Sept. 4.

Loudspeakers blare out a mixture of tangos, sambas and rhumbas, intermingled with praise for one or another of the men who want to succeed President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla.

Complaints about the racket get little action because the government is bent on maintaining freedom of speech throughout the campaign.

Garden walls in exclusive residential districts and the walls of buildings are plastered with signs, often depicting opponents in impolite terms.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3⅛ per cent in terms of Canadian Funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Wednesday's noon rate was 96 1-16 cents. The pound sterling was $2.68, against $2.67¾ on Wednesday.

IT IS NOT HAY—But it IS straw. This German miss in Hanau points to the face of a clock made of straws which took 15 years to build. It was started in 1892 by Otto Wegener, a shoemaker and amateur clockmaker and completed in 1907. Although it stands five and a half feet high, it weighs only about a pound. It runs about eight hours. Everything in it, down to the smallest balance wheel, is made of straw.

Produce, Livestock Markets

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP)—Wholesale fruit and vegetable price changes here today were: cabbage, $1-1.25; apples, Duchess, $1.25-1.75; watermelon case, $1.75-2.

Potato prices were: Ontario and N.B. off truck, $4; to trade, $4.25-4.50.

BUFFALLO LIVESTOCK

Hogs 150; good to choice sows 15.00-18.00.

Sheep and lambs 350; market not established.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO (CP)—Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

Egg market prices were unchanged. Quotations for eggs packed in fibre cases were: A large 61-62 cents; A medium, 51-52; A small, 35-36; grade B, 39-40; grade C, 27-28. Wholesale to retail: A large, 66-67; A medium, 55-56; A small, 39-40; grade B, 45-46; grade C, 35.

Butter prices were: first grade, 58 cents tenderable, 57¼-57½ cents non-tenderable; second grade prices were not established; western, 58¼ cents asked, no sales.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains tilted a little lower at the opening on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were moderately active.

Once again there wasn't much incentive for buying. Canada has a big wheat supply, the corn crop is progressing satisfactorily in this high-priced for this time of year, and there is a very large open interest in oats.

Wheat started unchanged to ⅜ cent lower, September $2.31; corn was unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.79-1.78⅞, and oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September 82¾-⅞. Soybeans were ½ cent lower to ¼ higher, September $3.18-3.18½.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—Light receipts and dull trading today slowed Ontario Stockyard activity almost to a standstill. Receipts: cattle, 260; calves, 60; hogs, 120; sheep and lambs, 90. The holdover of 2,400 cattle included 1,000 stockers.

A few stockers traded from $18-$25 depending on quality while butcher cows brought $14-$17.50 and bulls $15-$16.50.

Calves were steady at $26-$28 for choice vealers and $15-$24 for common to medium.

Grade A hogs sold at $26 and dressed sows at $16.

Lambs brought $30 for good ewes and wethers. Bucks sold at $29 sheep from $6-$10.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—A better class of buying appeared in barley in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange, indicating some export business may have been worked overnight.

Prices, however, moved narrowly during the quiet trade. Only routine shipper demand came out in oats. Trade in rye and flax was light and local.

Noon grain prices:

Oats: Oct. unch 83⅜a; Dec. ¼ lower 80⅝b; May ¼ lower 82⅝a.

Barley: Oct. ⅛ higher 1.26½b; Dec. ⅛ higher 1.21⅝a; May unch 1.20⅝b.

Rye: Oct. 1⅛ lower 1.83⅝; Dec. 1-1¼ lower 1.84; may ⅞ lower 1.87⅞.

Flax: Oct. ¼ higher 3.96b; Dec. not open; May not open.

Summary for Friday—Sunny.

Rescue Work Called Off

MUOTATHAL, Switzerland (CP)—Rescue workers today temporarily called off efforts to save four men trapped in "Hell's Hole," a maze of underground caverns and passageways under the Alps here.

The experts said there is no hope of success until the water which trapped the four underground explorers recedes further. The rescuers hope to penetrate within 48 hours into the levels inside the mountain where the four men are believed to be.

Original plans to pump water out of some of subterranean passages were abandoned as impractical.

The rescue workers are still convinced that the four explorers have found a safe place in one of the higher caverns. The quartet went into the caverns last Friday.

Investigate Explosion In Priest's Car

QUEBEC (CP)—Provincial police said today they are investigating an explosion which occurred Sunday when Rev. Ulric Couture of St. Casimir de Portneuf switched on the ignition of his automobile.

Father Couture escaped injury when the explosion wrecked the front part of his car causing damage estimated at $1,200.

Police said a stick of dynamite had been wired to the starter of the car by someone who had broken into the garage Saturday night.

St. Casimir is about 50 miles west of Quebec.

N.-D. Plowmen Whoop Up Distant Match

The 1953 International Plowing match will be located on and around the farm of the United Counties Home immediately north and west of Cobourg.

Although that date is one year and three months hence, the sponsoring Plowmen's Association of Durham and Northumberland have lined up committees with an enthusiasm that steadily acquires zest as the far-off event slowly approaches.

Warden Harry Campbell, of Baillieboro, and his associates of the United Counties plowmen could probably put the match on this year if it wasn't booked for Carp in Carleton county, about 20 miles from Ottawa.

Meanwhile, they'll be champing on the bit, waiting and getting ready for the big week.

The International, with its tremendous demonstration of agricultural machinery, is now assigned to localities, switching from west to eastern areas of the province, and in between to some central group of farms, at least three years in advance of the opening day. John A. Carroll left it soundly and firmly on its feet as the head of its executive.

WARDEN CAMPBELL

The N. and D. farmers have been whooping it up off and on for the last year or more, and in their Cobourg site they have excellent location. Warden Campbell is the general chairman, and L. H. Winslow, of Millbrook, is the vice-chairman.

Mr. Winslow is one of the veteran members of the provincial plowmen's association.

Edwin Wilson, of Garden Hill, is executive member, convener to the date of the match with Wesley Down, of Hilton. Treasurer is Ken Symons, clerk and treasurer of the United Counties.

Committee chairmen are: Tractors, Pat Lappin, of Cobourg. All he has to do with his helpers is to find 150 tractors.

Teams: Charles Wilson, Cobourg, who lives opposite the match property, is delegated to round up 20 teams and arrange for their feed.

Parking: Len Henderson, of Millbrook, whose assignment is to provide 75 acres and design them for motor car parks.

Lands: I. S. Allin, of Newcastle, is given the job of securing 225 acres for the competing plowmen.

Tickets: Stanley Macklin, Cobourg, to recruit 24 or more salesmen.

EARL DROPE'S CHORE

Headquarters: Earle Drope, of Harwood, president of the Northumberland Federation of Agriculture. All he has to do is look after the Tented City with details of water lines, Hydro-Electric power, telephones and various other facilities.

Demonstrations: Percy Gooding, of Hilton, a former Warden of N.-D., has that sideshow.

County Exhibits: Ed. A. Summers, Bowmanville, agricultural representative in Durham.

Lunch committee: William Allin, Newcastle, getting bag lunches for the plowmen and workmen.

Health: John Rickard, Newcastle, to co-operate with the health officials.

Horse show: William Scott, Campbellford, to arrange for the best horses to be exhibited.

Publicity: Foster Russell, editor of the Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Billeting: E. C. Taylor, Cobourg, locating and listing accommodation for visitors. He has been one of the most active promoters of the match, as representative of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce.

DINNER FOR 800

Banquet: Floyd Harnden, Grafton, to arrange for the catering; 800 plates at the concluding dinner.

Len Henderson, past president of the N.-D. plowmen's association, calls at the Examiner about once a month to get a fresh plug for the Cobourg match. He says nearly every farmer from Victoria, Peterborough and Durham will be there, with other thousands from the urban spots including city of Peterborough.

Tickets: Stanley Macklin, Cobourg, to recruit 24 or more salesmen.

Of course, the Ontario Plowmen's Association members will have an active hand in all the planning after they have disposed of the Carp show. As for the Cobourg match executive, their next meeting is at Grafton August 25. With all their preparations it is unlikely they will overlook anything.

GLACIAL LAKE

Lake Agassiz was the name applied to the earliest glacial lake in Canada, covering parts of Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Pay Way 1,900 Miles To Hockey School

WINNIPEG (CP)—Four young Americans, set on hockey careers, travelled 1,900 miles at their own expense to attend Ddetroit Red Wings' hockey school which opened here this week.

The boys — Tom Mason, Wally Livingston, Tom O'Connor and George Gilbert, all of New York have played in the Metropolitan Amateur Hockey League.

The boys plan to live in Canada if they click on a Canadian team.

Should they fail?

"Oh, we'll go back to school and become doctors or lawyers."

Socialist Leader Of W. Germany Schumacher Dies

BONN, Germany (AP)—Dr. Kurt Schumacher, 56, leader of the powerful Socialist party of West Germany, died here today.

The crippled survivor of Nazi concentration camps died of "acute circulatory illness," the Socialist party headquarters announced.

The one-armed, one-legged socialist leader had been ailing for months.

Schumacher was a fighter all his life. His enemies were the Nazis, the Communists and chronic ill-health.

He battled them all with equal passion.

He did not give up even after years in the dread Dachau concentration camp crippled him for life.

Schumacher lost an arm in the First World War as a young lieutenant of the Kaiser's army. A leg was amputated in 1947 after he was stricken with a thrombosis during a visit to Britain.

STOMACH WEAKENED

His stomach was permanently weakened by the poor food and brutalities of Nazi concentration camps.

From the days of Hitler's Munich beerhall putsch he tangled with the Nazis. After the Second World War he fought the Communists with equal fervor.

As the leading socialist in post-war Germany, Schumacher was a man with a mission. A stooped cripple, with blazing eyes set in an emaciated, pain-wracked face, he was unable to compromise.

His shrill, nationalistic speeches earned him the title "Mr. 'No' of Germany."

He was against almost every phase of Allied policy toward the federal republic. He was against the Schuman Plan to pool West European coal and steel resources. He complained continually that whatever the Allies did for Germany it was too little and too late.

Most of all he was against the European federalism of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He surprised Socialists in other European countries by the narrowness of his views.

Report Prices Slip On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices slipped today in early afternoon stock market dealings with only industrials showing a gain.

Golds slipped steadily during the session and stood nearly a point lower on the exchange's index. Western oils dipped after a fairly firm opening.

Trading in selected mining issues which featured the first two days of this week, eased today lowering the total number of shares traded. Trading in golds broadened early to cover a fairly wide list of stocks but many remained unchanged in price. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,276,000 shares.

Industrials gained outnumbered losses about two to one. Utilities strengthened after a weak opening and steels, banks, refining oils, liquors and constructions also gained. Miscellaneous industrials were mixed.

Senior golds weakened early as support shifted to selected junior producers.

Only a few base metal issues held firm as a general decline set in with losses outnumbering gains about three to one.

A few higher-priced western oils made small gains.

Blind Go Fishing For Outing On Lake

Eight Men Enjoy Rice Lake Outing

When Dr. Cliff McKee was browsing through Nick Nickels' Afield column one Saturday last spring, he came across an idea that resulted in an afternoon of fishing for eight blind men Wednesday afternoon.

"When you're going fishing this summer, don't forget your blind pals, because a lot of them are fishermen," the Examiner outdoor editor reminded his readers.

With this suggestion in mind, Dr. McKee proceeded to arrange an outing on Rice Lake for Peterborough men who have lost their sight but still enjoy fishing.

He mentioned the idea to Clarence Neal, a summer neighbour of Dr. McKee's at Hiawatha and Mr. Neal quickly fell in with the plan and offered to supply the boats and outboard motors.

NO TBITING

Wednesday afternoon, George McMillan, 183½ Simcoe St., Tom McQuigg, 7 Edgewater Blvd., Frank Simmons, 273 Dalhousie St., Earl Schwanz, 618 Rogers St., Colin McEachern, district field secretary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind; Mansell Houden, 408 Murray St., Oswald Meagher, 464 Driscoll Terrace and Walter Simmons, field secretary of the C.N.I.B. for Northern Ontario spent more than two hours trying their luck but unfortunately the fish were not biting.

However, they all enjoyed themselves thoroughly and expressed the hope that they can look forward to the outing as an annual event. After they returned to the McKee cottage, Mrs. McKee served an appetizing lunch on the lawn overlooking the lake, which compensated for the fact that the fish were just not interested in being caught.

Tom McQuigg was sure he had at least one strike but the fish was just nibbling. "I was figuring on one of those 35 pounders, but no luck," commented Earl Schwanz, but he added "it was a very enjoyable afternoon."

The group split up in three boats and were out in the lake enjoying the warm sun and refreshing breeze for a couple of hours.

Their chauffeurs were Bob Goodfellow, Peter McArthur and Ray Laton, driver-guide of the C.N.I.B. here.

The fact that they were not fortunate enough to land any fish did not lessen their enjoyment of the afternoon the least bit and every member of the group thanked Dr. McKee and Mr. Neal for making the fishing cruise possible and Mrs. McKee for the tasty refreshments which topped off the outing, making it an all-round bright day for the men who spend their days in darkness.

A FISHING OUTING on Rice Lake was enjoyed by a group of blind men Wednesday afternoon. "I'm sure I had a bite, but he got away," Tom McQuigg ( ) left, tells Dr. Cliff McKee (centre) and Colin McEachern, district field secretary of the C.N.I.B. Dr. McKee and Clarence Neal, who supplied the boats and motors, arranged the outing. Earl Schwanz (T PHOTO) sees how it feels to get behind the wheel after one of the boats was docked at the McKee wharf, while Frank Simmons (left) and Oswald Meagher (right) tell those on shore it was a good trip but "no fish." "It was a very enjoyable afternoon," George McMillan tells Mrs. McKee (BOTTOM) who served an appetizing lunch on the lawn of the McKee cottage.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

USING IRRIGATION

It has been estimated that irrigation serves more than seven per cent of the total area of the earth's surface under cultivation.

Citizens Complain Of Road To Station

COBOURG (ENS) —Condition of the road leading from Division St. across C.N.R. property to the station is arousing the ire of the public patronizing the railway. Where the road starts at Division St., it begins in the deep rut of last spring's washout and continues in a wash-board surface to the station. By contrast the C.P.R. driveway is like a billiard table.

British Airliners

PARIS (AP)—Air France, the French national airline, will put three of Britain's Comet jet airliners into service early next year.

Cobourg Bus Service

COBOURG (ENS)—A three-month trial period in bus transportation in Cobourg will commence on the first of next month and a tentative route schedule has been drawn up. The buses, operated by a private company, will solicit business from students attending local schools and workers engaged in local industry and will also serve outlying residential areas.

What Replaces The Politburo?

Extensive reorganization of the Soviet Russian system is obviously taking place. A new five-year plan and the abolition of the Politburo, the dictatorial inner circle of government by the Communist Party, are the chief outward signs of internal change. Can the leaders of the Soviet Union be drawing up the last will and testament, arranging the estate, of Joseph Stalin? There is a new face to the Russian diplomatic front, too, a front decorated by olive branches. Has not the British Ambassador been allowed to make an extensive tour (guided) into the Russian hinterland—usually closed tight to all westerners, whose diplomatic representatives have been confined to Moscow? Perhaps the Politburo will be replaced by a Polite Bureau.

T.L.C. Convention

Canada's largest labour organization, the Trades and Labour Congress, is now in session in Ottawa. The tenor of the presidential address by Mr. Percy Bengough indicates that the labour movement in Canada is in a healthier state than it was several years ago. Then the chief concern was cleaning its house of trouble-makers and Communists. This now seems to have been achieved, for Mr. Bengough's keynotes sounded as if the house were in order and now able to go about its specific business of extending union influence and the improvement of terms of employment.

* * *

A very reassuring note in the address, followed in subsequent meetings by recommendations and proposals, was the concentration on such broad issues as a national health program. This is reassuring, not because a national health program on the pattern of the British plan may be good or bad for Canada, but because organized labour is concerning itself with broad social issues, relating to the life and happiness as well as the livelihood of its membership.

* * *

The Reds have been blackballed; the ordering and arrangement of wage issues has been worked into a pattern so that management and labour can generally achieve harmonious results without resort to strikes or lock-outs. Now, perhaps, in the new order of things, with Labour getting adequate recognition and a powerful voice in the land, the well-being of union members (of which wage rates are only one element) can be given the prominence in Labour counsels which it deserves, and for which the Labour movement was founded. As the British Labour movement long ago recognized, it is not wages, but the sum total of working conditions and the social being of members' families, which are the abiding bases of union philosophy. Adequate wages, safety in the plant, stable employment, health, educational and recreational opportunities, social hygiene, freedom of speech and action, family security and—the simplest but most difficult of all—happiness in adjustment to environment, and adjusting the environment to make joy and contentment possible: these are and should be the proving and improving ground of organized labour.

Rules Of War?

After the charges of germ warfare levelled at the United Nations forces in Korea the Communists have started a new propaganda drive on the use of napalm, the jellied-gasoline incendiary bomb that has been used, claiming that it has been dropped purposely on civilians. The Communists are adepts at taking a humanitarian line when it suits their purpose. There is something revoltingly unctuous in their cold-blooded exploitation of ideals that they do not themselves believe in to serve their own ends. When concrete proposals were made for the effective banning of atomic warfare the hollowness of Soviet pretensions was revealed.

Let us clarify the issue. War is not nice. Even in the days of sword and spear it was not at all nice. From earliest time it has been the art of taking unfair advantage over the enemy, matching trick with trick and surprising the enemy with "secret weapons." It is hard to establish rules of war: when a nation is fighting for survival it is apt to forget obligations into which it has entered in peacetime; in any case there are ways and means of evading the provisions of agreements by legal quibbles. Most significant is the fact that only the defeated nation can be brought to book. The Nuremberg trials demonstrated this. The Nuremberg defendants were prosecuted and judged by official representatives of their victorious enemies, and while there is little doubt that the charges against them were proved in an atmosphere commendably calm and impartial (the war had only recently ended) thoughtful people realized that an awkward precedent had been established. A new legal principle was enunciated when the defendants were sentenced for a crime that had not existed as such beforehand but was tailor-made for the trial. Although this crime, the crime of "genocide," or racial extermination, was peculiarly revolting, the unfortunate thing is that this ex post-facto legislation opened the door to similar one-sided legislation by a more unscrupulous victor.

But the object of war is not, as is commonly supposed, to kill the enemy, though this is usually entailed to a greater or lesser extent, but to force one's will on the enemy or prevent him from forcing his will on oneself. This aim may be achieved in the total defeat of the enemy, as at the end of the Second World War or by a compromise such as is being negotiated at Panmunjam. Wars are not won merely by killing the enemy any more than games of chess are won by taking pieces: there are strategic bases to occupy, alliances to be made and propaganda to be churned out.

Terrorization of civilians was carried out widely during the last war. It was immensely destructive and caused untold suffering. It was not particularly effective in undermining the will to resist amongst civilians; in fact it had the paradoxical effect of stiffening civilian morale, making them feel that they, too, were in the firing line. It is not proved that even the first atomic raid on Japan was the decisive factor in her surrender; she was beaten already, and it was only a question of time.

We have terrible weapons in our hands. In the old days the sword might occasionally miss its intended victim and strike an innocent bystander, but the atomic bomb is indiscriminate in its action and kills civilian and soldier alike. Unlike the Communists we feel a real moral responsibility; it would be gross folly, however, to give up our military advantage in exchange for empty promises. The Americans are quite right to insist that any agreement to ban the atom bomb must be accompanied by international inspection.

Sir Archibald Nye

Britain's last two High Commissioners to Canada, the Rt. Hon. Malcolm Macdonald and Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, have been men of high qualities and capabilities, but without the proconsular stuffiness of traditional British diplomats of fifty years ago. Likewise is Sir Archibald Nye, who arrived in Canada this week in succession to Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, a distinguished figure and an affable, gay person; not the kind of man to hide behind protocol or keep himself aloof from the country and people to whom he is delegate. Thus are Britain and the Commonwealth adjusting themselves to the new modes of diplomacy and fresh moods of peoples. Diplomacy must not be sequestered in an ivory tower or confined within the folios of austerely-couched notes. Today's successful diplomat belongs to the market-places as well as to chambers of capitals.

Sir Archibald Nye established his reputation as a diplomat from people to people when he followed Lord Mountbatten's interim Governor-Generalship in India, as first High Commissioner to India. The situation was delicate, but General Nye extinguished the sahib notion and through his practice of social democracy won popularity and affection from the Indians. His success in New Delhi was repeated when he became Governor of Madras.

Sir Archibald, distinguished Anglo-Irish soldier, and Lady Nye, arrived in Ottawa this week. They are welcome; all Canadians are their well-wishers.

NOTES AND COMMENT

It's presumably highway bottlenecks which cause so much broken glass on the roads.

A report from Borneo says that Sarawak may recruit fearsome headhunters to give battle to Red guerrillas. Surely, in this peaceable and Christian era, they mean Red gorillas?

Keeping abreast of the news is not always a rewarding occupation. Sometimes it leaves the impression that there are a lot of unreliable people in the world.

Any one wishing to break a lull in conversation might do so by announcing that the chief minister of the Indian State of Madras is Chakravarti Rajagopalachari.

John L. Lewis has ordered American coal miners to stop work for five days. For some reason this does not disturb the miners; but if their other kind of boss, the plant management, puts them off work for five days, they shout tyranny.

Seeking explanations for longevity, the Sarnia Observer says that some day one of the oldsters will surprise the customary interviewer by bluntly admitting he has lived so long simply because he hasn't died. Ah! but then such a simple statement will make him seem simple-minded.

Nepal Under Red Shadow

By O. M. GREEN

BARELY FIVE WEEKS AGO King Tribhuvana of Nepal, the Himalayan mountain state between India and Tibet, inaugurated the Advisory Assembly in his capital of Katmandu, describing it as "another big step towards democracy"; now the Premier, Mr. M. P. Koirala, and his Cabinet have resigned, no alternative Government seems feasible, and the only apparent solution is for the King to take charge of the country with an advisory committee of five persons to help him.

The King's "old dream of running a Government and administration with popular support" (to quote his speech five weeks ago) has been rudely interrupted. To add to the violent animosity between political factions, rising resentment against Indian "interference", and widespread lawlessness, the increasing strength of the Nepali Communist Party is causing serious anxiety.

ONLY A FORTNIGHT ago fourteen Nepali Communists were arrested in northwestern Nepal when returning from Tibet, they are alleged to have been carrying papers which contained details of a plan for a Red insurrection in Nepal. Northwestern Nepal affords the easiest means of contact with Tibet and there are strong reports that Chinese agents have been infiltrating into Nepal, which would certainly be a valuable base for the furtherance of Communism in Asia.

The beginning of Nepal's present unhappy state dates from the insurrection in November, 1950, against the dictatorship of the Rana family. This insurrection was started by the Nepalese National Congress, composed of Nepali notables, including some malcontents of the Rana family, who had fled to India.

FOR 100 YEARS the Kings of Nepal had been mere puppets; the Premiership and command of the army being hereditary in the Rana Maharajahs. King Tribhuvana secretly sympathized, perhaps even actively conspired, with the National Congress; and when the latter collected a force of volunteers called the Rakshar Dal and invaded the Terai (the fertile belt stretching along southern Nepal) he was deposed by the Rana family in favour of his three-year-old grandson, and fled to New Delhi.

With Tibet by that time virtually in Chinese Communist hands, Mr. Nehru, the Indian Premier, intervened and an agreement was patched up with Maharajah Mohun Shumsher Jung, the Rana Premier. An interim Council of Congressmen and Ranas was agreed upon—and in February 1951, the King returned to Katmandu in triumph.

BY THE END of 1951, the Maharajah, who is seventy years of age, had found his position so little to his taste that he had retired to Bombay on the usual excuse of discomfited Asiatic generals of having to undergo medical treatment. Mr. M. P. Koirala had formed a Cabinet, dropping from it all the Ranas and (what mattered much more) his younger brother, Mr. B. P. Koirala, president of the Congress.

This is, in fact, the root of the Premier's resignation. In July this year "B. P." and the leaders of Congress tried to force the elder Koirala to re-form his Cabinet with a majority of Congress Ministers whom they would choose. "M. P." refused, on the good ground that a Premier must choose his own Ministers in agreement with the King. However, "B. P.", though not strong enough to get the Government he wanted, was able to make his brother's position so impossible that finally he has resigned, declaring "I am disgusted at the low level to which politics here have sunk."

TWO INCIDENTS this year are to be recalled for their possible bearing on the future in Nepal.

In January there was a serious revolt in Katmandu by an extremist left-wing leader Dr. K. I. Singh, with the aid of some of the Rakshar Dal, who were aggrieved by the meagre loot they had got when Congress employed them to invade the Terai in 1950, and had had no other provision made for them. The revolt, which for twenty-four hours looked serious, was put down and Dr. Singh escaped to Tibet with 150 well-armed followers and six lorries loaded with arms, ammunition and treasure.

THE NEPAL GOVERNMENT has applied to the Chinese for Dr. Singh's extradition but without success. There is a rumour that Singh has been made an officer in the Communist army in Tibet. He certainly has proclaimed loudly that he "will come again" in Nepal.

The other incident was a violent clash in June between several thousand demonstrators, including numbers of students (the demonstration was on behalf of underpaid Government employees) and the police—with hurling of stones, tear gas, and much property destroyed. There seems to be no doubt that the Communists organized this riot.

From this confused picture three or four facts emerge. With the National Congress split between the M. P. and B. P. Koirala factions there seems little hope of forming a practicable Government from either.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE ADVISORY ASSEMBLY, in which Congress has a majority, remains. But even if the rift between "M. P." and "B. P." does not extend here the Assembly can only advise; it has no independent executive or legislative power.

There is an Opposition Party, the Praja Parishad, which is particularly vocal in attacking "Indian actions in Nepal which are injuring our growing national sentiment".

Anti-Indian feeling is also noticeable in Congress on the general ground (one quotes from recent speeches by Congress leaders) that the Indian Government is "propping up reaction in Nepal", and "backing the old feudal ruling clique." "We do not complain of interference by India," said one speaker, "but in whose interest is interference working?"

✧ ✧ ✧

TO THE OUTSIDE observer, the answer seems plain enough—that India has been sincerely trying to help Nepal, lending her money, sending experts to build the roads in which she is so lamentably deficient, and a military mission to train her forces: Nepal has been described as possessing the best soldiers and the worst army in the world. That sort of interference is simply bound to go on. The revolution of 1950 virtually made India the paramount power over Nepal; and with China in control on Nepal's northern side and the growth of Communism (so commonly in Asia concurrent with the growth of nationalism), India cannot allow Nepal to relapse into chaos.

Fortunately the army is loyal to King Tribhuvana, and though he is not perhaps, a strong man, there appears no doubt that he is a patriot respected by his people.

Luxury No Longer

(MONTREAL STAR)

THE MOST comprehensive survey of the part played by the automobile in modern society and economy has just been completed by the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce and has been synopsized in a well-illustrated page in a recent number of The Financial Post of Toronto. Still further, much condensed, some of the chamber's most interesting—and frequently surprising—discoveries in the course of a poll of 3,046 Canadian people in the same number of households based on the accepted poll formula representing all the people of Canada, are here outlined.

To begin with directly or indirectly the automobile and allied industries employ 200,000 people or (agriculture excepted) one in every 7.1 gainfully employed people out of a population of 14 million. In 1904, the first year of recorded production, the figure was 117 machines. Last year it was 405,000. Total production since the beginning was 7,456,292 units. At the last count there are 2.6 million registered passenger automobiles in use of which 1.9 millions are privately owned. That means that there is one passenger car for every 7.1 persons in the country.

Canada's ration of cars to population does not yet quite admit of every person in the country being able to get into a Canadian car and drive off—at least with much comfort. In the United States however, it is one car to every 3.7 riders.

The survey once and for all puts an end to the tradition (long outworn but still cherished, that the average automobile is a luxury and should be regarded—and taxed—as such. The survey's statistical graphs show that of all the automobiles at present in use 42 per cent of the country's labour force use a car in connection with his or her work. Of the 1.9 million privately-owned cars noted above, 70 per cent—about 1.3 millions—are used every week for earning a living.

To this are to be added a substantial number of cars which are used for shopping and church-going, for the purposes of the survey classed as semi-essential. That leaves only 17 per cent of all the passenger cars in Canada which can be fairly classed as for wholly non-essential use, that is to say for pleasure-driving, paying visits and attending the theatre. It seems, accordingly, only fair that a piece of machinery 83 per cent of which is used by the owner to gain his or her daily bread should not be considered as just a luxury.

Owner-classification by income is not the least interesting part of the survey. It shows that 27 per cent of registered automobiles (540,000 of them), are owned by people in the $2,000-and-under income group; 36 per cent (720,000), in the $2,000-$3,000 income group; 18 per cent (360,000), in the $3,000-$4,000 class and only 19 per cent by owners with incomes of $4,000 up.

In other words the burden of taxation which the Canadian car owner has to pay compared with his neighbour in the United States hits the multitude of people to whom a car is a part of his bread-winning equipment and who can least afford to pay such taxes. Only two of the flock of taxes of every kind that gang up on the Canadian car buyer, the federal sales and excise taxes, add $499 to the $1,849 cost of a "representative car in the low-price field." This is before the provinces and municipalities have got their further cut. Canadian federal taxes (reduced this year) $380; U.S. $95. Automobile excise and sales tax brought the federal treasury last year $144,000,000.

OFF TO SCOTLAND

The railway porter looked searchingly at the three girls waiting on the platform. "Aren't you the crooning trio who sang on the radio tonight?"

"That's right," one of them told him. "We were making our debut on the air."

"And where are you bound for now?"

"We're just off to the North of Scotland."

The porter sniffed. "H'm," he remarked, "I suppose that's as good a place to hide as any!"

"Dad says he hears the engineers may be going on strike, so he hopes you'll keep him waiting a long time for his mower repair."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants unto Solomon: for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: for Hiram was ever a lover of David. And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying, Thou knowest how that David my father could not build an house unto the name of the Lord his God for the wars which were about him on every side, until the Lord put them under the soles of his feet. But now the Lord my God hath given me rest on every side, so that there is neither adversary nor evil occurrent.

And, behold, I purpose to build an house unto the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spake unto David my father, saying, Thy son, whom I will set upon thy throne in thy room, he shall build an house unto my name . . . And it came to pass, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord this day, which hath given unto David a wise son over this great people . . .

And the Lord gave Solomon wisdom, as he promised him: and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon; and they two made a league together. (I Kings 5:1-5, 7, 12.)

For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (Prov. 2:6.)

Letter To The Editor

CANNOT TURN CHILDREN AWAY

Sir: Many good letters of recent date have been written by tenants and landlords.

The last one written by tenant with three children portrays the cruel difficulties of people with families.

I am not too keen about seeing our Council stop rent control. I definitely want property control (eviction control or security of tenure) discontinued.

No Government has a right to dare tell landlords who they are to keep in their houses.

Under Federal Government controls rents were often kept too low and eviction controls encouraged tenants to act like demons. I am told the Government even had investigators going around with skeleton keys and with authority to enter a landlord's house at will—Gestapo methods!

Any landlord who would want to vote Liberal now must be a sap.

Perhaps if landlords were free to evict people who do not make children behave, landlords would be willing to take a chance on taking children in.

You would think, all right, some of these landlords were never children themselves. Jumping onto children over trivial things—and they call themselves Christians.

I am one of those landlords who cannot turn away people with children.

I may have an opening for over the winter months and if not, I think I can help that lady find a place—if I knew who she was.

Yours truly,
LANDLORD

(Ed. Note: As the writer of the previous letter, a mother of three, herself requested her name has been sent to this correspondent who may be able to help her . . . We remind "Landlord" that authority to impose or take off rent controls has for more than a year rested with the Provincial Government, who have now put it on municipal bases. Jobs and Immigrants

(Regina Leader-Post)

While it is true that employment statistics are not a favourable this summer as usual there are explanations which banish any suggestion that the open-door immigration policy is to blame. Thousands were out of work in British Columbia because of strikes there and workers from the strike-bound Pacific coast province industries have come to the Prairies seeking work. The steel shortage as a result of the now-settled U.S. steel strike has dislocated many Canadian industries, including the oil drilling activities in the West because of the shortage of casing. Labour cannot exercise its right to strike and adversely affect employment thereby without accepting responsibility for causing the dislocations in industry which curtail employment opportunities.

At one time we were short of both capital and labour. But the former deficiency is being remedied from the savings of the Canadian people and the influx of foreign money which is showing its faith in Canada as never before. But our government's faith in its own country's future is such that it is saying to the world: "We are afraid that we might have difficulty in finding jobs for a few thousand workers next winter so we are curtailing immigration." This indeed is a poor example for our own government to be setting amid the glowing references to Canada as a land of great promise.

GAS-RUN RICKSHAW—Coolies will putt-putt along in comfort behind one of these motorized rickshaws soon if the Messerschmidt Co. of Frankfurt, Germany, has its way. The one-time famed aircraft maker hopes to make them popular in America, Africa and Asia. The rickshaws are powered with 6.5 horsepower engines and run 100 kilometres on 2½ litres of gas, with a top speed of 32 miles per hour.

Doctor Stabs Child To Death

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—A young woman doctor early today stabbed her three-year-old daughter to death, wounded her two other children, and then sought to end her own life with poison.

Police said Dr. Norma Holt, 27, stabbed her daughter Vickie through the heart with a pair of scissors.

She then turned on Ann, 4, and jabbed the scissors into the child's breast. Next, said police, she inflicted a serious stomach wound on her 11-month-old son, Larry.

Police said the mother, the wife of Dr. L. Beverly Holt, 33, had recently been under the care of a psychiatrist.

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Franco yesterday granted conditional liberty to 113 political prisoners in a decree published by the official bulletin.

Britain Bolstering Drive For Canadian Car Market

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Britain's problem was expressed briefly in Toronto yesterday by Roger Gresham Cooke, director of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, Ltd., of Britain.

He said:

"British agriculture produces enough to meet half our food needs. So we have to sell enough to pay for the other half and for the raw materials which go into what we sell."

A. B. Waring, vice-president of the society, added: "Obviously, to buy we must sell."

Messrs. Gresham Cooke and Waring were with Sir William Welsh, North American representative of the society, at a press reception preceding a British motor show at the Canadian National Exhibition.

WOULD AID DEFENCE

None of the British spokesmen mentioned it, but presumably they might have added:

"We also have to sell enough to buy the raw materials for our re-armament program for western defence."

It all adds up to the fact that the British motor-car industry is after a permanent slice of the North American motor-car market. The spokesmen said, in effect, that they could sell their cars elsewhere, but they are trying to sell them in North America so that they can buy the things they need from North America, including Canadian wheat and other agricultural products.

Mr. Gresham Cooke painted a picture of drooly-mouthed Britons watching their brand-new cars go abroad.

"In Britain," he said, "the waiting list for cars extends four or five years. And if you have had one post-war car, you can't get another."

Sir William Welsh, a colorful air force type who, in 1915, was the first pilot to fly a plane off the deck of a ship, said:

"Five years ago when we came here, people were skeptical as to the permanency of our stay. It was said openly that our products were not suitable to the country—for the hard winters and rough roads—that we were here for the duration of the sellers' market, and when selling became tough we quit.

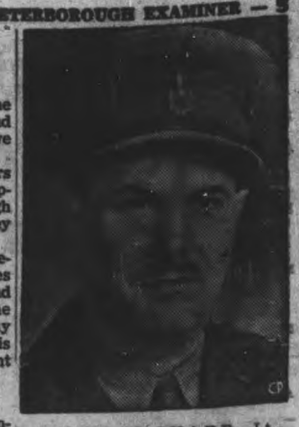
"That was an illusion. The cars have proved themselves as capable as any other cars in rough going, with the result that they have been accepted.

"People also pointed to the pre-war days when our limited sales were not supported by parts and service. That has been overcome . . . This time we are here to stay so long as you want us and it is up to us to see that you do want us. We will."

BIG EXPORTER

Background supplied by the conference included:

Britain is the world's greatest exporter of motor vehicles, and, in 1951, exported to the value of $648,556,692. Seventy per cent of the industry's total output in 1951, or a total of 6,181,458 units, was shipped to most parts of the world. In addition, shipments of parts and accessories amounted to $218,400,000.



Fear Wall Of Water Drowns 30 Soldiers

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Thirty United States soldiers today were feared drowned by a wall of water which engulfed them suddenly as they crossed a river.

Bodies of only 12 of the men lost in Monday's tragedy have been recovered, a division spokesman said.

Dredges and grappling hooks swept the unidentified river for the other 18 missing men.

Rain from a typhoon which lashed Okinawa and Korea this week unleashed the crushing nine-foot wall of water in the river normally knee-deep.

NAMED TO S.H.A.P.E.—Lt.-Col. Robert H. Ramsay, 36, of Toronto and Ottawa has been appointed to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Paris. A supply expert, Lt.-Col. Ramsay is the first Canadian officer of his rank to be named to the headquarters of the Supreme Commander Allied Power in Europe.

10 Factories Hit By Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—The independent Farm Equipment-United Electrical Workers' Union called a strike last midnight at 10 International Harvester Company plants in three states after contract negotiations broke off.

The union called 25,000 workers off the job, declaring "the company has asked for a fight and is going to get a hell of a licking."

The company in turn said the union leaders do not want a settlement and that the union must accept full responsibility for the strike.

Union demands included a flat 15-cent-hourly pay raise, compulsory union membership for employees sharing union-negotiated gains, and other benefits. The company said workers average about $2 an hour.

Better Film Standard

NEW YORK (AP)—A Roman Catholic official says American and foreign movies proved somewhat less "morally offensive" in 1951 than in 1950. Mgr. Patrick J. Masterson, executive secretary of the church's Legion of Decency, made the statement yesterday before the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. The Legion of Decency reviews films and books and publishes lists of those found "offensive."

Stabs Father

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn youth stabbed his father to death in defence of his mother early today, police said. Detectives said Gerard Bernor, 53, beat his wife Mary, 46, over an unironed shirt. Their son, Gerard, 18, tried to pry his parents apart. The father turned on his son, and the son grabbed a hunting knife and plunged it into his father. The son was charged with homicide.

Singer On Trial

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Singer Ginny Simms was ordered yesterday to show cause Aug. 29 why she should not be held in contempt of court for allegedly refusing her former husband, Hyatt R. Dehn, custody of their children for the summer vacation.

Lanza Suspended

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Mario Lanza has been suspended indefinitely by M-G-M for "failure to report for the start of production on 'The Student Prince.'" There was no indication as to why he failed to report.

SAVED BY CUSHION—Mike Cox, 22, of Toronto, spent 14 hours clinging to his cushion when thrown into Lake Simcoe, 40 miles north of Toronto, after two motorboats collided. Cox and three other companions, two from each boat, drifted through the night and most of the next day after their boats crashed into each other at 35 miles an hour. They were rescued by Dr. William Woodrow of Orillia, who piloted his seaplane alongside the youths and picked them up.

Wind Storm Kills One At Fair Grounds

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—A wind and rain storm today swept the Missouri State Fair grounds, killing one person, injuring 12 and causing extensive damage.

High winds destroyed ferris wheels and other carnival rides and wrecked buildings. The storm came when the fair was not in operation.

Cocktails Fatal

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—An overdose of cocktails made with shellac and sherry has caused the deaths of five men here since Monday, County Coroner Dr. James W. Heary said yesterday.

"COOL CONTROL"

OVERHEAD BAIT CASTING

1 Control is all-important. Index finger of right hand grips trigger of rod firmly. Thumb rests lightly on spool. Other fingers press handle of rod into palm. Thumb should be relaxed, rest of grip firm but not rigid.

2 Control comes with experience. Practise moving rod back for cast, applying thumb pressure to allow weight of bait to carry tip of rod back, for extra casting power. Relax thumb pressure when rod begins forward movement; apply again just before bait hits water.

3 Keep arm close to body. Movement comes from wrist and forearm. Fingers on handle open as rod moves back, close as rod comes forward. Concentrate on wrist movement for accuracy. Aim; come back fast; forward twice as fast. Remember — only experience gives perfect control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Petes Beat Redmen, 4 to 3 Before Crowd Of 3,000 To Tighten Grip In Top Spot

Bill Edger's ringing single to left, plus an error on the hit back of third, sent Don Pagett scampering home with the winning run in the eighth inning for the Petes here last night over Belleville Redmen, 4 to 3. Trailing the Stewart squad in the first two-thirds of the tilt, the Reds scored in the seventh and eighth to deadlock it. The victory, before a booster night crowd of 3,000, gave the Petes a tighter grip on top spot in the C.O.B.L. over the second-place Redmen. A light drizzle fell in the late frames.

Bill Dadson southpawed them in for the nine heats and he pitched effective ball, though he wobbled in a few stanzas. However, the slim lefthander finished strong to whiff two in the ninth. He had eight strikeouts as nine blows were collected off his delivery and two free tickets. The Petes backed their hurler well, a one-handed pumping catch by Freddy Garvey being a fielding gem.

SHAKY SUPPORT

Bob Burton went the distance for the visitors, allowing nine bingles and two walks, but striking out none. He had poor support with five miscues behind him, and on earned runs the Reds should have won 2-1. A pickup by Buck Reeves was a standout defensively.

Dick Fitzpatrick led the losers at bat with two doubles and a single in four, Bunton getting two for four, and Al Kelleher a brace of two-baggers in five trips. Youthful Bryon Young topped the Petes with the willow, smacking out two in three appearances. Arn Dugan and Bill Edger were close behind with two for four each.

Timely thumping in the second chukker put the Petes in front 2-0. Al Menzies led off with a single to right but was forced by Joe Stewart. The latter took second on an error at first and advanced on Dugan's blow to right. The latter stole then. Young's single sent Stewart home and Dugan to third, the latter racing in afterward on a fly to right by Don Pagett.

REDS CREPT UP

The Reds whittled the lead in half in the fourth when Kelleher doubled to right, took third on a hit by Pettitt and crossed the plate on Fitzpatrick's double into the left-field crowd. Petes made it 3-1 in the sixth as Dugan singled and went ahead on an error at third, taking third on an out and home on Dadson's infield hit. Fitzpatrick singled in the seventh and went to second on a wild pitch, scoring on Reeves' blow to centre. Next heat saw Kelleher double and take third on an error at short, scoring on a two-base blow by Fitzpatrick to left. That tied it.

Young opened the Petes' half of the eighth with a single to centre. He was forced by Pagett, and the latter made second when Dadson rolled out. Lowrey drew a walk. Edger's sharp single into short left was booted by Goyer, and Pagett raced all the way in from second with the run which proved the winner. The Reds went down in order in the ninth. Box score:

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

An invitation at hand to attend the annual meeting and golf tournament of the Ontario Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association at French River on Sept. 7, and the main business is electing officers, planning for the big sports' celebrity dinner for crippled children, and golf and fun. The celebrity dinner last winter was a huge success, with much mazuma raised for a worthy cause. Ivan Miller of Hamilton is president now, vice-prexies being Bob Hewitson of Toronto, Britt Jessup of North Bay and Rex Stimers of St. Catharines. The secretary-treasurer is Fraser MacDougall, in charge of Canadian Press out of Toronto. A committee includes Jim Vipond, Joe Perlove, Wes McKnight, Harry Eisen and Laurie Brain.

Men's softball playoffs, local and provincial, are on tap and it is another reminder that the summer season is on the wane. Bowl tilts tonight are semi-finals, Seabrooke's vs. Lakefield, and U. E. vs. Revoy's. An O.A.S.A. bulletin advises that Peterborough goes to Oshawa in senior "B" sawoffs on Sept. 17. Other district rounds on or over with by now had Brooklin vs. Lakefield in intermediate "C", and Marmora against Hastings. Winner of the latter goes shortly against the Madoc-Tweed survivor. Victor of that set was to take on the Brooklin-Lakefield winner the end of the month. Keene was drawn with Brougham in intermediate "D".

Top Ball Crowd In Years

Another fine ball game, that 4-3 win for Petes o'er Belleville here last p.m., and another swell crowd. There were 2,322 paid adults and 727 kids for a total attendance of 3,049, certainly a ball crowd to brag about, eh? Prexy Max Swanston thanked the fans for their support. Sea Cadets paraded with band, Young Petes took a neat 6-1 five-frame exhibition win o'er Campbellford in a prelim game, and even a late drizzle didn't send many fans home ere 'twas over. Hugh Campbell, always an excellent sports supporter here, made the draw for the two bikes, Judy Murdock and Ricky Lee being the winners. That former oldtime athletic ace in Peterborough, Chris Graham, made the other draws. Mrs. P. Howden took the TV set, other winning numbers being: 3313, 2781, 3291, 3812, 4021 and 3536. Lots of free favors at the gate, too.

Game itself was plenty keen with the Reds coming from behind late to sew it up, and the Petes winning out in the eighth. Dadson tossed good ball over most of the route and finished strong with two strikeouts in the ninth. Young, Dugan and Edger hit well, the latter's blow sending home the winning run. Quinte crew had steady flinging but kicked the cabbage around the patch at crucial times. Fitzpatrick led 'em at bat. That gives the Stewart squad a tighter grip on first place in the C.O.B.L. They trek to Kingston tonight and have the Monarchs here for a seven p.m. game Saturday.

Lacrossers After Crown

Our lacrossers are sailing along determinedly toward another O.L.A. senior crown, and can wrap it up for sure with a win here o'er Hamilton on Saturday night. The Thorpe team turned in a grand two-way game to trample the Mounties 23-11 before 2,600 stunned Mimico followers last gloaming, and now they roost alone on the top rung. They almost ran the legs off the speedy Mounties in rolling up the count, every visitor from Moon Wootton out contributing to the cause. Russ Slater slapped in seven goals and aided on another, Curly Mason banged in three and assisted on four, Harry Wipper chucked four home and helped on one, Don Ashbee netted three—and so it went. When the chips are down, the champs show rival clubs why they hold the Mann Cup.

Belleville belles eked out a ninth-inning 14-13 lasses' softball triumph over Outboard Marines here last evening to take their intermediate series. One of their two runs in the final frame was unearned, but that's ball for you. 'Twas hotter than a tin roof in July toward the finish, but the Quinte cuties picked up the marbles. Monday night has Ashby's going against the Bells Villa girls. Meantime, Burtol's go to Oshawa on the morrow for one or two, if necessary, the locals having taken the first in P.W.S.U. playdowns. Turner Park misses won the city junior cup by defeating the northenders 16-2 last twilight.

Tigers Edge St. Kitts 10-9

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—A goal by Blain McDonald early in the fourth quarter moved Hamilton Tigers into fourth place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association's senior loop as they edged sixth-place St. Catharines Athletics 10-9 last night.

Hamilton led 2-1 at the end of the first quarter but the Athletics pushed ahead 5-4 by the half. The score was knotted 9-9 at the three-quarter mark.

McDonald's winning counter was his third of the evening. Elmer Lee matches his performance for the winners. Johnny Dewar and Max Woolley notched two each for St. Catharines.

Bill Bradshaw of Hamilton and Doug Davidson collected majors for fighting in the fourth quarter.

Junior Petes Beat C's In Exhibition

In a five-inning junior baseball exhibition before the senior game in Riverside last night, the Young Petes defeated Campbellford 6-1 before a huge crowd. A streak of wildness on the part of Baker in the first frame helped the local boys tally three in the first frame, and they added two more in the third and one in the fourth. The losers' run counted in the second. Some tidy ball was served up by both sides.

Baker went three heats for the C's, and McNaughton finished on their mound. Jerry Frizzelle toiled four frames for the winners and Mac McMartin tossed an inning. Frizzelle fanned four and Mac one, as Baker struck out three and McNaughton two. Jensen hit a double and Ferguson two singles for the home side, White getting a double for the visitors, who were limited to four hits against Petes' six. Teams:

Campbellford — Dooher, rf; Read, 3b; Jeffs, cf; Bennett, 1b; Borland, c; White, 2b; Heard, lf; McFarlane, ss; Baker, p; McNaughton, p.

Young Petes—Kearns, ss; Foley, rf; Londry, rf; Wilson, 2b; Byrne, 2b; Bigford, c; Jensen, cf; Cupoli, 1b; Elmhirst, lf; Ferguson, 3b; Frizzelle, p; McMartin, p.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

All rinks play in the final round of the Selkirk Trophy this evening. It is an 18-end affair and commences at 7.30 o'clock sharp.

R. Payne, R. F. Downey and Geo. Coleman skipped rinks in the Oshawa Gold Cup tournament on Wednesday.

Several of our lady bowlers took in the ladies' open trebles tournament in Port Hope on the half-holiday.

Mrs. F. Hall, Mrs. R. Dyer and Mrs. C. Renaud are playing today in the Kew Beach (Toronto) tournament.

Playing at Campbellford in the mixed doubles tournament, Wednesday afternoon and evening, Miss E. Murphy and H. R. Martin came in second for three wins.

Turner Park Girls Gain Junior Title

Turner Park girls triumphed over northenders 16-2 last night to capture the Peterborough junior girls' softball title. Barbara Succee pitched four-hit ball for the victors and had fine support from her mates in the field, and they hit the ball hard to roll up the count, especially in two innings.

The Turner Parkers tallied a run in the first frame, adding two more next time to bat. They broke loose for six in the third and piled it on with a seven-run outburst in the sixth. The losers battled hard but could not connect with enough safeties, scoring a run each in the first and fourth stanzas. Teams:

Northend: C. Hayward, O. Hutchinson, R. Mills, D. Kingston, M. Brown, I. Wilson, S. Keith, B. Montgomery, J. Weyer.

Turner Park: M. Davis, M. McDougall, B. Succee, J. Cunningham, J. LaPointe, E. Rose, B. Lee, L. Myles, J. Kearns.

CHAMPS NEAR ANOTHER TITLE — Smearing Mimico Mounties 23-11 Wednesday night in the Mounties' lair, the Petes advanced to within a game of another O.L.A. senior crown, and can clinch it here Saturday. A bit of keen action is shown above in the third quarter when Don Ashbee of Peterborough got around Joe Millicent (left) to score on Goalie Red Hartley, after taking a pass from Dootch Vitarelli. The visitors piled up the count in the last two quarters.—(Examiner Photo by Grant).

Lacrosse Petes Win 23-11 Against The Mounties To Edge Closer To Crown

By DON GRANT

Ontario's senior "A" lacrosse championship is only a hair's width away from Bob Thorpe's Petes today; in fact, it's so close that the locals could be called Ontario champions. The woodsmen swept first place from the Mimico Mountaineers in Mimico Wednesday night with a 23-11 victory before 2,600 stunned fans. This win broke the first-place deadlock, practically assuring Peterborough of first place and with it the Ontario honors. There is a slim mathematical chance that the Mounties can tie Petes for first. But the Thorpe men will have to lose the remaining home games with Fergus and Hamilton, with the Mounties winning against St. Kitts Friday. But the locals can win the Ontario championship with a win Saturday against Hamilton at the Bowl.

The large Mimico crowd couldn't believe their favorites could be beaten fairly and squarely 21-7 as the Petes did for first last week. They blamed goalie Bob Taylor, but after Wednesday night's first quarter it was quite evident how they lost, the visitors were just too good.

TOO MUCH CLASS

Bob Thorpe's charges, who maintained a high standard of lacrosse with St. Kitts and Mimico last week, kept to that mark Wednesday in Mimico. They simply outclassed anything the Mounties could offer.

The Petes took a 4-2 lead in the first and lengthened it to 7-0 at the half. In an 11-minute third quarter they outscored the Mounties 4-1 and trampled them in the 19-minute fourth.

They controlled the game except for brief moments in the first half. They centred off well winning most of the draws, and grabbed more than their share of loose balls. Their passing was nearly perfect, working neat networks through Mimico's defensive system.

On the defence the Petes rough-ed the larger Mounties. Bob Thorpe, Nit O'Hearn, Lou Nickle and Harry Wipper plagued Mimico's ball carriers. The Moon, Lloyd Wootton, was sensational when called upon.

A POOR DEFENCE

Mimico's losing point was its defence. They didn't have anyone who could jolt the visitors away from the crease. The latters' footwork easily help fake for shifts, to outwit the slow Mounties.

The Mimico offence was slowed to a standstill by the Peterborough checking. The Mounties couldn't get organized in the first half, then settled for breakaways using sleepers in the third which backfired, the Petes scoring four. Then in the last the best the Mounties could hope for were goals on free shots, three from the crease.

Mimico fans lost interest in the game at 15-8 and began to leave with seven minutes to play. When the game finished only 1,100 fans were in the bowl, watching the Petes trample their favorites.

RUSTY SHONE

Russ Slater was the thorn in goalie Red Hartley's side. Slater ran circles around the Mimico defence, taking long and short shots and ending up with seven goals and one assist. Harry Wipper scored four while Curly Mason performed the hat trick and assisted on four others.

The third period ended at the 11-minute mark when the Moon was hurt briefly. The four minutes were added in actual play to the fourth when he was feeling better.

Ross Powless left early in the game with a minor shoulder injury. The Petes were carrying an extra player and had the husky dasher sit the remainder out to prevent possible worse injuries.

Quinte Lasses Get Series Over Marines

Belleville took their intermediate series over Marines at the Bowl last evening in the Girls' Softball League by yanking out a 14-13 decision, a two-run drive in the ninth settling the issue. The losers had a 17-16 edge in hitting but booted six to the visitors' four in the open tussle. Ashby's play Belleville on Monday.

It was a hard-hitting affair with walks and errors figuring in a lot of the scoring, and few strikeouts on either side. A double play was pulled off by both sides. Summers and Reeves divided the slab chores for the winners, with L. Derry on the home mound. H. White hit three for five and she and M. Behan went best afield for Marines. One of her hits was a triple. C. Dunk also clicked for three hits. Corneal and Bovey looked good defensively for Belleville, with Butler hitting a homer, double and two singles in six. Homers were hit, too, by Corneal and Waite of the Quinte crew. Teams:

Belleville: H. Reeves, 3b, p; L. Butcher, 2b; N. Bovay, lf; E. Butler, ss; H. Waite, 1b; S. Reeves, c; M. Sequin, cf; R. Corneal, rf; H. Summers, p, 3b.

Marines: V. Page, 3b; M. Behan, ss; H. White, lf; J. Hart, c; J. McIlwain, cf; P. Dundas, rf; M. Weir, rf; B. McMahon, 1b C. Dunk, 2b; L. Derry, p.

Fastball Playoffs

Semi-finals open tonight in the Industrial Fastball League with third-place Woollens meeting the top-place Marines at Quaker. They also play next Tuesday and on Thursday, if necessary. The other series has the second-place Raybestos against the fourth-place Quakers, starting Monday, with other games next Wednesday and the following Monday, if necessary. All games go at the Quaker diamond, the semi-finals best-of-five.

Red Wings Score 6-5 Win In 11 Innings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ellis Deal is not only a top pitcher for Rochester Red Wings but he also handles himself pretty well at the plate.

In last night's International League contest with Toronto, Deal delivered a pinch-hit single, scoring Harry Walker from third base with the winning run to give Red Wings a 6-5 victory in 11 innings.

The one-time Toronto fly-chaser followed Walker's double with a drive to deep left centre for the deciding blow. Ray Shore, fifth Maple Leaf pitcher, was the victim of both hits.

Syracuse Chiefs maintained a half-game edge in the battle for second place with the Red Wings by romping to a 7-1, win over Buffalo Bisons. Andy Carey, on option from New York Yankees, socked a three-run homer in Syracuse's five-run attack on Paul Faytack and Gene Costello. Johnny Blatnik knocked out three safeties and drove home three runs for the Chiefs.

Bobo Holloman, yielding only nine hits and fanning eight, got the win.

DIVIDE TWIN BILL

Montreal Royals and Baltimore Orioles divided a twi-night doubleheader. Baltimore won the curtain-raiser 1-0 on singles by Roy Weatherly and Russ Kerns in the seventh frame. In the night-cap the Royals rapped Jim Atkins for 12 hits and an 8-2 victory. Gil Mills and John Padres limited the Orioles to six safeties.

Two walks in the 10th inning off Bill Padget and George Moskovich's base-hit gave Ottawa Athletics a 3-2 win over Springfield.

Cleveland Humbles Bo-Sox In 18-8 Whipping; Chicago Cools Off Yanks

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Since Luke Easter became a regular with Cleveland Indians two years ago it has been said, "as Easter goes so go the Indians." Easter's value is clearly demonstrated by his performance this year. Big Luke is hot right now and so are the Indians. Cleveland, with Easter playing a leading role, swamped Boston Red Sox 18-8 yesterday and pulled to within a game of the American League's front-running New York Yankees. The Yanks were humiliated 12-3 by Chicago White Sox. Philadelphia tripped Detroit 4-3 in the circuit's only night game. Another night game between St. Louis and Washington was rained out.

Brooklyn moved seven games ahead of New York Giants in the National League chase, downing Cincinnati 6-3. The Giants and Chicago Cubs were rained out. In other games, Philadelphia tamed Pittsburgh 3-1 and St. Louis trounced Boston 9-2 in a game called because of rain in the eighth inning.

MAY TAKE LEAD

The Indians could take over the lead today with the help of Chicago. A Cleveland victory over Boston and a Chicago win over New York would enable the Indians to move out in front by one percentage point.

Easter, Ray Boone and Larry Doby were ringleaders in Cleveland's rout of the Red Sox. Easter batted in six runs on a grand-slam homer and two singles, Boone sent six mates across on a homer and two singles and Doby drove in a pair of runs on his 27th homer and two singles.

Since July 15, when Easter rejoined the Indians after a short exile to Indianapolis, the Tribe has won 24 games and lost 15, a .615 pace.

During this span Easter has whacked out 26 hits in 78 times at bat, a .333 average, driven in 23 runs and clouted eight homers. Before he departed for Indianapolis Easter was hitting .208 and had driven in 33 runs and connected for only 11 homers in 63 games.

Chicago also came up with a big inning to beat the Yanks. White Sox scored six runs in the third inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit.

Carl Scheib drove home two runs and scored the winning tally in the As' triumph over Detroit. Scheib singled home two runs in the seventh to tie the score at 3-3 and then pranced over the plate on one-baggers by Pete Suder and Ferris Fain.

Brooklyn found Ken Raffensberger easy pickings at Cincinnati. The Dodgers slugged the veteran for 11 hits and all of their runs in less than four innings. Home runs by Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella featured the Dodger attack.

Connie Ryan was the big wheel in Philadelphia's victory over Pittsburgh. He clouted his 12th homer, walked three times, stole two bases and scored all of Philadelphia's runs.

Harvey Haddix turned in a five-hitter in his major league debut for the Cards. Haddix, awaiting discharge from the army, coasted home after the Cards jumped on Lew Burdette for six runs in the second inning.

Four Top Players On Side Lines For Tennis Tilt

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian lawn tennis championships today moved into quarter-finals with Canada's four top singles players on the sidelines.

This country's seeded competitors — Brendan Macken, Lorne Maine, Henri Rochon and Lorne Barclay—were knocked out of the running yesterday without taking a single set.

Five United States players, a Mexican, a Dane and a Filipino survived the fourth round and entered the final stages of the tournament.

Macken, Canada's No. 2 player, was eliminated by Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., 6-2, 6-3. It was the Montreal star's first encounter with last year's Canadian open singles champion.

WASTED CLOSE ONES

"I played him the way I think he can be beaten, but wasted too many close shots," Macken said.

Hal Burrows of Virginiatown, Va. put Main of Vancouver away, 6-4, 6-3, Mexico's Gustavo Palafox defeated Barclay of Vancouver in a tight game, 8-1, 7-5, and tiny Felissimo Ampon, Philippine champion, displayed amazing skill and speed to turn back Rochon of Montreal, 6-2, 6-1.

The 98-pound Ampon, described by Main as the best tennis player, "pound for pound," in the world, faces the U.S. clay and hard-court champion, Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., today.

Palafox, the last surviving Mexican entry, is scheduled to play Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., second ranking player in the U.S. Savitt eliminated Anselmo Puente of Mexico yesterday after three hard sets, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

Danish champion Kurt Neilsen meets Burrows. Vincent faces Ed. Moylan of Trenton, N.J.

WOMEN REACH SEMI-FINALS

Favored with a shorter entry list, the women's singles competition enters its semi-finals today. Pat Macken of Montreal who yesterday defeated last year's singles champion, Lucille Davidson of Lees Summit, Mo., 6-2, 7-5, faces the former Czech player, Hanna Sladek. Petite Melita Remirez of Mexico is drawn against Louise Brown of Toronto. They defeated two Toronto players, Anne Tregaskoff and Jean Small, 6-1, 6-0 and 6-8, 7-5, 6-0, respectively in the quarter-finals.

TENNIS STAR—Temperamental Dick Savitt, of Orange, N.J., one of the top-ranking tennis players in the United States, is one of the stars of the Canadian tennis championships held this week at the Toronto Tennis Club in Toronto. His victories include a 6-1, 6-0 win over Toronto's Hugh Peacock and a 6-2, 6-0 triumph over Rudd Mikowetz, of Ottawa.

Two Vancouverites Survive In U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament

SEATTLE (CP)—Two Canadians today joined a field that included a professional crooner, a sailor, a college student and practically none of the pre-tournament favorites in the round of 16 contenders for the United States amateur golf title.

Canadian amateur champion Walt McElroy of Vancouver and Bill Mawhinney, his fellow-townsman who once held the Canadian title, each survived two rounds of match play yesterday while several high-ranking golfers came to grief.

McElroy's opponent today in a bid for a quarter-final berth is Marion Hiskey of Twin Falls, Ida., who ousted Sam Urzetta, the 1950 U.S. titleholder, in an early round.

Mawhinney, written off as a serious contender because of the bad back that kept him out of the Americas Cup competition last week, was drawn against William Campbell of Huntingdon, W.Va., after a couple of upset victories.

'NAME' PLAYERS OUT

Only two big names were left in the tournament and one of them was bound to drop out in sixth-round play.

Charlie Coe, the 1949 champion, was drawn against Jimmy McHale, the Walker Cup member from Mamaroneck, N.Y., who barely squeezed by Vancouver's Percy Clogg Tuesday with a 2-and-1 victory in the third round.

The others included Don Cherry, a 28-year-old professional singer from Garden City, N.Y., who pulled a major upset yesterday by ousting Frank Stranahan 3 and 1.

Another strong threat is Paul Johanson, a University of Washington student from Seattle, whose latest victim was Ray Billows, three-time finalist for the U.S. title, who fell 5 and 3.

HARVIE WARD BEATEN

British titleholder Harvie Ward was another fifth-round casualty, losing 4 and 2 to Gene Littler, 22-year-old former junior champion who is serving in the U.S. navy.

McElroy knocked out Dan Silvestri of San Francisco 2 and 1 in morning play and survived some driving trouble in the afternoon to dispose of Dale Morey of Martinsville, Ind., one up.

Mawhinney made the gallery sit up as he whipped veteran Bruce McCormack of Hollywood 3 and 2 and breezed to an easy 6-and-4 victory over John W. Wood of Seattle.

Junior Tennis Play Begins

OTTAWA (CP) — The 16-event week-long Canadian junior tennis championships start today at the picturesque Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

More than 200 top-notch junior tennis players from Canada, the United States, Trinidad, Cuba and Switzerland will compete.

The courts today were taken up with the interprovincial junior men's and junior women's team matches, the junior men's and junior women's elimination sets and the boys and girls events.

The interprovincial matches were inaugurated last year. Ontario is meeting a team composed of players from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island and Quebec is battling Nova Scotia. Later in the day a western team—British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba—will play the winner for the men's title. The women's division will work along similar lines. The title was won last year by Nova Scotia boys' and Ontario girls' teams.

Expect Tiger-Cats To Use Custis To Call Signals

By TOMMY MOORE

HAMILTON (CP)—Bernie Custis, the Big Four football union's all-star quarter last season, probably will call the signals for Hamilton Tiger-Cats this year. That's the prospect as the Cats sharpen up for their exhibition game at Buffalo Sunday against Toronto Argonauts and for the league opener at Montreal next Wednesday. Fans in this football-crazy city love Bernie but they'd prefer to see the Syracuse University import in a fullback slot where his nifty dangling around the ends would be a decided asset to the Cats.

Coach Carl Voyles, recognizing the true value of Custis in the backfield, brought in Americans Bill MacRides and Pat Brady to right for the signal-calling slot but opinion prevails here that neither measures up to Big Four standards And Custis appears to be the slot man.

MAKE POOR SHOWING

MacRides and Brady didn't show up too well in last week's exhibition game against Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Custis, from a half slot, scored all three Tiger-Cat touchdowns.

If Voyles can find a capable quarter he'll have one of the powerhouses of the league.

Besides Custis in the backfield, he would have a mixture of experienced ball players and capable, fast-moving youngsters.

Back with the club is Hal Waggoner, import from Tulane University who scored 50 points for the Tiger-Cats in his freshman year in Big Four ranks last season

In addition there are Mel Hawkrigg, high-scoring ace with McMaster University last year; Jackie Stewart, with Tigers for many years; Bill Doherty, speedy American from Villanova who impressed in the Winnipeg game; Doug Gray of Sarnia; big Blake Taylor; Alex Mitsza, who led Tiger-Cat juniors to a Dominion title in 1951, and Gerry Fitzgerald, with University of Western Ontario in 1950 but out of action last year due to illness.

TWO GOOD ENDS

On the ends Voyles has two of the best to start with—Vince Mazza a hold-over from the last two years, and Joe Shinn, who shook the dust of Hamilton from his shoes after five games in 1951 in which he starred.

In addition he has Tip Logan who led the Big Four in scoring in 1951; Pete Neumann of St. Catharines, who stole the show in more than one 1951 start; Floyd Cooper, who played well last season, and Ron Murphy, interscholastic sensation last year with Hamilton Cathedral High School.

The middles include Art Darch, from Niagara Falls, Ont.

Port Hope Nine Routs Cobourg

COBOURG—Cobourg and district softball executives were shaking their heads as they gazed in dismay at the standing in their league. The final tangle came last night here when Matthews, of Port Hope, routed Cobourg Foundry, 8-1, in the final scheduled game of the season before the playoffs. Matthews moved in beside Foundry for second place by virtue of the win and this means a sudden death game next week for the second rung of the ladder.

Down in the fourth position, the last playoff spot, are Card Juniors and Baltimore Millers cheek by jowl. The playoffs, already delayed, will be forced to wait until this situation is straightened out as well.

Foundry, at one time in first place, have dropped their last three games in a row. The moulders refused to toss for the second slot and loop heads were tossed to set the sudden death game date.

Matthews ..... 201 500 0—8 9 1
Foundry ..... 001 000 0—1 6 1

Colborne Evens Lakeshore Series

COLBORNE—Colborne tied the Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball best-of-seven finals here last night at two games each, edging Port Hope, 1-0.

Carl Higginbotham for the winners and Tom Lenehan of Port Hope allowed but three hits each with Lenehan ahead in the strike-out column, eight to five.

Port Hope .. 000 000 000—0 3 1
Colborne .... 010 000 00x—1 3 1

Graham Outboxes Basilio For Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Graham, challenger for the world's welterweight championship, easily outboxed Carmen Basilio, Canastato, N.Y., to win a unanimous decision in their 10-round bout in the Chicago Stadium last night.

Graham, who regarded the bout as a tune-up for his championship match with Cuba's Kid Gavilan in Havana Oct. 4, left the ring without a scratch. The victor had a slight edge in weight, scaling 148 pounds to 146½ for Basilio.

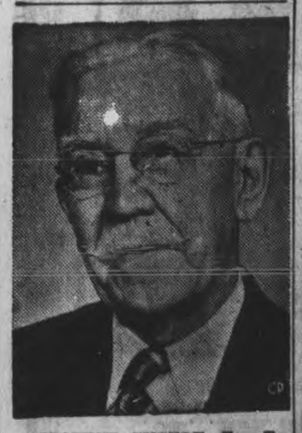
Brooklyn Purchases Edmundo Armaros

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers announced today the purchase of Edmundo Armaros, 19-year-old Cuban, from St. Paul.

Armaros, playing his first season of organized baseball, was batting .340 and had 53 extra-base hits, including 19 homers.

Pitcher Chris Van Cuyk was optioned to St. Paul.

Habib To Challenge KingForChampionship



JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—Tony Habib, new South African lightweight champion, will challenge Arthur King of Toronto, holder of the British Empire title, for his championship.

Habib's manager, Cyril Carroll, said today Habib is prepared to fight overseas if the challenge is accepted.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Lou Ambers proved an exception to the rule "they never come back" by becoming the first man ever to regain the world's lightweight boxing championship 13 years ago tonight. He was awarded a decision over Henry Armstrong in their 15-round bout at Yankee Stadium.

CRICKET EXPERT—E. F. Hitchman, 75-year-old cricket reporter from Ottawa, will make a special presentation to the Marylebone Cricket Club at Lords, London. The gift is a handsome volume, prepared by Mr. Hitchman, of photographs of Canadian cricket fields. Commissioned by the Canadian Cricket Association, the volume will be placed in the Imperial Cricket War Museum.

Two B.C. Players May Wreck Cup Team

VANCOUVER (CP)—Walt McElroy and Bill Mawhinney may wreck British Columbia's Willingdon Cup golf team if they maintain their scorching pace in the U.S. amateur at Seattle. But B.C. golf fans couldn't care less.

The two Vancouver golfers today were competing in the fifth round of the American amateur and wild dreams of fans here have the two hooking up in an all-Canadian final. A Canadian hasn't won the U.S. amateur since Sandy Somerville turned the trick in 1932.

The final of the U.S. amateur falls on Saturday, the day for the Willingdon Cup interprovincial team matches here. McElroy and Mawhinney, the 1951 and 1950 Canadian amateur titleholders, respectively, are members of the B.C. team.

WOULD WRECK TEAM

If both—or either—reached the final, it would cripple B.C.'s hopes of taking the Willingdon Cup away from Ontario.

Naturally, golfers in these climes wouldn't give a fig for the Willingdon Cup if a Vancouver boy could win the U.S. amateur.

The eight four-man teams—New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island have a combined team and Newfoundland is not entered—will shoot 36 medal holes over the par-72 Capilano course in West Vancouver.

The eight juniors competing for the Buckingham Cup and the Canadian junior title will go the same distance and at the same time. The 40 contestants, including the juniors, will be mixed up in 12 threesomes and two pairs. Doug Silverberg of Alberta and Otto McKush of Manitoba will lead off.

Meanwhile, the draw was completed for the Canadian amateur, opening Monday, also over the Capilano layout.

CROSBY A STARTER

There are 195 entries, 82 of them Americans, including crooner Bing Crosby and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., twice Canadian champion.

Match play will start Monday with 18 holes. There is no qualifying round.

Among those drawing byes in the first round are Crosby, Phil Farlay of Toronto, McElroy and Mawhinney, Joe Leblanc of Montreal, Rex Joudrey of Dartmouth, N.S., and Glen Gary of Edmonton.

Despirito Clicks Again Boots Home Another 6

SALEM, N.H. (AP)—Apprentice jockey Anthony Despirito of Lawrence, Mass., booted home six winners yesterday at Rockingham Park to bring his total for the season to 200—tops for the United States.

Despirito rode both ends of a $67.40 daily double, winning the first on Miss Heidi and the second on Dandy Foot.

He took the fourth with Miss M.T. and the fifth with Game Lady. He rode Bickett to victory in the eighth and Quillet in the ninth.

Can't Recall Loaned Player

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Hockey League decided yesterday that under no conditions may a player lent to the loop by a National Hockey League team be recalled during the season.

This, in effect, assures the American League of keeping its rosters intact through the campaign.

In previous years, the N.H.L. clubs could recall players after a 14-day period up to Feb. 15, and after that date only if a player was injured and reduced the club below the strength of 10 forwards, five defencemen and a goalie.

In another effort to improve playing calibre, the league's board of governors passed a rule limiting each team's strength to 13 players.

The opening games are scheduled for Oct. 11 and all nine clubs will see action at least once during the first week.

"Pool Fever" To Grip Soccer Fans

LONDON (Reuters)—The British soccer season opened Saturday and once again Britons will fall under the money-for-nothing spell of one of the world's biggest and best-organized gambling industries.

This Saturday and ever Saturday until next spring, 50-odd soccer teams will boot a leather ball up and down stadiums across the country—fun for the thousands who watch.

But the real thrill for 16,000,000 Britons comes when special newspaper editions and radio broadcasts report the winning teams.

FOOTBALL POOLS

These are football-pools players who have wagered an average of four shillings on the outcome of the games.

The money can ready £70,000 for a winning six-penny bet, though mathematicians calculate the average better would have to spend 200,000 years betting to hit this.

People everywhere are in the grip of "pool fever" during the season.

Prize money is shared according to the number of winners and only five or six persons reach the top-prize class.

Annual Saratoga Sale Brings In $36,000

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) The 34th annual Saratoga yearling sales closed last night as the final consignment of 31 colts, fillies and geldings sold for $36,000, an average price of $1,161.

Over-all prices and averages set a record for the Fasig-Tipton paddock here. In all 331 yearlings were auctioned off for total of $2,095,500, an average price of $6,330. Last year 299 yearlings went for $1,632,600, an average price of $5,460.

TENNIS CROWDS SMALL

TORONTO (CP)—Attendance at the Canadian lawn tennis championships has been small so far this week but tournament officials say they are unconcerned.

Jim Duff, chairman of the championship committee, said last night he feels that the enthusiasm of the average spectator is just beginning.

"No tournament is well attended in the opening rounds," he said. "We have had as good crowds for ours as have ever been counted in Canada. As the finals approach and the week-ends lets people out of work we expect the crowds to grow so big we won't be able to handle them."

Another member of the tournament committee, Doug Philpott of the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club, said:

"Sure, we're out to make a buck if we can, but, if we don't, we'll make it in the years to come. The most important thing is to get the Canadian championships established on a par with any in the world and to let today's kids see the Babe Ruths and Joe DiMaggios of the tennis world."

In the first two days of play an estimated 200 persons, including officials and players, turned out. Some 300 to 400 persons watched the Philippine champion, Felissimo Ampon, defeat Henri Rochon of Montreal 6-2, 6-1 yesterday.

POSTS TROT RECORD

TORONTO (CP)—Bell Boy G., overlooked at odds of better than 16-to-one, won one of the most keenly contested trotting races of the season at Thorncliffe yesterday. Bell Boy G., driven by Bill Habkirk, permitted Celia's Counsel to take the lead in the final half mile and then went to the outside for the drive, besting his rival in the last 50 yards. Bell Boy G., owned by H. Allan Dickenson, president of the Canadian Standard Horse Society, trotted the fastest mile of his life and posted a record of 2:07 4-5.

OHA-MAHA SQUABBLE

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association has applied to M.A.H.A. secretary registrar Campbell of Sydney for branch-to-branch transfers for Morey Hamilton and Bill Winemaster, members of Moncton Hawks of the Maritime Major Hockey League last year. Moncton claims to have signed Hamilton to a new contract for this season and has refused a release. Hamilton, who came to Moncton last year from Quebec Aces, was announced as new Moncton playing coach last month.

Reds Tighten Security Grip On China

By ROBERT FRANKLIN

HONG KONG (OFNS) — The organization of tens of thousands of "citizens' committees," with the power to make arrests, is now proceeding in Communist China as a means of tightening the already firm central control over one-fifth of the world's population.

Every city lane, school, office, factory and business firm, and every country village will have its public security committee of from three to eleven members. It will mean, virtually, a spy in every home — as well as a far-flung organization that can be used to whip the masses into line during forthcoming nation-wide campaigns that undoubtedly will follow those that have already convulsed China and increased Communist control.

SPREAD OVER COUNTRY

Such committees were already being formed as early as six month ago, but it is only in the past few weeks that plans have been made to spread the comittees into every corner of China. The scheme was formalized recently by an ordinance passed by the Government Administration Council.

Among other tasks, the committees are instructed to: "Regularly take note of the reactions of the people of various walks of life and gather the masses' opinion on security and defence work, and report these in good time to governments and security organs for reference."

POWER TO ARREST

The committees are empowered to arrest persons suspected of having committed offences against the State—from espionage to incorrect thoughts. Although they are also supposed to serve as guardians of property, fire-watchers and the like, their principal task is clearly political — spying, in fact.

As announced by the official Communist Press, the task of the "committees for Protection of Public Security' will be fourfold: search out and apprehend enemies of the State; organize the masses in co-oepration with the Government to be always on guard against sabotage and the activities of "counter-revolutionaries'; assist in the re-education of those who have been guilty of "incorrect" thoughts and actions; and help preserve law and order.

Since the committees will work closely with the regular public security organizations, they will in effect extend police control into every home in China; every person will be tagged and watched, both at home and while he is at his work. It is just another phase of the Chinese Communist plan to ensure complete control of the masses by keeping everybody fearful and slightly off-balance, suspicious even of close relations.—(OFNS — Copyright).

Dies of Injuries

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—John J. Hutt, 22, died last night of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Saturday near Ostrander. He suffered fractures of the right thigh, left ankle and left arm when a light truck in which he was riding with two other London men left the road and hit a tree. He came here 15 years ago from Smiths Falls, where he was born.

Wants New City Hall

Wolves Kill Children

LUCKNOW, India (Reuters)—Wolves and hyenas driven into populated regions by shortages of food in the forests are preying on children in this area of north India. Lastest victim was a 10-year-old girl partly eaten by a hyena or wolf which dragged her from her bed at night.

Court Declares Speed Trap Not Accurate

BRAMPTON.—Charges against five Malton aircraft workers caught by a highway speed trap were dismissed Wednesday by Magistrate Moorehead.

The magistrate said that Constable Douglas Sheardown of Malton could not have efficiently clocked five autos over a distance of a 16th of a mile, in one minute.

More than 300 motorists received speeding tickets as a result of the speed trap, which was operated for two days near the town. Only the five appeared in court although there were 97 traffic cases listed on the court docket.

Constable Sheardown said that he had operated speed traps for the last four years, checking more than 1,500 autos and had never been questioned before.

The officer said he could check five autos in a minute quite easily. The autos tagged near Malton were said to be doing from 35 to 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone.

"A speed trap like that just puts a tax on motorists," said Magistrate Moorehead.

Constable Sheardown said after the court that he would appear before Malton Village Council, who asked for the speed trap, and ask for further instructions.

Judge Rejects CCF Recount Plea

VANCOUVER (CP) — County Court Judge J. A. McGeer Wednesday ruled against a recount of ballots cast in Vancouver-Burrard constitution in the June 12 British Columbia general election.

The C.C.F. asked for a recount after Social Credit candidate Bert Price edged out the C.C.F. candidate, Grant MacNeil, by 246 votes.

Judge McGeer said: "The difficulty here is the impossibility of conducting a recount when there has not been a compliance with the Election Act in sealing, packaging and endorsing the ballots . . . You cannot get the ballots back where they belong."

The present Elections Act requires that counted ballots be returned to the same envelopes from which they were taken. Under the alternative voting system with its distribution of ballots this was found impossible.

Judge McGeer based his ruling on a judgment in the Vancouver-Point Grey riding. The B.C. Appeal Court found ballots could not be returned to their proper envelopes and Progressive Conservative A. R. MacDougall was declared elected.

Jumps From 13th Floor Of Office Building

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who plunged from the 13th floor of a Miami office building and crashed through the roof of an adjoining two-storey structure died today, more than 11 hours after his spectacular fall.

Charles R. Svoboda, 41, was a former employee in the Pacific building from which he leaped. Svoboda apparently hit the roof head first when he fell. A hole about two feet square was found.

Hope 3 Million Will Atend CNE This Year

By RON EVANS

TORONTO (CP) — Some 3,000 workers scurried about the 350-acre grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition today putting the world's biggest annual fair in order for tomorrow's opening.

Officials hope that 3,000,000 persons will visit the two-week show. Some 2,699,000 clicked through the turnstiles in 1951 to see the 72nd edition of the "Ex."

Exhibitors still scrambled for space as workmen strung miles of colored lights and daubed gaudy paint along the mile-long midway.

One of many new foreign exhibitors, the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, from Britain, moved a display of cars, trucks and motorcycles under a huge tent, covering almost 35,000 square feet.

Fair-goers, used to glittering high-priced talent in the nightly grandstand show, find a group of school children billed as one of this year's major attractions. The Do-Si-Ettes, 20 youngsters ranging in age from six to 12 years, from Lacombe Roman Catholic school, Calgary, will whirl through square dances before some 20,000 spectators.

The production, titled "Canadiana," is headlined by crooner Tony Martin, an American import, but most of the supporting artists are homegrown talent.

Another show has a bigger cast. More than 700 entries have been received for the baby contest.

A BUSY SPOT

The lake which rings the southern edge of the grounds will be a busy spot. Paratroops from Camp Shilo, Man., will drop into the water several times a day, while a group of young women perform a ballet on water skiis nearby.

Agricultural officials expect a record number of livestock to arrive next week. There will be dairy, beef and dual-purchase cattle, horses, swine and sheep as well as fruits, vegetables, grain and other farm produce.

Judging of dairy cattle starts next Thursday and judging of beef breeds will begin Sept. 1. Border regulations will keep American cattle out of the C.N.E. this year, but the same regulations are expected to hold much good Canadian cattle in this country for the show.

The C.N.E. will be officially opened in the afternoon by Governor-General Vincent Massey. At about the same moment some 40 husky swimmers will plunge into Lake Ontario for the start of the $10,000 10-mile marathon swim.

INTERNATIONAL ROAD SIGNS — If and when they are universally adopted, you may be guided by these road signs when driving on the highway. The scientifically designed symbols are the results of some 20 months' work by a group of six experts appointed by the UN secretary-general to draft an international convention establishing a uniform system of road signs. The idea is to ease the way of travellers using highways in foreign countries. They can recognize the symbols even if they don't understand the language.

25 Pass Tests In Swimming At Omemee

OMEMEE (ENS).—Swimming lessons, sponsored by Omemee Home and School Club, and under the instruction of Mrs. Pansy Forbes of Peterborough, ended on Wednesday afternoon with Canadian Red Cross swimming tests.

Mrs. Forbes was accompanied by Miss Nancy Doubt of Lakefield who directed part of the intermediate and senior tests.

Temple Morcmobe and Margaret McNeil assisted Mrs. Forbes as she conducted the junior tests.

Out of 28 boys and girls taking the test, 25 were successful. They were as follows:

Juniors — Susan Roos, Joan Dixon, Darlene Nelson, Crystal James, Carolyn Morrison, Hazel McGill, Terry Ruttle, Glen Hyland, Johnnie Parker.

Intermediates — Elaine Rawlins, Marilyn McQuade, Yvonne Parker, Sandra McNeil, David Roos, Duncan Lennox, George Dixon, Rollin Richmond, Glen Fletcher.

Seniors—Jean Hyland, Verna Zufelt, Marilyn Hart, Eva Morrison, Bruce Lennox, Roger Lennox, Grant Hart.

On leaving Mrs. Forbes received a small token of appreciation for her free instruction, and hearty applause from the girls and boys.

They will receive their awards in recognition of their standing at a later date.

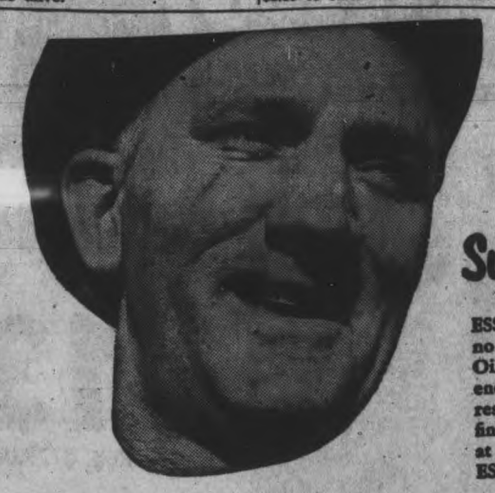
Dies Twice

LONDON (Reuters)—An inquest was told yesterday that Mrs. Doris Pickford, 37, died twice while giving birth. A doctor testified that Mrs. Pickford's heart stopped beating for 30 seconds in the middle of a Caesarian operation. He got the heart beating again by massaging it. "Several hours later she died a second time," he said. The baby was alive.

Shipbuilding Union Goes On Strike

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Local 11 Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers went on strike today to enforce contract demands.

The 950-member union last night rejected a company offer of a five day, 42½-hour week and an increase in journeymen's pay from $1.39 to $1.52 an hour. It reverted to its original demands for a 40-hour week and a journeymen's rate of $1.72½ an hour.



A.F.L. unions at the plant, representing about one quarter of the personnel of 250 men, voted Tuesday to accept the company's offer. A spokesman said they "will continue working until we are told to stop by our international offi-

She is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Kuwabara, of Toronto.

Cobourg Dealer Restores Old Car

COBOURG (ENS)—Neil Kennedy, local car supply dealer whose hobby is car antiques, has restored a 1910 Buick to its original condition, in fact the fittings have been shined up until they glisten more than when the old-timer chugged out of George McLaughlin's factory. It was a sorry sight when Kennedy first took it over for reconditioning. Some of the parts he had to have duplicated but in time he restored it to its original shape and it ticked over perfectly. He has had it running on the town streets and wherever it goes it is the centre of attention. Next month he takes it to Washington, D.C. for a "convention" of all the old time hacks of the American automobile industry.

Veteran Printer Dies

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Frederick Arthur Row, the last local printer of an era when newspapers were set by hand, died in hospital here yesterday two days after his 84th birthday. Born at Rows Corners northeast of Brockville, Mr. Row entered the employ of the Brockville Recorder in 1880. He retired in 1945.

Ex-Principal Dies

BROCKVILLE (CP)—A retired principal of Brockville public schools William Allison Remmer died yesterday at the age of 79. Taken ill a few weeks ago he was recovering from an operation and was believed to be making satisfactory progress. He retired just prior to the last war.

Canadian's Execution Postponed By Appeal

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters)—The execution of a Canadian former soldier for murdering his wife was postponed at the last minute today following an appeal.

It was understood that the appeal was on the grounds of insanity.

The convicted man, Donald Neil Simon, 32, of Frederickton, was stated at his trial last month to have committed a "crime of passion," in shooting his English wife and a man she had been keeping company with.

A doctor gave evidence that Simon was neurotic and emotionally unstable.

Committed For Trial On Attempted Murder

CHATHAM (CP)—Allan Hurst, 39, Chatham, yesterday was committed for trial on a charge of attempted murder.

In a preliminary hearing Mrs. Laura Gregory testified he stabbed her July 15.

Priest Appears In Court On Charge Of Intimidating Preacher

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP)—Rev. Georges Beland, Roman Catholic priest from the tiny lumbering community of Val Senneville, appeared before Magistrate Felix Allard yesterday on a charge of intimidating a preacher of the Jehovah's Witness sect. Max Danyeleyko, 23, Val d'Or, who described himself as "a minister, missionary and evangelist," told the court he had been threatened and abused May 22 last in Val Senneville, 10 miles from this northwestern Quebec mining centre.

Danyleyko said he had been from house to house in the settlement when he was accosted by Father Beland who, he said, ordered him away, took him by the shoulder and threatened that if he did not leave "I will have you killed by the mob."

COME OUT OF CHURCH

Danyleyko described the mob as a group of people who had just come out of the Roman Catholic church and were standing nearby.

The witness said he had been accompanied by Mrs. Gisele Dupont of Val d'Or on his mission to Val Senneville and that they had been compelled to leave under the threats of Father Beland.

SAYS PRIEST MENACING

Danyleyko quoted Father Beland as saying: "If you don't go, I'll get my parishioners and we'll take you out of here, put you out or chase you out."

The preacher said he had been forced to accompany Father Beland to the presbytery where "I asked him for the credentials which gave him the authority to act in this way.

"He then pulled out a pair of handcuffs, held them up to me and said: 'I am the police here. This is my authority.'"

Told that legal action would be taken against him, Father Beland was quoted by Danyleyko as saying: "I am not afraid of legal action nor of the law."

Proceedings are continuing.

U.K. Playwright Says Movie Basis For Action

LONDON (Reuters). — British playwright J. B. Priestley Wednesday claimed 20th Century Fox were trying to cash in on his reputation in connection with their picture, We're Not Married.

In 1939, Priestley wrote a play titled, When We Are Married, which has a similar theme to the movie, though he had nothing to do with the latter.

Wednesday he applied for an injunction restraining the company from showing the picture.

Priestley's lawyer, K. E. Shelley, said the theme of the play was that of three pairs of married couples who discover some technical irregularity in their marriages.

An identical theme, he said, was used in the Hollywood film, except that five or six couples were involved.

Priestley had objected to 20th-Century that the similarity in title and theme would lead many persons to think the film was based on the play or that he was associated with it.

NOT ANY HELP

After his objection, the company put streamers on posters advertising the film, proclaiming: "This riot of fun is not connected in any way with J. B. Priestley's play and film, When We Are Married."

This apology, said Shelley, was "defamatory and depreciative" and added to the general confusion.

Priestley applied for another injunction to have the apology removed, but withdrew it when the lawyers agreed today to have streamers removed.

Priestley's When We are Married ran for 277 performances in London in 1938-39. A British film based on it was made during the Second World War, starring the late Leslie Howard.

Big Red Rooster Likes To Roller Skate

LOS ANGELES (CP)—Buster, a big red rooster, likes to roller skate.

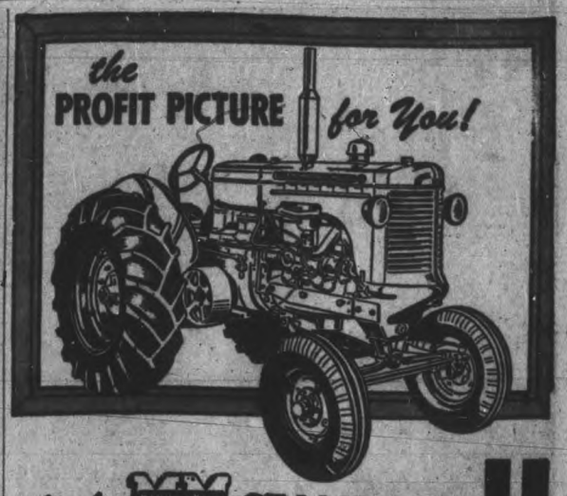
WHAT IS IT?—Red-skinned, red-fleshed and juicy as a normal tomato, this botanical oddity had a vine all to itself in the backyard garden of Miss Catherine Burton, of Rosemount. She picked it only Tuesday from its lonely perch and clicked her camera lens because, as she says, "it's the only strange thing I've grown in five years of gardening."



Nye's Keenest Desire Boost Commonwealth

OTTAWA (CP) — Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald Nye said last night his keenest desire is to promote the welfare of the Commonwealth.

Britain's new High Commissioner to Canada, a 57-year-old soldier-turned-diplomat, met the press and said that one of his great ambitions is to help maintain the strength and common objectives of the Commonwealth.

"We'll come out of it all right," he said in reference to Britain's financial crisis. "I've been away in India for six years and on my return, Ive found the British people much better off than when I left."

SMALL BUSH FIRE

Only bush fire to be reported in the Peterborough district recently was a small fire at Trout Lake, seven miles northeast of Burleigh Falls, which forest rangers put out without difficulty Wednesday. It was first seen Tuesday but was not considered dangerous from the start.

Journalists Considering Protest Strike

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Havana's journalists today considered a possible protest strike as tension mounted over the abduction and beating of a popular columnist and charges by another newspaper man that police slapped him about.

The city's association of journalists announced yesterday it will consider calling a 72-hour strike in protest against an attack on columnist Mario Kuchilan of the newspaper Prensa Libre.

The announcement came shortly before two policemen were jailed on charges of "insulting and slapping" reporter Martin Lliraldi of the same paper.

SAVAGE ATTACK

The association claimed the "savage attack" on Kuchilan was made "presumably by individuals connected with the security forces."

Kuchilan was abducted from his home here Sunday and beaten into unconsciousness on a country road. He blamed President Batista's troops for the attack.

Batista, however, denounced the assault as a "reprehensible outrage."

Lliraldi's troubles apparently had no connection with the Kuchilan case. They began when he tried to persuade a policeman not to move a cab driver usually stationed in front of the newspaper office.

Lliraldi said the policeman pushed and slapped him and several other policemen hit him around the head after he had been taken to a police station.

Turkey Producers Worried About Future

LONDON (CP)—Concern over the future of the turkey industry was expressed at the annual picnic of the Ontario Turkey Breeders' Association yesterday at Lobo Memorial Park, Poplar Hill.

Production is increasing steadily and markets dwindling, speakers observed. Britain is financially unable to purchase many Canadian birds and with the U.S. price already below the Canadian, breeders here are unlikely to ship to that market.

112 Traffic Deaths In Ontario In July

TORONTO (CP)—Traffic accidents in Ontario caused 112 deaths during July, the highest number on record for one month, the Ontario Highways Department said today. The previous high was 111 in October 1950.

Among the worst periods were Dominion Day, when three died, July 4 with five deaths, and the week-end of July 25-27, when 21 were killed.

"Hard Case" Inmates

No Frills In Reformatory For Prisoners At Millbrook

TORONTO (CP).—The $1,500,000 Millbrook reformatory will offer its "hard case" prisoners "no recreation facilities and no frills" Reform Institutions Minister John Foote said Wednesday.

Mr. Foote was expanding on his earlier announcement that the reformatory would be built near Millbrook.

By 1953 the institution should be ready to accept a "small core" of desperate, short-term prisoners from provincial reformatories at Guelph and Burwash. It will accommodate 250 prisoners.

There was no vindictiveness in opening the new prison, said Mr. Foote.

CAN'T BE TRAINED

"We have had the conclusion forced on us that certain people will not react to the training program we have at Guelph and Burwash and (they) make it impossible for us to operate it for the others."

He estimated at 10 per cent the proportion of prisoners now in reformatories who are of the tough-man type that need to be sent to the new prison.

Before being sent to Millbrook, prisoners would be given a chance to make good in one of the reformatories now in use.

"We're not trying to be brutal . . . We do not mean that no effort will be made to understand the prisoners. . . There will be nothing lacking in modern treatment, but there will be strict discipline."

STARTED BY RIOT

The decision to build the Millbrook reformatory was precipitated by the July riot at Guelph when extensive damage was done to furniture, stocks of food and clothing, and plumbing. Since then, a number of prisoners have escaped, and several convicts were punished for their parts in the riot.

Residents of Millbrook for the most part welcome the reformatory as a boon to the quiet village. The reeve, Dr. J. W. Wright, agreed with others when he said it would mean greater prosperity for Millbrook.

Conscience Money

The post office received a $5 bill in the mail addressed to the Postmaster at Peterborough. Westclox Resumes Five-Day Week

About half the production staff at Western Clock Co. will be working a five-day week this week for the first time since the company went on short time last spring.

J. H. Vernor, General Manager, said today that this does not mean the nine departments affected will be returning to full time permanently — "they may continue for two or three weeks and some may stay on permanent," he said.

A backlog of stock resulted in the company putting all except two departments on a four-day week and Mr. Vernor said he was unable to say when full production in the entire plant will be resumed.

It will depend on "stocks" the general manager said. Production is now about 61 per cent of what it was when all 21 departments were operating full time.

"We are just about selling our production at present," Mr. Vernor said.

Begin Investigating North Bay Wreck

NORTH BAY (CP)—Investigation into the train wreck at Fire River that Tuesday claimed the lives of two workmen and injured four more is under way, Canadian National Railways officials at division headquarters in North Bay said today.

The accident occurred when a work train backing into a siding, rammed into a string of standing box cars. The cause of the accident has not yet been determined.

Rail officials said that the four men were only slightly injured. They are in hospital at Hornepayne.

Touring River To See Damage

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—The International Joint Commission today began a day-long tour by boat and car of the shore of St. Mary's river.

Here to hold a public hearing on damage done by higher river water when 15 of 16 gates in the compensating dam were opened three weeks ago, the Commission is checking water levels.

The public hearing, to open tomorrow, will study damage claims from property owners here totalling more than $50,000. Damages from neighboring Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., have not yet been listed. Also to be presented is evidence gathered by the Association for the Protection of Great Lakes Property, Inc., of damages totalling $100,000,000 to property along Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Gen. A.G.L. McNaughton, Canadian Section chairman, said today that after the public hearing and a complete inspection of all property affected, the Commission will give its decision "Without fear or favor."

Crop Report Shows Drought In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—A Quebec crop report said today that drought prevailed until last week in most districts.

In Abitibi and Temiscamingue counties, intermittent rain gave farmers no chance to work and only 50 per cent of the hay crop is stored and that is in bad condition.

Unless the weather changes great quantities of hay will be left in the fields, the report said.

40 Enthusiasts Make Tour Of Orchards

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Forty agriculture men from Quebec and Ontario, members of the Ontario-Quebec regional horticultural group of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, yesterday started their annual two-day conference at nearby Vineland.

They will tour the peach orchards of the Niagara district and visit experimental farms and laboratories.

RUSHING TO COMPLETE the new Kenner Collegiate, workmen will have it ready for classes September 8, one week behind other city schools, but still much sooner than it was at first thought. Dr. Eldon P. Ray, principal, is busy planning ways to quickly start a school spirit to rival the older P.C.V.S.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Kenner Collegiate Activities To Generate School Spirit

In a move to generate school spirit and provide activities for students who might otherwise miss them, Dr. Eldon P. Ray, principal of Kenner Collegiate, has advanced the idea of an "activity period." A three-quarter hour class at the end of each school day will include sports, club work, and work on school publications. Extra time to provide this activity period, said Dr. Ray, will be lopped off the lunch time. Lunch hour will become an hour in reality, from 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Usual school lunch hour is from 12 noon until 1:30 p.m.

As well, a few minutes will be pared from classes through the day to provide the extra 15 or 20 minutes of the activity class.

In past years at P.C.V.S., sports and club activities have been on a voluntary basis. In Dr. Ray's experiment, which is to last a year, each student will be required to take part in some activity.

CHOICE OF ACTIVITIES

Of course, the student will be allowed to make his choice of activities. Dr. Ray pointed out, in explaining his plan, that he would insist on every physically able student taking part in sports.

"Even if he needs a washtub to catch a ball in, he'll have to participate and learn something about the game," he said.

Naturally enough, Dr. Ray is concerned about parent reaction to his plan. However, a smattering of parents have telephoned to discover his reasons for it.

"I told them exactly what I planned to do," he said, "and when they knew my reasons, they were all in favor of it."

His reasons for proceeding with it were twofold. In the first place, many of the boys who will be attending school, work after four and might not have the opportunity to take part in sports.

Secondly, he wanted to be sure that every student took part in some school activity outside the curriculum. By including the activity period in school hours, he will be able to insist on this participation.

"If these things aren't done in school hours," said Mr. Ray, "you can't insist on participation. This way, it will be compulsory for every student to enter into some activity or other."

Clubs he expects will be formed at Kenner Collegiate include a debating club, art, stamp, drama clubs, and so forth.

Bantam basketball teams from Kenner will compete with teams from P.C.V.S.; some boys indicated interest in a hockey team, and Dr. Ray expects a soccer team will be organized to take the place of a football team for this year at least.

2 SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

There will also, he hopes, be two school publications. One will be a twice-yearly magazine, which will be independent of the P.C.V.S. year book, The Echoes. The other will be a weekly school newspaper.

For those who live any distance from the school and wish to bring their lunch, a school cafeteria will provide a supplement to lunch — soup, dessert, etc. In time, Dr. Ray hopes by early October, the cafeteria will offer a full lunch at a low price.

"That should be attractive, because it would cost more for a student to take the bus home, eat at home, and then return by bus," he said.

Most of these plans, he points out, are tentative, and the workable ones will be proved by experience. Dr. Ray does expect that the experiment will have "sold itself" by Christmas, if not earlier.

There will be roughly 300 academic students at Kenner Collegiate, drawn from an area with these boundaries: Charlotte St. east to Park St., south to Sherbrooke St., and east to the River, and the suburban students.

For this year — the first year — three Grade 10s are planned, and six Grade 9's. One Grade 10 will be a commercial class, and one Grade 9 a technical class. These latter two forms will be for the convenience of those pupils in the Kenner area.

UE Moves Office Headquarters To Reid Street

Both locals 524 and 527 of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America will be moving to their new office quarters at 203 Reid St., on Monday.

The union has recently purchased the two-storey house at the corner of Reid and Dalhousie Sts. formerly occupied by Mrs. E. Connolly.

The interior has been completely renovated to provide office accommodation for the two locals. Union officials regard the new location as being more suitable and in addition it will have the advantage of housing both locals in the same building.

Dead Hitch-hiker May Be His Son

STRATFORD (CP)—Fred J. Eveleigh of Stratford said today a hitch-hiker killed Sunday in a traffic accident near Three Rivers, Que., may be his son.

The son, Ralph Webster Eveleigh, 26, left Stratford about three months ago and found work on a farm near St. Paul's, in this district. He left the farm about six weeks ago and has not been heard from since.

Police in Quebec said the accident victim carried documents bearing the name of Ralph Webster Eveleigh and the address "St. Paul's, Ont."

Classes Start September 8 New Collegiate

Kenner Collegiate will not open until September 8, K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said today.

Reason for the delay is that sub-contractors have been slow getting work done, while the main contractor, Hubert Eastwood, is slightly ahead of schedule.

G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the Board of Education's accommodation committee, remarked that Mr. Eastwood had done a "splendid job. He was let down by one or more of the sub-trades who were slow getting their work done."

Only four days of school will be missed, from Tuesday to Friday in the opening week.

GYMNASIUM

Only part of the school which will not be ready by September 8 is the gymnasium, which should be ready sometime in October.

Actual construction of the school did not start until last October 14, when reinforcing steel was available for the foundation. The foundation hole had been started September 14, but steel was not available for a month after that.

The job of construction has thus taken less than a year, and Mr. Eastwood made a "tremendous effort to have the school ready for opening on the usual date," said Mr. Craw.

As an example of the extra expense the contractor has gone to, Mr. Craw cited the acoustic tiles in each classroom. They had been ordered for several months and were not in the city by the time the rooms were ready for them.

When the tile became available, Mr. Eastwood ordered the firm to ship them express, at extra cost to himself.

Board of Education is well satisfied with the speed of construction, said Mr. Craw, as they had originally spoken of November 1 as the date for opening the school.

Douro Township To Build Four-Room School On Site On Warsaw Road

Board Members Plan Building With Help Of Contractor; To Cost $60,000 Work Begins In Week On 3-Acre Grounds

Construction of a $60,000, four-room school will start next week on the Warsaw road a mile-and-three-quarters east of the city limits. Decision to build the school was made two months ago by the board of school section 2, Douro and Otonabee. Existing schools—the Auburn School and the rifle range school—will continue to be used. In making the announcement, board chairman Howard A. Quinn said the new school would be of cement block construction, with a kindergarten, four classrooms and rooms for the teachers and the principal. It would be fronted with brick.

3-ACRE SITE

Site will be on three acres of sodded land purchased from Harry Spence. Heating will be by air heated by a coal furnace. There will be plenty of windows, said Mr. Quinn, and the building will have a centre hall plan.

Contractor Ross Greenly, Caddy St., with K. O. Birkin, inspector of schools for Peterborough east and members of the school board planned the school.

The exterior of the cement blocks will be covered with three coats of waterproof stucco. The grounds are quite level and several shade trees are along one side.

Each classroom will have a toilet and basin. Included in the contract will be a well and a cistern.

A basement just large enough to accommodate the coal furnace will be dug so that heat will be able to rise through the pipes to the classroom for more efficient heating.

The roof will be a 15-year bonded tar and gravel surface.

The school will accommodate 140 pupils, and is so designed that additions can be made if the school population should increase. Approval has been given the design by the Department of Education; only two minor changes were made.

Members of the school board are: Howard Quinn, chairman, David Armstrong, Dick Watkins, Clinton Hough, Leonard Welch. Secretary-treasurer is Fred Bell.

To Lift Restrictions On Natural Gas

ST. THOMAS (CP)—War-time restrictions on the use of natural gas for heating homes will be lifted Monday in the northern division of the Dominion Natural Gas Company.

This decision was announced today by Ontario Fuel Controller A.R. Crozier and John Reeves, Dominion president, as a result of the improved position of supplies of natural gas.

Some 400 householders in the area, which covers Brantford, Preston, Galt, Hespeler, Woodstock, Ingersoll, South London, St. Thomas and several small villages, will benefit.

Death Toll Now 6 In Kimberley District

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP)—The Kimberley district's poliomyelitis death toll rose to six yesterday—all children—with the death in hospital of an eight-year-old boy. The British Columbia total of deaths for the year now stands at 11.

Meanwhile, five new polio cases were diagnosed here yesterday. Latest figures released by the health department showed 109 cases throughout B.C.

7-Pound Smallmouth Taken At Round Lake

HAVELOCK (ENS)— Charles Ellis of Belmont township, has caught two fine specimens of bass in Round lake within the last few days. The first was a small mouth bass that weighed seven pounds and measured 21½ inches in length and 17 inches in girth. The second was a large mouth bass that weighed 6½ pounds and was 21 inches long and 16½ inches in girth. Mr. Ellis was using a plug as bait.

Britons Look To Canada For Opportunity

British recognition of the increasing importance of Canada in itself and as a member of the Commonwealth is steadily expanding, Edward Humpage, who is Peterborough's municipal auditor, said today. He arrived home Tuesday evening from a two months' visit, part of the time with members of his family in the Midlands. Mrs. Humpage accompanied him on this vacation trip.

"Business men and others whom I called on are visualizing a great future for this country," Mr. Humpage said. "Some of them told me they would like to come out here, but they are restricted by regulations dealing with the transfer of capital.

"British youth is also looking towards Canada more definitely than ever. I don't think it would be an exaggeration to say that well informed people over there are seeing Canada as still a new land of opportunity comparable with the period of the first settlement of the New England States."

MANY TOURISTS

Mr. Humpage said it was surprising to see the large number of American tourists in his travels through England. About 50 per cent of them make the ocean trip by way of Montreal. Organized tours are a factor in promoting this volume of travel from the United States.

"My impressions in two months were that industry was going ahead pretty well. The cost of living is up a little. Rationing of various foods continues, but visitors staying at hotels don't see much of its reality. Hotel fare offers quite a choice and range of meals. The people who have to depend on the rationing scheme appear to get along all right. They look well fed, and the children seem healthy. The people are also pretty well clothed. Supplies I think are satisfactory, but there is no abundance as we know it."

LOW RENTALS

Mr. Humpage said that council housing, that is the subdivisions that are being built by municipalities, afford virtual subsidized rentals at attractive rates to tenants as compared with similar conditions here. They are given preference in supply of materials, and there is a great deal of that kind of building.

"But, for private housing it is understandably another story. There are restrictions of licensing to be contended with. Bricks may be delivered up to three months after they are ordered. Windows may be another three months in arriving, for example. And so it goes."

But rents of council housing are on a low scale, Mr. Humpage said. He saw a lot of country by car, and he said bus travel was not expensive. The coastal resorts he visited were crowded.

QUIET AND COOL in Jackson Park. This scene reveals that the city's finest natural park is beautiful winter as well as summer and may serve to cool hot August brows. The pagoda-like bridge is a Victorian curiosity in the park, but strangely suitable to its charm. The bed of the creek has been changed since this photograph was taken.—(Photographic study by E. W. Plan To Truck Tomato Crop

ESSEX (CP)—The Essex County Tomato Growers' Association resolved at a meeting to truck this county's $1,000,000 field tomato crop to processing plants in eastern Ontario because of the H. J. Heinz of Canada strike which began Aug. 8.

Russell Pettypiece, president, said the growers will have the use of weighing facilities and loading platforms owned by the Heinz company. Action on the resolution would begin immediately, he said.

Eleven hundred Heinz employees, members of the United Packinghouse Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), are asking a 21-cent wage increase on an hourly basic rate of 99 cents. The company has offered 11 cents.

Egypt's Holy Carpet Makes Trip To Mecca

CAIRO (Reuters)—This Moslem nation took time out from political troubles yesterday for the dispatch of Egypt's "holy carpet" to Mecca.

Political foes, rich and poor, toddlers and aged stood side by side to witness the elaborate pageantry of the 700-year-old ceremony.

Each year since Egyptian Queen Shagaret el Dorr made the pilgrimage to Mecca with the carpet in the 13th century, the ceremony has been held. The "holy carpet" travels to Mecca for the holy season and is then returned to Egypt.

GRANNY'S CATCH—Mrs. Clara Thomas, 74-year-old grandmother, looks at a 6 foot 5 inch, 162 pound tarpon she boated at Brownsville, Texas, over the weekend. It took Gran 45 minutes of battling with the big fish., heaviest registered tarpon ever caught in Texas waters. An hour and a half after taking her record catch, Mrs. Thomas boated a second weighing 118 pounds.

2 Congregations Picnic At Orono

SPRINGVILLE (ENS) —About 70 people sat down to a sumptuous dinner at Orono Park on Tuesday for the annual picnic of Springville and Fairmount congregations.

Swimming and a conducted tour of the reforestation area made it a very pleasant afternoon.

The sports' program was in charge of Mrs. C. W. Seymour and Mrs. Lloyd Whittington. Following are the results:

50 yard dash, 5 years and under —Jimmy McBain.

50 yard dash, 10 years and under—Jimmy Clarke, Keith Johnston.

Boys and Girls, 9 and 10 years —Freddie Flokstra, Joy Seymour.

Girls, 10-12 years—Nancy Petrie, Joan Kempt.

Boys, 10-12 years—Jim Seymour, Don Sargent.

Young ladies' race—Nancy Petrie, Lila Seymour.

Partners' race —Jim Seymour and Lila Seymour, Carl Sargent and Joan Minnie.

Wheelbarrow race—Carl Sargent and Gerald Kempt, Jim Seymour and Don Sargent.

Birthday today—Jim Jonkers.

Coming the farthest to the picnic—The Rev. Mr. Findlay of Edmonton, Alta.

Girls' wheelbarrow race—Joan Minnie and Joan Kempt, Helen Kimball and Ruth Gryce.

Boys' ball throwing —Hilbert Flokstra, Jim Seymour.

Girls' backward-forward race —Joan Kempt and Joan Minnie, Betty Stevens and Lila Seymour.

Mixed Backward-forward race —Jim Seymour and Joan Kempt, Bettey Stevens and Don Sargent.

Shoe scramble—Nancy Petrie, Don Sargent.

Ladies' shoe kicking —Mrs. F. McIndoo, Mrs. Larke.

Men's ball throwing—Mr. C. W. Seymour, Mr. E. Johnston.

Longest married couple— Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Johnston.

The committee in charge of arrangement for the picnic were: M. H. Johnston, Frank Stevens, Harley Cathcart and Gordon McIntosh.

Harvesting operations and sickness prevented many from attending the picnic.

Bandits Get $3,000

MONTREAL (CP)—Three men, two of them armed with revolvers, held up the assistant manager and a bookkeeper of a branch of the National Canadian Bank yesterday and escaped with between $2,000 and $3,000.

Noted Editor Dies

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Henry J. Haskell, 78, editor of the Kansas City Star, under whose direction the newspaper won Pulitzer prizes in 1933 and 1944 for its editorial-page alertness to world problems, died yesterday.

Calvert Family Holds Picnic

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Calvert of Harvey held a reunion in the form of a picnic last Sunday at Red Rock, Sandy Lake, with nine of eleven children with their families being present.

William of Lindsay and Clifford of Sudbury were unable to attend. Burritt, John, Fred, Mildred and George of Harvey and Alberta, Gerald, Ethel and Lillian of Peterborough attended with their families making forty-six in all.

Nineteen were grandchildren, including Lloyd, Theodore, Grace Roberts, Arlene, Heather, Bonnie Bethel, Glenna, Delmar, Geraldine, Ellsworth and Roger Calvert, Tom Flynn, Mary, Esther and Fred Harrison, Dianne and Adele Cochrane.

Eight great-grandchildren were Bobby, Terry, Joanne, Theodon, Dwight, Ford Calvert, Cindy Roberts and Rene Flynn.

There were eight guests: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ackerman and family, Donna Brotherstone and Mrs. Burritt, Calvert's mother, Mrs. Annie Davis who was guest of honor and known as "Nana" to the entire Calvert family.

The youngest person at the picnic was Rene Flynn, 5 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Flynn.

Swimming was enjoyed and several races held. The afternoon came to a close with a bountiful picnic supper.

Believes Canada Holds Key To Atomic Defence

OTTAWA (CP)—Frances Perkins, former United States Labor Secretary, said yesterday that with rich deposits of pitchblende, the source of uranium, Canada "may hold the key to atomic defence."

Speaking to an "international Day" luncheon at the Central Canada Exhibition, she said:

"In addition to the responsibilities of government and service to its own people, Canada carries heavy responsibilities as one of the nations in the forefront of the defence of liberty and freedom.

"With its specialized manufacture and its mining output, Canada, like the United States, is an arsenal of democracy."

Convict Picket Of Besetting

WATERLOO (CP) — Marvin Becker of Kitchener, picket at the strike-bound Sunshine Waterloo Company Limited, yesterday was convicted of besetting and given suspended sentence of two months.

Fifty-three other workers, members of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), face similar charges in connection with an incident Aug. 11 when strikers allegedly prevented the general manager's car from leaving the plant. A charge of besetting against Harvey Maurer of Waterloo was dismissed before the 3½-hour Becker hearing.

The strike of 300 workers, in progress since July 3, was called when union and company failed to agree on a wage contract. The union seeks a 30 per cent across-the-board increase.

A conciliation board recommendation of a 10 cent-an-hour increase was rejected by the union. Basic wage was $1.05 with the average rate $1.20.

To Build 5,500 Houses

TORONTO (CP)—Reeve Oliver Crockford yesterday confirmed an extensive housing program including construction of 5,500 homes in suburban Scarboro. Construction of 2,000 prefabricated low-cost houses is planned by an unidentified Canadian industrialist, now in Britain. Another 3,500 houses will be built by Toronto realtors.

Women Who *KNOW Say: "You can cut food costs at Dominion!"

"I saved enough for a PERMANENT!"

—says one housewife

* Women who shop at Dominion regularly say they believe that prices in general are lower at Dominion! This fact was revealed in an independent survey of housewives.

In other words, women who do all their shopping at Dominion ... week after week ... find savings that add up to something really worthwhile. Of course, women who have not shopped at Dominion regularly are not aware of these savings.

This is the way one Dominion shopper expressed herself: "There is only one way I can afford a really good permanent and that is by saving on other things. By doing all my food shopping at Dominion, I find the savings soon add up. I don't expect to save on every item ... but in time I find I've saved enough to treat myself to the best permanent in town!"

Have YOU tried DOMINION lately?

Do it today! Do all your shopping at Dominion for a month. You, too, will discover what many other women know:

"You can cut food costs at Dominion!"

POWER PROJECT—The first of five 54,000-horsepower generating units at the Aluminum Company of Canada's Peribonca No. 1 power plant, 60 miles from Arvida, Que., has been put into operation. The project, one of the largest undertaken in North America since the Second World War, is located on Chute du Diable on the Peribonca River. Power from the plants will go to a new 50,000-ton aluminum smelter at nearby Ile Maligne.

Police, Civic Officials Link Boy's Near-Hanging Death To Scenes In Motion Picture

OTTAWA (CP)—Police and civic officials link the near-death by hanging of a 10-year-old boy with scenes in a motion picture attended by at least one of the playmates who strung him up to a pole.

The youngster, Garnet Richens, was hanged Friday with a six-foot-long piece of silk during a game. When his face turned blue, his playmates cut him down. Quick treatment with oxygen by a fireman was credited by medical authorities with saving his life.

Paul Sullivan, 13, one of Garnet's playmates, said the game—in whic a five-year-old also was hanged but escaped injury—started after he saw the movie "Golden Horde." The picture is a Hollywood version of the invasion of Europe by the Mongol Emperor Genghis Khan several centuries ago.

Police Chief Duncan MacDonell said yesterday: "It is not the first time an idea got from a movie has caused trouble for young people, and plenty of trouble for the police."

Mayor Charlotte Whitton said the incident "could be attributed to a breakdown of our censorship. But parents should make sure that their youngsters do not attend pictures unless they are classified for juvenile viewing."

Morris Berlin, manager of the theatre attended by Paul Sullivan, said there might be something in the "Golden Horde" to inspire the hanging game.

He described it as a "pretty gory picture" but after sitting through a showing of it last night he said there were no scenes of hangings although there were many of hand-to-hand combat.

More Ruthless Soviet Control

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Stalinist dictatorship has made it crystal clear to the people of the Soviet Union that the Kremlin, through its rule over the Communist party, intends to exercise complete and ruthless control over every nook and cranny of Soviet life. It indicates that opposition has been stamped out and expresses an implied threat against any possible new opposition.

An announcement yesterday that an all-union congress of the Communist party will be convened Oct. 5 is the most important political event inside the U.S.S.R. since the war. Long awaited, the announcement indicates a down-the-line strengthening of the dictatorship from top to bottom, possibly with a Third World War in mind.

ARMY, NAVY WARNED

The army and navy are distinctly warned that they are under the control of the Communist party. So are all organs of government.

New statutes of the party published yesterday—the congress will affix its rubber stamp in October—speak this warning:

"Extensive discussion, notably discussion on the all-union scale, of questions of party policy, must be organized in such a manner that it does not lead to attempts by an insignificant minority to impose its will on the party's majority, or to attempts at forming fractional groupings, destroying the unity of the party, to attempts at splitting which may shake the strength and stability of the socialist system."

At the same time the Kremlin made it plain, with the announcement, that the U.S.S.R. will put on all the steam at its command to reach economic equality with the west. By implication it informed its agents in the west through the announcement that steady infiltration and disorganization of western political groups must be stepped up through a form of the popular-front tactics, to maintain an effective fifth column abroad in a state of alert.

The announcement included a draft of new party statutes which leave no doubt as to the total control of the party from the top, and total control of the country's 200,000,000 people by the 6,000,000 members of the party.

MALENKOV IN FAVOR

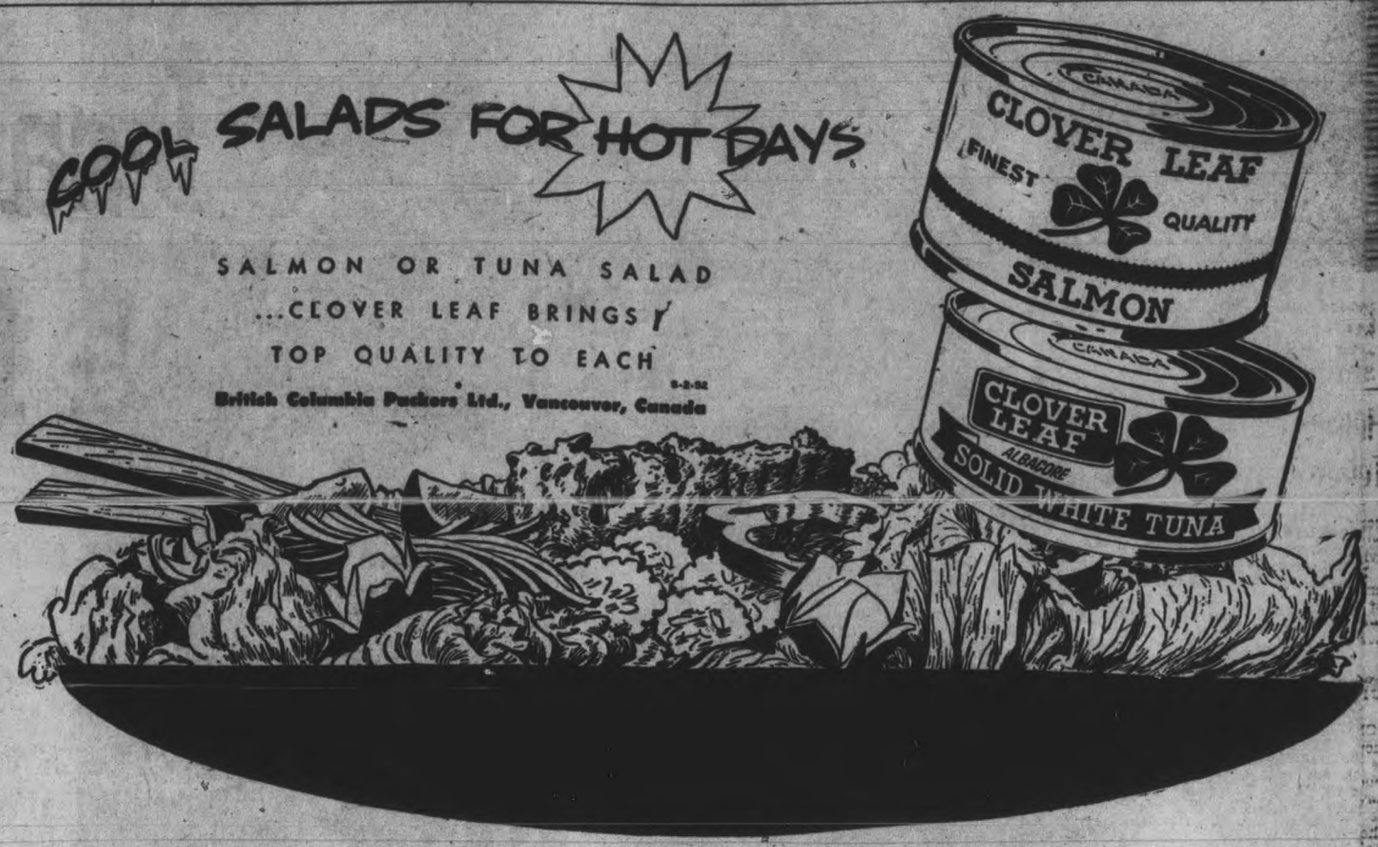
There is little pretence at democracy. The intent is clear: The law must be laid down unmistakably. The man who will lay it down in the keynote speech is Georgi M. Malenkov, 50-year-old protege of Stalin who now seems more than ever in line for Stalin's dictatorial mantle.

There are ominous parallels between the new party announcement and the last call for an all-union congress in 1939. Then the U.S.S.R.'s propaganda was based on "peace" slogans, as it is today. Stalin forecast economic crises in the west and a struggle to divide the world into spheres of influence.

Kingston Strikers Accept Proposals

KINGSTON (CP)—Striking employees of the Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Company voted last night to accept settlement proposals agreed upon in Toronto.

The employees accepted a wage increase of eight cents an hour, four cents higher than any previous offer, and $30 retroactive pay for each employee.



The 22-week strike affected some 195 employees.

The Best Of Travellers have their "off days". Well, here's my remedy for that sluggish, headachy feeling — a sparkling, pleasant-tasting glass of SAL HEPATICA in the morning before breakfast. And if hubby or son are feeling low, suggest they try Sal Hepatica, too. It's been a faithful family laxative for over 60 years. Another beauty about Sal Hepatica is that you can use it safely merely as a refresher in the morning—or at night when your system feels the need of a good cleansing. Sal Hepatica effervescent salts are pleasant to take — mild and gentle—yet wonderfully effective. So when you're packing for your vacation trip—plan to pack up your troubles with a jar of Sal Hepatica effervescent salts!

No Wonder they call it the "one-minute" make-up. One minute with wonderful WOODBURY DREAM STUFF does a complete make-up job and you look "morning-fresh" all day long. You see, Woodbury Dream Stuff is foundation-tint-and-powder in one dainty compact. Just smoo-oth it on with a glide of the puff. It's light and velvety—never cakes—is never drying nor greasy on your skin . . . and never, never spills. Woodbury Dream Stuff comes complete with puff in a pretty, purse-size packet . . . ask for your choice of five dreamy shades—just 75c—or in the new luxury plastic compact—$1.00.

When The Folks Are Ready For Dinner—but dinner isn't ready for them . . . save precious cooking time with delicious BLUE BONNET MARGARINE in the handy "Yellow Quik" bag that makes colouring so easy. No messy dishes—no extra work . . . all you do is press the colour button on the Yellow Quik bag and knead the bag gently. In just two minutes your Blue Bonnet Margarine is golden-yellow—ready to use. M-mmm! Delicate, country-sweet flavour that's fresh as can be all year 'round. Just compare Blue Bonnet with any spread at any price and I'm sure you'll agree—it's a "bargain" in flavour, nutrition and economy!

What Is More Delightful than that precious time skimmed from a sultry summer day—when you sit and enjoy a cool, refreshing glass of iced tea. And my, how a generous lemon wedge brings out the tangy, refreshing flavour! Whether your refreshment is iced tea or lemonade be sure to use SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS—they make all the difference—they're the finest juiciest grown. That's why it's such a good idea to keep a supply of Sunkist lemons on hand these warm days. Then, when you're feeling tired and hot—just make yourself a glass of iced tea with lemon wedges—or a thirst-quenching glass or two of Sunkist lemonade. So restful—so refreshing!

Something I'm Sure You Know . . . that in the kitchen and at the table, Windsor Salt brightens the flavour of food. But did you know that Windsor makes a special salt to use when you're making pickles? When you make pickled onions, cucumbers—tomato relish—or pickles of any kind . . . be sure to make them with WINDSOR PICKLING SALT. It assures you of a clear brine and pickles that are wonderfully crisp and natural in colour. Windsor Pickling Salt is the first and only pickling salt in Canada . . . introduced by the makers of Windsor Table Salt. Yes, whether it's for pickling or cooking and table use—I always buy Windsor—in the familiar red, white and blue packages.

SASKATCHEWAN HARVEST — A record crop of 656,000,000 bushels of grain has been forecast for Canada's 1952-53 crop year. Huge harvesters crawl around Saskatchewan grain fields gleaning the bumper crop in the August sunshine. 'Here on a farm 10 miles north of Regina a combine picks up the swath of a good barley crop. The yield was between 30 and 35 bushels an acre.

Housewife 20, Retains Tobacco Tying Crown

STRATFORDVILLE (CP) — A pert, attractive 20-year-old housewife retained this district's tobacco tying championship last night.

In the record time of six minutes and 24 seconds Mrs. Gene Schmeltz of Hayham tied 14 "sticks" of at least 30 "hands" each to win out over six other contestants.

Black Origin

ROODEPOORT, South Africa (CP)—A "commonsense" deduction from the available evidence is that mankind descended from a black and not a white ancestor, says Dr. M. D. W. Jeffreys, senior lecturer in social anthropology at the University of Witwatersrand. The white races are bleached specimens of the original dark-pigmented primitive man, he says.

Plant Many Trees

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—The provincial forestry branch planted 225,000 new trees in Saskatchewan this summer. Biggest single project was planting of 240,000 pine, larch and spruce trees in the Fort a La Corne district east of here.

Individual Treatment

WINNIPEG (CP)—Finance committee of city council shelves a letter from the school board urging fluoridation of Winnipeg water supplies. Ald. Maude McCreery asked "can't they buy tablets or something and put them in drinking water for table use?"

Policemen's Woes

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Police reported a "weird" night after efforts to rescue a couple of worried men. They scurried around first to find and lock up a man who left word he was going to commit suicide. Then they rescued a man who jumped from a wharf.

Polio Takes Toll

EDMONTON (CP)—The Western Canada poliomyelitis toll climbed to 48 deaths and 803 cases yesterday with reports of one death in each of Alberta and Saskatchewan and 12 new cases in Manitoba and seven in Alberta in 24 hours.

No Word Of Truth About Guards—U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said Wednesday preliminary reports to it indicate "there is not one word of truth" in Swedish newspaper stories that Margaret Truman's bodyguards roughed up Swedish citizens.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told a press conference that both the state and treasury departments are looking into the matter.

He said their first reports indicated that "nobody was touched, threatened, or anything else."

He added:

"Our preliminary reports indicate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers. We, of course, haven't seen the Swedish newspapers, but wire service reports."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Native Canadian Fruits Every Meal For 3 Months

For three months or more we can depend on native Canadian fruits for every meal, now that peaches are ripe to be our mainstay. Indeed we live in a land of plenty.

I tasted the new Fisher variety and while they are a succulent and sweet superior peach, no variety has excelled the Marigold for canning, in my not so humble opinion.

Your letters are full of requests for such mouth-watering items as peach pie, peach upside down cake, peach conserve, and I'm fairly drooling over the typewriter as I think on the luscious food we'll be dining on these days. Our own lonely peach tree ripens in September but is full of peaches and promise.

FRESH PEACH PIE

Four or five well-packed cups of sliced ripe peaches (or apricots), ¾ cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour or 2 tablespoons quick tapioca, ½ teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg or almond flavoring, 4 teaspoons butter. Line a 9-inch pie plate with your best pastry and fill with above ingredients which should be mixed together—the sugar and flour or tapioca being mixed dry first. Dot the fruit with the butter and seal on top crust and flute edges. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes or until juice bubbles through the gashes in crust. If you would like to glaze the top crust brush it with a mixture of tablespoon each milk or cream and sugar.

PEACH UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

BATTER: Beat for 5 minutes with rotary or electric beater 2 eggs then gradually add 2-3 cup sugar. Into this beat ½ teaspoon almond flavoring and 6 tablespoons of the juice that drains from the peaches you have sliced for the bottom. Sift 1 cup cake flour then sift it again with ½ teaspoon baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt, and stir this into the first mixture quickly. Pour it over the fruit.

FRUIT BASE: Melt 1-3 cup of butter in frying pan and stir ½ cup brown sugar into it. Pour this into glass baking dish. Arrange sliced or halved peaches in an attractive pattern on the sugar coating. If you have some mareschino cherries on hand, arrange a few of these in the little spaces and curves between the peaches. Pour batter over (above) and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 45 minutes or until when you test the batter with a toothpick it comes out clean. Juice will bubble up the sides by the time batter is baked. Let stand for at least 10 minutes, then carefully but quickly turn out on serving plate. The syrup drips down the sides and comes out of the baking dish clean. Serve with pouring cream.

EXOTIC PEACH CONSERVE

This is rich and rare and only for special occasions—fact is, if you ate too much of it you would probably sprout earrings.

Twelve large peaches, 3 oranges, 1 medium-sized bottle maraschino cherries, white sugar. Scald, peel and slice peaches. Peel the oranges carefully so you can scrape off the white pith with the bowl of a spoon. Shred it as fine as you would for marmalade. Cut the orange pulp finely too. Cut the cherries in halves and add them and their juice. Measure. For each cup of fruit add 2-3 cup sugar. Bring to boiling point and boil about 25 or 30 minutes or until it has a transparent and slightly thickened appearance. Pour into sterile sealers or jam jars. Seal at once. If paraffin is used, it must be very clean and hot and you must roll the jars to make a seal and add a second coating when first is cold.

Write to me if you want more peach talk. If you would like return mail enclose self-addressed stamped envelopes and address you letters to Mary Moore in care of this newspaper.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE

Women are eligible for the Military Medal, but only on the special recommendation of a commander-in-chief for bravery under fire.

$1,200 Fellowship To Honor First CFUW Head

OTTAWA (CP).—The Canadian Federation of University Women Wednesday voted to set up a new $1,200 fellowship in memory of the late Dr. Margaret MacWilliams of Winnipeg.

The triennial convention of the C.F.U.W. approved the proposal suggested by a standing committee on scholarships. The fellowship honors Dr. MacWilliams, first president of the federation, who died this spring.

The fellowship is open to a woman graduate of a Canadian university who wishes to do further academic work. The recipient will be selected for 1953 from applications during the balance of 1952.

The convention also voted $2,000 additional financial aid to holders of federation scholarships to complete work already started. Present scholarship holders may obtain a maximum of $500 each.

The North Central Saskatchewan Regional Library at Prince Albert will receive another $350 grant for 1953. The library was the first regional children's library set up on the prairies and received a similar grant last year for 1952 operations.

WED 50 YEARS AGO on a day that was as sunny and warm as Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. William Forsythe have lived on the same farm in Douro township ever since. — (Examiner Staff Photo).

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Forsythe Lived On Same Farm 50 Yrs.

It was a big day for Mr. and Mrs. William Forsythe, R. R. 2, Indian River, Wednesday as they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their Douro farm home.

From early morning until 10 o'clock in the evening, it was a busy round of greeting friends and relatives who dropped in to offer congratulations, opening a collection of gifts that any newlywed couple would welcome and posing for group pictures, but it was abvious that they both enjoyed every minute of it.

Even the weather man spanned the half century and came up with a day just like August 20, 1902, when they were married at the home of Mrs. Forsythe's parents near Cottesloe by the Rev. E. B. Cooke.

"It was a good day, but it rained awful hard that night," Mr. Forsythe recalled and he was so busy that he didn't take time off for a honeymoon but went threshing the next day.

They have lived on the same farm, four miles east of Douro, ever since, and Mr. Forsythe "is still at it as much as ever," although he is 82.

One son, Erwin, has taken over much of the work on the 50-acre market garden farm and Mr. Forsythe, a familiar figure to Peterborough market customers for "30 or 40 years," has given up going into market every Saturday morning.

Until poor health forced her to take it a bit easier a few years ago, Mrs. Forsythe was one of the most active workers in Cottesloe United Church. She is not able to do as much sewing and fancy work as she used to, but she still keeps up her favorite hobby of letter writing.

From the number of people who dropped in Thursday to extend best wishes and sign the guest book in the hall, it was obvious both Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe are a friendly couple who have made a wide circle of friends.

"I write five or six hundred letters a year," Mrs. Forsythe explained proudly and her prolific letter writing (almost two a day) is a likely explanation for their popularity with distant relatives and friends.

Among the visitors were three cousins from Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and Miss Mary Johnson, cousins of the Forsythes. Mr. Clark is a professor at Kansas State College.

The Forsythe's have four sons, Erwin at home, David and Maitland in Peterborough and Donald of Galt, and six grandchildren.

Mr. Forsythe's grandparents came from Scotland in 1790 and were among the first settlers in Dummer. He recalls hearing his grandfather tell of carrying a bushel of wheat from the family homestead to Norwood to be ground into flour. The mill there had broken down and he carried it on to Keene. It was in the winter, and the mill there was not working so he carried it on to Peterborough and then packed the flour home again, a round trip of more than 34 miles. Mr. Forsythe reflects that it's certainly different nowadays when all you have to do is drop in at the store down the road apiece to get it by the bag.

About 40 members of the family sat down to a turkey dinner at noon. As they received guests during the afternoon, Mr. Forsythe sported a white carnation in his lapel and Mrs. Forsythe wore a grey figured sheer dress and a corsage of red roses.

Among the many gifts displayed in the living room were a chesterfield and chair, gifts of the immediate family and an easy chair, presented by the neighbors.

Visitors were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. David Forsythe and Donald, Maitland and Erwin Forsythe.

A golden damask cloth, an anniversary gift from a friend in Montreal, covered the table. The three-tier anniversary cake, baked and iced by a cousin, Mr. John Stork of Pickering was centred in the table and surrounded by small bouquets of golden nasturtiums on beds of cedar.

Mrs. A. Tedford, Mrs. Fred Toms, Mrs. J. S. Kidd and Mrs. Clayton Jory poured tea in the afternoon. Those pouring tea in the evening were. Mrs. Rae Carlow, Mrs. Edith Taylor, Mrs. Edith Forsythe and Mrs. John Stork.

Mrs. Donald Forsythe of Galt and Mrs. Maitland Forsythe, assisted by Mrs. Max Tedford, Mrs. Rae Carlow, Mrs. T. Fitzgerald and Miss Mary Mae Taylor served the guests during the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. J. S. Kidd and Mrs. Edith Taylor made tea and among those assisting in the kitchen were: Mrs. Lewis Freeburn, Mrs. H. Patterson and Mrs. Hazel Manship.

Guests were present from: Kansas City and Manhattan, Kansas; Sarnia, Dunnville, Rock Centre, Hamilton, Toronto, Pickering, Perth, Apsley, Peterborough and surrounding district.

Says Women's Job To See Selves As Individuals

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Hilda Neatby, professor of history at the University of Saskatchewan, said yesterday that women's job now seems to be to see themselves as individuals.

In an address to the triennial convention of the Canadian Federation of University Women, Dr. Neatby traced the reasons for the subjection of women to "a kind of instinctive compensation for their biological and psychological advantages."

Their emancipation "was a distinctive aspect of the democratic movement in western civilization," she said. "Theoretically it is implicit in the rational humanism and in Christianity which have been formative influences in western civilization."

This emancipation waited for the material advantages of the machine age and for a general reorganization of democratic society to start its course.

However, Dr. Neatby said women "must constantly remind themselves that freedom is dangerous without a purpose and that right is meaningless without a duty."

Women's best claim to public service "lies in the fact that tradition and temperament and experience keep constantly before women the good for getting things done and done promptly without too much theorizing."

Ontario Teachers Stressing Desire To Co-Operate

TORONTO (CP)—Some 350 delegates were on hand yesterday for opening sessions of the two-day 34 annual assembly of the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario.

They represent 122 local associations and 13,500 public school teachers working in almost every Ontario community. President Mrs. Ruth Clarke of Port Hope presided.

Mrs. Helen M. Ward, executive secretary, said the organization is stressing the desire to co-operate rather than dictate; to assist where possible and to promote the highest in educational aims and ideals.

Honorary memberships were presented to: Kate Dordan, Niagara Falls; Mattie Ellis, Hensall; S. I. McLean, Seaforth; Isobel Sharman, Goderich; Jean Todd, Toronto; Georgina Young, Georgetown, and Florence Jamieson, Ottawa.

Choose One Dress For Versatility

By GAILE DUGAS

Every woman has at least one "dressy" dress in her wardrobe.

If she lives in a small town or even a medium-sized one, it will serve a different purpose than it would in a big city. She will wear it for bridge, for tea, for small evenings, for any informal gathering requiring a somewhat dressy turnout.

In the city, the same general type dress goes to matinees, to late-afternoon parties, to small informal dinners and even, at times, to the theatre in the evening.

But smal town or big city, it's a dress a woman must have if she leads even a fairly active social life.

A sophisticated dress for city life (left) is this feminine design, softly draped and folded, done in an organzine taffeta. Gentle drapery rounds out the bosom and shoulders, deals gracefully with the hipline.

Equally handsome but less extreme (right) is this dress in shining rayon satin. Again, the soft drapery appears in the neckline and brief sleeves, is suggested in the unusual cluster effect achieved in the very full skirt. Waistline is small and neat.

Canada's Child Welfare Scheme A Leader

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Professor Marjorie J. Smith, Minnesota-born founder of the University of British Columbia's social welfare section, says Canada's pattern for child welfare is superior "to anything I've seen in any other country, including the United States."

Prof. Smith returns to British Columbia early in September after a year on research into social service conditions in Britain and the continent, made possible by a Fulbright scholarship grant.

To round off her visit, Miss Smith is to attend a United Nations seminar at Keuruu in Finland in the last two weeks of August. She was one of three teachers chosen to address an English-speaking audience of 40 social workers from several countries including Finland, Sweden, Italy and Germany.

Miss Smith there will present the Canadian approach to social problems.

U.K. LAWS COMPREHENSIVE

Although Miss Smith gives top marks to Canada for social administration, she finds that Britain is much farther advanced in legislation. Laws covering social welfare are more comprehensive here, she says.

Britain, however, may learn something from this American teacher who has spent 10 years in Canada and intends to take Canadian citizenship on her return. She has been requested to write a booklet for publication in Britain, based on Canada's approach to social problems.

Since arriving in Britain last September, Miss Smith has travelled throughout England and Scotland, visited France and Italy and attended a World Council of Churches in Switzerland. She gave talks at Edinburgh University and Swansea, and will visit the University of Stockholm on her way back from Finland.

Although the visit has been a busy and instructive one, Miss Smith is happy to be heading for home.

Musical Ride Successor Of Old Cavalry Charge

By KEN KELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The days of thundering cavalry charges into the mouths of cannon have vanished but a memory of those stirring days lives on in the famed "musical ride" of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The ride which goes on tour of the United States and Canada this year is the legendary successor of the old cavalry charge. This is the first musical ride since 1949, and the first in which the force has been able to employ 36 black horses. Previous rides had brown mounts, or horses of different colors.

There is a tradition that after a wild charge against the enemy in the old days mounted troops would celebrate by riding in circles or making criss-cross patterns waving their lances. That may be a dubious tradition, but may well be the origin of the musical ride.

As performed now, it's a highly-complicated series of patterns and figures done by a troop of men carrying pennant-decked lances. It starts at a trot, goes into a canter, and ends with a charge at full gallop.

The charge is guaranteed to bring old and young alike to their feet as the riders thunder the full length of the arena and stop a few feet from the rail. Lances are lowered in the charge and horsemen howl like a band of wild Indians.

A lot of preparation goes into the musical ride. It takes 10 months to train a recruit into an expert horseman and policeman who will measure up to standards as high as any in the world.

Four months are spent under the stern discipline of Staff Sergeant C. W. Anderson at the R.C.M.P. barracks in suburban Rockcliffe. He teaches his men everything from how to care for his horse to breathtaking gymnastics performed at full gallop.

It's no easy feat to jump onto a galloping steed, do a hand-stand, stand upright and then slip off without a tumble. It takes skill to stage

DOROTHY DIX

Young Mother Feels Need Of An Occasional Outing

DEAR MISS DIX: Several months ago I left my husband and took my two children to live with my mother and stepfather. My husband gives us no support. I am desperate for some sort of work, either in town or out of town, but I would have to have my children with me as mother works. I haven't been out but twice since I've been home, and both times to the store. I have no recreation at all. I've asked my husband to take the children so I could get a job, and the youngsters are getting on my nerves. It isn't good to be indoors all day long with no one to talk to. I know my feeling is wrong, but I am so upset I don't know where to turn. I am 22. M. G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no doubt but that you are in a desperate situation and a small town is a bad spot under the circumstances. No matter how hard things are for you at present, hang on and don't, under any conditions, give up your children. That is something you would regret bitterly for the rest of your life. They're babies such a little while, and the years of their complete dependency pass very quickly—much too quickly for most mothers.

MEET OTHER MOTHERS

You should be able to make friends among the other young mothers in your community, which would at least give you someone else to talk to. Then, you could exchange baby-sitting services to permit you to get out occasionally. One day you could take a neighbor's children for the day; another time she could take yours. In a town where baby-sitters are scarce, or money is not available to hire them, this system has worked very well with young women in your position. Staying at home with your mother and keeping your children is really the best you can make of a bad situation for the present. When the babies are a little older you can go out to work, but right now they need your care.

In the meantime, there is no reason why your husband should go scot free on supporting them. Apparently you haven't pressed this point very much and, of course, if he can get away with anything, he'll do it. Write and tell him that unless he makes a definite pledge of support you are going to obtain legal advice. If he ignores the letter, consult a lawyer. The nearest Family Court can tell you where to obtain free legal advice and service, since you are unable to pay for it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My uncontrollable habit of making sarcastic remarks has resulted in the cancellation of my engagement. Although my fiancee often begged me to stop being sarcastic, I cannot overcome the impulse to say things as they pop into my head. Also, he didn't like many things I wear, such as low necks, shorts, etc. My mother was very upset over our breaking the engagement, and says we are not to see each other again. I feel that things could be patched up, since we do love each other. B.M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Much of the difficulty can be excused on the ground of your youth; at 18 one isn't expected to be completely stable. However, if you feel old enough to be married, you should be old enough to control bad habits. Naturally your mother is upset at present, but she'll probably realize that much of the trouble was your own fault, and she'll relent. Make up your own mind that you must do more than make a simple effort to overcome your faults. Firm resolution is more in order.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For sometime I have been writing to a boy in service, and, though he says he loves me, he writes only one letter a week. Don't you think, if he is sincere, he can do better than this? RENEE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Boys in service are kept pretty busy, and it's quite possible that one letter a week is the most he can muster. Probably he isn't much of a letter writer, anyway. Don't slack off on your own writing, as letters mean a very great deal to boys away from home.

Music And Symbolism Rule Stage At Bayreuth Festival

By DANIEL DE LUCE

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—Richard Wagner's grandsons and the modernists have won a two-year fight against the old dragons of theatrical conservatism.

Only a few flickers of flame still erupt from old-fashioned music critics who dislie the super-modern staging of the Wagnerian operatic festial at Bayreuth.

Most are reconciled now to the loss of musty sets and fussy props. Abstract lighting on an almost bare, elliptical, inclined stage is the new tradition.

No longer are singers flounding in melodramatic gestures through their roles. Their movements are restrained.

Music and symbolism rule the Bayreuth stage. Everything else is subordinated or left out.

This is the way producer Wieland Wagner, 34, says his grandfather would have wanted it, if the great musical innovater had lived in the 20th century.

When Wieland, young and untried, took over the 75th anniversary revival of the festival in 1951, veteran patrons doubted whether he was a big enough chip off the Wagner artistic block.

Weathering a violent attack by conseratives last year, Wieland came back this season with his abstract settings refined—but not repudiated.

The 12 month's interval gave the majority of critics a chance to second-guess themselves. Their favorable change of opinion is seen here as guaranteeing the continuation of the annual festival for many years to come under Wieland and his brother, Wolfgang, 32, who is business manager.

After all, the converted now recall, it was old Richard himself who once said: "Children, create the new! Create the new!"

It costs $440,300 to put on a Wagnerian festival, running as it does this year from July 23 to Aug. 25, with an international cast, a large symphony orchestra and a chorus of more than 100.

Although the 1,800-seat Festpielhaus is sold out for nearly all 25 performances, the box office revenue meets little more than half the expenses. Ticket sales amount to $231,000.

From the West German government, Bavaria, Bayreuth and the German radio, there are contributions of $119,000.

But this leaves $59,500 for Wolfgang to raise from private gifts, large and small, to keep the festial going.

Guest singers who come to Bayreuth accept much less than their usual fees. But they relish the experience.

Swedish-born Astrid Varnay and Canadian-born George London, of the New York Metropolitan, sang at the first post-war festival last year and are back again. Roman Vinay of Chile scored a personal triumph as Tristan to open this season.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the curtain rises daily at the Estepielhaus. It is nearly midnight when the last song is sung.

6—In Memoriam

BOOTH—In loving memory of Thomas Leslie Booth, who passed away Aug. 21, 1946.
Oh, God, what a weight of sorrow
Must we, the lonely ones bear:
A lonely home, a silent voice
And only his vacant chair.
—Ever remembered by his mother, Mrs. M. Kelly.

7—Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the nurses and staff of the Civic Hospital and all who sent flowers, fruit and cards, also those who called to see me during my illness.—Mrs. A. B. Northey.

We take this means of notifying our many friends and relatives that we are deeply appreciative of the kindness and sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement in the death of our husband and father. —Mrs. Georgina Myers and family.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC SEPARATE SCHOOL FOR SCHOOL SECTION NO. 5 IN THE TOWNSHIP OF SMITH.

BY-LAW NUMBER 4

A By-law to authorize the issue of Debentures in the principal amount of $30,000 to pay the cost of construction of a two room school at Bridgenorth.

WHEREAS The Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate School for School Section No. 5 in the Township of Smith have decided to issue Debentures in the principal amount of $30,000 bearing interest at the rate of Six and one-half per centum (6½%) per annum to pay the cost of construction of a two room school located at Bridgenorth, which is the amount of the debt intended to be created by this By-law;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the principal of the said debt shall be repaid in annual instalments of principal during a period of twenty years, namely during the years 1953 to 1972, both inclusive, in the respective amounts set forth in Schedule "A" hereto attached;

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary to raise during each of the years 1953 to 1972, both inclusive, the respective amounts set forth in column 4 of said Schedule "A" for payment of the principal and interest of the said debt.

THEREFORE, The Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate School for School Section No. 5 in the Township of Smith enacts as follows:

1. THAT for the purpose aforesaid money shall be borrowed on the credit of The Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate School for School Section No. 5 in the Township of Smith by the issue and sale of Debentures of the said Board in the principal amount of $30,000. The said Debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 6½% per annum payable annually and shall have coupons attached thereto for the payment of such interest.

2. THAT the said Debentures shall be dated the 2nd day of September, 1952 and shall be payable in twenty annual instalments on the 2nd day of September in each of the years 1953 to 1972, both inclusive, and the respective amounts of principal and interest payable in each of such years shall be as set forth in Schedule "A" to this By-law which is hereby declared to be and form part of this By-law.

3. THAT the said Debentures as to both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of Canada at the principal office of The Bank of Nova Scotia in the City of Peterborough.

4. THAT the Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer of the said Board shall sign and issue the Debentures and the Debentures shall be sealed with the Corporate Seal of the said Board. The interest coupons attached to the Debentures shall be signed by the Chairmand and Secretary-Treasurer and their signatures thereon may be written, stamped, lithographed or engraved.

5. THAT in each of the years 1953 to 1972, both inclusive, the respective sums set forth in the fourth column in Schedule "A" hereto shall be levied and collected annually by a special rate sufficient therefor over and above all other rates in the same manner and from the like persons and property by, from, upon or out of which other separate school rates may be levied and collected.

6. THAT the said Debentures in the principal amount of $30,000 and the interest thereon shall be and the same are made a charge upon the school house property and premises and the real and personal property vested in The Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate School for School Section No. 5 in the Township of Smith and upon all the separate school rates until such and every one of them, together with all interest thereon, shall have been fully paid and satisfied.

7. THAT the said Debentures may contain any clause providing for registration thereof authorized by any Statute relating to Municipal Debentures in force at the time of the issue thereof.

READ a FIRST, SECOND and THIRD TIME and FINALLY PASSED this 11th day of August, 1952.

M. SEIDEL,
Chairman.

(Mrs.) MARGARET O'BRIEN,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Musical Ride

a wrestling match on horseback against another mounted man. But the training is invaluable.

HORSES STILL USEFUL

Apart from patrol work where horses are the best mode of transport in many areas, a mounted man in the cities is worth a score of men afoot in controlling crowds or breaking up mobs.

Another factor that makes the R.C.M.P. still stress the mounted man—although it uses all modes of transport these day—is that the redcoated Mountie is almost synonymous with "Canada" to people in foreign lands. The force has an advertising value that is impossible to reckon in dollars and cents.

That's why, from time to time, picked men and horses of the force spend six weeks of special training to take the musical ride on tour.

Their expenses are paid by the fairs and exhibitions which sponsor the performance. At these celebrations the Mounties bring something of the color of Canada and her history to thousands of potential visitors to Canada's summer and winter playgrounds.

CARE OF MOUNTS

The horses and three men to care for them travel in two express horse-cars. The remainder of the riders travel in two sleeping cars, with their commanding officer, Insp. A. S. McNeil of Regina, and Staff Sgt. Anderson.

While they are located at a fair or exhibition the men continue the personal care of their mounts. Three men are always with the horses in charge of a non-commissioned officer, but men assigned to that duty don't ride the following day.

Performing sometimes twice daily is hard on uniforms, and the riders are issued three scarlet tunics instead of one. The cleaning bill is looked after by the fair or exhibition.

Train Two Million Youths In Partisan Warfare Throughout East Germany

By VINCENT BUIST

BERLIN (Reuters)—East Germany is teaching 2,000,000 youths to shoot straight and master the rules of partisan warfare. Boys and girls of 16 years and upwards are being given rifles to practise with while government leaders work out details of a plan to create an East German army. Since "armed forces" became a keynote of East German politics, leaders have mostly appealed to the 2,000,000 members of the Free German Youth, counterpart to the Soviet Komsomol, to help "defend the homeland."

Tent camps have sprung up throughout the country where police arms experts coach youths to hit the bull's eye at 50 to 100 paces. In the present wave of militarism the highest honor is to win a sharpshooter's badge.

NO SECRET

The training, which also includes gliding, parachute jumping, and telegraphy, is no secret. It is reported in youth magazines and has been mentioned in a score of speeches by leading Communists during the last two months.

On the whole, youth seems to have accepted it, but many parents are reported to be against it. One of the chief topics in magazines is pacifism and how to uproot it.

MILITARIST SWITCH

The switch to a militaristic program happened almost overnight.

It began May 1 when President Wilhelm Pieck called for "armed defence" of the homeland. Pledges of fighting loyalty came at once from all parties and mass organizations.

A month later 250,000 youths held a "parliament" at Leipzig. they marched 16 abreast—thousands of them with rifles slung over the right shoulder—bearing canvas portraits of Soviet soldiers clasping tommy guns across their chests. Girls marched in front beating drums.

The enemy was "imperialism." One radio commentator was reported to have said: "Every one of these rifles will hit one American heart."

IDEOLOGICAL TRAINING

"Ideological" training accompanies the shooting instruction—to teach youth to distinguish between "just and unjust wars," "militarization and national defence," "pacifism and defence against imperialist aggression."

One official lesson contains the following theme: "We are not against arming in principal, but we are against arming when it serves imperialist mercenary troops. An armed mercenary such as we have in West Germany is the opposite to an armed man who is defending a democratic state in the interests of the people."

The nearest approach to an East German army so far are the Kapos (Kasernierte Polizei) or barracked police. This is a force of between 60,000 and 70,000 black-uniformed police formerly called alert units (Bereitschaften), in existence since 1949. They get military training but have only obsolete weapons.

Battle For Gun Waitresses Loses

DETROIT (AP) —A hamburger stand waitress, Etta Peoples, 22 was on duty at a drive-in hamburg stand when an intruder approached.

The man, keeping his right hand in his coat pocket, said: "This is a holdup."

Ignoring the threat, Etta reached under thee counter, seized a .32 calibre automatic and pointed it at the intruder.

"Oh no, it isn't," she said. The bandit removed his hand from his pocket, reached across the counter, wrested the weapon from Etta, and announced:

"Now it is."

He departed with $50 from the cash register.

Mill Grinder Explodes Does $1,200 Damage

ST. THOMAS (CP)—About $1,200 worth of damage was caused today when a new double-head grinder in a grist and chopping mill exploded at Glanworth, nine miles north of here.

The machine, owned by Harvey Upfold, was wrecked and pieces ripped through the roof of the mill. It was installed a week ago.

Golden Eagles Haunting Antelope Herd

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP)—Golden eagles have been haunting a herd of antelope in Deer Lodge Valley, high in the Rockies.

"One entire herd of 135 antelope is spooked," says Deputy Game Warden Les Barton. "The animals are afraid of their own shadows."

One doe was seen steering her two fawns out of a grassy meadow and up a mountain side, where pine trees hide them from the beady-eyed "king of the air."

But now and then man helps the harrassed antelope.

Marvin Pearce of Deer Lodge was out in the valley with his rifle recently when he saw an eagle circling in the sky.

Suddenly, the bird folded its wings and plunged to earth in one swift swoop. A few feet from the ground the eagle threw out its wings, braking the dive, and stabbed its sharp talons into the back of an antelope fawn.

Pearce said he was 450 yards from the eagle when the bird took off. Despite the extreme range, he took sight and fired.

With a flutter of feathers, the eagle fell.

Pearce brought both eagle and antelope home to show his friends.

Game Warden Bartan says a study of the Deer Lodge antelope herd indicates eagles have been killing an average of one fawn a day since June 1.

"And eagles do not confine their killing to antelope," Barton says. "They also kill deer fawns and calf elk."

In winter they frighten game into deep snows, where even grown animals are immobilized, then tear them to pieces.

Searchers are looking for the eagles' nest. Meanwhile an armed watch has been set up to protect the antelope from attack.

Agree On Increase in Price Of Plums

HAMILTON (CP)—Increases in the prices of this year's crop of plums for processing, ranging from $2.50 to $7.50 per ton higher than last year's figures, have been agreed upon by a negotiating committee composed of representatives from the Canned Foods Association and the Ontario pear, plum and cherry growers' marketing board.

Damsons have gone up to $60 per ton from last year's price of $52.50; prine plums, such as Selenburg and Stanley, increased from a price of $55 to $60 a ton. For all other varieties, the grower will receive $50 a ton, as compared to $47.50 last year.

Bad Flying Weather Delays Cadets In U.K.

LONDON (CP)—The return of the Canadian air cadets to Canada was delayed today by bad flying weather.

The cadets, who have been visiting Britain and Continental countries since late July, got an extra day touring London.

ONE-HORSE'S POWER beats one horsepower—"Clayton," mighty Percheron used to haul lumber for a Cleveland, Ohio, saw mill, is only one horse, but he's rated at 10 horsepower in the hauling league. A contest was arranged between Clayton and "Tuffy," a new two-wheeled, one-horsepower tractor for home gardeners. Clayton can pull a load of 5,000 pounds, but Tuffy's best was only 500 pounds. So, dividing the one-horsepower tractor's 500 into the horse's 5,000 gives Clayton a rating of 10 horsepower. Only satisfaction the tractor folk had was to point out that it's easier to keep a small tractor in a city garage than an 1800-pound Percheron. Photo shows Clayton, driven by Harry DeBock, outhauling Tuffy, driven by Bob Bricker. Supervising the race is Patrolman Robert A. Paisley.

400 Entries Win Praise In Flower, Vegetable Show

The Flower and Vegetable Show of the Omemee and District Horticultural Society held Tuesday was well attended, and generally acclaimed a good show. There were over 400 entries exhibited by 41 adult members, and 126 junior entries.

According to George Clarke of Peterborough, who was one of the judges, both the quality and setup was superior to what is usually seen at small town shows. He saw a big improvement, he said, over what it was when he judged in Omemee a few years ago.

Fred Storey of Peterborough, who is well known in gladiolus societies, was the other judge. He also commended the exhibitors on their showmanship, drawing the special attention of the audience to a livingroom bouquet arranged by Mrs. Carl Atwell, and which he pronounced a masterpiece.

The Eaton Trophy for the exhibitor gaining the most points of those who have not previously been awarded the trophy, went to Mrs. V. Raffan. Mrs. Murray Finney was next highest, for which she received the Robert Simpson Mail Order award. For the highest number of points in juniors' gardens, Dorothy Kennedy won the cup given by Mrs. D. Hicks of Omemee.

President Wesley Wilson thanked the local merchants and all other interested people who had donated trophies, prizes or money, Mr. Storey and Mrs. Clarke for judging, Mrs. Horace Hill, convener of the show committee, and her helpers, the parents of the juniors for their support, the village council for the use of the hall, the Legion and United Church for tables, and all the members who contributed to the success of the show.

First and second prizes in the various entries—in a few cases third and fourth—were won by the following.

BLAZING ALONG—Whizzing high over the Bavarian Alps, the "Skyblazers," famous Air Force precision-flying team of Republic F-84 Thunderjets, make a spectacular sight in their diamond formation. Having amazed 10,000,000 spectators during their three years in Europe, they will be seen for the first time in the U.S. at the International Aviation Exposition in Detroit.

Fort Erie Policeman Takes Top Honors

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—William Webb, Fort Erie policeman, took top honors yesterday in the St. Catharines police revolver club's 13th annual shoot. The shoot marked the official opening of this club's new Decew Falls range.

Webb, with a score of 332 for timed and deliberate fire, won the Peter Grammer trophy. Top honors in team competition went to St. Catharines' three-man squad. Second was the Fort Erie team of Webb, N. Leslie and Mathews. Toronto placed third.

The Ross trophy for deliberate fire in the master class went to Bern Hamnett of St. Catharines, with 226 points.

Find Fireplace 300 Years Old

TOBERMORY (CP)—A stone fireplace that may be over 300 years old has been discovered on the north side of the Big Tub, a natural harbor near here on the tip of the Bruce Peninsula.

An archaeologist engaged in research work on Manitoulin Island and at Penetanguishene ventured the opinion that it is of French origin and may be more than 300 years old. It is built on a ledge of rock a short distance from shore and is neatly constructed.

Dense bush surrounds the fireplace and its existence, until now was unknown. The find was made by Ontario land surveyor J. M. Bluth of Durham when he was surveying a lot in the neighborhood.

Want Ontario Gov't To Settl Disagreement

BRANTFORD (CP)—City and township councils here last night agreed on just one thing — that their disagreements would have to be settled by an Ontario government body.

City council wanted to annex some 3,400 acres on the city's eastside. Township council tentatively offered 500 acres. The city would not accept it.

Speakers on both sides agreed the matter would have to be referred to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Barge Upsets, Pushes Cruiser To Bottom

WINDSOR (CP)—A 22-foot cabin cruiser was pushed to the bottom of a canal off suburban La Salle yesterday when a barge capsized and a derrick was flung across the cruiser.

It was believed that a slow leak in the barge caused it to fill partially with water. It capsized when the derrick overbalanced it.

Alwayne Williams of Windsor, owner of the cruiser "Linda Lee" was not available for an estimate of damage to his vessel.

Heavy Death Rate

AROLSEN, Germany (Reuters)—The West German government has definite information that two-thirds of the 750,000 German civilians deported to the Soviet Union since the war have died, Refugees Minister Hans Lukaschek said yesterday.

Would Aid Baldness

LONDON (Reuters)—Russians who are going bald were warned in a medical talk over Moscow radio yesterday to "comb your hair carefully, paying special attention to combing it at the end first and then gradually approaching the root."

Film Festival Open

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Venice became a temporary movie mecca last night as Italy's 13th international film festival opened under the flags of 15 countries. The opening night's movie was the Italian-made "Altri Tempi" (Other Times), produced by Alessandro Blasetti. The festival runs until mid-September.

35 Will Compete In Driving Tests

WASHINGTON (CP)—A Canadian and 34 Americans will compete tomorrow in tests to determine the champion teen-age automobile driver.

Claude Dupont of Ottawa and 34 state driving champions are taking part. Two girls are participating.

The event is sponsored by the national junior Chamber of Commerce and an insurance company. To the winner will go a $1,000 scholarship; to the runners-up, $950 in scholarships. The main idea is to build up interest in skillful driving.

Deputy-Minister Files Bankruptcy Petition

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Clieve Planta, appointed deputy fisheries minister for Newfoundland two years ago, Tuesday filed a petition in Supreme Court asking that he be declared bankrupt.

He listed liabilities at $43,570, including an amount due a bank and guaranteed by Premier Joseph Smallwood and Senator Ray Petten.

Listed creditors included firms and individuals from St. John's to British Columbia.

Gift From Prince

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP)—Maria Marras, 23-year-old amateur radio operator, said last night she had received a new antenna from Prince Talal Aziz of Saudi Arabia as a gift. The prince flew to Sardinia yesterday to meet Maria, whose voice he had heard on the air several times.

Can't Get Over Canadians Who Play The Bagpipes

MONTREAL (CP) — Hugh McPhee, in charge of Scottish programs for the British Broadcasting Corporation, said today he was amazed at the number of Canadians who play the bagpipes.

Mr. McPhee, born in Ballachulish near Appin in the Scottish highlands, has just completed a month's tour of Canada. He said it takes time and background to play the bagpipes.

"Seven years of his own learning and seven generations before."

He said he found a great number of Canadians who speak Gaelic with ease and fluency.

"In Cape Breton Island, I believe more people per capita speak Gaelic than in Scotland itself. At the Gaelic Mod in St. Anne's, N.S. I heard a choir sing a Gaelic song which was composed by Scottish immigrants when they left their native land some 150 years ago. That song is now forgotten in Scotland."

OBITUARIES

ALEXANDER TURNER

A retired market gardener, Alexander Turner of 641 Park St. S. died in hospital on Wednesday after several months illness. Mr. Turner was born in Otonabee 74 years ago son of Alexander Turner and Mary Wilson and resided in North Monaghan just on the outskirts of the city for many years where he operated a market garden. Latterly his property was taken into the city and finally he retired when his garden was absorbed in one of the housing developments.

He leaves one nephew, Russell Hibert of Washago. An only sister Elizabeth Ann (Turner) Pratt died in 1951. Mr. Turner was a member of Grace United Church.

The body is resting at the Belleghem Funeral Home on Hunter St. from where the funeral will be held on Saturday at 2:00 p.m. with the Rev. I. G. Pollock assisted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. JOHN GIDEON HIERONS

The death occurred in hospital on Wednesday, after a short illness, of Mrs. Alice Hierons, of 768 Orpington Road. Mrs. Hierons was the wife of the late John Gideon Hierons, who died two years ago.

Born in East Dulwich, England, 73 years ago, Mrs. Hierons was the daughter of the late Richard Morriss and Mary Ann Myles. She has been a resident of Peterborough since 1923 and prior to coming to the city resided in Bewdley. Mrs. Hierons was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

There survive two daughters, Mrs. J. Parks (Kathleen), of Peterborough, and Mrs. J. V. LeTourneau (Flora), of Long Branch, and one son, R. S. Linsey, of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2.30 p.m. at the Nesbitt funeral home, Charlotte St., with burial in Little Lake cemetery. The Rev. M. P. Poole, of All Saints' Church, will officiate.

MISS LAURA TERESA HERR

A former resident of Asphodel township and Norwood, Miss Laura Teresa Herr, 350 St. Clair Ave., W., Toronto, died suddenly Tuesday in Western Hospital, Toronto.

Miss Herr was a school teacher in Toronto for 15 years, first at St. Bridget's School and later at Our Lady of Perpetual Help School. She received her schooling in Norwood and attended the Peterborough Normal School before teaching in Asphodel township for a few years.

She was born in Asphodel township, daughter of Michael Herr and the former Mary Boland, both deceased.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Michael Daley (Bea), Kingston; Mrs. George Morency (Mary), Asphodel; and Mrs. Harold Roach (Bella), Keene; and two brothers, John J. Herr, Elrose, Sask., and Patrick Herr, Little Britain.

The funeral service, arranged by Duffus funeral home, will be held from the home of her sister, Mrs. Morency, on Highway 7 in Asphodel township, to St. Paul's Church in Norwood, for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Friday. Burial will be in St. Paul's cemetery, Norwood.

Name Appointments Of Cadet Officers

Oldest Flying School Has Birthday

LONDON (CP)—The Central Flying School, oldest in the world, will celebrate its birthday next month. It is six years older than the R.A.F. and considered the best of its kind anywhere.

In August, 1912, 22 students arrived at Upavon on Salisbury Plain. They were to be trained by "experts" from the army and navy. Among them was Major (later Air Marshal of the R.A.F.) H. M. Trenchard.

Another first-course student was Robert Smith-Barry who invented a system of training that is the basis of instruction for the world's air forces today. This was dual-control and two-way telephone system.

NO HIGH FLYING

First pupils were told: "No high flying, please." It took too much time for short biplane box kites and Renault-Maurice Farman Longhorns to gain altitude.

There were few crashes and instructors hardly dared relinquish controls. The only way they could talk to a pupil was to stall the engine.

The school moved from Salisbury Plain to Wittering and is now at Little Risington. Students come from all parts of the world—such is the calibre of training.

Teachers Planning To Hold Workshop

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—The educational research committee of district 12, Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation, will hold a workshop here next Thursday and Friday.

Attending will be delegates from Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Smooth Rock Falls, Cobalt, Chapleau, Blind River and the Sault.

The workshop will study the question of centralizing curriculum.

Actor McCrea Sports No Airs Despite Wealth

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some joker recently tacked on Joel McCrea's dressing room a sign reading "Millionaire's Row." McCrea joined in the laugh.

It's possible that he is a millionaire, since he has been making good money for 20 years. But one thing is certain: he doesn't act like a millionaire. Nor has he brought up his two boys to act like a rich man's sons.

They have been so shielded from the limelight that only this week did McCrea allow the first picture of one of them to be published. The reason for the photograph was that the oldest boy, Jody, 17, is appearing with his pop in "Lone Hand."

FIRST MOVIE

"That's true," Joel confirmed, "there haven't been any pictures of the boys published since they were babies. The only photos we have taken of them were for the family album. My wife (actress Frances Dee) had a theory about that.

"She objected to children being used in publicity at an age when they were not able to make their own decisions about it.

"And she was absolutely right. I have seen it happen to too many kids of famous people. They wind up with a complex about being second best and make messes of their lives."

The McCreas seem to have done a good job along those lines on Jody and David, 16. The McCrea sons have spent most of their lives on the ranch learning the cattle business.

ACTING BUG

After years of indifference about his father's profession, Jody suddenly has expressed a desire to get into it. Joel gave him a chance to break into the game on "Lone Hand."

Joel admitted that neither son is a great fan of his.

They like me better than Randolph Scott but not as well as Gary Cooper," he shrugged.

GIRLIE SHOWS OKAYED

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Charlotte Whitton yesterday made a flying inspection tour of midway "girlie shows" at Ottawa's Central Canada Exhibition. She took along Frances Perkins, member of the United States Civil Service Commission and the Exhibition's guest of honor for the day. Apparently the two found little to shock the city's morals.

New Peach Crop Arriving, Vegetables Good

The people of Ontario do not have to buy vitamins in capsules at this time of the year.

Vitamins are available as nature distilled them in the great volume of fruit and vegetables that are coming to market.

"Take peaches," says E. McIlwain of National Grocers, and there is a layman's advice in his verb.

"They are a grand crop, and at a price that should put them on every table, breakfast, dinner and supper. The Jubilee variety is a free stone peach of excellent quality, sweet and everything else.

"But, housewives who do a lot of preserving are perhaps thinking of Albertas, and are inclined to pass up the Jubilee. We can have peaches on our tables for weeks at this season, and they are a real tonic.

"The orchard people have done their part in turning out this big crop, and if consumers neglect them, they are missing a grand fruit."

The fruit and vegetable harvest is a veritable cornucopia—horn of plenty.

CORN GOOD

Peterborough Golden Bantam corn was never better. "Cobs we have bought from Alf Johnston, just south of the city and in the Crawford's Grove area, are nearly as long as your arm. I've never seen better, and he has another field not quite ready yet, where the stalks average around seven feet."

Potatoes are still firm. Reports from Cavan township are that farmers are busy harvesting grain, and are not bothering much with potatoes except seed Cobblers. Digging the late crop will probably not be under way until the begininng of October.

Rain has greatly helped the cauliflower and cabbage crop. Tomotoes are in good volume, and all the rest of the garden truck is plentiful.

Vegetarians should be happy with all that variety of food from soups to salads.

Warkworth WA Plans Visit To Morganston

WARKWORTH (ENS) — The Women's Association of Oak Heights United Church met Friday in the Sunday school room of the church with thirteen members present and two children.

The first vice-president, Mrs. Jack Potter, presided. Mrs. A. P. Sayles read the scripture lesson and the devotional period was in charge of the convener, Mrs. W. H. Porter, who chose as her topic "The Presence of God."

A committee was appointed to plan the program for the meeting for which this organization has been invited to attend by the Morganston W.A. on August 21st. The committee is composed of Mrs. A. McMurdo, Mrs. Jack Potter, Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, Mrs. John Ferguson and Mrs. Alvin Pratt.

It was moved by Mrs. Bruce Porter and seconded by Mrs. A. P. Sayles that a new runner be purchased for the church lobby.

Mrs. Charles Killingbeck was convener for the following program: vocal duet by Misses Joan and Mona Taylor, with Mona as piano accompanist; Mrs. Bruce Porter gave a reading entitled "How We Spend the Time We Save" and a piano solo was contributed by Mrs. Clarence Ferguson. A vocal solo, "When Jesus Came" was sung by Mrs. Herbert Pratt, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Potter. A vocal trio composed of Mrs. H. E. Pratt, Mrs. Archie Ferguson and Mrs. Chas. Killingbeck sang "I Will Sing of My Redeemer".

Mrs. Alvin Pratt gave a reading and Mrs. Killingbeck thanked all who helped on the program.

CROP WEATHER GOOD

OTTAWA (CP)—The prairies' chances of reaping an estimated peak 632,000,000-bushel wheat crop appeared strong today with the Bureau of Statistics reporting "very favorable" weather throughout the western provinces. However, the bureau, in the seventh of eight telegraphic reports covering crop conditions across Canada, said warmer weather is needed in northern areas to speed maturity.

Council Calls Special Meeting

WELLAND (CP)—Welland city council has called a special meeting for Tuesday to consider an arbitration board's award of a $600 yearly increase in the wages of first class firemen.

Early this year the firemen asked an increase of $700. Council offered $300 and in negotiations the firemen expressed willingness to sign a contract calling for a $500 increase.

Terming the award "a serious matter," Alderman Harry Diffin said council may have to consider adjustment in the size of the fire brigade to keep the situation within budgetary limits. The award gives first class firemen $3,300 per annum.

Settlement Saves Million Dollar Crop Of Tomatoes

LEAMINGTON (CP)—With the 12-day strike at the H. J. Heinz of Canada plants here and at nearby Wallaceburg settled, picking of this district's $1,000,000 tomato crop started today. The 1,100 Heinz workers who process the tomatoes into juice and catsup will return to work Monday. Prior to settlement of the strike early today, growers had feared the tomato crop would be wasted. They made plans yesterday to truck it elsewhere.

After a session with union and company leaders which lasted until 1 a.m., Labor Minister Daley announced agreement had been reached. The terms will be placed before the union membership for ratification.

Mr. Daley declined to discuss the terms. It is believed the employees will receive a good part of the 21-cent-an-hour increase their executive had demanded. The company offered 11 cents.

"I think it is safe to say the employees will be back at work sometime today," Mr. Daley said when he emerged from the conference room at Leamington town hall. "I don't think the tomato crop will be hurt."

At 2 p.m. yesterday, Mr. Daley and Louis Fine, chief provincial conciliation officer, went into conference with the disputants. Eleven hours later—there was a break for dinner—they emerged.

Despite the late hour word spread rapidly through the district, delighting businessmen and farmers. Picking of the crop normally would have started a week ago. Another 24 hours of the strike and the tomatoes would have begun to rot.

Members of the Essex County Tomato Growers' Association were prepared to pick the crop and dispatch it to processing plants in Toronto, Chatham, Port Dover, Windsor and other centres. Ordinarily the entire crop goes to the Heinz plant. Shipping it elsewhere would have wiped out the growers' profit margin because of shipping charges.

Retail business in Leamington, which depends largely on the $50,000 weekly wage of the plant workers and on the payments to the tomato growers, was reported down about 30 per cent. Food stores have been selling mainly on credit.

Two Vessels Collide, No One Injured

LONG BEACH, Calif. AP—The Swedish motorship Stratus collided early today with the American ship Coos Bay off the southern California coast.

Coast Guard headquarters said the Swedish vessel radioed that part of the Coos Bay crew had taken to lifeboats but that some men remained aboard. There was no report of casualties.

The Stratus reported its bow stoved in above the water line. It said the Coos Bay had a large hole in the port side and may be taking water.

Radio contact with the cargo vessel came more than an hour after the coast guard first received a message on the distress frequency saying only, "colliding with American ship called Coos Bay."

When communication was renewed, the Stratus reported it had sent its lifeboats alongside the damaged American vessel but remaining members of the crew refused to come aboard. The Stratus asked for two tugs which are being dispatched from here, and said it would stand by until tugs arrive.

The Coos Bay is a converted landing craft of 3,104 tons net used to haul lumber. The Stratus is listed as 3,505 tons net.

Seek Policeman For Murder

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (Reuters)—An intensive manhunt today sought a fugitive former policeman whose orgy of murder and arson last night resulted in the deaths of his parents, his sweetheart and five other persons.

Police said Tore Hedin, 25-year-old constable at Hurva, wrote a note confessing to the crimes and left it in his auto when he abandoned it. The note also confessed to another murder last year at the nearby town of Tjoernarp when he was a policeman there.

Last night he set his parents' house on fire, burning them both to death. He hacked to pieces his fiance, Ulla Oestberg, 24, and another woman, Agnes Lundin, 54, head of the local old people's home.

Then he set fire to the old people's home, which resulted in the death of four others, police said.

Hedin was dismissed from his police post two days ago for threatening and maltreating Miss Oestburg.

The note gave no motive for most of the crimes, but said he had burned his parents to death because he did not want them to know he was a murderer.

Runs Out Of Gas At 20,000 Feet

CARLETON PLACE (CP)—Po. R.J. Childerhose, 21, of St Boniface, Man., ran out of gas today at 20,000 feet and lived to tell about it. He crash-landed his F-86 Sabre jet with an 800-yard-long skid in a farmer's field about five miles east of here.

Flying with two other jets in formation, PO. Childerhose dropped down to about 2,000 feet before his engine stopped. Then he skimmed over farmlands before settling down in a field at more than 100 miles an hour.

PO. Childerhose walked away from the crash with only a cut over his eye. A wing was knocked off the plane when it plowed through several fences. The nose and fuselage were badly ripped.

PO. Childerhose flagged down E. W. Jenkins, a garageman on a nearby road, and rode with him to Ashton, about five miles west. He telephoned his base at Uplands Airport, 25 miles northeast near Ottawa.

Air Force officials said only Childerhose's great skill in crashlanding and the soggy condition of the farm fields saved him from being killed.

Ontario Experiences First Summer Frost

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario's first frost of the summer was reported today in several northern regions.

Temperatures dropped to 26 degrees at White River, 145 miles North of Sault Ste. Marie, the weather bureau here reported.

Frost also struck Graham, 75 miles north of Port Arthur, and Armstrong, 50 miles further north.

Youngsters Playing On Log Pile

Dies of Broken Neck In Accident; No Inquest Planned

BANCROFT (ENS)—A five-year-old girl was killed at Hybla Thursday when the top log of a pile of logs she was playing on rolled down and crushed her.

She was Gweneth Musclow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Musclow of Hybla, 10 miles northwest of Bancroft.

Gweneth was playing on the pile of logs with several of her brothers and sisters when the top log, which was loose, came free and rolled down on top of her. Coroner O. W. Anderson, of Bancroft, said she died of a broken neck.

ACCIDENT NEAR SAWMILL

The accident occurred near the sawmill at Hybla, and the logs had been dumped there by a truck only minutes before.

There are six brothers and sisters surviving, as well as the parents. Funeral service will be held Saturday, at 2 p.m., at the Hatton funeral home in Bancroft, Mr. Belch, of the Gospel Hall, officiating. Burial will be in Hillcrest cemetery.

Dr. Anderson said there would be no inquest.

Man 74, Walks Into Car, Escapes Serious Injury

An elderly Cobourg contractor escaped with comparatively slight injuries today when he was hit by a car on Highway 7 one mile north of the city.

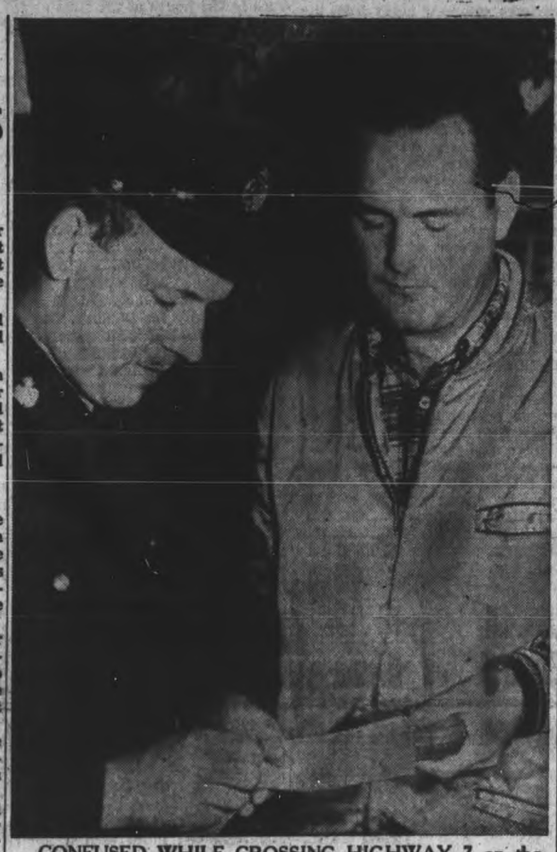
In Civic Hospital with shock and possible head injuries is Fred Earle, of Cobourg, about 74.

Earle and his partner, John Field of Cobourg, stopped their truck on the top of Milburn's Hill on the east side. Mr. Earle got out to cross the road and ask for information about a man who lived in the vicinity.

SOUNDED HORN

As he was in the centre of the road, said Field, a car came from the north, sounding its horn. Earle apparently thought the auto was coming from the south, and hurried to reach the west side of the road.

Driver of the car, G. F. Webster of Montreal turned onto the shoulder to avoid hitting Earle, who walked right into the side of the car. The impact threw Earle about 15 feet.



He was rushed by ambulance to Civic Hospital, where his condition is said to be "as good as can be expected."

Webster, returning to Montreal from his holidays, said he saw Earle crossing the road. "I blew my horn and turned right off the road. He seemed to think the car was coming from the opposite direction. He kept looking to the south.

"I got right off the road, and couldn't get any farther or I'd have hit the tree." Webster pointed to a large maple tree only two feet from the right front of his 1952 car.

Damon Ball of Renfrew, visiting in the district, was on the west side of the road when the accident occurred. He said he didn't hear the horn sound, or see anything "until the car pulled over at the side of the road. We didn't pay any attention at first because there's so much fast traffic here."

O.P.P. Constable Wally Mohns investigated.

CONFUSED WHILE CROSSING HIGHWAY 7 on the Chemong hill, Fred Earle, of Cobourg, suffered possible head injuries and shock today when he walked into the side of the car driven by G. F. Webster, of Montreal. The dent made by Earle can be seen in the door of the car. Websters' car went off the highway about 10 feet after hitting Earle where group (at right, top) is standing. Details were given by Webster (lower) to O.P.P. Constable Walter Mohns, who investigated.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

TLC Balks At Plan To Ask Ottawa To Outlaw Reds

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canada's biggest union body, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, will go on battling Reds in union ranks. But it balks at calling for the outlawing of the Communist party in this country. The 502,000-member T.L.C. at its annual convention yesterday tramped on an attempt to have it ease up on its own tough internal policy on Reds but drew a line between that and government action against the Labor Progressive party, the legislative arm of the Reds in this country.

The 502,000-member T.L.C. at its annual convention yesterday tramped on an attempt to have it ease up on Reds but drew a line between that and government action against the Labor Progressive party, the legislative arm of the Reds in this country.

The anti-Red T.L.C. took the stand that asking the federal government to outlaw Communist parties—or any other subversive parties—might open the way to suppressions that could threaten freedom of expression in Canada.

EXECUTIVE DEFEATED

The T.L.C.'s decision represented something of a setback for its executives, which had given tacit approval to the idea of a ban on the Communist party. The proposal was put before the convention by its resolutions committee and, it was understood, after an okay by the executive.

Play Mournful Lament For Flood Victims

LYNTON, England (Reuters)—A mournful lament on the bagpipes skirled across the Valley of Rocks here today as 13 victims of last week's flash-flood at nearby Lymouth were buried.

About 60 mourners gathered along two lines of graves in the hydrangea-filled cemetery.

Rev. Theodore Coldman walked over Lynmouth, almost blotted out by the river floods, to conduct a joint service with Rev. E.H. Soutar, vicar of Lynton.

Tom Floyde, local postman who lost six of his family in the flood, led the singing of "Abide With me." As the last coffin was lowered, an army bugler blew the Last Post. Then the notes of the lament, Flowers of the Forest, played by a lone piper, echoed across the valley.

A total of 21 are known to have died in the Lynmouth flood, with 15 still missing and presumed dead.

Ding Dong Daddy Behind Bars; Stops The Show

OAKLAND, Calif (AP)—Francis Van Wie, San Francisco's gift to romance, was behind bars today—accused of marrying wife No. 16 without divorcing No. 15.

But the 66-year-old ex-streetcar conductor didn't give up without literally stopping the show at an Oakland burlesque theatre, where he was appearing in an act billed "My True Love Life."

When two Los Angeles police officers, equipped with a bigamy warrant for his arrest, showed up at the theatre Wednesday night, Van Wie was nowhere to be found

But after a while Van Wie's manager, Walter Hale, appeared on the stage.

"This loveable, innocent little character is going to give himself up," he announced.

With that, the rotund Van Wie, better known as the Ding Dong Daddy of the D car line, appeared on the stage and blurted:

"All I can say—"

His attorney interrupted and marched Van Wie down the centre aisle to the waiting officers.

Confirm Arias New Consul

PANAMA (CP)—The Foreign Office here said last night that Tito Juvenal Arias has been appointed Panamanian consul at Montreal.

Notification of the appointment, officials said, had been forwarded to Canada through the Panamanian legation at London but apparently a delay had developed. They added that in all likelihood Dr. Jose DeNobili would be notified that he no longer is honorary consul at Montreal.

There was some confusion in Montreal and Ottawa yesterday when both men claimed the post as word of the appointment of Arias had not reached Dr. DeNobili.

Convict Man Chewing Taxpayer's Ear Off

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Accused of chewing off the ear of a taxpayer, William Chambers, an O'Connor township official, yesterday was convicted and fined $50 and costs.

Asi Sharp, who lost the ear, appeared in court with his head bandaged. He told Magistrate C. D. Leamay that a fight started at a public meeting Aug. 18 after he stood up to criticize Chambers for not providing the community with bridges.

Chambers admitted slapping Sharp with his open hand but said Sharp bit his thumb and the fight started.

U.S. Navy Tests New Jet Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Navy disclosed today that four new jet fighter planes have been given their first tests aboard a carrier.

Three of them — the single-engined XF-2 Fury and F9F-6 Cougar and the twin - engined Chance-Vought F7U-3 — are those which Navy Secretary Dan Kimball recently described as new navy planes which will be "better than the Russian MIG."

When and if the three are ordered into production, they will be the first of the Navy's swept-wing carrier-based fighters.

The fourth is the twin - engined straight-wing F2H-3, a new model, of the McDonnell Banshee.

50,000 Families To Be Deported

VIENNA (Reuters)—The Czechoslovak Communist government plans to deport 45,000 to 50,000 "unreliable" families from the big towns into the country, according to reliable reports reaching here from Prague.

Such deportations have already been made in Hungary and Romania and are believed to be part of a campaign, ordered from Moscow, to "purge" towns throughout the eastern European Communist states.

Most of those turned out in the general purge are expected to be "unreliable" political elements from the former middle classes, such as bankers, businessmen, lawyers and ex-army and police officers.

Second Of Quints Dies In Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A second of Mrs. Maria Albano's girl quintuplets died at the Sao Paulo maternity hospital last night. She was to have been named Maria Tereza.

The five babies were born to Mrs. Albano, 38, on Tuesday night and were placed in an incubator. One died yesterday. Maria Angela had been picked as her name.

The hospital said yesterday after the first death that the other four babies were in good condition.

The announcement of the second death last night contained no information on the condition of the survivors.

Fear Coal Strike Looms In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials said today that John L. Lewis has given formal notice that his contracts with the coal industry will expire at the end of September. This set up the possibility of a country-wide coal strike at that time.

The Taft-Hartley Labor Act requires that the government be informed of a labor dispute at least 30 days before the work contract expires.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, gave federal mediators the required notice that contractors with both the soft and hard coal industry will run out then, these officials said.

This could—as it has done before—precede a strike providing no agreement on a new contract is reached by the end of September.

Workers Run Shop Chinese Owner Finds

HONG KONG (AP)—A Chinese drug - store owner who reached Hong Kong from Shanghai said today his store was so firmly in the hands of Communist workers that "I had to ask permission to take an aspirin."

Pharmacist Carl Chang said his nine workers discovered that by allying themselves with a district unit of the Communist party they could get control of Chang's drug business after a year. The owner said that while his store was making money, he was permitted to take only minimum wages, although he was forced to continue as operator and manager and take all responsibility.

Boat Overturns Six Make Island

ORILLIA (CP)—Six young employees of the Y.W.C.A. camp on nearby Lake Couchiching were confined to bed under doctor's care today after spending the night huddling in wet clothes on Horseshoe Island. They are: Don Scott, Joe Devine, Betty Fowler and Helen Wood of Toronto, and Eugene Page of Logford and Jeannette Zeigler of Waterloo. They were out on the lake in two rowboats when a sudden squall overturned one of the boats. The second boat went to the rescue but high winds and choppy water prevented it from taking the extra load aboard and so the party struggled to shore on the island.

Temperatures dropped to 48 degrees as the six took shelter in an abandoned shack. They had no matches with which to light a fire.

Camp Director Don Hills and Cecil Brown, general secretary to the Hamilton Y.M.C.A., found them early today.

Canada Exchanges Mission With Austria

OTTAWA (CP)—An exchange of diplomatic missions between Canada and Austria was announced today in a statement released simultaneously at Ottawa and Vienna.

Dr. Victor Dore, 72-year-old Montreal-born scholar, has been appointed Canadian minister to Austria and will couple his work there with his present duties as Minister to Switzerland.

Dr. Max Loewenthal-Chlumecky, Austrian ambassador to the United States, will assume an additional post as his country's minister to Canada.

Uses Body As Shield For Fellow-Soldier

TORONTO (CP)—A sergeant's modesty kept quiet until today how he used his own body to shield a fellow-soldier from an exploding grenade.

Several weeks ago Sgt. A. W. Graham of the Toronto Scottish Regiment was teaching recruits to throw grenades when a live one fell back into the bomb bay. The sergeant dragged the man who had hurled it outside and threw himself on top of him as the bomb exploded.

No one was hurt but the bomb bay was scarred by steel fragments and the floor ripped by the explosion.

The story came to light today when the sergeant was commended for his action by his superior officers.

Rent Disagreement Sends Two To Hospital

HAMILTON (CP)—A rent disagreement late last night sent two persons to hospital for treatment of stab wounds and resulted in a charge of wounding with intent to maim being laid against Anthony Zebowski, 60, of Alberton.

Zebowski, a farmer, was arrested after Joe Carr, 38, and his wife allegedly were stabbed. Hospital authorities said Mr. Carr was treated for an abdominal wound and a gash in the left arm. Mrs. Carr was treated for a cut on her right thumb. Both were released after treatment.

Ontario provincial police said the argument took place in Zebowski's home where the Carr's also live. Police said Zebowski wielded a large butcher knife and that Mrs. Carr suffered the cut thumb when she tried to separate her husband and Zebowski.

Protest To Army Police As Civilians Alarmed

SARNIA (CP)—Port Huron Coast Guard officials said today they will protest to military police at Camp Ipperwash, Ont., for neglect to notify them of night manoeuvres in which flares were sent up for several hours last night.

Thrown up from the beach at the lakeside camp, some 42 miles northeast of Sarnia, the flares were seen by anxious residents for many miles along the shoreline and were responsible for sending three U.S. Coast Guard ships to search for a "disabled ship" in the worst storm of the summer.

Braving mountainous waves and a 40-mile-an-hour gale, J.M. Buford, chief boatswain's mate and officer commanding the Port Huron lifeboat station, was out on the lake from 11 p.m. until 9:30 a.m. today with 10 men. They were unable to get within two miles of the shore off Kettle Point because of pounding surf.

Bilingualism Made Gains In Canada In Last 10 Years

OTTAWA (CP) — Bilingualism made gains in Canada during the last 10 years, but the English language surged ahead in all provinces but Quebec, the Bureau of SStatistics reported today.

In Quebec, those who used French as their official tongue outnumbered those who spoke only English about five to one. But in Ontario, those who spoke English outnumbered those who used only French about 50 to one.

Surveying language use, the census-takers last year found that the number of Canadians using English as their only language climbed to 9,387,000, up 1,652,000 from 7,735,000 in 1941.

In that period, Canada's total population climbed to 14,000,000 from 11,500,000.

The number of Canadians who used French only increased to 2,742,000, a gain of 560,000 from 2,182,000.

But though Canada was still far from being a bilingual country, the number of Canadians who used both French and English climbed to 1,727,000, a rise of 253,000 from 1,474,000.

Some 152,000, most of them immigrants and the like, could speak neither English nor French. This was up 37,000 from 115,000 in 1941.

Quebec was the home of 92 per cent of all Canadians who used only French. Ontario held 44 per cent of all those who used only English.

Choice of an official language was not entirely due to what the Canadian learned at his mother's knee, for although 2,742,000 Canadians used French only, some 4,000,000 Canadians gave French as their mother tongue. In other words, in the course of time, some French-Canadians had become bilingual or had switched over to the English tongue.

English was the mother tongue of 8,281,000 Canadians while 1,660,000 claimed languages other than French or English as their first tongue.

Of the total 1,727,000 bilingualists in Canada, 1,038,000 were in Quebec and 360,000 in Ontario.

New Explosive Factory Safer Than Pitching Hay

CALGARY (CP)—One of the world's most up-to-date explosives factories is in production on a 1,300-acre site within nine miles of Calgary.

All precautions have been taken to protect the more than 100 employees, and the entire processing machinery is literally wired for danger. One official said: "When you don't take chances with explosives, you are safer than if you were pitching hay."

The factory, built by Canadian Industries Ltd. at a cost of $4,000,000, is the first in North America to be equipped with the Swiss-built "biazzi nitrator." This device takes the guess-work out of the most intricate operation in manufacturing explosives—the mixture of nitric acid with glycerine to make nitro-glycerine.

BIG COOLING SYSTEM

Refrigerating equipment weighing 50 tons was installed to cope with the high temperatures generated in the biazzi nitrator during the mixing process. The biazzi machine itself sounds the alarm if the temperature rises above 60 degrees, and if it approaches the danger mark of 90 degrees the machine opens a trap door and dumps the mixture into a tank of cold water.

Employees must take a shower after each shift as a safety measure against possible effects from contact with nitro-glycerine. Employees are provided with a complete change of clothing each day to eliminate the risk of sparks from metal buttons or hooks.

Shoes provided for all workers have no nails and visitors must wear rubbers on entering the plant.

Duke Of Windsor Goes To Bay Of Biscay Town

PARIS (Reuters) — The Duke of Windsor left here today for Biarritz, resort town on the Bay of Biscay, accompanied by his Swedish masseur, Dr. Algren Hyeling, who has been giving him an intensive course of massage for lumbago.

The Duke, 58, and his American born wife returned to Paris last Saturday. He had been treated for gastric enteritis at the Italian spa of Montecatini.

The Duke was today reported to be almost recovered from the lumbago attack, but Hyeling will stay with him in Biarritz for another three days to complete the massage course.

Bullets Stop Airwoman In Ambulance

Evades Road Blocks Sideswipes Cruisers, Vehicle Ends In Ditch

OTTAWA (SP)—A 19-year-old R.C.A.F. airwoman who fled Rockcliffe air station at the wheel of a fast ambulance was finally stopped by police yesterday after an accident-punctuated 85-mile-an-hour chase to the outskirts of Montreal.

A police bullet in the tire finally threw the ambulance into a ditch at Strathmore, Que., 15 miles from Montreal, after the hysterical driver evaded road blocks, sideswiped a police car and caused an accident police said sent three persons to hospital.

HEAVY GUNFIRE

Police said the girl, identified as Airwoman Gladys Linda Rochon of Nanaimo, B.C., sat sobbing but unhurt behind the wheel of the ditched ambulance when they approached. During the chase police fired at the ambulance with machine-guns and pistols. Five bullets struck the vehicle.

"I want to go home," was all police could get out of the pretty Victoria-born blonde who joined the air force in October, 1951, at Vancouver.

Quebec Provincial Police said they would lay no charges. The girl was turned over to R.C.A.F. service police and taken to a Montreal hospital for observation.

Raymond Pheoret, Quebec Provincial Police constable, said it was the "wildest" chase of his career. The airwoman "drove like one possessed—the roads were wet and slippery and the traffic heavy yet we were going at top speed even to stay with her."

ON SICK PARADE

Miss Rochon, an air force photographer, reported on sick parade at Rockcliffe in the morning. Before she could be examined she disappeared. Then it was found that an ambulance was missing.

The two incidents were not connected until Joseph Roberts, an Ottawa trucker, reported he had seen the ambulance, its siren screaming, speeding along the Montreal highway toward Hawkesbury, Ont.

Police Chief George Giroux of Hawkesbury put his cruiser across the road. But the girl wheeled the big ambulance between a telephone pole and the cruiser, side-swiping it on the right side and kept on going.

THREE HURT

At Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., police lined two cars across the highway. Again the driver maneouvred around them, going through a ditch and a small stream and back on the highway, hardly slackening speed. At Pointe Claire the ambulance sideswiped a sedan, sending it careening into two other cars. Police said three persons were hurt.

Now followed by three police cruisers, the ambulance became the target for machine-gun and pistol fire.

"We had to stop her before she killed someone," one police official said, noting several motorists had been forced off the road by the speeding ambulance.

Ottawa Engineering Dept. Asked To Explain Blast

OTTAWA (CP)—City engineering officials will be asked for a report on the explosion of 104 sticks of dynamite at a west end sewer project Wednesday night which broke windows, damaged roofs and cracked plaster in four nearby homes. One woman, Mrs. Bradley Baird, escaped injury when a rock ripped through the livingroom window of her Berkeley Ave., home, grazing a chair where she had been sitting a moment before.

A 3,000-pound blast cover, a huge braided steel cable mat which was supposed to cap the explosion, was blown 20 feet off the 12-foot hole made by the explosion. Residents in the area said a gang of men in trucks appeared yesterday morning and hurriedly cleared up rock and timber which littered the street.

GET BRUSH OFF

Reporters seeking information about the explosion were told by City Engineer D. J. MacDonald to "go peddle your papers." Commenting on this Mayor Charlotte Whitton said that if any discourtesy had been shown by city engineering officials, they would be disciplined.

Workmen said cause of the big blast was misjudgment by a construction company employee who set it off. He had overestimated the charge required.

Naguib Visits Gaza Garrison

CAIRO (Reuters)—Gen. Mohammed Naguib paid a flying visit today to the Egyptian garrison at Gaza, southern Palestine, amid unconfirmed press reports that some British troops in the Suez Canal zone may be moved there.

Since seizing control of Egypt last month, Naguib has been touring every unit of the Egyptian Army.

Press reports have suggested that Gaza may be established as an alternative base for British troops in the Suez area to meet Egypt's wishes. There has been no official British comment on this.

In Cairo today, the militant Moslem Brotherhood Association called upon the government to shut down bars, cabarets and dance halls.

"Supreme Guide" Hassan Hodeiby Murshid declared in a formal note to Premier Aly Maher that the "evil influence" of such entertainment halls was "more disastrous than the occupation of the country by a foreign army."

Sneak Thieves Get $4,000 Diamond Rings

ORILLIA (CP)—A pair of sneak thieves escaped from a main street jewelry store yesterday with six diamond rings valued at $4,000. One man remained outside Matchett Brothers store while the other entered, sent the proprietor to go to the back of the store for some merchandise and then scooped the rings out of a showcase and fled.

Obituary

MRS. ARTHUR KNIGHT

HASTINGS (ENS).—Mrs. Arthur Knight died at her home on the outskirts of Hastings Thursday after a short illness. She was 85.

She was the former Edith Hartley, daughter of the late James Hartley and Easter Holder. Mrs. Knight was born at Battersea where she received her public school education.

She came to Hastings 57 years ago from Kingston and has resided there ever since.

She is survived by one son, Wilfred, at home.

Funeral services will be held from her late residence at 2 p.m. Saturday. Interment will be in Trent Valley cemetery, Hastings.

Mohawks Withdraw From American Loop

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Mohawks withdrew today from the American Hockey League and directors of the Cincinnati Garden said a team would be entered in the amateur International circuit next season.

Announcement of the withdrawal came from J. Thomas Grace, executive director of the Garden. The decision was reached by the Garden trustees following return of general manager Alex Sinclair from the A.H.L. meeting in New York.

As a member of the International League, Cincinnati will compete with teams from Milwaukee, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Grand Rapids, Mich., and Troy and Toledo, O.

Grace said the principal reason for withdrawal was the extensive travel necessary in playing out a schedule.

Other cities in the American League extend from the Atlantic seaboard as far west as St. Louis.

Grace said players who will represent Cincinnati next season in the International League probably would be drawn exclusively from Canadian amateur ranks. The Garden has amateur farm teams in Kitchener, Ont., and South Porcupine, Ont.

U.S. Destroyer Hit By Red Shore Guns

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy reported today that the destroyer-minesweeper Thompson was hit by Communist shore guns off the east coast of Korea yesterday. Four men were killed and 10 seriously wounded.

One shell, believed to have been of 105 mm. calibre struck the vessel's flying bridge, damaging the pilot house and navigating equipment.

The Thompson was hit earlier in the Korean war, on June 14, 1951, when three of her crew were killed and four wounded by Communist guns.

Birthday Party Ends In Fight, Man Jailed 3 Mos.

A birthday party that wound up in a brawl ended today with the sentencing of Arnold Lindsay to three months in jail for beating up his common-law wife Mrs. Dorothy White.

Lindsay was convicted Thursday of assaulting Mrs. White, occasioning her bodily harm the night of August 17 and was remanded by Magistrate R. B. Baxter until today for sentence.

Only the fact that Lindsay had no previous criminal record saved him from imposing lashes and a reformatory term, Magistrate Baxter said. "This woman received a terrible beating. Any man who resorts to that action is nothing more than a beast and deserves to be treated as such," the magistrate told Lindsay.

Lindsay was defended by James B. Lillico who asked for a fine instead of a jail sentence or suspended sentence in view of Lindsay's previous record and the fact that the beating occurred during a drinking party.

The magistrate accepted the evidence of Mrs. White who testified that Lindsay and her landlady, Mrs. Millie O'Brien beat her up in the room she and Lindsay had rented from Mrs. O'Brien at 411 Dobbin Ave.

DENIED ATTACK

Two sisters of Lindsay's who were in the house at the time and Mrs. O'Brien denied that Lindsay had struck Mrs. White. They said she fell downstairs and Mrs. O'Brien testifying under protection of the evidence act said she was the one who hit Mrs. White in the face several times. Mrs. O'Brien is also charged with assaulting Mrs. White, and Lindsay has charged Mrs. White with stealing dishes and articles they accumulated during the four years they lived together as man and wife.

Her face still swollen and marks on her face still visible, Mrs. White said it all began during a birthday party for Lindsay. There had been some drinking she said and when Lindsay began "making love to Millie O'Brien I went upstairs to pack."

She said both Lindsay and Mrs. O'Brien forced their way into the room she and Lindsay occupied and proceeded to strike her. Then she said Lindsay kicked her in the back when she was on the floor and "tore every stitch of clothing off me."

Then, Mrs. White said that after the beating, she went to a nearby house and called the police.

The charges against Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. White were adjourned by Magistrate Baxter on Thursday for one week.

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were mixed in slow early afternoon stock market trading today but western oils advanced more than a point on the exchange's index.

Industrials declined after a firm opening and golds and base metals wavered between small gains and losses. Western oils opened weak but quickly gained support.

Trading in most sections was confined to a few stocks but golds broadened early to cover a fairly wide list of stocks. Heavy trading in a number of mining issues that has marked early sessions this week did not materialize today. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,290,000 shares.

Leading western oil issues recovered after a weak opening and Canadian Atlantic, Central Leduc, Del Rio, Husky, Pacific Petroleum, and Sapphire advanced.

In the industrial list most sections were mixed but steels showed strength.

Kelore, a gold prospect, attracted interest with a turnover of more than 100,000 shares but recorded little change in price. Senior golds and junior producers were mixed while holding companies showed strength. Most price changes were small.

Some base metal issues advanced especially higher-priced stocks. Golden Manitou and Hudson Bay showed strength.

Such approval usually assures passage, but this time there was a general revolt against the idea of asking the government to kill off a political party.

Bernard Shane of Montreal, Canadian chief of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and one of Canada's top anti-Reds in labor, summarized the argument this way:

"It would be putting a terrible weapon in the hands of government to have it suppress a political party. Once you give a government that power, you don't know who they'll suppress next."

Without a recorded vote, the Congress overwhelmingly decided against the ban. Only a handful supported it.

OPPOSE RED UNIONS

The 537 delegates were equally strong on deciding earlier that the Congress should continue its decision against allowing Communist-dominated unions in the Congress or Communist individuals to become convention delegates.

The ban was slapped on two years ago, and yesterday its removal was sought by the left-wing Ocean Falls, B.C., local of the Pulp and Sulphite Workers' Union.

The Ocean Falls proposal was bludgeoned quickly by the Congress, nobody supporting it except three delegates from that paper-mill town.

Hospital Reports First Deficit In '52 Finances

For the first time this year, treasurer T. T. Rodger reported a deficit instead of a surplus on the month's operation of Civic Hospital to the board of governors' meeting Thursday night.

For the month of July, the hospital went $14,881.31 in the red, as compared with the substantial surpluses of previous months.

However the operating loss was expected, as both Mr. Rodger and hospital superintendent John Hornal have reminded the board repeatedly that a loss was likely to occur during the summer months.

"Revenue was down considerably in July as expected, and emphasizes a reduced volume of business during the month," said Mr. Rodger.

However, he added, that in regard to keeping expenditures within the budget estimates "we have not done so well. Some have increased fairly noticeably," he said.

Net patient revenue for the month was $50,009.96 after allowing $1,000.10, the usual allowance for doubtful accounts. Provincial and county grants, meals and lodging and miscellaneous revenue brought the total to $75,124.05.

Expenses, however, totalled $90,005.36.

STILL HAVE CREDIT

On the seven months of operation so far this year, the financial picture still remains bright, however, with a balance on the credit side.

Aevenue of $623,948.23, which is $47,646.76 above the budget estimate of $576,646.76.

The expenditures of $587,242.35 are $11,582.93 above the budget figure of $575,659.42.

When an additional grant was received from the province above the amount originally budgeted for the board decided to turn the amount back to the city during July, August and September.

After crediting the city with $23,249.16, the amount of the provincial grant, received to date, the operations for the first seven months, still show a surplus of $13,456.72.

Items of expense which are considerably over budget figures are: stationery and postage, more than $2,000, housekeping and cleaning, up $1,600, maintenance and repair, $712, and medical and surgical supplies $4,500.

However, Mr. Hornal pointed out that in some cases, particularly medical and surgical supplies, the figures indicated "a heavy volume of purchasing much of which is represented in inventory."

The total number of patients treated during July, including 20 in the communicable disease division was 705, 48 less than the 753 treated in June, but well above the 1951 monthly average of 690.

Two Cars Collide Man, 63, Shaken Up

A 63-year-old man was shaken up and received slight abrasions and bruises when two cars collided at the intersection of the sixth line of Dummer and the Cottesloe Road at 7:30 a.m. today.

The injured man, Thomas Bott of Norwood, was a passenger in a car travelling south on the sixth line driven by his son William Bott. He did not require medical attention.

The other car was driven by Russell Lesway of Kinburn and was going east.

An estimated $450 damage resulted to the two vehicles—three hundred dollars to the front end of the Lesway car and about $150 to the rear of the Bott car.

O.P.P. Constable George Louth investigated.

Structural Steel Finished At C.G.E.

Another structural steel job finished without accident is signalized in the wind these days by the flying of the Scottish Standard on the second of the new buildings at Canadian General Electric Company.

The red lion on the field of golden yellow was raised over the work the other day in the custom of Alex MacDonald, superintendent of Angus Robertson Company, contractors. It signifies nearly three months of erecting operations without mishap to any of the crew. Dominion Bridge Co. were sub-contractors on the skeleton of the new extension to the structural steel and punch press building.

A similarly satisfactory record was accomplished on the first of the two buildings at the corner of Monaghan Road and Wolfe St.

Use New Bomb?

LONDON (Reuters)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, claimed today that United States bombers used a new type of fragmentation bomb in a dusk-to-dawn raid on Pyongyang the night of Aug. 20-21. A broadcast heard here said casualties in the town and its surroundings were "very heavy."

Hold Secret Meeting In UK To Decide On Strike Issue

LONDON (Reuters)—Union representatives of 2,000,000 engineering workers today held a secret, second-stage meeting with a council of their employers to decide if workers will strike to back demands for wage increases of £2 a week.

The claim has already been rejected by the employers, but the unions, many of them engaged in rearmament work, decided last week to put their case again before taking alternative action.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions is handling the demands. It represents 38 unions and its executive is split into left-wing and moderate factions. Strike action has been called by the left element, led by the Communist-run electricians' union. Moderate executives are believed ready to consider a compromise offer.

Talks similar to today's will be held next Wednesday by representatives of 200,000 shipbuilding workers and their employers. A reply to 500,000 women workers in engineering trades, who also demand £2 a week more, is still awaited.

Even if demands are granted, the workers are likely to encounter opposition from the government, pledged to keep wages steady in an attempt to stave off inflation. Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton recently refused to approve raises for 1,500,000 distributors, though employers had agreed to grant them.

5 Soldiers Killed, Ottawa Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—The Army today issued its 129th casualty list of the Korean war, reporting five men killed in action, two wounded in action and two injured in action.

The last previous list was issued Aug. 20.

Eight are from the 1st battalion of the Royal 22nd regiment, including four of the dead.

The latest list brings to 951 the total casualties suffered by Canadian Army forces in Korea. This includes 173 dead, 702 wounded, 66 injured, nine missing and one prisoner of war.

The list:

KILLED IN ACTION

Beland, Marcel, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Rosaire Beland (father), Shawinigan Falls, Que.

Francoeur, Gaston, L. Cpl.; 1st battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Arthur Francoeur (father), Casselman, Ont.

Herman, Arthur Graham, Lieut.; 1st battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Mrs. Myrtle Graham Herman (mother), River Hebert, N.S.

Major, William Joseph, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Winnipeg; Joseph Major (father), Windsor, Ont.

Neufield, Leonard George, Tr.; B Squadron, Lord Strathcona Horse (Royal Canadians); Mrs. Susan Neufield (mother), Winnipeg.

WOUNDED IN ACTION

Laflamme, Joseph Andre, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Montreal; Mrs. Aline Laflamme (mother), Westmount, Que.

Moreau, Donald Joseph, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Edmund Moreau (brother), Saint John, N.B.

INJURED IN ACTION

Duval, Fernand Joseph, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Mrs. Yvette Payette (mother), Vankleek Hill, Ont.

Emond, Roger Armand, Pte.; 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment; Mrs. Bernadette Emond (mother), Montreal.

Smash Red Targets All Across Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations fighter-bombers today smashed Communist targets all across the Korean peninsula. United States sabre-jets damaged two Russian-built Mig-15 jets.

On the ground, Allied soldiers repulsed two light Red assaults.

Twelve B-26 bombers staged a daylight raid on a Communist supply area at Anak, on the Haeju peninsula near the 38th parallel in western Korea.

On the east coast, Allied planes demolished five large warehouse buildings near Wonsan, the Air Force said.

Fighter-bombers slashed at Red battle lines.

The Air Force said U.S. jets damaged two Russian-built Migs during the afternoon.

The new claims brought to 28 the number of Red jets damaged during August—in addition to 26 shot down and two others probably destroyed. Allied losses for the same period were not announced.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office at Toronto at 9:30 a.m.

Synopsis:

A large area of high atmospheric pressure centred near Fort William dominates the weather picture over Ontario today. A strong surge of cold air from the northwest has preceded this high pressure area. As it moves southeast over Lakes Superior and Huron clear chilly nights and pleasantly cool sunny days will prevail along its path.

Northern Ontario felt the full impact of this thrust of cold air last night and frost was a commonplace occurrence north of Lake Superior. Early this morning the temperature had dropped to five degrees below the freezing point at White River, and at Armstrong ice had formed on fence rails.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Saturday:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Niagara, Georgian Bay, Haliburton, Lake Ontario regions; Windsor, London, Hamilton, Toronto:

Sunny with a few cloudy intervals today. Clear and cold tonight. Sunny and a little warmer Saturday. Winds north 20 becoming light late this afternoon. Low tonight and high Saturday at Windsor, St. Thomas, Toronto and St. Catharines 45 and 75, Hamilton 42 and 75, London 40 and 75, Wingham 40 and 70, Trenton 45 and 70, Muskoka and Killaloe 40 and 70.

Summary for Saturday—Sunny and a little warmer.

Police Promise Action After Holdups

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal police acted yesterday to halt a series of bank hold-ups and robberies that have cost $28,000 since the start of the week.

Two noontime bank robberies were carried out while they ordered their counter-measures.

Two men entered a branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale at nearby Ste. Martine and made off with $5,000.

About the same time, a man in his 30s took $8,000 from a girl teller at a Montreal branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Montreal police announced they have increased their hold-up squad from 10 to 20 men.

CONSTABLES ASSIGNED

Hilaire Beuregard, deputy director of provincial police, announced that all traffic constables have been assigned to help crime squads track down robbers.

This week's robberies included three branches of the Banque Canadienne Nationale and one of a branch of the Royal Bank.

Police also reported a number of complaints from U.S. tourists of theft of luggage and other articles from their cars. Police and Quebec tourist officials said the tourists themselves are partly to blame for leaving parked cars crammed with luggage, cameras and other valuables.

Thursday's robbery at the Royal Bank was the second at the branch at Sherbrooke and Peel in in the last year.

The robber, wearing a sports jacket, handed a teller a $1 bill and asked for change. Then he passed her a cheque on which he had written:

"Give me $10,000. I am desperate—I have a gun in this bag."

He held a brief case close to his side and dipped his hand inside.

The teller handed him some cash while another employee set off the burglar alarm.

Police were too late to catch the man.

At Ste. Martine the two robbers forced the bank manager to wrap the bills in packages before they fled.

Have New Drug To Prevent Malaria Relapse

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a new anti-malaria drug to help prevent relapses caused by the disease was announced today.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports on the new compound known as primaquine.

The report covers studies conducted by teams of malaria experts working under sponsorship of the United States Army, and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Primaquine is a modification of pamaquine, termed the first successful synthetic antimalarial drug.

Prompting the investigations was the heavy rate of vivax infection — the type which produces relapses — found among United Nations troops in Korea.

Tests were conducted on Korean veterans with acute malaria attacks. A total of 709 patients was treated.

No relapses were found among 231 patients treated with a combination of primaquine and chloroquine daily for 14 days. One patient relapsed in a group of 246 similarly treated. While 64 of 232 cases given chloroquine alone relapsed at least once after treatment.

A NEW CATTLE BARN at the Exhibition Grounds, costing about $5,500, will be completed by exhibition time in September. It replaces the building razed during the late spring. Then it was rented by the Peterborough Canoe Company for storing boats until shipment. The new building will have a greater capacity than the former building. —(Examiner Staff Photo).

Train Hits Car 65 Injured

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—A high-speed electric Chicago-to-Milwaukee train hit a car and jumped the rails near here late yesterday. The motorist was killed and 65 train passengers were injured.

Hiram M. Bryant of Waukegan, Ill., Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee motorman, said his five-car commuter train was travelling at 75 miles an hour when it hit the car.

The train ripped up several hundred feet of tracks and knocked out the line's electric power in that section for three hours, temporarily stranding thousands of commuters.

The car driver was Episano Leal, 31, of Racine.

Ross — who delivers papers when not in school—or doing the family baking — won first prizes at the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa for his fruit and brown breads. He also took third prize with a white loaf in open class competitions. But he also enjoys bread and jam when he relaxes. What boy doesn't?

Denies Asking Church Favor

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill's office today denied that he had urged high Church of England authorities to permit his niece, Clarissa Churchill, to be married to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden at a religious ceremony.

"There was no question of the Prime Minister pressing the Archbishop of Canterbury to take any action not in accordance with the principles of the church," said John Colville, Churchill's private secretary.

The Church of England does not permit its service to be used for the marriage of divorced persons. Eden was divorced two years ago. He married Miss Churchill in a registry office last week.

Yesterday a small London weekly The Recorder, claimed that Churchill had asked the Archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, to permit a church wedding but was turned down.

Police End 24-Day Fast

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—A 24-day fast by a Bible Presbyterian Church minister atop a 7,000 foot mountain was ended — yesterday — but not by the higher authority he sought.

Rev. Robert Kutz, about 48, was taken from the mountain yesterday by deputy sheriffs who brought him in on a sanity warrant after concern was felt for his health.

He climbed to the top of Darland mountain, 45 miles west of here, late last month after parking his car in a high meadow. He would come down, he said, when told to do so by "a higher authority."

Since then, forest rangers attest, he has had no food. He slept nights in his car in the sub-freezing weather.

Mrs. Symon Harapulia, a tobacco picker, and her son, Elmer, were admitted to Tillsonburg district memorial hospital today suffering some form of poisoning not immediately diagnosed by doctors but but believed to be overdoses of sleeping tablets which police say were given by the mother.

Canadian Film Gets Top Place

LONDON (CP)—British critic Fred Majdalany today selected the Canadian entry "Neighbors" as the top film shown so far at the Edinburgh festival.

"Neighbors" is an eight-minute short subject involving an unusual technique, with animation superimposed on normal backgrounds. It was made by Norman McLaren of Ottawa, one of the top experimental artists of the National Film Board.

Majdalany, writing in the Daily Mail, calls it a "ferocious parable" of war and peace, using a mixture of cut-out figures and people "to compose a sermon that is brutal and terrifying and wears a freezing smile on its face."

Offers New Religion

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Dr. Julian Huxley, British biologist, in a keynote address yesterday to the first World Congress of Humanist and Ethical Culture, offered "revolutionary humanism" as a new world religion.

He said "the world is undoubtedly in need of a new religion" and "some sort of humanist religion could and should eventually arise."

Good Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The internal revenue bureau reports that it has collected almost $65,000,000,000 in taxes and social security contributions in the fiscal year ended June 30—more than it took in during any previous year. Tax collections were up $14,500,000,000 over the previous 12 months.

Food Market Work Begun

TORONTO (CP) — Immediate start on construction of a new Ontario food terminal market on a 45-acre site north of the Queen Elizabeth Way and west of the Humber River was announced yesterday by Works Minister Thomas.

The site is a few miles west of Toronto's western limits.

Mr. Thomas let the contract for the huge U-shaped building to a Toronto firm with completion estimated at two years. Agriculture Minister Kennedy estimated last spring the building would cost about $3,000,000.

Mrs. Gordon Fennell

NORWOOD (ENS) —The funeral of Mrs. Gordon Fennell which was held Wednesday afternoon from the residence of her father, Mr. William Pakenham, was largely attended. The Rev. H. K. Wright of Norwood United Church officiated, assisted by the Rev. William Fennell of Toronto. Burial was in Norwood cemetery.

Mrs. Fennell died Monday at Toronto General Hospital, following a brief illness. She was born in Norwood 33 years ago, the daughter of William Pakenham and the late Lillian Buck. She spent all her life in Norwood and district excepting the last six years which were spent in Mimico.

She leaves to mourn, her husband and one son, Billy, at home also her father, William Pakenham, and two brothers, Kenneth of Norwood and Willard of Peterborough.

Pall-bearers were: Earl Longard, Archie Brooks, Trevor Robb, Perrin Rork, Jack Stewart and Earl Hamblin.

Flower bearers: Alton Burguess, Stanley Flett, Dr. A. R. Atkinson, Allan McNab, John Hamblin, Keenie Edmunds, William Garden Jr., George Fennell, Charles Fennell, Gordon Pronger, Ronald Webster.

Friends and relatives attended from Brantford, Toronto, Mimico, Ridgetown, Lakefield, Port Hope, Peterborough and Hastings.

Newfoundland Aids Ontario, Supplies Cement

HAMILTON—At a point on the north shore of Burlington Bay where the French explorer La-Salle first stepped ashore in September, 1669, a new kind of history was written this week when the Newfoundland-Great Lakes Steamships' M/V "London" discharged the first shipload of Newfoundland cement in the heart of industrialized Ontario.

The cargo, consisting of 875 net tons (20,000 bags) of cement, was produced by the cement plant the Newfoundland government established at Cornerbrook, Nfld., and was consigned to various building contractors in the Hamilton area. It will be followed in two weeks by a larger shipment of 28,000 bags.

The London's cargo is the only Newfoundland cement cargo presently boked for Ontario buyers, but spokesmen for the shipping company said they expected later shipments for delivery in Hamilton and Toronto.

Kefauver Refuses Attorney-Generalship

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Chattanooga Times today quoted Senator Estes Kefauver as saying he had flatly refused a possible appointment as attorney-general of the United States.

Kefauver said he had discussed the possibility of his appointment with Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson and Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell and had let it be known that he was "not interested," says The Times.

Supervisors End South Wales Strike

CARDIFF (Reuters)—Supervisors and safety officials returned to South Wales coal mines today, ending a strike which at one time forced 24,000 miners to stop work.

The men have agreed to negotiate a settlement of their objection to new wage offers with the National Coal Board executive.

Four Translators Busy People As Pax Romana Congress Starts

TORONTO (CP)—Four translators got the first Pax Romana congress ever held in Canada off to an official start last night.

With delegates in attendance from more than 40 countries, the congress of Roman Catholics began a series of meetings which end in Quebec city Sept. 1. Business meetings are being held here, while a five-day seminar on the role of the university will be held in Montreal.

The translators were the busiest delegates last night. Congress officials had hoped simultaneous translation equipment such as the United Nations uses would be available but it didn't show up in time. As a result they fell back on consecutive translation.

THREE LANGUAGES USED

English, French and Spanish are the official languages of the meeting. Each translator repeated a speech in his own language after it was made.

Scene of the congress is St. St. Michael's College, which next month celebrates its centenary, one reason why the congress came to Canada.

In a speech of welcome, Bishop Pelletier of Three Rivers, Que., told delegates to put forward the virtues which will bring the peace so long awaited by the world.

The vital force of the movement must be the local group in each community of each country, said General Secretary Bernard Ducret of Fribourg, Switzerland. The work of Pax Romana consisted of achieving in the hearts of all federation members the triumph of catholicism which would unite them over the nationalism which separated them.

Building Costs Kept High

We remarked on Wednesday on the high minimum rentals to be charged for houses being built in Lindsay under the Federal-Provincial scheme for more low-priced housing. The cheapest house will rent for $60 a month—$72.50 when $12.50 is added to the monthly bill for maintenance. These are the rentals to be charged for houses whose capital costs are completely underwritten by governments, and construction heavily subsidized by them. If high rents must be charged in such circumstances, the reasons are high building costs and high municipal taxes. We shall discuss the tax question later; now we wish to ask a couple of questions about building costs.

* * *

The cheapest new Lindsay house, a five-room bungalow, will cost $8,000 to build. Another thousand will go into buying the land and providing services. A building cost of $8,0(for a small house is very high—although not out of the ordinary now, unfortunately. Why are these costs so high? Many of the reasons are obvious: high wage rates, high cost of materials, shorter working hours. Other reasons are old-fashioned construction methods, which do not take sufficient advantage of the new designs and methods available. (A house does not need, of course, walls a foot thick to be strong and insulated; an inch of some of the modern wallboards has the insulating value of twelve feet of brick or stone.) Old methods of construction; yes, and bricklayers featherbedding on the job, as required by union and trade standards. If a bricklayer today lays as many bricks an hour as his father used to do, he would be in danger of losing his union card. That is one reason that fewer brick houses are being built today, and fewer bricks used.

* * *

If we cannot blame bricklayers for high costs, must we blame other workers in house-building, the carpenters, plumbers, electricians, roofers and others? We have already mentioned high wage rates and short working hours. One matter which the authorities should investigate is the cost of lumber, a very important element in the high cost of new houses. Does a combine exist in the lumber business, out there on the West Coast? Do combines exist here in Ontario, which artificially keep prices high and restrain competition?

* * *

Let us bring this matter right home. It interests us greatly that lumber prices in Peterborough and district, even at outlying mills, have a curious uniformity. Why? Can this be due to some gentlemanly agreement not to compete in the matter of prices? It would be a very pleasant, neighbourly sort of attitude for firms to adopt: to live and let live, and nobody slash anybody else's throat, or prices. But if this results in artificially high lumber prices locally, then should we praise the attitude? We are mindful that other people than those who make and sell lumber have to live, too, and would like to have four walls and a roof which they can afford.

Mahomet Goes To The Mountain

This week has seen the beginning of a series of top-level talks that may prove to be of great importance to the whole world. State department officials say publicly that these talks are a routine matter and may not necessarily produce "startling results", but we cannot help feeling that they are inwardly deeply concerned and would like to know what is being discussed. We would not consider the visit of a strong delegation from Red China to Moscow headed by the Chinese Communist Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai as a "routine matter"; there is no doubt that big things are afoot. Russia and China together with the Communist satellites dominate by far the greater part of the vast Eurasian land mass and together wield tremendous power. They have the great advantage of interior lines; that is to say they can readily transfer their forces to any part of the circle of neutral or anti-Communist states that surrounds them. It must be noted that this includes the Arctic regions of North America, which have become more vulnerable in recent years as a result of new techniques in warfare.

The present talks are not concerned with the Arctic, which is an exclusively Russian affair. China has either come as a suppliant to Moscow or has been summoned there to discuss their relations with each other and towards other countries. In either case it is obvious who is the guiding hand. The talks are being carried on in secret, and doubtless some of the most important decisions will not be made public.

There are two main aspects of the topics that will be discussed. In the first place there are many outstanding questions in Sino-Russian relations to be regulated. The Manchurian trunk railways are to be turned back to China this year under the terms of the 1950 treaty, likewise the naval base of Port Arthur. There is little doubt that China will ask Russia for more military aid; this may be forthcoming in return for further concessions to Russia in Manchuria. Already under the terms of the 1950 treaty Russia retains the right to use Port Arthur in the event of war. This type of hard bargaining amongst allies is not confined to the Western world; the only difference is that the Communists keep quiet about it.

The second and equally important aspect of the talks is concerned with the concerting of foreign policy. Korea will be discussed, and a decision on whether to go all out for a truce will have to be made. A truce might actually be advantageous to the Communists in view of Syngman Rhee's intransigent attitude, which is causing the U.N. some embarrassment. Now that Japan has once again become a sovereign nation an attempt to detach her from the West by the offer of a superficially advantageous peace treaty is to be expected. Since the Americans are still the real masters of Japan there is little hope of this succeeding, but it would be a useful propaganda move.

Altogether we cannot dismiss these talks as nothing extraordinary. They bode no good.

It Still Goes On

There is a good deal of truth in what Major-General Cassels, Commander of the Commonwealth Division in Korea, says, that people at home are apt to think there is very little happening in the war. It is indeed hard to picture to ourselves the hardships of our troops. In blazing heat punctuated by torrential rains they are having what the General describes as "a tough time" at the front. Hardly a day passes without casualties, and though the rainy season does not permit extended military operations our troops must be continually on their guard.

Soldiers in Korea receiving magazines and newspapers from home and seeing very little about their doings are apt to be discouraged, thinking that they are fighting a "forgotten war." We would like to reassure them that this is not the case. Naturally we can only print the news that we get, and this is subject to military censorship. When activity at the front is limited to patrols and small-scale action we cannot make it sound bigger than it really is. Those of us (and there are many) who have fought in previous campaigns, can fill in the gaps in the story with recollections of the mud and dust, the boredom and excitement, the sudden death and the routine.

There is still one big difference between this campaign and others that makes it difficult for the soldier. In most other wars there has been a definite aim in mind—"unconditional surrender", "Hang the Kaiser", "Make the world safe for Democracy" and so on. Here the aim is cloudy and limited. The politicians do not seem quite agreed as to what the aims really are. The truce talks that started so optimistically have bogged down in a morass of technicalities and are continually coming up against hard rocks of disagreement. At the present there appears no foreseeable end to the war, and yet it cannot drag on indefinitely. Meanwhile our troops continue their rough and unspectacular assignment of obeying orders and resisting the enemy.

Diamond Jubilee Of Phonograph

Seventy-five years ago this month Thomas A. Edison shouted the lines of "Mary had a little lamb" at a slowly revolving cylinder wrapped in tinfoil. He had invented the talking machine. From these crude beginnings the modern phonograph evolved.

What a pity the invention had to wait till 1877; we might have been able to listen spellbound to the oratory of Demosthenes, Cicero and Burke, the playing of Chopin or Paganini, the singing of Jenny Lind, the voice of the great leaders of history, or eyewitness accounts of the landing of the Mayflower. We could hear Shakespeare give readings from his works or Garrick in excerpts from his most famous roles. We might even know the song the Sirens sang, though with our slight knowledge of ancient Greek music we can be fairly certain that its entertainment value would be rated very low today.

Why were you born so late, Mr. Edison?

NOTES AND COMMENT

Every tear, says a scientist destroys thousands of bacteria. Well, there are a few things to cry about nowadays.

"What the world needs is a substitute for war," asserts an editor. Well, peace has been tried, but somehow it doesn't seem to fill the bill.

"Mrs. Roosevelt seems to be ageless," says a woman columnist. It could be that she gets around so quickly that the years can't catch up with her.

SOVIET NAVY DAY

Not A Ship Was Seen

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

THERE ARE TIMES when the Kremlin's mania for secrecy is carried to absurdity. One of them is Navy Day, which was celebrated with great pomp and solemnity in the Soviet Union last week. Stalin is evidently very determined that the Soviet people shall become navy-minded and proud of their seafaring traditions. Through his propagandists he tells them that they are a historic maritime power, that they have a sea coast of 40,000 kilometres (25,000 miles) to defend, that Russians invented the first submarine, the first battleships, destroyers and cruisers, the first steamship and the first motor-ship.

But with all this he cannot bring himself to show them a single modern war-ship—unless we count the small river flotilla vessels—or even a photograph of one. And in all the speeches on Navy Day by politicians and the senior admirals, not one single vessel of the Fleet was named.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT MUST BE HARD for the Soviet navy to whip up popular enthusiasm for a service which has nothing to show for its existence, above all in a country in which the vast majority of people have never seen the sea and never will. It is not because the Soviet navy has no ships. It is simply because the Politburo cannot bring itself to tell the people of Russia, and therefore the world, even the first thing about what ships its possesses. We know that Russia has two battleships in commission, if they are not finished already. We know that the Soviet ship-yards have been busy building the most modern type of submarine; but we do not know how many. We know that during the war the Soviet navy had locked up in the Baltic and the Black Sea a number of warships of varying class and antiquity.

UP IN THE ARCTIC OCEAN and the White Sea I myself have seen Soviet submarines and elegant, fast, top-heavy destroyers with a very Italianate look. But the Soviet people have not seen even these. Not for them the news-reels in the cinemas showing the battle-fleet steaming line ahead through heavy seas, a sight to stir the pulse and make one proud.

The Soviet Government wants to make the Russians proud of their navy; but all it can do is feed them with speeches on Navy Day and tall stories about the Russian navy's past—forgetting that Peter the Great, the founder of the Russian navy, learnt the rudiments of shipbuilding in the dockyards of Rotterdam and London; forgetting that when the Russian navy of Catherine the Great steamed down the English Channel in 1766 on its way to defeat the Turks, it was under the command of the Scottish Admiral Grieg. As far as the Russian public can tell, the admirals who appear before it on Navy Day are sailors without a fleet.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEY ARE NOT, of course. The Soviet navy does exist. And it has some very fine officers. They are easier to talk to than any Soviet soldier, perhaps because, in spite of the intermittent publicity of Navy Day, in spite of the real effort to build up the Soviet Fleet, they are still, compared with the Army, an extremely neglected service.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE RED ARMY, with its immense weight of numbers, its first priorities in everything, befitting the army of a great Continental Power, is hardly aware of the navy and does not take it seriously. The navy, on the other hand, looks down on the army and sees itself as a race apart. And the attractiveness of so many Soviet naval officers, apart from the fact that the sea always seems to attract good men, is almost certainly largely due to their neglect by Moscow: which means that those who go into it are less closely supervised by the politicians than their brothers in the army. This state of affairs appeals to the independent-minded. And thus the Soviet navy has a good deal more than its fair share of good men, in spite of its subordinate role.

✧ ✧ ✧

JUST LATELY the Western world has been frightening itself with visions of serried ranks of Soviet submarines, all of course fitted with Schnorkels (breathing-tubes which enable submarines to remain submerged for long periods.) I have seen it stated categorically that the Soviet navy has between three hundred and five hundred of these all ready for action. This kind of story is plain foolishness. There is no doubt that the Russians have more submarines than during the last war. But the training and maintenance involved in an immense submarine fleet is quite beyond the resources of the country's technically educated manpower. During the last war the Russians, who, whatever the length of their coastline, are not a sea-faring race, showed very little dash and enterprise in the employment of what submarines they had.

In the event of another war, the Soviet navy will play its part; and it will be a bigger part than in the last war. But the stress laid in the recent speeches on the static role of the navy between 1941 and 1945 suggests that the Soviet High Command, including the admirals themselves, are still thinking in terms of close support for the army.

In the last war, the navy's main task was to cover the extreme flanks of the army, as they rested on the Baltic and the Black Sea, and to mount some sort of guard over the vulnerable ports. As the army advanced, the navy kept pace with it, sometimes assisting in an amphibious operation a little way behind the German lines; often sending sailors ashore to fight like infantry, as in the Crimea; often helping the artillery to pound enemy strong points to pieces.

But in all this, the navy was secondary to the army, acting as a kind of sea-borne artillery. And so it is likely to remain.

An American Opinion: "WHERE'S EVERYBODY?"

Loss Of Time Due To Strikes

(WINDSOR STAR)

WHEN STRIKES OCCUR, especially if in major industries and involving thousands of workers, they naturally make news. They have a heavy impact on the companies and employees concerned and, if they are in strategic industries and last long, on the economy of the nation.

It easily is possible, however, to get a distorted perspective of strikes and their importance. It is well to keep in mind that, year in and year out, they involve directly only a small percentage of workers and only a small percentage of working time. In Canada in 1951, for example, time lost through strikes was about one-tenth of one per cent of the working time of the entire working force. And that has been the average over a four-year period.

There also is a popular misconception that strikers always win their point. That is not so, as recognized perhaps most keenly by responsible labour leaders. That is why such leaders try to keep strikes at a minimum, and as a last resort. In Canada in 1951, only 22 percent were settled in favor of the strikers, and 35 percent in favor of employers. In the largest category, 34 percent, settlements were a compromise, while in a few the results were indecisive.

These figures prove, in the main, that employers and employees honestly try to compose their difference without work stoppages. And also, that where such an attitude prevails, it usually succeeds.

You Lucky People

(Montreal Star)

Toronto has outdone us again. Her cost of living index for the month of June stayed put: Montreal's climbed almost one full point. Although we hate to, we might as well give the devil his due. We are just plain jealous. Not only can the Torontonian move around on the surface cheaper than we poor Montrealers, but soon he'll be wending his cheerful way along subterranean tracks. There's something cockeyed somewhere.

We have, of course, two courses of action open: either grin and bear our misfortune, or move to Toronto. We wonder if the latter would really be worth it.

CRIME

Said the fortune-teller, shaking her head: "I'm sorry to tell you that you'll be a widow soon. Your husband is going to die a violent death."

"Will I be acquitted?" asked her client eagerly.

How Time Flies

Letters To The Editor

ENOUGH LICENCE FOR HELL

Sir: So tractors and trailers on highways are a menace? And you would like further to add to expense of farming by licence, just for a few days of hauling during harvest—cheating some truck driver or middle man of his gouges. No mention of thankfulness for a harvest, created by God and man for man.

As for the accident hazard—why worry? Most of farm risks and accidents are in the field, not road: and most rather all of highway are in broad view; anyway are not cities geared for death, sending war supplies to Britain and not food?

Of course you will not print this—you or any newspaperman print few letters from farms but will print any criticizing farms or farmers. Anyway we have enough licence for hell now—we need none for heaven.

E. L. S.

MARKET NOT AS GOOD

Sir: It really makes me laugh to read in your paper that the present outdoor market is as good or better than the old market square. I just wish whoever writes that would call around at our stands any Saturday and ask for an honest to goodness farmer's opinion.

Mine, yes, we don't do half as much as the old market. Reason sure. It's the older, retired farmers that appreciate the fresh produce we have. They are not able to carry their wants. The younger ones figure they get bargains in the big stores. Bargains but not fresh picked produce. There are some who attend the market as vendors who wish it was run a little more fairly. These ones who come once or twice a year and just walk on and take our regular places. The old market we were in one place one year after another. Our customers knew where we would be. Now if we're not there by seven o'clock the regulars are apt to be down with the pigs. Last week there wasn't tables.

The city of Peterborough might think they could get along without us farmers but I for one know how far they'd get. Come on, farmers, let's all band together and get what's coming to us.

A REGULAR VENDOR.

Order Wealthy In Iran Pay Back Taxes

TEHRAN (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh launched his new soak-the-rich program yesterday by ordering the country's wealthy class to pay up back taxes they have traditionally ignored.

The premier's Economic Council also proposed that Mossadegh, using the virtual dictator's powers granted him by Parliament, set up a new graduated tax on all land holdings, the majority of which are owned by a handful of rich Iranians.

The new decrees emphasized Mossadegh's oft-repeated intention to dig into the well-lined pockets of the landed gentry—of which he himself is a member—to solve growing economic ills.

Economic experts have said if taxes on the income from land holdings and other interests were collected regularly, the country could get along nicely on that revenue alone.

Deering Makes Comeback Against Odds

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In 1941, radio actor John Deering was in the middle of a Hollywood program when he collapsed.

Thus began a remarkable story, one which finally appears to be having a happy ending. But Deering's life would have ended tragically, except for his courageous sister, Mrs. Betty Pruitt.

It took three days to diagnose the actor's trouble as a brain haemorrhage. The pressure in his head during those three days had done its damage. He was not expected to live.

He clung stubbornly to life and began to recover but couldn't speak.

CARED FOR BY FUND

A helpless figure, he was cared for during the first two years by the Motion Picture Relief Fund. After expending $11,000, the fund had to give up the case. Deering's sister took him into her home.

For eight years Deering did little more than exist. His sister never gave up hope.

One day she faced a $60 nurse's bill and had no funds to pay it. She whipped up some of her own special salad dressing and sold it to neighbors. She began merchandising the dressing to grocery stores, and earned the money to keep her family together.

Eight months ago, a doctor advised her: "Your brother has grown to rely on you too much. You must try a shock treatment; turn him out of the house."

She did and the treatment seemed to work. After wandering around Hollywood for a few weeks, Deering got a job as doorman at a radio theatre. Two months ago the theatre shut down for the summer and Deering despaired for his future. But then nice things started to happen.

GETS BIT PART

Director Richard Whorf heard about Deering and gave him a bit part on the "My Friend Irma" television show. Allen Rich, radio-TV editor of the Valley Times, did a column on the actor. Soon the actor had jobs on "Dragnet," "China Smith," "Big Town" and Hopalong Cassidy films.

Deering, who can now get out a few hesitating sentences, at 46 is earning his own living for the first time in 11 years. A vocal teacher named Poul Thomsen has become interested in him and says Deering can be taught to speak perfectly within six months.

THE WESTERN POWERS are setting up two important new bases in Turkey and Greece. As shown on Newsmap, they will anchor defences of the northeastern Mediterranean region fronting on Russia. Izmir, Turkey, better known as Smyrna, will be the headquarters for the new Southeastern Europe Command. Salonika, main city of northern Greece, will become interim air headquarters for the eastern Mediterranean approaches. The two new bases bracket the strategic Dardanelles.

Ripe Fruit Shipped West Under New Package System

REGINA.—A delicacy seldom enjoyed by prairie people is tree-ripened fruit. This is because most fruit must be picked green in order to arrive here fresh.

A carload of tree-ripened peaches arrived in Regina this week as a result of a new packing system developed by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Thanks to research carried out by Dr. L. Truscott, director of the Horticultural Products Laboratory at Vineland Station, Ont., prairie people will likely soon be able to buy a variety of tree-ripened fruits.

The shipment was a practical test of the new packaging and shipping system. The fruit was cooled to 40 degrees for 24 hours and loaded into refrigerator car. W. B. Fox, a fieldman for the Ontario Agriculture Department, in Regina to observe the condition of the fruit, reported that it arrived in excellent condition. Seven peaches in the carload were bruised.

Unveil New Scrap Press

MONTREAL (CP)—A huge hydraulic press for scrap steel was unveiled yesterday by Loudee Steel Corporation when an automobile, with tires, glass and upholstery removed, was compressed into a bundle less than 24 inches square in 55 seconds. The press, weighing 300 tons, converts light sheet steel scrap into small bundles for open hearth furnaces which use 50 per cent scrap and an equal amount of pig iron to produce steel.

Dogs Protect Cougars

PORT ALBERNIA, B.C. (CP)—Ace cougar hunter Harry (Wildcat) Brown's hounds have strange friends—five cougar kittens. The 10 hounds have shown a protective attitude toward the playful kittens, captured after the dogs had treed two mother cats for the kill. The young cougars for some weeks were nourished by Dot, a three-year-old hound.

English Woman Ordered Home

OTTAWA (CP)—Margaret Finkstein, 30, of Manchester, Eng., who came to Canada in 1950 but was classed as an "undesirable" by immigration authorities and ordered to leave, has sailed from Canada.

It was learned that she sailed for England from Montreal Aug. 7.

Miss Finkelstein came to Canada to work in the home of C. L. S. Cope when he was secretary to the United Kingdom High Commissioner here. After he returned to England she took over domestic jobs in various Ottawa homes and as a waitress.

Immigration authorities declined to say why she had been ordered back to England but she was alleged to have pro-leftist leanings.

Elect Bengough To 11th Term

WINNIPEG (CP)—Percy Bengough, 68-year-old machinist, yesterday was elected to his 11th term as president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The Congress named its delegates to the American Federation of Labor and the British Trades Union Congress conventions.

J. B. Graham, Winnipeg painter, was designated for the A.F.L. job, while the T.L.C. will be represented before the British labor body by S. A. Stevens of Thorold, Ont., vice-president of the pulp and sulphite workers union.

Epidemic Unchecked

EDMONTON (CP)—Twenty-nine new cases of poliomyelitis were reported yesterday in Western Canada, boosting the four-province total to 838. Ten cases were reported in Manitoba, 12 in Alberta, and seven in British Columbia. Two more deaths have raised the number of fatalities to 50.

To Photograph Pakistan

TORONTO (CP)—Douglas Kendall, vice-president of Photographic Survey Corp., said yesterday the Toronto firm has been awarded a $2,000,000 contract to compile a complete resources inventory of Pakistan under the Colombo plan. The four-year survey is intended to give Pakistan a sound basis for mineral and industrial development.

Boy Drowned In Rideau

OTTAWA (CP) — Paul Emile Hunter, 10, of nearby Cyrville, was drowned here last night after diving into the Rideau River from a railway bridge.

Priest Denies Any Intimidation

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP)—Rev. Georges Beland, a Roman Catholic priest charged with intimidating a preacher of the Jehovah's Witness sect, yesterday denied threatening violence and said he was trying to keep peace in the tiny lumbering village of Val Senneville, 10 miles from here.

Father Beland, a tall, stout, former miner, said he asked Max Danleyko, 23, and his followers to leave the settlement May 22 last because his parishioners were "nervous and excited" and he feared trouble if they remained.

Danleyko testified Wednesday before Magistrate Felix Allard that he had been threatened and abused. He said he had been going from house to house in the settlement when he was accosted by Father Beland who, he said, threatened that if he did not leave "I will have you killed by the mob."

Magistrate Allard said he will give judgment on Sept. 23 or soon after that date.

Need 30,000 People As Ground Observers

ST. HUBERT, Que. (CP)—The RCAF hopes to recruit more than 30,000 Ontario residents to act as voluntary members of the newly-formed Ground Observer Corps, Air Defence Command announced yesterday.

The spotters will scan the skies for potential enemy aircraft at Brockville, London, Barrie and North Bay. Commanding officer of the corps in Ontario is Sqdn. Ldr. C. E. Harris, with headquarters at North Bay.

Union Rejects Demand For Investigation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Delegates to the International Typographical Union convention yesterday beat down a demand 384 to 53 for an investigation into Unitypo, Inc., the union's newspaper publishing program.

Their action means that Unitypo, Inc., will carry on and probably expand its program of setting up and supporting rival newspapers in "monopoly" newspaper towns or in cities where newspapers are strikebound.

The I.T.U.'s minority political party, the National Independents, had introduced a resolution seeking a full accounting of the Unitypo program.

Martin's Sister Says Brother Not Involved

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Nicholas Steigerwald said yesterday in a statement her brother, Health Minister Martin, had nothing to do with her business activities, which have been reported to include helping Canadians emigrate to the United States.

The Windsor Daily Star said in a newspage story Monday a Detroit resident told of paying $75 to Mrs. Steigerwald for a false bank statement in connection with his application for a United States visa.

BEAR-BACK RIDER —Riding this bear piggy-back is fun for nine-year-old Joan Hollidge of London who is not afraid of bruin. The reason: He's just a stuffed bear decorating Alum Bay on the Isle of Wight, England.

Petes Beat The Monarchs In Tight Kingston Tilt To Practically Clinch Top

Loose fielding and lack of punch in the pinches were the vital factors in the 5 to 3 defeat which the Monarchs sustained at the hands of the Peterborough Petes in last night's Central Ontario Baseball League game in Megaffin Memorial Stadium. The result made it certain that the liftlockers can not be dislodged from first place and that the K's will have to win their last four games of the season if they hope to get out of the cellar before playoff time. In contrast to the previous evening's attendance of over 3,000 fans in Peterborough, the visitors collaborated with the Monarchs in supplying entertainment for a sparse crowd.

Both starting pitchers, Phil Clancy and Tommy Ryder, went the route with the southpaw allowing only half a dozen hits while the Monarchs racked up nine. Better support—the Petes made only one error while five were charged against the Monarchs—and Clancy's effectiveness when in danger were payoff factors. In earned runs it was an even break, each team getting two.

DIDN'T MAKE IT

Monarchs, who racked up two markers in the seventh inning in concluding scoring activities for the night, loaded the sacks with three consecutive singles in the eighth and then failed to capitalize on their chances. Lorne Ferguson, Joe Levandoski and Babe Stinson all hit safely in succession but Eric Bradley went down swinging and Clark Carnegie hit into a double play.

The Petes struck quickly for their first run when, in the opening inning, Joe Lowrey walked, advanced on two infield outs and scored when Al Menzies singled. In the fifth they widened their lead to three via the presentation system, Don Pagett got a life on a misplay and reached second when Jack White erred on Clancy's fielder's choice. Lowrey sacrificed and Edger popped out to McCormick who made a wild throw, enabling Pagett to tally. Then Clancy, who had advanced to third, raced home on a wild pitch.

PHIL BORE DOWN

Levandoski in the bottom of the fifth doubled to centre. Stinson strolled and was forced by Bradley as Levandoski sped to third, Carnegie was safe and Levandoski tallied on an error. Clancy then struck out Ryder, and McCormick was retired at first.

Menzies led off the sixth with a double. Stewart missed a third strike, Arnie Dugan singled to left scoring Menzies, Bryan Young reached the runway on White's error. Pagett walked, loading the sacks, Clancy fanned but Lowrey walked, forcing in Dugan.

Bradley singled to centre in launching a seventh inning attack that netted a pair of Kingston runs. Carnegie flied out and Ryder fanned, but McCormick doubled and Stan Scrutton did likewise, driving in Bradley and McCormick. White, who had previously driven several balls into right field foul territory and who had pounded one over the fence, hit a towering fly into centre field to end it.

JOE GETS 'EM — Roaming fast, far and wide in centre garden at Kingston's Megaffin Stadium last night, Joe Lowrey (above) turned in a stellar defensive game for the Petes as they beat the Monarchs 5-3 to just about clinch first place in the C.O.B.L. Phil Clancy was the winning pitcher.

Seabrooke's Tie Up Series As U.E. Ousts Revoy's In Men's Softball League

Seabrooke Motors broke forth in unbridled fury to smite Lakefield Merchants 20-1 Thursday night at the East City Bowl, to even up their best-of-five semi-final men's softball series at one game apiece after dropping the opener Tuesday, by a 9-7 count. The series continues Saturday evening. U.E.W. took the nightcap of the twin playoff set, to qualify for the city finals by eliminating Revoy Motors in straight games; the third by an 8-1 score. A fine crowd viewed both contests which, though one-sided, provided thrills of every description with humorous incidents, as well.

FIVE-HITTER—Howie Dalton hurled five-hit ball at the Bowl on Thursday night as his side, U.E.W., defeated Revoy's 8-1 to erase the latter and move into City Softball League finals.

Manager Red Sullivan pulled slim Lefty Doris from the deck to start this important game for Seabrooke's, and the smart southpaw never faltered in a swell effort, as he twirled with effortless grace, limiting Merchants to eight hits; one a double by Cam Wasson. He struck out two and issued but one free ticket. Meanwhile, his mates nicked the combined slants of "Long John" Hinton and Kevin Heffernan for 16 hits, including doubles by Speed Curry and Russ Scriver, triples by Curry and Skeeter O'Heron and a long homer by Red Sullivan (his eighth of the season) to net a score of markers in a wild slug fest. In fairness, it may be said Lakefield's intermediate C playoffs have overworked and depleted the reserve of Merchants power — especially pitching, but the Merhants plot revenge Saturday.

STARTED EARLY

Seabrooke's started the parade with a three-run blast in the third, scored in each inning thereafter with a big sixth inning for seven runs. Merchants tallied in the third when Cam Wasson's single scored John Lickley. On a percentagte basis, Bob Wyatt with four for six, Speed Curry and Doris with three for five apiece, led the hitters for the winners. The first and second named drove home three and scored two and three respectively. Scriver, Sullivan and Spencer drove home a pair apiece and scored one, three and two runs respectively to lead. Curry sparkled afield with Cupoli, Thompson, Red Wasson and Wyatt good as well.

HOWIE GOOD

In the nightcap, Buck Legrow called on his ace trouble shooter, Howie Dalton to put U.E.W. over the first hurdle of city playoffs; and the modest, mechanical man rallied to the call to hurl one of his more effective games against a gallant foe. Revoy's fought hard to the finish and never quit trying, despite hard odds. Bert Fife pitched a fine game for the losers; but the shop boys displayed the extra power to roll to victory. A four-run splurge in the ninth capped off U.E.'s attack, though Revoy's held up well to that inning.

Dalton scattered five singles, fanned six and passed but one. Fife gave up nine bingles, one a double by Leether, whiffed three and issued five tickets. Dalton twirled hitless ball for the final five and only Mackness reached first, on a walk. Leading the attack over the route for Buck Legrow's men were Jake Wade, with two hits for three tries and one RBI; Len Williams, two for four, and reliable, heavy-hitting Jackie White with two for five and three runs-batted-in. White was "the man" in the early stages. For Revoy's, in a lean recession Cowie, Nelson, Whalen, Woods and Mackness hit safely, the last driving in the lone Revoy tally. Fielding thrills were supplied by Leether in a great show of nine sparkling assists; Perc Elmhirst, Bill Wood, Doug Whalen and Dave Hayes; while White's great catch off Doug Whalen in the ninth, was a dilly.

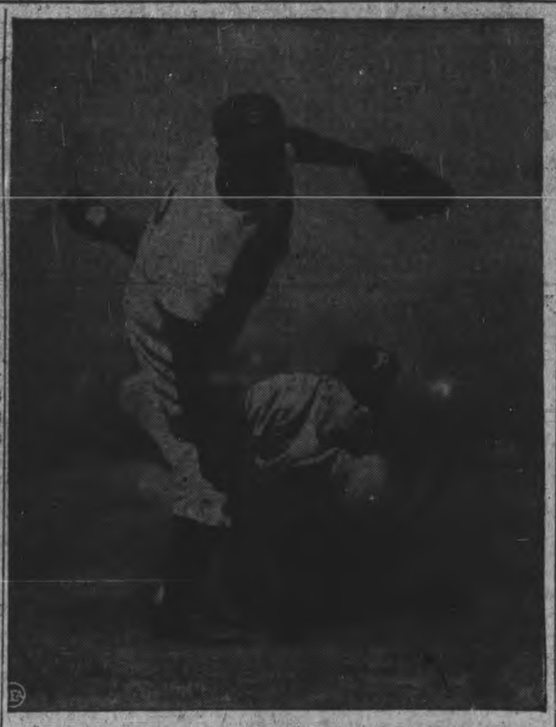
FILLY WINS GIMCRACK



YORK, England (AP)—Jack S. Gerber's two-year-old filly, Bebe Grande, led all the way to win the six-furlong Gimcrack Stakes yesterday, one of the classic races for two-year-olds. Bebe Grande, a 7-to-2 shot, whipped the Maharanee of Baroda's hitherto unbeaten colt Whistler by 1½ lengths. The race is named after Gimcrack, a racehorse foaled in 1760 which stood only 56 inches high but which won 27 of 37 races and in France in 1776 covered 22½ miles in one hour.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Coach Tony Kotowski is stepping up the tempo of training at Orfuns' grid drills these evenings in Morrow Park. Schedule opens in a few more weeks and the gruelling grind in this game calls for top conditioning. Not given to popping off, the Mississippi State College grad appears satisfied so far with his material, though there's always room for another ace or two. A number of last year's intermediate "A" footballers are out again trying for spots, as well as some good high school graduates, and several experienced newcomers. Orillia rugbyists, with the team out of action this year, have been coming down and some should catch on. Wally Farr will have a list of the better prospects for us shortly.

Little is known yet of the Kingston military entry in our O.R.F.U. grouping, but they have a hefty territory and no doubt plenty of husky material. Art West is high on Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts, a club which goes in heavily for imports. Bruce Richardson of Argos and Calgary Stampeders should be a potent threat to rivals, and an Oshawa report is that the Ghosts have Cec. Armstrong of the Raiders, provided they can get his release. Frank Stukus is busy drilling the Red Raiders, who have a number of ace newcomers on deck, also. Alex Kihiniski, who worked out with Alouettes this summer, is sort of assistant coach to Stuke.

Just One Step Away

Local lacrossers can clinch the senior O.L.A. title again this year tomorrow (Saturday) night here by beating the Hamilton Tigers. After that, they have a postponed game listed for Miller Bowl with Fergus Thistles early next week. As it may affect the standing for other squads, this tilt will probably be played, regardless of the outcome of the Hamilton-Petes' joust. Should the Thorpe team take the Ontario crown, they will go against the sixth-place squad in Eastern Canada playdowns and that shouldn't be a tough assignment. Then, they could take a bye into the finals and, if they win that, go into Mann Cup playoffs once more. While they feel confident, they will not pose for a group photo till it's all over. It might be a jinx, y'know.

* * * * * *

Provided Ray Pammett, as O.B.A. convener here, can get the provincial body's okay on it, Doug Loucks will line up any day now on the Petes' pitching staff in the C.O.B.L. It should be a mere formality, since the O.B.A. allows a replacement for a military call-up, position for position. Phil Clancy of the Petes' pitching crew is heading back this weekend for the States, having received his military call. Loucks is a Peterborough chap who has been pitching for Lindsay in the Lakeshore Loop, but that team was recently ousted by Bowmanville. The Petes have applied for Loucks as Clancy's replacement, and the C.O.B.L. has okayed it. He may be ready to pitch for the Stewart squad at seven p.m. here tomorrow 'gainst Kingston.

Petes Keep A-Rollin'

Downing the Monarchs 5-3 in Kingston last p.m., the Petes just about clinched top spot in the C.O.B.L. They have 13 wins and nine defeats now with but two more tilts to play, K's coming here tomorrow night. Belleville is next with 11 wins and 11 reverses, and can only tie the Stewart crew for first place by winning their remaining two games, provided the locals lose their last two. Kingston has eight and 12. Phil Clancy pitched excellent ball for the winners last night, bearing down well in the clutches, and getting first-class support. Joe Lowrey shone in centre for his side. Tommy Ryder also pitched a dandy duel for the losers. Al Menzies and Joe Stewart led the Peterborough pack at bat with two bingles apiece, Arn Dugan and Bryon Young getting the others.

Lefty Doris and his hitting Seabrooke mates took a 20-1 triumph o'er Lakefield Merchants at the Bowl last gloaming to even their best-of-five men's semi-final series at a game each, and they resume here Saturday eve. Hinton and Heffernan were hit hard by the likes of Bob Wyatt, Speedy Curry, Doris, Red Sullivan with another homer, and some others from over Brooklyn way, Lakefield has been busy in "C" playdowns and take on Brooklin—a different type of Flatbush this time—here tonight in a return game at the Bowl. U. E. erased Revoy's 8-1 in the third straight to move into city finals. Howie Dalton chucked a five-hitter in rare form but 'twas a tidy tilt till the Legrow lads broke through for four in the ninth. Jake Wade, Len Williams and Jack White led the stickers.

BREAKS 18 RECORDS

WENDOVER, Utah (AP)—Lt.-Col. A. T. Gardner, 61, British racing driver, ended his speed trials yesterday with 18 records for light cars in his pocket. Thundering along the Bonneville salt flats in his M-G midget special yesterday, Gardner hit 202.96 miles an hour during the mile run. He is the only person ever to top 200 miles an hour in light car classes, E and F.

Kawartha Gets Semi-Final From Quakers

Kawartha won 4 matches to 3 over Quaker on the latter's courts in Kawartha Tennis League semi-finals this week. Kawartha now plays the winner of the other semi-final bracket, Port Hope vs. Bowmanville, for the league title.

M. Charlton of Kawartha took the ladies' singles over Mary Conlin 6-0 and 6-0, while Doug McPherson of Quakers won men's singles from Roy Lindberg 6-0, 6-1. Men's doubles went to Quaker with Ralph Charlton and Al Conlin downing F. Rankine and T. Clark by scores of 6-2 and 6-3 in the first part; as W. Elmsley and Ron Lye of Kawartha turned back Bun Kingdon and Rocky Kidd 6-0, 6-3 in the other series.

In ladies' doubles, Verna Rose and J. Malcolm of Quakers won against F. Boyer and Kay Messervey 6-0, 6-0. Mixed doubles were swept by Kawartha players, Rose Fletcher and Ted Mercer turning back A. Langhorne and Ann Graham 6-3 and 6-2, while Joan Lye and John Fletcher won from Roy Johnston and Joy Elmsley 7-5 and 6-3.

Selkirk Trophy Captured By Wall's Rink

"It was the whole-hearted cooperation of all club members, that made this tournament a success," so spoke president J. R. Fitzpatrick in presenting the prizes at the annual Selkirk Trophy tournament held Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings on the local greens.

So popular has this event become that 130 members entered the tournament. To Ernie Wall's rink goes the honor of winning first place and the trophy. Fred Martin's rink second, A Black third, and R. F. Downey's rink was fourth three-game winners.

The committee of F. Martin, C. Mowry and W. Jones did a fine job. They kept things on the move all the time.

OTHER NOTES

At Port Hope on Wednesday Mrs. S. Shields, Mrs. H. Helson and Mrs. R. Dyer came in for high single game winners.

And to-night be out to the greens by 7:30 o'clock and bring as many of your friends as you wish.

WINNERS

First and Selkirk Trophy: A. Gardner, A. Hutchinson, F. Mowry and E. Wall, skip.

Second: W. R. Weese, J. Bruce, E. Martin and F. Martin, skip.

EIGHTH HOMER—Red Sullivan smacked out his eighth homer of the men's softball season last night at the Bowl to help Seabrooke's beat Lakefield 20-1, thereby evening their semi-final series at a win each.

YANKS DUST OFF ANOTHER ONE — Phil Rizzuto steals into second in a cloud of dust at Fenway Park, Boston, as the Yanks got off to a good start in "pressure" game against the Red Sox. Boston catcher Sammy White's throw to Johnny Lipon, shortstop, wasn't quick enough to pick off the Scooter. Yanks won, 4-2.

St. Catharines Rubs Out Junior Queens In Series

ST. CATHARINES (Special)—Peterborough Filter Queens faded from the Ontario Lacrosse Association junior "A" playoff picture here last night, dropping a 22-9 decision to the St. Catharines Athletics. The win for the garden city team gave them the semi-final round in three straight games and they now meet the winner of Brampton and Mimico for the Ontario championship.

The game was not as one-sided as the score indicates. The shorthanded Peterborough team, playing with but three alternates, held a 3-2 lead in the first quarter and only trailed by a single goal at 6-5 in the second. But for the great goal-tending of St. Catharines' Justin Howes, Petes might have held a healthy margin at that point.

SHY ON SUBS

Lack of substitutes took its toll on the Filter Queens in the last half and the relatively fresh Athletics ran the score to 16-7 at the end of the third and scored six unanswered goals in the final 15 minutes. Burly Bill Allan paced the Athletics to their victory with five goals while Les Howard and Jim Bradshaw had three apiece and John Howard scored a pair and assisted on five others.

Carl Brioux, an outstanding player throughout the series, topped Peterborough with three goals while Doug Powell had two and singles went to Bob Batley and Bev Groves. The game was rugged throughout but no major brawls developed.

Filter Queens: Goal, Hickson; defence, Brioux, McIlmoyle, rover, Groves; centre, O'Reilly; forwards, Powell, Morrissey; alternates, Batley, Mullins, R. Smith.

St. Cathairnes: Goal, Howe; defence, Martin, Baldwin; rover, J. Howard; centre, Bradshaw; forwards, Conradi, Childs; alternates, May, Winterbottom, Daniels, L. Howard, Allan, M. Smith, Cox.

Mrs. T. Howden Wins Television Set

Congratulations to Mrs. T. Howden, 92 Aylmer St., winner of the Television Set at the Peterborough Baseball Clubs' prize night at Riverside Park Wednesday. This set was made possible through the courtesy of T. J. Cavanagh and many Peterborough Merchants.

Congratulations also to Bob Ross, 180 Park St., winner of the Johnson Outboard Motor, donated by Pilon Marine Sales;

Mrs. G. Munson, 210 London St., winner of the radio donated by Ken McCannan;

Mr. V. Wood, 259 Engleburn Ave. winner of the Sport Shirt donated by Ed. Riley;

George Faux, 220 Wolfe St., winner of the Theatre Tickets, donated by Paramount Theatre;

Perce Borland, winner of the Nylon Hose, donated by Sally Shops;

The winner of the Picnic Grill, donated by Firestone, failed to leave their name.

And for the kiddies! The girls' and boys' bicycles, made possible by Keith Fontaine and a number of Merchants were won by Judy Murdoch, 70 James St. and Rickey Lee, 309 Burnham St.

The Ball Club sincerely thanks all the Merchants who made the prizes possible; to the wonderful turnout of fans, and all the helpers.

To Mr. Cliff Tanner of Toronto-Peterborough Transport who not only supplied baseballs, balloons and gliders for the kiddies but also loaned their transports to display the goods and advertise the game. To the Borden Co. who supplied ice cream bars, and Sutton's Texaco Station for balloons. To the De Laval Co. for the use of the churn for the draw.

To Hugh Campbell and Chris Graham, who made the draws and also contributed cash donations to the both ball clubs.

A special thanks to the Booster Committee, Ray Tanner, George Bennett and Ed Alberico who conceived and carried through both booster nights.

To anyone who has been missed above, thanks again from Dr. Cliff McKee, president of the Junior Baseball Club and Max Swanston, president of the Senior Club.

Ortiz Saves Red Wings From Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rochester Red Wings had second baseman Lou Ortiz to thank today for the fact that they're still only one-half game behind the second-place Syracuse Chiefs in the International League.

Ortiz and his mates were well on the way to a defeat at the hands of Toronto Maple Leafs last night when Lou decided to do something about it. With the Leafs ahead 1-0 in the ninth inning and two on, Ortiz whacked a 370-foot home run to give his team the victory.

Ellis Deal hung up his 13th victory of the campaign, allowing but one run in the ninth. Stubby Overmire, who took over when starter Garry Fahr was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh took the loss.

DOWN BISONS

The Chiefs whipped Buffalo Bisons 2-0 in the only other action of the night. The game was called after 7½ innings because of rain. The other two scheduled games were rained out.

Bob Keegan spun his 18th victory and seventh shutout for the Chiefs. Claude Corbett knocked in both Syracuse runs with a single in the second off loser Hank Borowy.

3rd Place Bo-Sox Knock Off Cleveland In 4-1 Triumph; White Sox Upset Yanks 6-1

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

A month ago Cleveland Indians were pronounced through as an American League pennant threat. That was July 22 when they dropped a doubleheader to New York Yankees and fell 7½ games behind the Bombers. But today they invade the Yankee Stadium for a two-game series with first place at stake. Cleveland, trailing the Yanks by one game, can take over the lead by one percentage point by beating the champions in the series opener. Big Mike Garcia, 15-8, has been nominated to face the Yanks' Allie Reynolds 15-7 in the first game. Early Wynn 16-10 is scheduled to go against New York's Vic Raschi 14-3 tomorrow.

Showers are forecast for today and if the game is rained out the teams will clash in a doubleheader tomorrow.

3-0 RECORD

Garcia sports a 3-0 record against the Yanks and will be pitching with four days' rest. Reynolds has won two of five from Cleveland and will be starting his first game in five days.

Both the Indians and Yanks suffered defeats yesterday. The third-place Boston Red Sox knocked off the Indians 4-1 and Chicago White Sox upset the Yanks 6-1 to sweep a three-game series. Washington and St. Louis divided a twi-night doubleheader, the Senators winning the first game 3-2 and the Browns the second 8-1.

In the National League, Chicago Cubs impeded New York's pennant bid by splitting doubleheader with the Giants, winning the first game 8-6 but losing the second 10-5. The Mexican standoff kept the Giants seven games behind the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers' game with Pittsburgh was rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were idle while in the circuit's only night game, St. Louis nipped Boston 3-2 for its sixth straight victory.

Sid Hudson scattered seven hits in beating the Tribe's "spot pitcher," Steve Gromek. The Red Sox nicked Gromek for all of their eight hits and runs in seven innings.

The Yanks, conserving their best pitchers for Cleveland, opened with a second-liner for the third straight time and failed. Rookie Tom Gorman was beaten in the first inning and had no one to blame but himself.

Gorman walked home one run and his wild throw permitted two more White Sox to score.

Spec Shea turned in his 10th victory for the Senators in the first game at Washington. Lefty Bob Cain breezed to his ninth victory in the second.

SAUER HOMERS TWICE

Big Hank Sauer smashed a pair of three-run homers to beat the Giants in the opener at Chicago. The homers boosted Sauer's output to 33 and increased his runs batted in to 106.

Chicago jumped away to a 5-0 lead in the second game, scoring all of their runs off Jim Hearn in the third. Bob Rush blanked the Giants until the sixth when they tallied four runs. The New Yorkers won out with two unearned runs in the seventh and sewed it up with four more in the ninth.

Wilmer Mizell turned in his seventh straight victory for the Cards in beating Boston. The rookie checked the Braves on five hits and blanked them after Sid Gordon's two-run homer in the first inning.

GROUNDED—It was a game of catch-as-catch-can with the Senators' Ken Wood making a wild grab for first base and Ferris Fain of the Athletics right after him in a run-down play. Umpire Jim Duffy ruled Wood safe.

1,700 Marksmen Try For Prize

VANDALIA, O. (AP)—More than 1,700 of the world's outstanding marksmen battle today in trap-shooting's most unpredictable event and for the game's most coveted championship—the Grand American Handicap.

Shooters from practically every state in the union, Canada, Alaska, the Canal Zone, Cuba and Hawaii are in the fight for the $1,500 first prize and untold thousands in the event of the 53rd Grand American. Among them is George Genereux of Saskatoon, runner-up in yesterday's junior shoot.

In 52 years no man has been able to win the 100-target classic twice and no woman has ever triumphed. But it has been won by a 14-year-old boy and a 70-year-old man, and others from all walks of life.

Last year Mike Wayland, 18-year-old Washington, Kans., high school student, fired a 99 which grabbed off the big prize.

Three-Pronged Loss For Washington Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Washington Redskins lost a football game, their coach and offensive star Charley Justice last night. The world champion Los Angeles Rams set them down in a pre-season pro football exhibition, 45-23, before 87,582.

The Rams did it in businesslike fashion and left the sensations to the visitors. Justice provided three of them with runs of 49, 53, and 63 yards. But on the last one his right wrist was broken as Ram Halfback Herb Rich threw him.

A surprise came with the final gun. Redskins' head coach Dick Todd resigned, giving business demands in Texas as his reason.

Johnny Cobb of England covered a measured mile at 368.85 m.p.h. in his 2,600-horse-power aluminum automobile, faster than man had ever travelled on wheels before, at Bonneville, Utah, 15 years ago today. He failed to set an official world's speed record, motor trouble preventing the return run demanded by racing rules. But he established an official record of 394 m.p.h. a few weeks later.

Mawhinney Surprises Experts By Being Three-Quarter Finalist

SEATTLE (CP)—A young Vancouver golfer today came close to a goal that hasn't been accomplished by a Canadian since he was three years old.

Bill Mawhinney, 23, tees off against Jack Westland, a man more than twice his age, in a 36-hole semi-final for the United States amateur title. And golfing enthusiasts remembered C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, the London, Ont., veteran who last brought the crown to Canada 20 years ago.

KNOCKS OUT McHALE

Mawhinney, the 1950 Canadian amateur titleholder, won his semi-final berth the hard way yesterday by knocking out the last big name in the field—Jimmy McHale of Mamaroneck, N.Y., who had eliminated former champion Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City in morning play.

McHale, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team, had squeezed by Percy Clogg of Vancouver 2 and 1 in an earlier round, but the stretch - running Mawhinney avenged his fellow-townsman by overcoming a two-hole deficit to defeat the big Oklahoman, one up.

Meanwhile, Canadian champion Walt McElroy of Vancouver carried his bid for the title to the quarter-finals before bowing to Al Mengert of Spokane, Wash., 3 and 2. Mengert faces crooner Don Cherry of Garden City, N.Y., in the other semi-final bracket.

Mawhinney, who currently holds the Pacific Northwest amateur title is the last of eight Canadians to keep his title hopes alive, though the pre-tournament pickers had him tabbed for early elimination.

A bad back, which kept him off the Canadian team in last week's Americas Cup matches, was expected to hamper Mawhinney's game. But the big Canadian showed no signs of strain as he downed Bill Campbell of Huntingdon, W.Va. 3 and 2 in morning play yesterday. And he was quick to take advantage of a couple of costly driving lapses by McHale in his quarter-final match.

McElroy got past Marion Hiskey of Twin Falls, Ida., 3 and 2 before he ran into Mengert, a recently-discharged U.S. flier who had breezed by the formidable Paul Johanson of Seattle by a 5-and-4 margin in morning play.

COULDN'T CATCH UP

The Spokane youngster's consistent play was too much for the Canadian champion. Five down at one stage, he rallied gamely on the back nine but couldn't catch up.

Westland, a 47-year-old candidate for the United States House of Representatives from Everett, Wash., won the right to meet Mawhinney by knocking off young Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., 3 and 1.

He, too, is after a long-cherished goal. In 1931 he reached the finals of the amateur, only to lose to Francis Oimet.

Cherry's quarter-final victim was Gene Littler, the 22-year-old sailor who upset British champion Harvie Ward Wednesday.

ROBIN ROBERTS, Philly righthander, shows Willie Jones (left) the number of victories he has after he defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates to become the first pitcher in the National League to win 20 games. Jones hit a six-inning, three-run homer to put the game on ice.

No One Thinks Argonauts Likely To Take Crown

TORONTO (CP)—A few years ago mention of Toronto Argonauts' gold-dust twins of Joe Krol and Royal Copeland was enough to make other Big Four Football Union teams shudder. Today, they're back together again and hardly rate a notice in pre-season training.

It was easy in 1948 and 1949 to predict that Argonauts would be a powerhouse in big-league football when Joe and Cope were around. But the years have taken their toll on two of the best Canadian-born backfielders seen in many seasons and fans now need a program to separate them from the rest of the mob.

Argonauts open the three-month Big Four season at Hamilton against Tiger-Cats Sept. 1 and even the most rabid Toronto fan won't make a gentleman's bet that the double blue will reach the playoffs. It's a hot-and-cold club that can look like the best team in Canada one Saturday and the following week put up a sorrowful display.

FEW CHANGES SEEN

Coach Frank Clair, one of the shrewdest coaches in Canadian football, has made changes here and there from the 1951 edition that lost out in the three-team Big Four playoff but, basically, it will be almost a carbon copy of the 1951 squad.

It's almost a cinch he'll go along with import Knobby Wirkowski in his sophomore year in the quarter slot. Other Americans are Billy Bass and Ulysses (Crazy Legs) Curtis, both with Argos last year, and Dean Sensenbaugher, from Ohio State and Army, and George Rooks.

DEFENSIVE HALF

Copeland, who returned this season from Calgary Stampeders, is likely to make a spot but as a defensive half. Other Canadians fighting for their jobs in the backfield are pint-sized Doug Pyzer and Steve Karrys.

Up front, Clair has Red Ettinger, an expatriate from Saskatchewan Roughriders, at centre. He is flanked by such stalwarts as Jack Carpenter, traded by Hamilton Tiger-Cats for Ed Hirsch, and Don Durno, Shanty McKenzie, Les Ascott, Pete Bennett, Gary Fowler, Art Scullion and George Arnett.

Clair is worried about Wirkowski but he's not too happy about the kicking of Krol. The Windsor-born old-timer was out-kicked by Indian Jack Jacobs of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in last Saturday's exhibition game here.

O.H.A. Council Drafts Junior Schedule

BARRIE (CP)—The Ontario Hockey Association junior "A" Council met here yesterday to draft the 1952-53 schedule which for the first time will interlock junior teams from Quebec and Ontario.

The new schedule calls for each of the nine Ontario clubs to meet each of the Four Quebec entries in home-and-home series. The points will count in the standings of the respective leagues.

All Ontario clubs were represented with the exception of Oshawa Generals and Toronto St. Michael's College. Jack Roxburgh of Simcoe, who is to be succeeded by Oshawa's Stu McTavish as O.H.A. president, acted as chairman for the last time in his two years of office.

SETTLE INTERPRETATION

The clubs agreed to use the professional interpretation of "icing," which allows the puck to be shot into the opponents' end after being carried over the red line.

All were in favor except Bob Crosbie of Kitchener Greenshirts, who said the rule made for "scrambly" hockey.

The council also passed a motion to change from the "two-referee" system of officiating to one referee and two hometown linesmen. The vote was 4 to 3 in favor.

Tentative starting date for the junior "A" season was set as Friday, Oct. 10.

TV Masts

VANCOUVER (CP)—Television is growing so rapidly in Vancouver that the city is amending its building by-law to control antenna installation. There now are 2,000 sets operating.

Timely Program

YORKTON, Sask. (CP)—It could have been the result of the heat wave. The billing on a Yorkton theatre marquee read: "The Unknown Man with Selected Shorts."

Willingdon Cup Fight Between Ontario And B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Phil Farley peered at a blank score card, scratched his chin and said: "a 580 should win it."

The captain of Ontario's defending champion Willingdon Cup golf team offered a figure four over par for 36 holes by the four team members. The record is 578 strokes, shot by the British Columbia team in 1948.

All players had arrived today for the inter-provincial matches and junior Canadian championship to be run off tomorrow over the up-and-down Capilano course in West Vancouver.

NARROWS DOWN

Most golfers here figure the medal-play series to be strictly a contest between Ontario and British Columbia.

Farley didn't come right out and say whether it would be Ontario that would shoot that 580 but he was obviously figuring on an average one-over-par 145 for 36 holes for himself, Jerry Kesselring, Nick Weslock and Keith Kirkpatrick.

Jerry Knechtel of Ontario appeared the favorite for the junior title. Laurie Roland of B.C., last year's champion, and finalist Doug Silverberg of Alberta now are out of the junior age bracket.

Ampon Meets Neilsen In Semi-Finals

TORONTO (CP)—Two United States players, a Filipino and a Dane meet today in the Canadian lawn tennis championship semi-finals.

Felissimo Ampon, 31-year-old champion of the Philippines since 1939, plays the Danish champion, Kurt Neilsen. Ed Moylan of Trenton, N.J., 29, is drawn against powerful Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., rated as the second singles player in the United States.

Moylan yesterday eliminated last years' Canadian singles champ, Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. Tiny 98-pound Ampon wore down Art Larsen, U.S. clay courts champion from San Leandro, Calif. seeded No. 1 in the tournament, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

FEW SPECTATORS

In other matches yesterday, Savitt snuffed Mexico's last hope for the male singles crown, Gustao Palafox, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 and Neilsen retired Hal Burrows of Virginiatown, Va., after a long match, 4-6, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

There were few spectators at yesterday's feature matches. Large bleachers erected for the play were only half filled for the five-set marathon between Burrows and Neilsen.

In the women's singles, fiery Melita Remirez proved her No. 1 seeding by defeating Louise Brown of Toronto, 7-5, 6-0. The petite contender from Mexico changed her game completely in the second set, lobbing long slow balls to Miss Brown which threw the hard-hitting Toronto player off her stride.

Melita will meet the present title-holder, Lucille Davidson of Lees Summit, Mo., in the finals tomorrow. Lucille knocked Pat Macken of Montreal out of the running in the quarter-finals 6-2, 7-5 and retired another Montreal player, Hanna Sladek, seeded No. 1 Canadian, yesterday with a 7-5, 6-3 score.

Game A-Plenty

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (CP)—Jack Browning, guide and dude rancher, returned from a trip into the mountains to report big game prospects the best in years. Deer was the one animal that seemed scarce, apparently because of an increase in timber wolves.

Cut Grid Skeds

PITTSBURGH (NEA) — Few colleges in the Pittsburgh district have scheduled more than eight football games next Fall. Washington and Jefferson and Thiel have only six.

Target Practice

DETROIT — (NEA) —Blaine Denning of the Baltimore Bullets works as a deputy sheriff in Detroit when he isn't playing professional basketball.

Richards and Stengel Not On Speaking Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—Managers Paul Richards of Chicago and Casey Stengel of New York weren't on speaking terms yesterday as the White Sox and Yankees clashed in the final of their three-game set at Yankee Stadium.

The bad feeling sprang up over Stengel's refusal to allow the White Sox to work out after Wednesday's 12-3 Chicago victory over New York.

Richards, who likes to have his charges work out after as well as before a game, had sent the clubhouse boy to Stengel seeking permission to take some extra batting practice at conclusion of the afternoon game. Stengel refused.

Richards got in some batting practice anyway. He hurried four of his players—outfielder Minnie Minoso, shortstop Chico Carresquel, pitcher Chuck Stobbs and catcher Darrell Johnson—into a taxi, uniform and all, and went to the Polo Grounds where they worked out for an hour.

The Yankees later issued a statement saying that Richards made his request "much too late to change the schedule of the grounds keepers."

Here and There In Sport

SMYTHE MAD AT AHL

TORONTO (CP)—Conn Smythe threatened yesterday to end operations of Pittsburgh Hornets as a farm team of Toronto Maple Leafs because of player restrictions imposed by the American Hockey League.

Smythe, managing director of the Toronto National Hockey League club, was commenting on a decision Wednesday night by the A.H.L. Board of Governors.

They decided that no player lent to A.H.L. teams by the N.H.L. could be recalled at any time during the regular season or playoffs. Previously N.H.L. clubs could recall players after a 14-day period up to Feb. 15.

"Apparently they don't want good hockey players in their league," said Smythe. "They already have a salary limit in their league which is nearly below the junior league here.

"They have been passing rules in the summer and changing them in the fall for years. Unless there is some change, we couldn't continue to operate our farm team at Pittsburgh under these conditions because our farm club would be of no use to us. . .

"I don't see how they will strengthen their teams if they don't get help from above. But the N.H.L. teams can't send players down if they can't recall them."

CLEVELAND LEADS RACE

TORONTO (CP) — Cleveland Yacht Club yesterday led in points at the end of the second day's competition for the Richardson trophy, emblematic of racing supremacy on the Great Lakes for R-class sloops. The standing after two days of the three-day races here: Cleveland 7¼ points; Chicago Yacht Club 6¼; Rochester Yacht Club 5¼.

GENEREUX COMES SECOND

VANDALIA, O. (CP)—George Genereux of Saskatoon took second place yesterday in the junior competition of the 53rd Grand American trapshoot. The Canadian Olympic champion scored 95, outshooting Rique Linam of Shreveport, La., in an extra event after they had tied at that figure. Junior winner was Ronald Mosier, 17, of Fresno, Calif., who scored 96.

Blue Bombers Open Series That Count

WINNIPEG (CP)—The exhibition tilts are over and now the games that count start Saturday night for Winnipeg Blue Bombers when they open their 1952 Western Interprovincial Football Union schedule here against Calgary Stampeders.

Despite their success in three pre-season exhibition games in the east—they defeated Ottawa Rough Riders, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts—Bombers are not looking for a pushover in the revamped Stamps, who early this week walloped Montreal Alouettes 30-11 in their only exhibition contest this year.

Bomber coach George Trafton said if Bombers escape injuries in key spots and "we get our share of the breaks," the club likely will grab a playoff spot.

Discover New Comet

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A faint new comet, without a tail, has been discovered in the constellation Cepheus. California Institute of Technology made the announcement yesterday. The discovery was made Sunday night by the 48-inch Schmidt telescope on Palomar mountain.

Theatre Manager 31 Years G. Miller Retires

With his retirement as manager of the Paramount theatre, Gordon C. Miller has ended 31 years in the theatre business in Peterborough.

Mr. Miller has been succeeded by Arthur E. Cauley, former manager of the Capitol Theatre, and Leonard J. Gouin, formerly assistant manager of the Paramount, is now manager of the Capitol.

The changes in management resulting from Mr. Miller's retirement were announced in Toronto Thursday by James J. Fitzgibbons, president of Famous Players Corporation of Canada Ltd.

Before taking over as manager of the Paramount when it was opened in 1948, Mr. Miller was manager of the old Regent theatre on Hunter St. He operated it on a partnership basis with Hanson Theatre Corporation, which later became part of the Famous Players' chain.

In 1937, Mr. Miller purchased the site of the present Paramount theatre on George St. Famous Players bought the property from him when they began constructing the new theatre and when it opened, the corporation also bought Mr. Miller's interest in the Regent.

Until the Regent was closed down, Mr. Miller was both manager of the Paramount, and supervisor of the Regent.

Three years ago, Mr. Cauley was presented with his 25-year button by Famous Players Corporation. He became manager of the Capitol in January, 1936 and before coming to Peterborough, Mr. Cauley was manager of the old Capitol theatre in Cobourg.

Mr. Gouin, who has been Mr. Miller's assistant at the Paramount since the theatre opened in 1948 has been promoted to manager of the Capitol.

Decide To Halt Prosecutions

VANCOUVER (CP)—Health Minister Eric Martin announced yesterday an end to prosecutions for non-payment of hospital insurance premiums.

He said the government plans to replace prosecutions with salesmanship.

The hospital insurance service, established by the coalition government in 1949, has operated on a compulsory basis.

The Social Credit government plans to make it a voluntary scheme.

A total of 1,297 prosecutions for non-payment of hospital insurance was launched by the previous government, and 5,815 persons had their wages garnisheed.

Guelph Firemen Freed Of Blame

GUELPH (CP) — The Guelph police and fire departments last night were absolved of all blame in the Aug. 13 death by fire of Mrs. Eliza McCullough, 65.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death after three hours of testimony by 21 witnesses.

The case involved a fire of unknown origin which claimed three lives and caused $250,000 damage in a downtown store and apartment block.

Killed were three occupants of a third-floor flat: Mrs. McCullough and two grandchildren, Norman David Nichol, 7, and Bonnie Lee Nichol, 2.

Presidential Candidates Appeal To Finer Qualities

Eisenhower's chances of becoming president depend on his having the united support of the Republican party, the votes of dissatisfied Democrats and a majority of the estimated 11,000,000 independent voters in the U.S.

These are the things Eisenhower will need to end 20 years of Democratic rule in Washington, Dr. Mars M. Westington told Peterborough Kiwanis Club Thursday afternoon.

In reviewing the current U.S. political scene, Dr. Westington, who is head of the classics department of Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana, said, "It is a long time since both parties have been led by men who will appeal to the finer qualities of the American electorate."

BORN AT WELCOME

A former Canadian, Dr. Westington was born at Welcome, and obtained his Arts degree from the University of Toronto before going to the University of Chicago where he received his Ph.D.

At the outset of his remarks, Dr. Westington said he had no intention of revealing his own party affiliation and answered the question of who would be the next president after the November 4 election by comparing the present situation to that of 1912 when the Republican president William Howard Taft and Woodrow Wilson split the G.O.P. and Democrat Woodrow Wilson won the election.

"If the present dissension continues there will be another break in the G.O.P., Dr. Westington predicted and another Democrat will succeed President Truman.

HAS GREATER EFFECT

In a reference to the recent remark of British historian Arnold Townbee that "every British voter should have a right to vote in the coming U.S. presidential election, Dr. Westington said that the question of who will be the next president of the United States is of more significance to Canadians than who will be the next Prime Minister of Canada."

Terming the recent Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago a victory for the tyros and the "middle of the roaders" over the machine politicians, Dr. Westington said both Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson were nominated because they were both "first class vote getters."

With the United States thrust into a pre-eminence in foreign affairs for which the country is not prepared, Dr. Westington said that the country's "youthful impetuosity and inexperience in world affairs can be dangerous if the men at the helm are not experienced."

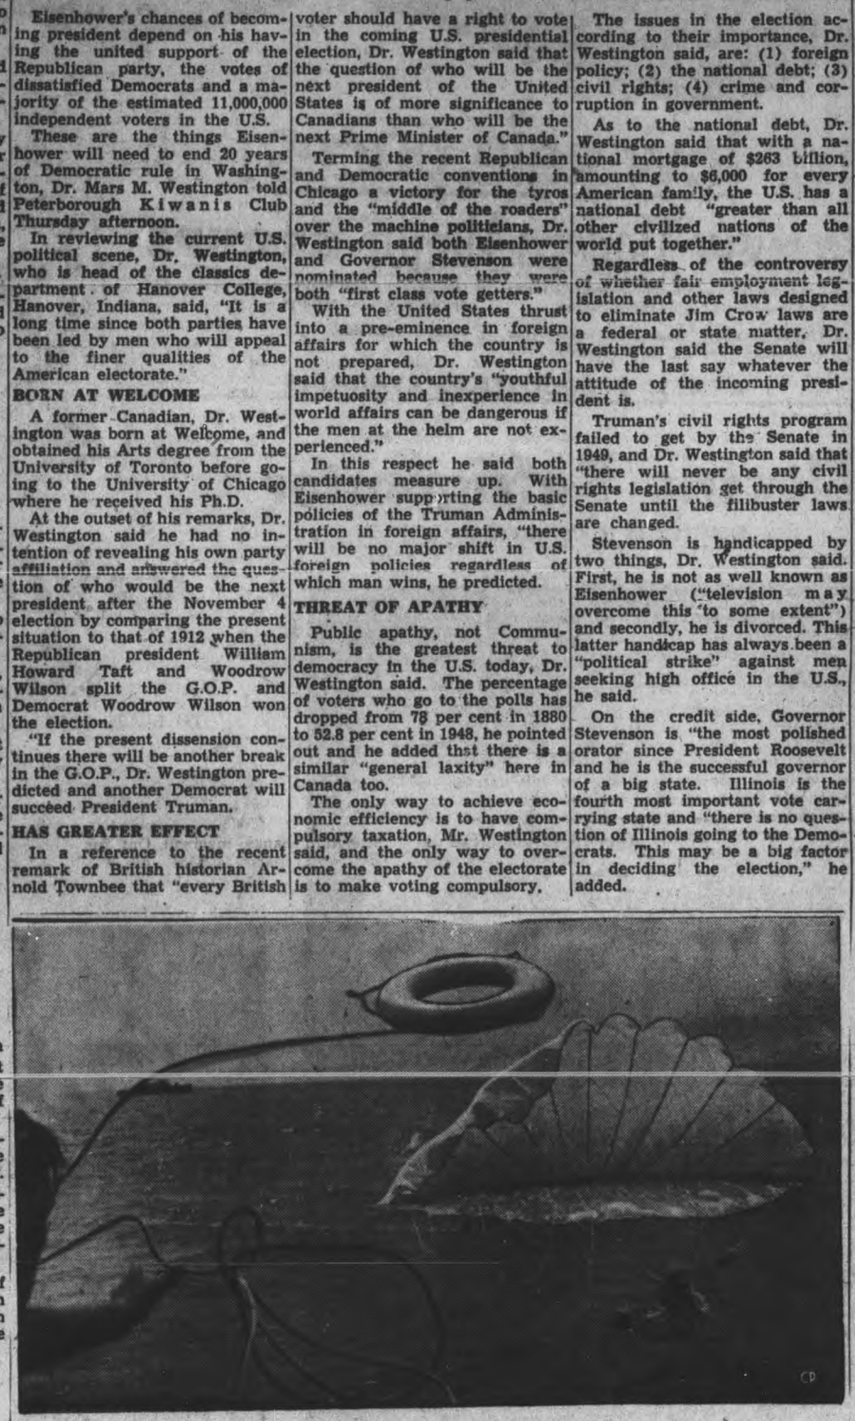
In this respect he said both candidates measure up. With Eisenhower supporting the basic policies of the Truman Administration in foreign affairs, "there will be no major shift in U.S. foreign policies regardless of which man wins, he predicted.

THREAT OF APATHY

Public apathy, not Communism, is the greatest threat to democracy in the U.S. today, Dr. Westington said. The percentage of voters who go to the polls has dropped from 78 per cent in 1880 to 52.8 per cent in 1948, he pointed out and he added that there is a similar "general laxity" here in Canada too.

The only way to achieve economic efficiency is to have compulsory taxation, Mr. Westington said, and the only way to overcome the apathy of the electorate is to make voting compulsory.

The issues in the election according to their importance, Dr. Westington said, are: (1) foreign policy; (2) the national debt; (3) civil rights; (4) crime and corruption in government.



As to the national debt, Dr. Westington said that with a national mortgage of $263 billion, amounting to $6,000 for every American family, the U.S. has a national debt "greater than all other civilized nations of the world put together."

Regardless of the controversy of whether fair employment legislation and other laws designed to eliminate Jim Crow laws are a federal or state matter, Dr. Westington said the Senate will have the last say whatever the attitude of the incoming president is.

Truman's civil rights program failed to get by the Senate in 1949, and Dr. Westington said that "there will never be any civil rights legislation get through the Senate until the filibuster laws are changed.

Stevenson is handicapped by two things, Dr. Westington said. First, he is not as well known as Eisenhower ("television may overcome this 'to some extent") and secondly, he is divorced. This latter handicap has always been a "political strike" against men seeking high office in the U.S., he said.

On the credit side, Governor Stevenson is "the most polished orator since President Roosevelt and he is the successful governor of a big state. Illinois is the fourth most important vote carrying state and "there is no question of Illinois going to the Democrats. This may be a big factor in deciding the election," he added.

A WET JOB—A lifeboat snakes out to a paratrooper floating in the chill waters of Lake Ontario off the waterfront of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. Every day during the Exhibition 24 paratroopers will drop in demonstration jumps. Also taking part are three R.C.N. helicopters which will snatch "crash victims" from the water. It's a wet job.

MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW PRACTISE MODERATION TODAY

3 Young Boys Spend Night Outside Gates

TORONTO (CP)—Three young boys who spent the night in a tent at the gates of the Canadian National Exhibition today were the first customers at the 1952 edition of the world's biggest annual fair.

The youngsters staked out their "camp" shortly before sundown.

Gates of the show, expected to attract 3,000,000 persons this year, were opened at 9 a.m. but official opening comes later in the day with Governor-General Vincent Massey officiating.

NATIONAL PRIDE

National pride is stressed in the theme at the two-week fair as it was 73 years ago when some 500,000 persons crowded into the waterfront grounds. Foreign manufacturers are well represented but Canadian skills and products are awarded the major portion of exhibit space.

The nightly grandstand show, headlined by crooner Tony Martin and playing to a crowd of 22,000, boasts an almost all-Canadian cast.

Bailieboro W.I. Plans Trip Through Factory

BAILIEBORO (ENS). — On Tuesday evening the Bailieboro Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Reginald Perrin, with a large attendance. The guest speaker for the evening Miss Elaine Jones of Bailieboro, gave an address on a week spent in Ottawa in May as sponsored by the Rotary Club of Ottawa and Port Hope. Her address was on citizenship.

Misses Sonja Moncrief and Sharon Dawson also gave readings. The next meeting will be in the form of a trip to one of the factories in Peterborough in the third week of September.

Plans were discussed for members to attend the annual convention in Toronto on November 5, 6 and 7.

End Hereditary Rule By Maharajah's Family

NEW DELHI (AP)—Kashmir's constituent assembly has adopted a resolution ending hereditary rule by the family of its Hindu Maharajah, Sir Hari Singh, and proposing election of a chief of state, advices from Srinagar said yesterday.

The Indian radio broadcast the news as Prime Minister Nehru departed for an eight-day visit, officially described as a vacation, in the predominantly-Moslem border state claimed by both India and Pakistan.

Misunderstanding In Sweden Margaret Truman's Explanation

HELSINKI (AP)—"I believe it must all have been a simple misunderstanding," Margaret Truman said at a press conference today over the ruckus kicked up by Swedish newspapers over alleged "tough guy" tactics used in Stockholm by her bodyguards.

The president's daughter had other descriptions, too, such as "much ado about nothing," and "it was really silly" about accounts in Stockholm newspapers such as the one published by Expressen, which said the bodyguards — members of the U.S. Secret Service—flung aside a photographer who tried to take Miss Truman's picture at Stockholm's Central Station.

DIDN'T UNDERSTAND

Miss Truman suggested that perhaps the photographer involved did not understand English.

She stressed that she had been supplied with a bodyguard not on her own wish but because a U.S. law stipulates that members of the president's family must always be protected by such guard.

She said that no member of her entourage had ever forbidden pictures being taken of her.

Seed Dealers Advise Treatment Of Winter Wheat to Control Stinking Smut. . . . A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative at Stirling Becomes Groom Sept. 16. . . . Shorthorn Breeders Meet Monday Night.

The fall wheat season that will culminate in the harvest of 1953 is beginning to tread on the heels of the 1951-52 crop. Some farmers here and in many other counties have been plowing this week, getting the land ready for seeding, while others are still busy in the last fields of the combining program.

Seeds-men are again mentioning treatment of wheat against smut, a cheap means of prevention that costs only 20 cents an acre, on the sowing basis of two bushels to the acre. Enquiries here in Peterborough indicate a wider interest in registered seed. That quality is now the rule rather than the exception.

An elderly Emily township farmer commented the other day: "We got rid of smut 65 years ago," when he heard another grower referring to smut in his wheat.

Seed prices are reported about the same as last year. The Ontario Crop Improvement Association's seed marketing committee suggests the following prices: winter wheat, No. 1 commercial, $2.40; No. 1 registered, $2.75; rye, No. 1 commercial, $2.00, on the basis of treated seed with bags included.

Local prices this week were: commercial wheat, No. 1, $2.65; No. 1 registered, $2.85; and rye, No. 1 commercial, $2.50.

On a basic $2.00, the dealer adds 15 cents for cleaning, 10 cents for treating against smut, 10 cents for the bag, and 10 cents allowance for shrinkage.

The Crop Improvement bulletin also says: "The use of rye as a winter cover crop is increasing each year, particularly from the standpoint of soil conservation. The Horton variety is preferred, for which a premium is usually paid."

35 BUS. AN ACRE

Wheat yields in York County indicate an average of approximately 35 bushels an acre, as reported from the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The harvest is nearly finished across the province, especially in the western counties. There is a large acreage of red clover, promising an ample supply of seed. Corn has been making excellent growth. Glengarry reports many dairy heifers and cows for sale.

More timothy seed is being threshed in Leeds, and in Prescott quite a number of farmers are selling timothy from the mill at 10 to 13 cents a pound, while No. 1 seed is worth 15 cents.

New seedings are generally reported promising.

Fear Strike Loss

Essex tomato growers have raised an issue of protection against strikes in canning plants when perishable crops are ripe and ready for processing.

They say: "We feel the farmers as primary producers should be protected to the same extent as the public in the case of fire and police protection."

That is part of their claim in the telegram their association sent this week from Leamington to V. S. Milburn, Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

They have asked him to make representations to the Ontario government for legislation making it illegal to stop work affecting the harvest of perishable crops.

United Packinghouse Workers of the Heinz Company have been on strike since August 8 for a 21-cent wage increase on an hourly basic rate of 99 cents. The company has offered 11 cents.

The tomato growers have been considering the expedient of trucking their crop to processing plants further east.

Peterborough Shorthorn Breeders are meeting at the agricultural office Monday, Aug. 25, at 8 p.m. Members are asked to note that this is an evening meeting. Ab Stoltz, fieldman, will be present.

380 On Trip

Farmers' educational trips are universals in English speaking agriculture. A picture in the Ayrshire Post, (Scotland) shows a group of the 380 Yorkshire farmers who travelled by special train to Kilmarnock to visit the works of Massey-Harris Ltd.

Ag. Rep. To Marry

Andrew Oliver Dalrymple, B.S.A., of Stirling, agricultural representative in Hastings county, is to be married Sept. 16. His fiancee is Georgina Florence Huffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Huffman of Corbyville. Mr. Dalrymple is well known throughout Peterborough district, especially among junior farmers, from his assistance in their department at Peterborough Exhibition. He is also treasurer of the Central Ontario Spring Show.

Average Price $277

Max Heidt of Port Perry took home eight Holsteins from the Hays Arena auction last week. Sixty-two head averaged $277 for a total of $13,855. Twelve milking females averaged $326; 25 bred heifers, $242; ten open heifers, $189; three heifer calves, $148.

No exceptionally high prices were paid at this sale. Top figure was $425 for a six-year-old cow sold by W. H. Bonter of Carrying Place to Paul Dinga, Jr., of St. Anns, Ont.

Old Dairy Relic

Lakehurst cheese factory in Harvey township is being dismantled by Ray Hook who bought the building prior to the war from the shareholders. Some of them were John Chase, Hugh Allen, Russell Flynn, John Coons. The equipment disappeared years ago. Mr. Hook is salvaging from the building a lot of sound lumber which he is moving to Bridgenorth, with the intention of erecting a house for himself.

Few of the two score factories which once sold their cheese in Peterborough have survived the years of obsolescence.

Grey County Protest

Farmers at Markdale complained this week that packers were refusing to buy cattle in an attempt to force lower prices. That was the gist of their grievance to Citizenship Minister Walter Harris, who promised to convey their protest to the federal cabinet.

Several speakers said farmers had held back deliveries of cattle during the summer months, while the foot and mouth restrictions were in effect. Thereby they complied with the advice of the government.

The delegation represented Grey county beef and hog producers, Federation of Agriculture, and agricultural committee of the county council. The members said cattle shipped from fresh pasture to stockyards were allowed to deteriorate there two or three days before being sold.

Second Annual Sale Of Sheep C.NE., Aug. 29

R. H. Graham, secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders, is recommending their second annual C.N.E. sale at the Coliseum, Exhibition Park, Toronto, Friday, August 29.

With the American market closed to exporters, he says, there should be a select offering from which prospective buyers can choose good breeding stock for their flocks.

All sheep sold have to be shown in the regular classes at the Exhibition. Mr. Graham reminds farmers that the ram premium policy of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, amounting to 20 per cent of the purchase price, but not exceeding $25, will be paid to the buyer of an approved ram lamb or yearling lamb at the sale.

"In no case will a breeder be paid a premium on more than two rams in any one year. The policy applies only to residents of Ontario. Buyers may take possession at the sale, and remove animals from the Exhibition."

Mr. Graham says sheep numbers in Ontario are the lowest in history, while prices are the highest being paid for any meat animal.

"Even with these prices, requirements are far from being filled, and market lambs provide a strong source of income on any farm. With good lambs commanding high prices, top foundation stock, such as will be offered at this sale, afford the producer an opportunity of getting the type of animals which should help him get the best returns from his flock."

Poultry Change

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — A trend to produce poultry lighter than the customary five-pound bird has become evident in the Maritimes, it was reported at the Poultry Breeders' Association here. There is ample evidence the housewife of the future will prefer the smaller chicken, spokesman said.

Invited To Elmira.

McKee Brothers Limited, of Elmira, are demonstrating their one-man harvester August 26 and 27, beginning at 2 p.m. For hay, straw, grass silage, they say it is the only machine that will load in the field and unload at the barn under operation by one man. They also recommend for custom operators a blower of their own manufacture.

In the Woof Of August

Summer weaves a wealth of color on the loom of rural fields and lanes these drowsy days of another year's maturity.

The woof of August is a gorgeous riot of green and gold, blue and purple, formless and unpatterned, but wondrously effectual of beauty.

The greens are in the meadows and in the leafage of the hardwoods, verdant backdrops for the flambuoyant acreage of goldenrod which appears to have expanded its domain from the city's uncertain border to the far boundaries of the county.

Timid black-eyed susans appear to be dubious of the company of those hardy but personable characters, the blue sailors; grace and delicacy pervades the spreading whiteness of the Queen Anne's lace, the wild carrot, high on the proscribed list of agricultural vigilance.

The goldenrod has fared exceedingly well this summer, and has a vaunting awareness of his brilliant burnish, but indiscreetly flaunting his enlarged constituency in the eyes of unappreciative weed patrols.

Purple and gold are within the enclosure of cultivation. The still shining straw of the wheat and other cereal grains where the reapers and combines of harvesting have passed, and in the next field the second bloom of clover, some of it turning a rusty ripeness in seed! Above the thick carpet of bloom this week, the color of the clover had the appearance at a distance of an amethyst mist.

These are the days of fruition, the clusters of red berries on the mountain ash, nature's wonders of variety of method in the flowering of the sumac and the bulrushes. And in the ponds the water lilies, sweetness and beauty sprung from the slime and silt.

Wheat Cheque Concern Should Begin With Seed

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, said yesterday he was mailing a circular letter emphasizing the importance of winter wheat as the main cereal crop in the Peterborough district.

Yields, quality and profits can be increased by more attention to the sowing of the seed. It is important, Mr. Paterson said, because it is matter of farm income.

As reported by local buyers this season, there is still too much stinking smut or as it is also called, ball smut and bunt.

The day of reckoning comes when the crop is sold, and if samples show smut infestation, grade and price are affected, and that means reduction of income.

"Bunt can be controlled by sowing clean seed that has been chemically treated. Loose smut cannot be controlled by chemical treatment. The best way to handle this problem is to get new, fresh, clean and treated seed. Good commercial seed and preferably registered seed, are recommended. Farmers can grow more bushels to the acre if they will pay more attention to this crop.

This is a winter wheat area, and many of our farmers are getting good results. Then there are others who find their samples docked up to 15c in the price because neglect has permitted smut to lower the quality and grade.

Quite a number of farmers have good seed for sale, and the dealers have similar quality stocks on hand. The varieties recommended are mainly Cornell 595 and Dawbul. I'd like to say that our farmers should not take a chance on their wheat income. It was reported this season that some deliveries were even rejected at the mill.

The general program is first to have the soil tested, use an adequate amount of fertilizer according to the need indicated by the test. The farmer who hasn't equipped his planning with a soil test, can use 300 pounds of 2-12-10 as a rough recommendation. Then, if the land has been well prepared and is sown with good seed, the producer has done his part in making a bid for the harvesting of a profitable crop, an income crop."

Mr. Paterson said he was not ruling out Dawson's Golden Chaff, which some farmers still like to use, but the other varieties have gradually gained on the old favorite.

"Our district knows what it can do with winter wheat, but we should also be doing our very best because it pays off when the buyers are writing their cheques when the crop is sold."

"I'd like to see no toleration of smut on every farm in our area," Mr. Paterson said. "It assures more confidence in the crop —the crop that will be seeded in September —when the pay-off comes next midsummer."

Peterborough Shorthorns Collect Oshawa Ribbons

For the second year in a row, Shorthorns from the Peterborough area paced the strong Regional Show at Oshawa Fair, with herds out from six different counties. This year, 12 exhibitors were out, with 87 head, and it remained for the herds of M. H. Pimmett & Sons, Indian River, and L. Cadesky, Peterborough, to take the four major championship awards.

The Cadesky herd had grand champion and reserve grand champion bulls. Both were imported in dam, and calved at the farm. The winner, Louada Developer, a son of Calrossie Highland Leader, attracted a lot of ringside comment as one of the growthiest, heaviest boned bulls to go through the show. His stablemate, Louada Diplomat, by Calrossie Cupbearer, had many admirers. Both of these bulls are being used in the Cadesky herd, whose herd sires include the imported Calrossie Armada, purchased at 7,900 guineas at last February's Perth Sale in Scotland.

The Pimmett herd won grand and reserve grand championship female awards. Their cow, Aberfeldy Violet Vale, by Glenburn Gold Cup, has been a consistent winner at larger shows in recent years. She won the supreme award. Reserve grand was Pimmett's heifer, Strathmore Duthie Violet, by Louada Marshall. This is the heifer that was grand champion at the Royal Winter Fair last year.

Some of the exhibitors were: John Rickard, Newcastle; Beath Farms, Oshawa; L. C. Scott, Markham; Roslyn Fletl, Oakwood; L. Cadesky, Louada Manor Farms, Peterborough; Sam McClure & Sons, Woodbridge; M. H. Pimmett & Sons, Indian River; Baker Farms, Hampton; Kenneth Deacon, Unionville.

Total attendance at the Oshawa Exhibition was 16,403. Rain on Saturday held the gate to 3,059 admissions.

GRAIN SAMPLING—An important step in the inspection of western grain is the use of the sampling spear. This is a tubular implement with a second tube inside. Both tubes have a number of openings down their sides which coincide when the inner tube is revolved to the "open" position. The implement is driven deep into the grain and the inner tube is opened, thus allowing grain at various depths to enter. The spear is then closed and withdrawn and the grain it contains is deposited on a tarpaulin by holding the spear in a horizontal position and revolving the inner tube. This procedure is repeated, spearing various places in the boxcar—particularly in the four corners. The grain on the tarpaulin is then mixed giving a representative sample of all the grain in the boxcar. The sample goes to Inspection Division of the Board of Grain Commissioners and is there inspected and a grade declared as required by the Canada Grain Act.—(National Film Board Photo).

Milk Profits Increase With Volume

The annual report of the Ontario Herd Improvement Association shows the following factors in the cost of producing milk: feed 51 per cent; labor 27 per cent; overhead 11 per cent; and miscellaneous items of cost 11 per cent.

Discussing this report, Gilbert McMillan writes in the Ottawa Farm Journal: "Other things being equal the strongest factor in determining cost of production is the producing ability of the cows. From the low starting average of 6,000 pounds, a man reduces his average cost of production 75c a hundred by increasing production to 7,500 pounds. From there on the decrease in costs is not so rapid, but if he can get to around 10,000 pounds he will have reduced his costs by $1.20 a hundred.

The man who can attain this production by the use of high quality roughage and pasture with a minimum amount of grain and concentrates also effects a further saving. The average consumption of grain, in the 50 highest producing herds reported, was at the rate of one pound of grain to five and four-fifth pounds of milk.

In the average herds, the rate was one pound of grain to four and nine-tenths pounds of milk. The lowest net returns were from herds taking one pound of grain for three and one-third pounds of milk.

In many herds producing for the whole milk trade this last figure is common experience and practice, but it would not be profitable making milk at manufacturing prices.

Labor varies from 226 to 96 hours per cow, per year, and shows a difference in cost of $1.30 per hundred. I think there must be a happy medium somewhere in this with the difference in costs somewhere between the two extremes.

Perhaps with a loafing barn and no time lost in grooming cows or cleaning stables, the 96-hour figure might be possible. Under usual methods of handling cows, I would be sceptical of the low costs arrived at from 96 hours labor per cow."

"The interesting feature of the report is that when efficiency is shown in all the combined factors, the producer can make a reasonable profit. The chap who fails in all of them has incurred a substantial loss. He should, for his own good and that of the industry, be looking for another vocation."

"There is no question but what the dairyman who takes advantage of this service will know his shortcomings. He will also know how to remedy them."

The report of the Ontario Herd Improvement Association is based on the returns from some 40 groups of dairy farmers totalling more than 1,000. They indicate that the average producer is reasonably efficient.

Peterborough association is included, with its 25 members.

THESE ARE AUTHENTIC MILKMAIDS and this is the way they regularly milked this high producing Holstein cow throughout her lactation. The girls are Gladys (left) and Marion, daughters of Lorne B. Reid, Ripley, Ont., who is the breeder and owner of the cow Maple Lea Fern Buttergirl. "Fern" has just completed a twice-a-day milking record of 26,038 lbs. milk containing 1,014 lbs. fat (3.89 per cent) in 365 days as a nine-year-old. This is the largest record for both milk and fat ever made in Bruce County. "Fern" has a six lactation lifetime record of 116,196 lbs. milk and 4,383 lbs. fat.

Holsteins Average $453 On F.-M. Announcement

The official announcement that Canada is now free of foot and mouth disease made on August 19th had an immediately strengthening effect on dairy cattle prices. At the dispersal sale of the Eveermot Holstein herd of T. W. Reeve, Meadowvale, Ont., held that same evening, 35 head sold for $15,880, an average of $453. This average was realized despite the fact that the herd was not on officials R.O.P. test although the type of the animals offered was good. A bred heifer brought $1,125 and a heifer calf $1,025. Seven added consignments brought the sale total for 42 head to $18,810, a general average of $447.

The sale was held at the Oakville Sales Arena and by contrast a consignment sale of purebred Holsteins held there on August 13 averaged $277.

J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ont., paid the top price of $1,125 for Eveermot Early Sunday Morning while her twin sister, Eveermont Late Sunday Morning went to Amos Wilkinson, Wallenstein at $910.

Massey-Harris Farms, Millken, Ont., secured an eight-month old daughter of the three times All-Canadian bull, Spring Farm Fond Hope at $1,025.

Other good prices paid included: $675 by Robert C. Young, Cayuga, Ont. for a three-year-old; $600 by Mrs. Dorothy Fairbanks, Ingersoll, Ont. for a four-year-old; $585 by W. H. McCaugherty, Streetsville, Ont. for a six-year-old; $580 paid twice by H. Simpson, Stouffville, for a a pair of bred heifers; $560 by Mrs. Mildred Fenwick, Brampton for a five-year-old; and $500 paid by each of the following: Erik Anderson, Cainsville, Ont. J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ont. Jas. King, Brampton, Ont.; and R. A. Armstrong, Waterford, Ontario.

Fifteen milking females from Eveermot averaged $484; 9 bred heifers $571; 5 open yearlings $272; and 6 heifer calves $315.

1 Allow club shaft to lie diagonally across the left hand.

2 Close fingers for firm but not tight grip on club, with left thumb running down outside of shaft. 'V' formed by thumb and forefinger should point to right shoulder.

This is considered finest grip for control of club.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Cattle Prices Drop $1 During Week

TORONTO (CP)—Cattle prices slipped $1-2 this week in slow trading at the Ontario stockyards. Calves, hogs and sheep were steady but lambs dipped.

Cattle supplies included 6,800 received this week and 1,500 carried from last week. Fresh arrivals included 2,550 westerns, mostly stockers.

Choice steers sold slowly at $26-27 with one load at $27.25. Three prime steers sold at $28. Medium to good steers were $23-25.50 with common as low as $17. Good heifers opened at $25-26 but closed with few over $25. Medium heifers were $22-24. Medium to good cows sold at $16-18 and common downward to $14. Canners traded from $9-12. Good bulls were $16.50-18; common as low as $12. Good to choice fed yearlings were steady at $26-28.50 while a few sold at $28.75.

Calf receipts totalled 1,600. Prices were steady at $26-28 for choice vealers with common to medium from $14-24. Grassers for slaughter were $12-14.

Hog receipts totalled 3,300. Grade at $16.

Sheep and lambs receipts totalled 1,700. Lambs closed at $30 for good ewes and wethers delivered by truck and up to $31 for a few off cars. Bucks traded $1 lower while a few culls brought $24-25. Common to medium sheep $6-15 and good sheep up to $18.

The new ship, H.M.C.S. Skeena, is the second ship of the Royal Canadian Navy to bear that name. The photo shows the new warship just before she became waterborne.

New Fangled Ideas

Perfume Spray For Pigs Rather Costly Farmers Think

SECAUCUS, N.J. (CP)—Perfume at $5 a gallon doesn't sound expensive but when it is used in the amounts necessary to deodorize 3,000 pigs it becomes a costly proposition.

That's why farmers of this pig-farming community are taking their time deciding whether to adopt a plan to spray their 52,000 pigs regularly with perfume in an attempt to reduce the stench and possibly increase the tourist trade.

Charles Schoch's 3,000 pigs were the first to get the perfume treatment and they don't smell like pigs anymore. But the cost was $90 for 18 gallons of a parsely green fluid called "aeractor" and another $35 to have the stuff sprayed.

Schoch said the spray would have to be used about once a week to be really effective and he isn't sure if $125 is worth it.

Other pig farmers, members of the Stock Farmers Association of which Schoch is President, indicated they will wait before deciding whether to go along with the plan.

The experiment was prompted by a recent statement by Governor Alfred Driscoll that the air around Secaucus is enough to scare away all but the bravest of visitors.

Urges Dr. P. J. G. Morgan Be Replaced At Hospital

WINDSOR (CP)—Keith Laird, counsel for a former chairman of the 350-bed East Windsor Hospital for Incurables at an inquiry into the hospital's affairs, said yesterday that Hospital Superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan be replaced as head of the institution.

Mr. Laird, counsel for M. Frank Brobst, was presenting an argument before an Ontario government commission which has been conducting the investigation. The commission, which began sittings May 22, has completed the hearing of the 105 witnesses in the inquiry.

Mr. Brobst's action March 12 in presenting the statement of the hospital's 1951 financial position to Attorney-General Porter resulted in the setting up of inquiry commission. The accuracy of the statement has been questioned by several inquiry witnesses.

Mr. Laird also urged that the hospital board be dissolved and the institution be run by a board similar to that governing the city-operated Metropolitan Hospital.

He attributed the hospital's "uncomfortable difficulties. . .to the personal philosophy of the medical superintendent."

LUND, Sweden (AP)—Leading churchmen from 40 countries have made "little progress" so far in discussions toward overcoming centuries-old divisions among their churches, a spokesman said yesterday.

The third world conference on faith and order, attended by 230 theologians of the Anglican, Protestant, old Catholic and orthodox faiths, is in its seventh day. The meeting, sponsored by the World Council of Churches, has another week to run.

"There is no great optimism as yet about results," the spokesman said. "We are still more or less bogged down in comparing notes on one another's opposing positions and beliefs."

BERLIN (Reuters) — Refugee officials disclosed yesterday that more than 100 East Germans attending the 75th all-German Roman Catholic Church conference here have asked for political asylum in the west. They have refused to return to their homes in the Soviet zone.

Some 60,000 East Germans have streamed into Berlin for the conference.

Order Curfew In Africa Against Secret Rebel Sect

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—The government yesterday ordered a curfew in two African areas of North Kenya in a move against the illegal "Mau Mau," a primitive secret sect sworn to "chase the white man out of Kenya."

The order came as a wave of crime swept the British colony and petty gangsters were being rounded up here at the rate of 100 a day.

Mau Mau—a Kenyan expression meaning "hurry, hurry"—is believed to have organized the crime wave to harass the authorities.

The sect, formed after the war, carries out primitive oath-taking ceremonies. Africans are forced to become members at a blood-drinking ceremony, each new member taking seven sips of sheep's blood and swearing the oath of allegiance seven times.

Most Africans fear they will die if they break the oath and little information reaches the authorities. The sect is known to be strongly organized in the Nyeri and Nanyuki districts, where the curfew has been imposed.

Mau Mau has also waged a campaign of desecration in Christian churches in recent months.

The theme of the sect is that Africans should return to their old customs and abandon western ways brought to African by the white man.

Canadian Choir Helps Pass Time

SOUTHAMPTON (Reuters) — A mixed choir of young Canadians helped hundreds of passengers pass the time yesterday while the liner Samaria was grounded an hour on a sandbank off Southampton.

The choir, made up of boys and girls from the Fairbank Presbyterian church in Toronto, sang until the ship was freed and then 11-year-old Ray McKay clambered up on a derrick and played his bagpipes until the liner docked.

The choir is here on a month's tour of England and Scotland, which will include a special performance before the Queen at Braemar Sept. 4.

Civic Hospital Asked To Establish Polio Centre For Treatment Of Victims

Would Get Financial Help From Province
Hospital Board Sets Up Committee
To Study Requirements For Treatment

A polio treatment centre may be established at Civic Hospital. It was revealed at the August meeting of the hospital board of governors Thursday night that the Ontario Department of Health has asked the board to consider setting up treatment facilities for polio victims with some assistance from the provincial government. Until this year, polio treatment centres were confined to large cities and university centres such as London, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa, Windsor and Kingston.

In view of the lateness of the season, Dr. R. S. Chenoweth, chairman of the medical staff said, "I don't feel it will be possible to get the centre properly organized before the polio season is over this year." He emphasized that details of the proposed treatment centre should be gone into thoroughly with the department of health and that representativcs of the medical staff and the board would be well advised to consult other hospitals to see what difficulties they have had to overcome.

Peterborough has been selected along with Kitchener and Sudbury hospitals to set up polio treatment centres in addition to the ones already operating in the larger cities. In the past, polio patients have been admitted to the isolation wing of the civic for treatment, then, if they require specialized treatment, they are usually sent on to Riverdale Isolation Hospital in Toronto.

SPECIAL MEETING

The medical staff held a special meeting Thursday to discuss the proposal. After the meeting, the staff advised the board that "there are many questions and problems, the answers to which are not readily available, which make it imperative that consideration and study be carried out not only by the medical staff but also by the hospital board."

Both the medical and surgical advisory committee and the medical staff have been discussing the proposed treatment centre for the last couple of weeks "in the light of present limited knowledge of the preparations required, the expense involved and any difficulties that may have cropped up in other centres."

Although an exchange of correspondence between hospital superintendent John Hornal and department of health officials has failed to clarify a certain amount of vagueness concerning the province's contribution to costs, the scheme proposed by the department is roughly this:

The hospital sets up a polio committee, made up of heads of the various hospital departments, such as medical, surgical, pediatrics, pathology and neurology. All polio patients are admitted as public ward patients. After the communicable stage has passed, the patients are removed to the appropriate department elsewhere in the hospital.

PAY $7 A DAY

$7 per day for each polio patient. The hospital can charge up to $3 per day for each polio patient, above the $7 per patient day grant.

It is suggested by the department that the difference between the grant and the per diem rate be recovered from the county for patients outside the city and from the city council for urban patients.

In addition, the department pays $1.40 per day for each patient in the isolation wing, which in the case of polio victims would be about seven days. Also, the department will pay the cost of nursing service for respirator cases at a rate agreed upon and $10 per eight-hour shift is suggested. The amount of time physio-therapists spend on polio patients is also kept track of and the department pays that portion of the physio-therapist's salary.

"It is a distinct indication of the quality of work being done in the city and the facilities in the hospital that Peterborough has been selected," Dr. Chenoweth said. "It could be an important thing for the community."

PROBLEMS

The difficulties in the way of setting up such a centre are: (1) Hospital equipment. Dr. Chenoweth said there is the question of whether sufficient respirators and the necessary physio-therapy equipment could be obtained soon enough this year.

(2) There is a general shortage of trained nurses, which is complicated by the fact that most nurses on call at the city nursing registry are married women with

25 More Farmers Leave For West

A contingent of 25 farm workers from the Peterborough district is leaving Saturday afternoon for Toronto, on a seasonal mission of helping in the harvesting of the wheat crop in the Canadian west.

W. H. L. Mellis, head of national employment service, said the timing of departure had been scheduled for arrival of the men in Winnipeg Monday morning. They could have gone today, but that would have left them with all Sunday on their hands in the Manitoba capital.

A similar group of 25 men took off from Peterborough last week. Prairie estimates expect that 2,500 helpers will be needed this season to take off the new record yield of wheat in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Injured Lad Given Surgery At Toronto

BANCROFT (ENS). — Injured when struck by a truck on 62 highway at Maynooth on August 14, Burlanyett Casselman, four-and-a-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Casselman, Maynooth, has undergone surgery at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. The lad suffered a depressed head wound, possibly a fracture. He was taken to hospital in Toronto after receiving emergency treatment at Bancroft.

Former residents of Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Casselman moved to Maynooth last year.

500 Gallons Of Milk Lost In Boiler Break

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Campbellford housewives had to go without milk Thursday as a result of a boiler breakdown at Rutherford Dairy.

A boiler used in the pasteurizing process refused to function properly and 500 gallons of milk spoiled before it could be repaired. There was no insurance on the milk against spoilage.

An emergency unit was finally pressed into service and one vat of milk was processed but this of course was not enough to supply all the dairy's customers.

Service men from Toronto arrived and had the boiler operating in time to ensure delivery of milk to all the dairy's patrons today.

Two Hydrants Not Enough —Fire Marshal

Two fire hydrants do not provide sufficient fire protection for the Civic Hospital in the opinion of Ontario deputy fire marshal J. E. Ritchie.

In a letter to hospital superintendent John Hornal, read at the August meeting of the hospital board of governors Thursday night, Mr. Ritchie said, "We do not consider the existing facilities adequate and we are quite sure no other fire protection authority would disagree with us."

When the hospital's insurance underwriters recommended in June that a six-inch watermain around the building be completed and five additional hydrants included in the original plans be installed to provide better fire protection, the board forwarded the recommendation to the Utilities Commission.

Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley immediately questioned the statement of the insurance inspector that the two existing fire hydrants were not enough. If the building is so fire proof that a sprinkler system is not considered necessary why do they want more hydrants was the nub of Dr. Langley's objection.

WOULD COST $6,000

General Manager Ross Dobbin estimated it would cost more than $6,000 to complete the work and install the five additional hydrants and finally the commission agreed to do the work if the city would pay the cost.

There the matter rests, although when the matter was brought up at the last utilities meeting, Dr. Langley repeated his earlier stand and added that "there is something cuckoo about the whole proposition."

Mr. Hornal forwarded a copy of the hospital blue prints to the deputy fire marshal for his opinion and the reply has pulled the carpet from under Dr. Langley's arguments that no more hydrants are needed.

"We do not consider the plan indicated on the blue prints as being extravagant or beyond reasonable requirements," the letter concluded.

The board criticized the commission for not having "the courtesy" to answer correspondence from the board and Mr. Hornal was instructed to supply the commission with a copy of the deputy fire marshal's letter.

SHOULD DO MORE

Alderman Doug. Miller said he did not feel the board had discharged its responsibility by bringing the matter to the attention of the utilities commission.

"It could be a very serious matter and whether the board of governors has done its duty or not would not help save the hospital or save the lives of people who might be killed," Mr. Miller added.

He said he felt that the board should follow the matter up to achieve some action and the rest of the board agreed.

If the board's letter to the utilities commission fails to accomplish anything, the board passed a resolution that a meeting with representatives of the board, the utilities commission and council be arranged.

In supporting his contention that the present facilities are inadequate if a disastrous fire should break out, the deputy fire marshal wrote, "Some of our worst fires originate and develop in highly fire resistant buildings. Contents are an important factor and in a hospital building, every possible precaution should be taken to ensure prompt and complete mastery of a fire before it or the resultant smoke causes injury or debility to the patients."

Research In Algae May Resume In '53

By JIM ENGLISH

LINDSAY.—The fate of algae research in the Kawarthas hangs on a meeting held here Thursday. Representatives of the federal and provincial governments met to discuss the work done this year and to assess the value of that work. Today, the 10 men taking part visited several of the algae collecting stations to watch the work at first hand.

Premier Leslie Frost added his testimony to the wealth of information already gathered. Appearing for a short time before the meeting, he briefly reviewed the history of the algae problem in the Kawarthas, referring particularly to Sturgeon Lake.

Health, agriculture and forestry departments were represented at the meeting, as well as the National Research Council.

Outcome of this meeting will not be known publicly for some time, but early indications, and certainly hopes, are that the research will continue for at least another year.

While the scientists thrashed out the relative value of work done so far by the research team of four men, cottagers in the Kawarthas could have seen a certain amount of "water bloom" on the lakes.

POOR GROWING YEAR

Opinion of the head of the research team, Dr. H. H. MacKay, was that there would probably be no great concentration of algae throughout the Kawarthas this year. Weather conditions that favor algae growth have not been common.

However, on at least two lakes —Sturgeon and Clear—there have been fairly heavy concentrations of algae.

Representing the Ontario Department of Health, Dr. A. E. Berry recalled one of the early instances of algae poisoning in this part of the province. The case he spoke of was at Fraser Lake in North Hastings County.

This lake, which had no outlet,

Award Money Raised To $6,243

The C.G.E. suggestion award to Clarence Waterhouse, formerly of the refrigerator department in the Peterborough works, has been increased to a total of $6,243.

At $4,600, the recognition of Mr. Waterhouse's practical idea was the largest individual suggestion award up to that time. It has been given further substance in the addition of $1,643.

Since receiving the first tribute from the company, Mr. Waterhouse has had to return to England temporarily on account of his wife's illness.

The $4,600 was calculated on seven months' production of refrigerators in the Montreal works. Adjustment for the full year swells the award to $6,243. The Waterhouse suggestion originated here when the department was within the Peterborogh works of C.G.E. It pertained to the cooling fins of the refrigerating unit, involving a problem which had been fully recognized, and was only waiting for a solution.

Previously the cooling fins were assembled in 20 individual pieces. Mr. Waterhouse proposed a way of making a continuous cooling fin from one piece of metal. Up to that time in 1950, no one had been able to imagine practically how that could be done.

Believeu Silent On Accepting N.H.L. Offer

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean Believeu still won't say if he'll make the jump this fall to pro hockey ranks with Montreal Canadiens.

"I want to see how things turn out in training before I make a decision," says "Gros Bill," the 21-year-old giant with the deadly shot.

The idol of Quebec city hockey fans joins Canadiens training camp Sept. 15 as he did last year.

Believeau's decision will be either to stay with Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League or join Canadiens in the National League.

Canadiens have had their eye on Believeau since he proved himself a sharp-shooting centre with Quebec Citadelles in junior competition two years ago.

LED LEAGUE

Last year, he moved to senior ranks with the Aces and led the Q.S.H.L scoring race with 45 goals and 38 assists. He also led the Aces to the Alexander Cup and was chosen the best centre, best rookie and best pro prospect among Quebec senior players.

Canadiens would like to have him because of his size—six feet, two inches and 215 pounds—and his effectiveness.

The terms Canadiens have offered Beliveau are secret. The money Aces paid him last year to keep him in Quebec city has been rumored as high as $15,000.

Bethany Lasses Lose In Durham Loop Fray

BETHANY (ENS).—The Bethany girls' softball team hit a losing streak this week as they were defeated in the North Durham League series by Yelverton here on Tuesday night by the score 9-8. The visitors took the lead in the first inning, three in the second, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh. Helen Neals and Helen Nesbitt shared the mound, Kerr receiving. Alta McGill hurled good ball for the Bethany team, Carr receiving. They got two in the third, five in the fourth and one in the sixth. Teams:

Yelverton—Neals and Nesbitt p, Grace Kerr c, R. Malcolm 1b, M. Kerr 2b, Stinson 3b, E. Malcolm ss, Mitchell lf, W. Malcolm cf, Nesbitt and Neals rf.

Bethany—McGill p, Carr c, Morrow 1b, Mulligan 2b, Fallis 3b, Edwards ss, J. Bigelow lf, H. Bigelow cf, G. Bigelow rf.

Umpires—Bert Ginn and Russell Kerr.

In an exhibition with Newcastle here on Wednesday night the visitors had a 16 to 11 score as they led off with five runs in the first adding five in the second, three in the third, one in the fifth and two in the seventh. Parker started on the mound and was replaced by Bonathon in the last of the second; Ash receiving. Garron played an outstanding game as short stop, leading at the bat with two triples, one of which accounted for three runs in the second; Gray also got a triple.

Mulligan hurled good ball for the Bethany team, until relieved by Bristow in the seventh, Carr receiving. They counted one in the first and 10 in the second. Mary Edwards played an outstanding game at short stop as did Hilda Bigelow in centre field. Her homer in the second with bases loaded brought in four runs. Teams:

Newcastle—Parker and Bonathon p, Ash c, Gray 1b, Stoneburg and Allison 2b, Toms 3b, Garron ss, Enright lf, Embley cf, Bonathon and Brown rf.

Bethany: Mulligan p, Carr c, Fallis 1b, Evelyn Stinson 2b, M. Stinson 3b, Edwards ss, Janet Bigelow and Gladys Bigelow lf, Hilda Bigelow cf, G. Bristow rf.

32 Canadian Cattle Leave U.K. For Home

LONDON (Reuters)—Thirty-two Canadian air cadets took off for Canada today, ending a month-long visit to the United Kingdom. The cadets were scheduled to leave yesterday but their flight was delayed by weather conditions.

A 33rd member of the party, WO1. George McMahon of Windsor, remained behind in hospital. McMahon was operated on last night for acute appendicitis and now is in the R.A.F. hospital at suburban Uxbridge. His condition today was described as good.

Try For New Record

BELFAST (Reuters)—The British Canberra jet bomber, which already holds the record for the east-west crossing of the Atlantic, is expected to make an attempt on the record for the double crossing soon, it was learned today. The English Electric Company, builders of the aircraft, are planning the attempt between Northern Ireland and Gander, Nfld.

Freed From Menace

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Five years of spraying by planes against the tsetse fly has freed more than 3,000,000 acres in South Africa from the menace of sleeping sickness, it is officially estimated. The fly spreads the deadly sickness among humans and animals.

Research In Algae

and appeared to be spring-fed, was covered with algae in the summer of 1924. Twenty cattle, several horses and other animals died of drinking the water.

Evidence gathered at the lake indicated that algae were to blame for the poisonous quality of the water. This was one of the first cases in which algae were pointed to as the cause of animal death.

BECOMES TOXIC

Algae are not poisonous when living; it is only at certain stages in its decomposition that it takes on a toxic quality. This toxicity lasts for only a short period of time, said Dr. Berry, which may be from several days to a week.

In this poisonous state, it is definitely lethal to cattle and horses. Enough of it can kill a cow in five minutes. Humans are less likely to drink from algae-covered water and thus the danger is less for them.

Dr. Berry said that algae could be dangerous to humans, but he knew of no instance in which a person was affected by it.

The research team at Lindsay is most interested in the two forms of algae which become toxic when they decompose. To the scientist, these are known as microcystis and anabaena.

The class of algae to which these two toxic forms belong is known as the blue-green, or cyanophycese. These blue-green algae are the kind that occur in the Kawarthas.

Beneath a microscope, they can be seen in several forms. The microcystis is a blob of matter with tiny dark specks in it. Some non-toxic forms look like blades of grass, others like tiny coil springs.

SAMPLE COLLECTIONS

These samples of algae have been collected by towing a silk trap behind a boat, and have been taken from 14 collecting stations scattered through the Kawarthas from Lakefield around to the Scugog River.

Blue-green algae are free-floating; that is, they need no rock to attach themselves to. They grow and reproduce while floating in the water.

Conditions that favor speedy reproduction are: lots of sunlight, warm shallow water, calm water, and the presence of minerals in the water.

Whether raw sewage in water provides minerals to help their development and increase is not known. But this much is known: last year, when Lindsay was dumping raw sewage into the Scugog River, algae were plentiful in the Kawarthas, more so than this year; now, Lindsay has a sewage treatment plant and there are fewer algae.

At the laboratory located in Lindsay's pump house, Dr. McKay and the three other members of the research team are studying the quantitative distribution of the algae, the factors responsible for their distribution, and the methods that might be used to curb their growth.

Other members of the research group are: Dr. E. O. Hughes, of the National Research Council, J. H. Neil, of the Ontario Department of Health, and David Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Mitchell, of Geraldine Ave.

TEST WITH MICE

At the laboratory are kept several dozen white mice, which serve as test animals to determine the toxicity of the decomposing algae. So far, the only effect produced by injecting algae is a temporary one.

Natural enemies of the algae, said Dr. MacKay, are the tiny crustacea which normally inhabit water. In turn the fish feed on the crustacea. This, said Dr. MacKay is a normal cycle of marine life.

But when weather and water conditions favor the algae, they grow out of all proportion to the number of crustacea which consume them. These conditions are usually present in the dog days of summer, and it is under these conditions that water "blooms."

Fortunately, the two toxic types are only a small percentage of the algae found in the waters of the Kawarthas.

COPPER SULPHATE KILLS

Research done in recent years at the University of Wisconsin has shown that copper sulphate will kill algae. Dr. A. E. Berry, chairman of the committee which met Thursday, said that copper sulphate is good, but to carry out an extensive program of algae killing would be too costly with that chemical.

Dr. MacKay said work at the laboratory would end some time toward the end of the month. He

Louis Predicts Jersey Joe Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis, eminent thespian, turned ring expert long enough yesterday to predict that Jersey Joe Walcott will clobber Rocky Marciano in their heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia Sept. 23.

"Old pappy is too smart and tricky," the Brown Bomber said. "He'll run Marciano crazy moving in and out and, don't forget, he's got a mean right hand lick. It's quick and it'll pulverize you."

The former king of the heavies unburdened himself of these remarks at a tete-a-tete tossed at one of the fashionable mid-town bistros to announce plans for the projected movie on Joe's life: "The Joe Louis Story."

The Bomber, who looks happier and younger than he has in years, will play a stand-in—in the fight scenes—for the character picked to play Joe Louis.

Grain Handlers Discuss Strike

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Some 1,500 grain handlers at the lakehead will vote Tuesday on whether to strike to enforce wage demands, it was announced last night at a meeting of Lodge 50, Elevator Division of the Brotherhood of railway and Steamship Clerks (T.L.C.).

National Vice-president Frank H. Hall of the Brotherhood said negotiations reached a stalemate at Winnipeg last week.

The union is demanding a 30-cent hourly wage increase and a 40-hour work week. Present rate is $1.17 an hour for a 48-hour week.

A company offer of nine cents increase and a 44-hour week was turned down.

Deadline for return of strike ballots is Sept. 3.

families and reluctant to look after polio victims.

(3) Would the accommodation in the present isolation wing be sufficient?

(4) What is the geographic area the department expects that the Peterborough centre would serve?

(5) What would be the hospital's financial responsibility in establishing and maintaining such a centre? The staff feels that a clear cut understanding as to what assistance the government is prepared to provide should be arrived at before any action is taken.

On the recommendation of the medical staff, the board asked the staff to form a committee along the lines of the Polio Committee suggested by the department, to investigate the matter thoroughly and report back to the board as soon as possible.

Can't Go To London Unless Invited—Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A spokesman for the Imperial Household today said "it is up to Buckingham Palace to invite Japanese to the coronation" of the Queen next year.

"It is unthinkable," he added, "that we discuss arrangements before receiving an invitation."

An informed source in London had said that plans to have members of the Japanese royal family attend the coronation had been dropped at least temporarily because of British resentment over jailing of two British sailors in Japan.

Michigan Publisher Elton Eaton Dies

OSCODA, Mich. (AP)—Elton R. Eaton, veteran Michigan newspaper publisher and state political figure, died here last night at his summer home.

Eaton, 71, suffered a heart attack Aug. 8.

Eaton worked on newspapers in Michigan, Missouri, and Wisconsin, before purchasing the Plymouth, Mich., Mail in 1930 which he directed until his retirement in 1948.

Twice elected to the state legislature, Eaton bowed out of the republican senatorial race in 1940 in favor of the late Sen. Arthur E. Vandenberg.

Obituary

GEORGE O'DONNELL

DOWNEYVILLE (ENS)—General storekeeper at Downeyville for the past 30 years, 63-year-old George O'Donnell suffered a heart attack and died Thursday night. He was found dead in bed this morning.

Born in Orillia, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Donnell, Mr. O'Donnell moved to Downeyville 30 years ago and established his store.

He was a veteran of the First World War.

Surviving are his widow, the former Mary Harrington, a son Michael, and a daughter Pauline, who was to be married on Saturday. A sister in Orillia also survives him.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The funeral will be held Monday from the Burrows Funeral Home, Lindsay, to St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, where mass will be held at 10 a.m. Burial will be in St. Luke's cemetery.

Quebec Police Identify Dead Hitch-hiker

MONTREAL (CP)—Quebec provincial police said today papers found on the body of a hitch-hiker killed in a traffic accident near Three Rivers, Que., Sunday last, identified him as Ralph Webster Eveleigh, 26, of St. Paul's Ont.

Police said they first believed the victim was Fred J. Eveleigh of Stratford, Ont., father of the youth, but are now convinced it was the son.

Escapes County Jail Police Press Search

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Police pressed a search today for Cas Martin, 26, who escaped from Lincoln County jail yesterday by stacking garbage cans in the prison yard and clambering up them to reach the top of the wall.

Martin was arrested in Chicoutimi, Que., July 29 on a charge of stealing an automobile at Queenston, Ont. He had been scheduled to appear in court here today.

Belleville Pair Wins Doubles

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A mixed doubles bowling tournament was held here Wednesday evening. The tournament drew a full entry, with a number of pairs being disappointed due to the fact that only 32 entries could be accommodated. The greens were in good shape and the competition was keen. Pairs from Belleville, Kingston, Stirling, Brighton, Madoc, Trenton, Peterborough and Campbellford competed.

The winners were:

Three-game winners—1, J. W. Davison and Mrs. Mott, Belleville; 2, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Martin, Peterborough; 3 and 4 (tied), Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kingston, Campbellford.

High for two wins went to Mr. and Mrs. W. Fuller, Trenton, and for one win to Peter Locke and Mrs. Percy Locke, of Madoc.

Scores were: For 3 wins: Davison, Belleville, 45 plus 9; Martin, Peterborough, 44 plus 6; Bennett and Kingston, Campbellford, 36. For 2 wins: Fuller, Trenton, 40 plus 6; Wiggins, Campbellford, 38; Hinton, Kingston, 34 plus 4; Elliott, Stirling, 34 plus 8; Thorne, Brighton, 38 plus 9; Netley, Brighton, 31 plus 8; Price, Belleville, 30; Putnam, Campbellford, 34; Meyers, Campbellford, 40; P. M. Locke, Madoc, 33 plus 2; McMullen, Campbellford, 34 plus 2.

For 1 win: Peter Locke, Madoc, 41 plus 4; Sloggett, Campbellford, 29; Dearborne, Peterborough, 31; Vice, Campbellford, 31; Renaud, Peterborough, 31; Taylor, Campbellford, 32 plus 2; Conn, Brighton, 30; Carleton, Stirling, 32 plus 3; Penrose, Peterborough, 24; Hutchinson, Peterborough, 30; Smith, Campbellford, 32.

For no wins: Vinc, Belleville, 21; R. Locke, Campbellford, 23; McCorquodale, Peterborough, 23; Colling, Belleville, 22.

3 Masked Thieves Slug Garage Caretaker

TORONTO (CP)—Three masked thieves slugged a garage caretaker in suburban Islington early today and got away with between $300 and $400.

The caretaker, Reginald Saville, 57, is in hospital in fair condition.

Mrs. Richard Jackson

NORWOOD — (ENS) — The funeral of Mrs. Richard Jackson was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the McConnell-Warner funeral home, Norwood, with the Rev. H. E. Peasgood of Christ Anglican Church officiating and the Rev. H. R. Wright of Norwood United assisting.

Burial was in Riverside cemetery, Linsday.

Mrs. Jackson, the former Dorcas Young Stinson, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Basil Tucker, following a short illness.

She was born 88 years ago near Wellington, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Stinson. Most of her life was spent in Lindsay district.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Basil Tucker (Verlie).

Pall-bearers were: Walter Bitten, Rork Ferguson, William Montgomery, Bert Scott, Armar Weir and J. C. Riseborough.

Boarding House Just A Joke

VICTORIA (CP)—Junkman Harry Haigh admired his new house today—next door to the lieutenant-governor's mansion — and said he hopes to instal apartments in the top floor.

But he said his earlier remarks about turning the 12-room Tudor-style mansion into a home for down-and-outers shouldn't be taken seriously. "I was only kidding," he said.

In any event, Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace won't be entertaining next to a boarding house in the near future.

Junkman Haigh, unsuccessful mayoralty candidate last December, plans to add the apartments only "when the city gets some sense."

He was referring to a recent amendment to a zoning by-law which prohibits exterior alterations to homes in the area.

Will Stand Trial

CORNWALL (CP)—Roland Seguin, 20, of Cornwall yesterday was committed to stand trial on a motor manslaughter charge arising from a traffic accident last April 28 in which his uncle, Lindsay Beauvais of Cornwall was killed.

Marines Take First One Over Woollens

Marines beat Woollens 9-6 on the Quaker diamond last night to open their best-of-three Industrial Fastball League semi-final series. They kept picking away at the ball to notch a run in the first inning, adding a pair in the third, one in the fourth, two more next time up and three in the sixth. Downer hit a homer and triple while Corrigan smashed out two homers in Marines' attack.

Woollens counted a run each in the first, second, sixth and eighth chukkers, with two in the ninth as they made a belated bid in a vain effort to tie it up. Noakes' homer helped in the last stanza to make it close in a keen contest. Teams:

Woollens—Welchorek 3b, Killingbeck 2b, Noakes c, Leonard 1b, Anderson ss, Coughlin p, Doris p, Schell cf, Manbeck cf, McMillan rf, High lf.

Marines—Page rf, Gordonier 1b, Downer 3b, Corrigan cf, Halliday 2b, Montgomery lf, Broadhurst ss, Mongram c, Doris p.

Killed By Car

SUDBURY (CP)—Joseph Florian Dobois, 70, was killed last night when struck by an automobile. He was this northern Ontario city's sixth traffic victim this year.

A KNIFE BOX that offers both convenience and protection against sharp edges may be quite easily fashioned from a block of white pine — with strips along the sides — and end and bottom of the same material.

First make cuts in the main block with a saw; then add sides, base and front end. Just as a guide to dimensions: a box to hold three paring knives and one kitchen or table knife should be about 4 ins. wide; 2 ins. deep, and 10 ins. long.

Three Pickets Convicted Of Besetting

WATERLOO (CP)—Three more pickets from the strike-bound Waterloo Sunshine Company were convicted yesterday of besetting and given suspended sentence. Forty-nine more similar charges remain to be heard.

Crown Attorney H. L. Daufman observed that if trials continue at the present rate—an average of 2½ hours to each case—the court will be required to sit eight hours a day for 24 days.

The trials were adjourned yesterday until Sept. 2 following a conference among Magistrate J. R. H. Kirkpatrick, defence counsel E. B. Jolliffe and Mr. Daufman.

The charges arise from an incident Aug. 11 when pickets allegedly prevented the general manager's motor-car from leaving company grounds.

Convicted yesterday were: Norman Charbonneau, Bridgeport; John Brown, 18, Waterloo, and Roberta Chandler, Kingsdale.

The strike of some 300 workers, in progress since July 3, was called when the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and the company failed to agree on a wage contract. The union seeks a 30-per-cent across-the-board increase. A conciliation board recommendation of a 10-cent-an-hour increase was rejected by the union. Basic wage was $1.05 with the average rate $1.20.

RETURN TO DIEPPE—A party of 28 Canadians, veterans of the Dieppe raid of 10 years ago, march past the Brighton and Hove Peace statue erected to honor the heroism of Canadian troops who took part. Defence Minister Rene Pleven, of France, unveiled a memorial at Puys, outside Dieppe, where about 6,000 troops, most of them Canadians, made five separate landings. Nearly half were killed, wounded, missing or captured. The salute at Dieppe is taken by J.S. P. Armstrong, Ontario agent general in Great Britain, who also represented the Canadian Veterans Association of the United Kingdom. With him are the mayors of Brighton and Hove.

Seize Suspect After One Year

TORONTO. — Almost a year after P.C. Robert Jenkins was assaulted while arresting a man, William George Hall, 19, of Lippincott St., was arrested and charged with the offence Thursday.

The arrest was made by Dets. John Gillespie and William McNeely. Police said they found Hall working on the cleaning staff at the C.N.E. grandstand. He appeared in court yesterday and was remanded until Aug. 29.

The assault on P.C. Jenkins occurred last Oct. 27. According to police, he was patrolling his beat on Queen near Massey about 2 a.m. when he saw a man trying to steal a radio from a car parked on a service station lot at that corner.

P.C. Jenkins arrested the man and was taking him to the station.

A second man the police believed to be a lookout attacked the officer and knocked him to the ground. While P.C. Jenkins tried to subdue the first, the second kicked him about the head.

They relieved him of his revolver and Jenkins said the first kept telling the other to shoot. Finally the two left him lying in the street and escaped in a waiting car.

Jenkins was taken to hospital where he was treated for multiple cuts about his face and eyes.

Demand U.S. Envoy Recalled From Greece

ATHENS, (AP)—The pro-government newspaper Elliniki Imera today demanded the withdrawal from Greece of United States Ambassador John E. Peurifoy because he urged elections for a new Greek government soon.

It was the most bitter attack on Peurifoy since he remarked to Greek reporters two days ago that a new government would be in a better position to attack the country's pressing economic problems.

MacFadden Plans Jump Over Paris

PARIS (AP) — Bernard MacFadden's lawyer said here Thursday taht the City of Paris had given permission for the 84-year-old muscle man to make a parachute jump over the city. MacFadden celebrated his 83rd birthday last year by parachuting into the Hudson river near New York city.

Crime Committee Laws Encouraging To Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Estes Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat, said today he is encouraged by enforcement of the laws his crime committee helped enact, but wants Congress to approve more of its recommendations.

In a statement Kefauver, chairman of the Senate crime investigating committee during most of its life, said he has received "encouraging reports" from the Justice and Treasury Departments. These show, he said, that they are following through on the committee's recommendations.

The recommendations would require racketeers to keep records and produce a statement showing their net financial worth They would also prohibit deduction of illegal gambling losses from income tax returns.

SOMETHING DRASTIC

Figures in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, meanwhile, show something pretty drastic apparently going on among the country's gambling fraternity.

In the wake of the crime committee investigation last year, Congress passed a law requiring gamblers to pay a $50 occupation tax every year, plus a 10-per-cent excise tax. Many gamblers were wary of the law since it registered them in a profession outlawed in most states. Nevertheless, before last June 30, a total of 22,401 gamblers had registered.

Since July 1, start of the new fiscal year and time for getting new stamps, only 3,950 gambling stamps were bought, the bureau reported today. Officials were not sure whether, on the strength of a district court ruling that the tax is unconstitutional, gamblers had decided the Supreme Court will overthrow the law and had held off buying stamps.

OCEAN TRIPS can prove tiresome, even if a new and strange home awaits the traveller. These two young immigrants catch a five-minute nap atop a pile of baggage, awaiting permission to enter Canada for the first time. They are both from Germany.

Chiang Predicts New Invasion

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's official government newspaper today predicted that the meeting in Moscow of top Communist Chinese and Soviet officials will result in "a new Communist invasion in southeast Asia."

The Central Daily News offered these reasons:

1. United Nations forces have halted "Kremlin aggression" in Korea.

2. Russia needs rubber, tin, and other vital products available in southeast Asia.

3. The time is ripe for an invasion, because it would be supported by Communist fifth columns in southeast Asia.

4. Naval forces, of which Russia is short, would not be needed to "overrun Indo-China and the Malayan peninsula then. . .Sumatra, Indonesia, Sarawak and the Philippines.

Teen-Agers Cut Arm Initials

TOLEDO (AP)—A new craze among 'teen-agers, the burning or cutting on to their arms of their lovers' initials, was under investigation here today.

Policewoman Mary Gilley said the fad has been limited to frequenters of one particular ice-cream store.

A 14-year-old girl admitted she used a razor blade to scar on her arm the initials of her two boy friends, and later cut the initials of another boy on the arms of his girl friend.

Policewoman Gilley said the "proper thing" to do, under the new 'teen-agers' code, is to sear the initials on to the skin with a heated penknife.

Fish Come In Swarms As Man Calls Them

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP) — Byrd Squire says when he stands on the bank of his pond and calls, "fishie, fishie," catfish assemble by hundreds as close to him as they can get.

Charles Brown, Sullivan newspaper man, vouches for the claim. He says he and more than a hundred other persons have watched Squire's fish-calling act at random spots around the pond.

Squire says it's easy.

"I never lie to them. I feed them every time I call them."

Drank, Fought Jailed, Fined

After pleading guilty to drinking while on the interdicted list and assaulting a police officer, Coleman P. Derraine, 50, 220 Brock St., told Magistrate R. B. Baxter Thursday his wife was to blame for his difficulties.

His plea that it was all because his wife put him on "the Indian List" that he was in trouble failed to impress the Magistrate and he was sentenced to one month in jail on the assault charge and fined $200 or two months in jail on the liquor charge.

Derraine admitted being previously convicted by Magistrate W. R. Philp once before this year for drinking while he was on the forbidden list, but asked the Magistrate to impose fines in both cases, as he had his papers all ready to get out of town and go to the States.

The magistrate refused and said that if the fine was not paid, the two sentences would run concurrently.

As to assaulting constable Sherman Keliele and struggling with him when constable Keliele tried to arrest him on July 24, Derraine said he did not remember anything about it.

Constable Keliele said Derraine was so violent from drinking that it took both he and constable Ed. Niziol to finally subdue him and take him to the police station.

Bank Employees Strike In Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO (AP)—A moratorium on banking transactions was contemplated today by the Uruguayan Government because of a widespread strike by bank employees.

The government's national council will seek the moratorium unless the strike is settled within 48 hours.

Banking services were nearly paralyzed today when 3,200 employees left their jobs in a strike for more pay. The majority of banks closed their doors.

Named 'Miss Canada'

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Marilyn Reddick, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvard Reddick of Toronto, who was recently named "Miss Canada" in a Hamilton beauty contest, is the granddaughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Reddick. Rev. Mr. Reddick, who passed away a few years ago, was a United church minister who served in Bay of Quinte Conference and held pastorates at Springville and Campbellford.

Find Cabbie's Body

BORDEAU, France (AP)—An 18-year-old youth was arrested yesterday in a stolen taxi, with the murdered owner of the cab hidden under the back seat, Jacques Marnieres admitted, police said, that he killed the taxi driver when refused permission to drive the cab.

95 Doctors Strike

HELSINKI, Finland (Reuters)—Ninety-five assistant doctors in Helsinki's six state hospitals struck yesterday for a 60-per-cent pay raise. They continued to give emergency treatment.

Listening For Clues

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—Police here are keeping an ear cocked for clues. Somebody broke into the caretaker's shop at a cemetery and stole a handful of blasting caps.

Artist Improving

LONDON (Reuters)—Artist Douglas Chandor who caught pneumonia while painting a portrait of the Queen, is "very much improved," a medical bulletin said yesterday.

Jailed 10 Years

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Three young United States soldiers were sentenced to 10 years each in prison yesterday for leading a guardhouse riot.

Court Dismisses Forgery Count

BANCROFT (ENS)—A charge of forgery and one of uttering a forged document, against Kenneth E. Jackson, 25, Bancroft, were dismissed by Magistrate R. C. Jackson in Magistrate's Court at Bancroft on Wednesday. The charges were laid by Chief Constable Chapman after a local merchant, Emerson Laundry, received a worthless cheque at his store last month.

Jackson was defended by Ronald Cass, Belleville barrister. Louis Maraskas represented the Crown.

Five residents of Carlow township, Warner Mayhew, Ivan Mayhew, Merving Whyte, Everett Whyte and Durwood Lavoy, paid fines of $5 plus costs of $17.50 when convicted on charges of theft and malicious damage to a car owned by Nelson Harley, Boulter. They pleaded that their escapade was a "prank".

Gerald Cannon, Maynooth, was convicted of causing a disturbance in a Maynooth restaurant and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs. A warrant was issued for the arrest of a second youth involved in the fracas who failed to appear at the hearing.

John Ostroskie, Prince's Lake, and Bduce Easton, Bancroft, paid fines of $50 and costs each when they pleaded guilty to charges of driving while their ability was impaired.

On a written plea of guilty to a charge of careless driving, Leonard Stewart, Maynooth, was fined $20 and costs.

Watch Radioactive Weevils

PETAWAWA (CP)—A band of radioactive white pine weevils went through their paces yesterday for delegates to the sixth Commonwealth Forestry conference visiting the federal government's forest experiment station here.

The weevils are made radioactive by exposure to isotope cobalt 60 from the atomic energy plant at Chalk River and are released in the forest.

Scientists with geiger counters can then trace at any time their habits and movements. Moreover, by giving some weevils varying amounts of radioactivity, individual insects can be traced for more detailed study on how to combat the insects which cause heavy forest damage.

The experiment was one of several seen by the 100-odd forestry experts from commonwealth countries. About 30 delegates spent the morning visiting mills at nearby Pembroke while others attended a special session on silviculture here.

50 CGIT Girls Start 10 Days Of Camp Life

Fifty girls of 12 to 14 years established themselves in Camp Kawartha on Clear Lake on Thursday for this year's ten-day period of camp life according to Canadian Girls in Training tradition.

Majority of the girls are members of Peterborough C.G.I.T. groups but girls from Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Sutherland, Millbrook, and Lakefield groups are registered. The camp is sponsored by Peterbrough Girls' Work Board of which Miss Marion Pogue is chairman. Mrs. A. E. DeNure as chairman of the camp committee was in charge of personnel and Mrs. C. H. Crowe was registrar.

A bus loaded down with duffel bags, suitcases, cameras, etc., took the local girls into camp yesterday morning. The director and staff had gone in Wednesday to make ready, after they had been luncheon guests of the Work Board executive who entertained in the Y.W. cafeteria.

A well experienced camper and a member of the Toronto Work Board is director Mrs. June Phillips. Miss Lynn Davidson of Peterborough is waterfront supervisor again this year and Miss Ruth Glover of Toronto is the nurse. Mrs. Wagner and daughter Joan of Apsley are continuing in charge of cooking as they have done so well for the Y.M. and Y.W. camps this year. Mrs. Leitha Mansell of Peterborough is at the camp as business manager.

Counsellors include two girls from Lakefield, Misses Betty Jane Rath and Jeanette Staples, Miss Elinor Bowles from Springville, Mrs. Joan Herzog of Peterborough, Misses Helen Aird and Joyce Wood of Toronto and Miss Inez Watson of Hamilton, a graduate of the leadership training course at McMaster University.

STRAPS BACK ON GOWNS

PARIS—It is of importance to note that the strapless evening dress is no longer imperative. Shoulder straps have come back in the form of narrow bands of matching material, halter effects cut in one with the bodice, and there are broader shoulder coverings that are part of the bodices and often veil the top of the arms.

The strapless dresses still shown are usually accompanied by little spencers and fitted wraps complete with sleeves, thus forming evening and dinner dress in one.

CHEAP HANDLES

Canadian-made wooden broom and mop handles cost about 5½ cents apiece at the factory.

Lotta Dempsey Leaves Magazine Sept. 1

TORONTO (CP)—John P. Clare, 42, managing editor of Maclean's magazine for the last two years, has been appointed editor of Chatelaine, effective Sept. 1.

He will succeed Lotta Dempsey, former newspaper columnist and feature writer, who took over from Byrne Hope Sanders last November. An announcement from the MacLean-Hunter Publishing Company said Miss Dempsey will go back to writing.

No immediate appointment of a successor to Clare as managing editor of Maclean's will be made.

Shower of Goods For Ex. Booth By Hastings CWL

A shower of fruit, pickles and fancy goods for the St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary's booth at the Peterborough Exhibition was brought to a meeting of the Hastings sub-division of the C.W.L. held in conjunction with a social evening on Wednesday in the church hall at Hastings.

President Mrs. J. Collins welcomed visitors from Peterborough and Campbellford and district on this occasion. Mrs. F. Coveney of Hastings, convener for the St. Joseph's Auxiliary, introduced the Peterborough guests, Mrs. B. Monaghan, president; Mrs. J. V. Gallivan, past president; Mrs. D. Driscoll, first vice-president; Mrs. M. McConkey, convener of ways and means and Mrs. L. J. Lynch, publicity convener. A short resume of the work of the Auxiliary was given by these ladies.

Diocesan president of the C.W.L. Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. E. O'Connor, and Mrs. Doherty were present from Campbellford. Mrs. Smith gave an account of the work of Campbellford Auxiliary.

An enjoyable hour of euchre was indulged in with delicious refreshments being served afterward by the ladies of Hastings. Mrs. Gallivan expressed the sentiments of the visitors to their hostesses at the close.

NEW TYPE TAILOR MADES

PARIS — For casual morning wear in town and country, Paris suggests tweed tailor-mades and loose straight finger-tip jackets to match, rather than topcoats. The tailor-made and matching scarf, or shawl, is another favorite combination. Little wraps of this kind appear for all hours of the day with many shawls for evening wear, some in black jersey edged with fringe, other in wool lace or velvet, as well as in satin veiled with fine silk laces for gala occasions.

THE ENGAGEMENT is announced of Miss Anne Boyle, daughter of Mrs. H J. Boyle of Peterborough to Mr. Harold Taylor of Brockville. The wedding is to take place on Saturday, September 6th, in the George St. United Church.

Pearson Wedding Ottawa Saturday

OTTAWA (CP)—Patricia Lillian Pearson, 22, daughter of Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson and Mrs. Pearson will be married tomorrow to Walter Jones Hannah, 25, University of Western Ontario medical student.

Mr. Hannah is son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Hannah of St. Catharines.

Mr. Pearson will give his daughter in marriage. The four o'clock ceremony at Chalmers United Church will be performed by Dr. A.B.B. Moore of Victoria College.

The newlyweds will honeymoon at Montreal and Lac Beauport, Que. They will live in London, Ont.

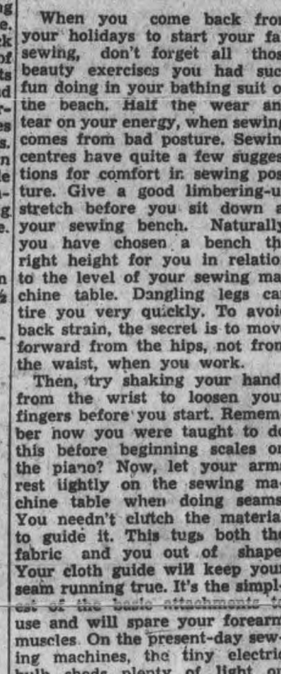
Cooking Apples Are In Supply

It's applesauce time! The early fall cooking apples are now in plentiful supply—a good buy, too. The varieties, Duchess and Yellow Transparent have been available for some time, and soon you'll be able to get Wealthy's as well!

For a different flavor, the home economists suggest that you sweeten applesauce with brown sugar instead of white, and cook whole cloves or a piece of stick cinnamon with the apples. Children and adults will both enjoy a tempting sherbet made by combining 2½ cups sieved applesauce with ¼ cup white honey, a few grains salt and ¼ cup sugar. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, adding ¼ cup sugar gradually, and beating until the mixture stands in peaks. Fold into the applesauce mixture, then pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze until solid.

Per capita expenditure on clothing, including children's wear, was $118 for Canada in 1951.

Correct Posture And Avoid Strain, Exercises Help



When you come back from your holidays to start your fall sewing, don't forget all those beauty exercises you had such fun doing in your bathing suit on the beach. Half the wear and tear on your energy, when sewing, comes from bad posture. Sewing centres have quite a few suggestions for comfort in sewing posture. Give a good limbering-up stretch before you sit down at your sewing bench. Naturally, you have chosen a bench the right height for you in relation to the level of your sewing machine table. Dangling legs can tire you very quickly. To avoid back strain, the secret is to move forward from the hips, not from the waist, when you work.

Then, try shaking your hands from the wrist to loosen your fingers before you start. Remember how you were taught to do this before beginning scales on the piano? Now, let your arms rest lightly on the sewing machine table when doing seams. You needn't clutch the material to guide it. This tugs both the fabric and you out of shape. Your cloth guide will keep your seam running true. It's the simplest of the basic attachments to use and will spare your forearm muscles. On the present-day sewing machines, the tiny electric bulb sheds plenty of light on your work, so you are not obliged to crouch to see what you're doing.

A dress form will save you all the contortion kind of exercising that tires but does not invigorate, when fitting. The find posture you assumed, when you had the form moulded to your figure, should prove an inspiration to keeping a straight back as you work. And did you do your cutting out at a dining room table, comfortably seated? Or at a kitchen table the right height for standing? There may be good exercises one can do on the floor, but cutting out a new fall outfit to a pattern is not one of them.

Many eye specialists suggest that people do not blink often enough when they are reading or sewing or doing close accounting work. Blink oftener as you sew. It rests your eyes. And glance away from your work every so often across the room or out the window and enjoy dreaming of how nice your new dress or suit is going to look when it's finished. It will rest your eyes and make you relax.

Look out—your dress is done. Don't you feel fresher and perkier than when you finished the last one?

WITH CORRECT POSTURE at the sewing machine, use only half the energy others do.

INSPIRATION IN JEWELRY

PARIS— Hubert de Givenchy has looked to jewelry for inspiration, and giant sapphire or garnet necklaces appear to loop across the backs of white evening dresses. Diamond necklaces and clips or brooches have provided the designs for more embroidered effects.

Teachers To Hire Consultant In Child-Guidance

TORONTO (CP)—The Federation of Women Teachers' Association of Ontario yesterday authorized hiring a professional consultant in child-guidance programs.

The research committee told the more than 300 delegates in annual convention that one of the federation's aims is to encourage Ontario public school women teachers to study the development and behavior of the child, the aims of education and mental health. The committee was headed by Helen Sheppart of North Bay.

Want "Dominion" Retained; Change In Estate Duties

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of University Women yesterday voted to urge that the government retain the words "Dominion" and "Royal" in the official Canadian vocabulary.

The triennial conference of the Federation also adopted a resolution asking the federal government to set up a council of arts, letters and sciences as recommended by the Massey Commission.

The Federation also will make representations to the Finance Minister on changes to the Dominion Succession Duties Act. A resolution adopted said that one-half of a joint estate should belong to a wife and be free of succession duties.

Harsh Words Once Uttered Often Difficult To Heal

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently I had a terrific quarrel with my father, and said some things for which I am very sorry. He said he never wanted to speak to me again. Twice I have tried to again. Twice I have tried to wrong, but he says he doesn't want to speak to me. How can I get him to listen to me?

T. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You must have wounded your father's feelings very deeply for him to refuse so steadfastly to speak to you. All you can do is renew your apologies at intervals until the hurt wears off a little. In the future, be more considerate of him and more careful of the things you say.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE'S NOT INTERESTED

DEAR MISS DIX: For two months I have been going with a boy I have learned to love very deeply. Neither of us has gone with anyone else in that time. The last time we were out together, he took me home, then told a boy friend to tell me he was going to school again and wouldn't see me for some time. I love him so much I wouldn't care if we couldn't go out. I have called him, have had my girl friend call him and have written asking him to change his mind. I am 16 and he is three years older.

JOSEPHINE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Better start at the beginning again with a new beau, Josephine. This one apparently has other intentions, and your persistent efforts to make him change them are driving him further away. After a friendship of two months, he can scarcely be expected to take a pledge of eternal devotion. You probably were altogether too possessive and demanding even during the brief two months of acquaintance.

The chances of getting him back are very slim and, whether you believe it or not, I assure you your heart is not irreparably broken.

DEAR MISS DIX: What can a girl do when she doesn't want to go steady with one boy, yet all the crowd assumes that she is? I have been going with a boy for six months and, though I like him very much, I would like to go out with other boys, as I think 17 is too young to go steady. How can I show other boys that I am available for dates? VIRGINIA P.

✧ ✧ ✧

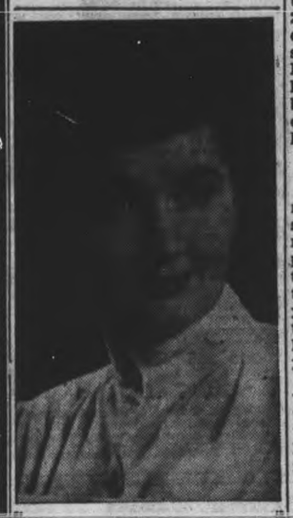
ANSWER: This is virtually impossible within the confines of your own crowd. The "going steady" custom of today limits a couple's dates to each other when they have gone out together only three or four times. The difficulty would be that other boys in the group are probably similarly bound to other girls. If you stop going with your present beau, naturally the friendship ends.

A situation like this is one of the pernicious effects of going steady yet, since it has become so entrenched as a teen-age custom, only time will change it—as it does all adolescent trends.

You might try inviting some other boy to a school dance or picnic, or some other gathering to which you are supposed to bring an escort. This will let the other boys know that you are not limited to one male companion, but whether they will take up the cue or not is another thing.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Which comes first—a man's wife or mother? My husband goes to see his mother every day during lunch hour, and often stops there on his way home from work. When he comes home, there is nothing but fault-finding. I know he loves his mother more than he does me. I am 26, he is 27, and we have no children, since I have lost several since our marriage six years ago. Now I don't think I will ever have one. My health isn't good, but my husband doesn't seem to care. Do you think I should send him back to his mother?



BARBARA L.

ANSWER: Are you sure that none of the fault lies within yourself? Your ill-health may have made you too demanding — too prone to nag. With no children to care for, you have too much time to brood, and you dwell on your husband's love for his mother to the point where jealousy has become an obsession with you.

Your husband should be more willing to help you overcome the trouble than to spend so much time at his mother's. He should at least come home to you directly from work, and try to cheer you up until your health improves to the point where you have a more wholesome outlook on life.

If neither you nor your doctor can convince him that he owes a duty to you, perhaps the best solution would be a temporary separation.

Westwood Gives Norwood $5 Fair Prize

WESTWOOD (ENS).—The Women's Institute met Tuesday afternoon in the community hall for the August meeting.

An invitation to attend the Trent River Institute meeting on September 11 was accepted; also an evening meeting at Buckhorn on August 26.

Arrangements to assist the Community Chest X-ray clinic on September 25 will be made at an executive meeting at the hall on August 22.

Current events of interest were given by Mrs. H. Pacey. A "word" contest sponsored by Mrs. W. Renwick was won by Miss Bessie Sargent. Mrs. Wilbert Graham gave a demonstration on pickled corn.

It was decided to donate a prize of $5 to the Norwood Fair board for the best half a dozen pint jars of pickles.

A "Treasure Trail" contest was conducted by Mrs. Eric Pulfer, in which each member took part. "Making a will" of one of the of the members created much amusement.

Plastic Raincoats Pretty

By GAILE DUGAS

For some time now, the matter of styling in plastic raincoats has been a disappointment to the average woman. But at last the situation is changing.

Many women, liking the plastic coat for its lightness, convenience and budget pricing, were repelled by its appearance. Fit was left entirely to chance and one size was supposed to do something for everybody.

Obviously, it just couldn't work out that way. So, small girls trailed around in what seemed to be shower curtains while tall girls had to hunch their shoulders to fit inside. The upshot of this all was that no one looked good on a rainy day.

High fashion styling, and attention to sizing, has come at last to the plastic raincoat, making it really pretty to see. An Ernest Engel design, this new coat (above) is cut with full back flare and deep raglan sleeves.

Water-repellent cotton fabric in a choice of colors is used to trim the standing collar, front facing, pocket flaps, armholes and push-up cuffs. The coat itself is translucent and is in a heavier weight than is customary for these coats. There's a matching umbrella.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Careful Calories' Count Will Help Cut Down Weight

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Some women may roll on the floor to rid themselves of surplus weight. Others count their calories.

The latter group will be interested in the booklet "Your Food and Your Figure" issued by the Ontario agriculture department. But they may get a shock from the calory chart of fancy foods.

A chocolate malted milk shake runs 500 calories; one piece of pie 300-400 calories; one serving of strawberry shortcake 400; one piece of chocolate layer cake 350; one chocolate bar 275 and one doughnut—just one—125 calories.

PEACHES AND CREAM

For a special treat later in the year, home economists of the consumer section, federal agriculture department, offer a recipe for "peach conserve."

Ingredients: Three medium oranges; three cups water; one six-ounce bottle maraschino cherries; nine cups sugar; eight cups peaches cut into small cubes.

Slice orange thinly then cut into cubes. Place in kettle, add water and simmer until tender but not soft (about 20 minutes). Meanwhile drain cherries, reserving the juice, and cut cherries into quarters.

To the cooked oranges, add peaches, sugar and the juice from cherries. Cook until thickened (about 20 minutes). Add cherries and boil five minutes longer. Pour into sterilized jars leaving at least one-quarter of an inch headspace. Cool slightly then pour a thin layer of melted paraffin over the jam. Leave until hardened and then add a second layer of paraffin.

SAVE THE WATER

Don't throw away the water in which your vegetables have been cooked. The department of national health and welfare says such water is rich in minerals and vitamins. It should be used to enrich gravies, soups or vegetable drinks.

The department also says that homegrown vegetables should form a part of the daily diet. Those grown in the garden or on nearby farms will be fresher and more flavorsome than those which travel from distant areas. Furthermore, the outside darker leaves are richer in vitamins than the paler ones inside.

What's Right?

Your husband often corrects your facts when you are telling a story.

WRONG: Stop in the middle of what you are saying to argue with him each time.

RIGHT: Tell him in private that you wish he wouldn't interrupt when you are telling a story.

WASHABLE WARDROBES

School Wear Takes Little Care

By ALICIA HART

Now that school is about to start, you know what it means to have fresh, clean clothes ready five days a week. While the youngsters are tackling the three R's, you have your own struggles with the W and I's—washing and ironing.

Well, this year you'll be overjoyed to learn you can cut that kind of homework almost in half. The stores are full of wonderful washables, many of them the no-ironing kind.

Orlon, a test-tube fiber, is made to look like chambray and cotton for your little girl's dresses, and it can go into the soapsuds in either a washtub or washing machine. Only a short wash and rinse period is needed. You don't have to wring these new fibres, either. Hang them up to drip dry, and the dress will be ready to wear the next day.

Pleated skirts stay that way permanently these days, and if they are of an orlon blend, they will come out of the washing as knife-edged as they went in.

Brother and sister can have outerwear that washes, too. There are 100 per cent orlon coats for the girls and all-nylon sports jackets lined in nylon fleece, or the rayon-and-cotton kind that is wool-and-nylon lined for brother.

Boys' trousers are being strengthened with 15 per cent nylon added to the wool content. You can also look for washable wool jersey. Nylon and dacron sweaters are warmer than toast, and can be sudsed out and hung over a rod to dry without losing shape or shrinking.

Dress your school brood in easy-to-wash clothing from head to toe this year, and take hours of work off your own schedule while you are it. The time saved will give you an excellent opportunity to concentrate on your own beauty care.

SCHOOL DAYS for brother and sister will find them dressed in completely washable wardrobes. Junior's trousers, shirt and jacket can all go right into the washing machine. Sister's dress, a brand new mixture of orlon and cotton, with detachable velvet trim—will need little ironing. Pre-soap the extra soiled spots on Junior's trousers before the regular laundering (insert).

QUESTION: Re leter from Whitehorse, Yukon, below is a recipe given recently . . . which turned out delicious when we tested it

PRESSURE COOKER CAKE
(Contributed by E. S.)

One-quarter cup butter, margarine or shortening, ¾ cup sugar, 1 egg, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, 1 and one-third cups flour, one-half teaspoon vanilla, 2 teaspoons baking powder. Cream butter and half of the sugar. Beat egg, add remaining sugar and add to butter mixture. Add flour with salt and baking powder alternately with milk. Have pressure cooker heated. Put 2 layers wax paper in bottom. Do not grease pressure cooker. Put in cake batter, fasten cover, but do not put on pressure. Place over low heat or on back lids of wood fire. Just so it will not burn. Add 20 minutes to cooking time. Test. Top will not brown but can be iced. E. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Thank you for this E.S. You did not give us the cooking time though. Time for this kind of batter for 2 layer cakes is usually 25 to 30 minutes. Those of you with small pressure cookers will have to try the recipe on your own type of stoves to discover the right time and temperature. If other readers have cake recipes that have been used successfully in pressure cookers I would appreciate hearing from them.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: . . . hope I do not commit any offense . . . I read about salt-free meals and as that takes me in I thought I would speak my piece. I have to do without salt and sugar . . . I do not think I am a quitter and tried hard but my stomach refused to tolerate meat and vegetables without salt . . . my doctor suggest "Diasol" . . . it costs $1. for 2 oz. but goes a long way and is worth it . . . I use "sucaryl" instead of saccharin . . . I would not be without either of them . . . I would much rather deny myself something else than do without these helps . . . and when I thought of the poor people without salt or sugar. I just had to write . . . Mrs. M. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Thank you for sharing your little comforts. I think many medical doctors suggest the use of a diasol to their patients on salt-free diets. Recently some of them have been suggesting monosodium glutamate too for it is the pure protein of wheat and has a flavor reminiscent of salt plus chicken. It is known by the trade name of MSG or Ac-cent. Sucaryl does not leave the bitter aftertaste that saccharin does—on overheating.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Request for recipes for cherry jam, canned cherries, gooseberry jam. Also how does one prevent cherries from shivelling up when canned? Would lemon juice preserve the color?—Mrs. Mary S.

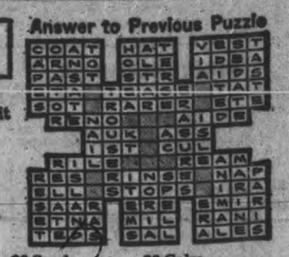
ANSWER:

CHERRY JAM — Two lbs. of washed, stemmed and pitted sour cherries, 7 cups sugar, 1 bottle liquid commercial pectin. Mash or grind cherries and add ¼ cup water to them and simmer for 15 minutes, covered. When simmering time is up, measure fruit — there should be 4 cups and if there are not, add boiling water to bring up to 4 cup measure. Add the sugar and bring to full rolling boil. Add ¼ teaspoon almond extract if desired. Stir and boil hard for 3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in the liquid pectin. Stir and skim for 4 minutes—this clarifies it and tends to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly into sterile jelly glasses and seal at once with new, very hot paraffin —adding a second coating when cold.



GOOSEBERRY JAM — Wash, top and tail 3 quarts gooseberries (12 cups); add 3 cups water and boil gently uncovered for 15 minutes. Add 7½ cups sugar and boil from 5 to 7 minutes. Test for thickness on cold saucer. Do not use overripe gooseberries or they will not "jell" as well. Pour into sterile jam jars and seal or coat with double coating paraffin.

CANNED CHERRIES — Wash, stem and pit cherries. Pack into sterile jars with sterile rubbers in position. Cover to within ½ inch of top with boiling hot syrup (1 cup sugar to each 1½ cups water). Seal to within ⅛ turn of tight. Process in boiling water bath 20 minutes for pints, 25 minutes for quarts. Remove from processor as soon as possible and tighten seal. Cherries will shrivel if too much sugar is used. I would have to see the method used to figure out what went wrong. Lemon is a bleach—benzoate of soda helps preserve color but is not recommended for home use.

Birth: most dangerous experience of life

Too many newborn infants still die needlessly — or are crippled for life — because of oxygen starvation while being born. (Is free use of pain-killing drugs one cause?)

In September Reader's Digest, J. D. Ratcliff gives facts about the phenomena of birth that every mother should know, tells how the toll of death and damage among the newborn can be reduced — how mother, doctor, and hospital can help.

House Raided Man Charged

A two-man anti-gambling squad from Toronto raided the home of Edward Alberico, 4 Aberdeen Ave., early Thursday evening. The raid was carried out by O.P.P. constables John Wesley Miller and constable Skelton of the provincial police anti-gambling branch in connection with an investigation into alleged bookmaking actvities of Alberico.

A bookmaking charge has been laid against Alberico as a result of the raid and he is being summonsed to appear in police court September 17.

Motor Swamped, Trio Spend Night On Island

PARRY SOUND (CP)—A United States tourist couple and a 16-year-old guide, dressed only in light summer clothing against below-50-degree temperatures, spent last night on a small island after their outboard motor was swamped.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cramer of Warren, O., and Dennis Corman of Parry Sound struggled ashore here today as two planes and a dozen boats searched for them.

The trio was fishing when choppy water flooded the motor and partly swamped the boat. Oars provided did not fit the locks and Cramer and Corman had to paddle to a nearby island where they spent the night in an empty cabin.

Early today they dried the motor and returned to this Georgian Bay community.

Bridgenorth Girls Edge Curve Lake 11-9

BRIDGENORTH— Bridgenorth women's softball team Thursday night defeated the Curve Lake team 11-9 in a game at Bridgenorth.

The Curve Lake te won the first game last week and the third and deciding game will be played this weekend.

Thursday night's game was close throughout, with good playing on both sides. Avis Doughty of the Bridgenorth squad knocked out the game's only home run, bringing in two on bases.

Strong Huron Waves Damage Shoreline

SARNIA (CP)—Strong north winds last night whipped up mountainous waves in Lake Huron and caused heavy erosion damage to the lake shore road shoreline between Sarnia and Bright's Grove.

Scores of small boats were swept from their moorings.

Recently constructed groins stood up to the storm battering but protected only a small area.

Driver Arrested

WELLAND (CP)—Spotting a car stolen yesterday in Niagara Falls travelling on a Crowland Street last night, Constable Martin Walsh gave chase and arrested the driver, Mike Katch, 35, of Crowland. A rifle and ammunition were found in the car. Katch was turned over to Niagara Falls police.

Chronic Drunk Fined

Joseph Heffernan, Ford Ave., pleaded guilty to a drunk charge before Magistrate R. B. Baxter on Thursday and was sentenced to four months definite and two months indeterminate in reformatory. Heffernan, a chronic imbiber who appears frequently on drunk charges, admitted two previous convictions on the same charge.

Licence Revoked KeeneManDrove Car Confiscated

Having his 1942 car valued at $1,000 confiscated, plus a fine of $25 and $2.50 costs, or 15 days in jail was the penalty imposed on Douglas Yaxley, R.R. 3 Keene today when he pleaded guilty to driving his car while the ownership permit was under suspension.

Yaxley who has a wife and three children to support lives near Keene and works for the city. In February, he was convicted on what was described as a "minor" careless driving charge.

His ownership permit was suspended in April as a result. Today at 6.30 a.m. Yaxley was arrested as he was driving into work and charged with driving while his ownership permit for the car was suspended.

Yaxley told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that he had been coming into work with his brother who had been living with him until about three weeks ago. There is no bus coming into Peterborough that early he said and so he had no alternative but to drive his car in order to get into work on time.

Before being convicted of careless driving, Yaxley said he had never been in court before. However, the penalty imposed by the department of highways on everyone convicted of carelessness in connection with an accident resulted in Yaxley losing his car today.

Everyone convicted of careless driving has his licence suspended automatically, until he can file proof of financial responsibility, Yaxley told Magistrate Baxter he was trying to get the necessary insurance but he still had to get into work until it came through.

He admitted to O.P.P. Cpl. Joe Hanson that he had picked up a pair of licence plates from a wrecking yard, which were on the car when he was arrested.

"I don't make the law, and I suppose there is no reason why I should worry about what happens to you," commented Magistrate Baxter after he had carefully questioned Yaxley as to why he was driving the car.

Forfeiture of the car is automatic under the Highway Traffic Act for conviction on the charge and Magistrate Baxter imposed the minimum fine, adding that "by losing your $1,000 car you have been probably punished enough."

"There is one branch of opinion that everyone should have insurance but the legislature does not go quite that far," he continued. "They say that anyone who is found responsible for an accident must have insurance. The car will have to be seized and sold. It is a severe penalty but they have to make it severe or people will go on doing the same as you have."

Cpl. Hanson said that complaints had been received that Yaxley was driving his car to work and he observed him first at Downers' Corners and followed him into the city.

Japan Abandons Crown Prince's Coronation Visit

LONDON (AP).—Plans to have some members of the Japanese Royal family attend the coronation of Queen Elizabeth next year have been dropped, at least temporarily, because of British resentment over the jailing of two British sailors at Kobe, an informed source said Thursday.

The understanding in London is that Japanese Premier Yoshida had advised Emperor Hirohita to abandon arrangements, which had been taking form, to send Crown Prince Akihito to the coronation, and that the scheme has been shelved the source said.

The London Daily Mail, which carried the same report, said the Emperor is disappointed because he had been eager to send the Crown Prince abroad to give him some contacts with the outside world.

The two sailors were sentenced to serve 2½ years for robbing a Japanese taxicab driver of about one pound 14 shillings. British authorities protested that the sentence was excessive and now are challenging the competence of Japanese court to try men in British armed services.

The Japanese embassy here said it was not concerned in arranging a visit by any member of the Japanese Royal family. Buckingham Palace made no comment.

Unhurt In 20-Foot Fall

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters)—Peter Dangerfield, 2½, fell 20 feet from his bedroom window here yesterday, hit a clothes line and bounced squarely into a baby carriage. He landed on top of his four-month-old brother, but neither he nor the infant was hurt.

MAIDEN VOYAGE — Two pretty Netherland girls wave a welcome to the Holland-America liner Maasdam as she steams under Montreal's Jacques Cartier bridge on her maiden voyage from Rotterdam. The first foreign passenger ship to make a maiden voyage to Canada, the Maasdam's visit was in tribute to Canada's part in the liberation of Holland during the Second World War.

Dollar Premium Worries B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia plans to discuss with the federal government the situation caused by the high premium the Canadian dollar now commands over the U.S. dollar.

Mr. Bennett said in an interview yesterday:

"Our metals and forests industries in B.C. are being badly hit by the premium."

B.C. exporters must take payments in U.S. dollars.

R.A.F. Plans To Train German Jet Airmen

LONDON (AP) — The London Daily Herald says today the R.A.F. will train a "substantial number" of German airmen as jet fighter pilots.

The paper says that when trained the pilots will be assigned to the main tactical air component supporting German divisions of the projected West European army.

Rain Floods Houses

TORONTO (CP)—A cloudburst in suburban Scarboro township yesterday flooded cellars and streets and swamped lawns and gardens. Police said some residents had to open doors to allow trapped water which came in windows to run out.

Protests U.S. Money Methods

VANCOUVER (CP)—A British oil engineer said yesterday an abundance of "cheap American money" is throwing a barricade in front of British firms which want to invest in Western Canada's oil industry.

Arthur Beeby Thompson of London added: "The prices that Americans, with their '10-cent dollars,' as they are called in Calgary, are paying for oil land are enormous.

"No Britisher would dream of paying so high. . . They will not pay the stupid prices asked for land, nor the development costs prevailing."

Of the Americans, he said: "They come in here and throw their money around—which they can do because they can write off losses against profits in their taxation reports."

EXPLOSION SITE—Canada is going to participate in the British atomic weapons test off Australia this fall. A team of scientists, possibly headed by Dr. O. M. Solandt, of the Defence Research Board, are expected to become the first Canadians to take an active part in a controlled nuclear explosion. Britain's first atomic explosion tests are expected to begin early in September in the lonely Monte Bello Islands, off the west coast of Australia. Inset is the 23,500 square miles testing area "declared dangerous to aircraft and shipping until further notice" by Australian and British naval authorities. The area is about 200 miles long.

Princess Enjoys Picnic, Dance

BALMORAL, Scotland (CP)—Bag-pipers on the lawn, a picnic on the moors and a dance in Balmoral castle last night all added up to a happy birthday for Princess Margaret, who turned 22 yesterday.

There were greetings from every continent and the day passed without new rumors that she has decided to marry.

Among the flowers sent to the princess was a mysterious bouquet of glistening white roses and gladioli wired by an unknown admirer in Danville, Ill.

Baby Abandoned

TORONTO (CP)—Parents of an abandoned five-weeks-old baby boy were sought today after the child was admitted to hospital with chest injuries. Police said the infant was found by the caretaker of a West Toronto hotel who heard it crying in one of the rooms.

Mass Rebellion Over Food At University

NAIROBI, East Africa (Reuters) "Matoke," a dish prepared from green bananas, was the cause of a mass rebellion yesterday at Makerere College.

The 250 students protested against continual serving of matoke for breakfast. They threated to go home unless they were served bacon-and-eggs breakfasts and meat dinners.

As a result, the college, located at Kampala, Uganda, was shut down a week early for the vacation period.

Matoke is a staple food of nearly all Africans, rich and poor, in Uganda.

In addition to matoke, the college offers students a supplementary diet of meat, fish, eggs, fresh fruit and vegetables.

Price For Beans Up 10 Cents Bushel

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The price for the 1952 crop of white and yellow-eye beans was increased by 10 cents a bushel under last year by the negotiating committee of the Ontario Bean Growers' Marketing Board meeting here yesterday.

For the period Aug. 25 to Dec. 31, 1952, the price will be $4 a bushel; from Jan. 1, 1953, until the end of the crop year the price will be $4.10 a bushel.

U.K. Exhibit Landed

TORONTO (CP)—Britain needs greater sales in Canada, the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine said last night at a dinner preceding the formal opening of the British Commonwealth exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition. He said the British motor show at the C.N.E. will be the finest yet presented in Canada.

TLC Asks Ottawa For Expanded Social Security

By JOHN LEBLANC

WINNIPEG — (CP)—Canadian labor's oldest and biggest central body—the Trades and Labor Congress—is calling on the federal government for long strides towards social security. The Congress, in views it recorded yesterday at its annual convention, wants an all-embracing security scheme, emphasizing health insurance but covering many other aspects of workers' lives. It also wants living costs held down by price controls and food subsidies; lowered taxation in the lesser-income groups; re-imposition of the war-time excess profits tax; federal aid on housing, and higher minimum-wage provisions in provincial laws.

These points were among those spelled out in a large group of resolutions dealt with by the Congress yesterday, the fifth day of its annual meeting. The convention is to conclude today.

ASK IMMIGRATION RESTRICTED

The T.L.C. also urged that immigration be restricted to make sure that outside workers do not take jobs away from Canadians, particularly in the cold-weather period of lowered employment.

The resolutions it adopted on social security called for a health insurance plan nationally that would provide all forms of treatment. It would be contributory.

Also on a contributory basis, the Congress urged in general terms that schemes be set up to give workers insurance against any form of incapacitation that deprives them of their jobs or involves them in expenses on health grounds.

The housing resolution called for federal help in low-rental housing and in the construction of occupant-owned homes. It was not adopted outright as a Congress declaration, but it was referred to the T.L.C. executive for "action."

DEBATE LIVELY

The immigration issue stirred up a debate between advocates and opponents of putting blocks in the way of free entry of immigrants to Canada.

The Congress view eventually was that there should be "restriction" of immigration in the low-work months, a modification of a previous stand that entry of new arrivals should be shut off altogether during the cold-weather period.

The T.L.C. also held that responsibility for immigration should be on the federal Labor Department, rather than the Citizenship and Immigration Department. It suggested appointment of a board to administer immigration, made up equally of representatives of labor, management and government. The resolution also said there should be a "complete revision" of federal policy on immigration, but it did not go into detail.

Canadian Buying Tapers Off, First This Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians tapered off their buying during June for the first time this year, but were still spending at a rate well above 1951.

In the first six months they spent $28,000,000 more than in the corresponding period last year for everything from furniture to clothing and radios to washing machines.

If they keep it up, Canadian buying will total more than $10,000,000,000 by the end of the year.

The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that retail sales in June totalled $978,263,000, compared with $940,218,000 in June last year. This brought the six-month total to a whopping $5,265,871,000 compared with $4,980,180,000 in the first six months of 1951.

JUNE FIGURE DOWN

The Bureau figures showed, however, that the June figure was down 7.1 per cent from the $1,053,488,000 spent in May. Retail sales have increased every month this year up to May, the highest spending month so far.

Half-yearly sales values in Ontario were $2,029,947,000 compared to $1,954,001,000 in the first six months of 1951.

Mock Attack Tests Made

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Canadian police and fire equipment sped across the Rainbow Bridge today, rushing to aid this industrial and resort city "stricken" by a mock atomic attack.

The mock bomb was dropped with military precision right on schedule at 9 a.m. EDT. It fell at the intersection of 24th street and Buffalo Avenue, devasting the southern part of the city for a 12-mile rdius.

At 9:15 a.m., the all-clear was sounded. Fifteen minutes later, the Canadian rescue and salvage elements raced across the bridge for the first time in a joint U.S.-Canadian civil defence drill.

RADIO AIDS

Meanwhile, word of the "attack" was spread rapidly by a network of three radio stations tied together under a new joint agreement by stations and newspapers of the two countries.

The stations, operating as civil defence units, were WHLD and WJJL of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and station CHBC of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Besides medical and rescue units from Niagara, Orleans and Genesee counties in New York state, similar civil defence teams from Lincoln and Welland counties in Ontario pitched in to help care for the 18,000 persons "injured" and the 8,000 left "homeless."

Bar Public, Press From Trial Of 12

PUSAN, South Korea (Reuters)—Public and press were barred from court today when the trial of 12 men, alleged to be implicated in an attempt on the life of President Syngman Rhee, continued for the second day.

A court official said it was feared one of the accused might make some "careless statement" and incite public disorder.

Main defendant is Ryu Tae, 62, opposition politician who is alleged to have aimed a pistol at Rhee during a public ceremony June 25. The pistol misfired.

Before the public was turned out, Opposition Assembly member Kim Shi Hyon admitted he gave his gun to Ryu but said he soaked the cartridges in water for three days previously to make sure it would not fire. He only wanted to "correct" the president.

Find Missing Priest In Dense Bush

MCINTOSH (CP)—Rev. Albert Jobin, 41-year-old member of the Oblate order, yesterday was found in the dense bush near here after being missing for three days.

The Roman Catholic priest was on an expedition into the rugged bush country in the vicinity of Horseshoe Lake, eight miles west of this Kenora-Rainy River district town.

Boat Upsets In Lake During Squall

Reaches Caesarea After 90 Minutes, Brings Help To Trio

CAESAREA — (CP)—Fifteen-year-old Johnny Brooks yesterday swam three miles in Lake Scugog's rough waters to bring help for three companions clinging.

Young Brooks, spending the summer near this resort hamlet 56 miles northeast of Toronto, saved two boys and a girl whose strength was fast ebbing when rescuers arrived.

Brought to safety were Jacqueline Cromba, 15; Donny Sinowiki, 15, and Gordon Creswell, 16, all of Toronto.

The four set out in the dinghy for a sail and the boat overturned in a squall.

"Johnny stayed with them," said Stan Allan of Toronto, who took part in the rescue, "until he realized that unless help arrived soon they were all going to drown. He decided to swim for help."

An hour and 20 mintues after starting out, the exhausted boy staggered onto the beach at Caesarea, and collapsed for a few minutes. He went to the nearest cottage for help, and a powerboat, guided by Brooks, reached the scene of the accident in time.

HEAVY WIND

Residents of Caesarea said Friday's wind was the heaviest this year. The lake was heavily spotted with white-capped waves.

One woman remarked that if Brooks had swum the opposite way he would not have had as far to swim. Coming the way he did, however, the wind was behind him. "I don't know how he ever made it," she said.

Smash Huge Narcotics Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal agents announced yesterday the smashing of a $$1,000,000 narcotics ring with the arrest of three men they called the biggest distributors of heroin in this area.

The three were held in total bail of $155,000.

An officer said:

"This ring was the largest in this area since the days of Waxey Gordon. It may lead to Lucky Luciano."

Gordon, one-time beer baron, was arrested on a narcotics charge Aug. 2, 1951, and sent to prison, where he died recently. Luciano is the reputed vice overlord who has been living in Italy since being deported.

Police Seeking Man With Canadian Accent

LONDON (Reuters)—Police today sought a man with a Canadian accent suspected of murdering a railway clerk at a suburban station last night.

The body of Geoffrey C. Dean, 28, was found stabbed in a locked ticket office. Nearly £100 was taken from the office in Ash Vale, Surrey.

Allied Officials Pay Tribute To Schumacher

BONN, Germany (Reuters)—Representatives of the West German government, the Allied High Commission, foreign diplomatic missions, trade unions and political parties today paid tribute to Kurt Schumacher, West German Socialist party leader who died Wednesday.

They attended a special mourning ceremony in the chamber of the Bundestag, lower house of Parliament.

Dr. Schumacher will be buried tomorrow at Hannover.

Car Falls, Kills Girl Helping At Accident

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A Windsor girl died today as a result of injuries she received while trying to assist victims of a crash at Pillette and No. 2 highway.

Miss Jacqueline Masse, 20, died in Metropolitan Hospital about two hours after she suffered a fractured skull, severe lacerations and other undetermined injuries when a crashed car toppled on her.

Five other persons injured in the smashup were taken to hospital.

Admitted for treatment were drivers of the two cars involved, Robert Baker of Romulus, Mich., and Jerry Nicholls, 22, Windsor.

Believe Moscow Congress To Replace Purged Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin's motive in calling a formal Communist party congress in Moscow Oct. 5 may be to replace 60 key Communist leaders who have died or been purged.

The Voice of America, official State Department radio, hinted that this may be Stalin's motive in summoning Communist bosses together for the first time in 13 years. It was the first thing approximating any official comment from the State Department on this move.

A broadcast commenting on Moscow's announcement said of the 139 full Central Committee members:

"At least 26 have (in the last 13 years) died or been purged. Another 34 have not been mentioned in the Soviet press in the last few years.

"This indicates the high mortality rate—political as well as literal—attached to membership in the Central Committee."

The Central Committee is the top-rank organization of Communists elected at each party congress. It in turn elects the 12-man Politburo which actually runs Russia.

The Voice broadcast, a special commentary by analyst Harry Fleischman, was featured in nearly all foreign broadcasts Thursday.

Commenting on the Russian plan to abolish the Politburo, it said "one thing can be safely predicted" even when this happens:

"The Soviet Union will remain a dictatorship, run by Joseph Stalin."

GETTING HER PHONE NUMBER?—No, you're wrong. Jim Frame, of Toronto, is interviewing Nancy Rowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paige Rowell, to gather information in a traffic survey the Ontario Department of Highways is conducting to be used for future highway planning. Jim is one of the members of the two parties of nine university students who checked vehicles entering and leaving the city on Highway 28 at the Filtration Plant Friday.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Traffic Survey Checks Use Of Highway 28

All motorists travelling on Highway 28 who passed the filtration plant at the north end of the city Friday were stopped and questioned by members of a traffic survey party of the Ontario Department of Highways.

Purpose of the survey is to provide the department with information about the amount of traffic using certain highways, the most common routes between different points and the proportion of different types of vehicles using the highways, as a guide to future highway planning.

From six in the morning, until darkness, two parties of nine university students were on duty in rotating shifts of four hours each, checking all vehicles which passed going to and from the city.

The two parties are in charge of Jim Ashman and Don Cavanaugh, both university students from Toronto. This is the third summer the traffic surveys have been carried out in the province, but it is the first time it has been done here, so Ashman said.

The survey of highways in this area started Friday morning and will continue until next Thursday when the parties will wind up their summer's work. During the coming week, motorists using Highways 7, 28 and 7A can expect to be stopped at different points where the survey stations will be set up.

LEARN OF TRAFFIC FLOW

Jim Ashman points out that the data is being collected to find out what the normal flow and trends of traffic on the various provincial highways are. Consequently they do not check traffic on Saturdays, Sundays or holidays, when motor traffic is unusually heavy.

Rifle Ammunition Found Hidden

MAXVILLE (CP). — An army pouch packed with 75 rounds of .22-calibre rifle ammunition together with the stock of a .22 rifle were found hidden yesterday beside a road about five miles east of this eastern Ontario town.

Provincial Police Inspector Robert Wannell of Toronto said a check of fingerprints will be made on the rifle stock to see if the find is connected with last Saturday's slaying of a Maxville businessman, Leonard Hurd.

arrest on a murder charge of Henri Seguin, 27, of Cornwall, sought since Hurd's body was found near here Saturday night in one of his own taxis. He had been shot five times with .22-calibre bullets.

The ammunition and rifle stock were found beneath a bush by a highway maintenance crew.

Government Suing Oil Firms In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Four major United States oil companies and six subsidiaries are being sued for $67,000,000 by the government, which says it was overcharged on foreign-aid oil shipments to Europe. In the latest step in a joint Congressional-administration war on an alleged international oil cartel, three separate civil suits were filed here yesterday. Attorney-General James P. McGranery in Washington, described the suits as "a test of whether the defendants, having control over the supply of Middle East crude oil shipped to countries participating in the foreign-aid program, can block the efforts of the government agencies to protect government funds committed to European recovery and defence."

The suits cover Middle Eastern oil deliveries by the firms to Marshall Plan countries in Europe between May, 1949, and May, 1952.

McGranery accused the major companies of flouting federal laws by using their subsidiaries to maintain a two-price system—charging the responsible government agencies more than other customers. He said the companies violated federal laws designed to hold crude-oil prices at reasonable levels while the free world rearms.

HEAVY DAMAGES ASKED

Companies named in the suits and damages asked of them are:

Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Esso Export Corp., both of New York—a total of $31,795,619.

Ltd.; Caltex Oceanic Ltd., and Mid-East Crude Sales Co., all incorporated in the Bahamas Islands but with home offices in New York—$21,427,722.

Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. Inc., of New York, and its wholly-owned subsidiary, the Socony-Vacuum Overseas Supply Co. Inc., of Fort Lee, N. J.—$14,118,498.

Ex-Delinquent Barred Inmates Wreck Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—When a former inmate was denied entry to a delinquent girls' home, police said today, 20 of its occupants "tore the place apart" and eight of them escaped. Three of the eight were recaptured.

The uproar, in a dormitory at the National Training School for girls last night, was described this way by one policeman:

"They tore the place apart, pulling radiators loose from the walls, breaking the washstands and jerking the water cooler loose."

Police were met by a barrage of mops, buckets, odds and ends of furniture and shrill female screams.

Police said the disturbance was touched off when a former inmate returned with a friend to visit some of her old classmates. Denied entry, they climbed a fire escape.

Jet Losses Drop As Reds' Soar

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The United States Fifth Air Force announced today that in the first 22 days of August, United Nations Sabre-jet pilots shot down 26 Russian-built jets in aerial battles over North Korea in which one Allied plane was downed.

An Air Force spokesman said the record "represents what is probably the most clean-cut victory of the Korea war. . .the nearest thing I find to it is for the entire month of last June, when 22 Migs were shot down and only one Sabre jet was shot down."

The Sabres kept Communist fighters from interfering with U.N. air strikes against Red stockpiles all along the front yesterday.

The North Korean radio reacted violently to the intensified Allied aerial effort.

A Pongyang broadcast, heard in Tokyo, called for an immediate halt to what was called "murderous American bombing of civilians."

The U.S. Air Force said, howeer, civilians were urged with leaflets to evacuate target areas prior to the two big Allied raids Thursday and Friday.

The broadcast called Gen. Mark W. Clark "the American executioner" and the Far East Air Forces "Truman's butchers."

Sharp Quake Jars Bakersfield Again, Kills 2, Injures 32

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—A sharp earthquake jarred this city of 50,000 population yesterday, killing two persons, injuring 32 and shattering buildings. The second major shock in 32 days hit during a peak afternoon shopping hour when the mercury registered 100 degrees. The 10-second jolt tumbled cascades of brick, masonry and glass into the streets. A few thoroughfares buckled. Entire walls fell out. Roofs crashed to the ground. Parapets crumbled.

While the business districts were hard-hit, residential sections, for the most part, escaped damage.

Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

The quake was felt 125 miles south at Los Angeles and as far away.

'QUAKE CASUALTIES

The dead were Mrs. Edna Ledbetter, 26, caught under the collapsing roof of a store in which she was shopping, and George Patman Cozby, 67, a railroad engine man trapped in the wreckage of the Kern County Equipment Company.

One hundred and six city blocks in the business districts of Bakersfield and East Bakersfield, hardest hit by the quake, were roped off. City Manager C. Leland Gunn declared Bakersfield a disaster area and proclaimed a state of emergency. The County Board of Supervisors arranged for county offices to be transferred from the courthouse, already damaged in the July 21 quake, to tents on a nearby lot.

At least four churches, some of them already damaged in the July quake, suffered from yesterday's shock. One schoolhouse was so badly damaged that the school board ordered it closed.

Unlike last month's quake, near communities reported no casualties or serious damage. The July shock caused 11 deaths at Tehachapi, 40 miles from here, and three elsewhere, with total damage throughout the area estimated at $40,000,000.

SHOCK HEAVY

Seismologists said the magnitude of the latest shock was 6, compared with 7.5 for the July tremor. They placed the epicentre of yesterday's jolt only five to eight miles from here, along the Kern River fault. The July 21 quake centred at at least 20 miles away, along the Bear Mountain fault.

The scientists said yesterday's SHARP 'QUAKE

Japan Serves Warning To British Opposition

TOKYO (AP)—The newspaper Yomiuri editorially warned Britain today that British opposition to Japan's admission to the General Agreement of Trade and Tariff would corner Japan and push her back into totalitarianism.

G.A.T.T. allows lower tariff rates to members.

Britain and some Commonwealth countries were reported to have expressed opposition to Japan's admission to the world body because of "Japan's notorious unfair trade practices in the past."

Yomiuri said Japanese are willing to curb the dumping practice and even want some international agreement to outlaw it.

31 Nations Send MP's To Parley; Canada Host

OTTAWA (CP)—The schedule was announced yesterday for Canada's first entertainment of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association since 1928, an elaborate coast-to-coast reception for men of three colors and of all the continents.

Spokesmen for 31 countries and states or provinces—including two non-Commonwealth nations, the United States and Ireland—will be in Canada from Aug. 29 until Oct. 3 for the latest of these assemblies designed to increase friendship and understanding within the Commonwealth.

They will meet in Ottawa and probably later in Toronto to discuss such matters as the international situation, trade, defence and other matters. They merely swap ideas. They have no power to do anything more than bring any decisions to the attention of their governments.

Most of the time will be spent in informal gatherings and in travelling from one end of Canada to the other, mostly by private train. The host country traditionally foots the bill—Parliament has voted $150,000—for these meetings of an association launched in 1911.

The delegates will visit Quebec and the Maritimes from Aug. 29 to Sept. 7, meet in Ottawa from then to the 14th, then go on to Brockville, Gananoque, Toronto and North Bay, and then to the west Sept. 19. From then until Oct. 1 they will tour the western provinces and they are due back in Montreal Oct. 3 for departure.

Confidence Vote For Greek Gov't

ATHENS (AP)—Greece's Parliament, acting little more than 48 hours after United States Ambassador John E. Peurifoy suggested a new government might help the country, voted confidence in Premier Nicholas Plastiras' coalition cabinet 127 to 118 last night.

Defeat of the government would have meant the resignation of Plastiras and his ministers, representing his own leftist National Progressive Union and deputy Premier Sophocles Venizelos' Liberals.

The vote came after days of bickering debate over a wide field of economic, political and military problems reflecting varying views among the six parties represented in the single-house Parliament.

Peurifoy suggested a new national election in a talk with Greek reporters Wednesday on the ground that a new government would be better equipped than the old to deal with these problems. A storm of protest developed. The Liberal newspaper Elliniki Imera demanded the envoy's recall.

"We're Incorruptible"

Senator Denies Commission Sold Out

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Senator A. O. Stanley, 85-year-old chairman of the United States section of the International Joint Commission, bristled with indignation yesterday when a witness intimated that the commission had acted in the interest of big business.

During a hearing here on high water in the Great Lakes system, A. J. Meserow, counsel for the Protective Association for Great Lakes Property Owners, Inc., asked if the gates in the compensating dam here had been opened July 31 to accommodate the Lake Carriers Association. The dam controls the flow of water from Lake Superior into the St. Mary's River and the lower lakes.

His voice shaking, Senator Stanley demanded:

"Do you think that after a life spent fighting big interests I would sell out my age? The commission might make mistakes, but you can rest assured it is incorruptible."

CLOSE TWO GATES

First move by the commission following an inspection of the St. Mary's River was to order two more of the compensating gates closed. Reason given was that the river had risen one inch above the maximum of 584.5 feet allowed by agreement.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian section chairman, who presided at the hearing, said any decision reached by the commission would be released at the next executive meeting to be held in Albany, N.Y., Sept. 3.

Evidence of damage claims totaling about $150,000 resulting from high water was admitted for both sides of the St. Mary's River. These were the damages said caused directly by the opening of the gates

DEFENCE THREATENED

Col. J. D. Bristor of the United States Corps of Engineers, in defending the action with the gates, said that on July 30 Lake Superior had approached the maximum height of 603.6 feet. If it had been allowed to rise damaged to installations at lake ports and to the locks themselves was possible. This would endanger the defence preparedness program which depends on ore carried by lake freighters from the head of the lakes, he said.

Gen. McNaughton said the commission has no control over either the Chicago drainage canal or the Ogoki diversion.

(The Chicago canal drains water from Lake Michigan into the Mississippi watershed. The Ogoki diversion changes the flow of the Ogoki River for Ontario Hydro purposes from Hudson Bay to the Great Lakes.)

Senator Stanley said the Ogoki diversion had been agreed upon by the state departments of the two countries and was beyond the jurisdiction of the commission. He personally had intervened and had the flow cut to "a mere trickle."

Grafton Hotel Proprietor Appeals Term

COBOURG (ENS) — Homer Mockler, Grafton hotel proprietor, was Friday found guilty of keeping for sale and was sentenced to two months in jail. Defence counsel J. C. M. German at once filed notice of appeal and Mockler was allowed on bail in the amount of $500 pending disposition of the appeal.

Provincial police raided his establishment early this summer and seized a considerable quantity of liquor and beer. The defence was that the liquor and beer had been stocked for a family reunion.

NEVER MENTIONED REUNION

Magistrate R. B. Baxter commented that the fact that Mockler failed to mention anything about a reunion to the officers and had not said anything about it until the case came up in court, appeared to indicated that it was thought up later.

YOUTH IN TROUBLE

Norman Walter Harris, 18, ward of the Bowmanville Training Schol for Boys, pleaded guilty to indecently assaulting a four year old girl. The boy said that he had been drinking. Magistrate R. B. Baxter said that sending him to jail might accomplish no good and he accordingly remanded him out of custody to appear on November 28 and he was placed in care of Orran Venning of Cartwright township, who indicated his willingness to look after the boy.

For lack of evidence a charge of theft against Steve Pokola of Oshawa, formerly of Austria, was dismissed. He was charged with theft of a pillow and some furnishings from a tourist cabin at Port Hope but a police search of his home in Oshawa failed to turn up the missing articles and the charge was dismissed. Pokola spoke broken English but plenty of it and the magistrate had to put a damper on his volume of words.

CLEAN UP DWELLING

Everett Grieves of Hastings was given a week to clean up his dwelling to the satisfaction of the Northumberland and Durham Health Unit. Evidence of sanitary inspector T. H. Waters was that several inspections had been made of the defendants' house and that the dirt and smell was very bad. Some improvement was made but the floors had not been scrubbed and disinfected. Grieves explained that he had cleaned up the rubbish and organic materials but as he was replastering the house he didn't think it was any use scrubbing the floors until he was through. The plastering was now complete and he would next tackle the floors, Grieves promised.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Night low....47 Noon....62
Noon barometer.....29.6

Yesterday:
Highest.....66 Lowest...48

One Year Ago:
Highest.....70 Lowest...47

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9 a.m. E.D.T. Saturday, Aug. 23:

Synopsis:

Most of Ontario is still locked in the grip of polar outbursts which swept into the province Friday. Last night frost again appeared in the White River area and people spending their holidays at vacation centres in Muskoka and Haliburton woke up shivering this morning when the thermometer dropped to within a few degrees of 32.

Another chilly night is expected for southern regions before the moderating effects of warmer air, currently sweeping the southern prairies, is felt. This warm air gave temperatures well into the 90s to southern Saskatchewan Friday and temperatures generally approaching the 90 to 95 mark are expected today in the Winnipeg area. However, the return of warm weather is expected to move into Northern Ontario first, and as a result southern and central Ontario will have to wait at least another day before any marked change in existing temperatures is felt.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Sunday.

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Niagara, Lake Ontario, Georgian Bay, Haliburton, Southern White River, Southern Kirkland Lake regions; Windsor, London, Sudbury cities:

Clear and cool today and tonight, sunny and warmer Sunday. Winds north 15 today, light tonight and Sunday. Low tonight and high Sunday at Windsor, St. Thomas, Toronto and St. Catharines, 50 and 75; Hamilton 48 and 75; London, Wingham, Trenton, Earlton, Sudbury and North Bay 45 and 75; Muskoka and Killaloe 40 and 75. Summary for Sunday—Sunny and warmer.

Reds Building House For Talks

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The stalemated Korean armistice talks — now in their second year — soon may move from a battered tent to a wooden house built by the Communists.

Reporters today saw the 24 by 36-foot building of pine and plywood being nailed up on a concrete foundation at Panmunjom. Its windows are diamond-shaped. Chinese carpenters, apparently imported for the job, refused to answer questions.

It was learned that the house will replace the meeting tent supplied by the Reds under the agreement which shifted the truce site to Panmunjom from Kaesong 10 months ago. Nearby United Nations tents still are in good condition.

People Now Paying For Plumbing Permits

Fees for plumbing permits as authorized by the city council have been in effect since April.

Plumbers probably added the charges to their bills without passing the information on to the property owners who engage them.

The plumbing permit for a house is $3 plus 25c for each fixture, basin, bath, and so on.

For a house of multiple living units from the duplex up: the permist fee is $3 for the first suite, $2 for each additional suite, plus 25c per fixture.

Combined store and living suites: $3 for store, plus $2 for each self-contained suite; plus 25c per fixture.

Factories: Up to five fixtures, $4, plus 25c per fixture. Over five fixtures, $4 for first stack, and $2 for each additional stack; plus 25c per fixture.

Change over stack from septic tank to sewer, $2.

Old plumbing on additional fixtures: $2 plus 25c per fixture.

Permit fees for drains are: Domestic, four inch, $3; six inch, $4; eight inch, $7; and storm drain, four inch, $2.

Septic tanks, $3; sumps, $1.

Basically these permit fees apply to inspections; then, for all extra inspections more than two, the charge is one dollar each.

Public School Takes Room In Lakefield Hall

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Members of the Lakefield District High School Board met with the Public School Board this week to discuss the problem of overcrowding in the school, and the public schools need of at least one room now being ocupied by the High School. Present were High School Chairman, G. N. McIlmoyle, and Trustees C. Hamilton, N. A. Moore, E. Pearson and T. E. Rath and Public School Chairman Dr. R. H. Campbell (pro tem) and Trustees Mrs. H. Wilford, R. Jackman, R. Millage and the Rev. W. B. Walker.

The public school had requested that the high school vacate one room for their use in September.

During the discussion which followed, high school trustees pointed out that it would be much easier for public school classes to be moved to temporary location than high school ones, owing to the constant change of teachers. The high school would be willing to assume the extra financial costs, providing statements of same would be presented to the board.

The members of the High School Board then retired for a time and the Public School Board discussed the proposition with the following motion resulting, "That, at the request of the Board of the Lakefield District High School, this Board agrees to acquire an extra room in the Town Hall for a public school class, providing that the high school board assumes all financial responsibility, over and above $200 for the period of September 1st, 1952 to December 31st, 1952, with costs approved, by Lakefield District High School Board, with notice of one month by the Lakefield District High School Board."

This motion was read to the members of the High School Board and approved by them.

Mr. Rath then voiced his opinion that an apology was due to the Public School Board for the seeming neglect on the part of the High School Board regarding this matter, and this was endorsed by the chairman of the high school property committee, Erie Pearson, who assured the Public School Board of their fullest co-operation in this, and any other matters pertaining to the good and welfare of both schools.

The matter of the public school pupils being accommodated in household science and shop work classes at the high school was also discussed but Mr. McIlmoyle stated that it was not known when this accommodation would be available.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices moved narrowly Friday in a moderately active session of coarse grain futures trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Fair commercial demand appeared in the barley with some purchases in connection with export business. The sale of one cargo and some small parcels to the Continent was reported. There also was some overseas and U.S. demand for oats. Rye and flax dealings were light.

Overnight export loadings of wheat included: Yugoslavia 370,000, Germany 560,000, United Kingdom 1,400,000, Belgium 350,000, Republic of Ireland 80,000, Greece 350,000, and India 700,000.

Prices of Class Two wheat and I.W.A. were down one-eighth cent.

Plane Hits Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—A navy plane's landing gear struck a car in a take-off attempt yesterday, but the craft was brought to a safe belly landing. The car suffered a broken windshield and dented roof. The pilot escaped injury. Also unhurt was the driver of the car, Maj. Emerson A. Tonks.

9-Cent Raise For Strikers

LEAMINGTON (CP)—Retroacive pay increases of nine cents and fringe benefits amounting to another 8½ cents an hour for some 1,100 employees at the Leamington and Wallaceburg plants of the H.J. Heinz Company were the principal monetary gains made in the 14-day strike.

Company representatives stood firm on their refusal to include the Rand Formula in labor relations but changed a previous contractual agreement that an employee wishing to withdraw union membership could do so after seven days from the time a contract is signed.

Under the new contract, valid to Jan. 31, 1954, employees who wish to withdraw their union membership must notify the company 14 days before expiration of the contract.

The contract may be changed through a re-opening clause on Jan. 31, 1953, on the matter of wages alone.

Establishing Of Municipal Forests As A Means Of Helping Ratepayers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Establishment of municipal forest areas as "a hedge against inflation" was urged by Leander Manley, an executive of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, in an address here.

He said such forests could triple the municipality's investment in 30 years, while earning a steady income.

In Europe, where communities have large forest holdings for their own use, he said, reserves of standing timber are often held just like bank assets.

"These reserves are obtained by under-cutting, and can be expended at a time when timber values are high and the community is in need of a new public building or improved facilities," he said.

is questioning drivers has a blank questionnaire clipped to a board, making it easy for him to jot down the answers to the questions he asks the drivers.

When he sees a vehicle approaching he marks down what type it is—passenger car, whether it is foreign or local, pick-up truck, panel truck, dual rear wheel truck, transport or bus.

Then the driver is asked where he started out from, where he plans on going that day, the purpose of the trip—business, pleasure or shopping—where the vehicle is registered and the highways travelled on between intermediate points.

The average interview takes not more than 20 seconds, says Jim Ashman, and practically everyone co-operates with the boys in giving them the necessary information. There are very few cranky motorists during a typical day who make things difficult for both themselves and the lads who are collecting the information.

In the first eight hours Friday, 1,300 vehicles of various types were clocked passing the filtration plant.

One member of the party keeps a check on the other fellows who are interviewing motorists by tripping the handle on one of the numerical indicators for each type of vehicle which are fastened to a board also, every time a vehicle passes, going either way.

A cable is strung across the highway where the station is set up, and each pair of wheels which passes over it is recorded on an indicator which will show how many vehicles pass the given point in a 24-hour period.

Before coming here, the two parties took similar surveys along Highway 2 from Port Hope, east to the Quebec border, then in the Orillia-Beaverton district and the Ottawa-Hawkesbury area before ending up with Lindsay and Peterborough.

Two Men Surprised Robbing Garage

LINDSAY—Warning shots fired early Friday failed to halt two men believed to have entered Miller's service station.

The proprietor heard a disturbance about 2 a.m., went to the garage and saw two men piling up cigarette cartons and other goods. The two men made their getaway through the east window shortly before provincial police arrived on the scene.

Police fired several warning shots, but the two men took to their heels and disappeared in the darkness. The investigation continues today, as nothing was found of the two men Friday.

CONDITION SERIOUS

Fred Earle, elderly Cobourg contractor injured Friday on Highway 7, is showing signs of severe head injuries, Civic Hospital officials said today. His condition is regarded as serious. Earle was hit by a car on Milburn's Hill north of the city.

FREIGHTER SPLIT IN COLLISION—The bow section of the U.S. Liberty Ship Western Farmer (top) sinks into the English Channel eight miles off the southeast coast of England after the freighter was rammed and split in two by the Norwegian tanker Bjorgholm. The stern section (bottom) flounders nearby. The 37-man crew was rescued and landed at Dover, England.

Locate Body Of Berserk Policeman

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—The body of Tore Hedin, 25, former policeman who butchered his sweetheart and murdered his parents and six others Thursday night, was found today.

Hedin left a confession saying the case would be solved "in the water." His body was found in the Lake of Bosarp, southern Sweden.

He had been missing since yesterday, when his automobile was found abandoned by the lakeside.

The confession gave jealousy as the motive for the crime—the biggest mass murder in Sweden since 1900.

Hedin's girl, 24-year-old Ulla Oestberg, broke off their engagement two weeks ago. On Tuesday, the cop was fired from his job at Hurva village, southern Sweden, for threatening and maltreating her.

Two days later he went to the Old Folliks' Home where Ulla worked as a nurse and hacked her to death with an ax.

KILLS SEVEN OTHERS

He then killed the matron, Mrs. Agnes Lundin, 54, and fired the home, causing three men and two women, aged between 76 and 83, to be burned to death.

Hedin then returned home and clubbed and burned his parents, Alfred and Hilda Hedin, 74 and 56, while they slept.

The policeman also confessed to slaying Allan Nilsson, 32, a year ago because he failed to pay a debt.

Christian Stewardship Discussed By W.M.S.

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The August meeting of the Coldsprings W.M.S. was held Thursday afternoon in the Sunday School room, with eleven members and three visitors present.

Mrs. A. Jamieson presided. It was decided to have a free will offering instead of the usual Sunday service.

The October thankoffering meeting will be October 7. Mrs. A. Jamieson gave a report of the Christian Citizenship meeting held at Camborne church on Tuesday. Mrs. Herb McKinley was convener of the program, with Christian Stewardship as the topic. Questions on the different phases of Stewardship were answered, showing that Christian Stewardship includes more than money. We are stewards of life, our personalities, minds, and body. Thus we must develop ourselves, for all are involved in living the Christian life.

Assisting Mrs. McKinley were: Mrs. F. Shier, Mrs. L. McIntosh, Mrs. M. Linton, Mrs. D. Buttars, Mrs. W. Dines, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. D. Dines, Mrs. A. Jamieson, Miss E. Hoskin, and Miss E. Jamieson. Mrs. Dowsley of Napanee, sang a solo, "Alone."

Mrs. A. Taylor and group served lunch.

Runs Out Of Gas At 20,000 Ft., Crash-Lands

CARLETON PLACE (CP)—A R.C.A.F. pilot crash-landed his speedy F-86 Sabre jet fighter aircraft in a farm field near here yesterday and walked out of the wreckage with a small head cut.

"The only thing that worried me as I came down was a rockpile in front of me," said PO. R. J. Childerhose, 21, of St. Boniface, Man. "Fortunately I had enough speed to scrape over it."

Air Force officials said only Childerhose's skill in crash-landing and the soggy condition of the field saved him from being killed.

Childerhose's brush with death began when he ran out of fuel while flying with two other jets on a training run from Ottawa. He was then 20,000 feet up.

Deciding not to bail out, Childerhose dropped to about 2,000 feet before his engine stopped. He skimmed over farmlands before settling down in a field at more than 100 miles an hour.

A wing was knocked off the plane in an 800-yard skid through several fences. The nose and fuselage were badly ripped.

Carleton Place is about 28 miles southwest of Ottawa.

Three Allies Reject Red Trade Charges

BERLIN (AP) — Britain, the United States and France today jointly rejected Soviet charges that they were taking measures to reduce trade between East and West Germany.

The charges were made by Soviet General Vassily Chuikov in a letter dated July 30.

The United States High Commissioner, Walter J. Donnelly, said in his reply delivered today, "I cannot understand or accept" the allegations that western authorities are responsible for reducing the flow of trade between West and East Germany.

WORK ON CHURCH OF ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST, the new Roman Catholic church in the south end, is progressing rapidly. The church, contracted by the Piggott Construction Company, of Toronto, was started in May and will be completed in 10 months. Costing $278,000. it will be an imposing building of Credit Valley sandstone, trimmed with Indiana limestone. The rectory, adjoining the church and built by the parish men, will also be stonework. — (Examiner Staff Photo).

Delegates Study Aid Problem For Students

TORONTO (CP)—Roman Catholic intellectuals from many parts of the world yesterday attacked the problems of aid to needy students—spiritual aid as well as physical—and achievement of world peace during the Pax Romana congress.

A special commission was established to investigate problems of student aid when the plenary session had more speakers and ideas than it could handle. The commission will report before the congress ends its Toronto sessions.

Ann Hope of South Africa, vice-president of the undergraduate section, said two kinds of student relief work are needed in Pax Romana. The first is to meet the needs of students working under difficult conditions, such as refugees from Communist countries, and African and Asian students studying in Europe or North America.

The second is to provide help for the needs of Catholic students in newly-developing countries in Africa and parts of Asia where facilities for higher education and particularly Catholic higher education are limited.

NO SERIOUS INJURIES resulted to the two youths riding in this car when it went out of control and overturned at least two and a half times on the Canal Road at 2 a.m. today. The car was a total wreck when it eneded up on its side. Both the driver, Clinton Stockdale, 21, R.R. 4, Peterborough, and his passenger, Ray Saltern, 20, 451 Howden Ave., were thrown clear of the car as it was rolling over. They were taken to Civic Hospital and later were allowed to return home, after receiving treatment for brush burns and shock. (See story Page 9). —(Examiner Staff Photo).

Canadian Girl Paris Model

TORONTO (CP)—The vaunted courtesy and charm of the Frenchman didn't steal the heart of one Canadian girl who has just returned home.

Norine McNerney, Toronto fashion model, says she would settle for a date with a home-town boy any day of the week. It's not that the young Frenchmen does not appreciate Canadian girls. She says they find Canadians "fresher and livelier" than the French girls.

After working with a noted New York modelling agency, Norine met the famous French designer, Jacques Fath, on the steamship to Paris. Fath asked her to look him up.

But posing at Fath's was no easy road to wealth, says Norine. She figures she earned the equivalent of about $100 a month there.

Find Toronto Stock Market Cat-Dog Show This Week

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Toronto stock market was a "cat-and-dog" show this week.

"Cats and dogs"—market slang for low-priced mining issues—stole the show from more sober high-priced stocks and recorded individual turnovers up to 400,000 shares a session.

Reasons for the sudden activity in various penny stocks ranged from rumors of new ore finds to the start of delivery on contracts.

Donalda, a junior gold producer, jumped into prominence Tuesday when it gained 18 cents on a turnover of more than 430,000 shares. The burst of activity appeared to be caused by rumors that Donalda was discussing joint drilling operations with the adjoining Quemont mines.

Donalda had closed the previous Friday at 46 cents. After a second active day last Wednesday and some selling later, it closed yesterday at 51½ cents.

Reports of a uranium find on the property of Gunnar, a gold prospect, boosted its sales all week. From Friday to Friday, Gunnar rose from $1.16 to $1.20.

BIG DAILY TRADE

Kelore, another gold prospect, moved from 12 cents a share to 16½ cents in the same period under the stimulus of reports of favorable drill findings and rumors of favorable financial support. It traded between 100,000 and 200,000 shares daily.

East Rim, a base metal issue, became popular with reports that it was starting to ship nickel-copper ore on a contract with the United States. It jumped from $1.34 to $1.44 in heavy trading during the week.

Mayo, another base metal issue and gold stocks like Heath, Halcrow Swayze, Hugh Pam, Chimo and Jacknife, traded actively enough to boost the weekly volume of shares to its highest point in months.

In spite of the activity, the Toronto exchange's index for golds declined during the week. Western oils also slipped and in spite of a recovery Friday, remained lower for the week.

Industrials followed the pattern of western oils and base metals dipped steadily throughout the week.

In Toronto Monday, industrials led a general decline and in Montreal, industrials also slipped while papers rose. Tuesday, both centres reported generally lower prices.

GENERAL DECLINE

Golds in Toronto and Papers in Montreal resisted the downward trend Wednesday and on Thursday industrials improved in both markets. The beginning of a recovery appeared in Toronto Friday, led by western oils. On the Montreal market, industrials and papers gained.

Prices opened weakly in New York but on Tuesday rails led a mild recovery that improved further Wednesday. Prices weakened Thursday and remained mixed in light trading Friday.

From Friday to Friday, the Toronto stock exchange indices showed industrials down 1.99 at 329.75, golds down 1.53 at 93.79, base metals down 2.39 at 196.61 and western oils down 2.59 at 139.53.

In the Montreal averages, banks were up .26 at 31.10, utilities down .5 at 37.2, industrials down 2.2 at 219.0, combined down 1.7 at 175.0, papers down 4.30 at 723.15 and gold up .45 at 69.72.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.10 to $107.60.

Report Mental Lapse Blamed In Accident

TORONTO (CP)—Traffic officers believe a temporary mental lapse caused the death yesterday of William Norman Clough, 41, whose motorcycle crashed into the rear of a truck stopped for a red light.

It was the 32nd traffic death in the city this year, compared with 36 for the same period last year.

Oshawa Child Dangerously Ill

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Five-year-old Elmer Haraqulia of Oshawa was still "dangerously ill, but improving" in War Memorial Children's Hospital here today. The boy and his mother, Mrs. Symon Harqulia, 39, who is in "improving" condition at Tillsonburg district hospital, are suffering from the effects of pain-killing capsules.

The woman is also suffering from stab wounds in the abdomen, which police said were self-inflicted.

The two were taken to Tillsonburg hospital Thursday, and the child was brought to hospital here for further treatment.

Can't Pay Any More Queen Tells Republic

LONDON (Reuters) — The Queen has told the tiny Republic of San Marino that Britain is unable to increase payments for war damage caused by the R.A.F., a Foreign Office spokesman said Friday.

The Republic, situated between the Apennines and the Italian east coast, recently asked the Queen for £42,000 instead of the £26,000 offered by Britain. The appeal was written in Latin.

The Foreign Office spokesman said the Queen had replied that the sum offered had been decided on the advice of responsible ministers.

San Marino was occupied by the Germans for part of the Second World War and was bombed during that time by the R.A.F.

Highways Employee Killed On Job

NORTH BAY (CP)—Alex Johnson, 57-year-old employee of the Department of Highways, died yesterday from injuries suffered when hit by a car on the Timiskaming highway eight miles north of here.

Police said Johnson, helping to spread fill in a washout along the road, was hit by a car driven by Bruno Briere, 39, of Niagara Falls, Ont. They said Briere's car attempted to pass a Department of Highways truck but struck and glanced off it, hitting Johnson. No charge was laid.

Turn Down Proposal To Increase Pensions

CINCINNATI (AP)—Delegates to the International Typographical Union's centennial convention yesterday rejected proposals to increase pensions and pay benefits to widows of members.

Delegates said they favored the idea, but said they did not feel the union's pension fund could handle such an increase in expenditures.

Heavy Van Rolls Over Wrecks Dump Truck

NIAGARA FALLS (CP)—A heavy van today rolled over on a soft shoulder and into the path of an oncoming dump truck, wrecking both vehicles.

Gordon Black of Port Credit, who police said was the operator of the van, suffered chest injuries. Bob Clark of Niagara Falls, operator of the dump truck, escaped injury.

TORONTO (CP)—W. H. Matthews, 65, has retired after 27 years as night supervisor of the Canadian National Telegraphs Union office.

Two Die In Crash

NAPIERVILLE, Que. (CP)—A man and a woman were killed yesterday and several persons injured in a two-car collision near this town 40 miles south of Montreal. The dead were Thomas Farrelly, 35, New York City, and Mrs. Arthur Poirier, 42, Napierville.

143 Boys Take Air Cadet Course

COMOX, B.C. (CP)—High school students who joined the R.C.A.F. reserve have been getting rigid training here this summer.

A total of 143 boys, averaging 16 years old, are members of the technical training unit of the 19th auxiliary wing, and on Aug. 31 will complete the training program that began June 30.

The unit was split into groups, each learning a different trade. Experienced men of the permanent force give instructions on instruments, armament, radio, radar, and airplane and automobile mechanics.

Sqdn.-Ldr. W. J. Mooney, unit commanding officer, said the program is roughly 40 per cent theory and 60 per cent practice. It includes field practice three times a week.

The boys are paid $2.90 a day and are billeted in modern dormitories, getting their meals in the airmen's mess.

Toronto TV Station Went On At Fair

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's television station, CBLT on channel 9, went on the air yesterday with a telecast of Governor-General Vincent Massey opening the 73rd Canadian National Exhibition.

A CBC mobile TV unit had three cameras focussed on the ceremony at the bandshell. There was brief confusion at the outset when lines carrying the TV commentary became crossed with CBC radio wires, but the trouble was soon cleared up.

The station will be on the air two hours in the afternoons and two hours at night with test programs on-the-spot exhibition telecasts and films until Sept. 8, when official opening ceremonies will mark the beginning of its regular program schedule.

Traffic Moves Slowly After Montreal Storm

MONTREAL (CP)—Rail, road and air traffic moved slowly back to normal today after a day-long rainstorm yesterday disrupted the three services, flooded cellars and caused lengthy power failures.

No one was reported injured.

More than three inches of rain fell as an early-morning drizzle became a driving storm after noon.

Strike Slows Project

OTTAWA (CP)—A group of 110 carpenters, striking for higher pay, are delaying completion of a secret radar station in the Ottawa valley, it was learned yesterday. The carpenters walked out Wednesday. The station is located in the Golden Lake district, northwest of Renfrew, about 40 miles west of Ottawa.

British Have Selves To Blame Chance Missed

EDMONTON (CP)—Mines Department officials said yesterday that British oil interests could have obtained all the petroleum rights they wanted at five cents an acre had they accepted personal invitation in 1938 to participate in Alberta's development.

The officials commented on charges made in Vancouver Thursday by British oil engineer Arthur B. Thompson that "stupidly high prices" for oil rights and an abundance of "cheap American money" are shutting British firms out of the Alberta oil development.

Mines Minister N. E. Tanner was out of Edmonton and unavailable for comment. But members of his department recalled that Mr. Tanner personally led a committee which went to London in March, 1938, and asked Great Britain to take a leading part in Alberta's oil development.

"This invitation brought no results from the British, who were more interested in eastern oil development," one official said.

Brantford Couple Adopt Eskimo Child

BRANTFORD (CP)—After two years in Baffin Land, Mr. and Mrs. E. Applewhite returned to this city yesterday with an adopted daughter —a two-year-old Eskimo girl. After six weeks here the Applewhites will return to the far north.

Mr. Applewhite is a teacher, welfare officer and sub-district registrar at Cape Dorset in Baffin Land, about 1,050 miles northwest of Winnipeg. Mrs. Applewhite, formerly of Galt, runs the health centre there.

Exhibition Officials Check Penny Peeps

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of the Central Canada Exhibition Association yesterday peaked at the penny peeps.

They invaded the penny arcade to investigate complaints that children were peeping at nude women.

They learned—and most youngsters could have told them—that penny peeps show yellowed and dusty pictures of so-called scantily-clad beauties of 1901.

Today's Farm Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Agriculture Department put out a pamphlet yesterday with the title: "Cultural and Pathogenic Variability in Single-Conidial and Hyphal-tip Isolates of Hemlinthosporium Turcicum Pass." It's about a corn leaf disease.

Alberta Couple Has 70th Anniversary

ST. ALBERT, Alta. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Onesime Bergeron, both 91-year-old natives of Quebec, observed their 70th wedding anniversary at the Youville Home in St. Albert, eight miles north of Edmonton, Thursday.

A congratulatory message from the Queen was a feature of the day's celebrations.

Millions For Our Colleges, Schools, Hospitals and Churches

A phenomenon of post-war Canada has been the very high rate of capital investment in new buildings, equipment and machinery. Most discussed has been the private investment, that of business and industry, perhaps for the reason that this has been astonishingly great, considering the high corporation and income taxes which some mournfully claimed were preventing firms from expanding. But somehow the firms have found the money, despite the drain on profits which taxation has made. Private investment is more publicized than public investment, because it usually creates new money and new goods; a bigger "gross national product." Public investment, that is, investment by governments at federal, provincial and municipal levels, has also been very large since the war, and some of it is productive (as in Crown companies).

* * *

An analysis of public investment is beyond our present scope. We want here to call attention to a special kind of public investment—institutional investment. Some of it, for instance in churches, is not strictly public in the sense of being made by governments. There are four main groups of institutions: churches, universities, schools and hospitals. In all four tremendous investment has been made in the last several years. This is itself evidence of a balanced and healthy attitude, since investment for social and cultural welfare has been comparatively as high as both private investment and government investment for defence, bureaucracy and material things like sewers.

* * *

In the years 1947-50 Canadian universities spent thirteen million dollars a year on expanding and improving their structures and equipment. The increase of investment in current dollar terms was about four times as great as the 1936-39 average, when three millions were spent annually. There were, of course, more students attending colleges after the war than before, but the figures show that in 1939 $130 of new investment was made per university student, and in 1950 the amount was $205.

* * *

Most taxpayers are more intimately aware of the expansion of investment in state schools. The post-war school investment expenditures have been the largest on record. Between 1926 and 1929 the average annual outlay in Canada for school buildings and equipment was $26 million. This declined between 1936 and 1939 to ten million dollars. During the post-war years 1947-50 the annual average rose to $63 million—six times as much as in the immediate pre-war years. The new investment in schools amounted in 1950 to $39.90 a pupil. In 1939, it was $5.90 a pupil.

* * *

A question which taxpayers and Boards of Education are anxiously asking now—and teachers, school administrators and Departments of Education must give ear to that anxiety—is whether this rate of spending on new schools, additions, improvements, plumbing, radios, record players and moving picture projectors, is higher than can be afforded. Certainly municipalities are finding the burden of this sort of investment very heavy along with the new high schedules of salaries for teachers. Has the time come when Provincial and Federal authorities should take over the entire cost of public education?

* * *

Another great weight on municipalities and local tax rates is the cost of hospitals and hospital maintenance and operation. New investment in hospitals, both privately owned and endowed (as Kingston General) and municipally owned (as the Peterborough Civic) has been heavy. In 1939 it amounted to $9,800,000. In 1950 it was $67,700,000 and the year before $71,400,000 were spent on extending hospitals and building new one. It is interesting to note that despite this seven-fold increase in hospital investment expenditures, the hospital bed capacity rose only from 114,600 in 1939 to 148,600 in 1950. Another interesting fact about post-war investment in Canadian hospitals: one dollar out of every four to eight spent went for equipment: beds, furniture, radiological apparatus and the like.

* * *

Institutional investment of a different kind but at an equally high rate since the war, has been new investment in church building and equipment. During the years 1947 to 1950 the largest expansion of church facilities in Canadian history took place. A total of a hundred million dollars was spent on erecting new churches and supplementary buildings, and improving existing churches ($33,000,000, in 1949 alone). This is an average of twenty-five million dollars a year for the period. The annual average capital outlay for churches between 1936 and 1939 was three million dollars. In the pre-war boom period of 1926 to 1929, nine million dollars were spent on church building and equipment.

* * *

This fact stands out amidst the welter of investment figures. While Canada has been expanding materially and in might through huge capital investment since the war, education, religion and medical care have also received a full share of Canadian capital. Russia and other countries cannot accuse Canada of being crassly materialistic and unheedful of the welfare, health, minds and spirit of her people when this country lays out so many hundreds of million dollars for the fabric of her social and cultural institutions. But they—and we—may ask if Canada is not putting too much emphasis on the external side of these public welfare matters, on the building and their equipment?

Cavan's New Grim Mansion

Millbrook is to have a new industry, which is likely to become its biggest, if not most important. Most industries setting up in an area are a mixed blessing, for with their pay-rolls they bring municipal problems. The new industry to be established in Cavan — it will be near, but not in Millbrook — will be accompanied by incalculable arcana, for a quiet village of rustic charm. Millbrook's new industry is to be a million-and-a-half-dollar prison.

Announcing the decision to build a new institution and place it in Cavan, the Minister of Reform Institutions, the Hon. John Foote, said that its purpose is to confine people who are not amenable to the training and mild discipline of the Guelph and Burwash reformatories. The decision that another place was necessary came after the riots at Guelph and the earlier troubles at Burwash. The Millbrook reformatory will deal with inmates too tough for the reformatories, but not sentenced to penitentiaries. This means that Millbrook will have on its outskirts hundreds of persons whom the village would not ordinarily tolerate. However, they will be behind fences and under guard, and other hundreds of people — the guards, officials and executives of the new reformatory — should prove useful and interesting additions to the village life. Certainly the new pay-roll should be a boon to Millbrook's commerce, and staff vacancies an opportunity for this district's workers.

We think that Millbrook need have no fear of being overshadowed or overturned by the new penal institution. Guelph does not suffer from its reformatory, and down in New Brunswick, in the quiet and pastoral town of Dorchester, there is a Federal penitentiary, which takes tougher nuts than Millbrook will have; yet Dorchester is not a grim town and the air is not contaminated by the prison.

Certainly Mr. Foote's department could not have found a pleasanter countryside than Cavan for the new reformatory. If the inmates are at all influenced by their physical environment, Cavan's beautiful countryside should itself help the reforming process.

Oecumenical

Church union is in the air again; it seems to be more than a summer symptom. The General Council of the United Church has been asked by its commission on church union to take steps leading towards union with the Church of England, or, as some would say, for union of the Church of England with the United Church.

While these rather remote steps are being taken, summer steps in many churches lead direct to interdenominational communion. Here in Peterborough Baptist and United churches hold joint summer services, and in one city circuit a Presbyterian, a United and a Baptist church unite during two and a half months. The Anglican church still keeps within its own orbit, despite the centrifugal force of summer holidays.

An interesting development in interdenominational worship in the Province has been the holding of services in United, Presbyterian and other churches for and by Dutch immigrants; indication of co-operation and friendliness and sign of the universality of the Christian church. An example is St. Andrew's Church in Barrie where services are held each Sunday in English and Dutch. Peterborough is not to be outdone in this: every Sunday morning before the Presbyterian service, a service is held in Dutch, conducted by a Dutch minister, in St. Paul's church.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Suggested uniform for inmates of the new reformatory to be built near Millbrook: Cavan blazers.

The Egyptians believed that garlic gave them strength and courage. Which no doubt accounts for the upturned nose of the Sphinx.

Four months from Monday is Christmas Day. How time flies.

By FRANCIS WATSON

AND I, who crave to knighthood, shall write no more. I shall write no more. Already I feel myself to be a trifle outmoded. I belong to the Beardsley period."

That was written more than fifty years ago—in 1895 to be exact; and the man who wrote it is today Sir Max Beerbohm, living in his villa in Rapallo in an elderly privacy broken only, so far as the world at large knows, by the occasional visit of a British Broadcasting Corporation representative to record some reminiscent radio-essay for the new and affectionate public which broadcasting has given him. To retire to the Italian Riviera, if not exactly unique even now, is sufficiently rare in an Englishman of these days to agree with the air of delicately nostalgic distinction which envelops Sir Max Beerbohm, gentleman and wit. Nor does the success of his rare contributions to broadcasting disperse that atmosphere; for it is the intimacy of the microphone which suits him so well, and he has carefully studied its requirements. From its blatancies he is protected by his own sense of style.

✧ ✧ ✧

MAX BEERBOHM was born in London on August 24, 1872—within a week of the birth of Aubrey Beardsley, who now seems so distant from us. He was thus twenty-three when he announced the conclusion of his literary career. It was a pose, of course, but for the 'nineties a new one, and sustained with engaging wit. "Impudence," in no derogatory sense is what most reviewers perceived when in 1896 The Works of Max Beerbohm appeared as a small volume of essays followed by a mock-learned bibliography from the publisher, John Lane. Max went on writing and he went on drawing caricatures. If a category must be found in which his works will fit, his essays and pastiches and diversions, his single full-length novel Zuleika Dobson and his long-short stories The Happy Hypocrite and The Dreadful Dragon of Hay Hill, it is the now somewhat neglected category of belles-lettres. And on the same shelf would be found, quite congruously, the published collections of his drawings and his caricatures, in which the impress of his personality is equally firm. Indeed, the caricatures themselves have a literary quality, a coffee-house quality in which intellectual attitudes are satirised, pretentiousness exposed, and conversation stimulated.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT WOULD NOT be a long shelf that would contain them all, writings and drawings. Eleven small volumes of papers and fiction, nine by no means bulky volumes of caricatures, are now, at 77, the works of Max Beerbohm. In this fastidious limitation of output it can be seen that the pose of 23 was not merely a pose. It was in part a characteristic shrinking from volubility and grossness and excess. He could admire (but with how much reservation the delighted reader can scarcely be certain) the vitality and "Titanic force" of Ouida; but "for my own part I am a dilettante, a petit maitre." There was no false modesty but an intelligent recognition of the scope of his talents in his reply (in 1921) to Bohun Lynch's request for biographical material: "My gifts are small. I've used them very well and discreetly, never straining them; and the result is that I've made a charming little reputation." As for his craving no knighthood, that was almost certainly sincere in 1895, and when he accepted one in 1939 it was the acknowledgment of an eminence quite different from that of "the new class of writers which has come in on the wave of popular education", whose honours he had quietly mocked in his second volume of essays.

✧ ✧ ✧

AGAIN, "I belong to the Beardsley period." If that was amusingly true fifty years ago, it is so in a certain sense today. For the husbanding of his talents, the establishment and maintenance of a personal style in a field deliberately circumscribed, leaves little to be discerned in the way of development. Holbrook Jackson calls Max "the comic spirit of the 'Nineties", and his amalgam of fin-de-siecle irony and wistfulness has been preserved half-way through a century.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT WAS IN the first number of the famous Yellow Book, in 1894, that Max Beerbohm first provided this comic spirit in A Defence of Cosmetics. It had been written when he was an Oxford undergraduate, at Merton, having proceeded thither from Charterhouse where there had already been a mildly precocious evidence of his cleverness as draughtsman and writer (two earlier English essayists, Steel and Addison, were educated at Charterhouse, and Steel was also at Merton.) Max seems to have been a good classical scholar. Among the influences of the period one assumes that he learnt something from Wilde (of whom he drew a devastating caricature). The Pre-Raphaelites and Rosetti's literary circle, also subjects for some of his most entrancing artistic satires, certainly had his respect as a young man. In Walter Pater, who was so largely responsible for the "decadence" of the period, Max perceived "too much art," and extolled (in More, 1899) a literary mean between Pater's "excessive care for words" on the one hand, and on the other the "carelessness" of Carlyle and Browning.

HE HAD LEFT Oxford in the summer of '93, and under the stimulating guidance of the artist Will Rothenstein was at once introduced to London, to the Cafe Royal, to the New English Art Club, to Walter Sickert, to John Lane of the Bodley Head and to the young Aubrey Beardsley. The purely fictitious figure of Enoch Soames in Seven M[illegible]—a creation, yet as circumstantially alive as a Defoe hero—belongs to these Bohemian days, in which Max continued to contribute to the Yellow Book, the Savoy, the Chap-Book and other periodicals of the time. They included Vanity, of New York, which Max visited in 1895 with his half-brother, the famous actor Sir H. Beerbohm Tree, and his touring company. "Frank Harris," he wrote, "had engaged me to kick up my heels in the Saturday Review, Alfred Harmsworth was letting me do likewise in the Daily Mail" (for which he wrote a series of articles from Italy). In short successful it was as "the incomparable Max" that G. B. Shaw introduced him as his successor in the post of Saturday Review drama critic. The epithet clings, though Max has publicly rejected it.

The Happy Hypocrite (1896) is still perhaps his best invention: a short "fairy-tale for tired men" about an exquisitely satirised Regency rake Lord George Hell. The improbabilities of Zuleika Dobson (1911), amusing as they are, do not quite match this quality. The other books are selections, carefully revised and, as he said, "titivated," from his considerable periodical output, and there is a book of literary parodies, Christmas Garland (1912), in much the same vein as the captions which are so essential a part of his caricatures.

IF HIS WORK in caricature—signed with his personality in every line and every idea—had any ancestors they must be the old Vanity Fair portraits by "Ape" (Carlo Pellegrini, to his shade Max dedicated one of his volumes) and "Spy" (Leslie Ward.) Like them Max usually confines the caricaturists' study of a likeness to the head, the rest of the figure being merely indicated in stature or attitude by an easy and flowing line (he seldom drew from life, but his caricatures are unmistakable). His subjects are for the most part literary or political personalities, posed in situations which brilliantly and ironically express the associations of their activities and characters: Wordsworth in the Lakeland rain patting a little girl's head, Walt Whitman "inciting the Bird of Freedom to soar," Coleridge's table-talk sending his guests to sleep, W. B. Yeats introducing George Moore to the Queen of the Fairies, and so forth. There are few illustrated books on the period that he covers that do not make use of his capacity to sum up a tendency, a cultural atmosphere, a movement, an age itself (as in the famous drawings in which the 19th and then the 20th Centuries contemplate the future.) As commentaries they are superb—economical, incisive, often devastatingly funny—yet they do not lose an essential respect for the subject: Max remains conservative to his backbone.

Institutions are the legitimate targets of his wit, but he meant it when he wrote of Radicalism in the early years of the century: "A new tyranny will take the place of the old. That is all." He is still alive to warn us, in a style which is itself one of the casualties of our hurrying age, of so much that may be irremediably trampled upon in the March of Progress.

"THE INIMITABLE MAX": Tomorrow Sir Max Beerbohm is eighty. Elegance, wit, style, good manners and a gentle nostalgia distinguish the writings, drawings and personality of "Max." Recognizing the scope of his talents, he has made for himself what he describes as "a charming little reputation"; what others would call a charming and great reputation. A Hoe Can Be Marvellous

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE FOOD and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (F.A.O.) was mentioned recently in a Canadian Senate committee when a members asked a reasonable question about the value obtained from sending Canadian delegations to its meetings. The answer could not be categorical. F.A.O. seeks the improvement of agricultural methods and programs to ensure more food for the world. Mr. N. E. Dodd, F.A.O. director-general, has reported that before World War II there was enough food to provide each man, woman and child with about 2,380 calories of energy a day and now there is enough to provide only 2,260 calories.

To bring about an improvement and remove hazards to world peace inherent in patches of starvation is not a program that can be completed overnight. F.A.O. is attempting with goodwill to carry forward this work and it is an undertaking from which Canada would not wish to be exempted.

Mr. Dodd's report prepared for the F.A.O. meeting in Rome last November and December gives instances of practical steps now being taken. None is more interesting than the account of an Arkansas cotton producer sent to Afghanistan who found the farmers without tools for planting and handling their cotton crops. He inquired about hoes needed for cultivation.

"I was told they didn't have any—but if I would design one, the shop of the sugar factory would make them for me . . . They have since arrived. These are the first light hoes these people have seen."

The Afghans thought the hoes would ruin the cotton they had cultivated by hand.

"We set to work training the men to use the hoes. Less than two hours later I had 40 hoes going in the field and in four hours the men were perfectly at home using the hoes as though they had been using them all their lives."

Thus progress in Afghanistan, as impressive as the introduction of modern combines in other regions. Not all problems can be dealt with so simply. There is mention of Dr. E. S. Archibald, formerly of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa, and his work in improving the agricultural services of Ethopia. In Pakistan the whole idea of mechanization had been discredited because ill-considered projects had seen tractors and other machinery delivered without stocks or spare parts. F.A.O. will seek to see there is better planning in future.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands, neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation, that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. (Acts 17-22-29.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40:28.)

Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147:5.)

Letters To The Editor

A LITTLE SALT

Sir: We have been coming up to this community for the past 10 years, and always look forward to this trip, but after what we have gone through this year due to the condition of the Buckhorn road (dust and pot holes deep enough to bury a dog in) I think our enthusiasm has certainly been dampened. Yesterday we heard that some persons with authority was to visit the roads to see for themselves the condition, and today I noticed in front of a few homes a little salt had been scattered to lay the dust. If this is all the relief the taxpayers are to get, then I say I am glad to live in U.S.A.

Please don't think me a crank, as I really think the merchants of Peterborough, Lakefield, Buckhorn and surrounding towns really are fine and do their utmost to make us feel at home.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES S. HUEY.

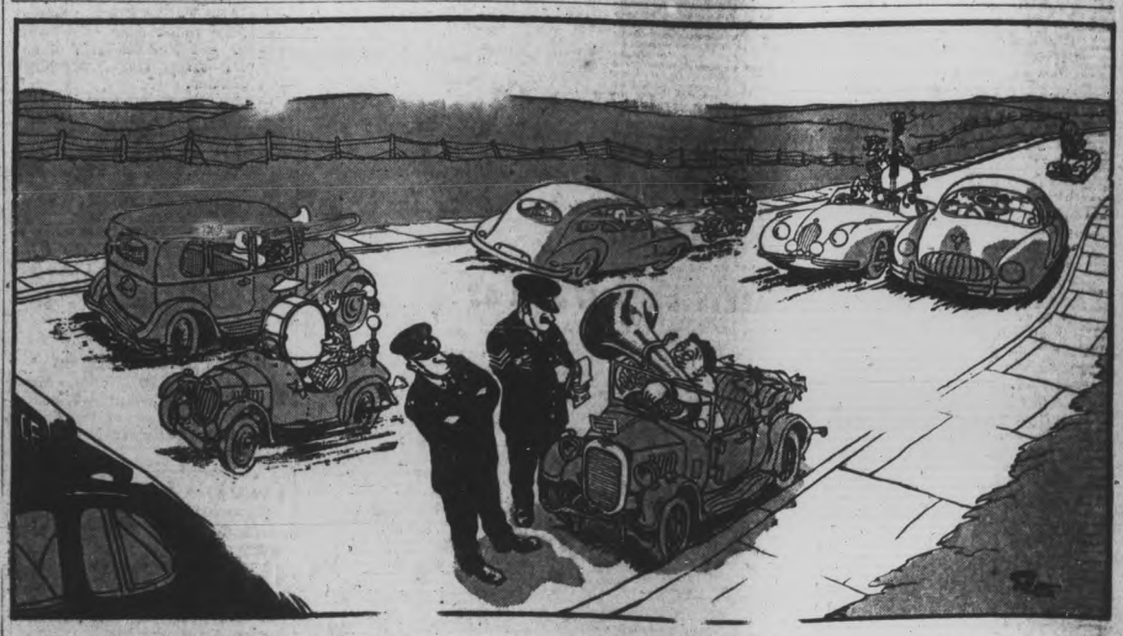
JUKE BOX FOR PIGEONS

Sir: In a recent editorial you described how starlings had been driven away by supersonic noise.



This is interesting news, for some years ago we in General Electric tried to repel pigeons by the same method. In our case, however, it did not work out. Far from being annoyed the pigeons appeared to enjoy the performance and clustered in droves around the loudspeaker.

To my mind the solution, then obscure, now becomes obvious. Pigeons are the musical intelligentsia of the feathered world, whereas starlings are merely a unit of the great unwashed. All we have to do therefore is install a juke box and the pigeon problem is no more.

Please feel free to use this theory in any way you wish to enhance your reputation as a savant.

Yours very truly,
W. G. WRIGHT.

(Ed. Note: We cheerfully concede the savvy to you.)

Breeding and Rearing Done Birds' Trek South Begins Yet Goldfinch Now Nesting

By MILLER STEWART
Sturgeon Point

Went out late one night last week to see the Perseid meteors. Every year this swarm of shooting stars that appear on Aug. 15, and for twenty-five days the lower north-east horizon after midnight becomes a spectacle, with as many as 50 meteors an hour streaking across the sky. The radiant point of this great display appears to be the constellation of Perseus, although actually, meteors only light up when they strike the upper atmosphere of the earth. The Perseids are a wandering cloud of meteoirc fragments which recur regularly.

However, here at Sturgeon Point we are hemmed in by an oak and pine forest that hides the horizon, and we saw only a small part of the show. We were too sleepy to stay up until 2 or 3 a.m., when the Perseid shower rises in the sky. But the effort wasn't all wasted, for as we waited in the quiet dark of the moonless midnight, the star picture was a thing of rare beauty, and we could hear quite clearly the calls of several flocks of migrating birds. My ear hasn't the keenness needed to make sure identification, and the closest I could come to naming these bird-calls was to be sure that they were water birds—probably terns.

TREK MONTH OLD

It was a kind of shock to my companion to think that birds were already on their way back south, with their breeding and rearing chores for the year all finished. And he was frankly sceptical when I told him that the southward procession was nearly a month old.

How long since he had seen a yellow warbler? In June, these

It is the lot of every man who has to speak for the satisfaction of the crowd, that he must often speak in virtue of yesterday's faith, hoping it will come back tomorrow.

George Eliot.

were our most conspicuous birds, along with the orioles. Now, the early mornings are almost as silent as November, as far as birdsong goes, and the thickets no longer hold the brilliant "wild canaries" that were so numerous a month ago.

Our yellow warblers disappeared long since, and it's only when wandering waves of warblers pass through as they did in the rain on Sunday last that we see any yellow warblers at all. Sunday, a wave of migrants contained yellow warblers, black and white bay-breasted, Canada, and a host of other unidentifiable warblers in their puzzling Autumn plumages.

ONLY FOR THE RIDE

There were nuthatches, orioles, and a few cowbirds in the flock, as well as downy and hairy woodpeckers. Of these, the woodpeckers and nuthatches were only going along for the ride. They aren't migratory. They just seem to tag along with each southward movement of the warblers, see them well along the way, and move back and forth again. For a couple of hours on Sunday, the woods were full of birds, all feeding, but all moving south.

Seeing the orioles again was surprising, because when they are nesting, they are very noisy and very showy. Their plumage does not change, but how so brilliant and numerous a bird can lurk so quietly and unseen once his family is reared, is a real mystery.

After July 15, you would scarcely believe that there was an oriole in the north, yet their migration has just begun now, a month later, and proceeds by slow stages for some weeks yet.

SHORT SUPPLY OF SONG SPARROWS

Another bird mystery of this summer of 1952 in the Kawarthas has been the short supply of song sparrows. The usual population of song sparrows in this part of Canada I would put at about 75 per square mile. When they returned in the spring, there seemed to me to be very few of them, but I felt that once they had reared their broods we would hear that cheerful song of "Sweet, sweet, sweet Presbyterian" from every bush and fencerow once again.

But some disaster must have struck the song sparrows, either in their southern home in the northern and central States, or on their northerly migration journey, because it is my guess that there wasn't a third of the usual song sparrow population in the Kawarthas this year.

The bluebirds have been in short supply for some years now, and I have been looking for them to come back to their former abundance. But they seemed to me to be as scarce as ever this year, and that cheery whistle and breathtaking blue beauty has become a sadly rare sight along these lakes.

With all this migratory movement, it's strange to notice once again that the goldfinch have only started to nest. They line their nests with thistledown, and until the thistles are ripe, they start no family duties. They are, therefore, our latest nesters.

A NICE BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON OR SUPPER DISH, FROM OLD WOODCOCK

Cut up the woodcock, and warm it in gravy made as follows: Beat up the entrails, and mix them in a sauce of red wine and water, a spoonful of vinegar, and a sliced onion; to which add butter and flour; boil this for a minute or two and then put in the bird, when hot, lay the pieces of bird upon a slice of buttered toast, and pour the sauce over the whole.

Snipes may be served in the same way. So may pee-wits and plovers.

Time, the most precious of all possessions, is commonly the least prized. It is, like health, regretted when gone, but rarely improved when present. We know it is not recoverable, yet throw it wantonly away. We know it is fleet, yet fail to catch the current moment. It is the space of life, and while we never properly occupy its limits, we nevertheless murmur at their narrowness. It is the field of exertion, and while we continually leave it fallow, we yet sorrow over our stinted harvest.

Negro Bound To Town Hall Door and Civic Ox Stolen

(Ed. Note: The incident of the stolen ox at the laying of the cornerstone of Peterborough's old town hall and market house in 1851 is notorious. None of the accounts of it equals in vivacity and completeness that of the late F. H. Dobbin. This appeared in The Examiner in June, 1919. From our files of that year we here reprint Mr. Dobbin's account.)

By F. H. DOBBIN

The civic building stood on the east side of the market square, about opposite what is now Nos. 338-340, east side of Water St. Built of red brick, fairly capacious, with accommodation on the ground floor for six butcher's stalls, the lock-up and an office for the constable. The upper floor was the public hall, or Academy of Music, Opera House, or Musical Hall, as it severally changed lessees and purposes. Holding about 500 admissions at a pinch. Afterwards a tower of wood construction was added to house the town bell, which by means of a long rope was clanged at times of fires and other public functions. In after years a wide verandah, or shelter, was built, on three of the sides, affording a welcome and much appreciated shelter on market days. The building was pulled down when the new civic building on George St. was put up.

The Mayor, Mr. Hudson, desired that the occasion of the corner stone laying should be especially notable, and something that could be worthily handed down to posterity. The ceremony and surroundings should be as ostentatious as possible and this benign idea was cheerfully encouraged. And in the girth of his heart and the breadth of his views he donated the gift of an ox that should be roasted whole and served ad libitum for the refection and satisfaction of the general public.

A RUDE SHOCK

Now, such a thing had not been heard of nor was a similar case recorded in the annals of the vicinity. It came as a distinct shock to the community. People spoke one with another and asked who is this Croesus who giveth oxen to be roasted whole? As a financial transaction if he had presented some club or coterie with a brand new red waggon it would have cost him much more money, for beef at the time sold for about three cents per pound on the hoof. Taking the weight of the ox at one thousand pounds, the probable cost was around $30.00. But it was the audacity of the proposition that took hold. Besides it was very good advertising, and the idea is now recommended for consideration of future occupants of the city civic chair.

Of course the word "ox" was used as a figure of speech. What was procured was a fine fat and young steer, carefully handpicked with discrimination and exquisite judgment. Something recherche and promising. It was brought into town and paraded and the public took notice and expressed anticipation, and then went home and voluntarily sharpened the carving knives and got ready for the coming festivities, waiting for further details of day and date and item of proceedings.

DIRECTOR OF CEREMONIES

Every man having such rheumatism decided to come.

All large and massive propositions of public import carry with them responsibility. That is the reason in this late day why the building of the Hunter Street bridge is being held up.

Having gotten the ox, who should cook it. There did not seem to be within sight, at the time, a chef of dimensions to suit the importance of the occasion. Now our progenitors were, if anything, resourceful. If they hadn't a thing ready to hand they made one. Genius knows no obstacles. The thing must be done. So by unanimous consent one Harry Cronn was duly nominated as Director of Ceremonies. Eminently fitted by birth, education and a ripe experience nothing but success was anticipated. It is seldom that any candidate received such unanimous nomination and election as came to the late Harry Cronn.

Cronn was a darkey. Of middle age and excellent weight, strong as the ox which he proposed to cremate. At the time of which this is written slavery was still in force in the Southern American States, and Cronn, born in slavery, had escaped and made his way to Canada, as many had done, by what was referred to as the underground railway. Slaves escaping and reaching the Northern States found some immunity, but could be recovered as a chattel by process of law. To get to Canada meant liberty, without question, for the British principle of "holding what they have," covered such cases. At one time there was quite a settlement of colored people in the neighborhood of Guelph, nearly all of whom had made way from below the Dixie line by way of the Middle States, their movements being approved and facilitated. The idea was held that Cronn had much experience of song-feasts, barbecues, camp-meetings and such negro festivities and occasions and that he knew what to do and how to do it. He cheerfully undertook the precentorship of the evening and promised satisfaction in all details.

Such is a colored man when in health.

"DER TAG"

Der Tag, the day, approached. On the market square, keeping a reasonable distance from the public pound, a pit was digged. About ten feet long, four feet in width and depth, the bottom covered with boulders. Standing at each end of the pit, firmly driven in the ground were crotches, cut from trees, shaped like the "Y." These to support the pole on which the carcass was to hang and revolve. A cross-tree at one end of the pole to turn the spit that the meat might enjoy the heat and all parts be equally roasted.

Early in the afternoon the fire was started in the pit. When it had burned down additional good maple was added, and the operation kept up until the pit was full of coals. The heat was intense—but there was a large order to be cooked. A plank covered table, of stout proportions had been built on which to cut up the roast. The carcass was laid on the table and a long pole thrust through, end to end, the steer having been skinned and dressed. The interior affording some space, fowls, a pig and several legs of lamb and mutton sewed up and bound with stovepipe wire, then lifted on to the supports and the cooking began.

Hot, do you say? Well, rather. Those who fired up did not have proper conception of the fervency of good, honest maple wood when given a fair show and supplied in a great plenty.

TROUSERS TOOK FIRE

The first man who undertook to turn the roast stood the heat until his trousers took fire, and had to be led to one side and irrigated. Then a resourceful soul, walked over and wrenched one of the shed doors of its hinges at the Civic Hall. There were so many that one less or more would not be missed. With the door thrust between the heat and the turner some respite was had, but presently the door began to smoke and one had to be detailed to swab it down at intervals.

By the time things were arranged and going with culinary smoothness it was pretty late in the afternoon. Supper had been announced as ready at seven and between that hour and eight o'clock the square held almost the entire population of the town and vicinity. People came prepared to feast, bringing bread, liquids, dishes, cutlery and things as fancy suggested. Many improvised tables of a sort and got ready for business. Knives were sharp and appetites exceedingly so. Those who volunteered to carve wore white aprons and other toggery to indicate office. Expectation was at a high pitch.

Whether Cronn had miscalculated the size of the roast and time for cooking was not clear but by nine o'clock it was announced by experts in baked meats, who explored the surface and interior of the roast that it was about half-done. This was depressing to a hungry and waiting populace. It was stated with confidence that in another hour things would be quite ready. A friendly hostile suggestion to rush the situation and serve the roast just as it was had to be suppressed. Presently the bed of coals flattened down and additional wood had to be brought and applied to the fire. This caused serious delay for the process of roasting stopped. People who were tired began to go home, and as a compromise it was given out that the cooking would be completed during the night and being ready in the morning all should come back to breakfast. With this they had to be contented. It was arranged that Cronn and two assistants should remain and close up the job.

A CALAMITY

About two of the clock, in the morning the scene changed and a catastrophe resulted. Eight or ten men came hurrying along Water St. driving a stout horse attached to a stone-boat. In silence, lest a voice might betray the owner, the squad descended on Cronn and his car. With coats turned inside out, a popular form of disguise, and faces blackened there was no chance for identification. The purpose was too evident when stout arms lifted the meat off the fire. One beauty about Harry Cronn was that he had no ignition troubles. He started at the first turn of the crank. He invariably performed on high gear and in this instance proposed to dispute the case. He floored two of the party but was seized and held from behind. Still struggling and threatening to bring discord into the proceedings by his resistance, the shed door that had done such excellent service was laid on the ground and Cronn bound to it hand and foot.

And to vary the solemnity Mr. Cronn expressed his convictions.

It was related by those who heard and who appreciated a masterpiece that the language in which he clothed his ideas as to things filled and fitted the situation much better than it sounded, for profanity, however sincere, seldom convinces. In a frenzy of irritation at his remarks some one shoved a cloth in his mouth and shut off the torrent with a gag, carried Cronn and the door across the square and planted it standing up against the old hotel shed.

There is a beautiful principle that governs our lives when in extremity, that self-preservation is the first law of nature. The two assistants basely deserted. One fled across the street, climbed on the roof of the old government building and viewed the concussion from over the ridge pole. The other scampered down Water St. and crawled under the barn at Adam Scott's old house. With all the vehemence that depraved natures are, the intruders placed the carcass on the stone-boat, whipped up the horse and disappeared out Charlotte St. way. The one and only constable slept.

THE EARLY COMERS

Early comers, relying on the invitation of the night before to come around for breakfast began to arrive with daylight. Found the fire out, the meat gone, the square deserted, and Cronn, who was released. He was as black and as blank as a defeated candidate. After he had absorbed some thing stimulating, of which he consumed several, he related his experience and denounced the miscreants. As a specimen of invective uttered in public it made the welkin ring. The assistants were hunted up but would tell nothing additional, even if they could. The whole transaction was, as it were, in camera.

Where was the meat, that the thrilling question. Within the next few days all the dogs in town seemed to have calling day on their minds and to be slinking out Sherbrooke and Charlotte streets. Out for a walk on the Sunday following two citizens came across the carcass pitched into a swamp on the Carver farm beyond the first toll-gate, and it grieves one to say, very indecently interred.

Of course there developed an interesting row over the catastrophe. It was known that there were about fifty men, all practical jokers, for the breed was abundant, who would be capable of concocting and carrying out such unmitigated villany, though the number actually concerned was not many. An investigation was demanded that the dignity and authority of the Public Peace should not be flaunted. Several choice spirits, suspected but not exactly identified as implicated were summoned and closely questioned. It was really surprising the remarkable loss of memory on the part of such citizens. There seemed to be abroad a rash of profound forgetfulness. While it was hoped as a measure of retaliation and satisfaction to fasten the fracas on some few there was little to go on. And after it was all over a local wag named Vizard, a lawyer, embalmed the whole thing in humble verse, to the metre of that famous classic "John Gilpin." Copies of the screed about a yard long were struck off and circulated. It is a matter of regret that neither public nor private archives have preserved a copy, but from the galleries of memory a verse or two may be recalled. After detailing the story of the gift, the roasting and theft of the ox, the Court proceedings are referred to:—

They put Old Harry into the box
To swear to the men who stole the ox;
Old Harry into the box did go,
And vowed that the men he did not know.
Then the judge, unto Old Harry did say,
"Are you prepared for this ox to pay."
"Indeed," said Harry, "that same I'm not."

A-F-I-E-L-D with NICK NICKELS

Bird watchers are not necessarily spinsterish ladies and Milquetoast men. The other evening I had an urgent call, almost a command, to come over to the Big Swamp and watch the birds come in.

My mentor was Mel Kingdon of Lakefield, lumberman and sawmill operator. He relaxes from a busy work-a-day life by studying bird life from a tall maple near the edge of a 15-acre swamp, or from the sawdust dump behind the mill.

When I reached the dump about half an hour before sundown Mel handed me a pair of German artillery field glasses. We scanned the swamp and the sky above it diligently.

"Some starlings and blackbirds are settling now," he said without removing the glasses from his eyes.

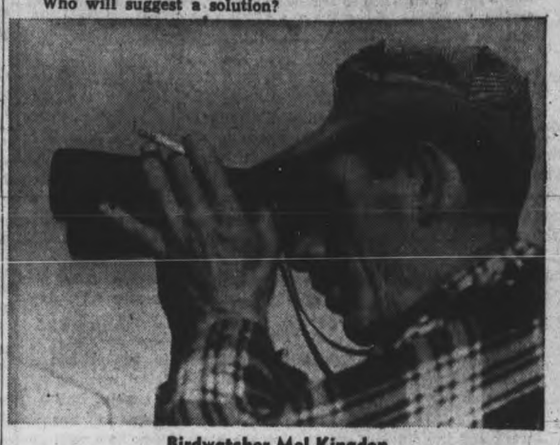
Straggling dozens flew in low, flitted above the rice and reeds and disappeared under the green cover.

A black duck made a two-point landing in a small patch of brackish water and a heron shifted its position from one shallows to another. The sun was dropping fast to the western hills.

"See that smudge about two miles away?" said Mel.

The smudge, through the glasses, became a wheeling mass of starlings en route from the Douro Township grain fields to the north-east of us.

"They'll be coming thick and fast any minute now," Mel said by way of warning.



And sure enough, starlings and blackbirds in small, medium and large flocks swept in from all points of the compass. The sun was half down and the orange cross light lit up their beating wings until they seemed to be transformed into large swarms of locusts.

We craned our necks in all directions. As soon as the sun disappeared there was no more sign of life in the 15 acres of reeds. A very conservative estimate of the night bird population that evening was about 15,000 birds, or, 1,000 starlings and blackbirds to the acre.

As we stumbled homeward in the half light, we wondered how many district swamps held a like number of the pests — they roost there to be near the warm water. We could still hear the raucous chirping from the reeds on the falling wind.

How many thousands of these birds could be killed in this one concentrated mass was easy to imagine, but how to do it was another thing. Poison gas from low-flying planes? Acres of trap nets with hundreds of hunters to operate them?

Who will suggest a solution?

Just about the time one gives up hope of hearing of a fisherman taking a lake trout, the phone rings and there's the proof.

Elmer Vance, of 390 George St. N., landed a 9½ pounder at Bay Lake last weekend, three miles south of Bancroft. With his uncle, Harold Vance of Pontiac, Mich., he trolled with a Williams metal line on an ordinary reel outfit and had over 200 feet of the stuff out when the fish struck. A wobbling spoon was the lure that attracted the laker.

The 93-pound sturgeon that was clubbed to death and towed ashore below Campbellford by two Toronto-Scarboro sports made headlines in daily newspapers this week, not so much the size of the monster but the method in which it was taken. Section 33, Section 1, of the Game and Fisheries Act says of taking sturgeon: "Except by angling no person shall retain, etc., etc."

Have heard no comment from Zone 5 boys of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. What do they suggest in the way of prosecution?

See What I Mean

When a brainwave from this column bears fruit — you'd never know you had a reader 'till you make a mistake — it is very gratifying.

Referring to a suggestion last spring that men of the Peterborough branch, Canadian Institute of the Blind be taken fishing and water touring, Dr. Cliff McKee caught the ball and with Outboard Mariner Clarence Neal entertained eight men at Rice Lake on Wednesday. Hosts and guests had a whale of a time and, though there were no tales of monstrous fish being caught, it was a grand outing.

A few more such unselfish acts of kindness could be shown to similar groups now that a start has been made in the right direction. Thanks a lot, Cliff and Clarence and to factory managers who gave their men time off to attend.

Dealing With ShadeTree Leaf Blights

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Shade-tree leaf troubles are among the many at this time. Leaf troubles are now plainly visible in many parts of the country.

The troubles are associated primarily with the rainy spell this spring and the lack of rainfall since then. In some cases, the troubles were undoubtedly aggravated by the weakened condition of the trees as a result of neglect in the past.

Several distinctly different diseases are involved. The first, the so-called leaf scorch disease, is prevalent on sugar and silver maples.

Leaf scorch is believed to result where the roots are unable during hot and dry periods to supply sufficient water to the leaves.

Such a set of conditions occurred during the heat wave early in July.

The type of growth which developed just prior to these high temperatures and the soil moisture content were without doubt contributing factors in the severity of the scorch.

Infections produced by leaf spotting and blighting fungi are easily confused with leaf scorch and can be differentiated best by microscopic examination of the browned tissues.

Leaves attacked by parasites usually show more or less circular spots of varying sizes, scattered over the surfaces, whereas leaves affected by scorch show browning primarily along the edges is severe cases, and scattered, angular blotches between the veins in milder cases.

Fertilization is the best treatment to prevent leaf scorch on sugar and silver maple trees.

Moreover, fungus infections are more abundant on the lower, more shaded portions of the tree, whereas scorch is more prevalent on the side of prevailing winds or sun rays.

Because leaf scorch is not caused by attacks of parasite agents, sprays will do little good. Any practice which will improve the general condition of the tree should be initiated. Fertilization this fall or early next spring probably is the best treatment. The tops of trees with restricted or injured root-systems should be reduced by judicious pruning in order to increase the supply of water to the remaining leaves.

Leaf spots and leaf blights due to fungi do not occur with enough regularity or with sufficient destructiveness to warrant the application of several Bordeaux or other sprays necessary to curb them. The fallen leaves should be gathered and burned to eliminate an important source of next springs infections.

Gardening Questions

Q—Should a strawberry bed be given extra watering during the picking season?

A—Yes, since the berries contain about 80 per cent water and the roots grow shallow, additional soil moisture is essential for a satisfactory crop. A mulch of straw is important as it conserves moisture during warm and dry weather.

Q—Rats are a serious problem in our home in the country. They infest the barn and chicken house and all recommended methods of eradication have failed. What do you suggest?

A—The answer is Warfarin, a poison introduced two years ago by the Wisconsin Research Foundation. Follow directions by the maker. Highly recommended by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Q—We have access to a constant supply of sawdust. Do you advise its use as a means of improving a heavy clay-soil vegetable garden?

A—Yes. In breaking down into organic matter, sawdust makes heavy soil easier to work and aids in aeration and root penetration. Be sure to use a fertilizer strong in nitrogen as extra nitrogen is needed to assist in the decomposition of the sawdust.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Summer is hardly over yet, though autumn air encroaches. And the crash of flying wood soon will be heard again on various bowling alleys. This sport has the longest season of any, running regularly from early fall right through to late spring. Organization meetings are in order for several loops next week, and other circuits will shortly be putting their houses in order fot another long campaign. Next Wednesday, the men's City Bowling League holds a re-organization session at seven p.m. in Duffus, open to all—and prospective captains can meantime phone Mel Akers at 6927 evenings to see about entering. All entries for the Major Bowling League must be in the hands of Bill Flint by next Thursday night, or left at Playfair.

Quinte columnist comments: "Hm. let's see—2,400 plus 3,049 is 5,499. Multiply by 50 and you have 272,450. A little punctuation brings this to $2,724.50. Not bad. Just simple arithmetic but that's what the take has been at the Peterborough box office for the last two TV nights of the Petes' senior ball club. Thanks to a number of generous business men and others, the Petes have been able to line their long empty coffers." Yeah, George, those two booster crowds have certainly helped plenty, though you must remember that all admissions aren't 50 cents, kids get in for half. Also, the Petes have plenty of expenses for every game here and away. But playoffs should draw big crowds, too.

* * * * * *

Guys Who Steal Balls

It is taken for granted that road trips, time off, meals, umpires, advertising, park rental, uniforms and other equipment make for a pretty hefty expenditure in senior ball—as in other sports. What really galls the executive is to see non-paying watchers on the bank outside the park, pocket balls (costing $3.50 each) when fouled over the fence. Adults, mind you, not kids. The game is expensive enough without losing 'em like that. Kingston Monarchs are listed for a seven p.m. game in Riverside with the locals this eve, weather being okay, and the Petes can clinch top spot in the C.O.B.L. with a win. They then have but one more tilt ere playoffs.

* * * * * *

The Ontario Lacrosse Association senior "A" title can be taken by the gutted stick Petes here tonight if they trim Hamilton's husky Tigers. That's all the Thorpe crew need to do it, one more win—and they haven't dropped a decision yet this year in Miller Bowl. After that they have one more postponement with Fergus here, and then go against the sixth-place club in the first round of Eastern Canada playdown. It's an 8:45 touch tonight and should be a dandy scrap, if the weather behaves. One can't predict rain or shine safely half a day in advance in the late summer, so one must keep saying "weather permitting" in mentioning tilts on tap. Haven't heard yet when Fergus comes next week.

Lakefield Merchants bowed out of the O.A.S.A. intermediate "C" playdowns here last p.m. as Brooklin won 8-1 to take it in straight games. B's had tidy twirling with good hitting and fielding, while Lakefield used two pitchers. Cam Wasson led 'em at bat. Lakefield and Seabrooke's clash at seven tonight and again at seven Tuesday eve. Tied now at 1-1 in the best-of-five, if either wins the next two then that club goes into city finals against U.E. in the second joust Tuesday. U.E.W. won the Dormer Trophy by finishing atop the schedule, but the city championship is for the Taylor Cup and the right to go into provincial senior "B" playdowns next month.

* * * * * *

With Phil Clancy leaving the Petes to report for U.S.A. military service, a glimpse at the Petes' pitching marks so far this C.O.B.L. semester might be timely. Phil and Lefty Bill Dadson have been bearing the brunt of the work and the club's standing atop the heap shows how well they have been doing on slab duty. Each has won six games and lost three, while the veteran Gunner Ed Whitehill has only been used a few times to date, winning one tilt and being charged with one loss. Bill Edger started but lost two, his arm giving him trouble this summer, so he has been used since regularly at first base—doing a fine job at the initial sack. The Petes expect to get Doug. Loucks as an O.B.A. mound replacement for Clancy.

Savitt, Neilsen On Same Side During Doubles

TORONTO (CP)—Contenders for Canada's tennis singles crown, Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., and Kurt Neilsen of Denmark, will be on the same side of the net today.

The two aces, who meet in the final of the Canadian lawn tennis championships tomorrow, are paired in the men's doubles. So far they have defeated Dick Birch and Jack Little of Toronto by default and Rafael Ortega and Anselm Puente of Mexico in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3.

Today they face Austin MacPherson of Toronto and Joaquin Reyes of Mexico in the quarter-finals.

The game was originally scheduled yesterday but Neilsen was worn out from his five-set victory over the Philippine champion, Felicissimo Ampon. Should the Savitt-Neilsen twosome win, they will enter the semi-finals against another international team, Henri Rochon of Montreal and Ed Moylan of Trenton, N.J.

Also playing will be last year's doubles champions, Canada's Brendan Macken of Montreal and Lorne Main of Vancouver.

FRESH FROM VICTORY

Fresh from their victory over Mexico's Gustavo Palafox and Francisco Arcocha, 8-6, 8-6, the two Davis Cup players await the winner of another quarter-final match—Don Fontana of Toronto and Ampon, who play Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Noel Brown of Los Angeles in an earlier match.

Doubles matches comprise most of today's draw but one singles event is of outstanding interest. Mexico's Melita Remirez meets last year's singles winner, Lucille Davidson of Lee Summit, Mo., to decide the women's championship.

AMPON TIRED

In yesterday's play, sheer weariness contributed to Ampon's defeat by his much-larger opponent. After almost two hours of play, which saw Neilsen come from behind to tie the sets at two each, the Filipino tired noticeably losing the match 6-0, 1-6, 3-6, 10-8, 7-5.

For a time Savitt looked as if he might lose to 29-year-old Ed Moyan. Moyan, barred from tournament play in the U.S. because he works for a sporting goods firm, was participating in his first big tournament in several years.

After losing the first set and the second, he made a determined bid to upset Savitt. He took three straight games and survived four match points to tie the score in the third set, five-all.

But Savitt's smashing service took the next two games and the match, 12-10, 6-2, 7-5.

Crescents And Petes Lead PMLA Schedules

Athletics beat the peewee Tigers early last week in the P.M.-L.A. by 13-4. R. Grant scored three and Quinlan one for the losers. For A's, Parry, Danahy and Rendall got three each, Drummond two, and White and Ruttan one apiece. The tadpole game was rained out. Crescents beat Thistles Tuesday in tadpole by default. Petes' peewees edged Mounties 11-10 on goals by Clancy 3, Hunt 3, and Knox, Grant, Feeley, Brady and Jacques. The losers' goals were by Anthony 5, DeNoble 3, Burns, Parks.

The Thursday tadpole tilt was rained out but the peewee Petes won 9-8 over A's with two goals each by Grant, Feeley and Brady, and one each by Clancy, Knox and Godfrey. Outram got four for the losers, Ruttan and Danahy two each and Rendall one.

COMBINES WIN

Tadpole Combines downed thistles 5-2 Friday as Wilkenson scored four and Cavanagh one, the Thistles' tallies being by Triggs and Allan. Mounties took a 14-9 peewee win over Tigers. Anthony shone with six markers, DeNoble and Vilneff getting four each. For Tigers, Heffernan scored four, Grant two, and O'Rourke, Hamilton and Quinlan one each.

Tadpole standing has Crescents with 16 points, Combines 11, Yorks nine, and Thistles two. The peewee standing is: Petes 18 points, A's 16, Mounties 10, and Tigers four. Playoffs start Monday.

Fenelon Falls Indians Square Playoffs

LINDSAY—Fenelon Falls Indians Friday evened their Tri-country league Eastern Division final series with Lindsay Walkwoods at one game each, when they took an error-filled decision from the local team, 7-6.

Mel Junkin pitched the Indians to the win, holding Lindsay to six hits, although he was in constant trouble as his mates committed 10 errors behind him. Junkin struck out seven in the seven-inning game. Hank Debois was the loser for Walkwoods, being relieved by Williams in the sixth. Williams struck out the last two men in that inning and held Fenelon Falls to one hit in the seventh.

Ken Nichols led the Falls at the plate with two of their seven hits, and drove in two runs. Art Truax had two singles for the losers and Williams had a double and single in his two trips to the plate.

LAST CANADIAN in the running for the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, Bill Mawhinney, of Vancouver (above) was eliminated Friday by Jack Westland, of Everett, Washington. In their 36-hole semi-final match being played at Seattle, Westland came from behind to beat Mawhinney 5 and 4.

Lakefield Squad Ousted In O.A.S.A. By Brooklin

Lakefield Merchants bowed out to Brooklin in the first playoffs Friday night, at the East City Bowl as Dib Little's boys in grey took their second win 8-1, before a fair crowd of fans. The visitors took Tuesday's home game 12-8, thus clinching the best-of-three series in straight games.

Brooklin will meet the winners of semi-finals involving: Hastings, Marmora, Tweed and Madoc now progressing, to possibly advance further.

NEAT HURLING

Gerald Hooker, a fast right-hander with a sharp hook, twirled the route for the winners and though a trifle wild, held Merchants fairly well in check—aided by fine support. He struck out 10 batters, allowed seven hits including doubles by Cam and Red Wasson (who proved the most effective stickers for Merchants) and walked four. Kevin Heffernan started on the home hill and pitched well for five frames; but Brooklin staged a rally in the sixth as the bats of Bill Croxall, Ken Arksey, John Carnswith, Bill Harper, Hooker and Don Mitchell, rang out to drive home five valuable tallies and salt away the verdict. Mitchell's homer with Arksey and Carnswith aboard sent Heffernan to the showers, and John Hinton took over for the battling Merchants.

Don Mitchell, crack centre-fielder, proved the big star for the visitors with five hits for as many trips including a double and homer; he drove in four runs and fielded brilliantly. Harper, Hooker, Croxall, Arksey and Carnswith each had two safeties.

For Lakefield, Cam Wasson had three for five; Red two for four with Blewett and Lickley snaring the other odd bingles. Red Wasson and Lickley sparkled afield.

Ouf At The Kawartha

That the visitors' night, sponsored by the local lawn bowling club, last evening was a huge success, no one will argue. We make this statement—that, if the weather had been a litlte warmer, we doubt if the 24 greens would have been sufficient to accommodate the crowd.

Close to 100 were in attendance and they were 60 per cent visitors. It was a bigger response than the committee had expected.

Many of the visitors had never seen our greens before, let alone bowl on them, but they did a fine job at it. They played them wide and short and many tossed the bowls with the wrong "bias", but that made no difference. They were out for an evening's fun and they were having it.

The club donated the individual prizes.

It was a well worth-while effort and Dan Anderson and his committee are to be congratulated.

At the conclusion of the three 6-end games, refreshments were served.

Junior Tennis Title To Be Decided

OTTAWA (CP)—The interprovincial team titles for junior men and women will be decided today at the Canadian junior tennis championships.

Singles matches are also scheduled in the three age groups—junior men and women, boys and girls and juvenile boys and girls.

Teams from Ontario and Quebec are battling for the junior women's side of the interprovincial matches. The men's teams finalists in the all-Canadian event are Quebec and a western team made up of players from British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The team contests should be decided by this afternoon and with them off the courts the singles events will swing into action on the 17 courts of the Rideau lawn tennis club.

22 IN SECOND ROUND

The men's singles yesterday saw 22 players move into the second round. There were no upsets in that or any of the smaller events.

First-seeded Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla., was taken out of the matches by default. The matches went to unseeded Geoffrey Black of Montreal.

Top-seeded Canadian, John Griffiths of Regina, hasn't been called for his first match yet.

The juvenile girls' and boys' singles were inaugurated yesterday in the first day of the week-long, 16-event tournament eliminations in the event for players under 13 years of age will be continued today.

John Wilson of Ottawa advanced into the second round when he downed Norman Rice, also of Ottawa, 6-3, 6-4. The second-seeded lad, Gerald Dubie, of Hamtramck, Mich., ousted Ron Pollard, of Belleville, Ont. The top-seeded girl, Linda Wolf of Buffalo, eliminated her opposition, Helen Radakir of Ottawa, 6-2, 6-1.

The only seeded boy to put in an appearance in yesterday's play was the new arrival Raul Karman, of Havana, Cuba. He beat out Bob Armstrong of Hamilton, 6-0, 6-1.

Baltimore Wants Football Game

OTTAWA (CP)—A post-season exhibition football game between Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes may be shaping up in—of all places—Baltimore.

Jim McCaffrey, Rough Rider president, said yesterday he likes the idea, and will ask Lew Hayman of the Montreal Big Four team to see whether Montreal will go along.

The proposal is reported to have come from the publisher of the Baltimore Sun after a Sun reporter—in Ottawa for an International League baseball game — wrote about the football fever in Ottawa and the Riders' coach, Clem Crowe.

Crowe was coach of the former Baltimore Colts in the United States pro circuit and would be a drawing card for any exhibition game there.

EXPECTS TITLE. — Playing coach Bob Thorpe of the senior lacrosse Petes confidently expects his club to come through tonight against Hamilton here and capture the O.L.A. crown once more. The club will then proceed into Eastern Canada playdowns.

Cliff Lumsden Wins Third C.N.E. Swim

By RON EVANS

TORONTO —(CP)—Cliff Lumsden churned through 10 miles of chill water yesterday to claim his third Canadian National Exhibition swim in four years. The 21-year-old Toronto salesman's 4½-hour ordeal netted him $5,200. The two contenders—Jerry Kerschner of Columbus, O., and George Bevan of Winnipeg—who lasted little more than two hours, were left with severe chills and aching muscles.

The $2,500 second prize will send crippled Forbes Norris, Jr., 24, of Winchester, Mass., back for a second year of medical studies at Harvard University, Harvard, Mass.

Another former winner, Steve Wozniak, 36-year-old Buffalo, N.Y., truck driver, who won the water classic in 1948, dipped into the $9,500 purse. He collected $750 for finishing third. Veteran Tommy Park of Hamilton was fourth for $500.

Kerschner and Bevan were pulled from the water in the eighth mile; the 30-year-old Kerschner semi-conscious and "tired. . .tired," Bevan, 19, racked by a groin cramp.

Three Egyptian Channel swimmers, Hassan Abou Bakr, 31, Saied El Araby, 36, and Abdel Latif Abou Heif, 24, finished in fifth, sixth and seventh places. Last and tardy collected $300 and $100. The three men from Cairo had earlier said they were not out to win the race just to compete.

10,000 ONLOOKERS

Almost 10,000 persons, shivering in a cool north breeze which stirred the closed Lake Ontario course and sent water temperature down to 61 degrees, lined the waterfront all afternoon. Thirty-seven swimmers spilled in the water at the starting gun.

Lumsden, winner in 1949 and 1950, told reporters on the finish barge the prize money will go to buy a home. His fiancee, Joan Cook of Toronto, stood by smiling.

Michael Thatch, 26, of Chatham, Ont., entered the water coated with thick, black axle grease and was pulled out 1½ miles later. He said he was kicked in the stomach during the flailing start and developed a leg cram soon after.

Playoffs Commence For Minor Lacrosse

Minor lacrosse playoffs are on this week in Miller Bowl, Walter Murphy announces for Coach Harry Wipper. The "A" peewee series has Petes and Tigers tangling at nine Monday morning in the first of the semi-finals, with the tadpole "A" semi-final game between Crescent sand Thistles at 10.30 that day. A peewee all-star drill is listed for two p.m., a bantam workout at 3.30, while 5.30 is the time set for the midget team to meet at the Bowl for the trip to Toronto to play Parkdale Lions. The bantam game has been cancelled.

Mounties meet Athletics at nine a.m. Tuesday to open the peewee "B" series, with Yorks tackling Combines at 10.30 in the tadpole "B" semi-finals. A peewee practice goes at two p.m., a bantam drill at three, and a meeting of all bantam players for an important discussion is called for 6.30 that evening. Doug Miller Jr. will hold a juvenile workout at 6.30, also.

STARTING FINALS

Peewee finals are in order at nine a.m. Wednesday, best of three, between "A" and "B" finalists. The tadpole finals, along the same lines, go at 10.30. Peewee all-stars practise at two in the afternoon, followed by the bantams an hour late. Parkdale Lions oppose the midgets at nine p.m., unless there is a senior game here that night.

Peewee finals at nine and tadpole finals at 10.30 a.m. are on tap Thursday morning with the peewee all-stars drilling at two p.m., the bantams at three, and a bantam get-together called for at 6.30 p.m. There will also be a juvenile workout at 6.30. The Friday setup will be announced later.

CONTRACT EXTENDED

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Stanky, freshman manager of the high-flying St. Louis Cardinals, was given a one-year extension of his contract yesterday as a reward for his work. Since his old contract carried through next year, the action means Stanky will direct the National League club through 1954.

Fergus Bows Out To Yorks In 28-16 Game

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Fergus bowed out of the playoff race in the Ontario Lacrosse Association's senior loop last night.

The Thistles lost their last chance to keep in the running for the post-season play when they were defeated by Toronto West Yorks 28-16.

In the only other game of the night, Hamilton defeated Owen Sound 9-2 in the final game of the schedule for the Crescents. Tigers have already clinched fourth place and the Crescents fifth.

At Fergus, Jim McNulty led the Toronto scoring with eight goals. Leo Teatro notched four with Bruce Webster, Clark Lyons and Ken Croft each scoring three. Big guns for Fergus was Bob Dobbie with four and Bob Gear with three.

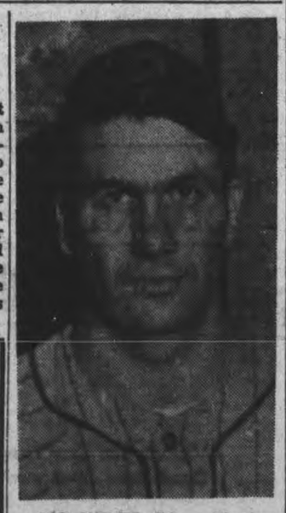
In the game at Owen Sound Bill Ranking paced the Hamilton victory with three goals. Tommy Love scored two and Jack Gair, Jack Dorney, Plain McDonald and Merv McKenzie one each. Doug Gillespie and Norm Shorgridge scored for Owen Sound.

Fans Invited To Meet Ghosts

COBOURG — Cobourg Galloping Ghosts are going all out this year to achieve big time football status. The latest move is a "meet the team" supper to be held in the recreational centre tonight. The public is invited to attend the supper, and to hear Coach Art West explain the team's plans this year and describe the type of play the Gallopers will use.

West likely will report that the offence will be built on speed and passing with little of the heavy ground attack used often last year. Ball handling and aerial work has featured the late practices.

Friday the Ghosts opened the longest and hardest drill period of the season. The Ghosts worked out for two hours at Kiwanis Park, go through two different drill sessions today and plan a morning-long practice Sunday.



Included in the Ghost ranks is the contingent that came from the Balmy Beach senior team with West. They include Red Alexander at fullback; Tony Horvath, guard; Bruce Cummings, tackle; Don Hat, quarter; and Boyd Hendry, end.

In addition the Ghosts report a full turnout of last year's team with the exception of Cooper.

Cobourg Rally Stops Defeat By Whitby

COBOURG.—A desperate last inning rally staved off elimination for Cobourg Legionaires here Friday as they came from behind to tie Whitby Merchants 5-5, in the Lakeshore League playoffs. The locals shoved over four runs in that seventh and had the winner in third when Sonny Beckstead flied to left to end it. Umpire Mickey Devine at once called the game for darkness. Whitby leads the series, 2-1.

JOE SET TO GO — Playing manager Joe Stewart of the Petes' senior ball club is all set to go out and win to-night's tilt here against Kingston Monarchs and clinch top place in the C.O.B.L. race. The winner gets a bye then into league finals.

INDIAN BITES THE DUST—Cleveland's Harry Simpson is forced out at second on Ray Boone's grounder in second inning of game with Red Sox at Boston. That's second baseman Billy Goodman, who took the ball from Shortstop Ted Lepcio, relaying on to first for a double play. Sox won, 6-5.

Orioles Trip Ottawa In Twin Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore Orioles and Buffalo Bisons, early-season disappointments, are making strong bids to qualify for a berth in the International League's playoffs.

The two teams swept doubleheaders yesterday as fourth-place Toronto was dropping a pair.

Kent Peterson hurled a one hitter in the seven-inning opener for the Orioles as they defeated Ottawa ace Mario Fricano 1-0. In the nightcap, Baltimore was helped by five Ottawa errors and went on to win 5-3 behind Dick Starr. The sweep enabled the fifth-place Orioles to move to within 1½ games of Toronto.

Buffalo Bisons edged Toronto's Maple Leafs 4-3 and 2-1, the opener going eight innings. Frank Carswell decided the first contest as he led off the eighth with his 20th home run. Relief hurler Ray Shore was the victim of Carswell's smash. Milt Jordan was the winner.

LOSES A TOUGHIE

Johnn Hetki, who fanned 10 Bisons, lost a heartbreaker in the afterpiece. Toronto shortstop Bill Jennings dropped a pop fly with the bases loaded and two out in the fifth, to permit the only scores on Hetki. Hetki allowed only four hits. Wayne McLeland picked up the win as he gave up five safeties.

In other games, the pace-setting Montreal Royals split a twin bill with Springfield Cubs and second-place Syracuse Chiefs defeated their closest pursuers, Rochester Red Wings.

Montreal blasted across seven runs in the first inning of the first game, but couldn't hold its lead and lost 11-10. The Cubs pulled it out with the help of six Montreal errors. Royals came back to take the second game 4-3 as Tom Lasorda went the route for his 13th victory.

Syracuse, helped by a wild fourth inning in which they scored seven runs on only two hits, defeated Rochester 10-7 in the battle for second place.

Port Hope, Dodgers Fight To Stalemate

PORT HOPE.—The Intermediate "B" best-of-seven series for the championship of the Lakeshore League is still tied up, two-all, following Thursday night's sixth game in which the Port Hope Ontarios and Colborne Dodgers fought eight innings to a 5-5 stalemate, abbreviated because of darkness. This is the second game of the set to end in a tie.

The game see-sawed back and forth throughout, with Port Hope tieing the score in the bottom half of both seventh and eighth innings after Colborne went ahead twice.

Colborne ended up on top of the hitting column, touching John Holman for nine safeties, while Port Hope collected seven off Bill Ball. Karl Higgenbotham was the only hitter to collect two safeties for Colborne, while Bill Douglas, Larry Edwardson and Len Ashby each were double hitters for Port Hope.

Port Hope errors, of which there were seven, contributed greatly toward Colborne getting back in the game after trailing by two runs, a pair of miscues in one inning giving them two runs without a hit.

Pitching: Stu Miller, Cardinals and Bobby Shantz, Athletics—Miller, rookie righthander, turned in his third straight victory in pitching St. Louis to 3-1 three-hit victory over New York. Shantz registered his 22nd victory in pitching Philadelphia to 9-0 four-hit decision over St. Louis in second game of twi-night twin-bill.

Batting: Luke Easter, Indians—drove in four runs on homer and single to spark Cleveland to 6-4 victory over New York which enabled Indians to take over first place from Yanks.

Cleveland Tribe Turns Back Yankees 6-4; White Sox Subdue Boston

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians are in first place today convinced they will win the 1952 American League pennant. One reason for their bright outlook is a big victory over one of their chief stumbling blocks of the past—New York Yankees. Cleveland turned back the Yanks 6-4 yesterday in the first game of a vital two-game series at Yankee Stadium and took over the top rung from the defending champions by one percentage point. This is the first time Cleveland has ruled the roost since June 7 and the first time since June 14 the Yanks are the pursuers instead of the pursued.

CUBS BEAT SOX

Chicago White Sox, fresh from three straight triumphs over the Yanks, extended their winning streak to four games by beating the third-place Boston Red Sox 4-1. In other American League games, Philadelphia Athletics captured a twi-night doubleheader from St. Louis Browns 5-2 and 9-0 and Detroit Tigers defeated Washington 2-0.

In the National League, the red hot St. Louis Cardinals defeated New York Giants 3-1 to stretch their winning streak to seven games.

The victory moved the Cards within three percentage points of the second-place Giants. Brooklyn's pace-setting Dodgers split a twi-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh, winning the first game 9-2 but losing the second 3-2. Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Boston downed Chicago, 4-3.

Luke Easter, Dale Mitchell and Bobby Avila were the leading lights in the Cleveland triumph.

STARTS TRIPLE PLAY

Big Luke drove in four runs on his 20th homer and a single. Mitchell cracked out five straight singles and Avila started the first triple play of the American League season.

Avila pulled his fielding gem in the fifth. He speared Hank Bauer's low liner, stepped on second to double up Billy Martin and fired to first to nail Allie Reynolds.

Veteran Joe Dobson tamed the Red Sox on four singles in posting his 12th victory for Chicago.

Philadelphia's sweep of the Browns enabled the A's to tie the White Sox for fourth place, six games back of Cleveland. Rookie Charley Bishop, with help from Bob Hooper, gained his first victory in the opener. Bobby Shantz, the majors' top winner, coasted to his 22nd win in the second game, Gus Zernial supplied the punch, driving in seven runs on a grand-slam homer and single.

Lefty Ted Gray bested Bob Porterfield in the pitching duel at Washington.

THIRD FOR MILLER

Stu Miller, sensational rookie righthander, turned in his third straight victory for St. Louis. Miller limited the Giants to three hits and struck out nine. Enos Slaughter singled home Solly Hemus with the winning run in the eighth inning.

The Dodgers scored five runs in the seventh inning to win the opener at Pittsburgh. Relief ace Joe Black was credited with the victory, his 10th. Gus Bell singled home Dick Groat with the winning run of the after piece in the ninth.

Willard Marshall's two-run homer in the fifth provided Cincinnati with its margin of victory over Philadelphia.

Max Surkont posted his 10th victory in beating the Cubs. All four Boston runs were unearned. Hank Sauer clouted his 34th homer for Chicago and boosted his runs-batted-in output to 108.

2 Starting Pitchers Casualties At Games

CINCINNATI (AP)—Both starting pitchers became casualties in the game between Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phillies here last night.

In the bottom of the fourth inning, Willard Marshall hit a line drive that struck hurler Curt Simmons of the Phillies on the back of his right wrist. He was taken to hospital for an X-ray.

In the first inning, Frank Hiller of Cincinnati Reds suffered a broken nose when spiked by Richie Ashburn.

Hiller also suffered cuts around his eyes. He also was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Why We Need A New Bible?

Scripture Returns To "Old Recipe"

NEW YORK (NEA) — Each Christmas the women in the Jones family make plum pudding, using a recipe handed down from their Great - great - great - grandmother Jones.

Not long ago, a new Jones bride, clearing out the attic, made a remarkable find. She uncovered, in the painstaking script of Great-great-grandmother Jones, a copy of the recipe three generations nearer the original than any other known.

And lo and behold, a comparison shows great variation. Somewhere along the line a cook left cut half a cup of molasses—most likely because it was stuck in between half a cup of citron and half a cup of grape juice, and the copyist's eye simply slid over the middle half cup.

Next Christmas, the Jones wives will return to the attic recipe, the nearest to the original

* * *

COPIED BY HAND

As with that plum pudding recipe, so it is with a very, very old book—the Holy Bible.

It is some 3000 years since the Old Testament began to take written form. Almost exactly 1800 years ago the New Testament was completed. Until printing was invented about 1450, the Bible was kept alive by the only method known—copying by hand.

Just as with the pudding recipe, it is unlikely we will unearth a first copy of a Bible book. But manuscript discoveries and archeological research of the last 75 years have pushed our knowledge ever nearer to the originals.

The "Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible," due from the presses Sept. 30, is the result of these discoveries and research.

✧ ✧ ✧

To John Wycliffe, rector and college master, we owe the first translation of the Latin Bible into English, completed in 1382.

The first English version of the Scriptures to be made by direct translation from the original Hebrew and Greek, and the first to be printed, was the work of William Tyndale. His New Testament of 1535 was to become the basis of all later revisions. Accused of perverting the meaning of the Scriptures, he was burned at the stake in 1536.

Soon afterward, however, his dying prayer—"Lord, open the King of England's eyes"—was answered and a succesion of versions began to win favor.

King James' instructions to his 54 translators was for a revision "as consonant as can be to the original Hebrew and Greek." That they realized they were but one point in history is evident in their statement of purpose in translation: "To make a good one better, or out of many good ones, one principal good one."

FIRST PRINTED PAGES of "Revised Standard Version" are examined by Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert (seated), general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ, and his associate, Dr. Roy G. Ross, after the near-million volume printing job began.

HUNDREDS OF MANUSCRIPTS

But whereas in 1611 they had access to only a dozen or so late medieval manuscripts of the New Testament, full of the accumulated errors of centuries of hand-copying, today's revision committee could draw on hundreds of old manuscripts for ante-dating those of the King James group. Recently archaeological findings throw new light on the meaning of the Old Testament Hebrew.

The Chester Beatty manuscripts of parts of the Bible, turned up in Egypt in 1930, go back as early as the second century, A.D. Fragments of Deuteronomy have been found from the first or second centuries—B.C. The Isaiah scroll rescued from a cave near the Dead Sea by a shepherd lad in 1947 appears to date from the late second century, B.C. It becomes the basis for 13 readings incorporated in the Revised Standard Version of Isaiah.

* * *

Throughout the new revision are changes correcting the additions, omissions and substitutions traceable to ancient and medieval copyists. These and other inaccuracies have been corrected because the committee could be back nearer the original manuscripts than any other group of scholars in history.

Just as the cook copying successive "half cups" left out the molasses, so in Revelation 8:7 a long-ago scribe overlooked the clause "and the third part of the earth was burnt up" and went right on to the next, "and a third part of the trees."

Another ancient copyist substituted "Joseph" for "his father" in Luke 2:33. In RSV the verse (referring to the baby Jesus) is correctly restored: "And his father and mother marvelled at what was said about him."

Someone in the seventh century undertook to bring Ephesians 5:30 up-to-date by adding to the original statement, "We are members of his body," the words "from his flesh and from his bones." The King James translators did the best they could by treating the inserted words as apposition, "For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones." The flesh and bones are no more in the Revised Standard Version.

Thus it stands—on minor points and on significant interpretations—the newest version with the oldest authority.

Next Saturday: The language of everyday people.

Class Adopts Italian Boy

Little Michele Zito in Ginosa, Italy, is very young in years, but very old in suffering. In all of his nine years he has known only fear and insecurity. When he was an infant his father was sent to join the army in Tripoli, and was never heard from since. In due time he was declared dead, and his widow awarded a pension of $14 a month to support herself and the little son who never knew his father.

No one had ever shown interest in him or his future until a group of girls in a Sunday school class in Preston, Ont., the Baptist Goodwill Philatheas, "adopted" him through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children as their mission project. They have become one of the 8,000 foster parents in the world today, over 300 of them Canadians, who contribute to the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. Adoption is, of course, financial, not legal. Michele is one of the 70,000 little waifs, unlucky enough to be born in war-ravaged countries where the political and economic life will be disrupted for years to come. Their tragedy is not that they are poor, but they are poor without hope since unemployment is still a problem.

NO MASS RELIEF

Under the Foster Parents Plan there is no mass relief. The relationship between "child" and "parent" is on a personal basis. The Sunday school class in Preston agreed to raise $15 a month, from which the child is given a monthly cash grant, the balance being used to buy food, clothing and medical supplies. They received a photo of Michele, wrote to him, received a letter in reply, and now are in regular correspondence with him. It is this friendship which is doing so much to raise the morale of these unfortunate children who have known none of the normal joys of childhood. In true Christian spirit of doing unto others as you would have others do to you, the young girls of Preston are demonstrating to their foster child that the world is not completely unmindful of his future. They know that Michele, and other like him, will be world citizens some day, and the sort of world we are to live in depends in no small way on how they are prepared to meet life.

Canadians may obtain information regarding the operation and status of the plan by writing to Miss Gloria Matthews, Canadian director, Foster Parents Plan for War Children, P.O. Box 65, Station "B", Montreal.

Archdeacons Were A Worry To Anglican Missionary

CALGARY (CP) — A quiet, ordered existence in a peaceful parish never would have suited Canon W. E. Herbert of Calgary, who has just celebrated his 50th anniversary in the service of the Anglican Church.

Now assistant rector at Calgary's Cathedral of the Redeemer and 78 years old, Canon Herbert pioneered Anglican missions in northern Alberta in the early part of the century.

His first mission field when he came to Canada in 1908 was an area of 1,000 square miles in untamed country north of Edmonton which had only about 1,200 persons on it. For Canon Herbert, as much at home on horseback as behind a pulp i swhtit,sao o ottn behind a pulpit, this was not too much of a problem.

MAN ON HORSEBACK

But on his visits through the territory with archdeacons of the diocese, he had more than his share of worries.

On one trip, a visiting archdeacon fell into a stream and missionary Herbert pulled him out of the mud. On another occasion an archdeacon was thrown from a wagon. A third deacon, who vowed he would never return to the territory, had to eat his meals from the mantle-shelf after following Herbert on a tough horseback round.

Canon Herbert acquired his first automobile in 1928, as a gift from the parishioners at Stettler. He was tempted to abandon it when he found he had more trouble making it run than he ever had with his beloved horses.

Before he "retired" to Calgary 11 years ago, his nomadic missionary life was packed with humorous anecdotes gained from many years of work among the homespun Alberta people.

FARMER CONVINCED

He recalled one rural church in Stettler where a hen insisted on laying an egg on the alter once a week. He could never figure out this unusual offering until one day he caught the hen in the act.

That led to an argument with the farmer who owned the hen, and who wanted the eggs back. Canon Herbert convinced the farmer that all such gifts were the property of the church.

Mice were another of his early problems. The mice had a habit of storing grain in the church organ for the winter ahead.

Busy Priest

MONTREAL (CP)—Rev. J. A. Hats of Sao Paulo, Brazil, on a visit here explained he has three full-time jobs. He is priest of St. Sefan's church, teaches Latin and history in high school, and is secretary and columnist for the Hungarian language newspaper there.

Padre A Writer

GALWAY, Ireland (CP)—A rector entering the film business in no small way is Rev. Austin Lee. He has been commissioned to write the script for a new color film based on the history of the country surrounding his home.

David, The Giant Killer

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Except for the story of Jesus blessing the little children, I doubt whether any story in the Bible has held the imagination and interest of the young as much as the story of David, the shepherd boy, going forth with sling and smooth stones to challenge and slay Goliath, the swaggering Philistine giant.

But interest in that story is not confined to youth. It tells about the beginning of the career of a boy who became King. His life-history was not only interwoven with Israel, but with later Jewish and Christian religious life for many centuries.

Anyone doubting this, need only see the great number of religious books related in some way to King David.

The Psalms are associated with his name. Obviously he could not have written them all, but it is as "the Psalms of David" that Presbyterian Scots have sung them. It would be interesting to know just how many Scottish children have been christened with his name.

And now King David is even seen in the movies.

"David and Bathsheba" has been told with a measure of reverence and restraint that I hardly anticipated.

After going to see "David and Bethsheba" I think it may be said that the movie made the best of the story.

For the portrayal of David, virtually planning the death of Uriah, to conceal his love for the general's wife, is a far descent from the character of the giant-slaying shepherd boy.

Therein is the tragedy which everyone must meet in the life and character of David.

The issues are not simple.

Out of that adulterous relationship came "the glory of Solomon." But out of it also came the ultimate rebellion which split Israel in twain, one kingdom going down in disaster and the other into an exile from which only a remnant returned.

The moralist's long-range view might discover evidence of sin's results reaching unto the third and fourth generation. He might repeat the ancient warning that you may "Be sure your sin will find you out."

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CV. No. 45 — SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1952

THREE NEW SCHOOLS SCHEDULED TO OPEN for district students this fall are located in Norwood, Peterborough, and near Lakefield. They represent more than $1,000,000 in educational facilities. Above (left) is the new S.S. 6, Smith township, located just west of Lakefield. It will house about 70 pupils in its two classrooms; total cost is $54,000. Top photo shows the new St. Peter's elementary school for boys at Brock and Reid Sts. Only traditional design of the three, it amalgamates services formerly given at four other schools. It cost about $570,000. Bottom picture is of Norwood District High School, a $390,000 building which will house about 275 pupils this fall. It serves Norwood, Havelock, Hastings, and the surrounding townships.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

MAIN STREET TOPICS

CHARLOTTE ST. SALE

Morris Mandell, 616 Charlotte St., has bought the Braund estate. It is situated on the south side of Charlotte St. immediately east of the property on which the postal-customs building is to be built.

PREMIER BREEDER

James T. Brown & Sons of Newcastle won the premier breeder award in the Holstein cattle division at the Ottawa Exhibition this week. The Brown entries took both grand championships. Entries were 127. Judge was Prof. A. R. Ness of Macdonald College.

FALL CLEANUP

Windows are being washed, woodwork painted and grounds landscaped by workmen to complete the new St. Peter's grade school for boys at the corner of Brock and Reid Sts. With a week to go yet, the new building will be ready when the school re-opens on September 2.

DOUBLE SORROW

Mrs. Joseph Provost of Marmora, who on Wednesday was attending her husband's funeral, was called to Montreal owing to the death of her father, Etienne Grenier. Other members of her family accompanied her to Montreal.

WILL HELP COUNTY PATIENTS

The county council of the United Counties has notified the Peterborough Civic Hospital that it will pay 50 cents per day toward the hospitalization costs of all patients admitted to the Civic from Northumberland and Durham.

CITY HALL VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Burke and son Timothy of Vestal, N.Y., were Thursday visitors at the City Hall. They were accompanied by R. Brook, 485 Aylmer St. and also by their niece, Miss P. Arnott. Another Friday visitor was P. K. Simpson of Penticton, B.C., who left here 44 years ago. His brother from Oregon was in Peterborough recently, and also called at the City Hall.

FIRE AT NASSAU

A grass fire which broke out near the C.G.E. powerhouse at Nassau Friday afternoon, was squelched before it did any serious damage. The fire started about 1,500 yards south-west of the powerhouse, on the east side of the river, near where the company burns scrap wire. The C.G.E. fire engine was called when the fire was first noticed in case it might get out of hand, but it was practically out by the time the pumper arrived from the C. G. E. works.

Diversion Highway Route Changed; Work Must Wait

Although tenders have been called for the new diversion highway linking Highways 28 and 35 which Minister of Highways George Doucett has announced will be built soon, it is not likely that any construction will be started this fall. Highway engineers estimate it will take a whole season to construct the 16.2-mile link and the tenders will probably be let this fall, so construction can begin early in the spring.

The new approved route will run across country from about a half mile north of the present junction of Highways 28 and 7A to a point on Highway 35, five miles north of Orono. It will intersect Highway 7A at the Cavan railway crossing.

OLD ROUTE

The route as first announced was to leave Highway 28 at the five mile turn south of Peterborough and intersect Highway 28 about four miles south of Pontypool. There are very few hills along the revised route, as compared with the rolling country further north.

Purpose of the new highway linking the highways between Lindsay and Newcastle and Peterborough and Port Hope is to drain off some of the traffic from Highway 28 which now funnels into Highway 2 at Welcome, clogging the one lane bottleneck between Port Hope and Oshawa.

The four lane highway is now extended to Newcastle and the last remaining stretch is ready to be paved.

When completed, it is expected that the cut-off will reduce travelling time to and from Toronto and Peterborough and other points, north and east.

It will also reduce traffic congestion on the two lane highway between Welcome and Newcastle and at the same time, motorists will not be required to travel over the equally rough surface of Highway 28 or Highway 7A to get to Toronto and points west.

TV Reception From Toronto Disappointing

Peterborough people are going to have trouble getting good reception of television broadcasts from CBC's station in Toronto, if tests run during the week are any indication.

To get the Canadian broadcosts, the chances are that special aerials will be needed. But nothing can be said definitely yet. In its tests the Toronto station CBTL has been transmitting from a temporary 100-foot tower.

When regular broadcasting starts Sept. 8, the station will be transmitting from a 500-foot tower which television enthusiasts hope will make considerable difference.

Television set owners who have ordinary aerials which pick up Rochester the best and under good conditions will get Syracuse occasionally, and Buffalo very rarely, had no luck at all in receiving the test broadcasts from Toronto this week.

Some have installed a channel 9, five element aerial with varying results. One man who lives on top of the Sherbrooke St. hill near Clonsilla Ave., Ray Gillies, was able to pick up part of the picture broadcast, but very faintly and only for a few seconds.

But the man who is believed to have received the best results, Don Grandy, Downie St., had a special channel 9, 10 element aerial.

In three out of five tries, he was successful in getting a signal. The CBC station is broadcasting a test pattern of one large circle in the centre of the picture and one smaller one in each corner. Mr. Grandy received it and held it steady.

The man on top of Sherbrooke St. received only a centre circle. What he and others like him will receive when the station is broadcasting from its higher tower is still anybody's guess

Most aerials have five prongs designed to get channel 6 best. That is the Rochester channel, most popular in Peterborough. Just how good or how poor the 10 prong aerial is going to be remains to be seen.

But so far most televiewers have the results "disappointing."

Canners Buying, Few Peaches In City

The fruit market, too, sparkles with occasional drama as when the canners rescued the peach crop Wednesday and Thursday from the week's price slump.

The free stone Jubilee variety, of fine flavor and texture, featured the local fruit stands at 40 cents to the orchardist. It was the peak of the season for this variety, and a bargain for the consumer.

Producers were getting 40 cents a basket when the canners barged into the weak situation with a price by the ton equivalent to 68c to the grower, and with no detail of basket packing.

Peterborough dealers said they found the Niagara markets concentrating on the canning business with scant offerings for the retail trade. It was said that there was nothing available Friday.

Jubilees are just about finished today. The last of them should be seen by Tuesday, to be followed by Vedettes next week.

Four Polio Victims Total For Summer

Four patients admitted to Civic Hospital have been diagnosed as polio victims so far this year. There has been one death, a 41-year-old Percy township woman.

Compared with last year, the number of polio cases is extremely small. Up until August 23, 1951, 24 cases of polio had been admitted to Civic.

Medical authorities expect that this will be a light year for polio in this area.

UNCONSCIOUS 28 DAYS

Condition of Clare Keown, 23, of Woodville, unconscious for 28 days since he was critically injured July 26 in a head-on collision on Springville hill, remains unchanged. Two women were fatally injured in the two-car crash and four others, including Keown, were badly injured.

Ontario Grains Less Than 1951

Present estimates of Ontario's principal grain crops this season total 142,286,000 bushels as compared with 164,692,000 bushels harvested last year, as reported by the provincial Department of Agriculture in the August summary issued this week.

Production of hay, clover and alfalfa is also down considerably, being estimated at 5,714,000 tons, compared with 7,357,000 tons in 1951.

"Extremely hot weather in July caused spring grains to mature much earlier than usual, with the result that cutting was generally completed on August 16 in southern counties.

The average yield per acre for oats is estimated at 38 bushels, compared with 47 bushels a year ago. The barley estimate is 32 bushels, and that crop in 1951 was 37.8 bushels.

The average yield of oats this season in Peterborough is 32 bushels an acre; Essex county 30; Prince Edward 29; Lennox-Addington 30; and Glengarry 32. These are estimates.

The department's figures for fall wheat are an average of 32 bushels as compared with 26 bushels last year.

Their comment is: "Although the acreage of this crop declined from 703,400 acres in 1951 to 649,000 acres in 1952, this year's crop is larger than a year ago. It is estimated at 20,768,000 bushels as against 19,696,000 bushels.

Apples, Tomatoes Plentiful On Market

The open-air market was busy today with the starts and finishings of several crops. About the last of the blueberries were on sale at $2 for six quarts, 40 cents a quart.

Cucumbers for pickling brought 60 cents for six quarts, tomatoes were 50 cents for six quarts, 90 cents for an 11-quart basket.

Apple prices were fairly good: 75 cents for six quart baskets of yellow harvesters, 60 cents for Melbas and 45 cents for Duchess.

Some of the first local honey was for sale, at prices centring around 30 cents for a pound jar, 45 cents for a two-pound tin.

Corn prices were mostly around 40 cents a dozen. Potatoes sold for $4.75 for a 75-pound bag, $3.25 for 50 pounds, and 70 cents for a six-quart basket. Chickens averaged 45 cents a pound, and gladiolus went for 40 cents to $1 a bunch.

Walked Into Side Of Car 10-Year-Old Girl Hurt

A ten-year-old girl was injured Friday afternoon when she walked into the side of a passing car on Monaghan Road, at Cameron St.

Doris Debasttita, 590 Cameron St., attempted to cross the street, just as a southbound car, driven by Herbert S. Smith, 30 Sussex St., south, Lindsay was going by a city bus. The bus was stopped on the west side of the street, letting passengers off. The car skidded 25 feet in coming to a stop, constable William G. Scott who investigated reported.

The girl was first taken to a nearby corner store and then removed to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of a fractured right leg and bruises.

New Schools Open As Fall Term Begins

Three new schools will be open in Peterborough and district for the fall term, not including the south end Kenner Collegiate. Only one in the city is St. Peter's, an elementary school for boys at Reid and Brock Sts. Norwood District High School will open September 2 to an estimated 275 pupils from Norwood, Havelock, Hastings and the surrounding district.

S.S. 6, Smith township, located just west of Lakefield, will be about a week late opening, school board officials say. It is a two-room school, and about 115 pupils will start there and in the old school beside it this fall.

St. Peter's will amalgamate the elementary grades, bringing them into one school from four others. Grade 1 pupils have attended the old limestone school at Hunter and Rubidge Sts.; grades 2 and 3 were at St. Mary's, a girls' school; grades 4 and 5 in St. Peter's High School, and grades 6, 7 and 8 in St. Alphonsus' school.

Besides being one of the two city schools to open this fall, St. Peter's is the only traditional design. The other three (counting Kenner Collegiate) are of modern design.

Of yellow brick and limestone, St. Peter's will have 11 classrooms, nine of which may be in use this fall. There will be in addition a gymnasium and an auditorium. These latter rooms—the auditorium will seat 710 — will not be ready until about the first week in October.

The gymnasium is located beneath the auditorium and has a track in its balcony and affords locker and shower accommodations for both boys and girls.

Provision has also been made for a library, rooms for manual training, home economics, the principal, and three rooms for teachers. Total cost of the school will be about $570,000.

Designed by a Toronto firm of architects, Brennan & Whale, the rural school near Lakefield has been described by Walter Mortlock, the contractor, as "the best school I've ever built."

Mr. Mortlock said he wasn't speaking altogether out of conceit, and hastened to point out that he meant the architects had called for the best of materials and that the school board had provided the money to purchase them.

Of brick and tile construction, it has two classrooms and provision has been made for two more to be added in the future at the north end of the school. The school is located on the gravel road running west from Lakefield, about one-quarter of a mile beyond the village.

Floors are of terrazzo and asphalt tile, and the east and west walls are almost entirely made up of windows. Together with the old school on the site, it will accommodate 115 pupils.

Principal of the school is Gregory Knox of Lakefield, and the two teachers will be Mrs. Hazel Hill and Miss Fern Chesney both of Buckhorn.

Cost of S.S. 6 is estimated at about $54,000. The provincial grant to help pay the cost is expected to be about 50 per cent. Ralph Beavis, secretary-treasurer of the school board, said the school wasn't expected to open until the second week in September.

310 PUPILS

Another well - outfitted and handsome school is the Norwood District High School. Designed to accommodate 310 pupils, it will house about 275 this fall, and more are expected in succeeding years.

Total cost of the Norwood school is set at $390,000.

There will be ten teachers at the schools, including the new principal, J. H. Caskey, who succeeds the veteran principal, S. S. Breckon. The site, two blocks north of Highway 7 at King and Elms Sts., takes up seven acres. Part of this large site is required for playing fields, part for agriculture teaching.

In addition to the ten classrooms, there will be a cafeteria, a teachers' room, a shop room, and rooms for home economics and industrial classes.

H. H. Roberts of Westport was the architect for the school, and the contractor was the Eastwood Construction Co. of Peterborough, the firm that is building the Kenner Collegiate. The high school board has several times expressed its complete satisfaction with the job of contracting.

The combined gymnasium and auditorium will seat about 500. Floor there will be hardwood, while other floors in the school will be tile over cement.

Taking all three schools together, they amount to more than $1,000,000 worth of educational facilities for the children of Peterborough county. Ratepayers look on them as money well spent.

Forestry Men At Algonquin

LAKE OPEONGO (CP) — The sixth British Commonwealth Forestry Conference opened yesterday in a tiny tent city on the east arm of this Algonquin Park lake, 90 miles northeast of Peterborough.

The 75 delegates and observers from 18 countries moved into 37 wooden-floored tents erected by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. The conference, held every five years, continues for eight days.

Y. S. Ahmad, chief conservator of forests for Pakistan, described a system of afforestation on the plains of West Pakistan where trees are grown on tiny acreages through irrigation. The productive cycle is aimed at producing fuel in 20 years, timber in 60 years.

Reaction to the Canadian scene was summed up crisply by one British delegate: "Devil of a lot of space here, isn't there?"

Two Escape Lightly In Car Crash

Youths Thrown Out Of Rolling Auto; Police To Lay Charges

Thrown out of a car as it was rolling over, after it had gone out of control on the Canal Road early today, two youths escaped with minor injuries and a severe shaking up.

The car, travelling south, skidded for more than 300 feet after it crossed the C.P.R. tracks just north of Maria St., and came to rest on its side facing west, 341 feet south of the railway tracks. It was a complete wreck.

The driver, Clinton Stockdale, 21, R.R. 4, Peterborough, was thrown out of the car about 10 feet north of where it came to rest, when the door on the driver's side sprang open.

Ray Saltern, 20, 451 Howden Ave., said he was alseep in the front seat beside Stockdale when the car went out of control. He told Constable Harold Andrew, who investigated, that he remembered hitting the roof of the car twice. Since the car ended up on its side, it is likely the car rolled at least two and a half times.

Saltern said he picked himself up on the road about "fifteen or 20 feet south of where the car came to rest. I thought Clint was still in the car and went to see if he was inside," Saltern said. "Then I heard him groaning and saw him lying in the road in a pile of powdered glass."

Stockdale, who appeared to be the more seriously injured, was taken to hospital in the police station wagon and Saltern was taken to hospital a short time later for examination. Stockdale was treated for brush burns to his left thigh and back, and Saltern complained of a sore back. He was also suffering from shock. After being treated by Dr. R. K. Magee, they were both allowed to return to their homes.

Stockdale told Constable Harold Andrew he was crowded by an oncoming northbound car just as he reached the C.P.R. tracks. As it went over the tracks, the Stockdale car first went to the left shoulder of the road, ploughed a furrow in the grass as it skidded sideways for nearly 100 feet, then turned over sideways.

The wrecked car blocked the west lane of the road until it was righted and removed by a Kawartha Motors tow truck.

Deputy Police Chief John Naples said today charges will be laid against Stockdale in connection with the accident.

Sprays, Fertilizers Clear Lawn of Dandelions, Weeds

A lawn free of dandelion, plantain, and other common weeds is now easy to attain. Broadleaved weeds can be so drastically reduced by a single application of one of the many newly developed weed killers that such weeds need no longer be a serious annoyance. To establish a good lawn free of weeds, however, a nitrogenous fertilizer is also needed.

These selective weed killers that do not seriously injure the grass contain 2,4-D (2,4 — dichlorophenoxyacetic acid) or one of its soluble salts as the active ingredient.

In warm weather the reaction of weeds to 2, 4-D can usually be seen within 24 hours. Weeds are not killed in that period, nor are they discolored or "burned," but the stems and foliage curl and after a few days the tissues usually become crisp and crack easily when bent. Later, there may be some slight yellowing or other color changes. Death comes in from three weeks to a month or more, depending upon (1) the strength of the solution used, (2) the amount applied, (3) the rate of growth and maturity of the tissue, (4) the air temperature, (5) the amount of moisture in the soil, and (6) the specific characters of the plant itself. On a bright warm, dry summer day, from three to four weeks after the date of spraying, the weeds may dry so fast that nothing but a few shrivelled and dried leaves can be seen. The leaves virtually disappear while you watch them.

ONE APPLICATION

The one application of 2,4-D needed to control dandelions and plantain is best made in April or May, but it can be made at any time during the growing season. Even weeds sprayed at the end of the growing season in October have died during the winter months. Because some plants are protected by others, dense mats of chickweed, clover, and other similar weeds may require two or more applications for thorough eradication.

Success with this new weed killer is largely up to the person who applies it. He must follow the manufacturer's directions. The use of stronger solutions or solutions of correct strength but in greater amount than recommended may injure the grass. Application of less than the recommended amounts (even by half or less) will still control most lawn weeds but weeds will remain where too little was applied and grass may be injured where too much was applied. Weed killers are definitely less effective when applied during a rain.

NEWLY SEEDED LAWNS

Newly made lawns, or patched areas in established lawns should be seeded and the young grass allowed to grow to an inch in height before 2,4-D applications are made, because applications made at seeding time are likely to reduce grass-seed germination. Bent grass is most susceptible, and mature plants may be injured.

Many companies are selling weed killers that contain 2,4-D. It matters little which brand is used if the preparation is specifically intended for use in selective control of lawn weeds.

SPRAY EQUIPMENT

Because 2,4-D cannot be washed from a sprayer, it is particularly desirable that inexpensive equipment be used on home lawns. The bucket or suction pumps that deliver a coarse spray (to minimize drifting mist) are satisfactory for small lawn areas of about 1,000 square feet. The 2,4-D solution is placed in a pail and one person works the pump while another applies the spray evenly to the lawn. Gadgets known as proportioners can be attached to the outlet of a garden hose and used to apply 2,4-D. Under city water pressure, the water going through draws a 2,4-D concentrate up from the reservoir into the water stream, mixes it with the water, and delivers it through a special nozzle as a coarse spray. These proportioners seem particularly adapted to large areas where it is not desirable to set aside a special spray tank for 2,4-D. On golf courses and park areas, special equipment can be set aside for turf use. It can be used to apply other materials on turf, for not enough 2,4-D will remain in the sprayer to injure grasses or clover during the summer season. But injury is probable if this same equipment is used on vegetables or flowers.

CAUTIONS

This weed killer (2,4-D) injures almost all broad-leaved plants leaving only grasses untouched. Hence, any sprayer that has ever contained 2,4-D should not be used to spray other materials on either flowers or vegetables. There is at present no practical way to wash 2,4-D out of a sprayer. A special sprayer clearly labelled 2,4-D should be used for weeds only; never used inadvertently on flowers and vegetables.

Secondly, the 2,4-D solution must be applied evenly over the lawn area on a day when there is little or no air movement, for 2,4-D mist often drifts as far as 100 feet or more and will injure or kill flowers and vegetables in adjacent plantings.

IMPROVE LAWN TOO

2,4-D is not enough; good lawn maintenance is necessary. While a single application of 2,4-D kills most of the weeds in a lawn, the effort is wasted unless definite steps are taken to correct the faulty practices that allowed the weeds to become established. The appearance of a weedy lawn is seldom improved by weed killers alone. The bare spaces must be filled promptly with grass, or other weeds will appear sooner or later. Hence, a fertilizer is applied at the same time the 2,4-D is used or at the first suitable season. The fertilizer does not interfere; it speeds up the killing effect of the 2,4-D. A good application is 20 pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer to 1,000 square feet of lawn surface or a nitrogenous fertilizer in approximate amounts. Many lawn weeds can be crowded out by adequate fertilization. This stimulates a dense turf in which weeds cannot compete with desirable lawn grasses.

A good program of lawn maintenance results in a permanent thickening of the turf.

The highlights of such a program are to:

1. Apply fertilizer twice a year: September and March. Broadcast evenly 20 pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer on each 1,000 square feet of lawn.

2. Set the lawn mower to cut the grass high. Preferably, the blades of grass should be 1½ inches high after cutting.

3. Leave the clippings on the lawn.

MARSHAL TITO of Yugoslavia knows his country is in a pretty precarious spot. It is surrounded with pro-Russian Communist countries, backed by Soviet military might—and Stalin's personal itch to erase Tito. Newsmap above shows potential Communist threat to Yugoslavia, which reports that satellite countries have built up an air force of about 2,000 planes and are engaged in a large-scale program of airfield construction. U.S. Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., is seen at right, in Marshal Tito's Belgrade office, where they discussed the possibility of Yugoslavia entering an informal alliance with Greece and Turkey.

Know How To Use Rapid-Drying Shellac

One of the least expensive of wood finishes, and one of the easiest to apply, is shellac.

Any exposed wood is subject to deterioration, but clean, bare wood can be given two quick coats of thin shellac that will protect it indefinitely, and bring out the wood's natural grain.

It is common practice to give floors, panelling and other woods two coats of rapid-drying durable shellac in a single day.

However, proper thinning of shellac—a vital part of its correct application—is not commonly known among non-professionals. Shellac should seldom be used as it comes out of the can, but should be thinned with a high-grade denatured alcohol.

Most widely sold shellacs are called "five-pound cut" and "four-pound cut" That means they consist of four or five pounds of shellac gum dissolved or "cut" to each gallon of pure alcohol.

But these mixtures should be thinned with denatured alcohol for practically all work. For instance, shellac on floors should be applied not heavier than in two-pound cut.

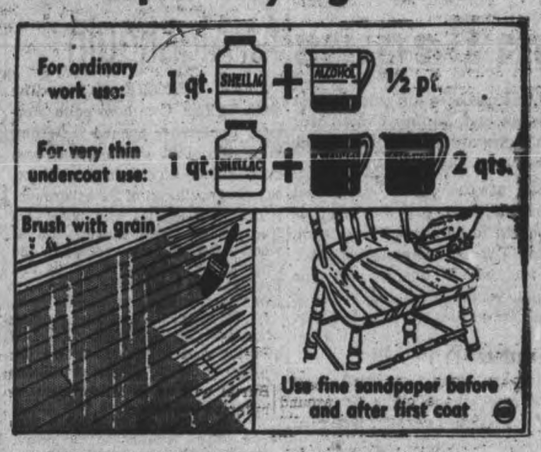
Here are instructions for converting shellac by thinning with alcohol:

Five-lb. cut to 3-lb. cut ⅞ pint alcohol to 1 quart shellac; 5-lb. cut to 2-lb. cut—1 quart alcohol to 1 quart shellac; 5-lb. cut to 1-lb. cut—two-thirds gallon alcohol to 1 quart shellac; 4-lb. cut to 3-b. cut—½ pint acohol to 1 quart shellac; 4-lb. cut to 2-lb. cut—¾ quart alcohol to 1 quart shellac; 4-lb. cut to 1-lb. cut—2 quarts alcohol to 1 quart shellac.

To prepare furniture for shellac coats, remove the old finish with a paint or varnish remover, sponge thoroughly with turpentine to remove traces of the chemical and allow the wood to dry.

Smooth the surface with No. 00 steel wool, followed by No. 00 sandpaper, rubbing with the grain and wiping afterwards. Same treatment for new wood. Apply stain, if desired.

Then apply a thin coat of shellac, at least two-pound cut, working the liquid with the grain with a fine brush. Allow three hours for drying. Sandpaper the first coat lightly and dust it off. For the second coat use a two-pound cut, being careful not to overlap when brushing—flow shellacked sections together. For a final polish, hand rub the surface with a paste wax.



Badly worn wood can also be given a protective coating, using this same method.

Thorough sanding with steel wool or No. ½ sandpaper before finishing is necessary for new floors. Old floors should have previous finish removed by sanding machine. All traces of wax should be eliminated before applying shellac in two-pound cut.

Allow three hours' drying time between first two coats; overnight drying of the second, if a third coat is desired.

Shellac is known also as a paint or lacquer base and is recognized as an excellent undercoat for wax or varnish.

Shellac brushes can be cleaned by soaking in alcohol.

WHEN PROPERLY "CUT" and carefully applied to clean, well-papered surfaces, shellac gives a lustrous and long-lasting finish.

Harvesting In West Nearly Half Completed

Harvesting in some sections of southern Manitoba is already half completed. Better than average yields are evident.

Weather has been favorable this week in parts of southern Saskatchewan. C.N.R. report Friday says indications point to a record crop throughout the Regina division. Harvesting will be general early next week in many areas of central Saskatchewan "where conditions continue favorable almost throughout."

Alberta reports "crop growth even, and in some districts it is ripening fast." Some damage by hail occurred during the week around Kelsey and Alliance. Some light frost is reported from the Peace River district.

Arraigned In Slaying

MONTREAL (CP)—Pola Astapuck, 70, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of murder after a coroner's jury found him criminally responsible for the ax-killing of Mike Woodik, 65, Thursday. Woodik, a shoemaker at Mackayville on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, died in his bed in the small house he shared with his wife and the accused. Ostapuck was remanded to Aug. 28 for hearing.

Fall Caused Death

HAMILTON (CP)—A coroner's jury yesterday ascribed the death of Harry Woitka, 28, of Brantford, to a fall he suffered last Saturday night. The jury recommended that the homicide squad investigate one of the witnesses, John Strachurski, whose testimony they said was "conflicting." Woitka was found dead in his bed after a drinking party at the home of friends.

DESIGN 500.—Architect Henry Fliess, of Toronto, has provided for an extensive living area in designing this 2-storey home. The greater portion of the ground floor is devoted to a combination living-dining room, which faces to the rear for privacy and greater enjoyment of the garden and lawns. A compact kitchen with direct access to the basement, a convenient trades entrance, and the provision of very good closet and storage space in the upstairs rooms enhances the appeal of this new home. The exterior dimensions of the house are 27' 2" by 22' 10" and the area is 1,240 square feet. The cubic measure is 17,205 cubic feet. Working drawings may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at a minimum cost.

Laborer Kills Wife At Club

EDMONTON (CP)—A 52-year-old laborer yesterday stabbed and strangled his wife at the Edmonton Country Club, then hanged himself from a bridge spanning a ravine on the 18th hole.

R.C.M.P. identified the couple as Reginald Baden Carter, 52, a laborer for a construction company, and his 48-year-old wife Phyllis, a cook at the club. Carter came to Canada from England in 1950 and his wife followed him the next year.

Mrs. Carter was found in the staff kitchen, stabbed in the back with a butcher knife. A sweater was knotted around her throat.

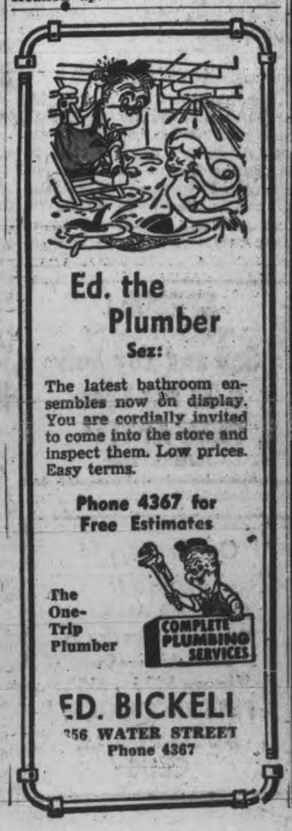
Police said Carter tied one end of a 15-foot rope around his neck and the other on the bridge, then jumped off. He was decapitated by the force of the fall.

New York Times Wins Journalism Award

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Society of Journalism School Administrators announced yesterday the award of its seventh annual citation of merit to the New York Times.

The newspaper is cited for "its superlative achievement as an authentic, conscientious, and consistent interpreter" of the United States to the rest of the world.

Cobourg Sewage Tax $2,000 In Arrears



COBOURG (ENS).—When Cobourg's sewage disposal plant was built about three years ago, it was decided to finance part of the cost through a sewage rental tax so that everyone, both owners and tenants of houses would pay a proportionate share of the cost, and industries were also charged a certain amount. With some the idea was never popular with the result that a number have never paid their sewage rental tax and others have only paid some of the bills. More than $2,000 of the tax is in arrears.

Tax collector E. A. Hircock is sending out tax bills to 1,300 people and this is made up of the June billing and in many cases contains arrears. Council has empowered the tax collector to take legal action if the arrears are not cleaned up.

DOFFING HIS CAP—Minnie Minoso of the White Sox loses his cap sliding into third as umpire Ed Hurley calls him out in the first inning of Chicago-Yankees game at Yankee Stadium. Yankee third baseman Gil McDougald straddled the baseline after taking a throw from hurler Tom Gorman. White Sox won, 6-1, but the Yanks hold onto first place as second-place Cleveland also lost.

Last Of DiMaggios and Old Guard Holds Rebuilding Red Sox Together

By JOHN McCALLUM (NEA)

BOSTON — It may be that Dominic Paul DiMaggio, ranked on his defensive skill alone, is not the finest fielder of his time.

Possibly brother Joe and Terry Moore were his equal playing the hitter, getting the jump on the ball, judging a fly, covering ground and squeezing the ball once he touched it.

Nor has the youngest of the DiMaggios been the greatest hitter that baseball has known.

He'll not match Ty Cobb's lifetime average, he'll never threaten Babe Ruth's home-run output, and he'll never grip the imagination of the crowds as brother Joe did.

Still, the Little Professor remains one of the most warmly esteemed ball players who ever hung his lingerie in the clubhouse locker at Fenway Park.

If pinned down, Red Sox fans will point to centre field, waggle their heads and say:

"He's responsible. Dom's the guy who has kept this club together."

WHITE GROWS UP

Dom is the last of the Back Bay Millionaires' old guard. At 34, he's playing his 10th season of big-league ball. Sammy White, the remarkable rookie catcher, was reminded of this.

"It's hard to believe I'm playing on the same team with him," said White, grinning. "When I was a little kid, I used to go out to Seattle's old Civic Stadium and watch Dom play when San Francisco come to town. I was only in the sixth grade."

Unlike other veterans, you never hear Dom talk about his age, growing pains or quitting. And, as Lou Boudreau points out, it's hard to see where he has slowed up.

Dom is still sure death on those cannon-shot drives that whistle to the right and left of him. Intuition tells him when to take that extra jump on a liner.

Few outfielders go back so far at coming in for shoe-string catches.

"Squatting behind the plate," says White, "I see everything that happens on the field. I've watched Dom make impossible catches as casually as you light a cigarette. He inspires the young guys."

Dom moved into mid-August hitting right around his lifetime average of .298, was getting enough wood on the ball to be batting clean-up.

MOST RELIABLE

"Dom gets that hit when you need it, steals that extra base, scores that winning run," stresses Manager Boudreau.

The last time the Boston Americans were in New York, Dom was asked how it felt now that brother Joe was safely tucked behind a television microphone.

He glanced up at the booth where The Clipper was chattering away.

"It sure feels good to know that Joe isn't going to come down out of that booth and murder us with his big bat again," he said.

Joe himself has always said that Dom rates the nod over him in fielding. This recalls the occasion when the Bosox were playing the Yanks and Dom fled across the county line to grab a drive by Joe that no one but a Dimaggio could have hauled down.

"Joe," remarked someone in the press box, "should sue his old man on that one."

LITTLE PROFESSOR—In his 10th season, Dom DiMaggio is batting around his lifetime average.

STAMPS STRONG FOR '52

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary's once-vaunted Stampeders — cellar-dwellers in the Western Interprovincial Football Union for the last two years—this season are out to regain the lofty position they once held in the football world.

Stampeders, rulers of the roost in 1948 when they defeated Ottawa Rough Riders to bring Calgary its only Grey Cup, are embarking on something of a "make-or-break" campaign.

After gaining the final in 1949 only to lose to Montreal Alouettes, Stampeders have fallen on hard times and have nothing but a dismal record and a hefty financial burden to show for the last two years.

Signs of better things to come were noticed last fall when the team executive was completely reorganized. New and younger blood took over important positions on the board of governors and Les Lear was given a vote of confidence and a contract for his fifth season as coach.

Stampeders' 30-11 victory over Montreal in pre-season play indicates they'll be contenders in the west this year. The team, with 12 imports and a host of new Canadians, showed a fine, all-round effort. However, coach Lear was not entirely satisfied with the outcome.

"We can do better and will have to if we expect to go anywhere this year," he said.

TROTTER BREAKS RECORD

TORONTO (CP) — Ben Boy, owned by Miller Wray of Schomberg, smashed the Canadian record for two-year-old trotters when he covered the mile in 2.13 at Thorncliffe Raceway here yesterday. In breaking the record by two full seconds, Ben Boy wiped out a mark established by Roman in 1944 at Glencoe.

The $1,750 Vondale Cup for pacers was won by Richard Hal, owned by McWilliams Brothers of Dutton.

CUNNINGHAM EASY WINNER

TORONTO (CP)—Bob Cunningham Jr., assistant pro at Toronto St. George's Golf Club, yesterday won the Canadian assistant professional championship and the Willie Freeman trophy. Cunningham, assistant to his father, took a six-stroke lead over his nearest rival in the morning 18 holes and coasted along in the afternoon to a 146.

TORONTO (CP)—Ken Candel of Toronto, representing the Lake Ontario Yacht Racing Association, yesterday won the Richardson trophy and the championship of the Great Lakes for R-class sloops, piling up a total of 12¾ points in the sailing competition. In second place and just one-quarter of a point behind was Dr. Adrien ver Brugghen of Chicago, racing for the Lake Michigan Yacht Association.

S. Army Triumphs

Salvation Army trimmed Timbermen 11-3 in a Civic Softball League encounter, the losers being held to seven hits. They counted two runs in the third and added one more in the fifth. The S. A. bats rang a lusty tune to score three runs in the second chukker, two each in the third and fourth, with four more in the fifth. Teams:

Timbermen—D. Dyer, Hodson, B. Dyer, Murphy, McLeod, B. Rogers, Payne, R. Rogers, Hogan, Montgomery.

S. Army—Parnall, Ede, C. Braund, Slaughter, R. Jones, Pagett, R. Braund, Brown, H. Jones.

Bonus Money Goes In Pot For Golf Meet

MONTREAL (CP)—Bonus money, plus the $750 each player will receive anyway, was tossed into the pot today for the golfers who will compete next week in the first official team contest between Canadian and American profesionals.

The six-man teams will play three four-ball matches Tuesday and six singles Wednesday—36 holes each day—over the Montreal Beaconsfield course. To the winning team goes the International Golf Trophy, donated by John Jay Hopkins, American and Canadian industrialist connected with the Professional Golfers' Associations in both countries.

BONUSES ON SCORES

Match play governs throughout but every hole will be played out because bonuses are based on medal scores.

There will be $300 for the player with low medal for the two days' 72 holes; $75 for low medal on each 18 holes and $400 to be shared among players scoring eagles and birdies at holes to be named. In addition, any hole in one will mean $250 for the sharpshooter.

The presence of Bobby Locke will add a lot of strength to the Canadian team.

His mates on the Canadian team are Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon, who won the Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship at Winnipeg last month; Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Gordie Brydson of Toronto, Jules Huot of Montreal, Stan Horne of Montreal, and Bill Kerr of the Beaconsfield host club who is captain and alternate.

The American team was named more than a month ago and was chosen from among the top money winners at that time. It is made up of Julius Boros, U.S. Open champion; Cary Middlecoff, Doug Ford, Ted Kroll, Dave Douglas and Jack Burke, Jr.

Hogan Named Best In 50 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—Ben Hogan today was named the top professional golfer of the last 50 years in a poll conducted by the Professional Golfers' Association.

P.G.A. headquarters said it polled 9,632 of its members as well as more than 500 sports writers and radio commentators.

Bobby Jones was selected as top amateur.

Hogan received 522 votes, three more than Walter Hagen. Gene Sarazen was third with 504, followed by Sam Snead 499, Byron Nelson 491, Tommy Armour 351, Lloyd Mangrum, 304, MacDonald Smith 172, Ralph Guldahl 145 and Jimmy Demaret 117.

Shake-Up In Alouettes Leaves New Team

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes, with a sharp shake-up in both administration and personnel, appear to be the mystery team for this season's Big Four football campaign.

Practically from president down, the executive is new. Lew Hayman, who managed the business end and coached the team on the field, is strictly front-office now. There are only nine players on the roster from last year's squad.

The team has absorbed beatings at the hands of Edmonton Eskimos and Calgary Stampeders in exhibition games in the West.

But the 1952 Alouettes can't be written off by any means. The squad of 33 has nine new American imports, all of whom rated highly across the border. Their indoctrination into the Canadian game has scarcely begun.

Several McGill University graduated have joined the Alouette ranks. Four veteran players from the United States now are classed as Canadians under the four-year-rule. Only one player of the nine new imports must be dropped by Oct. 1.

NEW COACH

The new coach, Doug (Peahead) Walker, is a stranger to the Canadian game. So is his assistant, Jimmy Dunn. Both have been given help during the training season by coach Vic Obeck of McGill.

Walker was coach at Wake Forest College in North Carolina for 14 years. He served with coach Herman Hickman at Yale last season. Dunn, who was line coach at Yale, has seen coaching service also with Harvard and Brown.

One of Walker's problems seems to be strong replacements for his first string line. The backfield fares somewhat better.

The quarter-backing job is well looked after. Sam Etecheverry, triple-threat man from University of Denver, is ranked No. 1 at the moment. There is also Fran Nagle, from University of Nebraska, another newcomer and capable pass-thrower. Bruce Coulter of Toronto, now in his fourth season with Alouettes, is sure to stick.

The first-string line will possibly turn out to be this:

Charlie Hubbard, formerly of New York Giants, and John O'Quinn, six-feet-four pass-snatcher from Wake Forest, on ends.

Jim Staton, 240-pound giant from Wake Forest, and Marv Meirowitz, ex-McGill, at middle wing

Herb Trawick, American veteran with Als, now classed as a Canadian, and Ray Cicia, American from last year's team, at inside wing.

No. 1 centre man is Tom Tofaute, newcomer from North Caroline State, understudied by Chuck Anderson, no longer classed as an import.

Virgil Wagner, original Alouette import in 1946 and four times scoring champion of the Big Four, appears headed for another big year in the backfield.

Believe Army May Release More Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—The army soon may start discharging overseas veterans coming home from a new direction.

Headquarters said yesterday a shuffle that will bring 1,900 married members of the 27th Brigade home from Germany and send 1,900 men overseas to replace them will start in November.

All 1,900 will be home by Christmas.

Although the statement didn't mention it, the army promised men who enlisted in the 27th Brigade last year that they could apply for discharge on return to Canada and said they might get it if the world situation permitted. Many have been in uniform little more than a year.

A spokesman said yesterday the army still stands by that statement. However, the army hopes many of them won't want to leave.

The rotation system for the 27th Brigade provides that married men come home after one year, single men after two. Defence Minister Claxton has indicated that this is being changed to 18 months for both.

Ship 18,850 Tons Of Rubber To China

COLOMBO (Reuters)—Ceylon has shipped 18,850 tons of rubber to Communist China since the United Nations banned its members from supplying strategic war materials to that country May 18, 1951, it was reported today.

The 4,467-ton Polish freighter Mickiewicz, which sailed to Whampoa, South China, with the first Ceylon rubber cargo of 4,785 tons last Oct. 2, is expected here Sept. 8 to load Ceylon's ninth consignment for Communist China.

Ceylon did not support the ban in the U.N.

Duncan Man Believes In Ancient Laws

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP) — Walter Robinson believes in laws—the old law of Queen Anne's Day.

He went to jail yesterday for 30 days rather than pay a $30 fine for burning rubbish during the forest closure period ordered because of the fire menace.

Robinson told the court he was burning legally because an old law of Queen Anne's Day granted the right to light fires to destroy rubbish or insects.

Kitchener Man Wins Trophy For Best Honey

TORONTO (CP)—Jacob Dick of Kitchener yesterday was awarded the Ontario Honey Producers' trophy for white liquid honey in competition at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Klaas Bosch of New Liskeard placed first in the open comb honey class and second in the open liquid competition.

FO. M. E. Kelly C.N.E. Pilot

OTTAWA.—Flying Officer M. E. Kelly, 24, of Bobcaygeon, is one of the 21 jet pilots of 413 Fighter Squadron to take part in a Sabre jet display at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, the Air Force announced today.

The crack R.C.A.F. squadron will perform twice daily at the "Ex", putting on a thrilling demonstration of formation, low-level and aerobatic flying. The squadron will also give a display of air gunnery with the Sabre's .50-calibre guns.

F.O. Kelly received his education at the Bobcaygeon Continuation School and was a machine operator prior to his enlistment. He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1950 and received his pilots wings at R.C.A.F. Station Centralia and then completed his gunnery course at MacDonald, Man.

He joined 413 Squadron after graduation from the No. 1 Operational Training Unit at R.C.A.F. Station Chatham, N. B.

Good For Plants When Its Misty

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—It doesn't matter if it's a bit misty around here on calm days—it's good for the plants.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company decided it's better to see what's coming out of the giant stacks and to know it's doing no harm.

In former years the chief exhaust from the factory chimneys was sulphur dioxide, which killed or damaged foliage in the surrounding country. Now the company has worked out a system of "scrubbing" the fumes with ammonia.

The exhaust from the stacks now is ammonium sulphate and steam, and experts say it's not much different from the ammonium sulphat that's sold as commercial fertilizer.

The misty effect comes when the air's moisture content is high and the wind is light, so that the exhaust particles act as nuclei for moisture.

Member Of 93rd, John Deyell Dies In Millbrook

MILLBROOK (ENS).—Former constable of Millbrook and an original member of the 93rd Battalion in the First World War, John Thompson Deyell, 56, died at his home in Millbrook on Friday.

In later years a conservation officer with the Department of Lands and Forests, Mr. Deyell had worked as a farmer, and a hydro and telephone lineman.

President of the Canadian Legion branch in the village at the time of his death, Mr. Deyell was a Mason, and in the Second World War an original member of the Midland Regiment, where he was regimental sergeant-major.

Born in Almeda, Sask., a son of the late William Deyell and Abigail Thompson, he lived in South Monaghan when he joined the 93rd, and when he returned from overseas moved to Cochrane. From Cochrane he came to Millbrook, where he has lived for the past 25 years. He was a member of Grace Presbyterian church.

Surviving are his widow, the former Violet E. Legros, and four children: Mrs. Nellis Fallis (Doreen) of Cavan, William of British Columbia, James of Peterborough and Gerald of Lakefield.

There are also two sisters and a brother: Mrs. Harold Hubbeard of Millbrook, Mrs. Frank Whitfield of North Monaghan, and Fred Deyell of Manchester, England.

Funeral services will be conducted at the G. T. MacPherson funeral home at 2 p.m. Monday by the Rev. W. H. Heustin of Grace Presbyterian Church, under auspices of the Canadian Legion. Burial will be in Millbrook Presbyterian cemetery.

Plan 2 Lake Groynes For Cobourg Shore

COBOURG (ENS). — Two groynes of moderate size will be built shortly to protect the shore line off the water pumping station which was eaten away by waves and the high lake level until within a few feet of the south wall last spring. The Utilities Commission considered groynes and a breakwater but decided on the groynes as the least expensive. A visit some weeks ago to Scarboro convinced the commission of the effective work groynes did in preventing shore erosion.

Hugh J. Fraser Nickel Official Dies Suddenly

MONTREAL (CP) — Hugh J. Fraser, 55, vice-president in general charge of all plant operations in the United States of the International Nickel Company, Inc., died in hospital here yesterday after a brief illness. He lived at Larchmont, N.Y.

Born in Brockville, Ont., Mr. Fraser attended Queen's University, graduating in 1923. He joined the Huntington, W. Va., works of International Nickel the same year. In 1947 he was made vice-president.

He also was an assistant vice-president of the parent organization, the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd. Mr. Fraser was a member of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the Canadian Society of New York.

Surviving are his widow, the former A. Muriel Dunne of Ottawa, and two daughters, Joan and Dorcas. A requiem mass will be held at St. Ignatius Loyola Church in Montreal Aug. 25 with burial at Brockville.

Westland Knocks Off Mawhinney Blasts Canada's Tennis Title Hope

SEATTLE (CP)—A 47-year-old veteran, who last reached the finals of the United States amateur golf tournament 21 years ago, blasted Canada's last hopes for the title yesterday.

Jack Westland, whose last bid was blocked by Francis Ouimet in 1931, knocked off 23-year-old Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver 5 and 4 and qualified to meet an even younger opponent—22-year-old Al Mengert of Spokane, Wash.—in today's final.

WINS WITH RALLY

A deliberate, business-like golfer from Everett, Wash., who is taking time out from his campaign for a seat in the United States House of Representatives, Westland overcame a two-hole deficit at the end of nine holes to blast Mawhinney in the afternoon round of their 36-hole semi-final.

Mengert ousted crooner Don Cherry 3 and 2.

Both matches were all even after a morning round played in weather that ranged from showers to a driving drizzle.

The chain-smoking Westland was two down to power-hitting Mawhinney after nine, but launching a spectacular run of long putts, got even going into the afternoon round.

Westland, almost as long a hitter, just as straight as Mawhinney of the tee and a lot more successful on the greens, went one up on the 32nd green.

Westland and Mengert have met before. Westland defeated the then 18-year-old Al for the Washington state title in 1948. Mengert beat him in the quarter-finals of the same tournament in 1949.

CANCELS SPEECHES

Westland, incidentally, cancelled his campaign speeches tonight and last night. But the night before the semi-finals the insurance executive turned politician made three speeches.

Westland was only one over par for the 32 holes. This included his only poor hole, the 30th. Here he hit into the trap, banged over the green and then came back far off the pin.

His terrific putting included a 35-footer on the 10th, a 20-foot chip shot from the edge of the green on the 16th, and a 12-footer on the 31st that all but sank Mawhinney. Mawhinney at least three times saw his long putts hang by mere inches. Already jittery, Mawhinney twice hauled off and slapped the face of his recalcitrant putter.

Fete Newlyweds

LAKEFIELD—(ENS)—On Tuesday evening about 75 friends and neighbors met in St. Aiden's parish hall, Young's Point, to honor a recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henley, nee Ruth Little, with a miscellaneous shower. The evening was spent in square and round dancing with James Jones at the piano and Thomas Sullivan playing the violin. Wilbert Abbott called for the square dances.

MISS JOAN REYNOLDS, of 817 Park St. S., is displaying some of her souvenirs from Edinburgh, Scotland, where she visited friends while on a five-week holiday trip abroad. Her bagpipes may be small, but they make a noise very much like the standard variety.—(Parks Studio Photo).

Young CGE Secretary Takes Lone Trip To Six Countries

Joan Reynolds, C.G.E. secretary, thinks that Switzerland would be the nicest place to live, —outside of Peterborough. As for France and the glamour of Gay Paree, the tramps that line the streets are welcome to it, she says.

Miss Reynolds was back at her desk this week after five weeks' holiday on which she had travelled close to 8,000 miles by boat, plane, train, motor bus, and motor car. She had toured four countries of Europe: France, Luxembourg, Germany and Switzerland, — and done extensive sight-seeing in England and Scotland.

For two years she has been planning and saving money for this trip, and now that she has achieved her goal she is planning to go again, in perhaps five years. She will travel alone next time, too, for 21-year-old Joan believes that is the only way to travel. And she will visit Switzerland again for sure. "That is a perfect country: modern, clean and beautiful and the people are so friendly," she enthused.

The idea of this trip was born when her Scottish friend, Muriel Penman, left C.G.E. to return to Edinburgh and asked her to come over some time. They had been very close friends and had attended the hockey games together for Joan's winter pastime is watching the Petes play hockey and she is surely their most ardent fan.

So, she immediately began setting aside a part of her salary each week, and as plans took shape she decided that $1,000 would do it. Her actual expenses for boat fare to Scotland on the Empress of Canada, a week in a London hotel and meals and other expense while there, Channel crossings and completely conducted, all-expense tour of Europe by bus, numerous souvenirs and plane fare home, were just $750. (Not included is the $39 she was charged for 18 pounds of excess baggage she was carrying home on the plane.)

Most of Joan's souvenirs are from Scotland and include a box of heather she picked herself, and a tam o'shanter to wear to hockey games. She spent 12 days with the Penman family who left Peterborough to take over a family grocery business in a suburb of Edinburgh. She estimates their income at about $17 a week and found that friend Muriel has one of the highest-paid office jobs in the country for which she receives $11 a week. The cost of living is lower, Joan agrees, but not that much.

London was the style centre, judging both from the shops and the people on the street, Joan thought. In her opinion the French women were dirty and very poorly dressed, and the whole city of Paris dirty and unattractive. From her hotel window in the morning she saw the tramps getting up from their park bench beds to go to have their jugs of wine refilled and spend the day loitering on the main street.

"Everybody reads in England," says Joan, "not newspapers and light magazines but heavy stuff." She wonders how the London subway riders ever know when they come to their stops because they read right until they jump up, and off. But she herself evidently did pretty well for a novice on the lightning-fast trains and in the largest city of the world for she only lost her way once. Miss Penman had taken a week's holiday to accompany her on the visits to all the castles and historic sights. They waved to Prince Charles and Princess Anne who look out the windows at the crowds and were at the Buckingham Palace gate when the Queen drove out.

One night of her tour was spent in a German city which, like all the others she saw, consisted of half-demolished buildings and rubble. Lights here and there would indicate that several rooms had still four walls and families were living in them. She thought that the German people were nice, however, and doing the best they could in the circumstances. Any she met who could speak English would tell of their fear of Communism.

A visit to the largest champagne factory in Europe, just outside Paris, was included on the program and the whole tour party of 29 were entertained at a 'champagne party' afterward. They were also taken to Paris night clubs and in Switzerland perhaps the highlight of their social life was the evening at a mountain night club which they reached by crossing Lake Luzern and taking a small train up.

Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reynolds of 817 Park St. S. The family are true Canadians, Peterborough born, with no family affiliations overseas, so Joan was really entitled to the nickname "Canuck" given her on the tour. A good ambassador of her country, she was also a good traveller and brought back a store of knowledge and clear impressions to pass on to others aspiring for similar adventure.

FRUIT SALAD MEAL

An ideal complete meal combination consists of orange slices with a mound of cottage cheese in the centre. Peel and slice three or four oranges. Then sprinkle with a few berries around the side plus bananas cut into sticks at one end of the bowl. Tall glasses of refreshing lemonade provide added outdoor eating pleasure. Naturally, this type of salad bowl can be made year-round for indoor luncheons by substituting grapes or frozen berries for fresh ones.

Women Shoppers Find Labels Are Misnomers

LONDON (CP)—Wholesale and retail clothing firms in Britain have reached a deadlock with manufacturers on the definition of those common trade words—"woollen" and "worsted."

The problem arose from a proposal by The Retail Trading Standards Association that labels clearly identifying the material should be attached to all cloths and clothing sold on the retail market.

The association had received complaints from women shoppers that they could not trust labels stating garments were "gabardine," "worsted" or "woollen." They claimed too many post-war materials with other than wool in the weave were classed in those ranges.

Backed by retailers and wholesalers, the trading standards group suggested these words should be applied only to cloths made from wool.

The manufacturers, however, contend that the terms "woollen" and "worsted" refer not to the material, but to different methods of manufacture, that can be applied to a number of fibres.

Local Clothiers Geared For Fall

Peterborough's main street clothing stores are almost all geared for fall buying though there is still four weeks of summer according to the calendar.

Predominant colors are soft, warm tones of brown and gold, and the fabrics also have a warm look that appeals at this time of year. Tweed dresses are new and very smart.

A new line of shoes is now available here and the salesman will tell you that you "can't wear out the soles". He really means it. The secret is a sole of leather as thick as on a man's shoe where it is walked on but tapered to thinness at the edges.

They are by an Italian designer manufacturing in Montreal and he claims only one complaint in four years. Very trim-lined uppers come in sandal and pump styles and brilliant clasp-ons quickly decorate them for after-five wear.

What's Right?

You drop a piece of silver when you are a dinner guest in a private home.

WRONG: Retrieve it quickly and wipe it off on your napkin.

RIGHT: If your hostess does not notice, ask her if you may have another fork.

HOME AGAIN—Eileen Jeffrey, one of three girls who went on a wild New York spending spree with more than $18,000 belonging to a Massachusetts doctor last Fall, is now looking forward to a rehabilitation period in Lynn, Mass. She is recuperating from a fractured spine after trying to escape from a detention home last January.

WA Sub-Executive Holds Meeting

A sub-executive meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery of the Woman's Association was held Thursday afternoon at the beautifully-situated home of Mrs. C. Barnard of Bensford.

It was announced the Dominion pre-Council adult conference is to be held in Toronto September 7, 8 and 9, and the Bay of Quinte Conference W.A. convention on October 22. Fall executive meeting of the Presbytery will be in Fairview Church on November 6. Presidents and vice-presidents of associations affiliated will be invited. There will be a noon luncheon.

In opening the meeting, president Mrs. Carmen Bell read a poem, "Servant of Christ." Mrs. M. Thompson gave scripture reading and a brief history was given by Mrs. Bell of the life of author Miss Havergal. Mrs. E. Wand led in prayer.

Reports on the work done for the training school to be erected in Toronto were read.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. M. Thompson.

DOROTHY DIX

Bad Temper Real Detriment To Person's Happy Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: Bob and I have been going steady for two years, and I expect my engagement ring shortly. During the two years I have been true and faithful to him. Recently I learned that he had taken two girls out during this time. Needless to say, my heart was broken He admitted it was true and promised it would never happen again. He reminded me that on both occasions we had had a quarrel and I told him never to come back. He is right about the arguments, and I do admit I have a terrible temper.

I forgave Bob for his two lapses and have promised to try to conquer my temper. Do you think we can have a successful marriage?

ALICIA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You and Bob seem to be a trifle confused as to who forgives whom. Since, on the two occasions when he went out with other girls, you began the quarrel, turned him out of the house and refused to see him for some time, I would assume that he was in a better position to dispense forgiveness than you were.

Actually, you have two terrific faults to overcome. A hasty temper is a human weakness and an honest effort to overcome it would be commendable. However, if you make a habit of forcing others to take the blame for your own shortcomings, that is a flaw in your character which needs considerable repair work. If Bob is going to continue to permit you to forgive him for your own faults he'll make a very soggy doormat of a husband.

REAL RESOLVE NEEDED

A promise to try to control your temper isn't much in the way of reformation. You need a definite determination to conquer a fiery temper and a very bad disposition. You must also learn to accept the responsibility for your own shortcomings and not foist the blame for them on innocent bystanders. Bob was completely right to go out with other girls when you had broken off with him and, it seems to me, he was a little too docile in coming back on your terms. Bob's backbone needs a little reinforcing.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Though my mother doesn't approve of my going out with boys, since I am only 14, she did make an exception recently and allowed me to go on a blind date with my girl friend and two boys. The boy I went with came from another state, a considerable distance away. I liked him very much, and hate the thought of not seeing him again. B. D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since the boy does live such a great distance away, you realize perfectly that the chances of seeing him again are small. However, since he did manage to make one trip to your city, he might make another. Naturally, since he was your first date, he has made a big impression on you, but there will be other boys just as nice.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: The boy I go with has a very irritating habit of doing things to tease me. He gets very annoyed if I act in the same fashion with him, however. I know he loves me, but his actions are very upsetting.

BLANCHE G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Men who have this teasing habit rarely overcome it. To them it's a smart trick, and the more they hurt others, the more enjoyment they have themselves. A man who carries it to the extent that your friend does will never make you happy. Perhaps a good dose of his own medicine will help. Break off with him, go out with other boys, and see if he can take the treatment he likes to give.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I go with a boy who is very well mannered when with me, but my chums say that he speaks very slightingly of me to them. He is 19, I am 17.

JO-ANN.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: In any case of this kind, I would distrust the chums rather than the boy. If he felt inclined to disparage you to others, he wouldn't bother going with you at all. Jealous or vindictive chums can cause a lot of trouble. Be wary of them.

FOR PARENTS ONLY:

Discussing Your Child and Older People

By NANCY CLEAVER.

"To old people, rich or poor,
I must bow and bow some more,
For I am only two and seven.
They are wise and close to Heaven."

—By Gerald Chan Sieg.

These four lines from "Thoughts of a Chinse Child" are true to the training for generations past of Oriental children in their attitude to older people. Chinese, Japanese, and Korean boys and girls have been taught to be courteous not only to their own grandparents but to all older people.

Some years ago a Canadian who travelled the northern route to the Far East, remarked, "Russia is a hard land in which to grow old, but in China older people are respected and loved. I would vastly prefer, if I had to choose, to grow old in the Orient than in a Communist country." Now that China has fallen under the Red regime one wonders if the position of older people will be swiftly altered to an undesirable one.

Do you think Canada is a good country in which to grow old? Are you satisfied with the way in which boys and girls in your neighborhood act towards older men and women? What about your own child's attitude to older people?

If your child has grandparents they are likely by far the most important older folk in his life. A grandmother can play a very vital part in a small child's world. So can grandfather. Sometimes a great-aunt or a great-uncle love and care for a small relative. In Professor J. D. Robins' "A Pocketful of Canada," there is a delightful poem about an older uncle taking a small boy fishing. This attractive book can now be purchased in a pocket edition and this and many other poems and bits of prose make it well worth buying.

Older people often have more leisure time than mothers and fathers. That is one reason why so many of them share happy outdoor activities like fishing or gardening or walking or driving with little friends. Children dislike being hurried, and the slower tempo of an older person's life often appeals to them. Anyone, young or old, likes to be loved and appreciated. Many a small boy or girl expands and grows in the atmosphere of a grandparent's affection and commendation.

Insurance companies and others interested in statistics have been pointing out in recent years that a number of factors have contributed to people living longer than they did one or two generations ago. It has been estimated that whereas at the beginning of the century only 4 per cent of the population were over 65 by 1980 approximately 14 per cent will be in that age group. Men and women have a greater life expectancy thanks to the reduction in infant mortality, the virtual elimination of such diseases as diphtheria and typhoid fever, and the discovery of new techniques in medicine and such new drugs as the penicillin and the sulfa drugs.

Although people are living longer, no one likes to be considered "old." To a great extent this is a result of financial anxiety from the policy of many large industries that employees must retire at an early chronological age regardless of their degree of mental ability, their skill or good health. There is a Hebrew proverb "Youth is a garland of roses, age is a crown of thorns." Franklin once said: "All would live long but none would be old."

DIFFICULT ADJUSTMENT

There are various reasons why for many people "the sunset years" are far from happy. The adjustment from a full and busy life to one of retirement from work is extremely difficult for most men and women. If the retired husband is restless and discontented he is not a pleasant companion for his wife. Failing health, financial anxieties and the loss of close friends and relatives by death are other reasons why older people often tend to look on the dark side of life. The changing housing conditions, with the popularity of small homes and apartments, leaves little or no room for the aging dependent relative.

Shakespeare pointed out that "Crabbed age and youth cannot live together." No one likes the adjective "crabbed," but the noise and ceaseless activity of children in the same house tire an older person. Grandparents find this wearing on their nerves and they find it hard to be patient with the small dynamo who goes so hard from early morning till bed time.

If there is an older relative living in the same household with a small child it is not an easy situation to handle. The parents must do their best to teach their child to be considerate of the feelings and needs of the older relative.

At the same time the responsibility for the child's training rests with mother and dad, and a grandparent should not make the task of discipline harder by spoiling the youngster on every occasion! There must by a definite agreement that the parent's routine for the child will be respected and that the grandparents will follow the procedures in handling the child of which the parents approve.

The small courtesies of opening a door, or doing small errands for a grandparent can add so much to the older person's happiness. It does a boy or girl good to perform these small services willingly. In return grandmother will often go more than "the second mile" in reading to the small child, in knitting little garments or doing other things for him.

"I've never tasted oatmeal and date cookies like my grandma used to make!" a middleaged man declared the other day. "She always had a wonderful supply of them in her cookie jar. At least twice a week I was allowed to visit her after school and she gave me date cookies and milk at the end of the kitchen table. We had wonderful chats together."

A grandparent can be a very wonderful friend to a small boy or girl. The child's relationship with that older person depends very much on his mother's and father's attitude. Are you training your son or daughter in courtesy and appreciation of older folk?

HAVING A MORNING RIDE in one of Canada's National Parks with grand dad is great fun for the child.

Combination For Appetizing Supper

Cooler weather calls for something hot for Sunday night supper. There are many simple suppers which can be prepared beforehand and quickly finished when the family comes home. Shrimp bisque and savory cheese loaf is one combination recommended as quick and most appetizing. The following recipes serve eight:

SHRIMP BISQUE

Drain one 5-ounce can of shrimp and chop. Combine with 2 cans condensed cream of celery soup in saucepan; gradually stir in ¾ cup milk, ¾ cup water and dash of red-hot sauce. Bring to a boil and serve.

SAVORY CHEESE LOAF

Trim off crusts from sides and ends of one-pound loaf unsliced white bread (should not be too fresh); then slice into 1½ inch squares, cutting almost through to bottom. Combine ¼ pound grated process American cheese, 4 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1½ teaspoons chopped onion, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and ¼ teaspoon celery seed; spread between bread squares. Brush top and sides with butter or margarine. Bake on cookie sheet in moderate oven 350 degrees for 20 or 25 minutes until lightly browned. Serve with shrimp bisque.

SATIN POPULAR

PARIS—Satin, crepe and lace, with a certain amount of chiffon, are the most popular fabrics for evening dresses. White, pale blush-pink, and black promise to be leading colours for after dark.

Readers' Saturday Column

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I look for your page every night and get a kick out of your remarks . . I made a pickle called "Sweet Chunks" last year and it was delicious I've looked several times through my cards but cannot find it. This is all I can remember and I don't know if it's right: Sweet Chunks —Cut cucumbers in chunks, cover with salted water and alum size of an egg overnight. Make syrup of brown sugar, vinegar, add 1 tablespoon each of mustard and celery seed. Mrs. H. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are on the right track but details are pretty skimpy. You had better use my recipe.

SWEET CHUNK PICKLES

This recipe is highly recommended by me. If any of you are on a pickle-making rampage it is a good one to have on file.

Seven lbs. dill-size cucumbers in 1½-inch chunks. Make a brine strong enough to float an egg (about 4 tablespoons salt to each quart water) and soak the pickle chunks in this for 7 days. Drain and freshen them in clear, cold water for 24 hours. Drain. Boil for 7 minutes in 1 quart vinegar, 2 quarts water and piece of alum size of hickory nut. Drain off and discard liquid. Make a syrup by boiling together 1 quart vinegar, 3 lbs. sugar, 1 oz. mixed celery seeds, allspice and cassia buds. Pour this boiling hot syrup over the pickles and let stand 24 hours. On second day boil the syrup once more. Place the pickle chunks in sterile jars, and pour boiling syrup over and seal.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Would you send me a recipe for salad dressing—just oil and vinegar. I can't buy any I like. What is best oil to use? Also would you print a series of menus for 1 or 2 people living alone? I am sure you would have the blessing of thousands who are situated as I am. When dividing a recipe for a cake with 3 eggs how does one do it? (Miss) M. V. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

STANDARD FRENCH DRESSING

ANSWER: (I use corn oil of Canadian manufacture because I like the flavor; but you might prefer cottonseed oil of American manufacture or olive oil—which is more expensive —of Italian or Spanish manufacture.) One cup salad oil—be sure it is freshly opened — these oils rancidify so easily that may be the reason you can't find one you like—3 tablespoons vinegar (or lemon juice), 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar, ⅛ teaspoon each pepper and paprika. One-half teaspoon dry mustard and a sliced clove of garlic to be left in the dressing bottle, are optional. Mix ingredients in covered bottle and shake just before using. See column for next Monday for menus for two. When I want to divide 3 eggs in half I use 1 very large egg or 1 medium egg and 1 yolk.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I missed the sour cream cookies. Would you kindly give me the recipe? Mrs. Cecil MacM.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I have another sour cream cookie I think I like even better so I'll give you it as I haven't used it in this column before.

SOUR CREAM COOKIES

Cream thoroughly together ½ cup shortening or margarine, 1½ cups brown sugar (or ½ white and ½ brown sugar), and when light and airy beat in 2 eggs. Then stir in 1 cup thick sour cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sift together 2¾ cups sifted cake or all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon each baking soda, baking powder and salt. Mix into first mixture. Chill for 1 or 2 hours. Onto greased baking sheet drop from teaspoon about 2 inches apart. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for about 8 or 10 minutes or until delicately browned.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I would appreciate a recipe for dill pickles in quart jars. M. E. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

DILL PICKLES

ANSWER: (Makes 4 2-quart jars.) In the bottoms of 4 2-quart jars put in each 2 tablespoons mustard seed and a head of dill blossom seeds. Wipe cucumbers and fill jars with dill-size cucumbers with spray of dill about every 3 inches. Cover with hot brine made of 1 cup salt (not iodized) to 14 cups boiling water. Seal and do not disturb for 2 months when they are ready to use. If you prefer 1-quart jars these amounts will fill 8.

BIG APPETITES

In a year, the family of one moth, if none dies, can eat 100 pounds of wool.

6—In Memoriam

CHAPLIN—In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Valentine James Chaplin, who passed away August 24, 1951.

'Twas just a year ago today
We watched him quietly slip away,
From a world of care and limited sight,
To a better land so fair and bright.
The angel of death was sent from heaven,
And he left us there, at the hour of seven,
We couldn't help, but we uttered a prayer,
That God would guide him over there,
And grant that in His courts he'd sing
Praises forever to the Heavenly King.
So we said farewell, 'twas all we could do,
"Good-bye, Dad, we'll be seeing you."
—Lovingly remembered by Leeta, Henry and Vernon Farrow.

CHAPLIN—In loving memory of Valentine J. Chaplin, who passed away August 24th, 1951.

Just one year ago this evening,
As the sun sank in the west,
The angels bore our loved one
To the land of eternal rest.
God saw that he was suffering,
And the hill was hard to climb,
So He closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
—Always remembered by Wife and Family.

GRAVELLE—In loving memory of my husband, Henry Gravelle, who passed away two years ago today, August 23, 1950.

Calm and peaceful he is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain,
We who loved him sadly miss him,
But trust in God to meet again.
—Sadly missed by wife and family.

Mrs. E. A. Sutton

MILLBROOK (ENS) — The funeral service for Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Sutton, who died at her home on Tuesday was held on Thursday from the family residence on Anne St.

Mrs. Sutton was one of Millbrook's most elderly residents. She celebrated her 92nd birthday on July 30th.

The Rev. W. H. Heustin of Grace Presbyterian church, who is in charge of the work of St. Andrew's United Church as well as his own during the month of August, conducted the service.

Pall-bearers were Eric Fallis, Austin Sutton and Leonard McNeill of Millbrook, Melville Staples of Orono, Joe Staples of Bobcaygeon and Gordon Staples of Cavan.

The funeral was largely attended. Among those coming fom a distance were friends from Toronto, Bobcaygeon, Peterborough, Port Hope and Orono.

Obituary

MRS. JOSEPH MOON

MARMORA (ENS)—Mrs. Joseph Moon died suddenly on Thursday at the home of Oscar Reynolds in Madoc township where she was on a visit.

She was 58 years old and was the daughter of the late Lewis and Mary Reynolds, having been born in Madoc.

For a time, she and her husband who died in 1950, were residents of Springbrook but later returned to Madoc. She was a member of Trinity United Church, Madoc, and well respected in the community. She is survived by three sons, Clarence, Roy and Joseph, all of Madoc and one daughter Mrs. William Rose (Myrtle), Madoc township. Also surviving are two brothers, Hugh Reynolds, Rochester, N.Y., Fred Reynolds, Marmora and one sister, Mrs. Clifford Devorick (Agnes), Toronto.

The funeral was held from her late residence in Madoc today to Trinity United Church for service at 2:30 p.m., thence to Lakeview cemetery, Madoc, for burial.

Special Buyers Refused Cut In Prices

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (CP)—All shop-keepers in Bloemfontein have banded together to refuse discounts to organized groups of consumers.

They claim their new 10-year agreement puts a stop to a practice which has menaced the stability of commerce for many years.

In many cities of South Africa groups of employees, especially public servants, hae long banded together to get special reductions from merchants. In Pretoria, for instance, it has been estimated that such a group sales at big discounts cost the shop-keepers around £100,000 a year.

The buyers' groups argue that they consolidate consumer credit and increase the retailer's turnover. But the retailers believe they can get along without the help of such associations. They do not agree that a larger tunover gives the retailer an advantage.

TEMPTING BAIT

Originally the buyers' groups worked on the theory of offering a tempting bait to a limited number of shops. In return for a discount, the associations undertook to direct their members to these shops and no others.

The shop-keepers' spokesmen now say that all this is lost in the progress of events. Today virtually every shop-keeper of importance has been compelled to enter into such contracts, or suffer a loss in trade.

In Bloemfontein, as an example, there are buyers' associations open to anyone. Their total members make up more than a quarter of the population.

The fact that independent cash-paying customers pay more for their purchases than the credit-seeking association members is regarded as a serious reflection on commercial ethics.

Market Meters Yield $11,313

Gross revenue for one year from the parking meters on the old market square amounted to $11,313.38. Those receipts are for a few days more than the full year since the city square meters began collecting for the city treasury on July 21, 1951.

Maintenance of the meters applies some cost to the opposite side of the account, and there is also the supervision of the lot.

On the other hand the old market was costing the ratepayers something like $4,000 a year, the excess of expenditure over revenue.

On that basis, the gross improvement in use of the property, from the taxpayers' standpoint, is about $15,000, gross.

Total income from the street parking meters is an additional sum of $146,943.77 from their installation in May, 1947. The sum of these two items is $158,257.15 collected in parking revenue from the time the first meter took in the first cent.

Demand for parking space on the city's lot is likely to increase as soon as the federal government authorizes the contract for the erection of the postal-customs building.

Baby Left Alone In Parked Car 1 Hour

A month-old baby was left alone in a car parked on a downtown parking lot for nearly an hour Friday night, police reported today.

A man and his wife were just getting ready to drive out of the lot when they heard a baby crying. They looked into the car where the sound was coming from and saw the tiny infant on the front seat with no one else in the car.

Three girls in another car were attracted by the couple looking into the car and they also came over to see what was the matter.

They called the police and Constable W. A. Scott then began looking into nearby beverage rooms to try and locate the parents.

Just before 11 p.m., approximately an hour after the baby was first discovered in the car, a woman arrived at the car and identified herself as the mother of the baby.

She told police that she and her husband had parked the car there only 15 minutes before. The woman's husband also came to the car, and the mother said she had just left the baby to step into a restaurant for a quart of milk.

Police matron Mrs. Mel Shadgett will be questioning the mother further today about the incident.

Methodist Minister Leaves Warkworth

WARKWORTH (ENS)—Neighbors and friends of the Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Moffatt held a surprise party for them at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt are moving this week to Marmora.

Born near Ottawa, Mr. Moffatt has served in the ministry of the Methodist church for more than 30 years, moving to Warkworth from Armadale four years ago.

The Moffatts were presented with a tri-light floor lamp, a purse of money and a cup and saucer to each of their two daughters.

The Rev. G. Kemp of Gunter, Ont., succeeds Mr. Moffatt on the Warkworth charge.

Cavan Club Finishes Quilt For Needy Family

CAVAN (ENS).—The P. L. Q. Club of the seventh and eighth lines, Cavan, held their meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Elson. A quilt was completed and it is being given to a needy family in a nearby community. Afternoon tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, Mrs. E. L. Armstrong, and Mrs. H. C. Argue.

Uniforms Dot C.N.E. Grounds

TORONTO (CP)—Military dress uniforms today studded the waterfront grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition.

The second day of the fair — always a Saturday and traditionally Warrior's Day — is turned over to members of the armed forces, active and veteran. Thousands of marching men paced by dozens of military bands streamed across the 350-acre grounds.

Some 101,500 persons turned out for yesterday's opening, 4,000 fewer than last year despite the attraction of the $9,500 10 - mile marathon swim, usually held during the second week of the "Ex."

Governor-General Vincent Massey, officiating at the opening, said the exhibition gave Canadians a chance to know themselves.

Brig. J.M. Rockingham, former commander of the Canadian forces in Korea, is guest speaker at the directors' luncheon and will take the salute at the parade.

Robbed Of $10,000 At Busy Intersection

NEW YORK—(AP)—A businessman was robbed of $10,000 on a busy street in broad daylight Friday, and left handcuffed to the steering wheel of his car. Police said Sidney Rapport, operator of a cheque-cashing agency, had drawn the money from a bank, and had stopped at an intersection when two men jerked open the car door, climbed in and drew guns.

Claim Another 'First'

MOSCOW (AP) — A Russian named Z. Y. Slonimsky was the real inventor of the first telegraph, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said yesterday, a good dozen or more years before Americans thought of it. (The World Almanac credits Samuel F. Morse with inventing the first magnetic telegraph in 1832.)

Fear Flood In '53

TORONTO (CP)—Home owners on Lake Ontario fear a major flood in 1953 unless the summer cycle which ussually carries the lake to its lowest point speeds up. C. M. Bonham of Grimsby, official of the Lake and Beach Protective Association, said yesterday he fears the lake will climb to 253 feet above sea level next year.

Inquiry Ordered

PARIS (Reuters)—The government has ordered an inquiry into the recent series of engine defects which delayed the Flandre, France's month-old luxury liner, on recent trans-Atlantic crossings.

Cigar Store Indians Start On Trail Back To Popularity

By RICHARD KLEINER (NEA)

NEW YORK (NEA).—The cigar store Indian, who vanished along with horse cars and bustles, is showing signs of coming back to life.

A new organization, the Society for the Preservation of Cigar Store Indians, is attempting to find and preserve examples of the hand-carved figures that used to stand outside tobacco shops.

The annual Cigar Harvest Festival, Hartford, Conn., will use ancient cigar store Indians as a motif.

And, even more important to any self-respecting wooden Indian, there appears to be a few employment opportunities around. Reports reaching the S. P. C. S. I. indicate some tobacconists are reviving the old custom of standing a carved brave outside their doors.

One shop in St. Augustine, Fla., wheels a gumwood Indian outside every morning, and wheels it back inside when it locks up at night. A New York store, owned by venerable James B. Russell, keeps its wooden figure in the window, away from destructive weather and children.

REAL RELIC

Russell's Indian is an authentic relic. He's traced its history back to a cigar store in Monticello, N. Y., where it stood outside for many years. He's sure that, like most of the older examples of the art, his was carved at sea by a ship's carpenter out of a block of gumwood.

Actually, according to cigar store Indian historians, the figures are not an American invention. They were first used in England in the early 17th Century, when tobacco and Indians were virtually synonymous to the English mind.

A statue of Pocahontas, enticingly offering a handful of wooden cigars, was the first such figure in the U. S. That one appeared in Boston in 1730.

From that date, the use of figures spread like wild-fire, reaching their peak in the three decades from 1850 to 1880. Most wer hand-carved and most featured Indians, but there were exceptions.

For a while there was a fad of wooden Uncle Sams, in place of Indians, but that faded. And, around 1890, metal ones appeared but never achieved much popularity. They were more durable, cheaper and easier to move in and out, but they didn't have the originality of the one-of-a-kind hand-carved wooden Indians.

The decline of cigar store Indians traces to a good many local laws, which banned the appearance of any advertising symbol on sidewalks. Gradually, the figures vanished, until the current trend has brought a few back to their old stands.

The old figures have become treasured by antique collectors and museums. Russell's Indian cost about $1,000, and he says he wouldn't take five times that for it today. The Indian is strictly non-commital about the proposition.

Miniature Track Built On Farm

REGINA (CP)—Jim Ryan is a district farmer who became a success in the entertainment field—down on the farm.

There's a miniature racing circuit on the Ryan farm where children delight in driving four small, motor-powered cars that have independent steering.

The idea developed when he built a tiny vehicle for his seven-year-old son to drive around the farm, after the boy had outgrown his pedal car.

Now the track on the farm is a popular place on evenings and Sundays. He can look after the racing business without giving up his farm work.

Occasionally he takes the cars into the country for various celebrations. They are equipped with farm utility motors of 2½ horsepower, and attain a speed of about six miles an hour. They have two pedals—an accelerator and a brake.

There's a nominal fee of 10 cents a ride, but Ryan isn't fussy about it. "I like to have children around me and I enjoy seeing them have fun," he says.

PRESERVED IN THE WINDOW, instead of out in the elements this authentic wooden cigar store Indian, owned by James B. Russell in New York, is studied by a couple of passers-by.

U.N. Appoints Ex-Londoner To Indonesia

LONDON, (CP)—For the second time in a distinguished career, a native Londoner has started an appointment as chief advisor to an economically troubled nation.

Dr. H. B. Higgins, former graduate of the University of Western Ontario, has been appointed by UN as chief economic advisor to the Indonesian government.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Howard Higgins, 16 Logan St., have received word of his arrival in Indonesia.

Dr. Higgins previously was chief economist for the UN Technical Assistance Mission in Libya and spent six months in Libya preparing an economic and social development plan there.

His new appointment is of similar nature. He is head of a planning bureau set up by UN for Indonesia and will advise the government on banking, taxing, government expenses and the whole realm of economic planning.

On loan from McGill University where he is professor of economics, he graduated from UWO in 1933 and since then has added a long string of distinguished degrees in economic and social research.

Hospital Inquiry Ends At Windsor

WINDSOR — (CP) — The three-month inquiry into the affairs of the East Windsor Hospital ended yesterday. The hearing saw 105 witnesses who gave more than 2,000,000 words of testimony.

Commissioner Gordon L. Fraser announced that he will make public his findings as soon as possible.

The hearing ended after a day-long argument by Norman L. Mathews, counsel for Dr. P.J.G. Morgan, medical superintendent for the hospital for incurables.

The commission was set up by Attorney-General Porter March 12 when copies of the hospital's 1951 financial statements were presented to him by M. Frank Brobst, a former hospital board chairman.

Mr Mathews criticized Mr. Porter, Health Minister Phillips and Mr. Brobst for their part in launching the investigation which he claimed caused irreparable damage to the East Windsor Hospital and hospitals throughout the province.

The board of governors had been justified, he said, in giving Dr. Morgan wide lattitude in running the hospital.

Mr. Mathews said the inquiry had disclosed some evidence of the use of unorthodox business methods at the hospital but none of dishonesty.

George S. Bonter Dies At Cottage

MARMORA (ENS) —George S. Bonter of 65 Donald St., Belleville, died at his summer home at Malone on Thursday afternoon in his 68th year.

He was born in Marmora, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bonter. Formerly he resided in Toronto and Winnipeg. While in the western city, he was for 20 years general superintendent of the Nortern American and Citizen Lumber Company. He had been in failing health for the past two years.

Mr. Bonter was a member of the United Church and well respected by all who knew him. He was married to Helena Lummiss, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lummiss of Glanmire who survives him. He is also survived by two daughters —Mrs. William Wallis, Port Colborne, and Mrs. W. McKeown, Montreal, one son, William K. Bonter, Kaladar; three sisters, Mrs. Jane Airhart, Marmora; Mrs. Susan Mechan, Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Mrs. Charles Lummiss, Marmora; and three brothers: John W. Bonter and Richard E. Bonter, Marmora; and Arthur P. Bonter, Fennwood, Sask.

The funeral service was held today in Belleville. Burial was in Belleville cemetery.

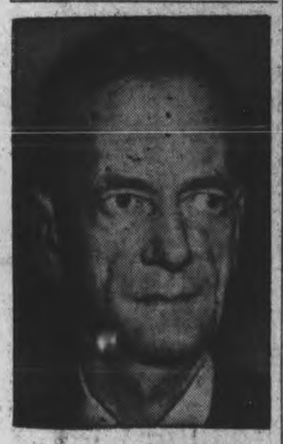
Report Unemployment Drops 20,500 During Month July

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment in Canada declined by 20,500 during July, the Labor Department reported yesterday. However, the effects of various strikes may increase the total during August.

The department said job applications at National Employment Service offices at the end of last month totalled 175,700, a decrease of 20,500 from the 196,200 registered July 3.



The figure was still about 45,000 greater than at the end of July last year and 17,000 above the number of unemployed registered at the corresponding period in 1950.

STEEL STRIKE BLAMED

The department reported that the United States steel strike, though now ended, had resulted in the lay-off of about 25,000 Canadian workers, mostly in automobile manufacturing and feeder plants.

The Ontario region—which had 51,600 unemployed—was most seriously affected by the U.S. steel strike and the Department said its settlement "had not resulted in general return to work by the end of July, although some workers may have returned to their jobs by then."

Demand for farm workers was higher than the supply in Ontario and activity in mining other than gold mining was increasing.

Dr. KURT SCHUMACHER, 56-year-old West German Socialist leader died in Bonn Wednesday. He was outspoken opponent of German participation in the western European army set up by NATO and a foe of Communism.

Plan To Expand Diesel Factory

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Further expansion of the plant of General Motors Diesel Limited, at a cost of $2,500,000, was announced yesterday. It will be the second extension since the plant was opened in August, 1950.

Work will start immediately. The addition will mark an important step in providing for railroads complete service facilities to handle wrecked locomotives, and to rebuild and repair major components such as traction motors, generators and engines.

Another major phase of the additional building and equipment will permit the manufacture in London of a new model traction motor, as well as the fabrication of truck frames and a number of other components for several locomotive models.

Czech Actress Dies

VIENNA (AP)—The Czech-language newspaper Videnske Svobodne Listy said yesterday the popular Czech actress, Jirina Stepnickova, died mysteriously in a prison at Karlovy Vary. One report said the actress committed suicide. Another said she was beaten to death by Red Czech agents during questioning.

"You Can't Take It With You" Second Last Play

"You Can't Take It With You", opening Monday at the Queen Mary Auditorium. This was to have been the closing play of the season, but due to audience response and requests an extra presentation has been added. For the final week Terrance Rattigan's internationally successful comedy, "O Mistress Mine", will be staged, as usual in the Queen Mary Auditorium.

You Can't Take It With You refers of course to money, and the play revolves around an eccentric Bohemian New York family whose only aim in life is to enjoy themselves. Grandpa, the head of the family, gave up work twenty-five years ago because it interfered with his fun, and he spends his time visiting his friends, collecting snakes, and going to the graduation exercises at the universities.

DOESN'T PAY TAX

He doesn't pay income tax because he doesn't believe in it, and when the government agents catch up with him he blithely informs them that he certainly won't give the government any money unless he is first shown exactly where every penny will be spent. His daughter, Penny, writes plays by the dozen because eight years ago a typewriter was delivered by mistake to the home. Her husband, Ed, is just interested in fireworks and explosions, and he spends his life in the cellar with the ice man experimenting on new kinds of firecrackers.

Essie, the granddaughter, has been studying ballet for a number of years without the slightest improvement, and her teacher is Mr. Kolenkhov a mad Russian ballet master who does a little wrestling on the side. Essie's husband is Paul who delights in playing the xyiophone, and whose total income from last year was twenty-eight dollars earned by selling home made candy. The only sane member of the household is Alice, or is she the only crazy one, for she arises at eight o'clock every morning to go to work!

There is also in the household, Rheba, the maid, and her boy friend, Donald, who is on relief and objects strenuously to having his week broken up by having to line up for half an hour for his dole. Amongst the guests of the happy household are a Russian princess, presently employed as a waitress in Childs, a Wall Street stockbroker and his family, three G-men, a tipsy actress, and innumerable other passers-by. The play is rightly described as a zany production.

Found Responsible For Axe-Slaying

MONTREAL (CP)—Pola Ostapuck, 70, today was found criminally responsible by a coroner's court jury of the axe-slaying yesterday of Mike Woodik, 65, in a crudely-built, three-room shack they shared in Mackayville, Que.

Ostapuck will be arraigned tomorrow in criminal court on a charge of murder.

Soviet Union Announces Rich Harvest This Year

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—There is a rich harvest in many areas of the Soviet union this year.

Authority for this first official announcement on the 1952 crop is Socialist Agriculture, organ of the ministry of agriculture.

The announcement referred principally to grain.

With this grain being harvested in many regions, the paper called for a strict accounting and a living up to the letter of the collective farm law.

"In order to preserve the grain and to prevent it being squandered and plundered," said the paper, "it is the duty of the collective farm leaders and the M.T.S. (machine tractor station) leaders to make certain that a very strict account is kept and that the crop is well protected."

Weighing of the wheat is essential; and it should be weighed immediately when it comes onto the collective farm threshing floors.

Advanced collective farms and M.T.S. have taken care to see to the calculation of the harvest in an exemplary manner, but the procedure for calculating the harvest has not been organized everywhere as it should be.

The paper cited a case in Alma-Ata Oblast, in Central Asia, where concealing from calculation of the grain threshed by the combines is leading to a reduction of the payment in kind for the combine-harvested grain and means a serious loss for the state.

The paper emphasized: "It is necessary to put an end to manifestations of carelessness and complacency to struggle vigorously against anti-state practices in the calculation of the harvest."

CHOOSE CAREFULLY

Especial attention was paid to selecting the proper type of person for weighing.

"He must watch carefully the interests of the state," said Socialist Agriculture, "and of the collective farm, aiming for an exact weight of the entire grain."

The Soviet harvest is, of course, of great interest to millions of people and this is the first indication that it is a "rich one" in "many areas."

There was a rather cool spring here and considerable sowing started relatively late and had to be done rapidly.

A drought in two of the big wheat growing regions hurt the crop somewhat last year and up to now the Russians have made no claims to having reached the goal of 127,000,000 tons set for 1950 in the five years plan.

Can't Believe Ike Backing Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau today termed "incredible" a Republican counterpart's assertion that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will support Senator Joseph McCarthy.

Senator A.S. Monroney of Oklahoma issued the statement after Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota said on a radio program last night that Eisenhower will "endorse and campaign actively" for McCarthy if the latter is renominated by Wisconsin Republicans.

Mundt is co-chairman of the Republican campaign speakers' bureau.

STRANGE COMPANIONS

Monroney said he finds it impossible to believe that Eisenhower would appear on the same platform with McCarthy because of the latter's attacks on Gen. George C. Marshall, who helped Eisenhower attain his five-star general's rank.

The Oklahoma senator noted that in a Senate speech McCarthy had accused Marshall of participating in "a conspiracy of infamy so black that when it is finally exposed, its principals shall be forever deserving of the maledictions of all honest men."

Monroney said:

"It is incredible that General Eisenhower can embrace McCarthy, the author of this attack upon a great American."

British General Has Ticklish Job

OTTAWA (CP)—A British general came to Ottawa yesterday en route to a ticklish job as a Commonwealth spokesman in the handling of the Korean war, a post designed to prevent recurrence of such things as Canada's displeasure over the dispatch of Canadian troops to Koje Island.

Maj.-Gen. Stephen N. Shoosmith arrived here for conferences with Canadian officials before going to Tokyo to become deputy Chief of Staff to Gen. Mark Clark, the United Nations chief in Korea.

He was named as a result of the Far Eastern visit of the British Defence Minister, Earl Alexander, to give not only Britain but the Commonwealth countries as a whole a voice in the top levels of the Clark Hierarchy.

It was disclosed that the Canadian government has approved the terms of reference which give Gen. Shoosmith the right to tell Gen. Clark what he feels would be the Commonwealth reaction to any given step by the U.N. Command. He also has been briefed on the Canadian stand on the Koje incident.

Gen. Shoosmith will have no direct approach to Ottawa, nor with London for that matter. He will be a member of Gen. Clark's staff, entitled to give his own personal opinion of what the Commonwealth countries would feel about certain things.

Blind River Driver To Stand Trial

BLIND RIVER (CP)—Roderick Godin, 37, yesterday was committed for trial on a manslaughter charge arising from the traffic death Aug. 10 of George Doucette, about 50.

Godin, formerly of Sturgeon Falls and Fort William, is accused of being the driver of a five-ton truck which killed Doucette and severely injured Eugene Vasseur, 44, formerly of Toronto, as Doucette and Vasseur walked along the highway near the outskirts of this northern Ontario town 90 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

Drug Store Owner Andrew Johnston Dies

SARNIA (CP)—Andrew B. Johnston, well-known resident of the city for more than 50 years, and proprietor of the Clement drug store on North Front street until April of last year, died in Sarnia general hospital yesterday following a lengthy illness.

He will be buried in the Avondale Mausoleum, Stratford, tomorrow.

Born in Stratford, Mr. Johnston resided in that city until 1899 when he came to Sarnia.

Given Present

DEVIZES, Wiltshire (AP)—A piece of wood from the United States White House slightly scorched by British troops when they burned the place in 1814, was presented yesterday in the form of a gavel to the British Army training centre here. Brig. Gen. W.P. Campbell, assistant chief of the U. S. Army, presented the gavel, once part of President Truman's collection.

Narrow Escape During Explosion

QUEBEC (CP)—A fire Wednesday in a gasoline tank owned by McColl Frontenac Oil Co., in which two men were burned to death, could have done considerable damage to the entire neighborhood, a witness at an inquest said yesterday.

Ronald Sudds, 28, of Kingston, Ont., and William Ruether, 24, of Peace River, Alta., were killed while working inside the tank which was being dismantled.

Dr. Lucien Gravel, a chemist who inspected the tank before the accident for gas fumes and found it to be safe, said there was no explosion and that fire was not caused by an acetylene torch, as had been reported earlier.

He said, some gasoline had accumulated in the tank through a leak in a pipe and a type of combustion, which he did not explain, caused the gasoline to take fire.

Report Coaster Sinks Off Dutch Island

ROTTERDAM (AP)—The British ship Fairhead reported today that a Dutch coaster sank off the Dutch island of Terschelling today. The Fairhead said she rescued all 11 members of the coaster's crew.

A local shipping agency, Dirkzwager's, identified the Dutch vessel as the 351-ton Peto, of Groningen.

A tug and a lifeboat were sent to the scene.

Parents Decide Give Up Search For R.C.A.F. Girl

LONDON (CP)—The grief-stricken parents of 21-year-old Isobel Burton, R.C.A.F. airwoman stationed at Aylmer who disappeared four months ago, today were ready to give up their personal search that brought them to London, 2,000 miles from their village home in Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Burton of Abernathy have been here 10 days checking with Air Force officials at Aylmer and talking with Sheriff R.H. Beattie, who personally took up the search on request of his one-time army colleague Maj.Gen. G.R. Pearkes, V.C., Nanaimo, M.P. who took the case of the missing girl to the House of Commons.

DON'T KNOW WHERE TO START

They said when they arrived they had no idea where to start the search and had little hope to go on.

Today, Mrs. Burton said that hope was wearing thin.

In a voice drained of emotion, she said "I think we'll be going back home soon."

"The one consolation we have," she said, "is that the Air Force is still trying to find Isobel. That's our one consolation."

SWEPT BY FLOOD—This is how the lifeboat house in Lynmouth looked after being torn in half by the flash flood torrents. Loses 25 Dogs Woman Finds House Quiet

PITTSBURGH (AP)—It's quiet in the home of Mrs. Edna Stone today—she has lost her 25 pet dogs.

The dogs were removed to the Animal Rescue League home after Humane Society agents and police visited the northside residence of the 64-year old woman yesterday.

Police also took two of Mrs. Stone's grandchildren to the juvenile detention home. They were Darlene Stone, 8, and nine-year-old David Stone Jr.

During the excitement a third grandson, 10-year-old Mark Stone, disappeared. Mrs. Stone said she had been keeping the children for her son, David, who is working in Canton, O.

Mrs. Stone was arrested on charges of resisting an officer. She said she paid a $25 fine to get out of jail. As for her dogs—and the complaints of neighbors who objected to their barking—Mrs. Stone said: "Anyone who has pets will know how I feel. I just love my dogs. . . The Humane Society took my two cats and two chickens, too. But perhaps it is all for the best. It cost a lot of money to feed my dogs."

Seek Federal Order To Confiscate Car

FORT ERIE (CP)—The United States government moved today for a federal court order to permit confiscation of a 1951 automobile allegedly used to smuggle nickel into the United States via the Peace Bridge in January.

The automobile, an expensive make, has been appraised at a valuation of $3,597 by Buffalo customs appraisers, and is owned by one of six persons indicted by the special federal grand jury last spring on smuggling charges.

The owner, Leslie Lambersky of Toronto, is free on $2,500 bail, and federal officials now say he cannot be extradicted from Canada on the smuggling count.

Point Pelee Single Point Of Entry For Bird Migration

By PERCY GHENT

The nesting season over and the nestlings well able to take care of themselves, the bird migration southward starts with early autumn.

From hawks to hummingbirds, species after species will leave their Canadian breeding grounds for winter residence in Central and South America.

The exodus of birds in their millions from Canada is far more gradual and far less spectacular than their spring migration northward. One of Canada's best-known wild life authorities, Dr. W. W. H. Gunn, made a special visit to Point Pelee on Lake Erie last May to study the incoming wave.

What he saw and reported was dramatic—in his own words the spring influx was "the grandfather of all waves," and he has seen many of them. His estimate of song birds seen on a single day then was 50,000.

Says Dr. Gunn: "I have a picture of driving along the road near the end of the Point, watching an unending stream of sparrows and thrushes rising from each side of the road and settling back again a little farther from the road margin. The general pattern of this action was strikingly like the bow-wave of a fast-moving ship."

On two days in May, 150 species of birds were seen. It was estimated there were at least 100,000 white-throated sparrows — the "sweet, sweet, Canada, Canada" singers, and as many white-crowned sparrows.

Thrushes of various species, and colorful warblers by the thousands were assembled on the Point, a single route of entry to Canada.

From there they would wing their way over the northern breeding grounds.

Now the return journey to the south is beginning—the second, annual miracle of migration, the wonder of which grows with deeper observation and study.

CAGY COYOTE

Citizens of Banff amid the Rockies are so accustomed to seeing black bears, elk, red deer and an occasional moose taking in the town sights that they occasion little comment. Even a grizzly bear with her cub wandering along an outlying street raises only mild interest.

But even Banff folk were surprised this summer at the sight of a coyote, squatting by the roadside just out of town and on a regular "stand," awaiting motorists who hand out such delicacies as chocolate bars cakes and candy. A coyote among the animal mendicants is something new, even in Banff.

Fly Specialists To Fight Polio

VANCOUVER (AP)—A poliomyelitis outbreak which has take the lives of seven children in southeastern British Columbia is being fought today by health department specialists airlifted from Vancouver by the R.C.A.F.

They are assisting hospital workers at Kimberley where beds are crowded with polio patients, most of them children.

Dr. A.J. Nelson, Victoria epidemiologist, and three provincial health department nurses were flown from Vancouver after the R.C.A.F. received an urgent request from health officials.

The Kimberley hospital has 20 polio victims under treatment, 16 of them children. Medical staff at the hospital normally consists of five doctors and 20 nurses.

Britain Tries To Learn Peeves Of Visitors From Overseas

By JACK GOLDING

LONDON (CP)—Britain expects 750,000 visitors from other countries during 1952 and she hopes they will spend some £120,000,000 while they are here.

The British Travel and Holiday Association, which sets out these estimates, meanwhile is trying to find out what pleases or displeases visitors from abroad. With this in mind, it has devised a system of stamped and addressed cards to be filled out by tourists when they leave.

Thousands of replies have been received from people of many nationalities, but the association says that Canadians do not send many.

TOO MUCH AUSTERITY

On the basis of replies received, it appears most Canadians spent about six weeks in the country and generally liked what they found. Complaints were few although it is believed some who used to spend most of their time in the United Kingdom now go to the continent to get away from Britain's austerity.

Their trip, fares included, cost them about $1,000. They found the prices of food, drink and commodities what they had expected, if not cheaper. Their general impression was that the cost of living is lower in Britain on many items—though they did not comment on the scale of wages and salaries.

A visitor from Leaside, Ont., found hotel rooms too cold. A Toronto man thought the food much better than he had been led to believe from newspapers. A Halifax school teacher found the price of a cup of coffee much higher than in Canada and a Newfoundland visitor said he could think of better countries in which to have his shirts laundered.

DEATH ON COFFEE

Most Canadians indicated they were anxious to return to Britain—particularly for the Coronation. One Ottawa visitor was critical about tipping and a woman from Winnipeg deplored the lack of coat hangers in hotels.

Various opinions concerning the courtesy and lack of same in cab drivers was evident. And a Toronto man wanted to know why he couldn't have water served with his meals.

An official of the Association said the most critical visitors are the French. The most complimentary are Americans.

Asked if the Americans didn't offer any chilly observations about Britain's coffee, he said: "Well, yes but usually in a light-hearted manner. One man from Kansas City told us we ought to make the sale of bad coffee an offence punishable by death." Asked how he felt about this, the official said: "Well,. . .as a matter of fact, old boy, I agree."

But it took a Dutchman to offer a fine point of warm philosophy. He wrote: "We love England. After all, food isn't everything."

Foundation Gives $480,000 In Year

TORONTO (CP) — The Bickell Foundation, set up by the will of the late J.P. Bickell, mining magnate, has istributed more than $480,000 to charitable, medical and educational organizations in Ontario during the first year of its existence, trustees of the foundation said today.

Some $168,300 has been distributed among 33 charitable organizations including Toronto Western and Toronto General hospitals, St. Joseph's Hospital in London, Kingston General Hospital, the General Hospital at Ottawa and the Hospital for Sick Children here.

Warrant Issued For Seguin's Arrest

CORNWALL (CP)—Inspector Robert Wannell of Ontario provincial police said today a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Henri Seguin, 27-year-old Cornwall man charging him with the murder last Saturday of Leonard Hurd at nearby Maxville. The body of the 42-year-old garage operator was found in his taxi with five bullet wounds in it. He had been robbed of more than $1,000.

Fake Pictures

TOKYO (AP)—Newspapers and radio broadcasts in Communist China are telling the 200,000 Japanese still living there that United States troops are making a colony of Japan and committing atrocities against the Japanese. A 21-year-old Japanese nurse who returned recently from Red China said newspapers print pictures purporting to depict U.S. forces committing violence in Japan.

Removed As Premier

BELGRADE (AP)—The newspaper Politika reported "widespread rumors" today that Gen. Enver Hoxha has been removed from his post as premier of Albania, Yugoslavia's little Russian-dominated neighbor on the south. The paper said Hoxha failed to show up recently at meetings of Albania's governing presidium, with no reason advanced for his absence.

Vandals Damage Beach House

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Lakefield's Red Cross swimming and water safety program will officially close on Saturday after a most successful season.

Opening on July 1 the Red Cross have provided a swimming instructor and life guard during the season. Examinations were held last week and most of the examinees were succesful.

Mrs. Harold Wilford is convener for this program, and much of the success of the venture is due to her planning and untiring work. John Lickley was instructor and Ron Kingdon, life guard.

An unpleasant feature of the season was that the beach house was broken into a few days ago and considerable damage done. Considering the time, money and work that goes into this program, it is discouraging to those responsible that it is not appreciated more. It is not the first time such a thing has happened and members of the Red Cross executive are seriously considering discontinuing the project. Lakefield citizens are demanding that steps be taken by those responsible and an end put to this costly nuisance.

A constant guard has been maintained at the beach during the season, but after Saturday the Lakefield Red Cross will not be responsible for any accident that might occur at the beach after their term of supervision is over. The cat-walks and other items during the period will be removed, with the possible exception of the cat-walk at the wading pool.

T.L.C. Turns Down Consolidation Plans For Labor

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canada's largest labor group, the Trades and Labor Congress, flatly turned down Saturday a move towards consolidation of Canadian labor forces. The Congress blocked a resolution at its annual convention asking the executive to approach other labor groups and set up a general council for co-ordinating labor activities in the interests of "greater unity." The move was a setback to hopes of the Canadian Congress of Labor for unification of Canada's 1,000,000 organized workers.

For some years the C.C.L. has been trying to work out "organic unity" of Canadian labor. There was a national committee of the T.L.C., the C.C.L. and the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor for a time last year. The T.L.C. pulled out.

HITS C.C.L.

President Percy Bengough of the 502,000-member T.L.C. said Saturday that the 350,000-member C.C.L. was trying to use the committee to "undermine" the Trades and Labor Congress.

He directed his complaints about association with other labor groups at the C.C.L. He had no complaint against committee activities of the 90,000-member Catholic syndicates from Quebec or against the 40,000-member railway running-trades brotherhoods.

But Jack Bruce of Toronto, Canadian chief of the Plumbers' Union, lashed out at the Quebec body, saying the Catholic Confederation raided T.L.C. union membership "with the aid of the clergy."

LAST MAJOR DEBATE

The labor-unity scrap was the last major debate of the six-day T.L.C. convention. The convention, in resolutions adopted, asked for:

Nationalization and development of natural resources in the interests of full employment, on the ground that raw material export cuts down employment; certification of unions as bargaining agents for government workers; all-Canadian routing of east-bound gas pipelines; a national bill of rights; and a build-up of Canada's foreign trade.

In other action during the week, the Congress called for long federal steps towards social security.

The T.L.C. tramped on an attempt to have it ease up on its own tough internal policy on Communists but drew the line at asking for the outlawing of the Communist party in this country.

The anti-Red T.L.C. took the stand that asking the federal government to outlaw Communist parties—or any other subversive parties—might open the way to suppressions that could threaten freedom of expression.

A proposal that local unions be given more freedom in blacklisting employers they considered unfair to labor was rejected.

RETAIN STRIKE WEAPON

Finally, President Bengough said Canadian labor will not give up its right to strike—a statement given no specific action but apparently given tacit assent by the convention.

Bengough was commenting on a suggestion by Labor Minister Gregg in a speech to the Congress that labor should go easy on strikes while democracies are in the arms production race.

The veteran Bengough said labor has certain rights and will continue to use them.

Queen Mother Buys Haunted Scottish Castle

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth has bought a remote Scottish castle—built in 1606 and reputed to be haunted—for use as a summer home. The price was not disclosed.

The picturesque, 40-room 400-year-old Barrogill Castle stands on the windswept coast of Caithness only seven miles from John O'Groats, the north-easterly tip of the United Kingdom.

It is 750 miles from London, 13 miles from the nearest railway station, Thurso, and has no telephone, no electricity or central heating. The Queen Mother's only neighbors will be a few tenant farmers.

ROOF BLEW OFF

Roaring northerly winds sweep the area. Part of the castle's roof blew away last January.

The estate once was owned by the Earldom of Caithness. It was sold to the Queen by Capt. P.B. Imbert-Terry, who has lived there for the last two decades.

Rooms of Barrogill are lighted by oil lamps and the only heating is from ornate peat-burning grates.

Some past tenants claim to have spotted the ghost of a woman walking the halls by night. Local tradition has it that she was starved to death in the stone dungeons beneath the castle about two centuries ago. Her identity has not survived the passing years.

Will Pull Out Fast—Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry S. Truman's post-presidential plans are to leave Washington immediately after the inauguration of his successor, establish a library on a farm site near his boyhood home at Grandview, Mo., "take a good rest, and then help educate the youth of this country on the history and principles of their government."

Truman's program, in direct quotations approved by the White House before publication, is outlined in the current issue of a magazine.

Truman, the magazine says, has told a friend:

"When I ride to the Capitol with my successor, whoever he is, next January 20 and see him sworn in and congratulate him, I'm coming straight back to the White House, close my suitcase—I'll already have it packed—and the next stop is Grandview, Missouri."

He added: "I don't want and I don't intend to hang around Washington trying to tell the next man how he ought to run his job. If he wants me, I am always ready to serve my government and the people. . ."

New Gratuity Lure For Korean Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—Cabinet has approved a new financial lure to try to keep Korean veterans in the army.

From now on a Korean veteran will be able to draw a discharge gratuity whether he stays in the army or leaves it. Hitherto the gratuity went immediately only to those who took their discharge and those who remained in uniform would only get it sometime in future years.

Several thousand special force men still are making up their minds whether to quit the army.

The gratuity runs to about $280 for a corporal with one year's service in Korea. It consists of 50 cents a day for each day plus two weeks pay and allowances for each six months overseas.

Say Burglar Used Cadillac As Disguise

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—An ex-convict who allegedly disguised himself with a Cadillac limousine was held today as a burglar of wealthy New York area homes. He was arrested Sunday.

Police identified him as Robert Russell, 45, who has served three terms for burglary. He was known as "The Cat" two decades ago when he is reported to have stolen more than $300,000 worth of jewelry from New York homes and apartments, police said.

Authorities say Russell's haul in the last year may amount to $1,000,000.

Say 3 Dead 4 Missing In Disaster

British Aircraft On Way To Khartoum, Passengers Britons

TRAPANI, Sicily (AP) — A crippled four-engine British airliner plunged into the Mediterranean early today off this West Sicilian port but fishing boats saved 50 of the 57 persons reported aboard and recovered three bodies in a dramatic night-time rescue.

In London, the plane's operators said the plane carried 51 passengers, including four babies, and a crew of six. All were Britons.

British planes from Malta, Italian aircraft from nearby airfields and Italian naval craft from Trapani scanned the disaster scene about three miles offshore this morning for the missing persons—identified by Trapani port commandant Arnaldo Taddei as one of the plane's two hostesses and three passengers.

Taddei said all of the dead and missing were passengers except for the missing hostess.

BOUND FOR SUDAN

The airliner, a Hermes operated by the British charter firm of Air Work, Ltd., was under charter to the Sudanese government and was bound for Khartoum, capital of the Englo-Egyptian Sudan. Officials of the charter firm said all the passengers were British civil servants, employed by the Sudanese government, and their wives and children, en route to the Sudan after home leave in Britain.

The 50 survivors were treated at Trapani's San Antonio hospital for shock and exposure.

GAVE ALARM

A radio-equipped fishing boat gave the alarm when the plane crashed at 2:20 a.m. At least three other fishing boats and one small sailing craft joined in the rescue.

One boat, the Nuovo Pinuccio, brought in 46 survivors and one body.

The airliner had left Blackbushe airport, in Surrey county near London, at 8:15 p.m. Sunday.

Former Speaker James Clark Dies

WINDSOR— (CP)— James H. Clark, who rose from the ranks to a majority in the First World War and who became Speaker of the Ontario Legislature and one of Canada's best-known criminal lawyers, died yesterday after a long illness. He was 69.

During his long career at the Ontario bar, Maj. Clark successfully defended more than 20 persons accused of murder. Not one client was ever found guilty on that charge.

Maj. Clark entered Ontario politics with his election in 1934 as Liberal member for Windsor-Sandwich. He retained his seat in the 1937 election and was named Speaker in 1939. He retained that office until his defeat in the 1943 election by the late George Bennett, a former mayor of Windsor.

He was born in Ingersoll and received his early education in schools there.

English Channel Beats Swimming Doctor

DOVER, England (Reuters)—The deceptive English Channel beat Dr. George Basil Brewster for the 15th time today but the 61-year-old swimming physician wants to try again.

The London doctor set out from Cap Gris Nez, France, this morning and swam through choppy seas for 4½ hours before being hauled into an accompanying boat.

He said he might make his 16th effort to cross the channel later this week, starting from the English coast.

"I shall keep on trying until I succeed," he said.

Narrowly Misses Houses

Plane Crashes Into Yard Killing Pilot And Friend

TORONTO (CP)—Two Toronto men were killed Saturday when their small biplane crashed into the backyard of a house in the crowded west-central section of the city.

The nose of the Tiger Moth plowed into the ground only a few feet away from the back room of the house where Mrs. Steve Babik and her three daughters were eating lunch.

The two men, Charles McKay, 38, the pilot, and John Pretner, 30, died seconds after the plane burst into flames, which, for a time, threatened to spread to nearby homes.

No one on the ground was injured and only two houses were damaged—heat and smoke from the burning plane blistered and blacked some paint.

Witnesses said the plane first appeared in trouble at about 500 feet. It spun four times, then seemed to straighten out before it swooped into the little back yard, about a mile from the Canadian National Exhibition grounds.

After the initial shock—"it seemed as if the roof had come off." Ola Babik, 18, said later—there was a moment of silence. Then the plane burst into flames.

McKay, learning that Pretner, a former pilot in the Yugoslav Air Force, wanted to fly again, offered to take him up. McKay was a navigator with the R.C.A.F. during the war. Pretner's widow said it was the former pilot's first flight since the war.

AIR CADET STEWART SMITH, of No. 58 Air Cadet Squadron, Kingston, receives the Garner Trophy from its donor, H. L. Garner, of Peterborough, President of the Air Cadet League of Canada, during the graduation ceremony held at R.C.A.F. Station, Trenton, on completion of a seven week technical training course. Cadet Smith received the highest marks obtained by any of the 48 cadets who were chosen from the 148 Air Cadet Squadrons across the Dominion.

US In Great Peril, Ike Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that because of the Soviet master-plan of conquest "this nation today stands in greater peril than at any time in our history." He called for a clear, strong warning to the Russians from the United States government. "We must tell the Soviets with cold finality that never shall we rest content until the tidal mud of aggressive Communism has receded within its own borders," he said. Eisenhower's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery to the American Legion national convention at Madison Square Garden.

The general, a Legionnaire, flew to New York from Denver, Colo.; last night, and the New York speech was designed to step up his campaign as the Republican candidate for the U.S. Presidency.

The speech was billed as non-political, but it contained several passages that appeared to refer, directly, to some of the charges the Republicans are making against the Truman administration.

NO WAR YET

While he emphasized the danger to the United States posted by the Soviet menace, Eisenhower said he does not believe the Russians are ready, now, to kick off a Third World War.

"We still have time," he said, and he outlined a program designed to present counter-measures to the Soviet movement. They entailed:

1. Creating a security force "with such offensive impact that the massive potential of their blows will haunt the Kremlin with nightmares of punishment to be visited on Russia should it violate the peace."
2. "Greater co-operative unity with every nation in the free world that is prepared to stand with us, work with us, build with us, for the security of all of us."

KINER THREATENED

PITTSBURGH (AP) —A threat on the life of Ralph Kiner, home-run hitter with Pittsburgh Pirates, was renewed during the Pirates-Boston Braves doubleheader yesterday, police revealed today. Officers said a man called the Pirate front office about 3 p.m. and said: "I am going to shoot Kiner at 6 o'clock."

Russia Suggests Big Four Meet On German Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia and the western powers appeared as badly split as ever today on how to go about making a German peace treaty. A Russian note proposing a big-four meeting on the problem by October seemed certain to be rejected by Britain, the United States and France because of the conditions which Russia specified. The Soviet note, handed to the western power ambassadors in Moscow Saturday, specified that the session should first discuss the peace treaty and the formation of an all-German government and only after that should it take up a western proposal for creation of a commission to investigate political conditions throughout Germany prior to holding "free elections."

NOT ACCEPTABLE

Officials here and western diplomats in Moscow indicated that the Russian terms are unacceptable. The reason is that the westerners think the Russians are putting the cart before the horse and doing it deliberately for propaganda purposes.

The Russian strategy in the long exchange of notes on German unity and peace which has taken place over many months is believed to be aimed at disrupting western plans to associate Germany with the North Atlantic Treaty defences.

Angry Suitor Brands Girl

TORONTO (CP)—A red hot iron was pressed against a pretty girl's cheek in a sequel to a broken love affair, police said today.

They arrested William David Bell, 27, on a charge of wounding with intent to maim, disfigure or mar.

Rene Des Laurel, 32, an attractive redhead, said she broke off her engagement with Bell some time ago and returned his ring after he beat her up. They had previously planned to be married next month. Saturday night he went to her home and tried to renew the relationship.

Police say that when the girl refused to go out with him again, he picked up an iron and hit her on the head, knocking her to the floor. Then, police charge, he pushed the hot iron into her face.

Doctors say the girl's burns will heal.

2 Canadian Nuns In Bad Condition

HONG KONG (CP)—Three Australian fliers, released by Chinese Communists this month after 20 months in a Canton jail, said today two Canadian nuns jailed by the Reds appeared to be in serious condition.

The fliers said the nuns were sisters Saint Alphone Du Redempteur (Antoinette Couvrette), Ste. Dorothee, Laval County, Que., and sister Ste. Marie Germaine (Germaine Gravel) Ste. Pasteur, Champlain County, Que. They were sentenced last Dec. 2 to five years imprisonment on a Communist charge that they "murdered" 2,116 orphans.

The nuns were attached to the Immaculate Conception orphanage in Canton. Many of the homeless children brought there were in dying condition but the Reds seized on the situation as part of their anti-Catholic campaign and tried the sisters at a mob trial.

The airmen said the Canadians seemed to be suffering from malnutrition.

The airmen fell into Communist hands when their Catalina flying boat accidentally landed in Red waters in December, 1950.

Villagers Keep Secret Sent To Prison Camp

PERMATANG TINGGI, Malaya (AP)—Seventy-nine villagers of Permatang Tinggi, who refused to inform on a Communist killer gang in the area, were moved out to detention camps today by British military and police forces.

(Reuters News Agency said in a dispatch from Singapore that the Malayan government today ordered destruction of the village.)

Last Thursday, High Commissioner Gen. Sir Gerald Templer gave the Chinese villagers four days to volunteer information on Reds responsible for two murders, armed robberies and the burning of trucks in the vicinity.

5-Year Plan Hint

Reds Running Far Behind In Industrial Production

LONDON (AP)—Russia still is running far behind the west in industrial production, a study of the newly-announced Soviet five-year plan indicates.

Many Western European observers believe optimistically that Russia is fully aware of the west's industrial supremacy and for this reason will be content to wage a cold war instead of a hot one.

Britain's Weekly Economist said that judging by Russia's new five-year plan, announced by Moscow last Wednesday, "it looks as if the Russians are planning not for peace or for war but for what the west calls cold war."

The Daily Telegraph suggested: "Since Soviet production, with that of the satellite states, will be considerabely less than that of the 'capitalist' world, it is unlikely that the Soviet government will embark on any adventures which might involve it in a war."

But the Economist warns:

"It must never be forgotten that the Soviet economy can switch resources from civil to military production, from consumer goods to industrial equipment with a speed, ruthlessness and secrecy that no government in the free world could hope to match in peacetime."

Miners Cut Way Through Rock Wall Rescue 3 Scouts

ABERDARE, Wales (AP)—Two Boy Scouts and their injured scoutmaster, trapped in a mountain limestone cave, were dragged alive to safety today by rescuers who hacked their way through a nine-foot wall of boulders. Welsh coal miners worked through the night to free the trio who were entombed 20 hours 150 feet inside the dank, ice-cold cavern known as Bridge Cave. All three were taken to hospital. A police officer said they appeared in "reasonably good condition."

Only Scoutmaster Jim Case, 40, was believed in serious condition. His legs were crushed when four tons of rock gave way to cut off the tail end of a nine-man scouting party exploring the cave yesterday.

BARELY ESCAPED

Six other scouts barely escaped when the cave gave way as they were crawling out chain-style.

Crawling on their stomachs, rescuers chopped away with sledge hammers and pickaxes at the wall of rock sealing the exit.

The cave, 1,500 feet up a mountain, was filled with water holes which slowed efforts to get to the trapped trio.

The two youths—Max Phillips, 21, and Michael Briscombe, 17—had managed to extricate their scoutmaster, who was first reported pinned by a boulder.

A 20-foot-deep river running through the cave forced the scouts to move around cautiously in a cramped passage only two feet high and two feet wide. They boosted the scoutmaster on a ledge when fears arose that the river might rise.

OPENING PROVIDES AIR

The rescuers were in contact with the scouts most of the time, and a tiny crevice gave them an opening to supply aid. Morphine was pushed through the hole for the injured man. Later hot tea and blankets were passed through.

Dr. A. J. Hudson, 34, a cave explorer himself, shouted first aid instructions for the two scouts to apply to their scoutmaster.

The two scouts were rescued first. Then the injured scoutmaster was brought out.

The rescue parties had to inch themselves along a narrow two-foot-high passage bordering a deep pool to reach the fallen rock. By the light of miners' lamps they shored up the tottering roof of the cave with steel pit props.

David Jones, 16, the last scout to get out safely before the cave-in, told reporters:

"I was flat on my stomach crawling along. Then there was a rumbling noise. Stones hit my head and and back and weighted me down. The force of the fall came behind me, trapping the last three in line."

Allied Bombers Hit Storage Depots

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Allied bombers delivered a one-two blow at Communist supplies last night. Flying through stormy weather they hit a 40-acre supply area in Northwest Korea and pounded behind-the-front storage depots:

A rainstorm over Korea bogged down troops on the 155-mile ground front.

A dozen Japan-based Superforts flew through moderate to intense flak in their first raid of the war on the 40-acre supply area at Anju, 100 miles north of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

Saturday night, the Air Force reported, Superforts raided the Supung rail yard near the Manchurian border. It said one of three Red fighters that challenged the bombers was shot down.

Hear Reds Build Air Force In E. Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Informed sources said today the Russians have established the framework for a full air army in East Germany. United States airmen said they have information that the nucleus, including 700 jet fighters, has been so organized that it could be expanded quickly into a tough fighting force.

The unit, which operates from the Oder to the Elbe Rivers from 18 first-class airports, is listed by the Russians as the 24th Air Army. It includes transports but as yet has not been assigned heavy bombers.

The informants said the Russians now have here between 400 and 500 Mig-15s of the type operating in Korea. Upwards of 200 twin jets also fly daily over the Soviet zone, along with more than 1,000 more conventional-type fighters such as Yaks and PO-2s.

The 18 operational air fields are strategically placed to cover every strip of territory facing the west along the Baltic seacoast.

American officers said they regarded the creation of an air army by the Russians as good tactics rather than an imminent buildup for war.

Hamilton Firm Gets Contract

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence production department today announced the award of a $2,054,000 contract to a Hamilton, Ont., firm for the construction of new steel hangars for the R.C.A.F. at Camp Borden, Ont.

The contract, awarded to W.H. Yates Construction Co. Ltd., was the biggest of some $12,700,000 worth of defence construction orders placed during the four-week period ended Aug. 15.

The department also announced award of some $8,800,000 worth of equipment orders, biggest of which was a $1,500,000 contract to Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd., Downsville, Ont., for repair and overhaul of aircraft engines. Equipment and service orders covreed the two-week period, Aug. 1-15.

Other large orders included: W. C. Brennan Contracting Co., Hamilton, $531,000 for an underground steam distribution system.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Toronto, $589,000, tires, aircraft wheel and brake assemblies.

International Harvester Co., Ottawa, $537,000 for trucks.

Police Catch Driver After 90 M.P.H. Chase

PORT CREDIT (CP) — John Buehlow of Walkkerton was taken into custody Saturday night after an 85-to-90 mile-an-hour chase along No. 55 highway for 20 miles.

Provincial Police found a .22-calibre rifle in the back seat of Buehlow's car. Five police cruisers took part in the chase.

The chase ended less than 15 minutes after it had begun when a cruiser forced the auto off the highway.

Port Credit is 15 miles west of Toronto.

Report Large Ship Burning Off Island

HALIFAX (CP)—Search and rescue authorities today reported they had received a radio message from R.C.M.P. in Newfoundland that a large ship was burning about 50 miles northeast of Cape Bonavista on the island's east coast. The message did not identify the ship but said a U.S. Coast Guard aircraft flew over the still-burning hulk at 5 a.m. and saw "no sign of survivors and no boats."

Further details were not immediately available here.

Bullets Sweep Farm Fields Near Trenton

TRENTON—(CP)—A spray of machine-gun bullets ripped into farm fields north of here Friday and sent panic-stricken women diving for cover.

The 10-second burst originated in an R.C.A.F. airfield a mile to the south of the farms, Air Force officials said today. They said a .50-calibre Browning machine-gun mounted on a Mustang aircraft fired accidentally as it was being cocked before the plane left the ground.

Mrs. W. S. Sandercock, who lives close to the airfield, said her husband often worked in the field where the bullets struck. She said he had been on night work Thursday evening and was sleeping when she heard the shots.

CRAWLS UNDER TABLE

Mrs. Sandercock said that when she heard the rattle of the machine gun she grabbed her two small children, Barbara and Betty, and pushed them under a table. She crawled under after them.

Mrs. James Sandercock, whose house was only 100 yards from where the bullets kicked up the dust on her farm, described it this way:

"I was baking a cake when I heard it. I was terrified as I listened to that whine of bullets. I figured another war had started. It's not pleasant living around here — you never know what's going to happen next."

Air Force officials said the gun-fire almost hit two huts where rocket bombs are stored. They said LAC. W. T. Blair, the armorer who was cocking the gun, was able to stop it from firing only by jamming a screwdriver into the mechanism.

UP SHE GOES!—Canada's long range all-weather interceptor jet fighter, the CF-100 Canuck, is shown during a jet assisted takeoff (JATO) at R.C.A.F. Station, Uplands, where it is being tested by the R.C.A.F. Designed to enable heavy aircraft to take off on small landing strips, the six JATO bottles under the Canuck's fuselage give its two Orenda jet engines an added thrust of 1,000 pounds each. In the test shown above, the CF-100 took off with a full load of fuel and armament plus two one-thousand pound bombs, visible under the wings, in less than half the normal take-off run. The CF-100 is designed and built in Canada by A. V. Roe (Canada) Ltd., of Toronto.

Reds Demand Trio Recalled

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet pressure may force the U.S. Army to recall three members of the American mission at Potsdam who were seized Aug. 15 in the Communist east zone of Germany and held for 36 hours.

An informed source said that "in all probability we will have to accept Gen. Chuikov's demands that they be recalled."

"If we don't," he said, "they can take away the interzonal passes, and then where would we be?"

Members of the mission are issued special Soviet passes that permit them to travel through the east zone to Potsdam, 18 miles southwest of here.

General of the Army Vassily Chuikov demanded the recall of the three men—two officers and an enlisted man in a letter to the U.S. Army in Europe in Heidelberg.

An army spokesman at Heidelberg emphasized that no final decision on whether to recall the men had been taken as yet.

Chuikov charged that the Americans were trespassing on Soviet military property.

Prices Continue Firm In Afternoon Trading

TORONTO (CP)—Prices continued firm today in early afternoon stock market trading although industrials and western oils slipped from early strong positions.

Golds and base metals held early gains but industrials slipped below Friday's closing prices. Western Oils slipped in late trading.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,333,000 shares.

Steels were firm in the industrial list and papers also gained. Other issues were generally mixed or weak.

Leading base metal issues were mixed but a number of minor issues drew support. Camp Chibougami, Eureka and Opemiska gained while International Nickel and United Asbestos dipped.

In the western oils section, Federal Petroleum and Canadian Williston dipped but most other price changes were small. Devon Leduc, Security Free, Gridoil and Canadian Devonian gained.

Falls Off Tractor Immigrant Killed

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Case Vanolder, 19-year-old Dutch immigrant was found dead today beneath his still-running tractor on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vanolder, near Shedden, 10 miles west of here.

He was killed when he fell from the machine while plowing and was dragged 125 feet to a point where it bogged down in a ditch.

Trapped 9 Days 4 Explorers Unhurt

MUOTATHAL, Switzerland (AP) — Four weary underground explorers dumbfounded their rain-stymied would-be rescuers last night by walking unheralded and unharmed out of the sub-Alpine "Hell's Hole" caverns where high water had trapped them for 9½ days. They were the third group caught in European caves this month.

Four men were rescued from 1,153 feet down in the Pierre St. Martin abyss of the Pyrennes Mountains, near the French-Spanish border, a week ago after a fifth man in their party fell 120 feet to his death.

NO EXCITEMENT

The explorers here, Prof. Alfred Boegli, two 20-year-olds and a youth 18, calmly ate supper after their return last night, then left for their homes. Their plight had swamped this tiny mountain hamlet with visitors and resulted in one of Switzerland's most extensive rescue operations.

New rains yesterday brought threats of more water rises and temporarily halted the rescue efforts. Thus no one was on hand when the quartette walked from the cave and down the slope of Silberen Mountain to startle a crowd gathered in a cafe under rescue headquarters.

TOOK EVERY PRECAUTION

The explorers were held prisoner near here since Aug. 15 by water that rose suddenly in Hell's Hole, Europe's largest system of chartered underground caverns. Though they entered the caves for only a 24-hour exploration, they quickly realized their dangerous position and took every measure to conquer it themselves.

The party's leader, Dr. Boegli, divided their emergency rations into 21 daily portions of 400 calories for each man. When they started out yesterday, they left behind in the cavern enough food to last them two more weeks on that basis.

During their imprisonment, they carried on as though they were conducting normal cave explorations. They measured the rising and falling of the waters, checked water drippings and measured various caverns in the interior.

TAKE TURNS SLEEPING

The temperature stayed at about 42 degrees fahrenheit at all times. Every six hours three of the party gave their outer clothing to the fourth so he could sleep in comparative warmth. The other three went about their self-imposed tasks, moving vigorously to keep warm.

All were stiff and sore from exertion when they emerged and their hands were raw from continued climbing, but a medical examination was not considered necessary.

Hold Kingston Youth On Theft Charges

SUDBURY (CP) — A Kingston youth, Terry O'Shea, 19, is facing theft charges here after being spotted and held for police in North Bay by the man from whom he allegedly stole $80 in Sudbury.

Victim of the theft, Andry Ross of the Ottawa district, said he had given O'Shea a lift from near Petawawa to Sudbury and suggested that O'Shea accompany him west to work as a harvester. They slept a night in the car in Sudbury and the next morning O'Shea allegedly took the cash and hopped a taxi to North Bay.

Ross, returning home to get more money, spotted O'Shea on a North Bay street, grabbed him and held on until police arrived.

Four Small Children Lost In House Fire

ATLANTA (AP)—Four small children were burned to death in their home early today while their father was at work and their mother, police said, was "out on a drinking spree."

Police said the mother returned home drunk with two other women and a man after the fire was brought under control.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP)—Wholesale fruit and vegetable price changes here today were: Lettuce, three dozen, 85 cents-$1; tomatoes, six-quarts, 40-50 cantaloupe, 20-quarts, 75 cents $1; watermelon, $2-$2.50.

Potatoe prices were: Ontario, off truck, $3.35-$3.50; to trade, $3.75-$4. New Brunswick, off truck, $4; to trade, $4.25-$4.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains were a little lower in fairly active dealings at the opening today. Oats moved higher against the general trend.

Good crop prospects brought selling into both corn and soybeans.

Wheat started unchanged to ½ cent lower, September $2.30¾; corn was ½-⅝ lower, September $1.78 ½-¼, and oats were unchanged to ⅝ higher, December 87-87½. Soybeans were unchanged to ¾ cent lower, September $3.20-3.19¾.

MONTREAL LIVESTOCK

MONTREAL (CP)—Steady prices ruled the Montreal livestock markets today.

Receipts were 840 cattle, 650 calves, 772 sheep and lambs and 805 hogs.

Sellers offered about 200 cattle less than last Monday at the opening today. This morning's receipts included over 500 steers coming from the western provinces and Eastern Ontario. Early trading was not sufficient to establish a market.

Veal calves moved well at firm prices with good quality at 25-26.50, tops 27, common and medium 18-24.

No lambs had been sold up to 10.30 a. m. Sheep ranged from 7-13.

Early sales of hogs were made at 26 for grade A. Sows brought 15-16.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Increased hedging kept all grain prices lower in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Barley received some support from exporters, while oats was taken by American shippers in a small way. Processors picked up flax. American buying also appeared in rye.

However, demand was not aggressive.

11 a. m. grain prices:

Oats: Oct. ¼ lower 83¾; Dec. ⅛ lower 81¼a; May ⅛ lower 82 ¾a.

Barley: Oct. ½ lower 1.27⅝b; Dec. ⅝ lower 1.21½b May ⅝-⅝ lower 1.21b.

Rye: Oct. 1⅞ lower 1.78¾; Dec. 1⅝-1⅞ lower 1.79⅛b; May 1¾ lower 1.82⅜b.

Flax: Oct. 3 lower 3.91b; Dec. 1¾ lower 3.81¼a; May not open.

Lambs were steady at $28 for good ewes and wethers and $27 for bucks. Common to medium sheep brought $8-14.

Two Arrested Leaving Building

COBOURG — (ENS). — Police late Saturday night arrested two Toronto men as they spotted them coming out of a window of Card's service station.

The men gave their names as James Crompton, age 22, of 1538 Dupont Street, and John L. Sullivan, 22, of 27 McGill Street, Toronto.

Police said that a small sum of money had been taken from the unlocked safe in the office and overlooked was a much larger amount of cash which had been secreted in the office. The service station proprietor had left the safe door shut but unlocked.

Ever since a safe robbery three weeks ago at the theatre here and the attempted robbery at the brewery warehouse two weeks ago, police have checked several times during the night any place likely to be chosen by safe-crackers.

It was on a repeat check of the service station Saturday night that Constables Gener Butler and Tom Shaw noticed a strange truck parked among the cars on the car lot and were on their way into the service station when they caught two men on their way out.

The pair were remanded in custody on shopbreaking charges.

Victoria Hospital Has Best Report

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Victoria Hospital's 1951 annual report — an attractive, blue-covered booklet — has been awarded first prize in the annual report competition sponsored by the American Hospital Association.

The prize is awarded in the class open to hospitals with more than 400 beds. Victoria won out over hundreds of entries from Canada and the United States.

Victoria hospital will receive a bronze plaque.

Russia Suggests

Measures for German rearmament and the formation of German troop units as part of a European army are well advanced.

The position of the western powers on the peacemaking question was set forth most recently in a note to Moscow July 10. The Soviet note Saturday was a reply to that. London, Paris and Washington are expected to start consultations on their next note in a week or so.

FIRST STEP

Essentially the western powers have taken the line that if the Soviet Union sincerely wants to unite East and West Germany under a single German government it must join with the west in holding free elections throughout the country. But preliminary to that the Kremlin should be willing, the west has argued, to join in setting up some kind of impartial commission to determine whether and how free elections can be held.

One of the principal western arguments against the Soviet's sequence of subjects is that it would put the four powers in the position of dictating a peace treaty for Germany instead of negotiating one, since discussion of the treaty would precede the creation of a German government capable of negotiating for the whole country.

GIVES YOUNGSTERS ADVICE—Paying their respects to Civil War veteran William Magee, left, on his 106th birthday at Van Nuys, Calif., 74-year-old Guy Grimes, centre, and 80-year-old William Harbottle present Magee with a birthday cake. Magee told the "youngsters," who are both Spanish-American War vets, that he owes his long life to not having a drink in 50 years. Before that, he said, he drank only straight corn whiskey.

Obituary

EDWARD M. HAWLEY

MARMORA (ENS). — Edward Marshall Hawley died at his residence west of Crowe River on Saturday morning after a long illness. He had been a resident of the village for about eight years, coming here from Bancroft in which district most of his life had been spent.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Castle Hawley and was born in Sheffield, Ontario. He was unmarried and spent many years in lumber camps in the Bancroft area, being considered an expert in cutting trails.

He is survived by one sister and three brothers: Mrs. Damon King, Madoc; Daniel, Marmora; William Toronto and James of Marmora township.

The funeral is being held on Monday afternoon with service at the home of Daniel Hawley at 2 p.m. conducted by the Rev. Kenneth J. Crawford. Burial takes place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

Opposition Leader Said Fomenting Revolt

HAVANA (AP)—Emilio Ochoa, president of the Orthodox Party that opposes the regime of President Fulgencio Batista, was arrested last night on charges of inciting rebellion by television.

Military intelligence agents said Ochoa proposed in a televised speech last night that 500,000 members of the Orthodox Party Youth Movement march on the Columbia military camp here "to see if the soldiers would fire on them."

Canada Wants U.K. Domestic Policy Studied

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada wants the forthcoming Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference to include a detailed study of domestic policies of sterling-area countries, well-informed officials said yesterday.

A suggestion to that effect was made to the United Kingdom after Canadian officials noted with some surprise that the draft agenda for the November economic conference drawn up by the U.K. did not specifically include the domestic field.

WRONG SLANT?

The secret draft agenda was circulated by Britain to Canada and other Commonwealth countries for comment. Informants said the "apparent interpretation" of the agenda by some Commonwealth partners is that the Prime Ministers will concentrate on "external" rather than the "internal" forces affecting the dollar shortage in Britain and other sterling-area countries.

While Canadian officials are ready to concede that Britain's financial crisis, for example, may have evolved in part from trade policies in the dollar area, they feel that part of the cause of the dollar shortage in Britain and other sterling-area countries may also be rooted in domestic social programs costing more money than these countries can afford.

Patterson Dies In Mich. Prison

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—The death in prison of Heywood Patterson, 39, one of the southern United States' famed "Scottsboro boys," was announced today by Southern Michigan prison authorities.

Patterson died Friday night of cancer, authorities said. He was serving a six-to-15-year term for manslaughter.

The Georgia-born negro, whose book "Scottsboro Boy" gained him a new measure of fame in 1949, has been in Michigan since he fled prison in Alabama in 1948.

There he was serving a 75-year sentence growing out of the "Scottsboro" case of 1931, in which nine negroes were convicted of raping two white women in a freight car.

After a bitter and internationally-publicized trial in Montgomery, Ala., all nine originally were sentenced to death in the electric chair. The sentences never were carried out.

Arrest Two Youths For Attempted Holdup

TORONTO (CP)—Police with drawn guns today arrested William Mcnevin, 19, and Milton Simcoe, 20, on an attempted robbery charge a few minutes after Bill Stewart, manager of a bread company sales office, talked two masked men out of robbing the office.

Stewart said he was alone in the company office when two gunmen entered and ordered him to open the safe. He convinced them the weekend receipts had been taken to the company's head office.

The men fled. Stewart pursued them and flagged down a police cruiser. Police made the arrests.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3⅛ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Unchanged from Friday's noon rate. The pound sterling was $2.67 11-16, against $2.67⅝ Friday.

BANKING OFFERS CAREER-SEEKERS A SOUND FUTURE

Today, ambitious young men are finding that banking as a life work, offers greater scope than ever before.

In recent years, leading banks like the Bank of Montreal have almost revolutionized the working conditions of their staff members. An increased use of mechanical aids has banished much of the dull, routine work.

Opportunity for promotion comes to promising young men far more often than it did to their forefathers. Finally, banking salaries now compare favourably with those in most other occupations. An even more favourable comparison can be made for the bank's pension plan.

That banking can be a satisfying vocation is emphasized by Ford Warren, manager of the Peterborough B of M. "Good bankers," Mr. Warren points out, "get plenty of opportunity to be of real service to the community in which they live."

If you are interested in banking as a career, drop in for a chat with Mr. Warren tomorrow. He will be glad to outline the B of M picture for you and answer any specific questions you may have.—Advt.

Invite Oil Companies To Tell Their Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five big United States oil companies today were invited to balance the official record with their replies to government charges that they joined in a virtual monopoly of the western world's oil trade.

Most of them already have entered unofficial denials.

The invitation for formal answers came from Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic nominee for vice-president, in his role as chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee. He said he would give the companies a chance to reply at public hearings Wednesday and Thursday.

It resulted from release of edited portions of a critical and controversial report on an international oil cartel, kept secret for more than a year after its completion by the Federal Trade Commission.

REAPED BIG PROFITS

The report charged that the five U.S. oil companies joined two huge foreign corporations in an arrangement designed to reap rich profits for themselves and collaborators from major oil production centres and markets of the non-Communist world.

President Truman, acting upon advice of top administration leaders, withheld the report from the public for more than a year.

It is generally supposed this was in an effort to let British oil interests and the Iranian government try to settle their long and continuing dispute over the rich Iranian oil fields.

Apparently material dealing with this phase was deleted from the document and other matter was edited and toned down before it was handed to news agencies during the weekend.

Listed as principals in the global oil cartel are these U.S. firms: Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, Socony-Vacuum and Gulf Oil.

The foreign corporations named are Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, a British company, and Royal-Dutch Shell, owned by British and Dutch interests.

The report said production in the oil-rich Middle East, Venezuela and other major petroleum reserves was carefully controlled to fit world market demands and thus stabilize prices without price-cutting competition.

Its release came after two government court actions against the cartel.

One sought recovery of $67,000,000 or more from four of the U. S. firms on the basis of prices they charged for oil for the foreign-aid programs. The other involved an anti-trust investigation of all seven.

Pakistan Survey Advances Resources By 20 Years

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A broad picture of the natural resources of Pakistan will unfold in Toronto during the next four years.

This will be the result of a contract under the Colombo Plan, the co-operative effort among Commonwealth countries to raise the standards of living of the peoples of southeast Asia.

The contract is for $2,000,000, but more important than the money figure is the sort of work which will be done.

Photographic Survey Corporation, Ltd. will make surveys covering about one-half of Pakistan—42,000 square miles of mapping for land-improvement projects, and 123,000 square miles of geological mapping.

BIG JOB AHEAD

The project is described by the corporation as "probably the greatest natural-resources inventory ever undertaken."

The job is being paid for out of Canada's Colombo Plan contributions.

S. M. Koreshi, of the High Commissioner's office commented:

"Asia is at the crossroads between democracy and Communism and democracy must be made a living concept.

"We have to raise our standards of living. In times to come we will not forget the countries which have helped us."

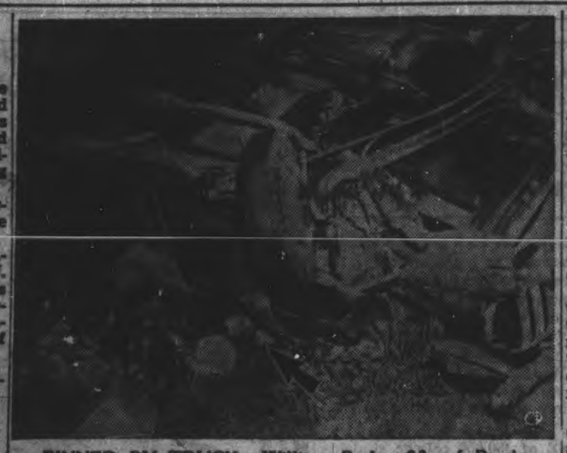
All mapping, mosaicing and geological interpretation of photography in the survey will be carried out in Toronto, starting next January.

SAVE 20 YEARS

Nik Cavell, administrator of Canada's Colombo Plan contributions, states that aerial survey may save 20 or 30 years over ordinary surface methods of hunting for minerals and oil.

John M. Henderson, a native of Brighton, England, who came to Montreal as a child in 1919 and who served with the R.C.A.F. as a fighter and photographic reconnaissance pilot, will be project manager.

A. C. Hubbert, native of Dagshai in Nepal, where his father served with the British army, will be assistant to the project manager. He came to Canada in 1929 and served in the R.C.A.F. as a camera operator with a photographic squadron.



T. E. Bach will be senior survey pilot. He was born in Buenos Aires of British parents and came to Canada in 1941 to join the R.C.A.F.

H. S. Scott, native of Copper Cliff, Ont., graduate of University of Toronto, and a lecturer in geology at McMaster University, Hamilton, will be manager of the geology division.

25 IN PARTY

The entire party will include about 15 aircrew members, and 10 geologists.

In 1951 Canada authorized $10,000,000 to be spent in Pakistan under the Colombo Plan. In addition to the $2,000,000 for the aerial survey, $5,000,000 has been allocated for a cement mill in the Thal area of the Punjab; and $3,000,000 for railroad ties and for agricultural machinery for an experimental farm in the Thal area, which Canada is assisting in co-operation with Australia and New Zealand.

PINNED BY TRUCK—William Parks, 33, of Bordenwood, Ont., lies shaken but otherwise unhurt, after his truck had skidded into the ditch on the Belleville-Picton road, following a collision with an automobile driven by Fred Hoven, of Bloomfield. Parks' sister, Mrs. William Hughes, suffered a gashed leg and her husband cuts and bruises when they also were pinned beneath the truck. The car driver was unhurt.

Shinwell Urges Draft Be Cut

LIVERPOOL (AP) — Former Socialist Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell said Saturday that Britain's two year army draft should be cut to one year.

"Twelve months national service is long enough for military training," he told a news conference.

Shinwell said the Labor Government established the two-year hitch because it believed that it was a necessary but temporary measure. He indicated that he no longer believed world conditions require prolonged military training for British civilians.

Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative Government has sided with the U.S., however, in the belief the threat of Communist aggression is still dangerous enough to require two-year service.

Reporters Given Peek At Palace

CAIRO (Reuters)—Egypt's new regime yesterday lifted a corner of the curtain which shrouded the private life of ex-King Farouk to reveal a bizarre glimpse of the royal household, rivalling the mystery and treasures of the Pharoahs.

For more than four hours newspaper men tramped the deserted corridors, drawing rooms, bedrooms and salons of Farouk's winter palace at Kubbeh, on the outskirts of Cairo.

They gazed as the strange collection of wealth and bric-a-brac with which the pudgy playboy monarch had surrounded himself and his court before his exile a month ago.

Vivid and inexplicable contrasts were provided by exquisite and costly works of art stored in underground vaults side by side with garish and badly-executed drawings of a pornographic type.

Accident Kills Five Most of Family Dead

ST. HUGHES, Que. (CP)—A family was all but wiped out when five persons were killed and six injured in a car-truck smash Saturday at a cross-roads near this town some 60 miles southeast of Montreal.

Mrs. Paul Emile Plouffe, a widow from St. Hughes, and three of her children, Francine, 11, Guy, 7, and Real, 5, passengers in the truck, were killed along with Dr. Francois Langelier of St. Simon, Que., driver of the car.

Gabriel Plouffe, 9, survived the crash and was taken to hospital. So were Mrs. Langelier and three of her children and Miss Raymonde Collette, 29, a passenger in the truck.

Floods Threaten Engulf Gandhi Shrine

NEW DELHI (AP)—Flood waters of the Jumna River, which already have inundated 35 suburban villages around New Delhi, threatened today to enguif the Rajghat shrine bearing the ashes of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The embankment shielding the shrine has been damaged.

Recover Stolen Money

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—A wallet containing more than $2,400 stolen from an English Railway passenger 27 years ago has been found intact in the station cloakroom. The wallet was hidden by the thief between a cistern and the wall of the room to be picked up later. It belonged to a "Mr. Newton" 1925.

Charge Two Men In Shopbreaking

COBOURG — The vigilance of two constables who saw a strange truck parked on the use dcar lot at Card's service station led to the arrest of two Toronto men on charges of shopbreaking Saturday night.

The two men were nabbed by Constables E. Butler and T. Shaw as they attempted to escape through a window of the service station. The officers had crossed the street to check the truck when they spotted the pair emerging from the window.

Inspection revealed the safe door had been unlocked and a small sum stolen from one of the drawers. The bulk of the money was hidden elsewhere in the office. Charged were James Crompton, 1536 Dupont St., and John L. Sullivan, 27 McGill St.

Lake Levels Begin To Drop – Report

BUFFALO (AP)—The levels of Lakes Erie and Ontario have started to drop after reaching their season's peaks, according to the United States corps of engineers.

The average level of Lake Ontario for the first half of August was 248.45 feet, compared to 249 feet for the first half of July and 248.75 feet for second half, the engineers said.

The average level of Lake Erie for the same period was 574.2 feet, two-tenths of a foot below the July average, the engineers reported.

Wedding Televised

BOSTON (AP)—Archbishop Richard J. Cushing yesterday officiated at the televised wedding of a Boston couple—the first Roman Catholic marriage to be telecast, the diocesan house said. Before an estimated 500,000 New England televiewers, the archbishop married Miss Rita M. McLaughlin, 22, and John J. Gallagher, 23, and celebrated a nuptial mass at the WBZ-TV studios.

British Cargo Plane Crashes Near Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—A four-engine British cargo plane crashed in the Soviet zone six miles west of Berlin yesterday. The flight engineer was killed but the pilot and navigator escaped unhurt and returned safely to West Berlin.

British officials said the Russians agreed to let the British recover the plane wreckage, probably today.

The plane, a York, had been chartered by the Berlin city government and was carrying export goods to Hamburg.

German Clergyman Claims To Have Found Atlantis

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A German clergyman claimed today he has found the fabled land of Atlantis in the North Sea off Helgoland.

Rev. Juergen Spanuth of Bordelum said a diver from his expedition saw the remains of the legendary kingdom at a depth of 30 feet.

These included walls six to eight feet high and 270 feet long of stones up to six feet in circumference.

The ruins, the pastor said, covered at least 60 acres on the sea floor.

LOOKING FOR YEARS

Spanuth has been looking for years for Atlantis, convinced that writings of the Greek philosopher Plato and inscriptions in ancient Egyptian temples indicated the sunken land was located in the North Sea. Other persons have claimed in the past to have located Atlantis. A German professor said in 1926 he had determined it was the Sahara Desert south of Tunis.

Spanuth said the ruins are five nautical miles from Helgoland in the direction of the German coast at a spot known to sailors as "Stone Ground." He said he would outfit a new expedition soon to return there with special diving equipment and dredges.

Although legends refer to Atlantis as a "lost continent," Spanuth has worked on the theory it was of modest size.

Birth: most dangerous experience of life

Too many newborn infants still die needlessly — or are crippled for life — because of oxygen starvation while being born. (Is free use of pain-killing drugs one cause?)

In September Reader's Digest, J. D. Ratcliff gives facts about the phenomena of birth that every mother should know, tells how the toll of death and damage among the newborn can be reduced — how mother, doctor, and hospital can help.

Newlyweds, Residents Join Defence Talks

NIAGARA FALLS N. Y. — (AP)— Canadians, area residents, tourists and newlyweds turned out Saturday for the first joint civil defence drill between the United States and Canada.

The test was called an outstanding success by a U. S. federal civil defence offical who said it had paved the way for similar mock attacks in other U. S. and Canadian border cities.

A flight of fighter planes from the naval base here sneaked up the Niagara River and dropped a mock atomic bomb at 9 a.m. The "bomb" fell in the heart of the city's industrial area. A 12-mile radius was wrecked.

Raid signals cut through the cool air. Traffic police escorted an ambulance and two fire trucks across the Rainbow Bridge into the United States — the first time such equipment ever crossed the border for a civil defence test.

GETS FIRST TEST.

A newly organized radio-newspaper joint agreement between the two countries got its first test as three radio stations —two here and one across the river —teamed up to broadcast attack bulletins.

Main focus of the event was on welfare and rescue operations. Civil defence workers set up a tent city to care for the 18,000 "injured" persons and the 8,000 left "homeless."

Most operations went off as scheduled. The state director of civil defence Lt.-Gen. Clarence R. Huebner said:

"There were some rough spots but that's what these drills are for— to iron them out."

Hubert H. Gallagher, field director for the U. S. federal civil defence administration, said the drill was an outstanding success."

He said it had paved the way for similar tests in such border areas as Detroit and Windsor and Seattle and Vancouver.

Brig. J. C. Jefferson, assistant civil defence chief for Canada, termed the mock attack "another indication of close co-operation which is an accomplished fact with civil defence workers on both sides of the imaginary line."

The newspaper part of the joint international agreement signed on July 31 was not carried out in detail because of problems it would have imposed on the papers here, Niagara Falls, Ont., North Tonawanda and Lockport.

The drill was not limited to U. S. and Canadian residents in the area. Huebner said that hundreds of tourists and newlyweds were in town to marvel at Niagara Falls.

They took part in what Huebner called the "90 per cent public participation" and will carry home memories of an "atomic attack."

Collide On Patrol

HONG KONG (AP)—Two R.A.F. pilots were believed killed today when their planes on patrol off Hong Kong island, collided and fell into the sea. A freighter reported it picked up one pilot but that he died a few hours later.

Costly Conversation

WITH U.S. 45th DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A $300 phone call—collect—was made recently from Tokyo to Chaseburg, Wis., by Lieut. Grant W. Hume to his wife, Hilda. The lieutenant was on leave in Japan. "Hilda kept saying we should hang up—but we didn't," said Hume.

No Television Fee In Peterborough

One thing that our sampling of Peterborough television reception from the Toronto CBC station should demonstrate is that Peterborough TV set owners will not have to pay a TV licence fee. Admittedly—as reported on the local news page Saturday—our sampling of the Peterborough reception of the CBC experimental broadcasts was thin, but the mediocre signals reportedly received seem to show that this city is on the fringe of the CBC television orbit—and outside its special licence field.

* * *

The CBC is already spending millions on TV, millions got from the public treasury and radio licence fees. It is manifestly unfair that all the people of Canada should pay, through the taxes from which the Government gets all its money and through their radio licence fees, for CBC television. Only a small percentage of the people will be able to have CBC television this year, next year, and for several years to come—even if they have TV sets. The others should not be expected to pay for the privilege of the few in Toronto and Montreal. Thus we agree with the CBC request that TV set owners within the radius of CBC television signals should pay a licence fee, to help defray the cost of Canadian television. The CBC has asked to be authorized to charge a fifteen-dollar fee.

* * *

An unholy row is already developing about this matter—as regards both the principle and the amount of the fee. Toronto and vicinity television viewers are certain to raise an even noisier howl if they have to pay $7.50 now for the privilege of tuning in to Toronto TV for the rest of the year. Here in Peterborough, as we crane and stare from our armchair to see Toronto flicks on our screen, we can be calm and cool about the fee question. Nobody in official Toronto, Ottawa or CBC headquarters could be dastardly enough even to suggest that Peterborough people should pay the fee.

* * *

The rubbing and gnawing will come somewhere between Peterborough and Toronto. Where will the line be drawn, in that area, between those whose reception is good enough to warrant their having to pay a licence, and those whose reception is poor enough not to be stung for a licence? In this question lies much of the difficulty in the licensing problem. Most of the rest of it is, of course, the general matter of having to buy a licence for Canadian TV when American TV is perhaps as clear, perhaps as good, and absolutely free.

Men And Cattle

We were brought up on an idea that has apparently gone out of fashion in these enlightened days; we refer to the dignity of man. A few years ago this idea was generally accepted in all progressive countries: only in a few backward areas was it rejected, and it was considered only a matter of time before the whole world would see the light. This idea is part of our Christian heritage, which has its roots in Judaism and has incorporated much of the Graeco-Roman tradition. These ideas have been sapped from within and without; ironically enough it was the nineteenth century with its belief in progress that witnessed the most formidable development of the forces working against the established system.

Today in many countries the thread that bound them to the past has been snapped by a handful of determined men and replaced by a determined philosophy that is both godless and inhuman. History is interpreted from the two-dimensional viewpoint of dialectical materialism and policy is conducted on a basis of unashamed expediency with one ultimate goal in mind, the "dictatorship of the proletariat." Humanitarian and moral arguments are used with a view to fogging the issue, but in reality these men are restrained by no ethical code. In no respect is this clearer than in the broad issue of human rights. Men, families, towns and sometimes whole provinces are moved around like so many cattle. Typical of this is the reported plans of the Communist Czech government to deport 45,000 to 50,000 "unreliable" families from the big towns to the country: over 400 families have already been moved from Bratislava with what is described as unnecessary brutality. Needless to say the main sufferers will be the former middle class, the bankers, businessmen, lawyers and ex-officers. Similar deportations have already been carried out in Rumania and Hungary.

Tragic indeed is the spectacle of Czechoslovakia today, once the model democracy of Central Europe, with its thriving and industrious population forging ahead under the enlightened leadership of Masaryk and Benes now reduced to the dead level of a satellite slave state, their freedom trampled down.

Here in the Western world we may feel safe for a while; our chief concern is on the military plane. But are we not living on spiritual capital?

A German Of Supreme Courage

Dr. Kurt Schumacher is dead. He was leader of the Social Democrat party, the German socialist party almost equal in strength to Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. His age was fifty-six.

Dr. Schumacher was a martyr of the Nazis and his own passion. He spent ten years in a concentration camp and from it emerged a physical wreck, bitter in spirit but still inflamed with his ideals for a united, socialist Germany, independent of both Communism and western capitalism. His ideals were an obsession, voiced with such fiery conviction from his wasted frame that millions of Germans heeded him to the point of veneration.

An orator, he was not a rabble-rouser, though in some Western eyes he was a devil, because he opposed West German alignment with the West after the war and promised if his party come to power next year, to cancel all the treaties and defensive arrangements which the Adenauer government has made with the West. He sought first the unification of East and West Germany and a new social order for his beloved land.

His bitterness and suffering may have warped his judgement; his intense emotions may have made his attitude unreasonable, but the world must respect the life-long devotion to his principles, and the indomitable courage of this man who defied the German Junkers, industrialists and the militarists, who opposed the Nazis from their earliest days, and who died primarily as a result of their treatment of him when they took over the German state and pitched it into war.

Shame On Tattooed Russians

Soviet propaganda has a new target in its struggle for the "dignity and purity of Soviet Culture" — tattooing. The Komsomolskaya Pravda, the organ of the Red Youth Organization, writes: "It is incompatible with the dignity of the Soviet citizen for him to show on his body designs and symbols which are often incomprehensible to himself . . . Once you are tattooed, some time in the future you will be ashamed to take off your shirt in the presence of your son when he discovers on your back or chest a heart crossed by arrows, a cross or any other ornament in bad taste."

Now, we are not one of those crusty true-blues who must take the opposite side from Russia on every mortal and moral thing, but in this matter we take leave to differ with the Soviet paper. Each to his own taste, we say. If our neighbour wants to have himself tattooed, let him, so long as he does not exhibit his art-crafted bare back to us at breakfast time. And where, pray, would the Canadian navy and British navy have been now, had they not braved the seven seas on the tattooed arrows of indelible romance? For that matter, how could the army have marched where it did in the last hundred years without chests heaving tattooed hearts and arms flexing Union Jack skins and fond slogans, memorials of lovelies and lovely nights in Blighty or back home.

We are touched by the Russian paper's indirect admission of romantic sentiment in Ivan Ivanovitch, who, like his brethren in other countries, may be wearing on his skin symbols of forgotten delights, unremembered affairs: "Symbols often incomprehensible to himself." Or the sense of bourgeois family pride which the paper appeals to: Take off his shirt and reveal in the very presence of his son, the marks of his profligate, carefree, sentimental youth? Oh, dear, dear! We really could countenance his tattooing better than we can the Soviet paper's rude and unkind description of Cupid's arrow, or a religious cross as an "ornament in bad taste."

We feel that the hard-hearted writer of the article must have been having summer-heat prostration when he failed to make what should have been the chief point: that tattooing can be removed, and of course, by a process invented by a Russian. But perhaps the poor fellow is not quite up-to-date in this Soviet dogma; perhaps he really does not know that even Westerners can have their spots (tattooed) removed, and so wipe out the stain of footloose days.

Perhaps to console Russian males for the proscription of the tattoo, Pravda has announced that the Soviet Ministry for Light Industry has been ordered to bring out seventy new and attractive designs for neckties, and to go into production immediately.

NOTES AND COMMENT

"If a man doesn't marry by the time he's thirty-five, the chances are seven to one that he will never marry," says a statistician. With age comes wisdom?

Why don't the opposing forces in Korea agree that the side which takes "Old Baldy" three times in one week may hold it permanently?

Bare Student In Sandals

By PATRICK O'DONOVAN

STANDING under the high and fantastically tiled gateway to his University, the student bowed coldly. That is to say, he performed a gesture of convention respect to strangers of minor importance. He was nineteen. His hair was long and carefully arranged. He wore cheap black trousers and a white singlet. Wooden sandals hung comfortably from his bare feet. He carried his notebooks tied up in a piece of cotton cloth.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE WAS ONE of 560,000 college students out of a population of 85 millions. He was Japanese and his University the National University in Tokyo. His father was a minor civil servant. His family's house had been destroyed utterly during the war and their savings rendered valueless by the peace. But somehow the young man had accepted all that as natural. He was getting ready to go out into the world as bare of possessions, as unadorned and perhaps as pliable as a peeled willow wand.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET HE and his kind are of a towering importance in the new Japan. It is not simply the old cliche about the preciousness of a nation's youth. Japan today is ruled by old men. They are the politicians who have survived the Japanese prisons that were open for those who opposed the war and the jails for war criminals that followed them. Some of them survived only on account of their mediocrity. It is not easy to find a new Ambassador with the right qualifications and record to send aboard to represent Japan. And it is harder still to find the staffs of educated men to serve them. The country is starting again. But the student, and the tens of thousands like him, are full of confidence, of a sort of incoherent excitement—a feeling that, whatever happens, they will be there and at the head of it.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS UNIVERSITY, perhaps the most important in Japan, is a mass of tall brick buildings standing among trees. It is vaguely Gothic, as if someone remembered the campus of an American University when they built it. It stands, behind its antique gate, close to the centre of Tokyo, towering above the wood and paper houses that surround it. It has a business-like yet dilapidated air. In the library, rows of earnest students sit reading on chairs that have lost their backs. Pavements are cracked. There is paper in the fountains. Inscriptions have been taken off the stumps of war memorials. A piece of curtain hangs in the University hall in the place where the Emperor's portrait used to hang. These are the marks of emergency and war. It is still as if the students were billeted on their University.

✧ ✧ ✧

NOR IS THERE MONEY for smartening up. The students—and there are 15,000 of them here—pay $20 a month. Less than half of them receive state grants. A Professor gets $72 a month and his assistant $50. So there are no luxuries here.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN JAPAN was defeated, the occupying powers turned busily on Japanese education. There were new text books which dammed the Japanese past. Professors with the wrong record were sacked. Student councils with executive powers and student politics were encouraged. It was heady stuff for a people who had been taught only to conform to the most rigid set of conventions that any people have ever willingly accepted. The first result was an outbreak of crazy indiscipline that left professors helpless; that is less evident today. The second was to leave the students excited and suspicious, accepting nobody's values on trust, not even Democracy.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS NOT EASY to get these students to talk politics, but when they do, the result is unoriginal and monotonous. They want Peace. They suffered too much in the war. They don't want to fight again. They don't want to be soldiers for someone else's ideal. They are neutral as hell. They don't want to commit Japan to America or Russia or China. They think that the Korean war will soon be over and then a great agreement will be possible in the East.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOME TWO OR THREE per cent of them are conscious and devoted Communists. They are the sort that relish martyrdom. Perhaps two or three hundred of the students here went out and rioted on May Day this year and spent a happy day burning American cars and fighting the police. Many more sympathised with them.

✧ ✧ ✧

NATURALLY ENOUGH, after their experience of war and their present poverty, the overwhelming majority think that a solution lies on the Left of politics. For example, the most popular book in their library is Harold Laski's "Liberty and the Modern State". They have been uprooted, subjected to new ideas without preparation and, if this is the new ruling class of Japan, they have still to cast their verdict.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE THING is certain, neither the education programme designed by the Americans nor the constitution imposed on their state have made any fundamental impression on them. The most important people in Japan have still to make up their minds.

Unconsidered Trifles

Joan—He's teaching me to swim.

Jane—Oh! And are you learning fast?

Joan—Not bad. He's twenty-one, has a good job and is getting a car."

✧ ✧ ✧

The hotel manager was giving adivce to his new receptionist.

"Always ask for money in advance when people have luggage that is over emotional," he said.

"Over emotional?"

"Yes; too easily moved."

✧ ✧ ✧

At a musical evening a woman was singing, and one of the guests leaned towards the man next to him and muttered: "What an awful voice! I wonder who she is?"

"She happens to be my wife," replied the other, stiffly.

"Oh, I'm awfully sorry" apologized the first. "Of course, it really isn't her voice that's so bad, but that terrible stuff she has to sing. Wonder who wrote that ghastly song?"

"I did," was the even stiffer reply.

Germany's Post-War Socialist Leader

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

KURT Schumacher, the West German Socialist leader, is dead at Bonn, and Alfried Krupp, the Ruhr industrialist, is about to become one of the world's richest men. These turns of fate make a grim commentary on modern German history.

Soon after the First World War, the Krupp firm began preparing rearmament, and it helped finance Hitler. The war crimes tribunal at Nuremberg sentenced Alfried Krupp to 12 years imprisonment for employing slave labour, and deprived him of his property. Both order were countermanded last spring by Mr. John J. McCloy, then United States high commissioner.

Kurt Schumacher, who lost an arm in the First World War, wanted Germany to become a peaceful social democracy by political evolution. In the early 1920's he fought Hitlerites in the streets. In 1932, he warned the Reichstag against the Nazi's appeal to "the inner swine-dog in man". By 1943, after 10 years in concentration camps, he was a physical wreck. But he reorganized the Social Democratic party, and it became the second largest party in West Germany.

Dr. Schumacher was hated by the Communists, whom he denounced as a menace to freedom. He was disliked by the Western powers for his often bitter attacks on their policies. He termed the Schuman coal and steel project "a syndicate of private interests"; he believed the peace contract with the Allies would prevent the reunion of East and West Germany; and instead of participation in a European army, he wanted a neutral Germany with defence forces of its own.

Yet it was never quite fair to picture him as the man who said "no". Like Western leaders, he stood for political democracy, a federation of Europe, and peace. The differences were in timetable and methods. Dr. Schumacher wanted German reunion first, public ownership of the great Ruhr industries, and then an integration with other major European industries under social control. He wanted to regenerate German society, not to patch up the old order. Time will tell whether he was a prophet, or the symbol of a lost hope.

Western plans for Germany may have smoother sailing without Dr. Schumacher. But the restoration to influence of men like Krupp will confirm the Social Democrats in their critical opposition.

Gobs And Gobbledygook

(Christian Science Monitor)

The lawyers started it. They took the King's English and turned it into jargon as effectively as the they took the King's prerogatives and turned them over to Parliament. Now the professors and bureaucrats of all sorts have completed the job of creating a new language: officialese.

A news item quotes a regulation from the Potomac River Naval Command:

-Effective immediately, the practice of endeavouring by words, gestures or otherwise to beg, invite, or secure transportation in any motor vehicle not engaged in passenger carrying for hire or otherwise acting as a commercial passenger carrier . . . is forbidden.

Poor sailors—or should we say "naval personnel"?—condemned to figure that one out. We trust it has got around by word of mouth that what it means is "Don't hitchhike".

Some time ago the Harvard Alumni Bulletin published a translation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address into official gobbledygook:

Eight and seven-tenths decades ago the pioneer workers in this continental area implemented a new group based on an ideology of free boundaries and initial conditions of equality. We are now actively engaged in an over-all evaluation of conflicting factors in order to determine whether or not the life expectancy of this group or of any group operating under the stated conditions is significant . . . .

No, we'll take Shakespeare and Lincoln. We'll even take the sailor who is forbidden to beg, invite, or secure a ride with us. For a gob with gab knows something of the creative vitality of the English language. There is poetry in "thumbing a ride" which, oddly enough, gives us a "lift" as we spin through so much macadamized public prose.

Worlds Oldest Seed

(Brandon Sun)

The oldest seed ever planted has now grown into flourishing plant which has recently begun to bloom in Amercia. The plant is a lotus and it was grown from a seed found by a Japanese biologist who was carrying out excavations in Southern Manchuria during the occupation. He found the seeds, dark brown and very hard, amongst decaying matter dating back to the Ice age, which meant that they were probably tens of thousands of years old, possibly as much as fifty thousand.

The biologist who found these ancient seeds gave six of them to an American scientist from the University of California who was visiting Japan after the last war. He took the seeds back to the United States and gave two to the department of agriculture. They failed to germinate. The scientist himself induced two to grow but they were attacked by fungus and died. The remaining two were grown in Washington and coaxed forward by the people who run the park.

The seeds were so tough that a botanist had to file through the outer skin to let in moisture. The first eagerly-awaited shoots appeared fifteen months ago and throughout the winter the plants were carefully kept in a hothouse. When warm weather came they were put out in a lily pond and have since grown to be three feet tall, with heart-shaped leaves almost a foot across. The plants startled everyone when they produced buds, three on one plant and one on the other, and then the first bud opened and was seen to be pink, with bright yellow stamens. It looked like a cross between a peony and a tulip. This archaic lotus, slightly larger and of a deeper pink than the modern Indian lotus, is living and flourishing proof of the apparent indestructability of plant life.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (John 4:24.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people . . . . Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord . . . For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised: he also is to be feared above all gods. . . . Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place. . . . .

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. . . . Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men say among the nations, The Lord reigneth. (I Chron. 16:8, 10, 25, 27, 29, 31.)

✧ ✧ ✧

O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. (Ps. 95:6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For as many are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with out spirit, that we are the children of God. (Rom. 8:14, 16.)

Leopold and Loeb

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

It was just a little item, 12 lines in fact, tucked away on the back page of The Record, but it brought back a flood of memories of 28 years ago when three Chicago families were suddenly shot into the unwelcome spotlight of Chicago's crime wave, then at its height.

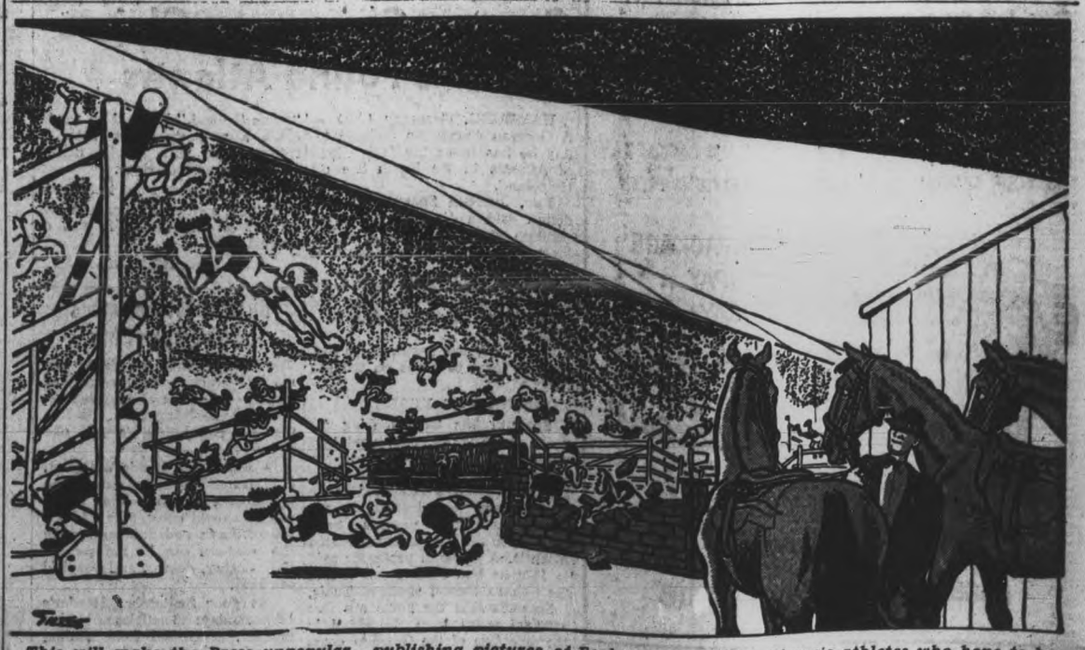
Back in 1924 the world, and Chicago in particular, was shocked by the "thrill slaying" of 10-year-old Bobby Franks by two youths, Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb. All three lads were from prominent families.

The other day came the news that Leopold is eligible for parole early next years after having spent 28 years in prison. If paroled he hopes to get a job in Chicago and start life anew. What a price that lad has had to pay for his folly!

Even at that he is better off than Loeb. The latter, after the killing, spent 12 years in prison and then was stabbed to death too in a jail-knifing outbreak.

What a picture of broken homes, broken lives and wasted years the thrill slaying started. The boys, the products of the jazz age and having the misfortune to live in Chicago when crime was glamourized, got off the track and their world came crashing down around them.

Much of the story has been written and it is not nice reading, though it was a lesson for many. But what of the three families involved and what will Leopold do with his chance to make good?



Killing Off The Gallinules

(Sudbury Star)

There is a most strange contradiction of policy in the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests when the department preaches conservation but allows the slaughter of gallinules.

These delightful water birds can scarcely be looked upon as game birds or "meat for the pot," and yet the gallinules are listed in the bag limits on migratory birds.

As these birds are confined mostly to Southern Ontario, it does not seem out of the way to presume that this is a further concession by the department to the "sportsmen" of the section of the province who believe in "dogging" deer.

This will make the Press unpopular,—publishing pictures of Foxhunters watching Olympic athletes who hope to be the only men to win a gold medal at the International Horse Show.

No Television Fee In Peterborough

One thing that our sampling of Peterborough television reception from the Toronto CBC station should demonstrate is that Peterborough TV set owners will not have to pay a TV licence fee. Admittedly—as reported on the local news page Saturday—our sampling of the Peterborough reception of the CBC experimental broadcasts was thin, but the mediocre signals reportedly received seem to show that this city is on the fringe of the CBC television orbit—and outside its special licence field.

* * *

The CBC is already spending millions on TV, millions got from the public treasury and radio licence fees. It is manifestly unfair that all the people of Canada should pay, through the taxes from which the Government gets all its money and through their radio licence fees, for CBC television. Only a small percentage of the people will be able to have CBC television this year, next year, and for several years to come—even if they have TV sets. The others should not be expected to pay for the privilege of the few in Toronto and Montreal. Thus we agree with the CBC request that TV set owners within the radius of CBC television signals should pay a licence fee, to help defray the cost of Canadian television. The CBC has asked to be authorized to charge a fifteen-dollar fee.

* * *

An unholy row is already developing about this matter—as regards both the principle and the amount of the fee. Toronto and vicinity television viewers are certain to raise an even noisier howl if they have to pay $7.50 now for the privilege of tuning in to Toronto TV for the rest of the year. Here in Peterborough, as we crane and stare from our armchair to see Toronto flicks on our screen, we can be calm and cool about the fee question. Nobody in official Toronto, Ottawa or CBC headquarters could be dastardly enough even to suggest that Peterborough people should pay the fee.

* * *

The rubbing and gnawing will come somewhere between Peterborough and Toronto. Where will the line be drawn, in that area, between those whose reception is good enough to warrant their having to pay a licence, and those whose reception is poor enough not to be stung for a licence? In this question lies much of the difficulty in the licensing problem. Most of the rest of it is, of course, the general matter of having to buy a licence for Canadian TV when American TV is perhaps as clear, perhaps as good, and absolutely free.

Men And Cattle

We were brought up on an idea that has apparently gone out of fashion in these enlightened days; we refer to the dignity of man. A few years ago this idea was generally accepted in all progressive countries: only in a few backward areas was it rejected, and it was considered only a matter of time before the whole world would see the light. This idea is part of our Christian heritage, which has its roots in Judaism and has incorporated much of the Graeco-Roman tradition. These ideas have been sapped from within and without; ironically enough it was the nineteenth century with its belief in progress that witnessed the most formidable development of the forces working against the established system.

Today in many countries the thread that bound them to the past has been snapped by a handful of determined men and replaced by a determined philosophy that is both godless and inhuman. History is interpreted from the two-dimensional viewpoint of dialectical materialism and policy is conducted on a basis of unashamed expediency with one ultimate goal in mind, the "dictatorship of the proletariat." Humanitarian and moral arguments are used with a view to fogging the issue, but in reality these men are restrained by no ethical code. In no respect is this clearer than in the broad issue of human rights. Men, families, towns and sometimes whole provinces are moved around like so many cattle. Typical of this is the reported plans of the Communist Czech government to deport 45,000 to 50,000 "unreliable" families from the big towns to the country: over 400 families have already been moved from Bratislava with what is described as unnecessary brutality. Needless to say the main sufferers will be the former middle class, the bankers, businessmen, lawyers and ex-officers. Similar deportations have already been carried out in Rumania and Hungary.

Tragic indeed is the spectacle of Czechoslovakia today, once the model democracy of Central Europe, with its thriving and industrious population forging ahead under the enlightened leadership of Masaryk and Benes now reduced to the dead level of a satellite slave state, their freedom trampled down.

Here in the Western world we may feel safe for a while; our chief concern is on the military plane. But are we not living on spiritual capital?

A German Of Supreme Courage

Dr. Kurt Schumacher is dead. He was leader of the Social Democrat party, the German socialist party almost equal in strength to Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. His age was fifty-six.

Dr. Schumacher was a martyr of the Nazis and his own passion. He spent ten years in a concentration camp and from it emerged a physical wreck, bitter in spirit but still inflamed with his ideals for a united, socialist Germany, independent of both Communism and western capitalism. His ideals were an obsession, voiced with such fiery conviction from his wasted frame that millions of Germans heeded him to the point of veneration.

An orator, he was not a rabble-rouser, though in some Western eyes he was a devil, because he opposed West German alignment with the West after the war and promised if his party come to power next year, to cancel all the treaties and defensive arrangements which the Adenauer government has made with the West. He sought first the unification of East and West Germany and a new social order for his beloved land.

His bitterness and suffering may have warped his judgement; his intense emotions may have made his attitude unreasonable, but the world must respect the life-long devotion to his principles, and the indomitable courage of this man who defied the German Junkers, industrialists and the militarists, who opposed the Nazis from their earliest days, and who died primarily as a result of their treatment of him when they took over the German state and pitched it into war.

Shame On Tattooed Russians

Soviet propaganda has a new target in its struggle for the "dignity and purity of Soviet Culture" — tattooing. The Komsomolskaya Pravda, the organ of the Red Youth Organization, writes: "It is incompatible with the dignity of the Soviet citizen for him to show on his body designs and symbols which are often incomprehensible to himself . . . Once you are tattooed, some time in the future you will be ashamed to take off your shirt in the presence of your son when he discovers on your back or chest a heart crossed by arrows, a cross or any other ornament in bad taste."

Now, we are not one of those crusty true-blues who must take the opposite side from Russia on every mortal and moral thing, but in this matter we take leave to differ with the Soviet paper. Each to his own taste, we say. If our neighbour wants to have himself tattooed, let him, so long as he does not exhibit his art-crafted bare back to us at breakfast time. And where, pray, would the Canadian navy and British navy have been now, had they not braved the seven seas on the tattooed arrows of indelible romance? For that matter, how could the army have marched where it did in the last hundred years without chests heaving tattooed hearts and arms flexing Union Jack skins and fond slogans, memorials of lovelies and lovely nights in Blighty or back home.

We are touched by the Russian paper's indirect admission of romantic sentiment in Ivan Ivanovitch, who, like his brethren in other countries, may be wearing on his skin symbols of forgotten delights, unremembered affairs: "Symbols often incomprehensible to himself." Or the sense of bourgeois family pride which the paper appeals to: Take off his shirt and reveal in the very presence of his son, the marks of his profligate, carefree, sentimental youth? Oh, dear, dear! We really could countenance his tattooing better than we can the Soviet paper's rude and unkind description of Cupid's arrow, or a religious cross as an "ornament in bad taste."

We feel that the hard-hearted writer of the article must have been having summer-heat prostration when he failed to make what should have been the chief point: that tattooing can be removed, and of course, by a process invented by a Russian. But perhaps the poor fellow is not quite up-to-date in this Soviet dogma; perhaps he really does not know that even Westerners can have their spots (tattooed) removed, and so wipe out the stain of footloose days.

Perhaps to console Russian males for the proscription of the tattoo, Pravda has announced that the Soviet Ministry for Light Industry has been ordered to bring out seventy new and attractive designs for neckties, and to go into production immediately.

NOTES AND COMMENT

"If a man doesn't marry by the time he's thirty-five, the chances are seven to one that he will never marry," says a statistician. With age comes wisdom?

Why don't the opposing forces in Korea agree that the side which takes "Old Baldy" three times in one week may hold it permanently?

Bare Student In Sandals

By PATRICK O'DONOVAN

STANDING under the high and fantastically tiled gateway to his University, the student bowed coldly. That is to say, he performed a gesture of convention respect to strangers of minor importance. He was nineteen. His hair was long and carefully arranged. He wore cheap black trousers and a white singlet. Wooden sandals hung comfortably from his bare feet. He carried his notebooks tied up in a piece of cotton cloth.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE WAS ONE of 560,000 college students out of a population of 85 millions. He was Japanese and his University the National University in Tokyo. His father was a minor civil servant. His family's house had been destroyed utterly during the war and their savings rendered valueless by the peace. But somehow the young man had accepted all that as natural. He was getting ready to go out into the world as bare of possessions, as unadorned and perhaps as pliable as a peeled willow wand.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET HE and his kind are of a towering importance in the new Japan. It is not simply the old cliche about the preciousness of a nation's youth. Japan today is ruled by old men. They are the politicians who have survived the Japanese prisons that were open for those who opposed the war and the jails for war criminals that followed them. Some of them survived only on account of their mediocrity. It is not easy to find a new Ambassador with the right qualifications and record to send aboard to represent Japan. And it is harder still to find the staffs of educated men to serve them. The country is starting again. But the student, and the tens of thousands like him, are full of confidence, of a sort of incoherent excitement—a feeling that, whatever happens, they will be there and at the head of it.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS UNIVERSITY, perhaps the most important in Japan, is a mass of tall brick buildings standing among trees. It is vaguely Gothic, as if someone remembered the campus of an American University when they built it. It stands, behind its antique gate, close to the centre of Tokyo, towering above the wood and paper houses that surround it. It has a business-like yet dilapidated air. In the library, rows of earnest students sit reading on chairs that have lost their backs. Pavements are cracked. There is paper in the fountains. Inscriptions have been taken off the stumps of war memorials. A piece of curtain hangs in the University hall in the place where the Emperor's portrait used to hang. These are the marks of emergency and war. It is still as if the students were billeted on their University.

✧ ✧ ✧

NOR IS THERE MONEY for smartening up. The students—and there are 15,000 of them here—pay $20 a month. Less than half of them receive state grants. A Professor gets $72 a month and his assistant $50. So there are no luxuries here.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN JAPAN was defeated, the occupying powers turned busily on Japanese education. There were new text books which dammed the Japanese past. Professors with the wrong record were sacked. Student councils with executive powers and student politics were encouraged. It was heady stuff for a people who had been taught only to conform to the most rigid set of conventions that any people have ever willingly accepted. The first result was an outbreak of crazy indiscipline that left professors helpless; that is less evident today. The second was to leave the students excited and suspicious, accepting nobody's values on trust, not even Democracy.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS NOT EASY to get these students to talk politics, but when they do, the result is unoriginal and monotonous. They want Peace. They suffered too much in the war. They don't want to fight again. They don't want to be soldiers for someone else's ideal. They are neutral as hell. They don't want to commit Japan to America or Russia or China. They think that the Korean war will soon be over and then a great agreement will be possible in the East.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOME TWO OR THREE per cent of them are conscious and devoted Communists. They are the sort that relish martyrdom. Perhaps two or three hundred of the students here went out and rioted on May Day this year and spent a happy day burning American cars and fighting the police. Many more sympathised with them.

✧ ✧ ✧

NATURALLY ENOUGH, after their experience of war and their present poverty, the overwhelming majority think that a solution lies on the Left of politics. For example, the most popular book in their library is Harold Laski's "Liberty and the Modern State". They have been uprooted, subjected to new ideas without preparation and, if this is the new ruling class of Japan, they have still to cast their verdict.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE THING is certain, neither the education programme designed by the Americans nor the constitution imposed on their state have made any fundamental impression on them. The most important people in Japan have still to make up their minds.

Unconsidered Trifles

Joan—He's teaching me to swim.

Jane—Oh! And are you learning fast?

Joan—Not bad. He's twenty-one, has a good job and is getting a car."

The hotel manager was giving adivce to his new receptionist.

"Always ask for money in advance when people have luggage that is over emotional," he said.

"Over emotional?"

"Yes; too easily moved."

At a musical evening a woman was singing, and one of the guests leaned towards the man next to him and muttered: "What an awful voice! I wonder who she is?"

"She happens to be my wife," replied the other, stiffly.

"Oh, I'm awfully sorry" apologized the first. "Of course, it really isn't her voice that's so bad, but that terrible stuff she has to sing. Wonder who wrote that ghastly song?"

"I did," was the even stiffer reply.

Germany's Post-War Socialist Leader

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

KURT Schumacher, the West German Socialist leader, is dead at Bonn, and Alfried Krupp, the Ruhr industrialist, is about to become one of the world's richest men. These turns of fate make a grim commentary on modern German history.

Soon after the First World War, the Krupp firm began preparing rearmament, and it helped finance Hitler. The war crimes tribunal at Nuremberg sentenced Alfried Krupp to 12 years imprisonment for employing slave labour, and deprived him of his property. Both order were countermanded last spring by Mr. John J. McCloy, then United States high commissioner.

Kurt Schumacher, who lost an arm in the First World War, wanted Germany to become a peaceful social democracy by political evolution. In the early 1920's he fought Hitlerites in the streets. In 1932, he warned the Reichstag against the Nazi's appeal to "the inner swine-dog in man". By 1943, after 10 years in concentration camps, he was a physical wreck. But he reorganized the Social Democratic party, and it became the second largest party in West Germany.

Dr. Schumacher was hated by the Communists, whom he denounced as a menace to freedom. He was disliked by the Western powers for his often bitter attacks on their policies. He termed the Schuman coal and steel project "a syndicate of private interests"; he believed the peace contract with the Allies would prevent the reunion of East and West Germany; and instead of participation in a European army, he wanted a neutral Germany with defence forces of its own.

Yet it was never quite fair to picture him as the man who said "no". Like Western leaders, he stood for political democracy, a federation of Europe, and peace. The differences were in timetable and methods. Dr. Schumacher wanted German reunion first, public ownership of the great Ruhr industries, and then an integration with other major European industries under social control. He wanted to regenerate German society, not to patch up the old order. Time will tell whether he was a prophet, or the symbol of a lost hope.

Western plans for Germany may have smoother sailing without Dr. Schumacher. But the restoration to influence of men like Krupp will confirm the Social Democrats in their critical opposition.

Gobs And Gobbledygook

(Christian Science Monitor)

The lawyers started it. They took the King's English and turned it into jargon as effectively as the they took the King's prerogatives and turned them over to Parliament. Now the professors and bureaucrats of all sorts have completed the job of creating a new language: officialese.

A news item quotes a regulation from the Potomac River Naval Command:

"Effective immediately, the practice of endeavouring by words, gestures or otherwise to beg, invite, or secure transportation in any motor vehicle not engaged in passenger carrying for hire or otherwise acting as a commercial passenger carrier . . . is forbidden.

Poor sailors—or should we say "naval personnel"?—condemned to figure that one out. We trust it has got around by word of mouth that what it means is "Don't hitchhike".

Some time ago the Harvard Alumni Bulletin published a translation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address into official gobbledygook:

Eight and seven-tenths decades ago the pioneer workers in this continental area implemented a new group based on an ideology of free boundaries and initial conditions of equality. We are now actively engaged in an over-all evaluation of conflicting factors in order to determine whether or not the life expectancy of this group or of any group operating under the stated conditions is signficant . . . .

No, we'll take Shakespeare and Lincoln. We'll even take the sailor who is forbidden to beg, invite, or secure a ride with us. For a gob with gab knows something of the creative vitality of the English language. There is poetry in "thumbing a ride" which, oddly enough, gives us a "lift" as we spin through so much macadamized public prose.

Worlds Oldest Seed

(Brandon Sun)

The oldest seed ever planted has now grown into flourishing plant which has recently begun to bloom in Amercia. The plant is a lotus and it was grown from a seed found by a Japanese biologist who was carrying out excavations in Southern Manchuria during the occupation. He found the seeds, dark brown and very hard, amongst decaying matter dating back to the Ice age, which meant that they were probably tens of thousands of years old, possibly as much as fifty thousand.

The biologist who found these ancient seeds gave six of them to an American scientist from the University of California who was visiting Japan after the last war. He took the seeds back to the United States and gave two to the department of agriculture. They failed to germinate. The scientist himself induced two to grow but they were attacked by fungus and died. The remaining two were grown in Washington and coaxed forward by the people who run the park.

The seeds were so tough that a botanist had to file through the outer skin to let in moisture. The first eagerly-awaited shoots appeared fifteen months ago and throughout the winter the plants were carefully kept in a hothouse. When warm weather came they were put out in a lily pond and have since grown to be three feet tall, with heart-shaped leaves almost a foot across. The plants startled everyone when they produced buds, three on one plant and one on the other, and then the first bud opened and was seen to be pink, with bright yellow stamens. It looked like a cross between a peony and a tulip. This archaic lotus, slightly larger and of a deeper pink than the modern Indian lotus, is living and flourishing proof of the apparent indestructability of plant life.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (John 4:24.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people . . . . Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord . . . For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised: he also is to be feared above all gods. . . . Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place. . . . .

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. . . . Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice: and let men say among the nations, The Lord reigneth. (I Chron. 16:8, 10, 25, 27, 29, 31.)

✧ ✧ ✧

O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. (Ps. 95:6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For as many are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with out spirit, that we are the children of God. (Rom. 8:14, 16.)

Leopold and Loeb

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

It was just a little item, 12 lines in fact, tucked away on the back page of The Record, but it brought back a flood of memories of 28 years ago when three Chicago families were suddenly shot into the unwelcome spotlight of Chicago's crime wave, then at its height.

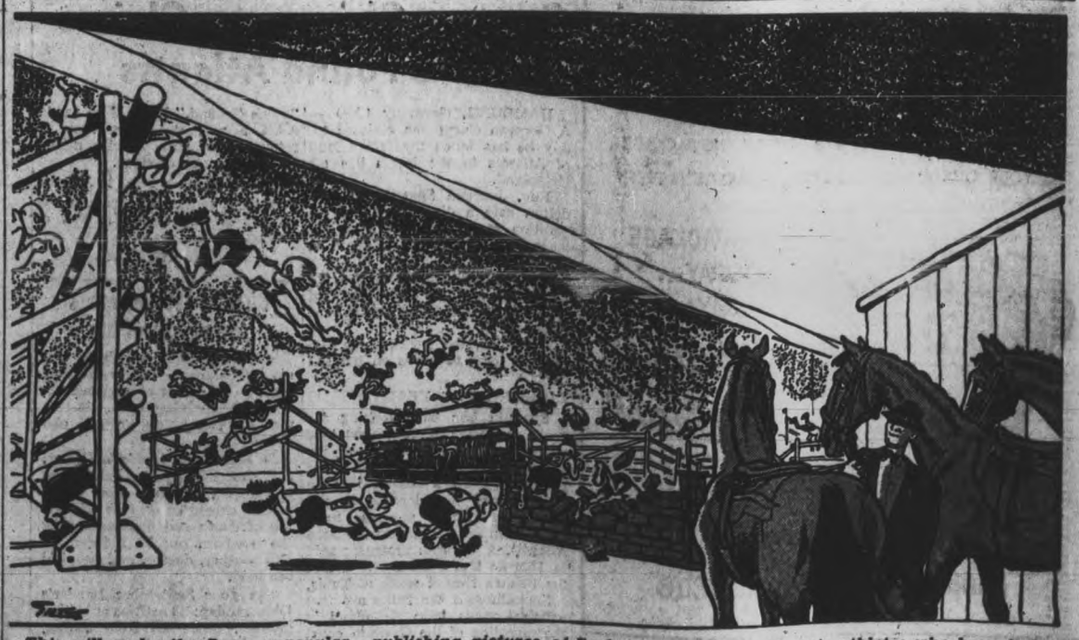
Back in 1924 the world, and Chicago in particular, was shocked by the "thrill slaying" of 10-year-old Bobby Franks by two youths, Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb. All three lads were from prominent families.

The other day came the news that Leopold is eligible for parole early next years after having spent 28 years in prison. If paroled he hopes to get a job in Chicago and start life anew. What a price that lad has had to pay for his folly!

Even at that he is better off than Loeb. The latter, after the killing, spent 12 years in prison and then was stabbed to death too in a jail-knifing outbreak.

What a picture of broken homes, broken lives and wasted years the thrill slaying started. The boys, the products of the jazz age and having the misfortune to live in Chicago when crime was glamourized, got off the track and their world came crashing down around them.

Much of the story has been written and it is not nice reading, though it was a lesson for many. But what of the three families involved and what will Leopold do with his chance to make good?



Killing Off The Gallinules

(Sudbury Star)

There is a most strange contradiction of policy in the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests when the department preaches conservation but allows the slaughter of gallinules.

These delightful water birds can scarcely be looked upon as game birds or "meat for the pot," and yet the gallinules are listed in the bag limits on migratory birds.

As these birds are confined mostly to Southern Ontario, it does not seem out of the way to presume that this is a further concession by the department to the "sportsmen" of the section of the province who believe in "dogging" deer.

This will make the Press unpopular,—publishing pictures of Foxhunters watching Olympic athletes who hope to be the only men to win a gold medal at the International Horse Show.

Americans, Europeans Disagree On Length of Army Training

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—American military men think it takes two years to turn a man into a modern soldier, but most allied nations in Europe don't agree.

Britain, Greece and Turkey alone of 10 main Atlantic Pact powers on the continent call up their men for two years. Conscription terms of the rest range from 12 to 21 months.

And now even in Britain a strong movement — started by the former Labor defence minister, Emanuel Shinwell — is developing to cut the call-up by six months.

ECONOMY HURT

Some of the arguments used by governments against longer call-ups:

It drains off too much productive manpower, harming already weak economies.

The countries concerned cannot afford the extra cost.

Small but fully-equipped armies are better than big, badly-equipped ones.

An Associated Press survey in the main Allied capitals showed that these arguments reflect a more important factor.

It is the fear that the Allied effort to rearm is flagging in America as well as in Britain and continental Europe. This notwithstanding the fact that the United States draft period for nearly two years has been 24 months and that [illegible] since September, 1950.

BUDGETS CUT

The picture everywhere seems to be one of slashed defence budgets, stretched-out arms program or cuts in conscription periods.

The draft issue flared when Belgium cut her term of military service from two years to 21 months. The Brussels government had been faced with strikes and threatened mutinies. It asked its partners in the projected European army to raise their own terms of service to show an equality of sacrifice. They refused.

As one result Belgium's action is going to mean a 15-per-cent cut in her Atlantic Pact promises. As another, it's going to make it harder, if not impossible, for other European countries to lengthen their periods of service for draftees.

Even the reduced Belgian term is longer than France's 18 months, Italy's 12 to 15, Norway's 12 to 18, Denmark's 18, Portugal's 18 and Holland's 20. The conscription period planned for West Germany's projected 500,000-man force also is 18 months.

The Associated Press survey showed military authorities agreed that it would be wrong to measure the effective defence effort of any allied nation only by the length of its call-up term.

TRAINING A FACTOR

Equipment, training and the skilful use of the soldier's time have also to be considered.

Nevertheless, dispatches from Paris, The Hague, Rome and Copenhagen reported that local Communists are backing the opposition to lengthened terms of conscription.

Millionaire Peer Busy Man

LONDON (Reuters)—A poker-faced millionaire peer who inherited almost 50,000 acres of land and a magnificent castle at the age of nine now is one of the busiest men in Britain.

He is the Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal of England, the man who directed the funerals of the last two kings, the coronation of the last King and the wedding of the present Queen.

This summer he began the biggest job of his career—planning the coronation of the Queen, the great pageant which next June 2 will be witnessed by hundreds of millions of people through most of the civilized world via radio, television or films.

The job falls to him, Britain's premier duke, because King Richard III nearly 500 years ago took a warm liking to an ancestor, the young Earl of Arundel, and made him Duke of Norfolk and Earl Marshal with the honor of standing at the royal right hand at the coronation and assisting in placing the crown on the royal head.

DUKE A CATHOLIC

Although the weddings, funerals and coronations he manages are closely associated with the Church of England and the nation is constitutionally sworn to accept only a Protestant monarch, the present Duke, like his forebearers, is a Roman Catholic.

As deputy chairman and supreme ceremonial authority of the coronation commission—the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen, is chairman—Norfolk is custodian of centuries of hallowed royal tradition.

Spectators in Westminster Abbey will see him only as a braided dignitary carrying the gold baton of office and looking magnificently important next to the Queen. But every stately manoeuvre during the drama of the coronation will have been planned by him in meticulous detail months before.

Preserving historical precedents and the ceremonial privileges of lesser peers should come as second nature to the 44-year-old Duke. He has been a full-fledged member of the nobility for 35 years. When he was 27 years old he had charge of the elaborate funeral of George V.

He succeeded to his title at the age of nine. When he came of age he inherited 49,900 acres of land—country seats in Yorkshire and Derbyshire, several square miles of real estate in Sheffield and the whole seaside town of Littlehampton, plus beautiful Arundel Castle in southern England, second in size and splendor only to Windsor itself.

That castle now is part of the Duke's bread and butter. Into its grey walls come 130,000 visitors every summer, many of them tourists. Their admission fees and the ice cream, tea and postcards they buy from the Duke's concessionaries help pay the astronomical taxes which have been stripping the nobility of much of its wealth in the post-war years.

Asks New Party Be Formed

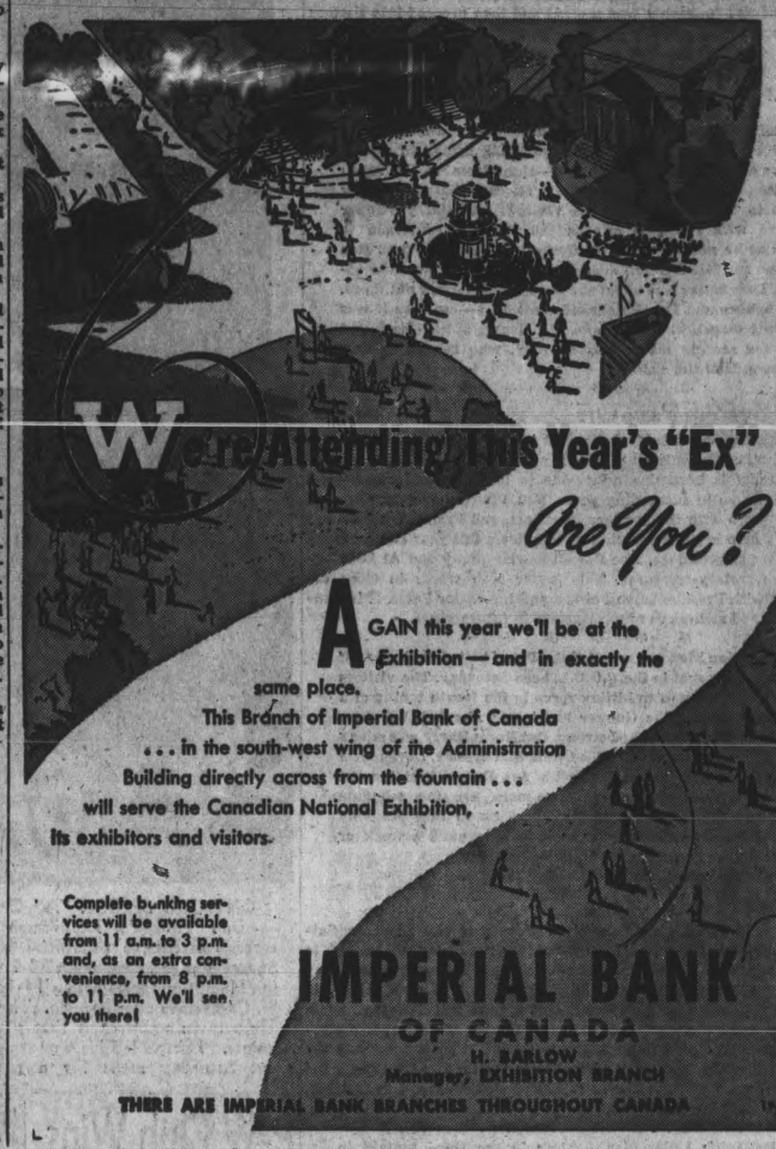
CHICAGO (AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, Saturday night urged formation of another U.S. political party, to be known as "the American Party."

McCormick, a life-long Republican, in a radio speech urged his listeners to vote for neither of the two major party candidates for president—Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower or Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

"I think the American Party should nominate candidates for the presidency and the vice-presidency in 1956," he said.

NO IMPOSITION

"I swallowed Wilkie in '40, Dewey twice in '44 and '48, candidates foisted on the majority by sharp practice, but now. . .I will be imposed upon no longer," he declared.



He said Stevenson "is the nominee of the C.I.O., for which the present Democratic party is merely a false face, and which intends to destroy utterly private initiative and private property."

Post-War Boom Now Ended For Shocked Australians

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's post-war boom has ended, giving the Australian people the biggest shock since the Japanese came to their doorstep a decade ago.

The country is still prosperous and the people among the best fed in the world, but the change looks like a recession to Australians who thought boom times were here for keeps.

The changing conditions have brought some unemployment, a deeper concern about the future, and a buttoning of pocketbooks.

Until a few months ago Australians were spending freely; importers, trying to meet the demand, spent hundreds of millions of pounds overseas. One result was that Australia spent £550,000,000 (about $1,210,000,000) more than she earned in the 1951-52 financial year.

But no longer can a store, stockbroker or automobile dealer sell anything he can lay his hands on. And no longer can an employee walk out of his job, knowing he will pick up another in an hour.

FAMILY INCOME DOWN

Wages for a regular 40-hour work week are higher today than ever before, but the general family income is less. This is because overtime work doesn't come any more as a regular thing; and wives have trouble finding part-time or full-time jobs.

Prices of some types of food such as fruit and tinned foods continue to rise, but the trend is downward for eggs and meat. Clothes, too, are cheaper as stores try to sell heavy stocks.

Prices of automobiles, refrigerators, radios have stayed up, but today you can buy and drive away autos for which there was a theoretical two-year wait a year ago.

A double falling-off in national income—lower wool price and less foreign investment—seems to be the big reason for the money worries of the people.

New Zealand Opposing Any Mass Immigration

By BARRY MICHAEL

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—Opposition to mass immigration has become stronger and more outspoken in New Zealand in recent months.

Since the Second World War, both Labor and National governments have been promoting immigration although much less ambitiously and more cautiously than the Australians.

New Zealand has not the same urgent need for immigrants as the sparsely populated continent of Australia.

Although it has stepped up the inflow, the present government of New Zealand looks to immigration more as a means of solving production problems. Target figure, which has never been reached but may be this year, is 10,000 immigrants a year.

In recent months, a growing body of opinion has grown up in favor of closing the door of immigration.

Developments in Australia, rather than anything that has happened here, have made immigration a [illegible] in New Zealand.

JOBLESS ALARM

News of unemployment in Australia has alarmed the New Zealand trade-union movement, which has always been skeptical about the benefits of large-scale immigration.

The national council of the Federation of Labor, governing body of the trade-union movement in New Zealand, has warned of a worsening of inflation and present housing, school and hospital shortages.

The federation wants the government to end its policy of assisting non-British immigrants to come to New Zealand.

Immigration is not a clear-cut party political issue. It is unlikely, however, that the National government will make any sudden switch in policy merely because the Federation of Labor wants it.

But the government, if it continues to increase the rate of immigration of Europeans, will have to face opposition and criticism from other quarters.

It makes each drop of gas say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine.

But the problem is to put that energy to work.

So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

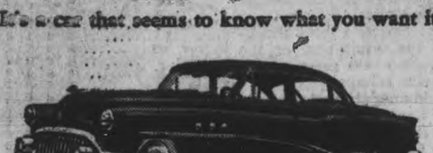
This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood—and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

The Fireball Engine powers an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straight away—beautifully balanced on curves.



It's a car with Dynaflow Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness and a road-hugging levelness of ride.

And it is, with all this, very reasonably priced. Why not come in soon, and see and drive a Buick ROADMASTER, SUPER or CUSTOM for yourself?

PETES CAPTURE ONTARIO LACROSSE CROWN FOR SECOND YEAR

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Congrats to the champs! For the second straight O.L.A. season Peterborough holds the provincial senior "A" lacrosse crown. They downed Hamilton Tigers in most convincing style here Saturday, 22-9, before nearly 2,000 chilly fans to retain their Ontario gutted-stick title. They have one more postponed joust to play here with Fergus Thistles (probably Wednesday) and then proceed into Eastern Canada playdowns against the sixth-place St. Catharines Athletics. Actually, they won the championship before the game at Miller Bowl was over, since 'twas announced shortly before the end that Mimico had been edged 14-13 at Rex Stimer's Night in St. Kitts. That did it.

Minus Ross Powless, out for a couple of weeks with a badly bruised shoulder, the Thorpe squad turned in a solid titular effort from start to finish—right from goalie Moon Wootton out. The younger players all contributed a goodly share to the triumph. Dootch Vitarelli and Harry Wipper starred with five-goal efforts, Curly Mason continued to shine as he nicked three. Al Garbutt is fitting in fine, Bob Thorpe and Nit O'Hearn dished up near-perfect two-way efforts. Russ Slater was about the headiest performer out there. Don Ashbee and Ike Hildebrand went okay—but then it was hustling teamwork as a whole. The Tigers battled hard and they fed scoring leader Jack Dorney, who banged in four markers. Hail the champs!

Minor System Pays Off

In passing, one should give credit to the ex-juniors, and to the present junior Queen's club, recently ousted by St. Kitts. A fine feeder supply is becoming noticeable in local lacrosse ranks—and will be more so in succeeding years. Lou Vitarelli has done a good coaching chore with the younger lacrossers, and Frank Patterson has been a big help in his sponsoring role. Officers this year also included Oral Brown as president, Mac Powell as vice-prexy and Al Lockington, the secretary-treasurer. This junior club works in close co-operation with President Bob Peirson and the senior Petes. It is common sense and assures us of top lacrosse in future years.

Kingston Monarchs spoiled the Petes' ball club chances of clinching top spot in the C.O.B.L. here Saturday. The visitors won 4-0 on a four-run hitting spree in the fourth inning of a snappy struggle. The Gunner had tossed nice ball till then, and Lefty Dadson finished strong. But Norm Harry was stingy with hits, and both sides fielded well. McCormick, Levandoski and Stinson led 'em at bat, with Art Dugan best for the Stewart crew. K's come here once more ere the schedule ends, and the Petes should still wind up in first place by playoff time. Phil Clancy expects to be around a week or so yet before reporting for U. S. military duty.

Couldn't Field a Team

Lakefield could only field eight players at the Bowl on Saturday night for their men's semi-final softball playoff, so had to forfeit the tilt to Seabrooke's. President Bob Batley declared they had fortfeited the series, and the Seabrooke's will play U.E.W. in the four-of-seven finals, opening with a twin bill Tuesday. When a ninth player finally arrived for Lakefield, the team staged a five-inning exhibition game with Seabrooke's and it wound up in a 9-8 win for Lakefield. This final series is for the senior city crown, the Taylor Trophy and the right to represent Peterborough in O.A.S.A. senior "B" playdowns.

Belleville belles play Ashby's in the Bowl tonight to open the loop's intermediate finals. Second one is Wednesday in Bella Villa and third, if necessary, there toward the end of the week. Lindsay lasses are in playdowns against the Lakeside League victor or Newmarket, going away on Wednesday and being here for two tilts, if required, on Saturday. Cobourg of this circuit took the P.W.S.U. intermediate "AA" title; there was no opposition in this class. Marines recently were ousted in intermediate play by Belleville. Burtol's found in Oshawa on Saturday that their first win had been protested for using E. Whittaker. Marg Selkirk pitched Burtol's to a 20-5 win there Saturday but they dropped a 6-2 decision, to give 'em the series! Skullduggery somewhere, and we'll try to learn more about it.

ONTARIO SENIOR "A" CHAMPIONS — Bob Thorpe's Timbermen won their second successive provincial lacrosse title Saturday night, coupling a 22-9 victory over the Hamilton Tigers with a 14-13 victory by St. Catharines over Mimico. These gave the Timbermen undisputed first place by four points. Thorpe led his woodsmen throughout Saturday night for a perfect home record, leading the defensive work and trying hard on the offence as in the top photo as he stretches into the prohibited area for the ball. Tiger goalie Doug Favelle grabbed it. Don Ashbee went well and also worked Tiger goalies over; in bottom photo he lets an overhead shot fly at Ted Bracuk who replaced Favelle in the Tiger net. — (Examiner Photos by Grant).

Wipper And Vitarelli Lead Local Club To Victory Against Hamilton, 22 to 9

By DON GRANT

Ontario's senior "A" lacrosse championship is still in Peterborough. Bob Thorpe's Petes ran over Hamilton's tired Tigers Saturday night for a 22-9 triumph to grab undisputed first place and with it the Ontario honors. The Hamilton whipping, coupled with Mimico's 14-13 loss to St. Catharines Saturday night, placed the Petes four points ahead of the second-place Mimico Mounties. The locals can finish the season next Wednesday six points up with a final victory over Fergus Thistles at Miller Bowl.

First place means a great deal. For the Petes now play off with St. Catharines in the quarter finals, likely beginning next Friday. The winner of that series has a bye into the Eastern Canada series, allowing the winner of the quarter-final series to have a rest before the finals while other teams battle in semi-finals.

RECORD INTACT

From the opening whistle Saturday night the Thorpe crew assured fans that their home season record would be perfect. They roared out to a 3-2 score in the first, and settled to a 7-3 count at the half. The Petes broke loose in the second half, outscoring Tigers 7-3 in the third quarter, and wrapping the victory and championship up in the final, again outscoring the Tigers, this time 8-3.

Hamilton's slow, methodical play made the locals' game less impressive than in the St. Catharines' and Mimico games. But the Thorpe men were just as colorful, breaking fast and backchecking smartly.

PASSING PLAYS

Team work was emphasized. The woodsmen worked their quick passing networks to the limit, crowding the Tigers on top of goalies Doug Favelle and Ted Bracuk. In fact, practically all Petes' goals scorers had help.

Harry Wipper and Dootch Vitarelli shared the goal-scoring honors, each getting five, while teammate Curly Mason performed the hat trick. On the defence, Bob Thorpe, Nit O'Hearn and Lou Nickle bounced the heavier Tigers, often shaking the ball loose to recover it.

Lloyd (Moon) Wootton lived up to his reputation as Canada's best goalie. He outguessed the Tigers time and time again, and on the nine goals scored against him, the Moon didn't have too much of a chance.

TWO GOALIES

Meanwhile, the Tigers used two goalies, Doug Favelle and the younger Ted Bracuk. Favelle, probably Moon's closest rival, played the first quarter, making several sensational stops; to give Bracuk a chance, he retired in the second quarter. Bracuk didn't have too good support, but indicated that he's a comer.

Up front the Tigers' scoring punch was limited to only four players, Butch Guthro, Jack Dorney, Bill Rankin and Doug Davidson. Dorney, the league's leading scorer, sank the indiarubber four times, but otherwise was not too impressive.

The Tigers were bouncing the smaller homesters every chance they had; extra hard workers in this department were Chub Brown, Elmer Lee and Jack Gair. Lee started the game's only rumpus, tangling with Nit O'Hearn. Lee smashed at Nit, starting a duel, then down went the sticks and gloves, and the fists connected. They were quickly separated.

Hamilton: Goal, Favelle; defence, Brown and McKenzie; centre, Lee; wings, McDonald and Love; rover, Guthro; alternates, Davidson, Rankine, Dorney, Stanley, Gair, Bracuk and Welsh.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Wipper and O'Hearn; centre, Mason; wings, Garbutt and Burns; rover, Slater; alternates, Thorpe, Killingbeck, Vitarelli, Nickle, Ashbee, Hildebrand and Robinson.

Referees, J. Murphy and P. Baim

Batawa Beaten By U.E.W. In Soccer Fray

Peterborough U. E. soccer team trounced Batawa F. C. 6-3 at Morrow Park, Saturday in an Eastern Ontario League fixture. The winners produced some excellent play from the start with the forwards threatening frequently, the visitors being lucky to hold the count to six.

Centre forward Bob Strong and outside left Andy Smith had a field day, each notching three goals, mainly through the efforts of the team as a whole.

U. E. went a goal up after four minutes on a pass from Andy Smith to Bob Strong. Batawa levelled the count after 10 minutes but Bob Strong came right back to score. However, it was ruled offside. Right after, Strong again scored from Andy Smith to make it 2-1. The home forwards played havoc with the visiting defence, but it was nearly half-time before they added a goal, Andy Smith ramming it in though he collided with the goalie and left with an injured wrist.

SCORED A DANDY

The second half opened with a nifty goal by Strong on a pass from John Holt. He raced down the field, eluding the opposing centre half and fullbacks to shoot on the run, then falling headlong.

Batawa drove in then and Bill Allen, making his debut as a goalkeeper had little chance on one that beat him. Andy Smith raised the tally to 5-2 and then 6-2 to get the second hat trick of the game in a first-class performance by a player newly over an appendix operation, besides suffering from a sore wrist.

In the last minutes of the match, Batawa battled fiercely and forced U.E. to concede a corner kick which their centre headed home.

Peterborough does not have a league fixture next Saturday, but travels to Batawa on Sept. 6, and will be at home to Kingston on Sept. 13 in the intermediate cup final.

Buffalo Downs Argonaut Eight

Kingston Quartette Winner of Trophy

BELLEVILLE — Charles Smart of Kingston skipped his rink to victory in the Corbin Silver Trophy men's trebles tourney on Saturday, with a high three game score of 53 plus 3. Gord Watkins' Belleville rink was second with a 51 plus 7 score, while Percy Graham's Belleville rink was third with 49 plus 9.

A Campbellford rink, skipped by "Wib" Kingston, claimed the high two-game honors with 52 plus 10, while Horace Ormshaw's Trenton rink was the one-game winner with a score of 41 plus 1.

P-W Club Wins In Cricket From Toronto

By C. H. IRESON

The local cricketers scored a substantial win over Toronto St. Edmund's "B" team here Saturday taking the last council match by eight wickets. The visitors batted first and had the score at 51 for five. Later batsmen did little against Frank Dyer's bowling, as he took it five wickets for 15 runs, the inning closing at 87.

H. Ward and F. Booth opened for Peterborough, the former going out with the total 18. A. Cotton joined Booth and they took the count to 72 before Cotton was out for an excellent 26, including four fours. Booth was joined by Cridland and they got the necessary runs, with Booth not out for a typical 36, not out. The team took this last match in council play by eight wickets, and have scored six, lost five and drawn one.

Their wins were over Grace Church "B", St. Edmund's (2), Parkdale "B" (2) and North Toronto, with a match with Avro "B" ruled a draw. All clubs in the council complete their schedule next Saturday, with averages released after that. The locals hope to arrange a friendly match for here next weekend.

The score:

Kingston Defeats Petes In 4-0 Central League Tilt

Blanking the Petes 4-0 here Saturday before a slim C.O.B.L. crowd, Kingston Monarchs crept closer to the second-place Belleville Redmen, and kept Peterborough from clinching first spot as the schedule nears a finish. The Petes have but one more game to play, against Kingston here next week, and can assure themselves of first place by winning it or if Belleville should drop one of their remaining two contests.

Norm Harry of the Monarchs threw four-hit ball and had fine support, including two twin killings, to earn the win in a snappy tilt lasting little more than an hour and a half. Gunner Ed Whitehill pitched excellent ball for three frames for Petes but was bingled in the fourth for four runs, and Lefty Bill Dadson finished in airtight fashion. Each side kicked in with but one miscue, the difference being in the timely Kingston thumping.

THE BIG HEAT

McCormick led off the fourth with a double and Gilmour drew a walk. Levandoski's two-bagger scored one and sent the other to third. Both counted on White's ringing triple to left after one was out. An infield hit by Stinson sent in the fourth and final run of the game. Apart from that inning, only one runner got as far as third and only one to second. The Petes threatened in the fifth and sixth with a man on third but couldn't break the egg.

Jerry McCormick, Joe Levandoski and Wally Stinson led the K's at bat with two for four each, and Jack White drove in two. Arn Dugan had one for two to lead the Stewart squad, Joe Lowrey tripled to right and Bill Edger and Freddy Garvey got the other hits. Double plays for Kingston by Deans to Gilmour, and by McCormick and White, along with a running catch by Lowrey for the locals, were fielding features in a speedy struggle. Each side left but four stranded. Box score:

Cobourg Ties Semi-Final Series

COBOURG — Cobourg Legionnaires, miracle team of the Lakeshore Baseball League, came from behind Saturday to beat Whitby Merchants 6-5, and tie the semi-final series at two games each. Final game will be played in Whitby on Monday.

Legionnaires, trailing 4-1, were delivered from elimination by Clark Harnden. In a prolonged slump he snapped out of it and drove in three runs, with a triple and double, as well as scoring a fourth. Jerry Lawless, winner of the first game, went the route. Lawless had real trouble with only one batter, Neal, who turned in a single, double, triple, and home run.

Newmarket Defeats Port Hope With Rally

NEWMARKET — Newmarket Optimists, trailing 9-3 in the third, unleashed a torrent of run scoring in the late innings to crush Port Hope 19-9 here Saturday afternoon in a first round O.B.A. bantam baseball playdown contest.

Pitcher Don Thomas' grand slam homer in the fourth started the Optimists on the way back, nine runs in the fifth off three hits, three walks and three errors, wrapped up the game. Ron Foote led Port Hope with three hits, while Don Thomas and Bill Cain socked homers Lorne Babcock a triple and Bill Wilson a double for Newmarket.

Malcolm Hanover Wins At Thorncliffe

TORONTO (CP)—Malcolm Hanover, owned by Ken McKinnon of Owen Sound, showed his supremacy Saturday when he won the $2,000 invitation pace at Thorncliffe Raceway.

Malcolm Hanover won the first heat with such ease that, on orders of the management, he was removed from the wagering pools in the second heat. He won both heats with his driver, Bill Simmons, simply looking back at the field.

The wagering winner of the second heat was The Diplomat, owned by Alex Parsons of London and Brantford. The Diplomat was nowhere in the first dash but finished with good courage the last time.

BRITAIN BEATS FRANCE

PARIS (AP)—Britain yesterday won the 21st Anglo-French athletic meet, piling up 120 points to France's 85.

LAWN BOWLING

FLYERS FIRE BRUNETEAU

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Modere Bruneteau, who coached St. Louis Flyers to fourth place in the western division of the American Hockey League last season, was fired Saturday. Emory Jones, club president, gave no reason for Bruneteau's dismissal other than that "he did not fit into the Flyers' plans."

THEY SPARKED THE CHAMPS — Dootch Vitarelli, right, and Harry Wipper sparked the Petes' lacrossers here Saturday night to the senior O.L.A. title once more. These two hard-working forwards contributed 10 goals in the 22-9 triumph, each hitting the net five times, besides setting up scoring plays for teammates.

Athletics Make Playoffs By Edging Mounties 14-13

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

St. Catharines made sure of the last playoff position in the Ontario Lacrosse Association's Senior League by edging Mimico Mounties in a nip-and-tuck game 14-13.

St. Catharines and the Mounties were 4-4 at the end of the first quarter, 8-7 to Mimico at the half and were 10-10 at the start of the final quarter. St. Catharines scored four goals in two minutes of the final quarter to give them their narrow margin. Max Wooly was top Athletic scorer with four and Bob Chard and Denny Peterson took three each for the Mounties.

PLAYOFFS ANNOUNCED

Chuck Rowan, league secretary, in announcing playoff dates, said if any games are rained out, they will be played the next night in the same town or city—Sunday excepted. All games will be played to a decision, he said.

Westland Wins Golf Crown In Seattle Tilt

SEATTLE (AP)—Jack Westland, a beaten finalist 21 years ago, became United States amateur golf champion Saturday.

The 47-year-old Everett, Wash., insurance man, turned back the repeated challenges of Al Mengert, 23, of Spokane, Wash., to win 3 and 2, in the 36-hole all-northwest final.

Westland shot superb golf throughout.

In 1931, Westland went to the final of the amateur championship and took a 6-and-5 beating from Francis Ouimet. Since then, he hasn't been able to get past the third round until this year.

Westland is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from his district and decided to play only because the tournament is being held in his home state. He even mixed campaigning with golfing, making speeches at night after playing during the day.

Fielding Gives Brooks Edge Subdue Cards 10-4, Breaking League Record

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Know what's keeping the Yankees and Dodgers in first place? Pitching- Nope. Hitting? Nope. Then what is it? It's the fielding. Today, with fewer than 40 days to go, the Dodgers own a comfortable 8½-game bulge over St. Louis Cardinals in the National League race and the Yankees have a two-game edge on Cleveland Indians in the American.

And it hasn't been the Dodger hitting nor the Yankee pitching as much as their fielding that has been responsible.

By completing a double play yesterday in routing the Cardinals 10-4, to snap St. Louis' eight-game winning streak, the Dodgers broke a league record, completing a twin killing in their 19th consecutive game. The American League mark of 25 was set by Boston Red Sox last year.

CAME FROM BEHIND

The Yankees yesterday came from behind to nip Detroit Tigers 4-3 and pick up a full game on the Indians who dropped a 16-inning 9-8 marathon to the Senators in Washington.

By way of comparison, the Indians committed seven errors and handed the Nats seven unearned runs. The Redbirds made three bobbles to pave the way for three unearned Dodger runs.

Two ninth-inning Giant errors gave Cincinnati two unearned runs and a 5-4 first-game decision. The Giants won the second game halted at the end of seven innings by darkness, 6-3.

BOSOX MOVE UP

Boston's third-place Red Sox moved within four games of the Yankees, sweeping a pair from St. Louis Browns, 2-1 in 10 innings and 12-1. Philadelphia's Athletics clung to fourth place by one percentage point, dividing a doubleheader with the White Sox. The A's came back to take the second game 5-1 after the White Sox had taken an 11-7 opening slugfest.

Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs split a twin bill as did Pittsburgh and Boston Braves. The Phils swamped the Cubs 14-4 behind Russ Meyer after Warren Hacker had outpitched Robin Roberts for a 3-0 Chicago decision. The Braves took a 10-inning 5-3 win with Ralph Kiner hammering his 28th home run to give Pittsburgh's rookie Ron Neccial his first major league victory in the opener, 4-3.

ERUPT FOR 4 RUNS

The Yankees erupted for four runs in the eighth after rookie Billy Hoeft baffled them with five hits and no runs through seven innings to overcome a 2-0 deficit.

A bases-loaded walk to pinch-hitter Johnny Mize with two out followed by Irv Noren's pinch double that cleared the bases gave Ed Lopat his sixth victory.

It took the Dodgers just two innings to cool off the Cardinals as Preacher Roe rolled to his 10th triumph. The Brooks broke through starter Joe Presko for three runs in the first and three more in the second to clinch the victory.

Earl Rapp's bases-loaded single off Early Wynn with none out in the 16th scored Jerry Snyder to bring victory to Washington. The Indians had forced the game into extra innings on Luke Easter's three-run homer in the ninth, his second of the game and his 22nd of the year.

Manager Lou Boudreau, in the role of a pinch hitter, drove in the Red Sox' winning run in the 10th inning of the opener with a squeeze bunt. Homers by Clyde Vollmer and Hoot Evers accounted for six Boston runs in the nightcap.

6 Bison Homers Put Skids Under Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The easiest and quickest way to score is by hitting ball out of the park, and so the boys in the International League took out their home run clubs yesterday and used them unmercifully on the pitchers.

Frank Carswell, who hit only eight round-trippers all last year, blasted three homers in succession to lead Buffalo Bisons to a 12-7 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs. In addition to Carswell's feat, the Bisons belted three more to account for nine of their tallies.

The long-ball sluggers were Joe Erautt, Milt Zernia and even pitcher Milt Jordan chipped in with a homer. Eddie Stevens rapped his 24th homer for the Leafs and Pete Pavlick whacked another. Carswell's trio gave him 24 for the season.

The win put the Bisons only a half-game behind fourth-place Toronto.

WING DEFEAT CHIEFS

Steve Bilko's first-frame grand-slam home run got Rochester Red Wings off flying as they defeated Syracuse Chiefs 10-7. Bob Holloman was the victim of the early spree, suffering his seventh defeat as against 13 victories. The Chiefs chased starter Jack Faszholz in the eighth while they were scoring four runs but Bobby Tiefenauer came in to save the game by serving a double-play ball to pinch hitter Johnny Welaj with the bases loaded and one out.

Vince Gohl and Jocko Thompson locked up in a southpaw duel which went 14 innings before Stan Jok slammed his eighth round-tripper to decide the contest for Ottawa Athletics 3-2 over Baltimore Orioles. Gohl, the winner, gave up only one walk, Gohl fanning six, Thompson eight. Lou Limmer accounted for the other A's runs with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Montreal's Royals behind the smooth-pitching Hamp Coleman downed Springfield Cubs 4-2. Coleman posted his ninth victory for the league-leaders, although he needed help from Jim Hughes to get the last out. It was Montreal's 16th victory over the Cubs as they concluded their season series.

EASY WIN FOR RIDERS

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders, Grey Cup finalists last year, started off the 1952 season in the Western Interprovincial Football union by drubbing Edmonton Eskimos 25-5 Saturday night. The Riders played as if they'd never heard that Eskimos had been picked as the team to beat in the west this year.

GAELIC GALAHAD—Giant-sized Dennis of Bally Kelly, an Irish Wolfhound, takes command of the situation to protect three-year-old Shannon Gilkey from any unwanted attentions near her home in Seattle, Wash. Shannon's only fear is that the 165-pound protector might decide to become a lap dog and choose her for his resting place.

Shopkeepers Band Together To Refuse Discounts For Groups

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (CP)—All shop-keepers in the city of Bloemfontein have banded together to refuse discounts to organized groups of consumers.

They claim their new 10-year agreement puts a stop to a practice which has menaced the stability of commerce for many years.

In many cities of South Africa groups of employees, especially public servants, have long banded together to get special reductions from merchants. In Pretoria for instance it has been estimated that such group sales at big discounts cost the shop-keepers around £100,000 a year.

The buyers' groups argue that they consolidate consumer credit and increase the retailer's turnover. But the retailers believe they can get along without the help of such associations. They do not agree that a larger turnover gives the retailer an advantage.

TEMPTING BAIT

Originally the buyers' groups worked on the theory of offering a tempting bait to a limited number of shops. In return for a discount, the associations understood to direct their members to those shops and no others.

The shop-keepers' spokesmen now say that all this is lost in the progress of events. Today virtually every shop-keeper of importance has been compelled to enter into such contracts, or suffer a loss in trade.

OPEN TO ALL

In Bloemfontein at present, for instance, there are buyers' associations open to anyone. Their total members make up more than a quarter of the population.

Even where membership of such an association is theoretically restricted to the employees of a particular government branch of municipal department, "it is commonly known that friends of members use the facilities freely," says one retailer.

The fact that independent cash-paying customers pay more for their purchases than the credit-seekers association members is regarded as a serious reflection on commercial ethics.

The Bloemfontein retailers, taking determined steps against the practice, are encouraged by similar efforts in some cities previously. Cape Town and Durban for instance have successfully prevented the development of such associations on a large scale.

Charge Youth Steals Jeep At Kingston

OTTAWA — (CP) — Benny Shannon, 18, of Saint John, N.B., was arrested here yesterday and charged with stealing an army jeep from Kingston Saturday — the same day he applied for enlistment in the army. Police said he drove the jeep from Kingston to Ottawa and then told his story to a constable. Shannon was taken to Kingston.

Missing Children Found

BRACEBRIDGE (CP) — David Geugo, 3, missing since Saturday near Three Mile Lake, 19 miles northwest of here, was located yesterday after a 15-hour search by 200 persons. The boy did not appear to be affected by the ordeal. His face and hands showed he had been eating blackberries and he indicated he had slept, taking his shoes and socks off.

Held On Baby Charge

PORT DOVER (CP) — Walter Chomas, 40, wanted in Toronto with his wife Mildred, 24, on charges of abandoning an infant, gave himself up to police Saturday. Police picked up Mrs. Chomas in a Simcoe restaurant yesterday and took the couple to Toronto. They are said to be the parents of a four-weeks-old baby found alone in a Toronto hotel Thursday.

Find Lost Youngster

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Two Ridgetown 'teen-agers, missing since they went to the Ridgetown fair Thursday night, were located late last night in Owen Sound. Provincial Police throughout Ontario had been looking for Jane Korycan, 14, and Robert Carron, 16. It was not immediately known how the pair reached Owen Sound, but it is believed they hitch-hiked.

10,000 Veterans Fete At Toronto Exhibition

TORONTO— (CP).— Men who fought for Canada in three wars—some 10,000 of them were cheered and feted Saturday at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Gates of the world's biggest annual fair were thrown open to active and veteran members of the armed forces and their families for the 73rd Warriors' Day.

Brig. John M. Rockingham, former commander of the 25th Brigade in Korea, now Director-General of Military Training, took the salute in the warriors' parade.

Some 281,500 persons jammed the grounds Saturday, 7,000 more than visited the C.N.E. on the same day last year.

Die In Cave

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—Five youths who explored a guano cave yesterday died shortly after leaving it and their six companions were reported seriously ill. Dr. Isauro Ancira, of the El Mante Hospital, said the disease seemed to be due to breathing the dust of the cave.

Dangerous Driving

TORONTO — (CP). — Police charged Charles W. Laffin of Kitchener with dangerous and careless driving following a car crash Saturday in nearby Oakville. A passenger in the other car, Mrs. Sidney Ashly, 40, of Toronto, suffered with head and chest injuries.

Mnay Firemen Overcome

MONTREAL (CP)—Some 20 firemen were overcome by smoke yesterday as they battled a blaze which broke out in the Montreal Welfare Association Building in the west end. Thirteen required hospital treatment.

Deputy Sheriff, Boy Scouts Add Details of Strange Object

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. (AP) A deputy sheriff and two boy scouts added details Saturday to a scoutmaster's story of his encounter with a strange object in a rural wooded area last Tuesday night.

They told of scorched grass, strange lights and showers of sparks in the area where D. S. Desvergers said he was "blasted by a ball of fire" from the object when he investigated flashes of light near a country road.

Desvergers, 30, hardware salesman, has described the object he encountered as shaped "like half a rubber ball," about three feet thick at the edges and high enough at the centre for men to stand erect inside.

MIGHT CAUSE PANIC

He told Palm Beach reporters that he knows what the object was, but added: "It's better for me not to go any further for the public good because it might cause panic."

Desvergers reported he was taking three scouts home Tuesday night when he stopped to investigate the lights in nearby woods. He said he was blasted by the ball of fire and overcome.

Deputy Sheriff Mott N. Partin, summoned by the scouts, said the hair was singed off Desvergers' arms and three tiny holes were burned in his cap. He also said he found evidence of scorched grass where the scoutmaster said he encountered the object.

The scouts said the group saw a "big glow-white light come down out of the sky" and "there were about six reddish lights around it when it neared the ground."

JUMBLED NAME CONTEST

RULES OF THE CONTEST

Each week in the centre space of this heading, the name of some advertiser on this page will be shown with the letters jumbled. Contestants' task is to unscramble them, and show correct name on entry form at right. To qualify for the contest, a receipt must be attached to each entry as proof of purchase made this week from any firm co-operating in this feature. Contestants can make as many entries as desired so long as a purchase receipt is attached to each one. Awarding of prizes from all correct and eligible solutions received during the week, fifteen will be drawn and prizes awarded accordingly. Send entries to Jumble Letter Contest Editor, c/o this paper, to be received not later than Friday.

The Elkos came here from Ohio last year with their family, Joanne, 21 (centre left), and Carrol, 11, (centre right) and moved into their new home in April. Much of the furniture was saved and loaded on to trucks (bottom right). Jim Elko (near the springs) and his wife Doris (bottom right) lived at the rear of the house but were in Peterborough when the fire was discovered by Derek Hinks (lower left). —(Examiner Staff Photos).

$6,000 Fire Destroys New House On River Rd. Most of Belongings Saved

Bucket Brigade Helpless To Fight Flames As House In Otonabee Township Quickly Disappears In Roar of Flames

Fire which broke out in the upstairs about 5 p.m. Saturday destroyed a new $6,000 house on River Road south, leaving six people homeless. A hastily organized bucket brigade was helpless in its efforts to save the 10-room one-and-a-half storey frame building from the flames, but they were successful in getting out most of the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Elko and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elko.

No one was in the house when Derek Hinks saw smoke coming from one of the upstairs windows as he approached the rear of the Elko house in a boat.

The Elko's 11-year-old daughter Carrol was on the beach nearby, and when Mr. Hinks saw the smoke he hauled the boat on shore and dashed into the house. Stopped by the flames and smoke as he attempted to get upstairs, he then phoned the Peterborough fire department.

Otonabee township has no fire protection of its own, and has no arrangement with Peterborough to provide protection to suburban homes on the outskirts of the city.

SAVED FURNITURE

The fire quickly attracted a crowd of nearly a hundred people. It was soon evident that it would be impossible to save the house. So everyone concentrated on getting out the furniture. They managed to get practically all the furniture and belongings out of the downstairs rooms.

After saving as much of the Elko's belongings as possible, the volunteers concentrated on preventing the flames from spreading to nearby houses and carried water from the river a few feet away to squelch burning embers from the blazing house which dropped into grass and lumber piled nearby. In spite of their efforts, however, some of the furniture was damaged by flying sparks.

The fire sparked an outburst of criticism directed at Otonabee council, from the men fighting the fire and others who were attracted to watch.

"It's a dirty shame for a man to lose his life's savings when there is a fire department 20 minutes away which could have saved it," said Gordon Hamblin.

Several who were on the spot shortly after the fire was discovered agreed Peterborough Fire Department could have saved the house. However, the Peterborough Fire Department is not permitted to go outside the city limits.

NEED PROTECTION

The concensus was that this is a ridiculous situation, and that Otonabee Council should provide fire protection for residents living just outside the city limits by either getting equipment of its own, or better still, making an arrangement with Peterborough City Council to obtain protection for suburban homes.

"Otonabee township knows how to raise taxes enough," added Mr. Hamblin. Several others in the crowd voiced similar comments.

"I'd be in the same boat if my house caught fire," said another man who lives nearby. If the township would even provide a portable gas engine and pump, residents along the river would have some protection, was another suggestion. The township's failure to provide protection such as that enjoyed by Smith township and a couple of other townships surrounding the city moved still another man to remark that as taxpayers they had to pay "high taxes," but received absolutely no services whatever from the township.

Jim Elko and his wife Doris who lived in an apartment at the rear of his parents' home, were in Peterborough shopping, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Elko had just left the house about 10 minutes to five, Mr. Elko said. He estimated that this must have been about 10 or 15 minutes before the fire was first noticed.

HERE FROM OHIO

For him the loss was a bitter one. A tinsmith, Mr. Elko brought his family here from Newbury, Ohio, a year ago last June. The new home was not yet completely finished and he and his wife Rita, and daughters Carrol and Joanne, and his son Jim and his wife had only moved in last April. The only bright spot was that all the furniture in the downstairs was saved and he had about $4,000 insurance on the house and contents. He had invested all his savings in the house and now, will have to start all over again.

Bill Hamblin passed a hat around among the crowd which assembled and collected a substantial amount of money to help out the victims. All the Elko family expressed their gratefulness to the many who helped save their belongings and for the money which was collected to help them get a fresh start.

By the time the fire was dying down, there were several trucks which had come along and the drivers volunteered to take the furniture away from the roadside where it had been dropped by the volunteers who carried it out of the burning house.

The furniture was taken to the garage of Gordon Hamblin, a brother-in-law of the Elkos on Lansdowne Street. Mr. Hamblin operates a tourist camp and the Elkos spent the night in cabins there.

"Premier Bowlers" Holding Tournament

Peterborough could boast of having the premier bowling club in Ontario.

That's what Herb Martin says, "only there's no sense in boasting. It is just a fact."

"I don't think people realize the position our club has held for years. We'll have 200 bowlers here on Wednesday for the Phillip Black Memorial mixed doubles. The club had to turn down 25 other applications from double rinks for this event. And they are the top bowlers of Ontario.

"It was the same turnout for the Liftlock men's doubles last month; couldn't accommodate all who wanted to come here.

"We'll start at 9.30 Wednesday of this week and be finished around 11 p.m. or later. We have greens for 48 rinks at once. The fact—the best bowlers in the province want to come here."

President of the Central Ontario Association is Lorne McDonnell, of Kingston.

Lindsay Hospital Board Promises Reply To Criticism

LINDSAY (ENS)—A reply will be forthcoming in the next two days from Ross Memorial Hospital board to a letter of criticism they received last week from the Victoria County Medical Society. The board has promised their response to the letter, despite its attitude of criticism, will not be in the least vindictive. Instead the reply would assume a constructive attitude.

The letter culminated a long period of criticism levelled at the board. It claimed there were major inadequacies in the operation of the hospital and expressed concern at the difficulty the board had in finding capable supervisory help.

POOR CONDITIONS

It stated that poor conditions and poor pay, combined with the heavy responsibility of the job, made it almost impossible to find a qualified person who has both business and nursing experience.

It was equally impossible, the letter said, to keep anyone with such qualifications on the staff.

The constant change and turnover of supervisors and staff, said the letter, had a demoralizing effect on the rest of the nursing staff.

Need for more trained nurses was another point in the letter. Examples of the staffing of the hospital on a typical day were cited, and these showed, said the letter, the lack of graduate nurses on duty.

This lack made it necessary to use student nurses, nurses' aides in positions of responsibility for which they were unsuited.

MAKE EXCUSES

Doctors of the society, the letter continued, "are called upon almost daily to pour oil on troubled waters. It has reached the point now where we cannot go on making excuses, for the public knows the real situation . . .

"We have the very definite feeling that the board is not seriously grappling with the problems at hand, that there is a very definite feeling on the part of the board to let things drift until stirred up by someone.

"The situation at the hospital is now so critical that we feel that unless very drastic changes are made in a very short time, serious consequences will result."

The society recommended the hiring of a supervisor for the hospital with business experience first and foremost, to enable the obtaining of a supervisor of nurses who would not have the added responsibility of running the business of the hospital.

The letter also recommended a drive for more trained personnel and for funds to provide more adequate services in the overcrowded hospital.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

Result of the reading of the letter at a meeting of the board of governors was the appointment of a committee to study the criticisms and to prepare a reply.

Ross Memorial Hospital was built in 1902 after Montreal millionaire James Ross offered to provide funds for a memorial to his parents, provided the county and the town would guarantee the hospital's maintenance.

The original capacity of the hospital, which has never been changed, was 52 patients. Admissions during the past few years have stood at 62 to 72 persons, seriously taxing the hospital's facilities.

Charles Levine Fined $4,750

Charles S. Levine was fined $4,750 and $2.50 costs or 18 months in jail today, for evading $5,131.12 in income and excess profit taxes in 1944 and 1946. Levine, proprietor of a George St. dress shop, pleaded guilty to the two charges when he was arraigned before Magistrate W. R. Philp a week ago on 10 charges of income tax evasion and attempting to evade compliance with the Income War Tax Act. At the beginning of the trial, special crown prosecutor George Bagwell of Toronto said he would be offering no evidence on four charges dealing with attempts to evade requirements of the Income War Tax Act.

OTHER CASES DROPPED

After Levine pleaded guilty to the two charges, Mr. Bagwell asked for a fine of $5,000 and Magistrate Philp adjourned the charges until today for sentence. When Magistrate Philp announced the amount of the fine he was imposing, Mr. Bagwell said, "In view of the disposition made in this case, the crown is offering no evidence on the remaining counts."

With the consent of T. J. Carley, who defended Levine, Mr. Bagwell introduced a summary, showing the total amount of Levine's tax arrears between 1941 and 1948 and also the amount in back taxes plus interest he had paid prior to the court hearing.

The amount of back taxes covered in the charges was $16,738.70 between 1943 and 1948. The charges alleged that Levine had evaded the income and excess profits taxes by making false statements on his income tax returns.

Mr. Bagwell told the magistrate that Levine had forwarded a certified cheque to the Receiver General for $21,000, covering the amount of the alleged evasion, plus $4,318.75 in accumulated interest.

National revenue inspector A. J. Braden said investigation of Levine's accounts revealed he understated his purchases in 1946 by $14,195.36. His reported taxable income for that year was $4,600.32 and Levine paid $712.43 in income tax that year, Mr. Braden said. His actual taxable income was $11,375.16 which meant Levine's income tax should have been $3,526.32.

In 1944 Mr. Braden said Levine reported a taxable income of $5,06[illegible]3 when he should have reported a taxable in come of $10,704.06 and in this way evaded $2,316.73 in taxes.

Magistrate Philp said the fine was made up of $3,000 for the amount evaded in 1946, and $1,750 for the offence in 1944.

The fine amounted to $376.62 less than the amount of income and excess profits taxes Levine pleaded guilty to evading in 1944 and 1946.

In speaking to sentence, Mr. Carley pointed out that the amount Levine had paid in interest on the tax he was charged with evading was 25 per cent of the amount owing, in itself a "pretty fair penalty."

WORRIES OF CONTRACTOR

J. Hubert Eastwood, builder of the Kenner Collegiate, has his worries. Last week in a big push to complete the school he ordered the supplier to ship by express the acoustic tile for the ceilings. He figured express was faster than freight, and he might save two or three days. The goods were shipped, but failed to arrive. Several days later the tile was traced to Wingham in Western Ontario. A truck was dispatched from Peterborough to retrieve the shipment.

Cars Crash, End Up On Lawn Of Church

A Belleville man was injured slightly early today when two cars collided at George and McDonnel Sts.

Considerable damage resulted to both cars, which ended up on the lawn of George St. United Church.

Hiram Lindell, R.R. 6, Belleville, was treated by Dr. Bob Young for a cut on top of his head and was admitted to hospital for observation.

Lindell was driving a car which was travelling east on McDonnel St. and was in collision with a northbound car on George St., driven by Herbert A. Thompson, 187 Antrim St.

The Lindell car went 45 feet after the impact, breaking down a highway sign, then went another 21 feet and broke down a sign on the church lawn.

The Thompson car continued in a northeasterly direction for 57 feet after the collision and also came to a stop on the church lawn.

Woman Wins Prize 2 Nights At Carnival

Luck was kind to Mrs. Harold Yelland, 579 Rogers St., at the Lions Club carnival both Friday and Saturday nights. Friday night she won the attendance prize of a coffee table and a set of silverware. Saturday night she won the other attendance prize, this time of $50.

Winner of the boat, motor and trailer offered as grand prize by the club was Lawrence McCarthy of Cobourg.

Otonabee Home Gutted By Morning Fire

The farm home of two Otonabee township brothers was burned to the ground Sunday morning. Cause of the fire is not known, and only an old piano and a chesterfield were saved.

The brothers, Raymond and Joseph Fitzgerald, were returning from mass when they saw their home afire. By that time—10.30 a.m.—the fire had a good grip on the house, and burned it to the ground in two hours.

A bucket brigade made a vain effort to halt the flames, but the fire's head start was too much for them. A frame summer kitchen at the rear of the home—on the eighth line of Otonabee north of Keene — was scorched, but not touched by the fire.

BRICK SHELL TOPPLED

For an hour after the worst of the fire was over, the brick shell of the two-storey home stood. Finally it toppled.

Damage has been estimated at $12,000 for the house alone, and several hundreds more for the furnishings. The brothers had recently installed a new refrigerator, and were putting in a new furnace.

For the time being the brothers are living at the home of Joseph Porter, a neighbor. Raymond's wife is with them. During the next few weeks, they intend to make the summer kitchen serve as a daytime home. They will continue to sleep at Mr. Porter's home until they build a new house.

Fair At Leipzig Propaganda Tool

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—Communism's biggest economic showcase is being dusted off again for another whirl at world trade.

It is the Leipzig Fair, created by German fur traders more than five centures ago, patronized by Saxonian kings, marveled at by foreign lands as German enterprise grew in international importance.

Now it is a rank display of Red propaganda.

Ever since the Second World War, the poverty-stricken Soviet zone has been trying to put Leipzig's fairs back into the business limelight. Despite what help the Russians and the satellites would give, the fair never has quite made the grade.

NO EXCEPTION

This year's fall fair, scheduled for Sept. 7-17, is not expected in Western commercial circles to be any exception. The East German managers admit that only seven Western countries have applied for exhibits at the fair—Great Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Austria and Morocco.

Business men maintain that so long as the arrogant East regards its currency as equal to the West-mark, the tag on any item bought through the Leipzig Fair exhibit is bound to be a fairly high price.

No amount of tub-thumping by Gerhart Eiseler, Red propaganda chief, has disguised the fact that business was poor the last two or three years and that the Communist world simply did not have enough wares of new or startling variety, ready for delivery.

Registration of only seven western countries so far has been like a dash of cold water to the Communists. It is particularly discouraging viewed from the expense involved in maintaining Leipzig Fair "offices" in 43 countries.

The 28 halls will be dominated, as a result, by the Soviet Union, Red China, East Germany and the satellite lands. Fair managers say it will have the latest machinery from the Soviet Union, including threshers, lathes, power shovels and drill presses. Silks from China, tapestries from the Balkans, machine tools from East Germany, and Chinaware make up the bulk of the exhibits planned.

East zone poster painters already are hard at work plastering Leipzig with signs bearing the legend of this year's theme song: "The construction of Socialism." The theme alone demonstrates how much of an all-East party it will be.

One of the more blatant acknowledgements that Leipzig is growing into a show window for the East only is the attitude toward the Western press. Last year, for the first time, the Communists refused to permit Western journalists to visit the fair. There has been as yet no invitations in sight for this year's fair.

One of the big aims of the fair this time is to impress East Germans with "the successes of planned Socialism." Unable to see anything else for comparison, the isolated East German may be impressed by any collection of goods.

Bedtime Snack solves laxative problem

"Constipation made me sullen all day. What a change since I started to use ALL-BRAN regularly! Even my wife notices it!" writes man from Ville Montmorency, Que. If you suffer from irregularity due to lack of bulk, try a bowlful of this toast cereal every night before bed. It may bring back the youthful regularity you thought long lost. ALL-BRAN is the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. It's high in protein and iron. Not habit-forming. Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Will Renew Attempts To Free Killer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Friends of Melville Wilkie, Ontario's "mad killer," captured here last April, will renew attempts to free him—at least temporarily—so he can marry his sweetheart here.

Wilkie, convicted in 1933 of burning his wife and child to death in their home at Owen Sound, now is in solitary confinement in the prison for the criminally insane at Penetanguishene. He was captured here after his fifth escape from prison.

EXPECTING CHILD

Friends here have learned that the 20-year-old girl who lived here with Wilkie for more than a year is expecting a child in December. They plan an appeal to federal and Ontario authorities, seeking a review of Wilkie's case.

"We will do everything we possibly can to see if he can be released, at least temporarily, to marry the girl," said A. Harrison, who was Wilkie's landlord in Vancouver.

"Surely the man is entitled to a review of the case after 19 years in custody."

Hold Annual Service

NAPANEE (CP)—The annual pilgrimage and service marking the drowning of a boatload of people in 1814 while on their way to the church was held yesterday at Hay Bay United Church, nine miles south of here. More than 1,000 persons, mostly of United Empire Loyalists stock, attended.

Constable Electrocuted

CREEMORE (CP)—Russell Free, 55, town constable, was killed yesterday when he touched a hydro wire while trimming a tree and fell to the street. Creemore is 25 miles northwest of Toronto.

Former Hotelman Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Walter Henry Thomas, 84, active in the hotel business for many years, died yesterday. At one time he was secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Chapter of the Hotel Greeters of America.

DIETING DADDY—No food with his meals for 59 days may win this husband and father $22,400. Sealed inside an 11-by-7-foot room in Brighton, England, Irish-American hypnotist Jack Wafer is cheered on by his wife Audrey and baby daughter Michelle as he begins his 20th day on a diet of soda water and cigarettes. He expects to drink 120 bottles of soda and smoke 3,500 cigarettes during his stay in the room which is furnished with a bed, two chairs, a radio and telephone. Wafer hopes to beat the previous fasting record of 58 days set by Germany's Willie Schmidt.

Jap Christians, Buddhists Fight Emperor Worship

By FRED SAITO

TOKYO (AP)—Leaders of Japan's few Christians and millions of Buddhists have joined forces in an extraordinary alliance to fight a possible revival of state-supported emperor worship.

Christians and Buddhists fear that now Japan is independent again, a new wave of nationalism may move shy, be-spectacled Emperor Hirohito back into his pre-war position as the high priest of Shinto, a demi-god on earth.

The outcry was touched off by the emperor's visits to the grand shrine at Ise, and to the tombs of two of his illustrious ancestors near Kyoto and Nara, to report the fact of Japan's new independence to the Shinto deities.

A statement, signed jointly by the Japan Christians' League, and by the Japan Buddhists' Association, was a blistering attack on the imperial journey.

"The emperor's act violated the occupation decree for the separation of Shinto from the state," the statement said.

"The emperor should not visit the shrine. . .if he does not wish to become a demi-god again to rule a 'divine' nation."

An editorial in Jinsha Shimpo, the official paper of the Shinto religion, said [illegible] of state of other countries where religions are separated from the state attend religious ceremonies.

"There are no reasons to object to the emperor's worship of his own religion."

Tokujiro Kanamori, one of Japan's top constitutional lawyers, said:

"As an individual, the emperor may enjoy the full freedom of faith. Actually, he owns Shinto sanctuaries in his palace as his personal property, and is entitled to officiate at any religious ceremony in his personal capacity.

"It is unthinkable that the people would again try to grasp the fanatic Shintoism and to consider Japan a divinely-ordained land simply because the emperor worships at the grand shrine."

Although many Christians and Buddhists have joined hands to fight a revival of state Shinto, their motives are different.

FEAR HOSTILITY

Christianity, with only about 2,500 churches and hardly more than 325,000 members, fears an ultimate return of government hostility to missionaries.

Buddhism, by far Japan's leading religion with 108,000 temples and 42,000,000 members, does not fear persecution but is still jealous of pre-war financial support of Shinto shrines as part of the state religion.

Over-riding all differences is the fear that the old militant shinto may revive again as a sinister faith manipulated by the military and the ultra-nationalists.

CADETS IN ENGLAND—During their exchange tour of Britain, Canadian air cadets visited historic Welbeck Abbey which houses the unique silver and gold plate collection of Lord Portland. Here, Cadets Harold Pinck, Verdun, William Tate, Parry Sound, Ont., and Allen Clausen, Kimberley, B.C., examine the silver cup from which Charles I received communion before his execution.

Ask Fair Press Treatment In All Labor Disputes

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada said Saturday newspapers should be compelled to publish statements dealing with both sides of a labor dispute when they have run a statement from one side.

At its annual convention, the Congress adopted a resolution asking for federal legislation laying down that:

"Any newspaper in Canada publishing the prepared statement of either side in a labor dispute must make a similar amount of space, at least as prominently located in the newspaper, available to the other party concerned at a similar price and without delay."

The resolution said there have been cases where "newspapers published the employers' message to the public but refused to print that of the union concerned."

Art Thieves Out Of Business Today

By CYNTHIA LAWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—That glamor aristocrat of yesterday's underworld—the sauve art thief—is a dead duck today. But that doesn't mean the museums, dealers and private collectors are leaving windows unlocked at night.

The art world made it so difficult for professional thieves that a hot Old Master is one of the least negotiable pieces of loot imaginable. As the pros turned elsewhere for a fast buck, a different type of criminal—the crank and the fumbling amateur—moved in to give owners of objects d'art a headache. Occasionally, the new crooks succeed in snatching valuable paintings.

"Not much stealing of art has been going on for the last 15 years," explains J. R. Beisel, of the Traveler's Insurance Company, which handles considerable Old Master business in this country.

TOO TRACEABLE

"Those things are too traceable. Anyone who buys such things doesn't want to put them in vaults, out of sight. They want to hang them for their own pleasure and that of friends. Almost every art treasure today is pretty well catalogued and people know where they are."

Probably the most celebrated theft of a famous painting was that of da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" from the Louvre in 1911. The thief was an Italian, Vincenzo Perugia, a workman for the picture-cleaning firm at the museum.

Arrested two years later when he offered it for sale to a dealer, Perugia explained he's done it as revenge against Napoleon I, who had raided Italy's art treasures as a conquering general.

In 1939, a Russian-born artist in Paris received a two-year jail sentence for Old Master stealing. He slipped Watteau's "L'Indifferent"—valued at $200,000—from its frame. He returned it two months later, explaining he was "disgusted" with the museum's restoration methods and had taken the painting to do the job himself in his attic studio.

HIDDEN 25 YEARS

The famous Gainsborough "Duchess of Devonshire" was stolen from a London gallery before the turn of the century by an American thief, Adam Worth. He smuggled it out of the country in a false-bottomed trunk and hid it 25 years.

Sometimes cranks destroy art. Early in 1945 a 29-year-old man mutilated nine valuable paintings in the Yale University art gallery because the faces in the paintings resembled persons who had threatened to do harm to his mother.

Nowadays its even hard for the spur-of-the-moment thief or vandal to get his hands on art treasure. Most museums and galleries have a maximum of guards, electric eyes and a complicated electric alarm system designed to go off when there is any tampering.

Reporter Tries Out Sorcerer He Has Something, But What?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A recent new story from Italy announced the Mago (which means sorcerer) of Naples had treated Maestro Arturo Toscanini with "psychic magnetism." To learn more about a man who could win the attention of the famous with his odd therapy, we sent a reporter to the Mago's office to learn more. This is his report).

By JAMES E. PARLATORE

ROME (AP)—The Sorcerer of Naples, white-haired Achille d'Angelo, struck me apparently without even touching me.

He said he did it with his "psychic magnetism."

A welt over my eye proved I was hit, and it hurt. How he did it I could not see. He was behind me when I was struck.

A patient whom I had picked at random from his waiting room, was a witness. He swore d'Angelo, known here as the "Mago di Napoli", or "Sorcerer of Naples", did not touch me.

The sorcerer claims to have cured many famous persons with his "magnetic psychic force". They include Maestro Arturo Toscanini, who had a stiff knee, former Queen Mary Jose of Italy and Princess Aspasia of Greece, both of whom suffered eye trouble, Conductor Bernardino Molinari who suffers from a nervous depression.

I wanted to see how he works so I asked for the "treatment".

The stocky, round-faced man too me into a small, poorly ventilated room in the Rome's Hotel Plaza. An empty mineral water bottle was under his chair. A bottle of eau de Cologne occupied a prominent place on a small table at which we sat.

D'Angelo asked me to place my hands, palms down, on the table.

"Shut your eyes tightly," he ordered.

I shut one eye but kept the other slightly opened to watch him in action.

D'Angelo hunched over me, wiggled his fingers and made all sorts of motions.

I felt nothing. I saw him motion to the witness to watch me closely. Then, d'Angelo went behind me. I felt a sharp blow over my left eye, another on the top of my head and another on the back of my neck.

Several puffs of cool air hit me as though an electric fan was aimed my way.

HAD WELT

When the "treatment" was over, I had a welt over the left eye.

"What does this prove?" I asked.

"Did you feel the blows?" he asked. "I didn't lay a hand on you. I just showed my God-given gift . . .my human electric shock."

"Try it on someone else," I urged, rubbing the welt over the eye.

He called in 73-year-old Professor Molinari, who has conducted the New York Philharmonic and other large musical organizations during his 18 years in the United States.

D'Angelo hunched over the musician and began his finger hocus-pocus as he had done to me. I could see the muscles of Molinari's hands twitch. D'Angelo motioned to me to stand with him behind the conductor.

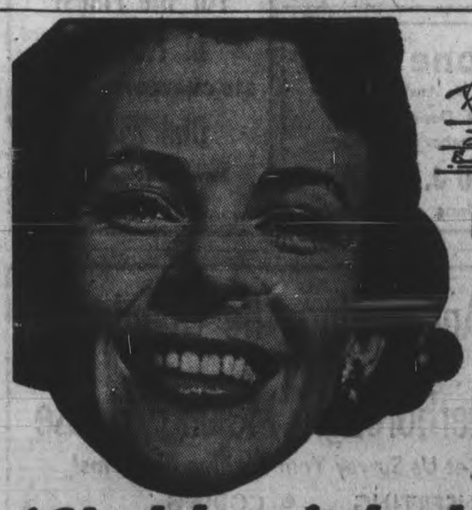
He was less than a foot from Molinari when he pretended to strike the patient. He aimed at the conductor's head, stopped inches short of it, yet Molinari's head bobbed as though he had been struck.

D'Angelo then asked me to point to any spot on the professor. I pointed to his back. The sorcerer made a motion toward that spot with a clenched fist. Molinari jerked as though he had been struck.

"Unless my patients have a doctor's certificate," d'Angelo said. "I don't handle them".

He claims some 2,000 doctors in Italy sent patients to him. He displayed a large bundle of doctors' letters recommending patients to him.

"I'm no phony," he said. "I work for humanity."



As I left, a cross-eyed man came in for a treatment.

I waited outside the hotel for that patient to come out. When he did, he was still cross-eyed.

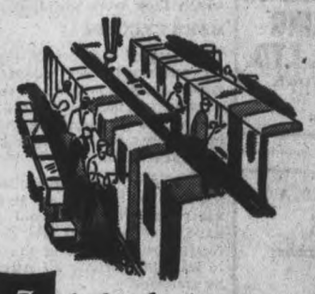
What do millions of people own that...



1 helps break traffic bottlenecks?

Life insurance — because a large part of the money that people put aside in life insurance is invested in ways that help provide new roads and bridges . . . as well as new homes, stores, waterworks, power plants and other aids to better living.

2 aids science's battle against disease?

Life insurance — through several important medical research projects which are supported wholly or in part by funds contributed by life insurance companies. As a result, chances of living longer, healthier lives are being increased for all Canadians.

3 helps keep Canada strong?

Again—life insurance! The money set aside by millions of policyholders plays an important part in financing Canada's industrial economy. And this, in turn, strengthens it and provides essential support for the nation's defence program.

4 sends boys and girls to college?

This is another important job that life insurance does — while also providing money for family emergencies. Some other important uses: retirement income, mortgage repayment, business insurance.

May Debate Legislation With Throne Speech Reply

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament may be asked to break with tradition soon by debating legislation concurrently with the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. The government is understood to be considering this as one way to speed Parliament's work which has been keeping members in session anywhere from four to eight months.

Canada has followed the tradition that the throne-speech debate be completed before the Commons studies bills implementing the government's legislative program. The legislation is forecast in the Speech from the Throne, read by the Governor-General at the opening of Parliament.

DEBATE LENGTHY

Parliament approves this general outline by adopting an Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. Debate on the Address generally stretches over a six- or eight-week period.

This debate covers a wide range of subjects. It gives members a chance to talk about particular problems of their constituency. The result is that they have a heavy load of work piled up on the legislative agenda for the remainder of the session.

It is understood that the government has laid down a deadline at which all legislation must be ready to go before Parliament.

MONTH IN ADVANCE

This deadline is reported to be one month before Parliament assembles, scheduled for Nov. 20 this year.

If the government departments meet this deadline, the government may bring down its full legislative program a day or two after the Throne Speech is ready by the Governor-General.

Another method of coping with the heavy load of work in Parliamentary business is to split the session, calling Parliament together in November. After an adjournment for Christmas and New Year's, members probably could wind up business by the end of May.

TO SPLIT SESSION

Parliament will follow that plan this year. The present session, adjourned since early July, will be prorogued Nov. 20 and a new session started the following day.

This procedure is being followed to allow members to get through their work in time to attend Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June.

However, it is understood that Prime Minister St. Laurent favors adopting this as a permanent practice.

Campbellford Chief Placed In Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD — (ENS) — Chief Constable George H. Hardy has been taken to Kingston General Hospital where he will remain for a week or so under observation for a heart condition.

The Chief was advised by his doctor to take a much needed rest after he suffered a seizure in his office. He has been granted a leave of absence until a thorough check can be made as to his condition.

In the absence of the chief, the town is being policed by Constable (W. E. (Fred) Cargin, who is working both the night and the day shift. Constable Cargin formerly looked after the night patrol while the chief was on duty during the day.

25 Fatalities Reported Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Twenty-five persons were killed in weekend accidents in Eastern Canada. Thirteen died in traffic accidents and six were drowned.

The six eastern provinces claimed 33 lives last weekend.

This weekend Ontario counted 15 deaths, Quebec nine and Nova Scotia one.

A light plane crashed into a backyard in Toronto's crowded west-central section, killing both the pilot and passenger. An auto-truck collision in Quebec killed five persons.

FIVE DROWNED

Drowned in Ontario: Robert Brooks, 36, of Detroit, in the Detroit River near Amherstburg; Stanley Hotz, 21, of Sarnia in Lake Huron; Susan Moon, 3, in the rain-filled cellar of a barn near Toronto; Ella Magdalen, 61, of Kitchener, in Hofstetter Lake near Kitchener; Thomas A. Rooney of Toronto in Lake Ontario near Belleville.

Killed in traffic: Albert McCauley, 41, of Rockland near Ottawa; Roy Godden, 58, of Hamilton near his home; Anton Matson, 65, near his home in Port Arthur; Velma Howald, 16, of Lucknow.

Russell Free, 55, was killed when he touched a live hydro wire while trimming a tree in front of his home in Barrie. Murray North, 14, was crushed to death when the tractor he was driving turned over at Florence, near London. Anthony Kozlowski, 47, was found dead at the foot of the basement stairs in his Toronto home. Jacqueline Masse, 20, of Windsor, was killed when a wrecked car toppled on her at the scene of an accident. Charles McKay, 38, and John Pretner, 30, of Toronto were burned to death when their light plane crashed in downtown Toronto.

QUEBEC ACCIDENTS

Killed in Quebec traffic accidents: Dr. Francois Langelier of St. Simon, Mrs. Paul Emile Plouffe of St. Hughes and her three children, Francine, 11, Guy, 7, and Real, 5, at St. Hughes; Ludger Tremblay, 37, of Stoneham near his home; Richard Voisell, 9, and Ernest Lunn, 17, both of Montreal.

Bossey Walker, 6, was drowned when he fell into a water-filled quarry near his home in the Montreal suburb of Pointe Aux Tremles.

The body of Roderick MacDougall, 60, was found on the main railway track at Barrachois, N.S., 40 miles from Sydney. He was last seen getting off the train Friday night.

VICTORY WAVE—Cliff Lumsden, 21-year-old Toronto salesman, has energy enough to wave at well-wishers after winning the Canadian National Exhibition 10-mile swim. It was his third victory in the gruelling race. He won $5,000 first prize and $200 in lap prizes.

Israel Building High Hopes On Oil Discoveries

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

TEL AVIV (AP)—Optimists hope the oil, copper and other minerals under the sandy wastes of the "Negev" may be Israel's gold mine of tomorrow.

The recent passing of an oil bill by parliament in Jerusalem, the conclusion of various agreements with mineral-seeking companies and the forthcoming dispatch of Negev mineral samples to the Bari (Italy) Fair have added more fuel to the flames of great expectations.

Engineer M. Novomeysky—founder and managing director of the former "Palestine Potash Company" and the honorary president of its successor firm—cautioned that much drilling, boring, probing and analyzing is still needed before the over-all economic profitability of large-scale Negev exploration can be assessed.

The geological evidence gives sufficient positive indication of the presence of oil in the country, Novomeysky says. Whether or not, however, there are large oil reserves in commercial quantities can only be proved by deep borings, he adds.

The Israel government has invited prospective concessionnaires to begin these borings, and several are expected to start soon including the joint Ampal (New York) Oil Company.

As for copper, Novomeysky says that in a relatively small area a copper ore-mass containing some 20,000 to 25,000 tons of metal has been ascertained, and he thinks that the average percentage of metal in the large deposits is not discouraging.

The preparations for copper mining and extracting are proceeding at a quick pace. Experts of the concessionary firm, the "Belgo-Continentale," are now looking for the most promising sites and the building of the kilns is expected at the beginning of the winter.

There are also about 1,000,000 tons of manganese in an isolated area to the north-east of Israel's copper deposits. But Novomeysky warns the question whether the cost of excavation, concentration and transport may not be too high, should also be investigated.

There are iron-ore deposits in the sand stone formations between Bedrsheba and the Dead Sea, but exploitation demands accessibility of the site for cheap mining and transport as well as low-priced fuel. And no coal deposits have ever been found in Israel or in pre-war Palestine.

A very promising mineral in the Negev is the phosphate found in large quantities in the "Machtesh Hagadol"—a big crater to the southeast of Beersheba.

Can Borrow From Library If You Know Proper Answers

By WAYNE HARBERT

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A youngster with the proper answers can borrow any pet he chooses—from a rabbit to a skunk—for a week at a time from Sacramento's free lending library of animals.

Dalton Merkel, who runs the library, checks out the pets in take-home cages.

A few of the animals are "in reserve" temporarily . . . until Merkel is certain they're wholly safe for boys and girls.

There are about 300 in the library, including a pair of red foxes, a baby grey fox, a porcupine and a mink, an owl, squirrels, rabbits, snakes, turtles and raccoons. The library has been in operation since March and withdrawals run from 10 to 20 a week. It is financed from a private foundation and by donations from the Junior League, service clubs, city schools and state fair.

ALL RETURNED

The library, located on the state fairground, has not lost any loaned animal.

Only rabbits and white rats go to children under seven.

Snakes go only to "boys who are very interested in snakes," says Merkel.

The little grey fox can be cuddled like a kitten but he's not circulating yet. Blossom, a striped skunk, is about the most popular library item. (Blossom is deodorized.)

The meanest animal, says Merkel, is one of the smallest—an albino ground squirrel. The porcupine has never raised his tail at anyone, says Merkel, but he's not going out either.

TWO-PAGE QUESTIONNAIRE

Before a youngster can withdraw an animal he must fill in a two-page questionnaire with answers to such questions as:

"How do you pick up the animal—under the stomach, by the ears, by the skin on the back of the neck or by the tail?"

"How long should you handle it?"

"What do you feed it and do you feed it in the morning, at noon or in the evening?"

Which animal can be picked up by the tail?

"Only the raccoons," says Merkel.

Nan Elizabeth Pitchford Weds Charles V. Hyderman

The marriage of Miss Nan Elizabeth Pitchford, of Peterborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pitchford, to Charles Vernon Hyderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hyderman, of Whitby, Ontario, was solemnized Saturday in St. John's Anglican Church by Archdeacon W. P. Robertson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a cocoa brown French lace over taffeta gown with chocolate accessories and carried a bouquet of bronze 'mums.

Mrs. Albert Watkins, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a powder blue dress with navy blue accessories and carried a bouquet of bronze 'mums.

Mr. Ernest Hyderman was groomsman.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in Hooper's Palm Room. The bride's mother received in a navy blue crepe gown, a navy straw hat and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a dusty brown crepe dress, a brown straw hat and a corsage of talisman roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Muskoka. For travelling, the bride chose a rose and grey suit and navy blue accessories. They will live at 112 Brock St. East, Oshawa.

If World Topsy-Turvy Looks Natural In Time

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—If your world turns topsy-turvey, in time it gets to look natural.

Thirty days of wearing glasses that turned everything upside down proves it, two psychologists report.

One of them wore glasses that put the ceiling where the floor is. With these glasses, your own feet look like the feet of someone facing you. A thing coming at you from the right is actually coming from the left.

But the upside-down world becomes familiar, and you can learn to get about by doing things seemingly backward. Actually the psychologist learned to do some tests faster than he could before with normal vision.

You might be born with your vision upside down, and never realize. Other people might never notice it.

The fascinating story is told by Drs. F. W. Snyder and N. H. Pronko of the University of Wichita, Kansas, in a book published by the University's press.

Synder, as a graduate student two years ago, wore the glasses for 30 days during experiments on perception—why and how we see what we see. Dr. Pronko directed the study.

The glasses were two telescope units, attached to a headgear that kept out all light except that coming through the lenses. They turned vision upside down, and reversed left to right. Synder wore them all the time, putting on a blindfold at night or whenever his eyes needed a rest.

He reached the wrong way to pick up a fork, tried to take food from the back instead of the front of his plate. Walking up or down stairs for a time was clumsy and perilous.

After four days, though, he improved at reading things upside down.

After a few weeks, he was able to walk downtown and through a store without bumping into people. He could eat more efficiently, even drive a car.

He adjusted so he could move the right way without thinking about it. A man diving from a springboard looked natural. But when Snyder thought about it, calling on his memory of 25 years of how things used to look, the diver appeared to move upward

If 1,000 children had worn these lenses from birth until they were 25 years old, they'd be bothered and bewildered if they took the glasses off, and the world would look upside down, Drs. Pronko and Snyder said.

The tests, they say, show that "up" and "down" and "left" and "right" are all relative to the conditions during which we are learning to see and perceive things.

"Our hunch is that some day psychologists will say that we learn 'to see' just as we learn to play hop-scotch, or poker or read or write Arabic or English.

Father and Two Sons Travell 1,400 Miles In Outboard

MEMPHIS — (NEA) —When most fathers think of taking their children on a 1,400-mile vacation trip, they think in terms of something more than a 14-foot boat and a five-horsepower motor.

But that's the transportation being used by William E. Collins and his two sons, William, Jr., 10, and Mike, 7, in a cruise down the Mississippi from Rockford, Ill., to New Orleans.

"I always wanted to take a trip like this, and I didn't see any need of putting it off any longer," said Collins when he tied up at Memphis for a few hours. "I knew the boys would get a big kick out of it, too."

60 MILES A DAY

And when Collins says he's having as much fun as the boys he's convincing.

Collins, a Rockford attorney, and a Marine veteran of World War II and Korea, is a big friendly guy with rugged features. He's navigating the river by means of a handbook of light locations and a half dozen road maps. "But mostly we just let the river to the work," he says. Travelling at a leisurely pace —about 60 miles a day— they make many stops along the way, putting into sandbars for swims and meals, visiting small towns for gas and food and seeking out coves for fishing. Nights are spent on sandbars.

CRUISING DOWN THE RIVER—William E. Collins gets ready to shove off from Memphis with his sons Mike, 7, and William, Jr., 10 (in bow) on their 1,400-mile trip down the Mississippi.

The cost: about $5 a day. "It's cheap," says Collins. "I recommend it for anybody."

Collins says nearly all the river folk they've met remember the 1951 voyage of the two boys and two girls aboard the raft Lethargia. "Many who've given us helpful advice also helped the Lethargia along," he said.

The stopover in Memphis was for motor repair, lunch, haircuts and two T-shirts for the boys. "Our wardrobe is pretty light — in fact, we're wearing it," Collins explained. "But you don't need much else besides swimming trunks."

Collins puts a lot of responsibility in his sons. He says they've learned enough about boating to make the trip alone. All three are pretty good swimmers.

The boys worship their father. And you can't blame them. How many other fathers have gone on a 1,400-mile river trip in an open boat with their sons?

"Henry, have you seen the Shirriff's Marmalade?"

Fashion Summary Contains Interest For College Girls

In this year's fall collections, there are clothes which are the answer to the college girl's dream. A summary of back-to-college fashions for 1952 reveals that new fabrics, new silhouettes, new groups of combinations are developed with many themes. The traditional casual separates combination — in flannel or corduroy — looks much more interesting with additions of crunchy tweeds and loopy knitted jerseys. Cottons have a double advantage as combination fabrics. In novelty corduroys, denims, cotton flannel and tweeds they furnish an interesting surface and a low cost which can bring down the price of a total ensemble — such as combining a cashmere jacket with corduroy skirts and vests and trousers.

JUMP-INS AND STEP-INS

Those multiple-character fashions — the jumper and the step-in dress — have proved their worth in versatility — and adaptations of the two are sprinkled through every collection. There's the button-front jumper; the jumper that looks as smart with or without a blouse; and the jumper that is almost a dress with little short sleeves. Another thing to keep in mind about jumpers is the halter-cut or raglan-cut-out armseye, with a collar place around the neck. Sweaters or blouses with raglan sleeves fit smoothly under this.

The button-front dress is attractive in the new novelty printed corduroys, with or without sleeves. Some take blouses.

SOFTLY DETAILED

The day dress has a single connotation this season referring to softly detailed, easy-to-get-around in styles that promise a definite place in 1952 college fashions. Dress styles are different, with less of the sweater look and new in softer fabrics of nubby wool tweeds and knits.

Cottons are no longer limited to late summer and early fall because in their new colorful textured version there are separates and dresses in a new sturdy year-round role. When you count corduroys and velveteens as cottons — which they are — and toss in all the newsy versions of cottons, the tweeds which have texture and color interest of their own, you've got an idea of the possibilities the word cotton holds.

The sturdy all-time wonder fabric in cotton — denim — takes on dark backgrounds and a new character which fits it to heavy stormcoats, sturdy skirts, and suits and trousers. Lightweight cottons are replaced by the heavier weaves; cotton flannels assume a novelty role in shirt, coveralls and linings, and for all purposes is corduroy with a new men's wear worsted look.

DRESSINESS DISTINGUISHES

Dressy touches distinguish fall casual suits which can serve as the weekend travel suit college girls ask for. Suits still take to the indented waistline; those that have a straighter, longer cut to the jacket usually have a belt that can snug them in.

Wool jersey in suiting weight is one of the most interesting fabrics for the season. And wool flannel takes braid trim for a new look of elegance on a sporty fabric. Fur collars for casual suits are everywhere — these are often detachable.

For all-round campus and everyday wear, designed to "go places" from football game to frat dance, the college girl acclaims the alpaca pile coat. For fall, 1952, the luxury pile coat is styled up in a youthful-but-sophisticated manner. This is exemplified by the high-placed martingale. Color is rampant in these thick, wrappy, easy-wearing coats ranging from black to oyster whites, beiges and honey browns to deep tones of wines, greens and blues. Felt comes up as a novel, durable and handsome fabric for a go-everywhere coat. For protection against winter winds, it has insulated lining.

FEATURE HIPLINES

Hiplines are the focal point for the new skirts. Whether a slim hanging sheath of pleats, or circular flare, most of the "middy fashion" skirts have a moulded hipline, either to go under an overblouse, or with detail to establish the hipline as the halting point for wandering waistlines. There seems to be quite a rash of waistbands which look like the skirts' own belts — suedes or rib knit for example, giving a costume finish.

"Decorator" skirts are strong this year. They are made of all kinds of unexpected materials, and in unexpected effects. The "fool-the-eye" felts made to look like a chest of drawers with shadowed drawer-pulls are an example. The successor to the quilt skirt is the embroidered-and-quilted skirt, with much more emphasis on patterned and colored stitchings than the waffle-patterned quilts of last year.

HIPLENGTH JACKETS

Jacket lines that run toward the hips are the newest in separates groups. There is more concentration on tapered hiplengths much of which has evolved from the middy look. Cutaways are exciting and the longer cardigan with tapered bloused-back fulness is popular.

The weather jacket — the finger-tip fleece-lined storm jacket — is costume-matched to active sportswear skirts in many cases. That favorite all-year fabric — denim — looks good in this type of jacket in its new dark-tone colors trimmed with black ribbing. Alpaca jackets and leather jackets are styled on the loose cardigan or middy line, and frequently have ribbed trimmings which hold them snug to the hips.

CHANGE CHARACTER

The blouse furnishes the costume touch in separates. Its character has changed from classic to contrived; it is designed to give a moulded torso line with full skirts, or to carry out the easy, loose middy line with slim skirts. Wrapped midriffs or "fascia" blouses combine with full skirts in both casual and dressy fabrics.

Departing from the heavily-decorated novelty sweater that had limited wearing appeal, knitwear manufacturers this season have come up with soft and feminine fashions in knits. The sweater blouse, middy cut, snugs the hips and in most cases can be shown with or without a belt.

The boy shirt has aged for fall — you'll be talking "grandpa" shirts instead. These have pleated bosom treatment and a buttoned collarband with no collar. Another version has Victorian-ruffled bosom, like the dress shirt of that era.

PANTS TAPERED

Pants for fall are far removed from the hay-trousers that first started feminine pant fashions. Legs are tight-tapered for the most part; and top treatments for these trousers are curved and shaped to fit the figure, all with side closings these days, and a good many new high-rise treatments curved and shaped to waistlines.

The field is divided into dressy and casual versions. In the casual category, there are mix-and-match items to consider with everything in the wardrobe. Dressy versions — velveteen or velvet tapered trousers — have high rise waistbands or tuxedo-stripe of braid to make them different from that pair of odd slacks already in the wardrobe.

FORMALS CONVERTIBLE

For a gala fall formal season, college girls again have a wide range of their pet open-top "convertibles" to carry them through occasions when cover-up prelude is essential to bare-top dancing later. There is a new personality in young formals for fall, 1952. Most important is the wandering waistline . . . high Directoire, low "middy," corselet and cummerbund or "wrapped" look. Bustle effects, by big sash or gathered fulness at back, come forth more strongly for fall. Sleeves develop subtly, by pleating or folds or actual puffing, in jackets for convertibles.

KEEPING FLOWERS FRESH

When you arrange flowers, fill vase with cool water and use one of the inexpensive commercial preservatives you can buy from your florist. These chemical preparations reduce bacterial action in the water which causes the stem ends to close. Of course, your vase should be perfectly clean.

At night, move the vase to a cool room. A damp cellar is a good place. Or wrap flowers in cellophane and put into the refrigerator.

NURSING SHORTAGE

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. (CP)—Efforts are being made by the hospital board to bring at least two British nurses to Grande Prairie to ease a critical staff problem. A staff shortage threatens to close the main floor of the 80-bed hospital.

Loveless Marriage Brings No Happiness To Partners

DEAR MISS DIX: Two years ago I met a girl; now we are both deeply in love and want to marry. The hitch is that she is engaged to another chap, and I have been unable to break the engagement. She believes that a promise once given should never be broken and, though she has told the other chap that she no longer loves him he still wants to marry her. I have asked her to elope, but she refuses to considre the idea. She takes the attitude that this engagement is a cross she must bear. Eileen is losing all interest in life and says she is only happy with me. What shall I do?

UNHAPPY G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: An engagement is a prelude to marriage and, actually, a trial period to test the affections of both parties. If either one discovers that the engagement is a mistake, as Eileen has, it is a bounden duty to break—rather than keep—the troth.

Eilen is apparently a girl of high orinciple, who is convinced that her word is unretractable Since this is a matter of conscience with her, the minister of her church should be consulted. He will quickly assure her that the only right course is to break the engagement, whether her fiance wishes it so or not.

THREE WILL SUFFER

Going through the marriage, under such circumstances as she would, is threatening the happiness of three people—you, Eileen and the man she would marry. He may feel now that he wants to go through with the marriage whether she loves him or not, but his convictions would quickly change when he realized what a loveless marriage can be. He would be continually haunted with jealousy of you, knowing that his wife's love was yours—not his.

Breaking an engagement is not an easy task. It involves the unhappiness of someone dear —even though not beloved. Hurting those we like is no simple matter, but Eileen's fiance will be much more seriously hurt if the marriage is allowed to take place. Prevent it by any means in your power.

Eileen's family certainly must have something to say in this matter; they should help convince her that her contention is woefully wrong.

You will need to show great sympathy and kindness during these unhappy days for the girl you love; how you acquit yourself will be a marvelous test for the future. Don't fail Eileen now, and I'm sure with the assistance I have suggested, she will realize her mistake.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 25 years old and have been going with a 30-year-old man for a year. He has two children by a former marriage. We have talked of marriage many times but, when I try to be specific, he evades the subject. He corresponds with his ex-wife, and occasionally sees her. I think he is putting his children too much ahead of me, and wonder if he wants to marry me at all. I love him, and he says he loves me, but his actions belie his words.

VERY CONFUSED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If the man does marry you, you must expect that his children probably always will come first—as they should. From the outline of the situation you present, I would say that he is still more than casually interested in his first wife and, as long as that attraction lasts, he most certainly would not be a satisfactory husband for you. Why not give him up and look for an unattached beau?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16, and terribly, hopelessly in love with a boy 18. He has a good job and we want to be married. This isn't puppy love! This is really serious! My parents want me to go to college, but I am so in love. I like housework and know I'd make a model wife. We plan to elope if necessary.

J. T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No matter how terribly, terribly in love you are at the moment, you are far too young to undertake the responsibilities and obligations of marriage. There is much more to matrimony than being head-over heels in love. Go to college, as your parents wish, for a time at least. The education will always be an asset, and you will be just as much a model wife in a few years as you would be now. Give up the idea of eloping and decide to be paetint until you reach a more suitable age for marriage. You aren't the first pair of lovers who have had to postpone matrimony—you won't be the last.

MARY MOORE

When There Are Two In Home

Are there just two people in your house? Are you two girls who both have jobs? Are you a man and wife who both work? Are you a husband and wife team in which only the husband goes out to a job? Or are you that unique pair where only the wife goes out to work and the husband works at home and does the cooking — expertly? (Two pairs in the latter group write to me regularly as correspondents through the newspaper—they are happy about the arrangement too.)

Today's topic is beamed at you.

I think since shopping is not only time consuming, and the parking problem is rugged, it is a headache caused by constantly soaring prices and as a consequence it should be done only once per week—in one fell swoop. Besides, workers haven't time to shop every day. This makes a medium-large size refrigerator a must. But a good refrigerator is a life-saver, a food-saver, a waste eliminator, a workhorse, and a Gibraltar on which to lean in emergencies.

The meat order is your first consideration. This would be a sample meat order for two people of adequate income to have the meat they need and like: One-half pound chicken livers or calves' liver (see below); 1 and one-third lbs. gound beef to be made into 4 large meat cakes and used for 2 meals; 1 package frozen shrimp (see below); 1 4 or 5-lb. roasting chicken (weight depends on whether you are having guests for Sunday dinner); two-thirds or 1 lb. thinly sliced veal, 1 lb. bacon.

Roughly this is the 7-day plan.

Freeze everything but the chicken. Roast it for Sunday. Have hot chicken roll for Monday (see below); 1 meat cake each is for Tuesday; Shrimps Creole (see below) makes a wonderful dish for Wednesday night; chicken liver omelette or calves' liver and bacon on Thursday; meat cakes for Friday (or adjust so that the shrimps come on Friday if it is a meat-fast day for you); and weiner Schnitzel for Saturday. Sound like a good week's dinner program?

Remember the frozen meats should be taken from the freezing compartment at noon if you are home. If you do not come home at noon, if it is a small package it will defrost in the normal storage part of the refrigerator if placed there and left all day.

HOT CHICKEN ROLL

You will need 2 or 4 large soft hamburg rolls. Split and butter them. In top of double boiler heat 1 can condensed mushroom soup with one-third cup milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 well-packed cup diced chicken. (When you don't have leftover chicken use canned chicken or veal). Toast the buttered rolls under the broiler, then pour the chicken mixture over half of each roll, top with other half, pour more chicken over all.

SHRIMP CREOLE

To 2 tablespoons butter or salad oil add 1 onion chopped and 1 package frozen shrimp (or 1 can drained), 1½ cups peeled fresh or canned tomatoes cut up, 1 shredded green pepper, 1 very finely chopped clove of garlic, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika. Simmer gently 20 minutes. Mix 1 teaspoon cornstarch with 1 tablespoon cold water and stir this into the mixture until thick. Serve over fluffy cooked rice cooked by adding 1 cup washed long-grain rice to 1¾ cups boiling water, 1 or 2 tablespoons butter and 1 teaspoon salt and cooking tightly covered over low heat until all water is absorbed.

CHICKEN LIVER OMELETTE

Wash chicken livers (½ lb. for 2 people) and cut each in 3, Saute in 2 or 3 tablespoons butter with ½ cut up green pepper, for 5 minutes or until just cooked. Remove from pan. Add fluffy omelette mixture and cook until bottom is set. Finish top off in oven. Fold over and place on hot platter. Open enough to tuck livers and pepper in fold.

WEINER SCHNITZEL

Ask the butcher to slice you two-thirds or 1 lb. lean veal as thinly as possible. Cut in serving pieces and dip in salted fine crumbs, egg diluted with 2 tablespoons water, then in crumbs again. Saute in butter until pale gold and curled and crisp. Serve at once. Spiced red currants are a good accompaniment.

Watch for more 2-people ideas next week.

Fraserville News

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. R. B. Lobb Wednesday afternoon. Part of the afternoon was spent making blocks for quilts. Plans for a bazaar were made. Two missionary readings, one by Mrs. J. O. Pue and the other by Mrs. Steward, were given.

The Rev. M. Findlay from western Canada has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Clarke, and other friends in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Joe Lancaster, of Birdsall, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lobb on Sunday.

Mr. Irwin Douglas, of Fraserville, spent the weekend at Bancroft with friends.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Cook and Miss Edith Cook, of Lucan, Ont., were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pue, Fraserville.

Mrs. W. Rodgers and Nancy from Toronto spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. Kinsman, Fraserville.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Wright and family, of Toronto, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Kinsman, Fraserville.

Mrs. Percy Moncrief, of Fraserville, has returned from Civic Hospital.

What's Right?

You have your hair washed and set by a new operator and don't like the way she did it when it is brushed and you are ready to leave the salon.

WRONG: If she asks how you like it tell her you think it looks terrible, that she did not set it at all as you asked her to, etc.

RIGHT: Say what's wrong, but make you criticism in a ladylike manner.

6—In Memoriam

ABRAHAM—In loving memory of James Abraham, who passed away August 26, 1936.
"At the setting of the sun and in the morning we remember."
—Sons and daughters.

THOMPSON — In loving memory of Roy Thompson who died Aug. 25, 1951.
His memory is my keepsake,
With which I'll never part;
God has him in His keeping,
I have him in my heart.
Though out of sight he is ever near,
Still missed, still loved, still mine.
He will live with me in memory,
Until the end of time.
—Sadly missed by wife Lillian and children.

THOMPSON—In loving memory of Roy Thompson, who passed away Aug. 25, 1951.
"One year today our brother was called
To his eternal rest,
Gone where the angels sing so sweet
And taken when God knew best
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh,
But we all hope in heaven to meet
Where no one says goodbye."
—Sadly missed by brother Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Burfield and family.

WARRINER—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. W. Warriner who passed away Aug. 25, 1950.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and ture;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by son, Gene and daughter-in-law Ruth and grandchildren Gary and Lynn.

7—Card of Thanks

I WISH to thank the Doctors and Nurses of the Civic Hospital, Peterborough, who were so kind to me during my stay in the Hospital. Also friends and neighbors who visited me and sent cards, fruit and flowers. All this was very much appreciated.—Betty Gallaher, Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Forsyth of R.R. 2, Indian River, wish to express hearty thanks to friends, neighbors and relatives for the many cards, flowers, gifts and help given so graciously on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Temperance Federation Says L.C.B. Stretching Law

TORONTO (CP)—Gordon Shewfelt, president of the Ontario Temperance Federation, said today the Ontario Liquor Control Board "is today approving liquor advertising which four months ago would have been refused publication."

He said in a statement liquor advertising in newspapers and on the radio violates the letter and spirit of the law.

"Current legislation clearly bans all product advertising of alcoholic beverages in Ontario.

"Some months ago it became apparent that there was a decided cleavage within the Ontario cabinet as to whether or not the ban on product advertising should be lifted. The Temperance Federation took the stand that nothing should be done to increase the already sky-rocketing consumption of intoxicating beverages, especially when the social cost to the taxpayers was also skyrocketing.

"Sufficient cabinet support rallied to that stand that the move to scrap the advertising restriction failed. Foiled in their attempt to alter the government policy by democratic processes, the proponents of all-out liquor, beer and wine advertising now are apparently attempting to gain their ends by deliberately, and apparently with some administrative concurrence, mocking the Liquor Control Board's own regulations."

Doctor Alone On Ocean Raft

CASABLANCA (AP)—Alone on a frail raft, French Dr. Alain Bombard drifted today toward the Canary Islands 500 miles southwest of here. With United States as his ultimate goal, he hopes to prove that shipwreck victims can live on what they can find in the sea.

Bombard carried a box of army rations. He said the 24-day emergency food supply was a reserve mainly for the leg of the voyage beyond the Canaries and would be used only if he were caught in the circular currents of the middle Atlantic, where he might not be able to catch any fish.

Trouble dogged him and companion, a Briton, Jack Palmer, on the first leg of their trip from Monte Carlo through the Mediterranean to Casablanca. Their raft was wrecked in a storm off the Spanish island of Minorca and their equipment was lost.

Bombard said yesterday that family affairs had kept Palmer from joining him on the voyage to the Canaries.

Bombard has no radio aboard. He has a book on navigation.

Alexander Turner

Funeral service for Alexander Turner, 641 Park St., who died Wednesday, was held Saturday at the Belleghem funeral home. The Rev. I. G. Pollock of Grace United Church officiated.

Honorary bearers were Thomas Ferguson, A. E. Doxsee, Thomas Brooks, Herb Bourne and William Davidson. Active pallbearers were Cecil Fowler Harold Johnston, George Moncrief, Bert Arnott, Stan Jackson and Stewart McLean.

Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

A Neat Catch

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sidney Book knew what to do when he was out for a Sunday stroll and saw a baby crawling along the ledge of a second-floor window. He ran across the street and waited underneath. Sure enough, James Kenner Jr., 3, came toppling down and Sidney made a neat catch. Jimmy was unhurt.

Yachting Tough Business Takes 5 Hours To Row Mile

PICTON—Four Reserve Army members from Brantford had a harrowing experience Sunday when it took them 5½ hours to row 1½ miles to shore from their disabled yacht. The strong wind which plagued the oarsmen blew the yacht 20 miles down the lake while they strove to reach shore.

The quartette — Bombadiers Ruttledge and McNeil and Ptes. Seers and Harp—brought the 33-foot cabin cruiser with them when they came to the artillery firing range at Pt. Petrie, 17 miles south of here, for summer training. The cruiser was damaged during the training period and the four men returned from Brantford Friday to repair it.

They had gone 1½ miles on the return trip when the engine conked out. When they couldn't start it, they set out in the dingy for shore after anchoring the bigger craft. They started at 2.30 p.m. and arrived at 8 p.m., weary from battling wind and waves.

Meanwhile, the RCMP patrol boat Carnduff, out of Kingston, found the crewless yacht off Petticoat Bay and a search was immediately organized for the former occupants. It was called off when it was learned the men had reached shore.

Miss L. T. Herr

Requiem mass for Miss Laura Teresa Herr, of Toronto and formerly of Asphodel and Norwood, was said Friday by the Rev. C. J. Carroll. Miss Herr died suddenly Tuesday in a Toronto hospital.

Service was held from the home of her sister, Mrs. George Morency of Asphodel township, to St. Paul's Church, Norwood. Present in the sanctuary were the ev. J. J. Garvey of Hastings, and the Rev. W. C. McCarney of Otonabee.

Pallbearers were Leonard Lefley, Lou Boland, William Garvey, Fred English Jr., Gus Boland and Lou Roach. Burial was in St. Paul's cemetery, where Father Carroll said graveside prayers.

Harold W. Bolton

NORWOOD— (ENS)— One of the largest funerals to take place in Norwood was held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. for Harold Wellington Bolton from the McConnell-Warner funeral home with the Rev. H. K. Wright officiating. Burial was in Norwood cemetery.

Mr. Bolton died Wednesday at his residence following a brief illness. He was born in Dummer township 44 years ago, the son of the late Charles Bolton and Alice Webster. He was a resident of Douro district until nine years ago when he came to Norwood. Mr. Bolton has been the Massey Harris agent for the district. He was also chairman of the Norwood utilities.

He is survived by his wife, the former Helen Fife; one daughter, Ann, 6; three sisters, Mrs. William Floyd (Ruby), Mrs. Kenneth Kirkwood (Gladys), Mrs. Donald Stewart (Valetta), all of Peterborough; and three brothers, Earl of Peterborough, Fred and Cecil of Douro.

Flower bearers were Donald Floyd, Harvey Clark, Rule Emery, Billie Thomson, Archie McIntyre, Jack Stewart.

Pallbearers were Bill Roblin, Albert Fife, Russell Thompson, Rollie Tedford, Bill Floyd, Ray Carlow.

Friends and relatives attending from a distance were from Toronto, Lindsay, Peterborough, Lakefield, Millbrook, Belleville, Hastings, Douro and Indian River.

Weather Upsets Reduce Europe's Food Supply

LONDON (AP)—Europe's larder won't be so full this winter.

Weather upsets have trimmed most harvests. But outside Yugoslavia and some Cominform countries food won't be scarce.

For Yuogslavs, things look tough. A 10-week drought slashed a third off most crops. However, reserves from last year's big harvest probably will stave off a return to ration cards.

Already Premier Tito's government has banned exports of grains and fodder and is looking for ways to buy or borrow wheat. The government estimates harvest losses at 100,000,000,000 dinars (more than $350,000,000).

Here is a country-by-country roundup:

Austria — With grain prices fixed well in advance farmers are bringing in their crops early. Most yields are down because of the drought but reserves will tide the country over.

Belgium—Normal harvest despite the weather.

Britain — A 25 subsidy for every new acre broken put more land under the plow than ever before. But granaries will be no fuller than last year due to the drought. British orchards expect a glut of soft fruits to be followed by a below-average apple crop.

WHEAT CROPS POOR

Bulgaria—The press admits the wheat crop is poor in quality and has flayed farmers for late deliveries.

Czechoslovakia — Josef Korasnar, minister in charge of buying farm products, forecasts a bumper harvest.

Denmark — Grain and fruit yields will be well above normal.

France—Farmers beat prolonged drought and hoof-and-mouth disease to turn in average to good yields. The wheat harvest is estimated 14 per cent up from last year. Potatoes are short and France will bring in 3,000,000 tons from Germany. Reserves are good.

West Germany — Drought has cut crop yields and sent milk and butter prices soaring. Current forecast: Wheat normal, fruits normal or better, vegetables poor to good, less meat and more margarine.

East Germany—Grain harvest likely to reach 90 per cent of official estimates. Rationing of most main foods will continue.

Greece—Good yields will keep prices down and perhaps allow a small cut in imports.

Italy — Weather upsets have affected yields only locally and grain returns are reported good.

The Netherlands — Farms survived spring frosts to turn in crops better than last year.

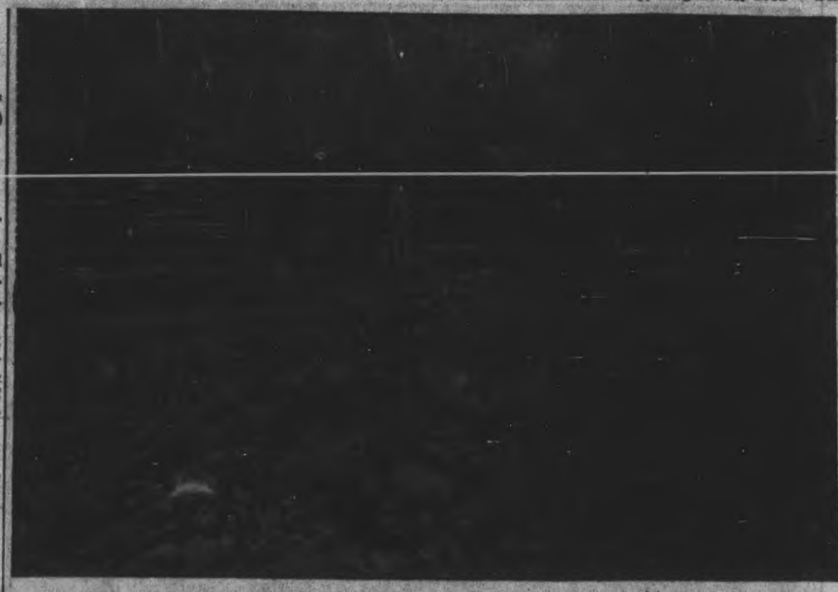
Norway — fodder output is slightly above average but grains, vegetables and fruits are down.

Portugal—Grains are up.

Romania — Crops are reported good but the farmers aren't happy about it. Newspapers show hundreds have been jailed on charges of sabotage or withholding their crops from the government.

Spain—Good grain crop.

Chamber 23 Years In Same Building



The Chamber of Commerce has requested that the Turner house at the corner of Water and McDonnel Sts. be made available for an office. Now owned by the city the house is part of the civic block. In its suggestion that its offices be moved to the Turner house the Chamber is hoping that there will be greater co-operation between all the civic bodies.

It was in spring 1919 that the Board of Trade, later to be known as the Chamber of Commerce, took over its present offices over the Dominion Bank. The block had just been rebuilt after being destroyed by fire. In the building that had been destroyed the masonic temple had been located on the second floor.

Prior to establishing its offices the Chamber had usually held its meetings in the office of one of the directors and the annual meeting in the city council chambers. Offices for secretary were in the city hall.

FREED AT LAST — Charles A. Noble, of Detroit, Mich., holds a letter of U.S. citizenship in Berlin where he told a story of being held by the Russians for seven years in East German concentration camps. He said his American-born son, arrested with him, was still in Russian hands.

DELIBERATE DEVASTATION—Civil Defence workers from all over the country will receive training at this Olney, Md., training centre, called "America's bomb damage centre." It took nearly four months and $200,000 to construct the scene that looks like it was hit by an atom bomb. As part of the course, students at the school must wade through debris in the buildings and streets to find the rescue "victims" trapped in the ruins.

Skagway Project Hailed By Governor

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—Aluminum Company of America's proposed $400,000,000 aluminum smelting project at Skagway was hailed today by Alaska's governor as the most "important event in the territory since its purchase from Russia."

Governor Ernest Gruening told reporters at McKinley National Park that Alcoa's project, which signals the birth of a modern new city in the Taiya Valley with an expected population of 20,000, overshadows the three greatest events in Alaska's history under American ownership.

"The three greatest events were Alaska's purchase in 1867, the discovery of gold in 1898 and the establishment of a pulp mill at Ketchikan, which is now taking place," Gruening said.

"The aluminum project is all out of proportion to those three events in economic contribution permanence," he added.

The smelting plant will initially produce 200,000 tons of aluminum annually.

TAKE 4 YEARS TO FINISH

It will take an estimated four years to complete, and hinges on the purchase of land and U.S. government approval.

Leon E. Hickman, vice-president and general counsel for Alcoa, announced the project Saturday. He said the plant will be privately financed.

In Vancouver a spokesman for the Aluminum Company of Canada said the Alaska project will have no adverse effect upon the $550,000,000 Alcan plant now in the construction stage at Kitimat, B.C. The spokesman pointed to the rapidly-expanding world market for aluminum and the need for more plants.

Secondary Uranium Found In Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman today announced the finding of varying amounts of the secondary uranium mineral zeunerite on the Seward Peninsula in Alaska, just across the 36-mile wide Bering Strait from Russian Siberia.

Geological survey officials said such secondary uranium minerals could be used as a source for uranium for atomic bombs.

First 'Olympic Games' Held Stark Naked

NEUCHATEL, Switzerland (Reuters)—The first "Olympic games" ever to be contested stark naked are history.

Track, field and swimming events for both sexes were held Saturday and Sunday in pouring rain.

The Swiss team had the best record of victories.

Nudists came from Britain, France, Germany, The Netherlands and Italy for the event.

First Jet Airliner Tested For Canada

LONDON (Reuters)—Canada's first comet jetliner is flying on test here. It is one of two comets ordered by Canadian Pacific Airlines, and will be used on the Australia-Honolulu leg of the company's Australia-Canada service.

The aircraft will be delivered to the operators about the end of the year.

Hoboes Holding Buffalo Convention

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP) — Flush with good times, members of the Hoboes of America, Inc., arrived in this Buffalo suburb today in automobiles and by plane for their 44th annual six-day convention.

Jeff Davis, king for life of the Knights Of The Road, Air and Seven Seas, said good times had made members prosperous.

"Hoboes will work, but we think the world owes us an opportunity," the King said.

Help 500 Refugees Find New Homes

HONG KONG (Reuters)—United Nations refugee officials said today 500 European refugees from China will go to Canada, Australia and Brazil this year.

Thomas Jameson, director of the local refugee office, just returned from a "fairly successful" world trip, said he sought homes for 10,000 Europeans wishing to quit China.

Faces 7 Charges False Pretences

Donald B. Haig of Toronto was arraigned on seven charges of false pretences when he appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp today. Haig who is wanted in Toronto for jumping bail was remanded without bail until August 28.

The charges allege he obtained money by passing worthless cheques in Hamilton, Toronto, Belleville, Trenton, Haliburton and Peterborough.

Magistrate W. R. Philp told E. R. Marsden of Toronto, who is defending Haig on one charge of obtaining $50 from the S. S. Kresge Co. here, that he had been requested to try all the charges here.

In addition to the charges from other points, Haig faces two charges of passing worthless cheques in Peterborough during July. He is alleged to have obtained $50 from the Kresge Co., by giving a cheque on a Toronto bank when he did not have sufficient funds to cover it and also with obtaining $97.60 from the Beaver Lumber Co., by tendering a cheque for this amount purporting to have been signed by another man.

On the charge of obtaining $50 from S. S. Kresge, Haig elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty, through his counsel Mr. Marsden.

Crown counsel V. J. McElderry asked for the adjournment because he said he had expected a plea of guilty and needed evidence from the bank concerning the charge.

Obituary

EDWARD TOVEY

Edward Tovey, second youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George J. Tovey of Peterborough, died in Victoria, B.C., Friday, August 15, and was buried there.

He leaves his wife and one daughter, Sylvia, his brothers, George Tovey of Inglewood, Cal.; A. J. (Bert) of Unity, Saskatchewan; Garnet of Alberta; and one sister, Mrs. Arthur Mann, (Beatrice) of Duncan, B.C.

Bert Tovey was in Peterborough several months in the spring of this year, temporarily as druggist in charge of the E. L. Payne store on George St.

The head of the family in its Peterborough days, was George Tovey, Sr., who was for years foreman of the brass department at C.G.E., and was for some time an alderman.

Capetown Magistrate Rules Native Discrimination

CAPETOWN, South Africa (Reuters)—The government's racial-segregation program received a jolt today when a Capetown magistrate declared there had been "unfair discrimination" against a native African.

The accused was found innocent of the charge of sitting in a part of Capetown railroad station reserved for Europeans. Hundreds of Africans, organized in a passive resistance campaign, have already been arrested for violating similar segregation laws.

"There is no doubt," the magistrate said, "that the standard of equipment and facilities provided for non-European first and second-class passengers is much inferior to those provided for European first and second-class passengers."

In Grahamstown, Cape Province, 56 Africans were fined $92 or one month imprisonment today for defying night curfew regulations.

THOUSANDS ARRESTED

Thousands of Africans have been arrested since the resistance campaign began last June 26. Hundreds of arrests have come since the campaign was intensified during the last week.

Meanwhile, the high court of Parliament met today in secret for its first session since being formed by Prime Minister Daniel Malan to sidestep adverse supreme court rulings on parliamentary affairs.

It will consider Malan's appeal against the supreme court ruling that his bill to put colored (mixed blood) voters on a separate electoral roll is unconstitutional.

The supreme court ruled that the bill concerned the South African constitution, and, therefore, needed a two-thirds parliamentary majority.

Malan does not hold a two-thirds majority in the House and the ruling endangered his "apartheid" (racial segregation) policy. He therefore set up the high court of parliament—composed of all members of parliament—to be the country's highest court on parliamentary matters.

Plan Report On Religious Liberty Survey

HAMILTON (CP)—A committee on civil and religious liberty which has just completed a 12-month survey throughout Canada will make its initial report to the General Council of the United Church of Canada, opening its 15th biennial session here Sept. 10.

The committee will attempt to show that in times of national danger, fear and hysteria may carry security measures beyond bounds. It will demand a government policy to safeguard the country from such a threat.

The group will also express its disapproval of the practice of determining "guilt by association" in loyalty tests against the threat of Communism. The report will recommend that guilt or innocence be determined by competent judges and not by politicians or partisans.

The report says that injustice is being done to honest and patriotic liberal-minded persons who find themselves branded as disloyal and deprived of privileges or employment because of associations innocently entered into in the past.

Loses Foot In Mower Child 3, Improving

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Three-year-old Kay Carlson, who lost her foot in a mowing machine at Bourkes Friday, is reported in satisfactory condition today in Kirkland district hospital. The child was playing around the machine on the farm when her foot became caught in the blades.

Bourkes is about 17 miles north of here.

Walter C. Hunt

Walter C. Hunt, a resident of Peterborough in the early 1900s, died last week in Covington, Virginia, following a short illness at the age of 78.

Funeral services were held on Friday, and he was buried in Cedar Hill cemetery.

A native of Gloucestershire, England, Mr. Hunt lived in Peterborough on Chamberlain St. and worked for Coleman's confectionery shot on George St. between Hunter and Brock St.

He went to Covington in 1917 and worked as a baker and then was employed 25 years in a pulp and paper company. For many years he taught a men's Bible class.

Surviving are his widow, the former Isabell Scott, one daughter, Mrs. Palmer W. Reed, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Chapel Damaged

BRANTFORD (CP)—The altar and railings of the "Chapel in the Woods" at the Brantford boy scouts' camp were damaged by intruders during the weekend. The incident was one of a series during the summer.

Clark Denies U.N Troops In Crime Wave

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, United States and United Nations far east commander, today denied that U.N. troops are causing a crime wave in Japan.

In a public reply to a letter from the Japan Federation of Bar Associations, Clark said:

"As I personally make it my business to keep informed about the behavior of my men, I can assert with authority that we are not in the midst of a growing crime wave.

"On the contrary, there has been a speedy drop in crimes and incidents."

ASK MORE DISCIPLINE

The Federation had made a public request for stricter discipline for U.N. forces in Japan because of "repeated crimes" by U.S. personnel.

Clark said U.S. forces—which number more than 50,000 at any one time in Japan—committed only 64 offences against persons in May, 62 in June, and 41 in July. He said the totals included such petty cases as pushing and shoving.

U.S. crimes against property—again including minor offences such as window breaking—were 55 in May, 44 in June, and 30 in July, Clark said.

Sees Hand At Cooler Finds Thief In Tunnel

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Dave Ferguson saw a pair of hands appear briefly under a soft-drink cooler in his store.

Ferguson called police who found Aloysius Kearley, 19, in a tunnel under the store. Police said Kearley burrowed under the building Sunday night and apparently was prepared to wait there until tonight to enter the building.

They said he was equipped with auger, saw, kerosene lamp and an unexplained extra pair of trousers.

France Says Russia Obstructing Union

PARIS (AP)—French officials today accused Russia of blocking real progress toward German reunification with its latest note to the three western powers.

The officials said Russia was putting the cart before the horse in the order of agenda items for a proposed October meeting, leading off with "the preparation of a peace treaty for Germany." Obviously, they said, the four great powers would not be able to reach agreement on a peace treaty before they had agreed on elections throughout Germany as the basis of a new central German government.

Dr. Rene Gobeil Chosen Candidate

BEAUPORT, Que. (CP) — Dr. Rene Gobeil of Quebec, provincial organizer of the Progressive Conservative party, was chosen Sunday night as party candidate for Quebec-Montmorency riding in the forthcoming general federal elections. George Drew, party leader, attended the nominating convention.

Approve Proposal For Credit Society

OTTAWA (CP)—Directors of the Ontario Credit Union League approved plans to press for a national co-operative credit society during a week-end meeting here.

Several other co-operative groups have joined with the Co-Operative Union of Canada in urging setting up of such a society.

John T. Deyell

MILLBROOK— (ENS)— Funeral service for John Thompson Deyell, 56, who died at his home on Friday, was held Monday from the G. T. MacPherson Funeral Home. The funeral was under the auspices of the Canadian Legion Branch 402, of which organization Mr. Deyell was president at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, the former Violet E. Legros, by a daughter Mrs. Nellis Fallis (Doreen), of Cavan, by three sons, William of British Columbia, James of Peterborough, Gerald of Lakefield, by four grandsons, two sisters, Mrs. Harold Hubbeard (Florence) of Millbrook, Mrs. Frank Whitfield (Mary) of North Monaghan, and a brother Fred of Manchester, England.

The Rev. W. H. Heustin of Grace Presbyterian Church officiated. The Legion parade was in charge of Major L. J. Stuart and Comrade J. H. Raper was in charge of the graveside service.

Pallbearers were four members of the Canadian Legion Branch 402 and two close friends, Henry Gray, David Fowler, James Godfrey and Hugh Blair, and Herbert Cardwell and Lloyd Byam..

Burial was in Millbrook Presbyterian Cemetery.

Spell of Freedom

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty truck horses scampered about yesterday in a brief spell of freedom after a fire in their stable. Police corralled most of the horses with little trouble. But two tried to cross a bridge before police cars surrounded them in a motorized roundup; and two others romped away to Central Park, where they were found grazing contentedly.

Practice Rounds Put Golfers On Their Mettle

By W.B. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—Sharp practice rounds put Canada's entry on edge today for the first official meeting between Canadian and American professional golfers for the team championship of the two countries.

Pat Fletcher, Canadian Professional Golfers Association title holder from Saskatoon, fired a one-under-par 71 yesterday over the Beaconsfield course where the two-day tournament will be played tomorrow and Wednesday.

Pat played his practice round with Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Gordie Brydson of Toronto, both a stroke over par in the leisurely-played threesome where a stroke or two, or an extra shot, didn't amount to a hoot.

PUTTING GOOD

Fletcher's putting was at its best. He dropped a 20-footer on the 15th green for a birdie three that eclipsed anything Leonard or Brydson could do.

Meanwhile, at the nearby Laurentian country Stan Horne of Montreal won the Lions Club tournament, a major affair hereabouts, and Jules Huot of Montreal Laval and a Canadian team member, finished in a third-place tie.

Bobby Locke, South African member of the Canadian team under the match regulations, took on Ken Murray, C.P.G.A. president, in a friendly match over at the Royal Montreal course.

The American entry was scheduled to fly in today after completion of the Fort Wayne Open, to be decided by an 18-hole playoff between Jim Turnesa and Jimmy Clark.

Locke, an honorary member of the Canadian Golfers Association, flew from England Saturday.

Three four-ball matches will be played tomorrow and six singles Wednesday.

NEW TROPHY UP

The teams will compete for the International Golf Trophy, donated by John Jay Hopkins, honorary director of the C.P.G.A. and a member of the National Advisory Committee of the P.G.A. of America. He is a well-known industrialist in both countries.

Match play will govern but all holes and matches will be played out because of prize-money bonuses.

THREE CHAMPIONS—Present and past holders of the Nat Fleischer Canadian welterweight boxing title belt assembled at the Athletic Commission. Left, Armand Savoie, the present holder; centre, Dave Castiloux, original holder who donated the belt to the Commission; right, Johnny Greco, who lost the belt to Savoie and will try to regain it in Montreal this week.

British Columbia Edges Out Ontario

Vancouver (CP)—A talent-loaded field, including 30 scratch players, today push off on the week-long hunt for the Canadiann amateur golf championship.

Nearly all the players who competed Saturday in the Willingdon Cup inter-provincial team matches and Canadian junior championship are entered.

British Columbia, aided by a lame Bill Mawhinney, won the 36-hole medal play cup matches with a total of 587, six better than defending champion Ontario and 12 better than third-place Quebec.

Lea Windsor, 18-year-old Haligonian, captured the junior title with a 36-hole score of 152. John McClung of Edmonton and Jerry Knechtel of Kitchener, Ont., tied for second with 155.

Mawhinney, limping from a sore back which kept him out of the Americas Cup matches 10 days ago, fired a two-under-par 70 over the Capilano course on his second 18.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

He collapsed after leaving the 18th green and was taken to hospital. His condition is good and [illegible] will probably be able to enter the Canadian amateur He has a bye today.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener equalled the individual low record score of 138 in the Willingdon Cup matches set by Jimmy Robertson of B.C. in 1948.

Walt McElroy, who opens defence of his Canadian amateur crown tomorrow—he has a bye today—shot a 139, missing a two-foot putt on the last green. He had a 67 on the first round, low 18-hole score of the tournament.

Defiant Koreans Running Camp

TOKYO (AP)—More than 300 "hostile and defiant" Korean internees have set up their own government and are "living as they please" at a Japanese camp, the newspaper Tokyo Times said today.

Japanese police guarding the camp do not try to interfere in its "internal affairs," the newspaper added.

Of the camp's 361 internees, the Tokyo Times said, 313 are marked for deportation to South Korea and 48 are on trial or awaiting trial on charges of entering Japan illegally.

The newspaper said the camp was located at Omura, on Kyushu Island, and that many Japanese are calling it "Little Koje"—although its internees have neither hoisted Red flags nor openly professed Communism as did prisoners of war in the U.N. P.O.W. camp on Koje Island, off the southeastern tip of Korea.

Two Firsts

DIGBY, N.S. (CP)—The first Turkish steamer ever to load here took the biggest cargo in the history of the port. The Karsiyaka, bound for Istanbul, took aboard more than 3,500 cords of pit-props —900 cords more than the previous record.

TOO LATE—Clyde Vollmer slides into second but he's too late to make it safely as Indians' shortstop Ray Boone has already touched the bag in Cleveland-Boston game at Boston. Boone relays the ball to first to double up Bosox batter Dick Gernert in the fourth inning. Indians failed to gain ground on the league-leading New York Yankees by losing the game, 4-1.

Mexican Girl Carries Off 3 Tennis Titles

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's tennis titles went to three foreign countries during the week-end with three of them being carried by Mexico by tiny Melita Ramirez.

The showing of the attractive 21-year-old girl, along with the 6-1, 6-0, 6-1 conquest by Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., of Kurt Neilsen of Denmark for the men's singles crown, was the highlight of the week-long Canadian lawn tennis championships at the Toronto Tennis Club.

Miss Ramirez, who learned her tennis from her mother, defeated last year's titlist, Lucille Davidson of Lee Summitt, Mo., to win the women's singles championship Saturday.

She later joined Gustavo Palafax, top-ranking men's Mexican player, to take the mixed doubles crown. She teamed with a Canadian, Doris Ell of Toronto, to capture the women's doubles title.

The men's doubles final was shared by Savitt and Neilsen, the pair combining to overpower the California team of Art Larsen of San Leandro and Noel Brown of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

FIRST MEXICAN WIN

Miss Ramirez victories was the first time that any of the Canadian tennis titles had been won by Mexico.

In winning the women's doubles she and Miss Ell upset the defending champions, Miss Davidson and Doris Popple of Des Moines, Ia., 6-4, 6-4. In the mixed doubles final, Miss Ramirez and Palafox had little trouble in beating Miss Popple and Rafael Ortega of Mexico, 6-1, 6-2.

Savitt, the temperamental tennis ace who is one of the United States' best players, nearly blasted Neilsen from the court in breezing to his singles win yesterday. Before 1,400 spectators who paid up to $3 for a seat, Savitt never was extended as he beat the Danish Davis Cup star for the third time. He whipped him on grass at Wimbledon last year and at Newport, R.I., last week.

His game yesterday again was too powerful and too accurate for the Dane. He broke Neilsen's service nine times, won three love games and had three aces, including the point that decided the second set. Neilsen broke service only once and never showed the form that got him to the finals.

The Savitt-Neilsen team fought its toughest match in a three-hour semi-final duel Saturday against Henri Rochon of Montreal and Ed Moylan of Trenton, N.J.

GROWLS AT FAN

Neilsen and Savitt came through with a 16-14, 12-10, 9-7 win with both teams agreeing to shorten the affair from a best-of-five to a best-of-three set match after splitting the first two. During the match Savitt, noted for his outbursts, told a fan to shut up and argued with one of the linesmen.

Larsen and Brown reached the final of the men's doubles by downing the 1951 titlists, Brendan Macken of Montreal and Lorne Main of Vancouver, two members of Canada's Davis Cup team, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

CNE SWIM TO FERGUS GIRL

TORONTO (CP)—Shirley Campbell, 16, of Fergus, splashed through the Canadian National Exhibition's one-mile lakefront course Saturday to win the Canadian women's amateur swimming championship.

Another Fergus girl, 15-year-old Doreen Howatt, trailed her by 10 yards to place second.

Shirley covered the distance in 26 minutes and 44 seconds, almost a minute faster than last year's winner, Vivian King, 20, of Toronto.

Shirley is no novice in competitive swimming. She has travelled some 50,000 miles from coast to coast searching for new honors and last year captured the Canadian amateur 400-yard free-style title in Vancouver.

She is listed among the entries for the women's world professional three-mile swim at the C.N.E. Wednesday but said following Saturday's race she has not yet decided whether to turn professional.

Hart Devenny, 20-year-old university student from Winnipeg, won the men's two-mile swim in 50 minutes and 45 seconds, well ahead of the field of 16 starters.

Three Canadian Tennis Titles Decided At Weekend For Juniors

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Canadian tennis titles were decided during the weekend in the Canadian junior tennis championships.

One title went to little Phyllis Seganski, 11, of Hamtramck, Mich., and the others to two Quebec provincial teams.

In the fourth day of the tournament today the juvenile boys' finals will be decided and the quarter-finals of the junior women's and men's, and boys' and girls' events should be completed.

Miss Seganski captured the juvenile girls' singles championship by defeating top-seeded Linda Wolf, 11, of Buffalo, N.Y., 6-0, 6-4.

QUEBEC TEAMS WIN

The Quebec men's and women's team swept the interprovincial team matches Saturday. The men's team defeated a four-province western outfit with three straight singles victories. The Quebec women ousted Ontario in one singles and two doubles matches.

Team championship are decided on the best of two doubles and three singles matches.

Raymond Sankowski and Gerald Dubie, both of Hamtramck, will battle today for the juvenile boys' singles title.

Sankowski took his semi-final match with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Bob Armstrong of Hamilton, Dubie eliminated top-seeded Canadian Ken McReynolds of Montreal 6-1, 6-2.

Two junior men's singles entries move into the quarter-finals yesterday. The remaining six quarter-final berths in that event will be decided today.

Third-seeded American, Joe Jacinto, of East Rockaway, N.Y., moved up when he ousted unseeded Jim Florian of Sydney, N.S., 6-1, 6-0. Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla., first-seeded American, downed John MacLean of Buffalo, N.Y., 6-3, 6-3.

CANADIAN ADVANCES

Three players reached the quarter-finals of the women's singles. The top-seeded Canadian, Marriette Laframboise, of Montreal, who won the title last year, eliminated Lee Davenport of Vancouver, 6-2, 6-2. The other two junior women quarter-finalists are Carol Turcotte of Ottawa and Carol Wolf of Buffalo.

Miss Turcotte eliminated Irene Borecky of Basel, Switzerland, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Wolf downed Ann Stacey of Halifax, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Ros Russell Determined To Break Typing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After nearly breaking her leg on one, you'd think Rosalind Russell would lose her enthusiasm for movie locations. But not Roz.

"I'm simply wild about locations," said the actress. "Why, do you know that in 39 pictures I had never been on location before? Pictures are so much more real when they're filmed in the actual place of the story. It's stimulating to the actors."

Miss Russell shows remarkable perseverance. She has just returned from locating with "Never Wave At A WAC" at Camp Lee, Va., training centre of the Women's Army Corps.

HOT DRILL

"When we first got there, the girls in the cast went through their drill," Miss Russell related. "The heat was over 100 degrees but we drilled six hours a day for three days. We didn't mind it at all, until we discovered we were using muscles we had never used before."

Ine one scene, she took a tumble, and it was feared that she had broken her leg. Tests proved otherwise, but she has a large wound that will leave a permanent scar.

The Wac picture is part of Miss Russell's determined campaign to escape being typed as a professional woman.

"I've been an executive, lawyer, doctor, psychiatrist, judge, advertising woman, newspaper gal, etc. How long could I go on shouting into telephones?"

STAGE COMEBACK

Her determination to shake such roles was part of the reason she undertook her first return to the stage in 15 years. She toured in 11 cities for six months with "Bell, Book and Candle."

"Now I've got a couple of fellows writing a play for me," she said.

Anti-British Feeling Grows

TOKYO (AP)—Britain is being buffeted by a wave of unpopularity in Japan.

Hardly a day passes without an anti-British story in the press or an anti-British speech in the Diet.

The current diplomatic wrangle over two British sailors, convicted of robbery by a Japanese court, is only the latest in the series of pinpricks between the two countries.

The open display of anti-British feeling dates from the first of the year. It causes stem from trading problems, money problems and national and racial consciousness.

Rightly or wrongly many Japanese feel that the British people still secretly despise the Japanese people as yellow Orientals. There is a real and growing feeling against Britons as a group and as a nation.

PLUVIUS, BY JUPITER—According to Webster, 'aqueduct' means: "any conduit for water, esp. one for a large quantity of flowing water." And that's exactly what Aqueduct turned out to be during heavy rain this week. This photo was taken at the corner of Aqueduct and St. James in Montreal during the wet spell which gave the Lower Town area a Venice-like look.

Egypt's Strong Man Acts In Public Like Candidate Seeking Office

By L.S. CHAKALES

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt's strong man, Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib, behaves in public like a man running for office.

But he isn't looking for votes. The Egyptian army's tanks and bayonets are ballots enough to keep him in office.

Son of an Egyptian police officer and a Sudanese mother, he is a pro-Soviet democrat. He likes people, thinks they are intelligent, patriotic and instintively good. He doesn't have this feeling about the vast majority of politicians, though.

Naguib, a devout Moslem, told the attractive Mrs. Doria Ahafik, Islam's most energetic suffragette, that women can be used in the army driving cars, trucks and performing other types of services.

NOT IN POLITICS

The army is not in politics, he has reiterated since his coup d'etat which led to Farouk's abdication July 26. Politics should be left to politicians, he insists. However he forced Farouk to accept the man of his choice—Aly Maher—as premier when he sprung his coup.

Naguib has said he is only interested in the reconstitution of the army on a level commensurate with its value to the nation.

However he's let it be clearly understood that the army has a great interest in the purge of the corrupt politicians and public servants from the Egyptian administration.

A CLOSE WATCH

He says the army will keep a close watch on how well the purge and social welfare programs get along. Colonel Mohamed Rashad Mehanna, a trusted adviser, was simply an army career man when the coup came about. In a week's time he was elevated to minister and then to the three-man regency council.

Naguib wanted one of his own men on the council, a certain way of keeping posted on what transpires at the highest political level.

Yet there has been no indication that Naguib is trying to dictate to Premier Maher's government.

IDENTITY SECRET

Of course, Gen. Naguib is not alone in the "army movement." He is surrounded by a corps of young senior officers. Their identity is kept highly secret.

Efforts to learn any information about them generally end in failure. It is generally agreed that the young officers group represents a good cross section of Egypt.

Naguib is stern, although not a martinet. British officers who have worked with him describe him as a man of integrity and ability.

After his successful coup, Naguib was riding down a principal street in his open car while thousands of persons cheered him and jammed around the vehicle.

He spotted someone in the crowd, got out and walked directly to an old woman struggling to get close to him. He leaned over and kissed her hand.

Father of three children, Naguib leads a simple home life. His salary is $287 a month. He lives within that salary. Soon after the coup he ordered all the fancy automobiles owned by the army for senior commanders sold. Jeeps are good enough, he said.

He speaks Italian, French and English. While a junior officer he earned two degrees at Fuad University.

Five times a day he turns toward Mecca and prays. During the holy month of Ramadan he rigidly holds to the rigorous fasting schedule which prohibits a Moslem from even taking a drink of water during the time the sun is in the sky.

Iran Retires 15 Generals

TEHRAN (AP)—The high brass of Iran's 120,000-man army was thinned Saturday by the retirement of 15 generals, including one dismissed from the military governorship of Tehran after his troops fired on rioters here July 21.

Many other officers were reported, without official confirmation, to be marked for retirement by the Nationalist government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, who now is his own defence minister.

The former military governor who was retired was Lt.-Gen. Alavi Moghaddam. His troops fired on rioters during clashes reported to have caused the death of 35 or more persons. Blamed by Nationalists for the bloodshed, he was dismissed from the military governorship the following day.

London Paper Has Supplement About Canada

LONDON (Reuters)—The Financial Times today published a 20-page supplement—"Survey of the Canadian Economy."

In an editorial introducing the supplement, the Financial Times says:

"For the last 12 years, the Canadian economy has expanded in a way it would be hard to parallel in any other country at any time.

"The causes of this prosperity are apparent. Canada is a very large country enormously rich in raw materials. . . .It is a prosperity which depends primarily upon the high prices which are being paid for raw materials.

TOO MUCH DEPENDENCE

"The weakness of this position is that Canada depends so much upon the United States. . . .Canadians can never be freed from the fear of a slump in the United States."

The paper suggests that increased travel area would promote stability and independence of the Canadian economy.

Ex-Egyptian Queen Objects To Censors

CAPRI, Italy (Reuters)—Princess Narriman, former Queen of Egypt, objects to Egyptian military censors making her personal mail public property.

The 19-year-old mother of King Ahmed Fuad said Saturday she read her mother's mailed admonition not to wear "abbreviated" swim suits in the newspapers two days before getting the letter.

The letter had been handed unsealed to the censor and its contents apparently had been handed over to the press, she said.

POUNDING THE REDS—Partially hidden by a small ravine, a Marine tank fires on enemy positions in Korea. After firing a certain number of rounds, the tank moves to a new position so that enemy artillery cannot pinpoint its location.

Sued By P.R. Man

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Florence Chadwick was sued yesterday for $10,650 by Ted Bentley, a public relations man who said she broke her agreement with him after her July 4 Catalina Channel swim attempt. Bentley contended they had a verbal agreement that he would represent her again in the try.

Jet Bomber Breaks Record

ALDERGROVE AIRFIELD, Northern Ireland (Reuters)—Britain's Canberra jet bomber, completing the first flight across the Atlantic and back inside one day, crossed the finishing line here today at 4:39 p.m. B.S.T. (11:39 a.m. E.D.T.). The jet bomber flashed across the ocean and back in slightly more than 10 hours. The double crossing in a single day was the first in history. The sleek black Canberra also smashed all previous records for a west to east passage at it streaked home from Gander, Nfld., the western terminus of the epic flight. The homeward flight from Gander took only three hours, 24 minutes. The outward crossing, slowed by headwinds, took four hours, 41 minutes. The three-man crew spent about two hours at Gander refuelling.

The whole trip of 4,145 miles took 10 hours five minutes, including the stopover at Gander.

This was the timetable of the bomber's trip, in terms of British daylight time which is five hours ahead of eastern daylight:

6:34 a. m.—left Aldergrove.
11:15 a. m.—Arrived Gander.
1:15 p. m.—left Gander.
4:39 p. m.—reached Aldergrove.

The plane fought 100-mile-an-hour headwinds on its east to west flight, but was helped by them on the trip home.

The average speed on the home leg was just over 600 miles an hour. The 2,072.79 mile flight took three hours, 24 minutes. The flight from Northern Ireland to Newfoundland required four hours 41 minutes. That was almost 40 miles an hour slower than the east-to-west record of 483.91 miles an hour established last August in the same plane by the same pilot—Wing. Cmdr. Roland Beamont of the R.A.F.

The new west-to-east record was easy to establish. For more than 15 years the record has been 20 hours 29 minutes, set by the Americans H. T. Merrill and J. S. Lambe in a Lockheed plane. Many commercial planes have made better times, but not under official timing conditions.

Boat Crew Rows 50 Miles After Fire Destroys Ship

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The crew of the fire-destroyed schooner James Jones rowed quietly ashore during the night and allayed fears they might have perished in an explosion. A source here reported the crew rowed ashore at Cabot Island, 30 miles from Cape Bonavista on Newfoundland's eastern extremity. There were no immediate details, but one source said the crew abandoned the ship after she caught fire. They rowed more than 50 miles to shore and apparently were all fit when they landed.

There was no word as to how many were in the crew but small coastal packets of this size carry from eight to 20 men.

BRINGS FIRST WORD

Lloyd Hand of Wesleyville brought the first word of their safety to the mainland after he went to the island in his motor cruiser to investigate a flag signal flying from the lighthouse there.

Hand did not go ashore, but the lightkeeper told him all crew members of the ill-fated vessel were safe.

The fire broke out in the James Jones engineroom Sunday night and spread quickly.

A boat from the island lighthouse spotted the survivors as they neared the island and went out to assist them ashore.

Splintered, unburned wood was found in the area where the vessel, probably a coaster, went down in a cloud of smoke and steam. There was no sign of survivors nor personal effects.

Coast Guard officials received messages from the Newfoundland coastal freighter Blue Prince which found the smouldering wreckage some 40 miles east-northeast of Cape Bonavista.

The Prince described the vessel as "about 70 tons and 75 feet long, with black hull and copper bottom." Fire had burned all distinguishing marks and the craft sank before a thorough investigation could be made.

Mayor's Car Kills Youngster

PENETANGUISHENE (CP) — Paul Legault, 3½, died here today after he was hit by a car police said was driven by George Kerr, mayor of this town 90 miles north of Toronto.

Mr. Kerr said he was on his way to a council meeting when he hit the boy outside the Legault home. He said he did not see the boy.

200,000 Troops Head For Tibet

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York Times dispatch from India reports today that Communist China plans to move 200,000 troops into recently conquered Tibet as a part of a long-range drive to dominate India and other neighboring states.

(Official sources in the Indian capital of New Delhi described the report as "most improbable" in view of the difficulty the Chinese are reported having in feeding their small garrisons now in Tibet. These forces have estimated at 10,000 men.)

The Times report also says, however, that the Chinese Reds thus far have been unable to gain real control over Tibet despite a year of military occupation.

Real power in the Himalayan mountain land is held by an anti-Communist secret "people's committee," the dispatch says. Recommendations of this committee are followed by the country's spiritual and temporal titular ruler, the 17-year-old Dalai Lama.

Search Intensified For Escaped Convict

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—The search for the 25-year-old remand prisoner, Cas Martin, who escaped from the Lincoln county jail Thursday has been intensified following a series of clues, Deputy Sheriff Stanley Gibson said today. Martin, who escaped from the jail by piling garbage cans against the wall and climbing over, had a three-hour start before his escape was discovered. He was to have appeared in police court Friday on a car theft charge.

50 Trapped In Plane Swim Out Windows

TRAPANI, Sicily (Reuters)—Fifty men, women and children swam out of the windows and door of a crashed British airliner to safety yesterday while seven others aboard, including four children, died.

The four-engined Hermes, en route from London to Khartoum, plunged into the moonlit Mediterranean off the west coast of Sicily just before dawn when its two inboard engines went dead.

Officials of the charter plane firm, Airwork Limited, said the seating arrangement in which all passengers faced backwards may have been responsible in part for the large numbers of persons saved.

Local fishermen and air-sea rescue vessels picked up the survivors shortly after the water-logged aircraft sank and brought them to the tiny San Antonio hospital here. Some suffered burns from touching the exhaust pipes while escaping.

Narrow Escape

Young, Half-Blinded Pilot Crash-Lands Crippled Plane

RIVERTON, Man. (CP) — An 18-year-old bush pilot, blood blinding one eye, crash-landed his crippled seaplane in a farmer's field last night after barely missing the residential section of Riverton, 86 miles north of Winnipeg.

Three men in the aircraft, owned by Riverton Airways, were injured. Six other occupants escaped injury.

Pilot Bob Shinnie nursed the plane over the business area with a pontoon dangling loose. Passengers threw luggage and the plane's seats overboard to lessen the weight. Then Shinnie brought the plane in on its one good pontoon. The plane overturned and broke in halves when it hit.

Injured were William Pruden, 47, of Winnipeg, a compound fracture of the right leg and a fractured left hip, and Walter Saunders, 41, also of Winnipeg, a fractured right shoulder. Shinnie was cut over the left eye.

The plane was returning to Riverton from Norway House with construction workers aboard.

Shinnie said a down draft over a lake about 60 miles from here forced the plane sharply down. A pontoon clipped the water, breaking a strut, and Shinnie was smashed against the control panel, blood from a gash blinded his left eye as he fought to regain altitude.

Shinnie said he hadn't tried to land the crippled aircraft on water because he feared he and his passengers would be drowned.

Navy Vessel Picks Up Two Of Crew

U.S. Jet Shoots Down B-17 Bomber; Six Others Missing

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (CP)—The Navy reported today a minesweeper has picked up two surviving crew members of a B-17 bomber shot down by a new-type jet fighter into the Gulf of Mexico yesterday.

The naval air station at Pensacola said it picked up a radio message from the minesweeper Seer saying that it came across the two unidentified men in the storm-tossed gulf.

The radio message said the two men were in a life raft and that they came aboard the minesweeper under their own power.

All eight crew members on the bomber had been listed as missing.

SLIGHT MODERATION

A rain storm which churned up waves 15 feet high during the night moderated only slightly during today.

The B-17 was sent spinning into the Gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

One crew member who parachuted into the water in his life jacket waved and smiled to the crew of a passing flying boat. A life raft was tossed to him. Minutes later the area was pounded by a terrific rain storm, and the man wasn't seen again.

An all-night search of the debris-littered waters by ships and planes failed to bring any rescues. The crash scene was about 50 miles south of Panama City.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F-86D, the air force's newest all-weather fighter undergoing tests.

The air force said the pilot, Col. Arthur R. Debolt, 39, of Columbus, O., apparently mistook the B-17 "mother" plane for a radio-controlled drone, following about 1½ miles behind.

CAN'T EXPLAIN

Debolt, overcome with grief at the tragic error, was unable to explain how it happened. He saw the hit plainly on his radar screen and figured it was scored on the drone.

"I just can't believe I hit the wrong plane," he said. "I don't know how it happened."

Another B-17 "mother" plane escaped being hit, and guided the drone back to the base.

Clear Outsiders Of Sabotage

OTTAWA (CP)—The R.C.M.P. said yesterday it can find no evidence so far that any foreign power inspired sabotage of R.C.A.F. planes at Greenwood, N.S., air base where rags and metal were stuffed in the engines of a number of big transports last month.

An R.C.M.P. spokesman said the Mounties are not saying there was no sabotage. But their statement is intended to squelch reports that some foreign power had inspired the incident.

Defence officials have said that one possibility being investigated is that navy men might have stuffed the rags in the planes' engines as part of an exercise on infiltration tactics. The exercise took place shortly before interference with the planes was discovered.

Most Of Manila Badly Flooded

MANILA (AP)—Ten inches of rain in 15 hours flooded 90 per cent of this capital yesterday and today. As the one-to three-foot-deep waters receded, at least eight dead were counted.

Six bodies were recovered from flooded Manila streets. Two persons were drowned in the provinces.

The sudden tropical storm, whipped by heavy wind, injured 14 others. Three were missing.

Swollen rivers and streams swept away rows of homes and wooden bridges. Thousands of workers in the city of 1,000,000 persons were marooned for hours in waist-high, swirling waters.

All Passengers Killed

KARACHI (Reuters)—All 18 passengers aboard a Royal Pakistan Air Force plane—including high officials of the Pakistan army and police—were believed killed when it crashed near Jhelum in the Punjab today. Aitiaaz-Ud-Din, inspector general of the Pakistan police, was among the passengers, reports reaching here said. The plane took off from Lahore this morning for Peshawar, about 250 miles to the northwest.

Reds Invite Party Members Discuss Changes

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Communist party members today were invited to join freely in country - wide discussions on proposed changes in the party's constitution and the new five-year plan, which will be the main topics at the coming party congress here.

"Positive and critical" comments will be published in the Moscow newspaper Pravda, the newspaper said today.

The changes, abolishing the Politburo and the party's organization section, the Orgburo, in favor of a new Praesidium, were announced last week along with the new five-year plan.

Today's order from the central committee of the Communist party to engage in free discussion covered the whole of the second page of Pravda.

Pravda announced it has been ordered by the central committee to open on its pages a special section in which will be published comrades' comments, both positive and critical, on questions of the congress agenda.

Pravda said the party is determined to root out "suppressers of criticism" in party ranks, and that the new statutes provide the weapon to do this.

MUST CRITICIZE

The new statutes, it said, "make it not just the right, but the obligation of every party member to inform on faults in party work, right up to the central committee of the party."

The new statutes, Pravda explained, give increased powers to a committee on party control, particularly in the field of party discipline. This, it said, was necessary to advance the cause of the struggle "with violators of party discipline and unsatisfactory fulfilment by Communists of their obligations."

CRACK-DOWN NEAR

William L. Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, writes:

Pravda confirms previous suspicions that the summoning of the first All-Union Communist party congress in 13 years will signal a broad crackdown on party ranks throughout the country, tightening control all along the line and impressing upon the party the strict necessity of exercising full power over the people of the Soviet Union.

The announcement of a widespread discussion in the Soviet Communist party has always been a danger signal. It causes Communists, from upper echelons all the way down the line, to walk with great caution. The discussion is a vehicle with which the party has often boobytrapped members into speaking their minds — only to find later they had gone counter to the views of the Kremlin rulers. Thus, the discussion becomes a weapon of purification of the party ranks.

Allies Throw Back 3 Chinese Assaults

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations infantrymen last night and today threw back three Chinese assaults against Bunker Hill on the Korean western front, killing or wounding one-third of the 800-man Communist force.

The fighting raged for nearly eight hours. At some point troops closed in hand-to-hand combat on the muddy slopes soaked by six inches of rain in 48 hours.

United States B-29 and B-26 bombers again raided supply and communication centres near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark W. Clark announced he had reorganized his Far East Command headquarters to give the navy and air force an almost equal voice with the army in over-all planning and policy, including direction of the Korean war and armistice talks. Under Generals Douglas MacArthur and Matthew B. Ridgway, air force and navy staff officers played relatively minor roles.

Rail Station Houses Threatened

Hundreds of Citizens Help Village Beat Back Flames

PHELPSTON (CP) — Hundreds of district residents rushed to this village early today to battle a fire which destroyed a large grain elevator and threatened the Canadian Nation Railways station and a number of houses.

In Toronto William Hadad, 34-year-old taxi driver, was charged with arson in connection with the fire. Police who arrested Hadad at his rooming house in west-central Toronto continued a search for another Toronto man.

Flames from the 40-foot grain elevator roared 200 feet into the air, witnesses said. The building, reported to be valued at about $60,000, collapsed shortly before 1 a.m.

Fire departments from Elmvale and Phelpston and a pumper from Barrie joined with volunteers in an effort to save the station. They were hampered by lack of water.

More than 1,000 persons watched the blaze which started at about 11:40 p.m.

Phelpston is about 60 miles north of Toronto.

Labatt Estate Set $1,573,000

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The estate of John S. Labatt, London brewer, today was valued at $1,573,000.

Bulk of the estate goes to members of his immediate family. His widow will receive the income from a trust fund established from the estate and government annuities.

With the exception of $2,000 the remainder will be shared equally by his two sons, John and Arthur and a daughter Mary.

The church of which Mr. Labatt was a member, St. Paul's Cathedral receives a bequest of $1,000 and Beck Memorial Sanatorium, of which he was a director, receives the other $1,000 bequest.

Widow Released For Funeral

BELLEVILLE (CP)—Mrs Dorothy Van Wort, widow of a Canadian National Exhibition construction worker who died at his job last Wednesday, was released from jail here yesterday long enough to attend her husband's funeral in Toronto.

Mrs. Van Wort was arrested in Toronto Saturday after Trenton police had charged her with deserting her three children. She said she had left the children under care of a neighbor and journeyed to Toronto to celebrate her birthday with her husband.

Upon arrival in Toronto, Mrs. van Wort discovered her husband had died of a heart attack. She said she had spent four days trying to raise funds for her husband's funeral before being picked up by the police.

The children, ranging in age from one to five years, have been placed in the care of the Children's Aid Society.

Independence Rioting

UN Mission Investigating Border Shooting Incident

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP)—A United Nations mission investigating African protectorates arrived here last night on the heels of reports that French patrols in neighboring French Togoland had killed two natives and injured 50 others trying to carry independence petitions to the visitors.

Other reports told of the arrest by the French of a British newspaper man and a French editor during the mission's visit to Lome, in French Togoland.

Togoland, split between the British Gold Coast and adjoining French West Africa, is administered by the two European powers under U. N. trusteeships. U. N. missions visit them each year.

The dead and injured were reported to be part of a mass movement of 5,000 persons from British Togoland, who stormed the border to lend support to freedom demands presented to the mission by natives on the French side.

The 1,000,000-odd people who inhabit both sections of Togoland have been demanding unification of the two areas and independence.

The U. N. mission confirmed here that it had asked French authorities to explain what happened to a British newspaper man who interviewed them in Lome. Reports here said that the man was arrested, handcuffed and imprisoned by the French police. His name was not given but it was said he represented the Daily Graphic, the Accra edition of the London Daily Mirror.

The editor of the French newspaper "Echo de Togo," Boniface Dovi, also was reported arrested by French police yesterday for publishing the text of a cable sent to the U. N. in New York reporting the police action against the border crossings.

Ex-Worker Admits Taking $65,000 In Armored Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police announced today a 26-year-old former employee of the Brink's armored car service has admitted that he rifled a company car of $65,000 yesterday. The money has been recovered. Police Inspector Jeremiah Flaherty identified the man as Ray Eugene Farmer and said he has been charged with grand larceny. Flaherty said Farmer entered the parked, unguarded armored car at noon yesterday by using a duplicate key he had in his possession for some time.

The four-man armored car crew was lunching at the time of the robbery.

Flaherty said Farmer hurried to Glen Echo Park in nearby Maryland and buried the $65,000. He said Farmer covered up the money with dirt which he found in the bag he took from the Brink's car.

HUNCH BRINGS ARREST

The arrest was made, Flaherty said, because of a "hunch" by the Washington police chief, Robert V. Murray.

Murray recalled that Farmer, who worked for Brink's from 1946 to 1949, once belonged to a gang of youths who showed up with a number of Brink's uniforms and, when arrested for another crime, told police they had planned to attack one of the company's armored cars.

So police went to Farmer's home last night and took him to headquarters. After an all-night questioning session, Flaherty said, Farmer admitted the robbery and took the police to the amusement park and dug up the money.

It was all there, all $65,000 of it.

Flaherty said that while Farmer took the loot in small bills, he passed up another $200,000 in large denomination money.

Nobody Will Claim Corpse In Tunnel

KLAGENFURT, Austria (Reuters)—The main line track goes into a tunnel in Austria and comes out in Yugoslavia. Problem: Which country's police should investigate a murder committed in the tunnel?

The problem arose yesterday when Yugoslav guards were checking a train out of their end of the five-mile tunnel at the town of Jesenice.

They found a well-dressed, middle-aged passenger sitting bolt upright in his seat, strangled. All identification papers had been removed from his body.

The Yugoslavs wanted to hand the investigation, and the corpse, over to the Austrians. But the Austrians refused. They claimed there was no corpse on the train when they checked it into the tunnel at their end, Rosenbach.

Deny Churchill Planning U.S. Trip

LONDON (Reuters)—Authoritative quarters today denied reports that Prime Minister Churchill is planning another visit to the United States.

They said Churchill had no such plans "at present."

The Socialist Daily Herald had reported that Churchill hoped to arrange a meeting with the new president early next year.

U.N. Gunfire Wounds 40 In P.O.W. Riots

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—One Communist prisoner of war was killed, 40 wounded by gunfire, and 12 injured in five riots in United Nations prisoner-of-war camps since Aug. 11, the United States Eighth Army said tonight.

Disclosure of the incidents came in three separate announcements, several hours apart, after a Communist Peiping radio broadcast had charged that 15 Koreans were killed and 40 wounded in an undesignated U. N. P. O. W. camp Aug. 15 last year.

In an incident last Saturday, one Red P. O. W. was killed and 12 injured in enclosure 10 on Koje Island "when a U. S. rifle company was forced to restore order," the Army report said.

CREATE DISORDERS

Two prisoners of war were shot and wounded Aug. 19 on Koje. The Reds were creating disorder during the evacuation of P. O. W.s to make room for hospital patients.

Thirty-eight prisoners on Koje were wounded by small pellets—none seriously—Aug. 11. The guards fired into demonstrating Communist prisoners with riot guns after the prisoners replied to tear gas grenades with a rock barrage.

BREAK UP TRAINING

Two days later in another Koje compound guards used tear gas in breaking up a military training and marching demonstration.

Then Aug. 15 guards on Cheju island marched into prisoner pen 3-A behind a screen of tear gas grenades and forced the prisoners to lower and burn Communist flags.

A spokesman for Maj.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, commander of U.N. P.O.W. camps, said "there is no more reluctance" about going into prisoners pens and restoring "order and discipline."

The spokesman said leaders of the Cheju incident were placed in solitary confinement.

Alexander Plans Sell Two Homes

LONDON (CP)—Field Marshal Earl Alexander, former Governor-General of Canada and now Britain's Minister of Defence, has sold one of his two country homes and is planning to sell the other.

The Nightingales, at Chalfont St. Giles, Buckinghamshire, surrounded by 10 acres of parkland, has been purchased by G. C. Vandervell, prominent London financier. The estate was bought by Lord Alexander during his vice-regal term in Canada. While on holiday here last year he spent much of his time remodelling and redecorating the place.

The other property, a 16th century farmstead at Chobham, Surrey, is known as "Copyhold," and was acquired earlier this year before he accepted the post of Defence Minister. He has found, however, that the place is too small to serve as a permanent residence for his family.

Lord Alexander is searching for another country estate and meanwhile will live in his London house, in the exclusive Belgravia district.

Palace Sentry Forgets Proper Password

LONDON (Reuters)—A Buckingham Palace sentry did not know his password yesterday so he arrested a Scotland Yard detective at bayonet point.

The detective, patrolling the darkened palace grounds, gave the correct password but the sentry refused to accept it and marched him to the nearest guardhouse inside the grounds. There the detective was identified.

Scotland Yard and army officers got together later to straighten out the matter. It was discovered that the guard, new to his job, had confused the password, changed constantly.

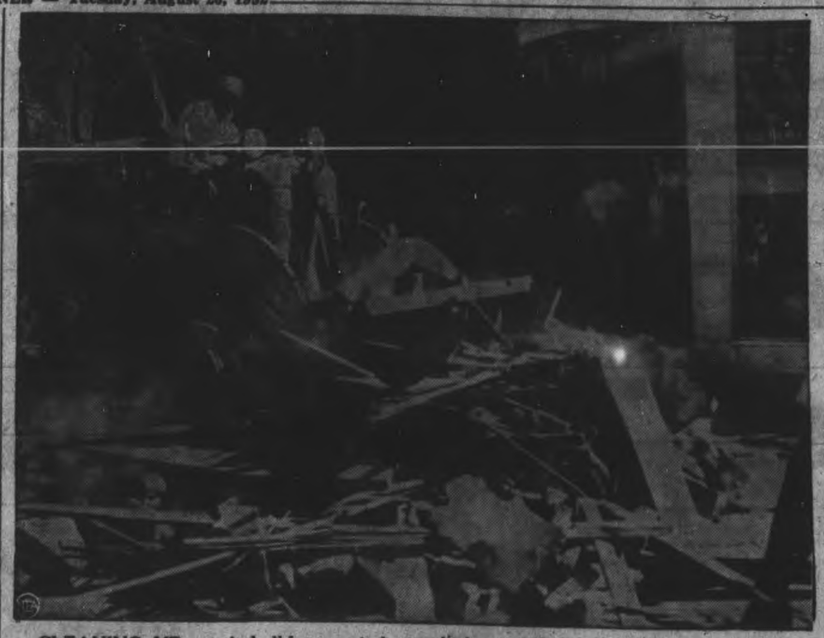
Pat Fletcher Sizzling Mad May Walk Out

By W.R. WHEATLEY

BEACONSFIELD GOLF CLUB, Que. (CP)—Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon, the 1952 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association champion, was so sizzling mad today that "for two pins, I'd walk right out of this tournament."

Fletcher was named to the Canadian team meeting top United States professionals today and tomorrow for the new international trophy.

When the draw was announced last night, Fletcher was named only for today's four-ball matches and was dropped from tomorrow's singles. In his place will be Bill Kerr, pro at the Beaconsfield Club where play will be held. When the team make-up was announced several weeks ago, Kerr was named alternate and team captain.



IN GREAT MESS

"If the C. P. G. A. champion doesn't belong in the singles, then things are in a hell of a mess," said Fletcher a half-hour before tee-off time.

"There's some fine monkey business going on all right. I'm so fed up I feel I'd like to walk out of the whole thing.

"I'm not peeved at Bill Kerr personally. But it has been said and understood all along that Bill would be non-playing captain.

"So what happened? I win the C.P.G.A. championship last month at Winnipeg; I'm named to the team and I fly here from Saskatoon. Then I get the business. I'm mad, damn good and mad."

CLEANING UP — A bulldozer grinds through debris as it begins the task of cleaning up wreckage left by the earthquake which struck Bakersfield. Two persons were killed and 32 injured in the 'quake that rocked a 20-block business section and put damages up into the millions.

Civic Workers Check On Wages

Independent Civic Employees Union inquired of the finance committee Monday about progress on their application for wage adjustment.

Chairman Ald. Miller recalled that the council had decided to suspend action until the arbitration of the firemen's agreement, principally on the wage question, was settled.

To reassure the Civic Independents, Ald. Miller remarked that the council's undertaking to them was to the effect that the wage decision would be retroactive. The arbitration sought by the Fire Fighters would indicate whether the council's wage attitude was "in line or out of line."

The firemen had proposed that the cost of living advance at the time of their new agreement should be incorporated in their basic wage. On the other hand, the council was opposed to what they said was virtually a new wage schedule.

Information of the council is that arbitration will take place here about the middle of next month.

Ald. Beggs commented that the two civic groups were apparently in quite different fields of work.

The Independent Civic Employees wrote that they had obtained information about wages for their work in other cities.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Barometer 29.6
Night Low....49 Noon...80

Yesterday:
Highest.....75 Lowest...49

One Year Ago:
Highest.....78 Lowest...51

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m., E.D.T.

SYNOPSIS:

After four days of torrid ninety-plus temperatures across the prairies, it appears from today's weather analysis for these regions that a break in the heat wave is close at hand. However, another very warm day is anticipated for Ontario with temperatures generally ranging from 85 to 90, except for those areas where off-lake breezes will help to moderate an otherwise hot blast of air.

A developing disturbance north of Lake Winnipeg is expected to draw cool air into northwestern Ontario Wednesday, however, it will take at least 24 hours and possibly longer before moving over central and southern regions.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Wednesday. Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay, Haliburton, Southern Kirkland Lake regions; Windsor, London, Toronto, Hamilton, North Bay: Sunny and very warm today and Wednesday. Winds south 15. Low tonight and high Wednesday at St. Thomas, Trenton, St. Catharines, Windsor, Toronto and Hamilton 60 and 85; Wingham, Muskoka and London 55 and 85, Killaloe, Earlton, North Bay and Sudbury 60 and 90. Summary for Wednesday — sunny and very warm.

NAME CHANGED IN 1917

The name of the Royal family of England was changed to Windsor by proclamation in 1917.

Indict 65 In Move To Smash $500,000,000 Gold Racket

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixty-five persons were indicted yesterday in a move to smash a $500,000,000 yearly gold-smuggling racket. The federal indictment said: "Unless this nefarious trade is stopped our financial structure will be undermined by the siphoning off of large reserves of our gold supply." The racket consists of the legal purchase of gold at $35 an ounce by persons claiming to be jewelry manufacturers and the resale of the gold at huge profits in foreign black markets, said Assistant U.S. Attorney Louis I. Kaplan.

The grand jurors said regulations for enforcement of the United States gold laws are ineffective and federal authorities are "lax in their enforcement."

FACE STIFF SENTENCES

The accused, if convicted on all counts, face sentences ranging from five years in prison and $10,000 fine up to 100 years and $210,000 fine.

Among those indicted is Salvatore Sollazzo, sent to prison as a "fixer" in the recent college basketball scandal.

Kaplan said the gold was smuggled to Belgium and Holland, sold at easily twice the U.S. price and the profits used to buy diamonds which were smuggled to America.

The prosecutor said one smuggler concealed four pounds of gold in a length of salami and another was seized carrying a cane made of the finest gold but lacquered to appear like mahogany.

One automobile sported five solid gold hub caps coated with nickel and another had a solid gold front bumper painted black, said Kaplan.

Third Offender Given 4 Months

Three men were convicted of liquor charges in police court today.

John King was sentenced to four months in reformatory after he pleaded guilty to being drunk on August 23. He admitted two previous convictions under different sections of the Liquor Control Act and asked for the reformatory term so he could be sent to Mimico for alcoholic treatment.

Arthur King and Leo Grisdale pleaded not guilty to drinking wine on Saturday afternoon in the Central School grounds.

Both were convicted on the evidence of Patrol Sgt. Claire McGillen and Constable Grant Gillespie who said they saw the pair drink from a bottle as they passed by in a cruiser on McDonnel St.

Arthur King admitted a recent conviction for drunkenness and was fined $50 and $2.50 costs or one month in all.

Grisdale was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or ten days.

Peterborough Hogs, Grain And Produce

TUESDAY, AUGUST 26

No hog or sow quotations offered today.

Quaker Oats Company of Canada quotes Ontario winter wheat No. 1, $1.75; No. 2, $1.75; No. 3, $1.72; feed oats, 80c; buckwheat, $1.40; feed barley, $1.20; Ontario yellow corn basis 15.% moisture, $1.90.

Bulk truckload shipment will now be accepted.

Base Metals Gain Strength On Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Base metals gained strength in early afternoon stock market trading today as other sections drifted downward.

Industrials and western oils slipped steadily from the opening but golds gained until early afternoon. Base metals improved after a weak opening.

Trading broadened in early afternoon to cover a fairly wide list of mining issues but volume fell below last week's more active sessions. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,158,000 shares.

Industrials showed a majority of declines as foods and utilities turned mixed after a strong opening. Banks continued strong and miscellaneous industrials slipped.

Golds were mixed after a firm opening as profit-taking skimmed earlier indidual advances. Senior golds and holding companies were firm but junior producers and prospects slipped. Donalda and Preston traded extensively for penny gains.

Base metals recorded a majority of losses but the exchange's index rose as leading issues advanced. Falconbridge gained but Silver Miller slipped in heavy trading. Western oils continued yesterday's decline.

The theft was not reported to police until almost two hours after it occurred. Melvin A. Goodspeed, local manager for Brink's, said the guards had reported the theft to him promptly, but he had delayed notifying the police until he could check all collection points on the possibility a money pick-up had been overlooked.

SMALL BILLS TAKEN

Police said the $65,000 was all in $5, $10 and $20 bills. One official said the fact the untouched $200,000 was of large denominations indicated the thief or thieves may have feared they could not safely pass such currency.

Brink's was the victim of the biggest cash haul in United States crime on Jan. 17, 1950, when Hallowe'en-masked bandits held up employees in the firm's armored car stronghold in Boston and escaped with $1,219,000. The case is still unsolved.

Later the same year—on May 12—four gunmen ambushed three Brink's guards in a carpet factory at Thompsonville, Conn., and fled with a $15,000 payroll.

A few months ago in Danvers, Mass., while three guards were having coffee in a drugstore, thieves looted an armored car of the U. S. Trucking Co. of $681,000. No arrests have been made to date.

Committee Sees Erosion Winning Fight

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The note of hopelessness sounded yesterday by Lambton County road committee surveying shore erosion near Sarnia has been supported by Dr. E. G. Pleva, geographer at the University of Weston Ontario.

Dr. Pleva, who has made extensive studies of lake shore erosion and lake water levels, said the only answer to the whole problem is better allocation of land.

He said not much can be done about land which is subject to attack from the lake.

"People building on these areas went in with their eyes wide open and it is not fair that they should look to people inland for assistance against this attack," he said.

EMPHASIZES PROBLEM

Dr. Pleva's statement pointed up the problem which has the Sarnia district and many other communities baffled.

Yesterday Warden Ralph Wright of Lambton County, following a tour of lake shore road where attempts to halt erosion seem doomed to failure said:

"I might as well say right now, we don't have an answer. We don't know yet what we are going to do. It's just about the biggest problem the committee ever has had to face."

R.C.A.F. Seeking New Fighter

OTTAWA (CP)—The R.C.A.F. is understood to have launched a search for a new fighter plane to enable Canada to keep pace in the international race for supremacy of the skies.

Chances are it will be a supersonic jet capable of speeds beyond 750 miles an hour, that it will be bigger, more complex and substantially costlier than those Canada now has in use.

The R.C.A.F.'s two modern jets, the CF-100 Canuck and F-86E Sabre, are considered capable of protecting Canada and her allies for another three to five years. Then something better will be needed. Thus the R.C.A.F. is after a plane that could be in production around 1956.

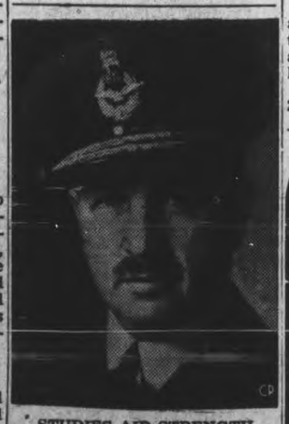
By then, Russia, may well have jet bombers to throw at North America. Fighter defence consequently will have to be stepped up.

The Sabre and Canuck are generally considered to be in what is known as the subsonic class.

Train Hits Truck Two Men Killed

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP) —Two men were killed and another severely injured yesterday when a Canadian National Railway's train bound for Levis struck a truck at a level crossing here.

Killed were: Jean Baptiste Soucy, 43, and J. M. Couillard, 30. The injured man was not identified.



Remanded For Week For Mental Exam

WELLAND (CP)—Charged with arson, Thomas Froluk, 54, no fixed abode, was today remanded a week by Magistrate T. George Street for mental examination.

Froluk surrendered to police last week with a confession of having set fire to a refreshment booth in a Crowland Park in order to get into jail. The booth was a total loss, damage amounting to $1,000.

Assisted Into Port

TOKYO (Reuters)—The 7,000-ton Panamanian trader Atlantic Sea radioed today that, although in distress with propellor shaft trouble, she was being assisted into port by another ship. The Atlantic Sea was reported to be carrying a cargo of wheat from Vancouver to Yokohoma.

STUDIES AIR STRENGTH—Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, 59, chief of Canada's air staff, is in Europe inspecting air fields allocated to the R.C.A.F. on the Continent and studying others suggested for Canadian use. Three squadrons of jet fighters are scheduled to leave in October for Europe. It is the second of four wings Canada has promised to have in Europe by 1954. Air Marshal Curtis was born in Havelock, and as a fighter pilot in the First World War was credited with 13 German planes. Between wars he was in the reserve of the Canadian Air Force. His rise was rapid in the Second World War, and in 1941 he went overseas. In 1944 he was made air member for air staff in Ottawa, and in September, 1947, he became chief of the air staff.

Engineers Get 25-Cent Hike

LEAMINGTON (CP)—Union officials said today that under an agreement concluded Monday H. J. Heinz of Canada operating engineers will receive a 25-cent increase on an hourly basic wage rate of $1.50. The increase would be retroactive to Jan. 31.

They said the agreement provides also for medical benefits equivalent to five cents an hour. Twenty-one employees, members of Local 944, the International Union of Operating Engineers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), were affected.

A 13,day strike of 1,100 Heinz employees ended Friday with union acceptance of the company offer of a 19-cent package increase on an hourly basic rate of 99 cents.

Thomas Gets Retrial On Rape Charge

HAMILTON (CP)—The retrial of Gordon E. Thomas, of Hamilton, convicted of a rape charge in January, 1951, and sentenced to four years in penitentiary, has been filed for hearing during the fall sitting of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

Following his conviction, Thomas appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada, and was granted a new trial. As appellant, Thomas alleged that no adequate warning was given the jury at his Supreme Court of Ontario trial, as to the danger of conviction on the uncorroborated evidence of the complainant, that the defence was not put clearly, and that there was what amounted to misdirection in the judge's charge. He also claimed the verdict was against the weight of evidence.

French Forces Take 476 Vietminh POW's

SAIGON, Indo-China (Reuters)—French forces have captured 476 Vietminh prisoners in one of the most aggressive French attacks in the last four months of the Indo-China war.

The attack, launched in an area about 25 miles northwest of central Vietnam's capital city of Hue, also resulted in 43 Vietminh troops killed and at least 30 wounded.

French forces lost 15 killed and 27 wounded.

Cancel Meeting To Settle Strike

TORONTO (CP)—A meeting here aimed at settling a furniture workers' strike in Durham has been cancelled.

Labor Minister Daley of Ontario had planned to meet with representatives of the durham Furniture Co. Ltd. and of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.). A labor department official said the meeting is off indefinitely but gave no reason for the cancellation.

The strike, now in its sixth week, was called over demands for higher wages, changes in working conditions and union security. More than 150 workers are affected.

Truck Upsets Blocks Traffic

PORT CREDIT (CP)—Heavy traffic on the Queen Elizabeth Way was halted for more than an hour today when a truck loaded with scrap iron overturned near this town a few miles west of Toronto, scattering its cargo over both lanes of the highway.

Police said it took more than five hours to clean up the mess, but single lane traffic was flagged through after 40 minutes.

The air force has been testing the 650-miles-an-hour F-86Ds for several months here. An air force spokesman said the F-86D operates automatically to the extent that once a target comes within range of its radar the electronic equipment locks on to the target and guides the fighter into the attack.

The pilot retains control of the firing mechanism, however, and can refrain from firing his rockets until he has positively identified the target, the spokesman said.

U.S. Dollar At Disc

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 5⅞ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Monday's noon rate was also 96⅛ cents. The pound sterling was $2.67⅞, against $2.67 11-16 Monday.

Movie Critic In Britain Blasts Film

LONDON (CP)—You've all seen it happen. The American hero (or heroine) of the film set in Britain unbends at some point in the story and explains away his (or her) accent by saying it's all due to a Canadian upbringing.

It's a script writer's trick to foist an un-English voice on English ears.

Well, it happened once too often for movie critic Leonard Mosley of the Daily Express. Advised that Hollywood's Alan Ladd was to play a Canadian paratrooper in "Red Beret," a story of the famous British parachute regiment, Mosley exploded.

TIRED OF HOLLYWOOD

"For the last time, I repeat—I'm sick and tired," wrote Mosley, "of having a Hollywood type lurking around every turret, cockpit and machine-gun post where the Union Jack waved during the war."

Sure, says Mosley, there were lots of Canadians in the parachute troops.

"But why pick a Hollywood actor . . . to play the lead? British directors seem to believe that Canadians and Americans have the same accent.

"They should hear the comments of Canadians on that."

$1,000 Reward For Murderer

MAXVILLE (CP)—Reeve William McEwen of Maxville today announced the posting of a $1,000 reward for "the apprehension and conviction" of the slayer of Leotard Z. Hurd, Maxville taxi operator shot to death on a lonely road near here Aug. 16.

The reward money is being raised through public subscription as police press a search for Henri Seguin, 37-year-old Cornwall ex-soldier for whom a murder warrant has been issued. An Army discharge certificate in Seguin's name was found in the car in which Hurd was shot five times.

The victim was robbed of more than $1,000.

An Ontario provoncial police inspector, Robert Wannell said he was confident Hurd's slayer would be captured before long. He said he based his statement on important information now before police.

Jet Pilot Killed Plane Clips Mower

CHATHAM, N. B. (CP)—The pilot of a jet fighter killed yesterday trying to crash-land his plane on a highway near here today was identified as PO. George Collingwood, 20, of Vancouver.

The flier died as he tried to crash-land a faltering Sabre jet on the Wellfield road, about a mile south of the airport.

Myles Blakley, 52, suffered head and other injuries when the aircraft hit the hay mower. With him on the machine was a son, Hazen, who escaped harm.

Army Captain Hired As Board Treasurer

SAULT STE. MARIE (CP)—Capt. H. W. Nelson, administration officer and quartermaster at kingston military hospital, Barriefield, was hired last night as secretary-treasurer and business administrator for the Sault board of education.

He will replace H. J. A. Brown, who resigned last month to take a similar post with the newly-formed board of education at Cooksville.

A native of the Sault, Capt. Nelson joined the Army in 1940, and worked up through the ranks to earn his commission.

Hang Husband For Slaying In Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Thirty-four-year-old Kaspar Gorczak was hanged early today at Fort Saskatchewan provincial jail for the new year's day knife-slaying in Edmonton of his estranged wife, Staffy.

Gorczak, a Polish immigrant, walked to the gallows at midnight, the trap was sprung at 12:03 a. m., and Gorczak was pronounced dead at 12:15 a. m.

Gorczak, former proprietor of a cafe at Wanham, in Alberta's Peace River district, was twice convicted of murder.

He was first convicted by a Supreme Court jury in Edmonton March 26 and sentenced to be hanged June 27. He appealed, won a new trial and again was convicted and sentenced.

Gorcak's 22-year-old wife was employed in Edmonton as a waitress. The two had not lived together for several weeks preceding the stabbing which fololwed repeated attempts by Gorczak to arrive at a reconciliation with his wife.

Deadline Passes, No Strike Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—C.I.O. shipbuilders, hours after their tentative strike deadline passed in eight east-coast Bethlehem Steel Company shipyards, declined today to talk about a walkout and kept negotiations alive.

Pickets were reported at only one of the yards, in Baltimore. But there was no indication from the plant or the union whether the strike was on.

In New York, where marathon federal mediation talks have been going on, union officials declined comment on the passing of the strike deadline when negotiations recessed at dawn. Nor was there any comment from company officials or the mediators.

Another bargaining session was scheduled for later today.

The union—the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America—is seeking a 20-cent-an-hour pay increase for 32,000 workers in the eight shipyards. They now average $1.80 an hour.

A strike has been threatened for any time after the deadline, last midnight.

Campbellford Bowlers Win Belleville Cup

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A Campbellford bowling trio comprising Mac McDonald, Walter Wiggins and Wib Kingston as skip captured the high score for two wins in a bowling tournament held in Belleville on Saturday.

Charles Smart, of Belleville, was high for three wins in the men's trebles, capturing a Corbin Lock cup.

Jap Police Reserve Gets Heavy Artillery

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese National Police Reserve will be equipped with heavy artillery and tanks within 30 days, the newspapers Asahi and Tokyo Shimbun reported today.

Tokyo Shimbun said 105-millimetre guns and 20-ton tanks were handed over by the United States army last week.

"The N.P.R. will have 30 tanks and 20 L-5 and L-16 airplanes by October," the paper added. Aircraft strength will be expanded to 100 planes by next spring, Tokyo Shimbun said.

Begin Talks Over Kashmir

GENEVA, Switzerland (Reuters)—Secret ministerial talks aimed at solving the five-year-old dispute between India and Pakistan over the status of Kashmir began here today.

Delegations of the two countries—led by defence minister Gopalaswami Ayyangar of India and Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, Pakistan's foreign minister, met for their opening discussions.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, United Nations mediator in Kashmir, is presiding at the talks, which will center on the deadlocked issue of demilitarization — the difference over the number and character of forces to be left on each side of the cease-fire line.

Demilitarization is a necessary preliminary to a plebiscite by which the people of Kashmir would decide to which country they should accede.

Haliburton Merchant Saul Bernstein Dies

HALIBURTON—A well known Haliburton merchant, Saul Bernstein, died Saturday at the age of 50 while having his daily rest.

For several years he owned a garage in the village and then sold out to move to Toronto. He returned to Haliburton a year ago to open a general store. He had a heart condition then.

You Can't Take It With You Success Over Small Stage

In temper and tone, this week's Summer Theatre production of "You Can't Take It With You" is a change from the high hilarity of the last two comedies staged at the Queen Mary (Life With Father and One Wild Oat). It is a comedy, noisy and hilarious at times, but on the whole qquieter and more relaxing. One wonders if this post-war world has rather heavily predated the pre-war, mid-depression world of the play, and if the American-New York references lose much of their tang when they cross the Canadian border.

This Kaufman and Hart play has been a large success on metropolitan American stages for which it was written, and as a movie. Mr. Sadlier has been ambitious in attempting to stage it on the small Queen Mary stage, with its limited backstage room and without the elaborate sound and flare apparatus a New York production provides. But it comes off entertainingly, and Peter Mew's set has given the small stage the appearance of spaciousness. The catch is that, whatever you do to the appearance, the stage does remain small for prancing and bangs and the very large cast. The helter-shelter necessary to the action and air of the comedy must therefore be minuscule, and some of the bangs mere pops.

Highlights

Two of the highlights on opening night were the quietly romantic interlude (Act. 1, scene 2) between Frank Perry and Kate Reid, and the game which Betty Leighton conducted as hostess Mrs. Sycamore trying to relieve an embarrassing situation. Other highlights will emerge during the week as the production comes to terms with the company's physical limitations.

Frank Perry as Tony, son of the business tycoon Kirby, and Kate Reid as Alice Sycamore, secretary to Kirby, beloved by the son, performed charmingly and skilfully; the nuances of the romance and characters were excellent Miss Reid gave one of her most artistic controlled and sympathetic accounts of the season.

Old Peter Mews

Peter Mews was cast in an unusual role for him: quiet, reflective old grandfather Martin Vanderhof, head of the eccentric household. He sustained the character throughout; his voice, appearance and movement were excellently in keeping. Then we had Betty Leighton as middle-aged mother of the Sycamores, a sure and artistic performance; Patricia Moore ballet-posturing all over the stage—skilful acting, Gerry Sarracini as the sponging, dramatic Russian Boris of the old regime (his "it shtunk" reverberated across the amused face of the audience), and Barbara Hamiltoon, in a dual role, especially funny in the very funny and ironic part of the Russian countess who worked in a New York restaurant.

Large Cast

Glad to welcome back to the Peterborough stage Bill Hutt, giving a sound characterization in the part of tycoon Kirby. Others in the large cast were Beryl Braithwaite, Jerry Campbell, Ronald Bailey, Ted Palmer (at the zylophone and printing press—incidentally the number of special props required for the play is astonishing, and astonishingly, the Summer Theatre had them all on stage), Harry Tasker, Peter McCombe, Helen Robertson, Ian Clark, Bill Zaharuk and Michael Sadlier. Mr. Sadlier produced the play.

This is the last opportunity to see the full cast of the season in action. Next week we are to have an extra play, as arranged last Spring with the Board of Education, and it will be the delightful Rattigan comedy 'O Mistress Mine' which requires a smaller cast than this week, but should be a real delight.

State Interference Deplored By Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope, in a letter to Roman Catholic students meeting at Montreal, today deplored the "undue interference of the state" for political or ideological ends in university education.

He told the 22nd congress of "Pax Romana," an assembly of catholic students and intellectuals, that universities had the delicate mission of giving young minds respect for truth and of guiding them to independent lines of thought.

Catholic universities, in particular, must be schools of truth "crowned by the teaching of Christian philosophy and theology."

Touring World Studying Health Systems

MONTREAL (CP) — Isadore Denike might be called a roving reporter, but she's as much at home with bandages and medicine as with paper and typewriter. She's a public health specialist from Washington, D.C.

Miss Denike's assignment is to tour as much of the world as she can, learning about health systems and methods and reporting back to the American Nurses Association.

She is director of student health services at Freedman's Hospital in Washington, and has a master's degree from the University of Minnesota.

TRAVELS WIDELY

Whenever she comes across an idea that could be used back home, out comes the typewriter and off goes a report to Washington. She has already visited Mexico, Spain, Germany, France and England.

At present she is taking a look at the way Canadians approach health problems. She says Canadians do things "much the same as at home."

But she has found that standards of public nursing differe widely from country to country. Sanitation in Mexico is still primitive, she says. In Britain they are as up-to-date as anywhere, with mater nity work especially well-advanced, but there tradition is still over-emphasized, she thinks.

Britain, however, has a lower infant death rate than Canada or the United States, she said, because there nurses are trained as midwives and there is an active program of pre-natal care for all prospective mothers.-

Africans Chanting Anthem At Court

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—The deep roar of African voices chanting their national anthem outside the courthouse here today nearly drowned out the prosecutor as he outlined his allegations of Communism against 20 leaders of the passive resistance campaign.

As the hearing continued, more Africans and Indians arrived on the scene by bus and truck to swell the crowd of 2,000 assembled at one corner of the courthouse.

Today's hearing started a preliminary examination to determine whether the leaders can be tried under the country's "suppression of Communism" act.

Latest In Phones Shown In London

LONDON (Reuters)—A television telephone enabling a person at one end of the wire to see the caller at the other end was demonstrated today in London.

Primarily intending it for business and industrial use, the makers hope that before long it can be adopted for use in the transatlantic telephone system.

The phone, with a small television screen in front of it, is one of the most popular attractions at the National Radio Show which opened here today.

Visitors are able to use it to converse with a demonstrator in another part of the giant Earl's Court exhibition hall.

Paint Job Perks Up Roseneath Fairground

ROSENEATH —(ENS) —Roseneath fair grounds have acquired a new look; all the buildings on the grounds have been newly painted in colors of cream and red. William Jenkinson, Cobourg, had the contract for the paint job in preparation for Roseneath Fair to be held on October 10. The large entrance gates and the fence were also painted. Included in the buildings painted were: cattle barn, poultry building, baby-show room, the merry-go-round building, manufacturer's building, the large exhibit building, secretary's office, grandstand and bandstand.

Its weight and measurement was verified on the scales of Mr. Morgan's store.—(Parks Photo).

Rotarians Told Of Welfare Work

CAMPBELLFORD— (ENS) — Rotarians heard an address by Mrs. W. S. Honey of Sarnia when they met at their regular Monday luncheon meeting here. Mrs. Honey gave an interesting talk on the Mothers' Allowance branch of the Department of Public Welfare. Mrs. Honey complimented the Rotary Club on the fine work they had undertaken locally.

The Mother's Allowance Branch has spent 100 million dollars during the 32 years it has been in operation. The legislation was started as a result of private agitation by the Hearst government and passed by the Drury administration.

When the act was passed, it was simple and effective. Today, a widow with six children under 18 receives $100 per month, plus grants of $20 for special emergencies as well as a grant for fuel, for eight months of the year. Those eligible under the act include widows, the wife of an unemployable man and a divorced wife where the husband's whereabouts are not known. By a special order in council, a mother, whose husband is in a penal institution with two years or more to serve, may also be a beneficiary.

The age of dependent children was recently raised from 16 to 18 years. In this way, the children may be kept at school and indirectly, the province as a whole may be made better as care of the younger generation pays off in better citizens. Many beneficiaries of the plan have become professional men and women and the highest type of citizens.

The department expects, above all, that the mothers preserve the highest standards of morality. This is the chief concern of the board and it has been found that only two per cent of mothers are ever cut off because of unseemly behavior. Even if cut off, a mother, when she has proven good behavior and recommendations, may be reinstated.

At present, the Ontario Department pays out about half a million dollars a month, plus fuel allowance in the winter, to some 8,000 widows, 17,000 children, 800 unemployables and about 300 foster mothers.

The speaker was introduced by Wib Kingston and thanked by Fred Rutherford.

A former member of the club, Captain Alex Turnbull of London, led in the singing and renewed acquaintances during his visit to the town.

Order Cabinet Reveal Wealth

CAIRO (Reuters)—The government today ordered all past and present cabinet minister to reveal their private wealth as part of a move to uproot graft and corruption.

Chief target of the inquiry is the Wafd party, under heavy fire in the press for alleged corrupt practices during the Wafd rule of the nation from 1950 to 1952.

Informed quarters said Premier Aly Maher may soon order a reorganization of all political parties by means of special legislation. The move depends on whether the parties purge their ranks of corrupt elements in spirit with the new regime, these quarters said.

At the same time, Gen. Mohammed Naguib, Egypt's "strong man" who overthrew King Farouk's regime last month, said his armed forces will brook no further delay in cleaning up politics.

Jones Inspects British Refinery

TEHRAN (AP)—American oilman W. Alton Jones left for the south Iran oil centre of Abadan today to inspect the giant long-idle refinery owned by Britain.

Jones, president of the Cities Service Company of New York, and four associates arrived from the United States on Saturday.

An Iranian spokesman said yesterday that Jones had come "to discover what assistance can be made to put the Iranian nationalized oil industry into operation" and "to advise Iranians how to continue working and administering the oil industry."

In New York, Cities Service officials said Jones had gone only to mediate in the long dispute between Iran and Britain, which formerly operated the country's oil industry.

Report Meeting Among Troops Along Border

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters)—Reports of mutiny and of a change in the command of 10,000 Chinese Nationalist troops in the Burma-China border area circulated here today.

Authoritative sources said about 50 men were killed in a brief fight in which Gen. Li Mi was ousted in favor of Gen. Lu Kuo Chuan, former commander of the Chinese 26th Army.

The sources said Li's abortive attack on Communists in Yunnan province early last year, in which many of the Nationalist guerrillas were lost, caused discontent among the troops.

Li, 54, deputy commander of the Chinese 8th Army during the civil war in China, withdrew his troops to the Burma border late in 1949. Since then, the troops have operated in the mountains on Burma's eastern frontier.

Meanwhile, Karen rebels today derailed a passenger train about [illegible] and robbed the passengers.

Need 100 Teachers In Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Education department officials said today that about 2,000 pupils will be kept away from school this year unless 100 teachers apply for jobs within the next two or three weeks.

A survey showed most teaching vacancies in rural districts, officials said. Reason given for the shortage was the attraction of higher wages on defence projects and other occupations.

Rape And The Red Cross

The Communists nave refused to accept Red Cross agents as impartial investigators of the alleged American germ warfare in Korea. They say that such investigators would be mostly western Red Cross people and would be biased, not impartial. On the other hand, we are sure that the West would not accept the evidence of an investigating Red Cross committee composed mainly of people from behind the Iron Curtain and China. (There is a Red Cross Society in China, as the accounts of the recent international Red Cross conference acrimoniously showed.) The fact is that while the Red Cross flag is an international symbol, the International Red Cross is an organization composed of national Red Cross societies which are no more impartial than the nations to which they belong. The Toronto conference showed this too.

* * *

Our morning mail brought us an astonishing publication, bearing this information on its title page:

RED CROSS SOCIETY OF CHINA
PEKING, 1952

The title of the fifty-page booklet is "Out Of Their Mouths." Under the title is this amplification:

> "Revelations and confessions written by American soldiers of torture, rape, arson, looting and cold-blooded murder of defenceless civilians and prisoners of war in Korea."

The foreword explains that the booklet "consists of a series of signed statements which were written by American and British soldiers now in a prisoner of war camp in North Korea":

> In these statements the writers tell of a number of bestial atrocities committed by officers and soldiers of the American and South Korean armies, which they either witnessed or took direct part in.

* * *

The accounts have pretty lurid patches, and the tales of looting, raping, wanton killing, destruction and sheer bestiality, are gruesome and unlovely. To augment the printed word there are twelve pages of photographs, some of them alleged to have been reprinted from ones found in the wallet of an American soldier killed in battle. They show mutilated bodies of civilian women and children, open burial pits worthy of Belsen, bodies of 'patriots' with their hands still tied behind their backs, "found after the withdrawal of American forces"; corpses of a Korean mother and daughter "who were raped and brutally murdered by the retreating American forces in January, 1951."

* * *

There must be some truth in the accounts; soldiers do loot, get drunk, eat off the land, tell tall tales about their officers and their own sexual exploits. Some prisoners of war, lured by enemy promises of specially kind treatment, weakly suborned by propaganda, or flagellation into submission by torturing whips, will make statements which aid and comfort the enemy and confuse their own friends. Despite the imprimatur of the Chinese Red Cross, we cannot believe that these statements and photographs are true. Either the captive squealers have been lying and inventing incidents to save their skins or aggrandize their egos in the eyes of their captors, or the Chinese have doctored them for their own propaganda purposes. The booklet assures us that

> "all the statements have been printed in the exact form in which they were written. Nothing has been added, nothing has been changed or deleted except in a few cases where names have been left blank as their use could lead to the identification of the writers, and of certain words that are not regarded as fit to appear in print."

(Incidentally, we wonder that, even so, some of the phrases got beyond the Canadian censor at the border.) Do U.N. soldiers describe the Reds as "Chinese People's Volunteers"? An American army private does not ordinarily write or speak with the literary concision and grammatical care of these accounts.

* * *

The booklet interests us not because of the tales (fairy or otherwise) of bestiality and mass graves. (It is well-known that some U.N. soldiers—American, British and Canadian—have rampaged in Korea; it is well known that the South Koreans have been ruthless to Chinese and North Korean prisoners and villagers. In the references to mass executions the American army is always linked, for propaganda purposes, with the South Korean army of Syngman Rhee.) What interests us is that it is reputedly published by the Red Cross Society of China, and that it came to us from Czechoslovakia. The envelope was stamped with Czech stamps and postmarked Prague. How impartial, and free from propaganda and propagandizing is the Red Cross Society of China, of Russia, of even the United States?

* * *

"In all cases the writers expressly asked that their names be withheld from publication for fear of reprisals that might otherwise overtake them on their eventual return to America." So reads a paragraph in the foreward. Change "America" to "Czechoslovakia" or "Russia", and one might believe it an editor's note prefacing a story about a Czech or Russian who had fled his country and was reporting Red atrocities in the Saturday Evening Post—or even in a local American Red Cross journal.

* * *

As we said in the opening paragraph, the Red Cross is international in flag, national in its bases. What Canadian, American or British Red Cross funds went to ease the wounded Franco men in 1937 when the Spanish Republican forces were heroic, the Franco side despicable? When the American Red Cross was shipping pianos to North African officers' messes in 1943, did American Red Cross funds also go to relieve Austrians? Did Russian Red Cross money go to comfort Germans? Did the German Red Cross spend money on English, Canadian and American prisoners in the last war? The truth is that the Red Cross is partisan; each national Red Cross society caters to its own nationals and their allies. Only if a country is neutral is the Red Cross neutral. It is purposeful that the Red Cross International headquarters are in Switzerland, and that Switzerland is traditionally neutral.

Unenviable Job

Problems arise in the conduct of military operations when the forces employed are composed of contingents of different nationalities. Language, terminology, organization, signals procedure, all must be integrated in order to secure the maximum effectiveness of co-operation. In Korea these difficulties loom less in the total picture.

The Americans and the American-trained South Koreans constitute the vast majority of the troops, and the other contingents simply adjust themselves to the American procedure. In any case the standardization of procedure initiated during World War II had already eliminated a good deal of potential obstacles in advance, at any rate so far as Commonwealth troops were concerned.

There are, however, other difficulties, principally at a higher level, especially concerning the strategy of the campaign and its political implications, which have not yet been solved in Korea. Although nominally a United Nations effort it is the Americans who have supplied the bulk of the troops and the supplies. The American taxpayer may be pardoned for regarding Korea as an all-American show. But a far from negligible part is being taken by other countries, notably that from the British Commonwealth Division.

Lord Alexander's visit to the Far Eastern theatre of war has resulted in the belated American recognition that the Commonwealth should be represented at a top level in the U.N. command. In response to a request by General Mark Clark that a Commonwealth officer should join his staff, the British government has posted Major-General S. N. Shoosmith, who becomes deputy Chief of Staff. Major-General Shoosmith has been heading the British Joint Services Mission in Washington, and should therefore be well qualified for his future role. His job will be to interpret Commonwealth reactions to any given step by the U.N. commander. He is at present in Ottawa consulting with our military and political representatives for briefing on the Canadian point of view.

It must be noted that Major-General Shoosmith's powers are very limited. He remains in all respects a member of Gen. Clark's staff and has no direct channels of communication with London, Ottawa or Canberra. It is altogether a most unenviable job. No doubt Maj.-Gen. Shoosmith has his misgivings, but like all good soldiers (with the possible exception of Nelson and General MacArthur) he has no option but to obey without question.

As The Times, London, puts it, "His position demands great tact, and whatever he does he will probably come in for much undeserved criticism from all sides." In view of the many unfortunate misunderstandings due to precipitate American action and culminating in the Koje Island incident and the Yalu River bombings it is surely unwise and unfair to put a Commonwealth officer in a position of such responsibility with so little real power and then leave him incommunicado. If such were General Clark's terms they should have been gently but firmly refused.

TEAR GAS cleared Teheran's streets last night; but this morning hooligans were again thronging the pavements, carrying pick-helves and pieces of nail-studded boarding. Rioting has now occurred every night and several mornings of the past week. Today I watched an ill-tempered mob on Avenue Naderi, just across the road from the British Embassy, threatening a shop-keeper who had prudently shuttered his ground floor windows and was standing more embarrassed than frightened with his family on an upstairs balcony.

In the roadway stood a grizzled peasant, looking on, with two tawny lambs cradled in his arms. A truckload of police in royal blue uniforms drew up with screeching tyres: after surveying the scene for a few minutes, three gendarmes jumped down from the truck and hustled the old peasant off the road onto the pavement. That was all; they had done their duty.

✧ ✧ ✧

RIOTS AND SUCH scenes have been commonplace over the past week. There is a curious spirit of make-believe among the hooligans: the gangs are nearly all boys of school age, obviously paid a few rials by someone to perform a violent holiday task. Rival parties on the streets are on one side the Paniranians and anti-imperialists, both mock-ups of the banned Tudeh (Communist) Party, and on the other, Neo-Fascist Soumka followers, whose leader, Monshi-Zadeh, imitates Hitler's hair, moustache, and oratorical style, and who lost a leg during an Allied bombing raid on Berlin where he spent the last war. Soumka appears to have little genuine following, but plenty of money, the provision of which is attributed by Communists to the Shah and the big landlords. None of the gangs show much passion, except on the few occasions when real clashes occur between rivals.

✧ ✧ ✧

MUCH TIME is spent booing the Shah's picture in cinemas (several cinema proprietors no longer show his picture, or have the national anthem played); also in intimidating shopkeepers and shouting demands for the seizure of the property of big landlords (among whom the Prime Minister Dr. Moussadegh is named.)

The police, though present by the lorry-load at all these turbulations, have thus far done almost nothing; even an official in the Propaganda Ministry complained to me the other day that the city was virtually without police and no citizen had protection any longer. Police inaction is not, however, surprising: the last prefect of police, General Koupal, now resides in gaol as a result of having dealt severely with the riots earlier this summer—after which he was condemned by the Majlis (Parliament) as a slaughterer of patriots.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE PRESENT police chief, General Shaibian, is, however, in a stronger position, being a distant cousin of Moussadegh and the first man in his position to be appointed by the Premier rather than by the Shah. Last week he tendered his resignation to Moussadegh, who refused to accept it and gave Shaibani full powers to control the situation. According to the Persian press, Shaibani wants this assurance in writing. What is not clear is why it has taken a full week for Moussadegh to accord these powers to his Police Chief. One cynical Persian view is that the Premier was deliberately letting the disturbances ride—after all they are not very damaging—in order to frighten the Americans into believing that the chaos was leading to Communism, and thence to make them bring heavier pressure on to the British to settle the oil dispute.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN THIS part of the world it is unwise to reject such tortuous thinking out of hand—especially since even rich Persians, who would be the first to suffer under Communism, apparently still believe that Persia can play off the East against the West indefinitely. Moreover, the effect of the riots on the American Embassy has been precisely as described. But if such was Moussadegh's intention—or even his half intention—it has over-reached itself. One of the first acts of hooliganism in this series was the Soumka-inspired attack on the Russian Embassy's public reading room. Two days ago the Soviet Ambassador delivered a a sharp note at the Persian Foreign Office, demanding punishment of those responsible; "the Embassy expects to be informed without delay of the result," the note ends. As a result, one can resonably expect police action to be more resolute in the future.

✧ ✧ ✧

THOUGH TEHRAN'S rowdy youth may not be a serious menace, there are distinctly noticeable seeds of land revolt that could be as dangerous as dragons' teeth. It is not merely that slightly self-conscious groups of pyjama'd poor on the outskirts of Tehran are under Communist guidance, solemnly "reallotting" to themselves waste lands on which landlords have not yet built, Teheran has a flair for such political gestures. But from the country, where the peasants have always been supremely indifferent to politics, come similar reports.

The Shah's generously publicised gesture last week of distributing to selected poor some of his lands (the worst. Communists were quick to point out), has done him little good. There is trouble on his rich grazing grounds at Levassan, where peasants are moving in unbidden, and also on his property of Farhazad. Moussadegh's new decree controlling land rents in favour of tenants means a lengthy administrative job; in the meantime it looks as though the peasants might institute some control of their own.

Unconsidered Trifles

"You'll have to wait a few moments for your beer," said the landlord. "There's an obstruction in the pump."

"Probably watercress," replied the customer.

The newly-rich woman was trying to make an impression. "I clean my diamonds with ammonia," she said, "my rubies with Bordeaux wine, my emeralds with Napoleon brandy, and my sapphires with fresh milk."

"I don't clean mine," said the quiet woman sitting next to her. "When they get dirty I just throw them away."

An American Opinion: JUST A SAMPLE

Churchill's Childhood

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

A NEW biography of Winston Churchill has been published. Among other interesting things, it contains a comment by Mr. Churchill upon his own childhood. He says that he had a very unhappy time of it as a child. And he goes on to say that all the people he knows who have amounted to anything have had unhappy childhoods too.

No doubt childhood is the most formative time in anyone's life. Then the pattern is set, and all the after years may do little to alter it. It seems deplorable that any child should be unhappy. And yet the effects of an unhappy childhood may not be always injurious. Unhappiness may, in some cases at least, be the very cause of later achievement.

This is not an easy world. And it is not at all easy, to be sure, to do difficult things. Perhaps it is only those who feel some old unhappiness driving them onwards who are really willing or able to make the supreme effort. Otherwise, they might subside pleasantly into the complaisant average.

Some measure of unhappiness or frustration may be imperative for higher achievement. The contented and the relaxed are not likely to scorn their well-adjusted delights to live labourious days. It was Thomas Carlyle who is supposed to have said that "genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains." But Carlyle (a man unhappy and beset) ought to have known better. Genius is never just an infinite capacity for taking pains: It is an infinite necessity for doing so. It is the concentration of energy in the one direction open for it.

There are some, of course, who would dismiss genius as a form of mental disease. If they turn biographers, they delight in dissecting each incident that seems to indicate the abnormal stress under which their subjects lived and wrought. Especially if the person of whom they write was great in the realm of religion, the suggestion is made that all his religious experiences were no more than the struggle for personal power and consolation.

Yet if anyone takes the trouble to analyze the lives of the scientists, he will find much the same pattern of extreme concentration of energies by the unhappy and the distrubed. There is no living face more infinite in its melancholy than the face of Albert Einstein. And the story of Michael Faraday, the great experimenter in electro-dynamics, is the story of repression. There is much that is strange, too, in the story of Sir Isaac Newton.

As for Charles Darwin, one of the greatest of all British scientists, the mental pattern is certainly one of mental energy diverted from the distractions of average life into channels of abnormal concentration. Take this illuminating passage from the life of Charles Darwin by his son:

"It is almost impossible, except for those who watched his daily life, to realize how essential to his well-being was the regular routine . . . and with what pain and difficulty anything beyond it was attempted. Any public appearances, even of the most modest kind, were an effort to him. In 1871 he went to the little village church for the wedding of his elder daughter, but he could hardly bear the fatigue of being present through the short service . . . The same may be said of the few other occasions on which he was present at similar ceremonies."

Here, surely, is the pattern of a frustrated and unhappy life. Yet it may well have been this extreme withdrawal that gave Charles Darwin the time and patience for the tedious examination of detail in his researches. And it may also have made possible that long and comprehensive thought which gives the scientist at last his creative insight.

Life is too complex to say that unhappiness is always a misfortune or contentment always a blessing. The profound law of compensation seems to reserve its highest rewards for those who suffer the most. For the wounds of the spirit there is often a greater compensation than mere healing, for the unhappy there is something higher than joy, and for those who live under stress there is often something deeper than peace.

The world, perhaps, will never know how much it is indebted to Mr. Churchill's unhappy childhood.

Plight of the Suburbs

(Saturday Night)

Difficulties which have developed in Toronto township where angry taxpayers are protesting fantastic increases in taxation, are only symptomatic of what is likely to happen in many of Canada's suburban communities. The rapid urban growth since the war has been more pronounced in the satellite communities than in the cities themselves. Often the satellite community has no industries to help carry the load.

A community that suddenly has to provide schools, water, sewers, roads in an area which was farm land when the war ended, has not the resources to pay the bills and must face tremendous increases in taxation or receive help from the parent community or province.

Most large Canadian cities have been slow to annex the suburbs and equally slow to share metropolitan area responsibilities while the suburbs themselves gloried in the initial fact that their taxes were lower than taxes in the adjoining city. What The Times says about Victoria is true of so many other centres: "The water is rising. The civic leaders should learn to swim."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him . . . Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance? . . . All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity.

To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? . . . . Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40:10, 12, 17, 18, 28.)

✧ ✧ ✧

But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. (I Cor. 2:9, 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147:5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I John 4: 16.)

The Fourth Freedom

("Sagittarius" In London New Statesman)

All members of the Forces are at liberty to worship in their own way . . . so long as the practice of their faith fits in with Service requirements.—Secretary for Air, July 30.

Religious toleration is a Service Regulation
And no denomination from the Forces will be banned,
The spiritualistic can observe their worship mystic
Through mediums at sea, and in the air, and on the land.

There will be no prohibition on the Service apparition
When the psychical practitioners produce a spirit guide,
Nor will staffs express annoyance with the practice of clairvoyance
When Wellington's and Caesar's ghosts stand at the sergeant's side.

The Services are ready to accept an intake steady
Of the followers of Eddy and Brahministic flocks,
Hindus and Rosicrucians and Druids and Confucians
And Buchmanites may infiltrate among the orthodox.

The Yogi-minded Briton who with Fakir-worship smitten
Tries his bayonet to sit on they may interrupt at prayer,
The rites of whirling Dervishes might disconcert the Services,
And Muslims who to Mecca turn when drilling in the square.

But materialisations and occult manifestations
In Service congregations will not cause religious strife
So long as their habitual, if Nonconformist ritual,
Fits in with the requirements of a normal Service life.

All-Negro Cast in New M.G.M. Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The film studios are supposed to be betting only on sure things these days.

But there is one exception to this movement to satisfy the known public demands for orthodox film entertainment. Oddly enough, the picture is being made at M.G.M., home of glossy musicals and star-packed spectacles.

The film is called "See How They Run." It is the first non-musical made by a major studio with an all-negro cast. Its producer is Sol Fielding, former newspaper artist and foreign correspondent.

TEACHER WRITES

The project began in the mind of a young negro school teacher, Mary Elizabeth Vroman of Montgomery, Ala., who wrote a short story concerning the experiences of a teacher in a negro school. She sent it to the Ladies Home Journal. The magazine printed it.

Last year M.G.M. bought the story. Signed for leading roles were night club singers Dorothy Dandridge and Harry Belafonte, plus Philip Hepburn, an 11-year-old veteran of Broadway shows, including "Finian's Rainbow."

"'See how they run' is the story of a boy in the third grade," said Producer Fielding. "It could take place any place and to a boy of any race. But some of the events have more significance because they happen in a negro community. There will be only one white actor in the cast, a doctor.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"The Devil Makes Three" is an okay treatment of the familiar situation of an American caught in the midst of foreign intrigue. Gene Kelly plays an ex-serviceman who gets involved innocently with a gang of German smugglers who are aiming at revival of the Nazi regime. The bad ones are done in after some exciting chases over the German scenery.

OSTRICH DRIVER — James (Slim) Wolstoncroft, of Lethbridge, Alta., six feet 6½ inches and 252 pounds, drives a strange mount in an ostrich race at Shelby, Mont. Wolstoncroft, a drummer in a Lethbridge pipe band visiting Shelby, was drafted to take the ostrich runs and finished second. There were only two entries.

Mother, Son Reunited

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Robert Will, 36, of Carollton, Mich., yesterday found his mother after a 30-year separation. In a Windsor hospital, bed-ridden Mrs. Mabel Stevens, 54, reached out her arms and said: "This is my son." Will was put out for adoption at the age of five and with the aid of his wife finally traced his mother to Windsor.

Woman Beaten to Death

DETROIT (CP)—Mrs. Edna Boscoe, 54, was found beaten and stabbed to death yesterday in her home in suburban St. Claire Shores. Also beaten was her 80-year-old mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Brewster Police seek a coal-truck driver.

Prairie Farmers Interested Only In Weather, Crops

REGINA (CP)—The man in the country isn't talking politics or football or summer vacation today. He's talking about whether his crop is ready to cut and how many bushels he's likely to get to the acre.

Travel through vast stretches of rural Saskatchewan and talks with the man driving the tractor in the field give a sample of the thoughts of the farmer, Saskatchewan's most important resident.

He's not mad at anybody.

His gripes are being carried away by the warm breezes blowing across his fields of thick, waving grain.

NO PRICE COMPLAINTS

He may wonder a bit about where he will store his crop, but he doesn't seem to have too much complaint about the price.

One farmer near Mortlach, west of Moose Jaw, said he is getting along pretty well. Of course, he has a fair amount of land and maybe a smaller farmer wouldn't find things so good. Still, he thought, a farmer like that would be able to get along too.

The grain man near Canora said farmers he met were not too unhappy about prices. After all, he said, you have to consider the ability of importers to pay.

The man on the tractor near Kamsack thought machinery prices were too high. But then, he knew some farmers who paid more than the list-price just to get scarce machinery first.

Some farmers thought labor pushed its wage demands too strongly and thereby pushed up prices.

An agriculturist at Swift Current thought farmers were secretly pleased about grain prices. They knew they were going to have to take less sometime but they hoped this didn't occur too soon.

A livestock man collecting stock out of Kelvington said cattle raisers weren't too disheartened by present payment levels. Some of them thought last year's prices were too high.

One farmer said it hadn't rained in his district for a number of weeks at one time during the growing season. How many bushels would he get to the acre? About 25, he said.

What about rural de-population the experts talk so much about?

The pioneer near Lloydminster said the towns along the line would never change much. They wouldn't grow appreciably.

The farmer near Nipawin said there wasn't much sense in a strictly grain farm, even though it might let you live in town.

His view: "A farm isn't a farm without cattle."

The farmer near Montmartre said he was living in town now. He hoped, though, to get buildings on his land and move out there. Wanted to be closer to it, he said.

A symptom of a move back to the land? Nobody could tell, but at least it was an indication the movement was not all one way.

Another indication is in the sleek modern one-storey farm house with picture-window that is going up on many a farm.

Major worries of the farmer today are the weather and the keeping of machinery in repair for the next several weeks.

It looks like a boom-harvest year in Saskatchewan.

Dedicate Plaque At Rush Point

HAVELOCK (ENS).—A special service was held in Rush Point United Church on Sunday evening when the Rev. R. G. Newman of Havelock United Church assisted by Robert Curtis, student minister on the Belmont Lakes Area Mission conducted a dedication service. A pulpit chair, new window shades and a memorial plaque were dedicated, all of which were purchased by contributions given in memory of members of the "White Church" as it is commonly called, some of whom were pioneers of Rush Point district.

Mr. Newman delivered the sermon which had as its theme the necessity of carrying on the work, if the ideals of those who have passed on are to be maintained.

About the year 1890, the White Church was moved from Norwood to Rush Point by the forefathers of that district. The first church in the district, through the years it has been a living symbol of a virtually undenominational church.

Despite the fact that in 1931 when it became a part of the Havelock charge under the superintendency of the Rev. W. R. Archer, minister of Havelock United Church, and was closed so far as regular preaching services were concerned, as were many small rural churches throughout the country, it has continued in its young people's work through the medium of the Sunday school and the Young People's Society. There has been no break in the Sunday school work from the time of organization and the present superintendent, Mr. Earl Pollock, has officiated in that capacity since 1930.

In 1949, the "White Church" became one of three preaching stations on what is now called the Belmont Lakes Area Mission with a student minister in charge of the services there, at South Lake and Victoria from May until September of each year.

2 Jap Papers Shift Policy

TOKYO (AP)—Two big Japanese newspapers shifted editorial policy today and blamed Japanese in connection with the controversial case of two British sailors charged with robbery in Kobe.

One daily, Asahi, said profiteering Japanese in Kobe were the "root of all the trouble." Another, Yomiuri, editorially labelled Japan "childish to ignore international customs."

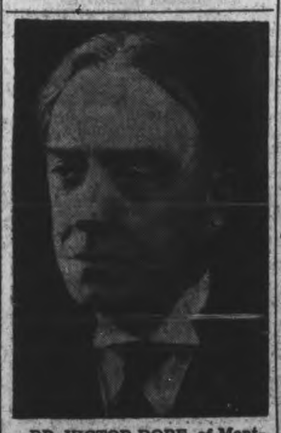
Editorial tones of these papers were none too friendly to Britain in July, when Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden demanded release of the sailors convicted by the Kobe district court.

The sailors were accused of robbing a Japanese taxi driver of about $5 worth of yen. Each was sentenced to 2½ years in prison.

Detroit Coal Dealer Claims Speed Record

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit coal dealer, Harold Mistele, laid claim today to two world speed records for light seaplanes.

Mistele averaged 102.27 miles an hour for a 500 kilometers (310 miles) over a 50-kilometer course, and 109.07 for 100 kilometers over the same course above Lake St. Clair yesterday.



He was timed by Col. Richard Lovell, representing the National Aviation Association, who said he would certify the speeds to the Aviation Federation Internationale in Paris for recognition as world marks.

Attlee's Escort Shoots Himself Before Tour

FORT JAMESON, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters)—Alwyn S. Campbell, 36, appointed by the Northern Rhodesian government to escort Clement Attlee, British Socialist leader, on a tour of this territory, was found shot dead here last night. A gun lay beside him.

Only a few hours earlier he had attended a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Attlee were guests of honor.

The Attlees proposed cancelling their day's program, but continued it on the advice of government officials.

British Manager Jailed In Bolivia

LA PA, Bolivia (AP)—The British manager of the American Smelting Company was jailed yesterday on orders of the minister of mines.

Police told consular officials that E. Kumar, a British subject, was being held because the ministry had requested the arrest, and they knew nothing else about it. However, the Mine Workers' Union issued a statement later saying officials of the company were guilty of contempt and sabotage.

TRIESTE (Reuters)—Five Yugoslav refugees yesterday crossed into the Anglo-American zone of Trieste and asked for political asylum. Another refugee was shot while trying to escape, an Italian report said.

Brain Surgery Gets Amazing Results – Doctor

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—"Literally amazing results" with brain surgery to treat mental disorders were reported yesterday by Dr. G. H. Stevenson, superintendent of London's Ontario Hospital.

Dr. Stevenson said that of 119 lobotomies performed at the hospital the 50th patient was formally discharged yesterday after a six months trial period. Another 25, he said, are on that trial period.

Only one patient has been readmitted, Dr. Stevenson said.

The lobotomy is a relatively new form of brain surgery designed to sever connections between the front part of the brain and the remainder. The front lobes are believed to be the seat of certain emotions which may produce unhealthy mental conditions.

All of the lobotomies have been performed at the hospital, he said, by Dr. Charles Drake, neurosurgeon. No deaths have resulted and not one of the patients has been made worse by the surgery, he said.

Truce Talks To Be Resumed

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Korean armistice negotiations resume tomorrow after a fourth straight week-long recess.

The United Nations and Communist truce delegates will meet at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (10 p.m. EDT Tuesday).

A fifth recess seemed likely unless a new approach was submitted on the deadlocking issue of prisoner-of-war exchange, last hurdle before an armistice.

For the last few days, the Communists have been constructing a wooden hut with concrete foundations at the conference site. Apparently the Reds want to move the conferences out of the tattered tent used since last October.

Retired Grocer Kills Invalid Daughter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A retired grocer stabbed his 18-year-old invalid daughter to death with a butcher knife yesterday and later explained to police: "I couldn't stand to see her suffer any more."

Police called the slaying of Adela Moskal a "mercy killing." Detective Charles Sapp said John Moskal related that while his wife was out shopping, he led the girl into the bathroom and plunged the knife twice into her breast.

"Before my baby's birth," Sapp quoted the 57-year-old father, "my wife injured herself by falling against the corner of a counter. The baby was never normal . . ."

Moskal is being held for investigation of murder.

Belmont Women Hear Talk On Polio Care

HAVELOCK — (ENS). — Mrs. Gardner Gawley gave a talk at the meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute in the Township Hall on Thursday on "Polio: Its Symptoms and Treatment."

A short business session preceded the program period which included a vocal solo by Mrs. W. Goadsby and a contest won by Mrs. Arnold Dafoe.

Tea hour hostesses were Mesdames W. Aunger, W. Youmans, G. Henley, Gordon Newton, J. Lloyd, and F. Elmhirst. "Grandmother's Day" will be observed at the September meeting.

Hoover Flees Fire At Mountain Lodge

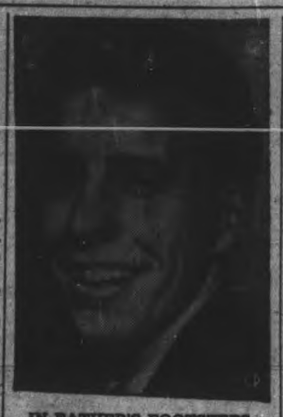
BISHOP, Calif. (AP) — Ex-President Herbert Hoover had to flee for his life by boat Sunday night, when the mountain lodge where he was vacationing caught fire and burned to the ground.

Awakened by a neighbor, Hoover and party found that the only exit not blocked by flames was the door to the boat landing. They fled through it and boarded a motor launch which took them to the safety of the lake.

Remand Young Mother For Mental Tests

TORONTO (CP)—Mildred Webber, 23, charged with abandoning a child in a downtown hotel room here last week, was remanded yesterday for mental examination. John Chomas, 35, with whom police said she has been living, was remanded on the same charge to Sept. 1.

Police arrested her in Simcoe after Chomas went to authorities at Port Dover.



Mixup Costs One Life

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) Two parties of plainclothes police, sent out to arrest the same escaped prisoner, mistook each other for outlaws yesterday and shot it out. One detective was fatally wounded.

Polio Toll Mounts

EDMONTON (CP)—Two more deaths in Manitoba and one in Saskatchewan yesterday raised Western Canada's 1952 poliomyelitis death toll to 59.

START THE DAY REFRESHED - Drink Coca-Cola

IN FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS—Geoffrey Pearson, 24-year-old son of External Affairs Minister Pearson, is one of 24 college graduates to pass examinations this year and qualify for Canada's diplomatic service. Like his father, Geoffrey is a graduate of the University of Toronto and Oxford University.

Asks State Farm For Alcoholics

TORONTO (CP)—Chronic alcoholics should be confined to state farms where they would not have to be supported by society at large, Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice-president of the University of Illinois and international authority on the subject of alcoholism, said yesterday.

He described chronic alcoholism as a "serious disease which cannot be cured." He told the Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies that he favors placing these sufferers on institutional farms where they would be able to produce enough for their own maintenance.

Margarine Heir Indicted On 8 Counts

NEW YORK (AP) — Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke 3rd, 22, heir to a margarine fortune, was indicted on eight counts today by a vice-probing grand jury.

The indictment accused Jelke of compulsory prostitution and set forth charges of inducing women to commit prostitution and of living off their earnings.

Ray Russell Davioni, 34, former Broadway press agent, also was indicted with Jelke.

Ignore Mayor's Order Give Wives Breakfast

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Duluth husbands are apparently ignoring an edict of Mayor George W. Johnson.

The mayor decreed last week that if more women than men registered to vote in the Sept. 9 state primary election, husbands would have to serve their wives breakfast in bed.

The number of women registrants was 27,204, compared with 27,123 men—but there have been no reports of breakfast in bed for Duluth wives.

Vouch For Patriotism

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Publishers of textbooks adopted for use in Texas public schools this year will have to vouch for the patriotism of their authors, illustrators and editors. The state board of education today authorized Education Commissioner J.W. Edgar to request each publisher submitting books to say whether the authors, illustrators and editors can qualify under terms of the state's non-subversive oath.

Drop All Charges

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's government has dropped all charges against 58 opposition politicians arrested after post-election riots last month in which four persons were killed. The 58 were followers of presidential candidate Gen. Miguel Henriquez Guzman, overwhelmingly defeated in the July 6 voting by Afolfo Ruiz Cortines.

Car Plunges In House

FROSTBURG, MD. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Galloway, whose home is situated on a highway curve, were knocked out of bed yesterday by a car that plunged through their bedroom wall. Their pet dog, sleeping on the bedroom floor, was killed. Mrs. Galloway was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Toolmaker Testifies Paying For Fake Bank Statement

DETROIT (AP)—A Windsor toolmaker testified yesterday that he paid Mrs. Nicholas Steigerwald $75 to get a false bank statement for use in his application for a United States visa.

The testimony came from Lawrence E. MacKinnon, 35, charged with fraudulent entry into the United States, MacKinnon testified at his deportation hearing.

Mrs. Steigerwald, who operates a visa-expediting office in Windsor, is a sister of Paul Martin, Canada's Minister of Public Health.

When the U.S. government disclosed last week that Mrs. Steigerwald was under investigation in the current visa investigation, Martin said he had warned his sister on several occasions to cease certain practices.

INVESTIGATE RACKET

U.S. immigration men here are investigating a suspected visa racket in which false statements are reported to have been obtained for aliens seeking entry to the U.S.

One Canadian alien has been ordered deported after admitting he used fraud to enter the U.S.

Immigration men say they have 100 such cases under investigation.

They are appealing the single deportation order to determine whether it will stand as a precedent for other cases.

85 Guerrillas Surrender Now

JAKARTA (Reuters)—A captain, two lieutenants and 82 men of the "bow and arrow" army of the self-styled "South Moluccas' Republic" have surrendered to the Indonesian army on Ceram Island, an official spokesman said yesterday.

Thousands of Republican supporters fled from Amboina to adjoining Ceram Island in 1950 when the Indonesian army wiped out Ambon, capital of the island, after a five-week battle.

Amboina and Ceram are the two main islands of South Moluccas, southwest of Netherlands New Guinea, one of the 10 provinces of the infant Republic of Indonesia.

Amboina never accepted Indonesian rule after The Netherlands granted Indonesia independence in December, 1949, mainly through religious differences. The majority of the Ambonese are Christians; most Indonesian peoples are Moslems.

Several thousand last-ditchers got to Ceram and have been waging intensive guerrilla warfare against the Indonesian army ever since, fighting mainly with bows and arrows.

Missing Boat Found

OWEN SOUND (CP)—A five-day search for a 24-foot Detroit sailboat, the Sea Waif, which put out into stormy Lake Huron from Grand Bend Thursday, ended yesterday when the craft was located at Tobermory, 200 miles north of where it was last seen. There was no indication of where it had travelled during the last five days. Police said the sailboat carried a couple from Detroit.

Gas Company To Build 40-Mile Pipe Line

CHATHAM (CP) — Union Gas Company of Canada Limited will build a 40-mile, $1,000,000 stretch of pipe line this fall between Dawn storage field and Komoka to double the capacity of its lines to London, it was announced here yesterday by Thomas Weir, vice-president an general manager.

The new line will enable City Gas Company of London to meet demand for gas service.

The company has applied to the Ontario Municipal Board for the necessary certificates of public convenience and necessity. The board will hear the application in Toronto Sept. 16. Dawn, Euphemia, Mosa, Ekfrid, Caradoc and Lobo townships will be crossed by the line, to be built by F. E. Shaw, Limited, Sarnia.

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (no-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

All the way from San Francisco comes an appeal to the sports desk for old Tom Sharkey. We certainly seem to be on every list that's going, eh? It says: "Tom Sharkey, the great heavyweight at the turn of the century, is ill. This grand old personality nearing his 79th birthday is on his back in hospital, his strength gradually ebbing away." The letter then goes on to say a committee has been formed to take donations for a fund for his needs, anything left over when Sharkey is finally counted out going to an agency he founded, the Columbia Park Boys Club. Though much before our time, we've read of some of his stirring ring scraps with Sullivan, Jeffries, etc. Like many another pug, he is broke in his old age.

Cobourg Ghosts of grid fame had a meet-the-players' gathering with fans last Saturday. The Port Hope scribe put it ere the "do" in an item: "As is the rule on these occasions, Scotty Black will talk about the great Mike Meikle, whose feats become more and more legendary as the years fall away. Some swear that Scotty, like his long-gone ancestors, draws the long bow when talking of Meikle, but anyway the one-time great soccer player holds his audience well. There will also be the famed war song of the Ghosts "We are, we are the Galloping Ghosts", but the second line—"Dominion champions is our boast"—was blandly forgotten last year, when Oshawa won out.

Need Just Another Win

Petes need one more win to wrap up the first spot for sure in the C.O.B.L. schedule—or they can take it if Belleville drops a decision in one of their last two encounters with Monarchs. Latter still have a postponed fray here with the Stewart squad, probably toward the end of the week, since they're busy now with the Redmen. Locals lost 4-0 to the K's in their last clash here Saturday. As there was no TV set up, nor even a Brownie camera, the crowd was quite slim. However, attendances should jump in playoffs in September. Phil Clancy tells us he expects to be here a few weeks yet ere his army call in the States takes him. Meantime, the Petes have applied to the O.B.A. for Doug Loucks as a replacement.

Chuck Rowan of the O.L.A. informed Manager Bob Curtin of the Timbermen that their best-of-five series with St. Kitts will open here this Friday, moving Monday to St. Catharines and back here on Wednesday. Next games, if necessary, are Sept. 6-8 there and here. All games in Eastern Canvided they oust the A's, can take a bye into the eastern staged next night. Fergus finishes the senior schedule here this Wednesday or, if it rains, Thursday. Timbermen, provided they oust the A's, can take a bye into the eastern finals. They're asking Maple Leaf Gardens for ticket rights, if they make the Mann Cup series, and will check into trains, etc. But they realize first they've got to keep winning to get that far.

Action For The Lasses

Action comes fast and furiously now in girls' softball circles up this way. Ashby's edged Belleville 7-6 last eve at the Bowl to open intermediate loop finals. Next one is in Bella Villa on the morrow and third there, if necessary, on Friday. A story in elsewhere shows where Burtol's were awarded that intermediate "A" series over Oshawa, after each side had lodged complaints re ineligible players with the P.W.S.U. So, the provincial union has pitted Burtol's against Hamilton in the next round, probably there Friday and back here Saturday night—if the Hamiltonians are ready by then. Newmarket-Lindsay intermediate "C" game or games will go here Sat'day aft or evening, depending on whether or not Burtol's have the Bowl that night.

Complaints come in from Lakefield o'er the men's softball finals, opening at the Bowl tonight in a twin bill betwixt U.E.W. and the Seabrooke squad. The Lakefield argument is that they didn't forfeit the rest of their semi-final series with Seabrooke's, but only defaulted one game when they couldn't field a team. They say that loop prexy Bob Batley acted in hasty fashion in declaring the balance of the series forfeited to Seabrooke's. "We have shown lately that we can beat that team," Manager Cam Wasson remarks, "and it's not fair to be tossed out just for forfeiting one game on a night when we found it almost impossible to line up enough players." Meantime the finals are listed for tonight and Thursday. Brougham ousted Keene Revoy's 5-2 in intermediate "C" playdowns.

School Girl 15, Captures Amateur Swim Crown

TORONTO (CP)—A 15-year-old school girl yesterday captured the second 1952 Canadian women's amateur swimming championship for the southwestern Ontario town of Fergus.

Doreen Howatt stroked easily along the Canadian National Exhibition's one-mile lakefront course in water whipped by a stiff onshore breeze in 27 minutes and 45 seconds to win the junior women's national title. Saturday she finished second to fellow Fergus Club member, Shirley Campbell, 16, in the senior women's competition on the same course.

Dorren scrambled aboard the finish barge some 75 yards ahead of 14-year-old Marilyn Bell of Toronto, last year's winner of the women's junior crown.

Twenty-three girls, all under 17 years of age, hit the 61-degree waters of Lake Ontario; only a handful were still in the water when Dorren finished.

JUNIOR MEN'S CHAMPION

The junior men's Canadian amateur champion was 14-year-old Edward Zelinski, Jr., of Hamilton. He finished 150 yards ahead of Ron Gillespie of Toronto in 25 minutes and 10 seconds.

Third place in the men's event went to Jeff Zwicker of Lockport, N.Y., while Robert Berlette of Woodstock finished fourth; Peter Hughes of Toronto, fifth, and Bob Gledhill of St. Catharines sixth.

A United States swimming club, the Radburn Flying Fish, of Radburn, N.J., captured most of the awards in special children's day water races. The 18 children—ranging in age from 8 to 13—took 15 gold first medals and two silver medals for second placers. All races were free style over a 50-yard course.

Bell Takes Cup By 8-5 Win Over Foresters

Beating Foresters 8-5 for first place in the Civic Softball League last night, Bell Telephone retained the Bert Austin Trophy given to the club finishing the schedule on top. Bell now meets Kesco in semi-finals tonight at Ashburnham Park, the second game being there on Thursday. Foresters play Salvation Army in the other semi-final series Wednesday at Ashburnham Park and Friday at the Bowl.

Burt Harrison hurled good ball all the way for Bell, except for a lapse in the fifth, and he received neat support. Ferguson went six frames for the losers, giving way in the next to Murray. The losers were held to six hits as the winners combed their rivals for 15. Bell scored two in the first inning, one each in the fifth and seventh. Foresters got four in the fifth and one next time to bat. Teams:

Bell — Gillespie, B. Harrison, Smith, Ackford, K. Harrison, Tushingham, Conway, Greatrix, Gordon.

Foresters — Ferguson, Parnell, Kidd, Tyndal, Murray, Downer, Worr, Walling, Smith.

Umpires, Montgomery and Hancock.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

All we need now is fair weather and the annual Phillys Black Memorial mixed doubles tournament set for tomorrow is bound to be a success. Bill Jeffries and his committee have gone all out to make this event an outstanding one.

The entry of 96 pairs is complete; in fact many entries were refused.

The committee is asking for the co-operation of our own bowlers. Please do not be late. One late pair can cause a lot of anxiety.

The first round commences at 9:30 a.m. and play will be continual until around midnight.

The public is cordially invited to come up to the bowling greens and watch these games.

Lindsay Evens Series Downs Omemee 3-2

LINDSAY — Lindsay Combines Monday night won a well-pitched battle from Omemee Whitmores, 3-2, to even their best-of-seven series for the Lindsay senior softball crown at one game each. Pitcher Jack Keen put Lindsay into the lead with a home run in the seventh with one on. Omemee tied the game in the eighth through two hits and two outfield errors. Then, in the top of the ninth inning, Combines combined two hits and a walk, with O'Donoghue's single, to score the winning run. Omemee advanced a man to third with one out in the last half inning, but infield outs ended the threat.

O'Donoghue had a perfect time at the plate, collecting three of the winner's five hits and driving in the winning run. Hurler Keen, for the winners, struck out eight, while loser Reg. Gordon whiffed five.

AFTER AN INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP, the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club arrived in Florida today for the U.S. national senior women's duet, solo and team synchronized championships. Mrs. Pansy Forbes' club is rated as one of the best in North America. Mrs. Betty Welsh and Mrs. June Storey (left to right, lower photo) will swim in the duet competition on Saturday near Daytona Beach. Teams "A" and "B" will compete against clubs from 38 states; some of the team members are (top photo) Beverley Rumary, Jean Russelle, Isobelle Crary (back row) and Dorothy Russelle, Joan Monks and Connie Hildebrand (front row). Bev Rumary and Isobelle Crary will swim in solo competitions on Friday.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

Ornamental Swimmers Arrive In Florida For U.S. Championships

Canada's only representatives in the senior United States National A.A.U. women's outdoor synchronized swimming championships, the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, are due to arrive at Daytona Beach, Florida, today. The team left Sunday from Peterborough by bus.

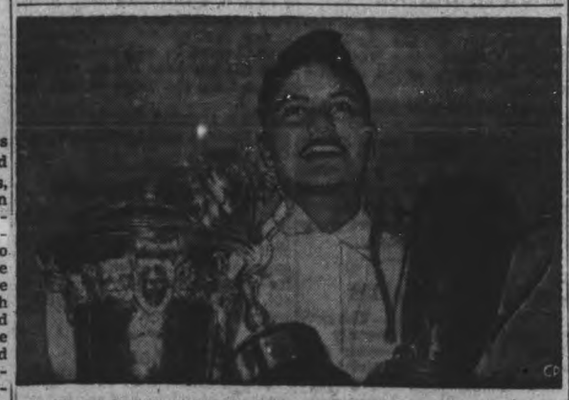
Under Coach Mrs. Pansy Forbes the club will have two teams, consisting of nine and six girls each, in team competition which is expected to attract teams from 38 states as well as Canada. In competition during the past five years the Peterborough club has placed among the first five each time.

OUTSTANDING CLUB

Probably the most active one of its kind in Canada, the club expects both its teams to place well up in the running in the team competitions next Sunday. Its "A" team, composed of Beverley Rumary, Isobelle Crary, Joan Monks, Betty Walsh, June Storey, Sally Hartman, Eleanor Humphries, Joan Lynch and Nancy Doubt, will swim in the act Jumping Jacks; while the "B" team of Connie Hildenbrand, Jean and Dorothy Russelle, Alice and Florence McKay and Donna Bristow will swim to "Nola."

The club will also be represented in the solo swimming on Friday and in the duets on Saturday. June Storey and Betty Welsh will swim in the duet competition while the solo entries are Beverley Rumary and Isobelle Crary.

WON THE SOLO



Last year, Miss June Taylor, London, won the solo championship, but this year will likely compete from one of California's clubs where she's now living.

After the long road trip the girls will rise early Wednesday morning for practices. Mrs. Forbes asked pool officials to allot Peterborough swimming hours at 5:30 a.m. on Wednesday and Thursday. This early hour is nothing for the girls; for the past several weeks they've been practicing outdoors in the Lions' Club pool beginning at 6:30 a.m.

In previous trips to national and international competitions the girls have paid most of the expenses. But this year the girls dug into their bank roll for $400 and received donations totalling $600; the girls won't have to pay a cent.

Peanuts Galore

CAPETOWN (CP)—A big crowd had an unexpected feast when a truck overturned here, scattering sacks of peanuts beside a bus stop. In the scramble for peanuts, few persons bothered to help four men hurt in the crash.

CANADIAN CHAMPION — Tiny Melita Ramirez, of Mexico, holds trophies of three Canadian titles she won in the Canadian tennis championships at Toronto. The attractive five-foot-tall kindergarten teacher is the first player in the tournament's 62-year history to win the Canadian ladies' singles, ladies' doubles—partnered with Doris Ell, of Toronto—and mixed doubles with Gustavo Palavox, of Mexico, as partner. Another visitor, Dick Savitt, of Orange, N.J., won the men's singles title.

Ashby's Capture First One From Belleville

Ashby's opened their Girls Softball League intermediate final series with Belleville at the Bowl last evening and edged the Quinte colleens 7-6. The second game will be staged in Belleville on Wednesday night and the third, if necessary, there on Friday night.

Both teams finished strong last night, Ashby's getting three runs in the ninth on five hits, including a homer by S. Partridge; and Belleville using three hits and an error to fashion two runs before Young struck out. Belleville got but eight hits off Brown while the winners got a dozen off Corneal and H. Reeves, though the latter pitched well and Corneal was good in fielding. H. Reeves led her side at bat with three for four and Waite hit a triple.

E. Brown pitched fine ball for Ashby's, the fielding being fair on both sides. E. Simmonds led the victors in fielding while Jordan, Thompson and Partridge got two safe blows each, one of the latter's being the circuit clout. Ashby's also pulled off a double play. Teams:

Belleville—H. Reeves 3b, p; E. Butcher c, Bovay lf, Butler 2b, Waite ss, R. Reeves cf, Young 1b, Sequin rf, Corneal p, 3b.

Ashby's—D. Smith c, S. Partridge 1b, E. Simmonds 3b, Boyce lf, Callan 2b, Anderson rf, Jordan ss, Thompson cf, Brown p.

Umpires—Hempstead and Mowry.

St. Kitts Crush Thistles 26-9

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics finished their 1952 Ontario Lacrosse Association senior schedule last night with a 26-9 victory over Fergus Thistles.

St. Catharines led 3-1 in the first quarter, 8-1 at half time and 17-3 at the end of the third quarter. Leading St. Catharines goal scorers were Doug Smith and John Moore with five each, John Dewar four and Bob Melville three.

For Fergus, John Gear and Ron Landoni scored two goals each.

Burtol's Awarded Series Over Oshawa Girls By The Provincial Union

The secretary of the Provincial Women's Softball Union yesterday advised President Bill Flint of the Peterborough Girls League that Burtol's of this city had been awarded the P.W.S.U. playdown series over Oshawa, and will now meet Hamilton in the next round this weekend. Tentative dates have it for Friday in Hamilton and Saturday here, if the Hamilton club is ready. Burtol's, as top team in the local league, represented Peterborough in provincial playdowns, being drawn against Oshawa. The local squad, piloted by Phil Macks won the first of the best-of-three series by a 13-4 score. They went to the Motor City last Saturday for the return game, or games if necessary. While there, they were informed by the P.W.S.U. that their first win over Oshawa had been thrown out and the game awarded to Oshawa.

PROTEST ON TWO

The reason given was that Burtol's had used two ineligible players from Marines, Marg Behan and Eleanor Whittaker. Burtol's had signed these two in good faith before the July 15 deadline, but they hadn't played in three qualifying games as required with the new team—an oversight by the club. Oshawa officials said they had learned of this in a letter sent to them by a Peterborough fan.

Burtol's defeated Oshawa on Saturday 20-5, but lost the nightcap 6-2, and apparently thus lost the series, because of the earlier 13-4 game being awarded to the Motor City team.

Mabel Gillen, star catcher for Burtol's, and the one responsible for entering this good club — as her firm sponsors it — promptly got busy over the weekend and checked into the Oshawa setup. It was found that the club there wasn't eligible at all, players not having taken part in three qualifying games. Also they played on a diamond with 62-foot base-lines instead of 55 feet. These facts were presented to the P.W.S.U. secretary, and, after a check was made by the provincial body, the Oshawa series was washed out, and Burtol's of Peterborough told to proceed in playdowns against Hamilton. The Oshawa club will not be allowed to continue.

THIS WEEKEND

Loop president Bill Flint announces that, if Hamilton is ready, Burtol's will go there Friday and play here at 7 p.m. Saturday, with a third game following right away, if necessary. If this transpires, then the Newmarket-Lindsay P.W.S.U. Intermediate C game or games will be started at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Bowl. If Burtol's are not playing here that night, then the Lindsay game, or games, will be on Saturday evening, starting at 7. Definite word on the setup should be received within a few days.

Rays Grab Opener In Fastball Series

Raybestos opened their fastball semi-final series at Quaker Park last night with a 5-1 victory over Quakers. Nicholls pitched a sparkling two-hit game for the winners, while his mates got seven off Horton, who was effective also. The winners had but two errors to Quakers' three in the fine tussle. The same clubs meet again there tomorrow and next Monday, if necessary.

A walk and some timely hitting by Giles and Fennell meant two runs in the second for Raybestos, and they added three in the sixth on an error, hits by Crary and Greenlaw, and a homer by Fennell. The latter and Greenlaw led them at bat with two each. Byers' double and an error sent in Quakers' only run in the fourth. Ash got their other hit. Teams:

Quakers: Floyd, 2b; Sargent, cf; Hillier, lf; Byers, 3b; Jensen, rf; Ash, 1b; Horton, p; Lomax, c; McClaggan, ss; Prescott, ss.

Rays: Crampton, cf; Caccavelli, ss; Batley, rf; Crary, 3b; Giles, c; Greenlaw, 2b; Northcott, 1b; Fennell, lf; Nichols, p.

Bridgenorth Women Lose Two Ball Games

BRIDGENORTH — (ENS). — Bridgenorth women's softball team lost two games over the weekend to Curve Lake and Selwyn.

In the game with Curve Lake Saturday evening, played at Gail Park, final score was 21-11. Errors were plentiful, and Curve Lake chalked up the lone home run in the game.

Selwyn won Monday night's game, played at Bridgenorth, taking the home team 11-8. This was a tighter, better-played game than Saturday's. Only homer went to Margaret Tully of Selwyn, who drove two teammates in ahead of her.

"Get Raw Deal" Over Forfeit Says Lakefield

Manager Cam Wasson and his Lakefield Merchants' softballers of the Peterborough Men's City League claim they are getting a raw deal in being thrown out of the semi-finals by President Bob Batley. Merchants and Seabrooke's were tied at a win each in the best-of-five series, the winner to meet U.E. in finals, when Lakefield could only field eight men in time for a game listed for last Saturday night. Later, a ninth player showed up, but league president Bob Batley, after giving them extra time, announced that Lakefield had forfeited the game and the series. Seabrooke's are to open finals tonight against U.E.W.

"We didn't forfeit the series at all," Manager Wasson states; "we forfeited that one game only, and that was because we were forced to play on Saturday and we didn't have all our players available. But we should be allowed to continue the semi-finals, even after forfeiting one game. After all, we have been beating Seabrooke's lately in league play and in an exhibition later the same Saturday. To forfeit a game isn't to forfeit a series, and our sponsors, players and followers feel we're being given a fast shuffle out of the deal." He said efforts were being made to have the loop president and executive reconsider this "hasty decision" against Lakefield.

Raffenberger Gets Most Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Ken Raffensberger of Cincinnati Reds, who turned in a six-hit shutout against New York Giants last night, has taken over as the National League's earned-run leader.

Averages through yesterday's games show that the 35-year-old Raffensberger has allowed 58 earned runs in 208 innings for a 2.51 mark. The veteran Redleg hurler has a 14-11 record.

In the American League, Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz, with 46 earned tallies in 229 frames, holds the top spot with a 1.81 average. The brilliant southpaw, seeking to capture pitching's triple crown, has won 22 and dropped only four for the four-place Athletics.

Karl Drews and Robin Roberts, a pair of Philadelphia righthanders, follow close behind Raffensberger in the National League. Drews has a 2.53 slate while Roberts is third at 2.56.

Allie Reynolds, the early season E.R.A. leader in the American League, still has a chance to overtake Shantz. The 34-year-old New York Yankee righthander is runner-up with a 2.19 average.

Cleveland's Mike Garcia holds down third place at 2.36.

Minor Ball Series

Recreation director Alex Sinclair has announced the finals of the bantam playoffs in the Peterborough Minor Baseball Association as a two-of-three series. East City Welch's play Northend this Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6.15 in Quaker Park; a third game, if necessary, being arranged for later.

Peewee best-of-three semi-finals resume with Braves playing East City at 6.15 p.m. Tuesday at Bonnerworth, Braves being one up. West meets North at 9.30 a.m. Saturday at the Bowl in the other two-in-three semi-final series, the Westenders being a game up in this playoff round. Finalists will commence their series next week. The minors are not affiliated this year with the O.B.A.

Pendleton Leads Royals To Twin Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is Jim Pendleton, the Montreal flash, going to be the next Negro brought up by Brooklyn Dodgers?

First came Jackie Robinson. Then Roy Campanella. They were followed by Don Newcombe and Joe Black. The latest to make the Dodger grade is Sandy Amoros.

If Pendleton continues his present form there is little doubt the Royals' 26-year-old shortstop will be the next to wear Dodger flannels—unless the Brooklyn brass succumbs to the pleas of Branch Rickey and sells Pendleton to Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Dodgers turned down a deal with the Pirates involving Pendleton last winter.

Pendleton went on a batting spree last night as he led the International League's pace-setters to a double win over fifth-place Buffalo Bisons, 3-2 and 11-5.

PERFECT NIGHT

In the opener Pendleton's homer provided the margin as Gil Mills, hurling three-hit ball, picked up his third win. Enjoying a perfect game in the nightcap, Pendleton swatted his second homer of the night, a triple and two singles, driving in four runs. He went six for seven in the double-header. Bob Alexander scattered six hits to gain his seventh win in the afterpiece.

An eight-run seventh inning enabled Syracuse Chiefs to come from behind to defeat Toronto Maple Leafs 11-6. The Leafs used six pitchers in an effort to stem the tide. The marathon contest saw a total of 33 players used. Art Hartley gained the win, his eighth. The loser was Stubby Overmire.

Springfield Cubs shaded Baltimore Orioles 5-4 in 12 innings. Baltimore scored one run in the top of the 12th to break the 3-3 tie. But the Cubs scored two in their half on Red McQuillen's bases-loaded single.

Ottawa and Rochester were not scheduled.

Thorncliffe Reports Wagering Up 30 P.C.

TORONTO (CP) — Thorncliffe Raceway concluded its third annual 42-day summer harness racing meeting yesterday and officers reported that the season had produced an increase of 30 per cent in wagering over 1951 with a corresponding increase in gate receipts.

The directors tentatively announced that they will boost purses again in 1953.

The Canadian Cup Race, Canada's richest harness racing purse, will be raised to $10,000 next year. The Maple Leaf Cup for trotters will carry a value of $5,000.

Bill Habkirk of Lucknow won the prize for the leading driver at the meeting. Jack Mehlenbacher, National Hockey League referee, finished second in the drivers' contest. Third place went to Keith Waples, of Victoria Harbour.

Sell 45 Horses For $97,200

TORONTO (CP)—Forty-five Canadian-bred yearlings were sold for $97,200 last night at the ninth annual sale sponsored by the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society.

The average sale price was $2,160. Last year a consignment of 54 horses brought $92,300, an average of almost $1,700.

Frank Conklin was the leading consignor with 11 yearlings from his Midway Farm at Brantford attracting $42,800.

Conklin horses attracted the two top prices. Napinka, a bay filly by imported Reed Mace out of Branca, was sold to J. A. Charlesworth of Edmonton for $7,600. Third Degree-Bonnie went to the W. D. Hatch stables at Niagara

Trucks Makes Hall Of Fame With 2nd No-Hitter, Trips New York Yanks 1-0

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Virgil Fire Trucks was riding on the clouds today. The 33-year-old Detroit righthander, suffering his poorest season in the majors, suddenly finds himself in the pitchers' mythical Hall of Fame, joining Johnny Vander Meer and Allie Reynolds on a pedestal reserved for those who achieve two no-hitters in the same season.

Trucks yesterday held New York Yankees hitless at the Stadium and won 1-0 in a sensational, thrill-packed performance that cut the world champions' American League lead to one game over Cleveland Indians, who defeated Washington 7-2. The classic came just three months and 10 days after he handcuffed Washington Senators without a hit or a run May 15.

HAS TOUGH LUCK

The Birmingham fireballer also has pitched a one-hitter, a two-hitter, a five-hitter and two six-hitters. Yet he has only five victories to show for his efforts as against 15 defeats. Only Art Houtteman, a teammate, has lost more.

A seventh-inning double by Walter Dropo followed by Steve Souchock's single off rookie Bill Miller provided Trucks with the winning margin. It was his third 1-0 victory and his first since he hurled a one-hitter against the Senators July 22. In that game only a leadoff single by Eddie Yost deprived him of a no-hitter.

Trucks also pitched nine scoreless innings against St. Louis Browns Aug. 6, but the Tigers lost 1-0 in 11 innings. The hard-luck pitcher also was on the losing end of two other shutouts.

Even yesterday the jinx was reluctant to leave him. It was not until the Yankees were going to bat in the seventh inning that Trucks learned he had a no-hitter going. Until then he, along with all the players and the 13,442 fans, thought he had allowed a hit in the third inning.

In that inning, Phil Rizzuto chopped a simple grounder to short. Johnny Pesky fielded the ball cleanly and then bobbled it in his glove as he tried to pick it out for the throw to first. After one bad stab, he grabbed it but the toss was low and late and Rizzuto was safe.

John Drebinger, official scorer and veteran baseball writer of the New York Times, called it an error immediately, then, after a moment's reflection, he reversed himself. Under the impression that the ball had stuck in the webbing of Pesky's glove, Drebinger changed it to a hit.

Still not satisfied, Drebinger telephoned Pesky in the visitors' dugout as the Tigers came to bat in the seventh and the shortstop readily took the blame.

Drebinger then reversed himself again, ruled it an error and had the public address system announce it to the customers. Trucks worked all the harder in the three remaining innings, retiring the Yanks in order.

It was only the third no-hitter against the Yankees in their 51-year history.

The Indians clubbed Connie Marrero for 12 hits, erupting for three runs in the second and four in the ninth as Bob Lemon registered his 16th victory.

CARDS LOSE TWO

Brooklyn Dodgers just about killed the Cardinals' slim pennant chances, sweeping both ends of a day-night St. Louis doubleheader, 3-1 and 9-5, to boost their National League lead to 10½ games, New York Giants slipped past the Cardinals into second place despite a 3-0 loss to Cincinnati.

Ken Raffensberger blanked the Giants with six hits to register his fifth shutout and his 14th victory for the Reds. Granny Hamner's homer with two on in the 10th gave Philadelphia Phils a 6-3 victory over Chicago Cubs in the majors' only other activity.

Hamtramck Pair Take Honors In Junior Tennis

OTTAWA (CP)—Carol Wolf of Buffalo, N. Y., and Joyce Pniewski, of Hamtramck, Mich., meet today to decide the girls' singles title at the Canadian junior tennis championships.

The boys' and the junior men's semi-finals will also be decided in the fifth day of the week-long tournament at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

The juvenile boys' and girls' finals have been decided with Gerald Dubie and Phyllis Saganski both members of the Hamtramck Tennis Club, taking the honors.

Miss Wolf, top-seeded in the girls' singles, moved into the finals yesterday when she eliminated Miss Saganski, who moved up from juvenile ranks, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Pniewski ousted Barbara Evans of Rothesay, N. B., 6-4, 6-3.

MEET IN SEMI-FINALS

Four boys' singles hopefuls meet in the semi-finals today. They are Raul Karman of Havana, Cuba, Carl Norgauer of Yonkers, N. Y. Jim Ionidis of Winnipeg and Gerald Daly of Toronto. Ionidis, high-seeded Canadian in the event, will play unseeded Daly.

Defending champion Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla., will meet Norgauer later in the day in the junior men's singles. The other two battling for final berths in that event are Joe Jacinto of East Rockaway, N.Y., and Stephen Gaottlieb of New York City.

The junior men's singles turned into an all-American event yesterday when Canada's last hope, John Swann of Vancouver, was knocked out by Norgauer, 6-4, 7-5. The Yonkers player is competing in both boys' and junior men's ranks.

SAVOIE, GRECO TO MEET

MONTREAL (CP) — Armand Savoie, Canadian lightweight and welterweight champion, places his welter crown on the line tonight when he meets Johnny Greco in a 12-round bout. Savoie recently captured the welter title from Greco on a disputed split decision.

"ONLY KIDDING" — When Junkman Harry Haigh, of Victoria, B.C., bought a 12-room Tudor-style mansion next door to the Lieutenant-Governor's house, he announced he would make it a home for down-and-outers. There was an immediate outcry. Haigh then said he was "only kidding" and that he would add apartments in the top floor later when the B.C. city gets around to changing a zoning bylaw which now prohibits alterations to homes in the area. Haigh, unsuccessful mayoralty candidate last December, faces a charge of illegally storing junk at his other residence.

Automotive Industry Featured At CNE

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—The automotive and electrical industries today moved into the promotion spotlight of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Each of the fair's 14 days is named. The labels range from Transportation, Communications and Commercial Travellers'—Sept. 4—to just plain Children's day. Today the promotional facilities of the show line up behind two of the largest exhibitors, both contributing a major portion of the $500,000 paid annually in exhibit space rentals.

Two large automotive displays are featured in the 73rd fair. Loyalties are about evenly divided between United States products—housed in the permanent Automotive Building—and the new exhibit of the British Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders—scattered under 35,000 square feet of canvas.

With Canadian sales of British motor-cars and trucks down 27,831 in 1951 over the previous year, the industry this year is making a determined bid for attention at the C.N.E.

United States manufacturers are featuring sleeker and glossier models which include two-tone interiors and gold-plated bumpers and accessories. One model is described as "a sophisticated study in Georgian white and contrasting shades of red."

TV PROMINENT

The electrical industry too, has its own home on the fair grounds. Television sets get most prominent display in the Electrical Building, and exhibition visitors can see the work of mobile CBC television crews roaming the grounds.

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission took over its own building. The display includes scale working models of Niagara Falls and an electrically-equipped farm.

Exhibition attendance dropped yesterday for Children's Day, despite almost-perfect weather. Some 175,000 youngsters and adults passed through the turnstiles, some 2,000 fewer than turned out on the same day last year.

Deny Changes In Liquor Laws

TORONTO —. Officials of the Ontario Liquor Control Board Monday denied there had been any change in enforcement of liquor advertising regulations during the past year. Gordon Shewfelt, Ontario Temperance Federation president, had charged the board was "today approving liquor advertising which four months ago would have been refused publication."

Mr. Shewfelt said there had been a split in the Frost cabinet ranks with one section asking advertising regulations be scrapped, and the remainder holding the line on present regulations.

"Sufficient cabinet support rallied to that stand that the move to scrap advertising restriction failed," Mr. Shewfelt said. "Foiled in their attempt to alter government policy by democratic processes, the proponents of all-out liquor, beer and wine advertising now are apparently trying to gain their ends deliberately, and apparently with some administrative concurrence, mocking the Liquor Control Board regulations.

"Six months ago, Premier Frost suggested he might call a meeting of temperance, publishing, brewing and distilling interests to thrash out the problem of liquor advertising, but it has not been called.

"As it now stands, regulations are said to favor the large concerns, to the detriment of the small brewer or distiller. Expensive radio, television and publication space in United States regulation-free mediums can be afforded only by the large companies."

More Than 129 Million Dollars Paid To Canadians In Insurance

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

More than $129,000,000, a record, was paid to Canadian families in the first half of this year by the 60-odd life insurance companies operating in Canada.

Of the payments, $78,000,000 went to living policyholders, and $51,000,000 in death benefits.

The figures are from the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association.

STEEL EXPANSION

Dominion Foundries and Steelco Ltd., Hamilton, illustrates the growth of Canadian industry in giving some data on its own career.

The company, when organized in 1912 by C. W. Sherman, now chairman of the board, had one 20-ton open-hearth furnace and 150 employees. Today it has four 60-ton open hearths, two 60-ton electrics, several smaller electric steel-making furnaces and 3,000 employess.

Steel-making at the main Dofasco plant this year will reach a record of more than 400,000 ingots. During the last year, almost 1,000,000 tons of raw materials—iron ore, coal and limestone—entered Hamilton harbor for the company.

The company issued the information in recording "complete satisfaction" with the results of the first year of operation of its blast furnace and coke oven plant, which so far has produced more than 250,000 tons of iron.

The company adds:

"There has been criticism that Canada's steel industry has not shown proper initiative and growth. Dofasco management believes that if anyone will study Dofasco's growth, climaxed by the $20,000,000 expansion last year, together with the millions and millions being spent by other Canadian steel plants, he will find every indication that Canadian steel production is growing at a satisfactory and unprecedented rate. . ."

"We believe that much of the company's success and growth has been due to our employees savings and profit-sharing fund which is building employees' retirement security. The fund now is worth more than $9,000,000."

URGES SKILLS

Frank Rowland, New York office management consultant, says education today is giving "pitifully little attention to the development of skills." He adds:

"It is interesting to reflect that the great masterpieces of antiquity in the fields of painting, sculpture and engineering were the products of an era which emphasized skill at the expense of science, or knowledge, as we interpret the term."

Mr. Rowland made his comment at the opening at the Canadian National Exhibition, of an exhibit of business equipment.

Battle Of Wits Ends In Capture

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—A bizarre battle of wits between summons servers and a middle-aged spinster who had eluded them for three years ended yesterday in a field near her farm home.

A state trooper nabbed Viola Miriam Goslee, daughter of a former Wicomico county state's attorney, as she sprinted from the house toward a wooded area.

As the trooper and a deputy held the slight, 55-year-old woman Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt showed her an arrest warrant.

Pollitt said the arrest climaxed at least 50 attempts to get Miss Goslee into court for a settlement of her father's estate.

The daughter was the original administratrix. Her status was revoked more than three years ago when she failed to produce an account of the estate.

U.K. Jet Airliners Find Market

LONDON (AP)—Two of the biggest airlines in the United States are shopping in Britain for fast jet airliners that will revolutionize commercial air travel within the U. S. and across the Atlantic.

Pan American Airways was reported ready to buy 10 British jet airliners that will bring London within eight hours of New York. Eastern Airlines is hunting jets to speed up its U. S. domestic service and flights to Puerto Rico and Mexico City.

Pan American officials made no official announcement but a $16,000,000 contract for eight De Havilland trans-Atlantic jet airliners and two jet trainers was reported in the works.

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—A field of oats on the farm of J. H. Folton near here was reported yesterday to have yielded 117.5 bushels an acre. Sown to registered Fortune oats last April, the 24-acre field was cut with a swather 10 days ago.

Ottawa Worker Killed

OTTAWA (CP)—Joseph Robichaud, 26, was killed yesterday when he fell from the fifth floor of the Bell Telephone Company building at downtown O'Connor and Albert Streets. The building is undergoing construction for a three-storey addition. Robichaud had been unloading supplies from a cable-operated hoist.

SKUNK PET—Elmer, a three-month-old skunk owned by Mrs. S. Evans, of Winnipeg, reaches for a bit of cheese offered by three-year-old Danny Mason, a young playmate. Elmer also likes gooseberry jam, bread and milk. Mrs. Evans says Elmer is clean, housebroken and doesn't sharpen his claws on furniture or climb curtains. And, more important, Elmer has been deodorized.

Following Cruiser, Stopped For Speeding Not Careless, Says Driver, Forgets Fine

To explain that it was not "a careless act" on his part that resulted in him being given a ticket for speeding, a Toronto man attached a letter to the summons. He said he was enclosing the fine, but it was all because his lights were not working properly when he started back to Toronto one evening from his summer cottage in the Kawarthas. Until he could find a garage to get them fixed, he decided to follow the car ahead. Imagine his surprise, when the car ahead pulled off the road and stopped him. It was a police cruiser. This was how he came to be nabbed for speeding, the man said, not because he was careless.

After reading the letter, Justice of the Peace James Fleming began looking for the $12.50 the man said he had enclosed to pay the fine. He was unable to find it. Conclusion: The man had "carelessly" forgotten to enclose it.

Recommend Dr. J. P. Wells As New M.O.H. For City

The engagement of Dr. J. P. Wells of Picton as Medical Officer of Health was proposed to the council Monday night by the finance committee, implementing the recommendation of the Board of Health.

Ald. J. A. Dewart, chairman of the Board, said he had no hesitation in recommending the appointment of Dr. Wells, "and I shall be glad to move his appointment."

Ald. T. D. Miller, chairman of the finance committee, said: "I think we were all favorably impressed with Dr. Wells when he came before us, with his personality and ability, and it was simply a matter of waiting until the Board of Health were fully satisfied."

Ald. Dewart said the board had carefully considered the application, and Dr. Wells hoped to begin his duties here on October 1. His salary and general conditions of engagement are the same as those pertaining to the office while Dr. Kelly was M.O.H.

BEGINS IN OCTOBER

"Dr. Wells feels that he has a responsibility to the Prince Edward County health unit," Ald. Dewart informed the committee. "I understand that he is reporting to them tonight, and he hopes to be able to take charge here at the beginning of October."

Dr. Wells was born at Orillia in 1906, was educated there and in London, and is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario, London, with the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1931, and previously Bachelor of Arts. As a medical student he was employed on the technical staff of the Institute of Public Health in London, indicating a special interest in that branch of the medical profession.

Dr. Wells did post graduate work as instructor in pathology and bacteriology at Western University, and after an internship at Victoria Hospital, London, he carried on general practice for five years in Northern Ontario.

JOINED ARMY

Post graduate studies at McGill University immediately preceded his enlistment in 1939 with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. His overseas service included a military hospital assignment, and he was commanding officer of another military hospital and deputy assistant director of medical services for the Third Canadian Infantry Division, and commanding officer of a field ambulance.

Dr. Wells resumed post gradute studies at Western, Toronto and McGill Universities, 1946-48, and in 1948 he received the University of Toronto diploma in public health.

Since 1949 he has been Medical Officer of Health and Director of the Prince Edward County Health Unit.

NEW M.O.H.?—Dr. J. P. Wells, of Picton, M.O.H. and director of the Prince Edward County Health Unit was recommended by members of the finance committee Monday night to be appointed as M.O.H. in Peterborough to succeed Dr. R. A. Kelly who has been appointed to Kingston.

Front Of House Which Way? Bylaw Intervenes

What is the front on a house? Or, which side is the front?

That question was posed to the finance committee of the council Monday night by T. J. Carley, Q.C.

Mr. Carley was pointing in the direction of the house at 85 Hunter St. West. It faces east toward the river. The property is 143 feet in depth from the Hunter St. line.

This property was recently sold by Charles W. Holland to Chas. J. Ray, who is planning to build an office for his insurance business.

The Holland family moved off to Dalhousie St., and if Mr. Ray were thinking of demolishing the vacant house some one persuaded him to sell it. This house was considerably improved by Mr. Holland, and is quite a stout brick building.

FACES EAST

But, it faces the east instead of the north. It should be looking out over Hunter St., instead of over the river.

So, the house is sold, and, when the office building is thought of, Mr. Ray encounters a clause in the bylaw which says that a building shall not be erected in front of an existing dwelling, or located in a manner to produce a condition of the dwelling being situated in the rear of another building.

The impediment was the import and effect of the phrase "in front of". Front of a building is ordinarily the side with its entrance. In this instance the front door is not facing the front of the lot.

The front of the house looks to the east, and its side faces the front of the lot.

LANE TO HOUSE

Access to the house is provided by a lane on the east of the property, extending from the street to the rear of the lot, and provision is also made for a walk paralleling the lane.

The request of Mr. Ray for a permit to build his projected office was referred to City Solicitor Huycke. The motion by Ald. J. A. Dewart and Ald. S. J. Black recommended to the council that the permit be granted if the circumstances accord with the building bylaw.

In a general reference, Mr. Huycke said a solicitor could spend weeks in preparing a bylaw, and when every contingency appeared to be covered, somebody comes along and can throw a monkey-wrench into it.

The somebody in this instance was T. J. Carley, but it did not appear when the bylaw was prepared or by whom.

Purpose of that clause of the building bylaw was to prevent possible slum conditions developing anywhere in the city. Mr. Carley cited exceptions other than 35 Hunter St. West.

Several of them are in the west end of the city, and one is the former Hatton residence, Charlotte St. West.

Percy Bentley, Cavan Clerk, Stricken At Ball Game

MILLBROOK (ENS)—Clerk of Cavan township for the past eight years and a former reeve of Millbrook, Percy Ingus Bentley, 64, died suddenly in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough Monday night. A weak spell overtook him while he attended a ball game here, and he was rushed to hospital, but died shortly after arriving.

A popular figure in village and township politics, Mr. Bentley eight years ago retired from the hardware business he owned in the village to become clerk of Cavan township.

CAME TO MILLBROOK IN 1912

He came to Millbrook in 1912 from Picton, and went into the hardware business. For 10 years, he was a member of village council, serving one term—in 1942—as reeve.

Active in fraternal organizations, he was past district deputy of the I.O.O.F. and a past noble grand of the local Oddfellows lodge. As well, he was a past master of the Millbrook J. B. Hall lodge in the Masonic order.

FOND OF SPORTS

Keenly interested in anything that concerned his village, he was almost always consulted on major steps made by either village or township council. He was fond of sports, and seldom missed a ball game.

Since 1925 he has been recording steward of St. Andrew's United Church. He was secretary-treasurer of the Agricultural Society for many years, and a secretary of Gardiner's cemetery board, as well as township weed inspector.

Mr. Bentley was born near Picton in Apple township, and before coming to Millbrook, operated a hardware business in Picton.

He is survived by his widow, the former Zella M. Morden. There are no children.

Funeral service will be conducted Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the G. T. MacPherson funeral home under auspices of the Millbrook Oddfellows lodge. Further service will be held at the Hick funeral home, Picton on Thursday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Glenwood cemtery, Picton.

Delbert Olan, reeve of Cavan township said "Mr. Bentley was a good clerk. He helped everyone old and new on the council. We'll certainly miss him." Mr. Olan intimated he had been a member of the council almost all the time Mr. Bentley was clerk.

POWs Together, Meet 9 Years After Capture

MARMORA — (ENS). — Stan Kerr, president of the Marmora Branch of the Canadian Legion and manager of the local Ontario Liquor Control Board store, after closing for the day on Saturday, had a pleasant surprise. He came face to face with a comrade who was in the aircraft crew with him which baled out over Berlin on August 23, 1943, nine years ago to the day.

It was Leo Bates, who has recently taken up residence in Lakefield after spending two years at Yellowknife. Kerr and Bates were R.C.A.F. sergeants at the time of the mishap and spent 23 months as prisoners of war in Germany before repatriation. Later they were commissioned as flying officers.

The weekend was spent by them at the Kerr cottage at Crowe Lake where the sharing of reminiscences was combined with a fishing trip which met with minor success.

Close Charlotte To Trucks Urged

Exclusion of truck traffic from Charlotte St. entering and leaving the city, was urged by Ald. H. T. Rehill Monday night. He took up that cause where Ralph Standish left off when he was a member of the council.

Diversion of the big and noisy trucks through the west end residential section by day and especially by night has been halted futilely by the knoll on No. 28 Highway just west of its junction with 7-A Highway, the extension of Lansdowne St. Department rates as dangerous the condition at that 7-A cut off.

"They should have reduced the hill long ago," Ald. Rehill said. "I think we ought to ask the Hon. Harold Scott for his support with the Department of Highways."

Ald. J. A. Gillespie said the Department also objected to the two railway crossings on Lansdowne St.

Ald. Rehill's contention was that, granting the council had failed to move the Department engineers up to the present, "let's try again." Ald. Gillespie seconded the motion. Widening of the pavement at the west end of Charlotte St., is now switching traffic, including trucks, to approaches other than by that street.

Boy, 7, Catches Arm In Washing Wringer

BRIDGENORTH — (ENS). — Seven-year-old Philip Blewett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Blewett, suffered severe bruises to his left arm on Monday when he caught it in the wringer of a washing machine.

His mother, who had been washing earlier, could suggest no reason for the boy going near the machine. Philip couldn't explain why, either. Dr. R. K. Magee, who treated the boy, said there were no broken bones, but the boy woulud have a sore arm for some time.

Down North

Visitors from Canada's banana belt in southwestern Ontario received a surprise in Peterborough this week. During the last two weeks in the area around Dresden, southwest of London, has been real chilly. In fact one or two evenings the natives have worn topcoats. They came to Peterborough equipped for fall with wool skirts and heavy sweaters. Imagine their surprise when they had to borrow lighter clothing to wear away up north in Peterborough.

Bo-Bo Escapes Defies Workers For 23 Hours

Bo-Bo, the monkey at the filtration plant zoo, ended her 23 hours of freedom at 8 a.m. today.

Workers at the filtration plant have been trying to catch her since 9 a.m. Monday, and not until this morning did they find a way.

Pop bottles full of milk would lure her close enough to be caught with a long-handled net, but she moved quicker than the net was swung, and would head for the trees. Once in the tree, she would shake it and chatter at the men trying to trap her.

CURIOSITY

Today, her curiosity got the better of her. Workers at the filtration plant moved the cage containing the two baboons into the old pump house.

Curious, Bo-Bo followed them in. They slammed the door, and Bo-Bo's freedom was over. It was her second fling at a private back-to-nature movement. Last summer she escaped from a carnival and hid in the Beaver Lumber warehouse on George St. The carnival moved on without her, and she was moved to new quarters at the filtration plant.

Too Crowded Chairman Says

LINDSAY.—Chairman of Ross Memorial Hospital board agreed today that the hospital was overcrowded.

The chairman, H. T. Johnston, said it was true the hospital was overcrowded and cited a time when there were 96 patients in it. Capacity of the hospital is 54 adults and 14 children.

But, he said, it was overcrowded often because doctors sent to the hospital patients who did not need hospital care.

In spite of the doctors' criticisms—levelled in a letter to the board from the Victoria County Medical Society — the hospital would continue to accept all patients. Only alternative hospital is in Peterborough.

The doctors charged in their letter that the hospital had only half enough beds and facilities, too few qualified nurses, and suggested that it be put under the supervision of a business administrator rather than a superintendent of nurses.

Bus Driver Dies At End Of Trip

TORONTO (CP)—C. M. McBride, 39, of Oshawa, a driver for the Gray Coach lines, collapsed and died at the main Toronto bus terminal yesterday, shortly after bringing a busload of passengers to the city. Gray Coach lines officials said McBride was walking up a flight of stairs when he collapsed.

2 Judges Sentence Man To Five Years

QUEBEC (CP)—Two judges today sentenced Paul Chapleau, 59, of Sudbury to five years in penitentiary for uttering false cheques.

Chapleau pleaded guilty to 15 charges in two separate court appearances, eight before Judge Gerard Simard and seven before Judge Alphone Caron. The two judges each sentenced him to eight five-yea rterms to run concurrently.

Laboratory Re-organized Under Provincial Gov't. Angus M. Miller Director

City Provides Accommodation In City Hall
Province Pays Salaries, Other Costs
Service Provided Free To People of District

The provincial regional laboratory in the basement at the City Hall has been recently re-established on terms that transfer to the Ontario Department of Health all the responsibility for its accommodation and service except the provision of office space. That spatial factor is all that remains of the previous arrangement with the provincial government whose contribution was for years in the form of financial subsidy. Several weeks ago the council took the final step of separation by which the staff pensions were assumed by the government.

The assistants of the new director, Angus MacDonald Miller, are now like himself Ontario civil servants.

PROVINCE PAYS

Since the retirement of Dr. C. B. Waite who was for years head of the laboratory on the third floor at the city hall, Mr. Miller has been taking over that responsibility. The removal of the laboratory with the vacating of the old city buildings last October was carried out entirely by Dr. Waite. From here on, the city provides the accommodation, and the Ontario government directs and bears the cost of the laboratory service.

That work, embracing the extension of the Ontario Department of Health's interest in the district of which Peterborough is the centre, is concerned with public health in this area.

Some of the details are: analysis of water and milk; tests of the bottled milk supplied to the people of Peterborough and elsewhere in the region; examination of milk also for its pasteurization, butter fat content and general conformity with governmnt standards.

Raw milk is also analyzed for any signs of disease. And the testing of well water, from anywhere in the district, is made whenever required, just as the city's water is tested for the same purpose of ascertaining degree of purity.

If food poisoning was suspected here in any case of illness, the ordinary course of the local health authorities would be to try to trace the source, and if possible obtain food samples for testing at the laboratory.

SAVE TIME

Examination of swabs received from doctors throughout the district is also routine. The advantage of the regional laboratory is to save time in having its facilities centrally located here, instead of depending on the central laboratory farther off in Toronto.

So far in his experience, Mr. Miller said today no case of food poisoning has arisen and comparatively few cases of venereal disease have been reflected in the office work.

Blood serology, bacteriology, blood chemistry, and various other phases of analysis and study are all included in the laboratory's scope of public usefulness. Biologicals include vaccines for tetanus or lockjaw, typhoid fever, small pox, whooping cough, which are kept in refrigerator stock for emergencies.

The place of the laboratory in the community is infrequently mentioned in publicity, but its function goes on from day to day in the background of the vigilence that is directed toward public health. Hospitals and clinics refer some of their tests to the laboratory. Attention is also given to the new antibiotics, such as penicillin, auremycin and so on.

FREE TO PUBLIC

And the entire service, including diabetic tests, is free to the public.

Swabs and samples for testing and examination come from a wide compass of the district, towns such as Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Tweed and elsewhere.

Mr. Miller has been years a technician at the Department's central laboratory in Toronto where Dr. L. E. Elkerton is the presiding director of that institution and its sixteen or seventeen branches extending from Kenora, Timmins, Sault Ste. Marie, across the province to Ottawa.

Assistant director at headquarters is Dr. Wallace McClure who for years was United Church medical missionary at Kungmoon, in China, and recently had to abandon the work to the Reds.

The local staff assisting Mr. Miller are Harry Kelsey, Robert Jackson and William Carruthers as laboratory technicians, and Miss Norma Agnew, secretary.

Vaisey Named Hansard Staff

Court reporter at the Peterborough county court house, Douglas Vaisey will start next January to work for the Senate Hansard, official record of the deliberations of parliament.

For the last five years court reporter up on the hill, Mr. Vaisey was before that on the editorial staff of The Examiner.

A past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he has taken a keen interest in civic affairs, and an active part in the Jaycees' "get out the vote" campaigns.

The move to Hansard is a step up for Mr. Vaisey to one of the top jobs offered shorthand writers in Canada.

Bride And Groom To Attend University On West Coast

The marriage of Ninita Esther Bogue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bogue of Peterborough, and James Duncan Newstead, son of Major and Mrs. W. D. Cameron Newstead of Macheke, Southern Rhodesia, was solemnized Saturday morning in Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church by the Rev. F. Kenneth Malone of Bowmanville.

The Rt. Rev. P. P. Butler was also in the sanctuary.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Heribert Michel, organist, and vocalists were Mrs. Mary Conlin and Miss Barbara O'Reilly.

The bride's floor-length gown was fashioned with an imported French lace bodice, and a silk net skirt over satin. She wore a matching lace jacket with pointed wrist-length mittens and her flowing full-length veil was caught by a jewelled tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Joyce Beggs was maid of honor in a lavender and dusky pink gown with white accessories. The bridesmaid, Miss Beverly Richardson, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of ice blue under turquoise net and white accessories. Miss Judy Collison was flower girl in a dress of daffodil organdy over gold.

The bridal attendants all carried bouquets of gladioli matching those decorating the altar.

Robert Bogue of Montreal, brother of the bride, was groomsman. The ushers were Mr. Frank Marino, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Mr. John Harrington.

The reception was held at Club Aragon where the bride's mother received in a forest green gown with gold accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

At the reception telegrams of congratulations were read by the toastmaster, Father Malone, from the groom's parents, Major and Mrs. Newstead, of Macheke, Southern Rhodesia. Others were also read from England, France, Africa, and Vancouver.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Yellowstone Park and Banff, Mr. and Mrs Newstead will live in Vancouver and attend the University of British Columbia.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Canadian Women Canning Fruits And Vegetables

The ever-increasing food prices and the constant demands of union bosses being met time after time temporarily depressed me. But I'm feeling more optimistic about this, and for a very sound reason. I vow every second housewife in Canada must be doing her own canning and pickling. Or so it seems from the letters I receive from you.

All power to you Canadian girls for taking the reins into your own hands.

You will find the pickle recipes you all want so much in Thursday's and Friday's and Saturday's papers this week. But I'm using today's column to answer some questions that are not about pickling.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I enjoy your column . . . the little personal touches complete it and make it good reading. We have 2 adopted children . . . we lost our own years ago . . . we love them both and dreams of the future . . . at our town fair the ladies have a tent . . . they served 2,000 meals last year. I have ben asked to make the coffee . . . could you help me a little. They have 2 large boilers they keep just for coffee . . . How much water to how much coffee? When do you take the bags out and do you put them in after the water is boiling or when it is cold . . . best to you and yours . . . My motto is chin up, face the sun, never look back at the shadows . . . We are never too old to learn. Mrs. John N. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

COFFEE FOR 100

ANSWER: Allow 2½ llbs. finest grind coffee and 5 gallons water. Divide the coffee in halves. To 1½ lbs. add 1 beaten egg and enough cold water to moisten it—about 2½ to 3 cups. Pack this loosely into triple cheesecloth bag and drop into 5 gallons freshly boiling water. Keep just below boiling point for 20 minutes. Remove coffee bag and add another fresh one made up like first one with egg and cold water. Simmer 10 minutes longer, then boil gently 5 minutes. Remove second bag. Add 1 pint cold water and ½ teaspoon salt if desired. Keep coffee hot but much below boiling point.

All power to your courage, M. John N. M. and good luck at the fair.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Would you please send me a recipe for a flaky dough which is made with yeast and used to make fancy cakes etc. Also a flaky dough for fancy cakes without yeast.—Mrs. G. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I am giving you the recipe for Butterscotch rolls — for I think this must be what you are referring to—or a yeast sweet bread similar to it. The dough is rolled very thin, then treated with butter and sugar and rolled like a jolly roll, and raised and baked. When eaten it gives the effect of flakiness.

BUTTERSCOTCH ROLLS (and Swedish Tea Rings)

Sponge: To ¼ cup lukewarm water add 1 broken up cake of compressed yeast and 1 tablespoon sugar. Stir and let stand until it foams up to nearly filling measuring cup. Scald 1½ cups milk then cool to lukewarm. Add to softened yeast, mix well then stir in 2½ cups sifted bread flour. Cover and let stand in warm place until it is light and full of bubbles. Then beat it until it is smooth. Cream together ½ cup butter and ½ cup sugar and beat into the 2 or 3 eggs. Beat this into the beaten sponge. Beat in 1½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sifted bread flour. Beat well until smooth; then sift in enough sifted bread flour to make a soft dough, that can be kneaded readily—do not add too much flour for it will make roll heavy. You must judge this yourself. Knead until smooth. Round up the dough, place in greased bowl, cover and let rise preferably at 82 deg. Fahr. until doubled.

When risen turn out on floured board, roll to ¼ inch thickness 15 inches wide and any length. Brush with butter, sprinkled with brown sugar and cinnamon, roll up like jelly roll cut in 1 inch slices. Butter bottom and sides of muffin tins generously, sprinkle with brown sugar place rolls cut side down in them. Let rise until more than doubled. Bake about 25 minutes at 375 deg. Fahr, but do not burn. Turn out of pans at once. Watch next week for flaky dough without yeast. For Swedish Tea Ring add raisins or currants or nuts to butter and sugar, form in slashed circle and bake as Butterscotch Rolls.

The wedding took place Saturday evening of Betty Marion Langstaff and Keith Kenneth Ellis, at the home of the Rev. E. W. Rowland, Peterborough.

The bride wore a lovely baby blue tissue faille taffeta dress, navy accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

Her attendant, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, wore a navy blue nylon dress, white accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Thomas Brooks, cousin of the bride, was groomsman.

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The bride's mother received, assisted by the groom's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will live on the Warsaw Road, near Peterborough.

Name Director Of McMaster Nursing School

TORONTO— A graduate of the Toronto Western Hospital School of Nursing has been appointed associate director and lecturer in nursing on the faculty of McMaster University School of Nursing.

Miss Florence L. Greenaway of Guelph will succeed Mrs. J. F. Campbell on the faculty and will be in charge of the public health nursing in the school. She assumes her duties early in September.

A graduate of Guelph Collegiate Institute, Miss Greenaway received her basic nursing course at the Toronto Western Hospital School of Nursing. One year of post-graduate study at the University of Toronto and two at McGill University earned the degree of bachelor of nursing, with a major in public health nursing. During the past year Miss Greenaway has been studying toward the degree of master of science in nursing at Wayne University, Detroit. For this year of study, she was awarded a Kellogg Foundation fellowship under the sponsorship of the McMaster School of Nursing.

Her experience includes administrative and supervisory positions with the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Ontario Department of Health as regional supervisor in public health nursing for Southwestern Ontario.

Will Wed Earl Next January

LONDON (Reuters)—Jane Mcneil, 21, English society girl, tonight announced that she will marry next January the Earl of Dalkeith, 28, heir to a Scottish dukedom.

The wedding will take place at St. Giles' Cathedral Edinburgh.

The Earl has often had his name linked romantically with Princess Margaret. He will be the fifth of the Princess's immediate circle of young men friends to marry.

RCAF Man Weds Gwenneth Todd

The marriage took place Saturday in Knox United Church of Gwenneth Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Todd, and L.A.C. Harold Webb of Uplands, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Webb.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United Church conducted the ceremony.

The bride wore a two piece suit of navy blue bengaline with matching accessories.

Mrs. Donald Moorley was the bride's attendant and Mr. Donald Moorely was the groomsman.

After the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Toronto.

Young-Corkery Nuptials

Delphiniums and dahlias in St. Martin's Roman Catholic Church, Ennismore, provided the setting for the wedding Saturday morning of Zita Agnes Corkery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corkery, and Patrick Joseph Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, all of Ennismore.

The Rev. P. J. Lynch officiated and the mass was served by Mr. Edward Corkery.

The wedding music was played by Miss Kathleen Young, and during the signing of the register Mr. Sam Killen sang, There Is No Heart Like Thine.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white gown fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline, nylon yoke, bodice and sleeves of chantilly lace and a flared skirt of nylon twill over satin. Her fingertip veil was of French net with Swiss embroidery and was caught with a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She wore a string of pearls and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Mary Corkery was her sister's only attendant. She wore a floor-length pale blue strapless gown fashioned with fitted taffeta bodice and full skirt of net with lace inset and a taffeta bolero and blue net mittens. Her headdress was a halo of blue flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Robert E. Young was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. William Young and Mr. Clem Young.

The reception was held at the Club Aragon, where the bride's mother received in a pale blue sheer gown with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The groom's mother assisted and wore a navy sheer gown with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Later the couple left for a wedding trip to Hamilton and Windsor. For travelling, the bride chose a turquoise suit and white accessories.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Young will live in Ennismore.

What's Right

You have a physician for a neighbor.

WRONG: Expect him to treat any of your family's ailments after he has come home in the evening.

RIGHT: Telephone him at his office, just as you would any other physician, so that you can either make an office appointment or arrange for a house call.

O'Connor-McGrath Wed At St. Peter's

White and pink gladioli provided the setting in St. Peter's Cathedral Saturday morning for the wedding of Margaret McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris McGrath, and Thomas O'Connor, son of Mrs. Margaret O'Connor and the late Mr. James J. O'Connor.

The Rev. Raymond Garvey officiated.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. O'Donnel. During the signing of the register, Mrs. O'Donnel played Moonlight and Roses, and Ave Maria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chantilly lace gown fashioned with a trailing train, fingertip sleeves and a lace net beaded yoke. Her floor-length veil of lace net was caught with a beaded tiara and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Cecilia Connolly, who wore a pale blue taffeta gown under blue flowered net, blue net gloves and a blue heart-shaped net crown trimmed with blue lily of the valley. She carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Miss Cecilia McGrath, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a princess styled yellow taffeta gown and matching gloves and carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli.

Miss Linda McCurrah was flower girl. Her dress was fashioned with a pale blue velvet bodice and cape and a white net skirt over taffeta. Her hat was a pale blue velvet poke bonnet tied under the chin with net and she carried a nosegay of white 'mums with a pink rose centre.

Mr. Joyner Ryan was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Joe McGrath and Mr. Chris McGrath, both brothers of the bride.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home where the bride's mother received in a brown crepe gown, a brown felt hat and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, who assisted, wore a flowered silk gown, and a corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a wedding trip north. For travelling, the bride chose a pale blue nylon dress, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor will live at 109 Reid St., Peterborough.

6—In Memoriam

McDOUGALL—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Harold Mayhew (Shrimp) McDougall, who passed away August 26, 1943.
His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past,
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife and children Harold, Mary, Patricia and Ann.

PACEY—In loving memory of our darling son and brother "George" who passed away August 26, 1951, ago two years.
He was a flower too sweet for earth
Sent here but for a while;
God marked him when He gave him birth
And took him with a smile.
The memory of his dear wee ways
Will linger with us all our days
Sweetest flower, too sweet to stay
God took him home to show us the way
—Sadly missed but always remembered by Mom, Dad, sister Shirley.

PACEY—In loving memory of George Pacey who passed away Aug. 26, 1951.
The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From Memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by Uncle John, Aunt Doris, and cousins Marlene, Jackie and Arnold.

PETHERRRIDGE—In loving memory of Frank Petherbridge who passed away August 26th, 1951.
My lips cannot tell how I miss him
My heart cannot tell what I say
God alone knows how I miss him
In a home that is lonesome today.
—Sadly missed by wife Florence.

Boros and Ford To Lead Off

MONTREAL (CP)—Julius Boros and Doug Ford lead off for the United States today against Bobby Locke and Jules Huot, representing Canada in the opening four-ball match of the international team competition between golf professionals of the two countries.

It promised to be a sizzling battle, particularly with the U.S. champion and the British Open champion figuring in the start of the brand new international event. Locke, an honorary member of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association, is permitted to play for Canada under the tournament regulations.

In the other matches, Dave Douglas and Ted Kroll were drawn against Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Pat Fletcher, 1952 C.P.G.A. champion from Saskatoon, and Jack Burke, Jr., American team captain, teamed up with Cary Middlecoff against Stan Horne of Montreal and Gordon Brydson of Toronto.

KERR TO PLAY

The only change in the lineup for tomorrow's six singles matches will be the replacement of Fletcher by Bill Kerr of the Montreal Beaconsfield host club. Kerr is captain and alternate of the Canadian team and will meet Middlecoff.

What appears to be the big attraction in tomorrow's singles is the Boros-Locke match—U.S. versus British Open champion.

Pair Slated For Pirates

BIRSTOL, Va. (AP)—Two young pitchers who achieved fame in the Class-D Appalachian League may be reunited soon—as members of Pittsburgh Pirates.

The pair are Ron Necciai, 19-year-old strikeout artist who recently joined the Pirates, and Bill Bell, strapping young right-hander from Goldsboro, N.C.

Three months ago the twp were teammates on the Bristol Twins Club. Then Necciai set the diamond world on its ears with a no-hit performance in which he struck out 27 men. He was called to Pittsburgh.

The night after Necciai left Bristol Bell turned in a ho-hitter himself, fanning 17 in checking Kingsport, Tenn., 1-0. Four days later, the 18-year-old stopped Bluefield without a hit, 4-0, and whiffed 20.

He was out for a time with a back injury and last night Bell pitched his third no-hitter of the year, a seven-inning 4-0 triumph over Bluefield.

DOROTHY DIX

Eternal Doubt Is Price Of Breaking Up A Home

DEAR MISS DIX: A short while ago I married a man who divorced his wife in order to marry me. He told me his marriage wasn't satisfactory before we met, and I dated him several months before he left her. Now I am beginning to wonder if I made a mistake. It he couldn't be true to one woman, do you think he can be true to me?

Everyone says his first wife is the sweetest person on earth. Do you think I would be doing the right thing in paying her a visit? I would like to know her, so I can make a comparison.

DOUBTFUL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It didn't take you long to realize the fundamental truth that comes sooner or later to almost every woman who breaks up a home. That is the fact that she has probably married a chronic philanderer who won't be true to anyone.

YOU'RE PAYING PENALTY

Stealing another woman's husband is the lowest form of larceny, and its punishment is more sure than a prison term. The penalty for husband thievery is marriage to a man you never can trust. Always in the back of your mind is the realization that he betrayed one woman—why not you, too? Of course, your husband hasn't acquired any particular bargain, either. His is the constant thought that, if you broke up one home, you might do it to another. Having shown a complete lack of principle in one respect, there's not much reason for him to believe you will have any in other matters. No, Doubtful, the marriage of two people such as you and your husband gives little promise of happiness.

Your desire to visit wife No. 1 is further proof of your own doubt. What you actually hope to accomplish is to learn that she is devoid of charm, so you can return to your stolen home with at least the security of possessing superior physical allurements. This will not be the case. She possesses a clear conscience, which you have not—an advantage that would overcome a considerable degree of plain features. You have done her enough harm already; don't add gloating to your list of sins.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We were a very happy couple until my wife decided to put a stop to our visiting my parents and try to keep our children from visiting them. My wife is quite capable of being cool and indifferent and I fear she has been just that to my entire family. Her family visits us often, and I make them very welcome. She lived with my family two years while I was in service and was treated very well. Why does a wife think a son shouldn't think as much of his family as she does of hers?

B. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: When a satisfactory answer is found to your last question, marriage will have taken a tremendous step toward blissful happiness.

Whether a wife gets along with her in-laws or not, her husband is entitled to the same privileges with his people as the wife is with hers. And that goes for the children, too. Of course, exceptions must be made in the case of overbearingly possessive in-laws—on either side—or of dominating relatives who insist on running other people's homes. These cases, I have found, are extremely rare in spite of all the complaining about in-laws.

Stick up for your rights, son, and insist that your wife show at least courtesy to your people.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think it's a good idea for an American girl to marry a man from Europe?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since most of us have come from Europe, in one geperation or another, marriage would be in a sorry state if Europeans were on the banned list as far as matrimony is concerned. The things that make a happy marriage have nothing to do with geography. Investigate the man's character rather than his genealogy.

Handicraft Show Features Work Of Young And Old

TORONTO. — Young and old alike are represented in the exhibits of handicrafts at the 1952 Canadian National Exhibition.

This year the exhibits of special interest to women are spread out from the Coliseum to the Dufferin Gate. In the handicrafts' field there is, first, the prize winners' section in the Women's Building, selected from the 3,000 entries the contest comimttee received this year.

Especially attractive is a quilt done by Mrs. Bertha Strange, of Chicago, picturing an old-fashioned quilting bee. The remarkably lifelike scene shows old women and young gathered around the quilting frames while a gentleman and a lady who apparently got tired of quilting converse beside a pot-bellied stove.

This display covers the whole field of knitting, crocheting, rug hooking, basket weaving, and the rest. There are some interesting dolls, depicting comic strip characters and Indian dolls sent by an Indian hospital.

Also in the Women's Building is the Canadian Handicrafts Guild show of craftsmen at work, with Minerva Shantz doing spinning Munza D'Angelo Zava pottery, and Mercedes Button ceramics. These artists manage to remain calm while working busily and answering dozens of questions.

Another artist who maintains her poise and does complicated weaving under the eyes of the crowd is Mrs. Aldona Veselkiene of Kingston, who works in the Lithuanian display in the West Annex of the Coliseum.

Mrs. Veselkiene, who came to Canada nearly five years ago and is "almost a Canadian" says that she works in traditional Lithuanian folk patterns, but no two pieces are ever quite the same. Native costumes, she says, vary among the provinces of Lithuania, but each person adds a touch of individuality to his costume.

As well as woven fabrics and ceramics there are two tapestries done by her sister, Mrs. Anastazija Tamosaitiene, an artist in wool. One depicts a "first Christmas in Canada", a snowy scene with a church in the background and a lighted Christmas tree in the foreground. The other is a Lithuanian harvest scene.

Mrs. Veselkiene says she came to Canada only because the Canadian government came through before the Australians, but she is glad now, and she is even glad that she does not live in the United States. She had been to New York and did not like the constant rush. Somehow, she feels, Canada is closer to Europe.

Young artists have left their mark on the C.N.E. this year, too. In the children's pavilion are many drawings done by pupils in Canadian schools, pictures of everything from cowboys and Indians to Saturday night at the lcoal movie, and illustrations of favorite fairy tales. There are also large murals submitted by high schools across Canada.

In the centre of the children's pavilion is a sign inviting children under 12 to come in and help themselves to paper, paint and crayons. Swarms of children have taken advantage of this opportunity and the walls papered with the results, many of them vivid and full of life.

The Junior Red Cross exhibit of art done by students in many countries, which was displayed at the recent international conference, is now in the Red Cross exhibit at the C.N.E. These drawings, done mainly by teenagers, depict many ways of life, from the kola dance of Yugoslavia to sailing in Australia.

Sarnia Goes Way of All Clubs Signs American Import For 1952

By FRED WHEELER

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia Imperials, last of the all-Canadian senior football clubs has gone the way of all big-league teams. The Imps have signed an American import, middle Maurrie Dorocke from the University of Idaho, for the 1952 season.

The 242-pound lineman will show his stuff here Sept. 1 when Imperials open defence of their Ontario Rugby Football Union championship against Toronto Balmy Beach. Imperials have stayed with the home-breds the last three years and have done remarkably well. Last season they won their 11th O.R.F.U. title easily.

Coach Hugh Douglas, starting his fifth year with Imperials, refuses to go out on a limb concerning Sarnia's chances in the four-team circuit this time out. His chief worry is in the quarterback position.

QUARTER NEEDED

"We look a little heavier than our 1951 team and we'll field the best team posaible from what material we have on hand," he said. His line and backfield appear solid enough but he has a big hole to fill following the retirement of quarter George Curtis who guided Imperials to a runaway championship in 1951.

He has been grooming Johnny Chorostecki and Don Spradbrow as quarters the last month. Chorostecki scored 85 points in his freshman season with the Imperials in 1950 and last year he was runner-up in the league's scoring race behind McMaster University's Mel Hawkrigg, who is trying out with Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four this year.

Spradbrow, a native of Sarnia was quarter with Stratford Rams last year in junior O.R.F.U. ranks.

Douglas has experienced help up front—centre Bruce Mattingly, middle Lloyd Davey and end Keith Fisher, all seven-year men with Imperials. Mattingly was voted the O.R.F.U.'s most valuable player last season and Fisher was selected for the league's All-Star team.

VETS BACK AGAIN

Other union All-Star players of 1951 back for another campaign in the Imperial backfield are Corky Duchene, Jon Florence, former Winnipeg Blue Bomber, and native Sarnian Al Farris.

New lineman besides Dorocke are Doug McDonald, a six-foot-four-inch, 220-pound end from Stratford; end Ken Foster who played the last three seasons with McMaster Marauders; Gus McNevin, 220-pound middle, Toronto; Joe Wilson, 280-pound middle, Ottawa; Glen Murray, 215-pound inside also from Ottawa, and Ross Smith, a graduate of high school ranks in Sarnia.

Dorothy Kirby Leads Qualifiers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, having mastered 146 rivals to capture medal honors, launches the formal defence of her women's national amateur golf championship today.

The tall, drawling girl from Georgia scored a three-over par 76 to lead the qualifiers yesterday. It was the second time Miss Kirby had won medalist honors. She did it in 1946.

The surviving field of 64 hook up today in the first round of match play. The tournament course, Waverley Country Club, measures 6,323 yards, par 36-37-73.

Par was an elusive target for the girls yesterday. Only six managed to break 80.

Yet Miss Kirby's 76 was only two strokes higher than the record for the championship qualifying round. It was set in 1939 by Beatrice Barrett and tied last year by Barbara Romack of California and Carol Diringer of Ohio.

Two Canadian women qualified for match play. Babs Davies of Vancouver, who shot an 84 yesterday, faces Shirley McFedters of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. J. K. Todd of Victoria, who barely got in with an 88, meets Mrs. Betty Rowland of Lexington, Ky.

Here and There In Sport

MAY RETIRE FROM HOCKEY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Clint Smith, one of Canada's hockey greats, is waiting for "developments."

He may retire from hockey to devote his time to a private business enterprise here.

Smith, who has had 20 years in professional hockey, last season coached Cincinnati Mohawks in the American Hockey League. The Mohawks have dropped out of the A.H.L.

"If I can't go back to Cincinnati, I'll drop hockey and concentrate on my business here," he said yesterday.

Earlier there were reports Smith might coach New Westminster Royals in the Western Hockey League, but he said he has not discussed the subject with owner Ken MacKenzie.

ESKS, BOMBERS TIE

WINNIPEG (CP)—A 51-yard kick to the deadline by Rod Pantages with three minutes left in the last quarter last night gave Edmonton Eskimos a 14-14 tie with Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a Western Football Union game before 10,000 fans at Osborne Stadium. The stalemate had old timers scratching their heads as they tried to recall the last time senior clubs had played to a tie.

STAMPS BEAT RIDERS

REGINA (CP)—Calgary Stampeders last night moved into first place in the Western Football Union by defeating Saskatchewan Roughriders 21-14 before 10,000 sweltering fans at Taylor Field. The Stamps, cellar-dwellers in the last two seasons, trailed 8-3 at half-time but moved ahead 10-4 and were never behind again.

CAT FLUSTERS GOLFERS

WEST VANCOUVER (CP)—A kitten yesterday drew more attention than the golfers at the Canadian amateur golf championship. It spent much of the day on the practice green adjoining the first tee, chasing balls and scooping others out of the cups. Some of the competitors sharpening up their putting became annoyed when the kitten brushed aside dead-on putts.

CLARK DEFEATS TURNESA

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif. dark horse, turned in a three-under-par 69 yesterday to defeat Jim Turnesa, veteran national P.G.A. titlist from Briarcliff, N.Y., in their 18-hole play-off of the Fort Wayne Open golf tournament. The young Californian picked up $2,400 by virtue of his win over 39-year-old Turnesa, who carded a two-under par 70 for the final round. Turnesa received $1,800.

EASY WIN FOR COLLINS

BOSTON (AP)—Tireless Tommy Collins, Boston's featherweight title contender, chased Glen Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn., almost every minute of the way while pounding out a unanimous decision in their 15-round elimination boxing bout last night at the Boston Garden. Collins, who scored the only knockdown, weighed 124¾, a pound less than the mid-western battler.

Victoria Golfer Cuts Down Pete Bogan

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia hot-shots go to work today in the Canadian amateur golf championship with some inspiring examples from other Canadians before them.

Defending champion Walt McElroy of Vancouver is scheduled to take on Bob Roos of San Francisco while Vancouver's lame-duck Bill Mawhinney, 1950 Canadian titleholder, is to play George Andrews, Fort Alberni, B.C., basketball coach.

A Canadian giant-killer emerged from yesterday's first-round matches when 34-year-old Vic Painter of Victoria cut down Pete Bogan of Montebello, Calif., U.S. public links champion, 3 and 1.

"Why didn't they tell me about this guy?" moaned Bogan afterwards.

Painter finished off the Californian on the 17th green by dropping a 50-foot put. He had a two-under-par 5 on the first nine.

SERIOUS WORK

The Ontario contingent got down to serious work early. Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener blasted R. E. Hibbertson of Victoria 6 and 5 and Nick Weslock of Windsor floored Vern Goodfellow of Vancouver, 5 and 4.

Bob Gray of Winnipeg sank John Wilson of Vancouver 6 and 5 and Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., ousted Brian Hopkins of Vancouver 2 and 1.

FAVORITES CUT DOWN

American favorites Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck, N.Y., and Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., were sidelined their first time out. Max Tenningkeit of Culver City, Calif., bounced Gagliardi, U.S. amateur runner-up last year, 2 and 1, and Frank Hardison of Glendale, Calif., eliminated Yost 1 up.

But another American, Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y., gave notice that he will be an extremely tough customer to beat. The 1950 U.S. champion blasted Bill MacPherson of Seattle 6 and 5. He was seven up after nine holes, which he played in 33 strokes, four under par.

Sixty-four 18-hole matches were on the card for today over the hilly, dog-legged Capilano course in West Vancouver.

Golfers hope for a break in the weather. Rain streamed down most of yesterday and low-hanging clouds sometimes fluttered across the course, perched 700 feet on the side of Hollyburn mountain

Stole Radio Takes Jail Term

Douglas Detlor, 19, no fixed address, said he would take the ten days when Magistrate W. R. Philp fined him $20 and $2.50 costs or ten days for stealing a radio valued at less than $25 dollars.

Detlor pleaded guilty to the charge and said he took the radio from the home of Clarence Stockdale where he had been working because he liked music, wanted it and did not have the money to buy one.

Detlor said he had no money to pay the fine and no way to earn it. He said he only had a part time job and "I'll starve before I'll go back to a farm."

Questioned by the magistrate as to why he took the radio, Detlor replied cockily, "when a man is drinking he doesn't think that he is committing an offence at the time." It was the same way with his taking the radio he said.

"I can see we are getting no closer in our thinking," the magistrate said in imposing the ten days with the option of a fine.

Grant $4,000 Bail In London Rape Case

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Bail of $4,000 apiece today was granted by Magistrate Fred G. McAlister to two men charged with rape.

Wesley T. Phillips, 27, R. R. 2, St. Thomas, charged jointly with James Henry Durdle, 22, of Manitoba Street, St. Thomas were released on two sureties each, returnable at Middlesex county fall assizes to which they have been committed for trial.

They are charged with the rape of 40 year old London woman.

Found Guilty Of Speeding Will Appeal Case

Immediately after being convicted of speeding and fined $10 and $2.50 costs, Donald A. McGillis, 475 Hunter St. West, said he would appeal the decision of Magistrate W. R. Philp who found him guilty of the charge today.

McGillis' defence counsel, Gordon H. T. Farquharson, argued there should be some evidence as to the accuracy of the speedometer of the police cruiser O.P.P. Constable Wally Mohns was driving when he followed the car McGillis was driving.

Constable Mohns said he followed the car for a mile and a half and checked its speed at 70 miles an hour over the distance, by his own speedometer.

NOT OVER 50

McGillis said he was never over 50 miles an hour at any time the morning of July 15 until he stopped when the police cruiser signalled him to do so at the five mile turn on Highway 28.

He said he was on his way to Toronto and had the speedometer on his new Cadillac checked there when he arrived and that it was accurate.

Under cross-examination by Crown counsel, V. J. McElderry, he said, "I would not be trying out a Cadillac to see what speed it would go with a constable right behind me."

He said he knew the officer was following him from the time he left the city.

Magistrate Philp said that everyone who uses the highways "realizes that much traffic moves in excess of 50 miles an hour."

"The police are very well aware of all the speeding that goes on," argued Mr. Farquharson, "and in most cases they permit it. It is perfectly safe in very little traffic. If they are going to charge people with speeding, they should have more concise evidence of having speedometers checked. It is not up to the accused to prove they are inaccurate."

The magistrate said he doubted the police cruiser's speedometer could be "out that amount, or that any qualified provincial officer would not have some idea of speed within a variation of 15 or 20 miles an hour."

Sunday School Picnic In Park

The Free Methodist Church Sunday school held a very successful picnic Saturday afternoon in Jackson Park. Seventy-four were present and enjoyed the pleasant surroundings, the Christian fellowship, the ball games, the swings, the races and the good picnic supper. Ice cream was served.

Stan Church, Sunday school superintendent, supervised the outing, while Orval Wells, of Lindsay, a member of Peterborough F.M. Sunday school, conducted the races, which were as follows:

Mrs. G. Robinson's class of beginners, five and under, all received balls.

Mrs. G. Bullid's class of girls, Donna Laidley, Sharlene Collins.

Mr. G. Robinson's class, Ken Collins, Elsie Marshall, Peggy Vansickle.

Mr. G. Reyonlds' class, Weldon Johnston, Garry Meredith, Ted McGrath.

Shoe kicking by the ladies, Mrs. Dwyer, Miss Esther Robinson, Mrs. L. McGrath.

Shoe scramble by the boys, Ted McGrath, Garry Meredith, Ronnie Marshall.

Three-legged race by the girls, June Clark and Elsie Marshall tied with Donna Laidley and Madeline Hawley; Peggy Vansickle and Marcia Laidley.

Wheelbarrow race, Paul and Weldon Johnston, Ted McGrath and Wayne Collins, Clarence Clark and Gary Meredith.

Tug of war, Weldon Johnston's side won; Ted McGrath, Wayne Collins, Clarence Clark and Lloyd Belford.

2 Killed, 50 Injured In Independence Row

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP)—Two natives of this British West African protectorate were killed and 50 seriously injured by French border patrols when they tried to cross into neighboring French Togoland to present independence petitions to a United Nations mission, it is reported here.

The men were part of a mass movement of 5,000 persons who stormed the border to lend their support to demands by residents of French Togoland for independence.

The Ewe people, now split between British and French Togoland have long demanded union of the two areas and complete independence.

Canada Lucky Not To Have Conscription

OTTAWA (CP)—A British general says Canada is lucky to be able to meet her military obligations by voluntary recruiting.

He is Maj.-Gen. M. M. West, 46, C.B., D.S.O., who came here to see Canadian officials before going to Korea to command the Commonwealth 1st division which includes Canada's 25th brigade.

Gen. West, a former deputy director of manpower planning in the British War Office, told a press conference yesterday that the willingness of European powers to adopt a two-year conscription policy may decide whether the Atlantic Pact can live up to its targets.

A reporter noted that Canada is the one Pact country without conscription and Gen. West said he is aware of that. He said he feels Canada is lucky to be able to rely on volunteers.

Britain couldn't possibly get enough volunteers to meet her overseas commitments—she has 300,000 troops abroad—so she used a mixture of volunteers and conscripts.

Tourist Booth Stays Open To Sept. 15

LAKEFIELD— (ENS)— Lakefield's Chamber of Commerce information booth will remain open until September 15, it was decided at a general meeting of that organization held in Memorial Hall, with the president, Harold Hamblin presiding.

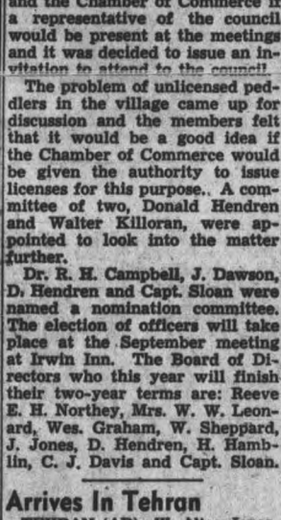
Booth attendant, Mrs. William O'Brien, in her report made the suggestion that it would be of advantage to resort owners to have folders giving accommodations and other information, to be given to this season's tourists with the idea in mind that they would use them in planning for next year's vacation.

Total inquiries to the middle of August were 1,761 and the number of persons placed in resort accommodations was 1,183. This shows a decided increase over the past two years when the number placed in 1951 from June 23 to September 3 was only 403, and in 1950 from June 15 to September 15 it was 609. Mrs. O'Brien attributes some of this increase to the fact that the booth has become better known, as tourists pass on the information to friends that the aim of the attendant is to be of the greatest help possible to them.

Mrs. O'Brien says that there is considerable variation to the inquiries she receives. Last week a gentleman asked the direction to the Lakefield cemetery, where over 25 years ago he had attended the funeral of a friend and wished to again visit the grave.

Civic Improvement convener, W. Sheppard, reported that the Trent Canal officials had removed the unsightly piers from the canal and that the appearance of that part of the waterway was greatly improved as a result.

Plans for a dinner meeting to be held at Irwin Inn in September were discussed and Walter Killoran, Capt. J. Sloan and Ross Irwin were a committee named to make the arrangements and secure a dinner speaker.



Members felt that it would be of advantage to both the council and the Chamber of Commerce if a representative of the council would be present at the meetings and it was decided to issue an invitation to attend to the council.

The problem of unlicensed peddlers in the village came up for discussion and the members felt that it would be a good idea if the Chamber of Commerce would be given the authority to issue licenses for this purpose. A committee of two, Donald Hendren and Walter Killoran, were appointed to look into the matter further.

Dr. R. H. Campbell, J. Dawson, D. Hendren and Capt. Sloan were named a nomination committee. The election of officers will take place at the September meeting at Irwin Inn. The Board of Directors who this year will finish their two-year terms are: Reeve E. H. Northey, Mrs. W. W. Leonard, Wes. Graham, W. Sheppard, J. Jones, D. Hendren, H. Hamblin, C. J. Davis and Capt. Sloan.

Complications Seen In Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal resources experts said yesterday there will be many complications in the development of a huge Alaska aluminum plant by the Aluminum Company of America.

In the first place, Alcoa must obtain agreement from the Canadian and British Columbia governments before it can divert the waters of the Yukon River for creation of cheap hydro power.

In the second, the Canadian government will want assurance that Yukon's power and navigational interests are well protected before it will allow the diversion to take place.

The officials were commenting on Alcoa's announcement Saturday that it will build a $400,000,000 plant in Alaska, in the Taiya Valley near Skagway, close to the Canadian border.

NELSON, B. C. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent's scheduled Labor Day visits to Cranbrook and Kimberley have been cancelled because of the polio outbreak in British Columbia's East Kootenay region, it was announced last night.

All gatherings are being discouraged throughout the district, where 11 persons have died of polio so far this year.

Claim 15 P.O.W.'s Die

TOKYO (AP)—The Communist Peiping radio today claimed without confirmation that 15 Korean war prisoners were killed and more than 40 wounded at an Allied prisoner of war camp Aug. 15. The location of the camp was not given. The Red account did not say how the prisoners were killed. There was no immediate comment from United Nations Command headquarters.

Minnesota Tourist Not Smart After All

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (CP)—A Minnesota tourist beat the discount on United States currency here Saturday, but he may be out of money in the long run.

Refusing to pay the discount on his U.S. money after Mrs. Evelyn Miller had filled his car with gasoline, the visitor produced a $4 Dominion of Canada bill.

Mrs. Miller dubiously accepted it and made change. She checked with currency experts later and discovered the bill, dated July 2, 1900, and bearing portraits of Queen Victoria and her Prince Consort, may be worth as much as $10.

Millbrook News

Miss Diann Hoglebaum of Brockville has been engaged to teach music in Millbrook public school and in the schools of North and South Cavan, commencing in September. She visited in Millbrook on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Larner took a motor trip to Stony Lake last week.

Jan Ryerse of Port Dover has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Henry Gray and Mr. Gray for the past ten days.

Boy Dies of Wound

TORONTO (CP)—Gerald Horst, 15, of West Montrose, near Kitchener, died Sunday night of a gunshot wound. The boy was accidentally shot in the head Friday by a .22-calibre rifle he was holding. He was brought to Toronto for an emergency operation.

Child Drowned In Creek

NAVAN (CP)—Two-year-old Ray Moffett wandered away from his playmates on his father's farm yesterday, toppled into a small creek and was drowned. Navan is 15 miles east of Ottawa.

No Revision About Divorce

BOXFORD, Mass. (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury said today the Church of England contemplates no revision in its attitude toward divorce.

Dr. Geoffrey F. Fisher told a press conference the Church of England is primarily concerned with the success of marriage.

"The Church is distressed when a man and wife fail to live a normal life. It is further distressed if the couple goes to the point of divorce."

He added, "this is registering failure and sin."

On vacation here, the Archbishop plans to address the general conference of Protestant Episopal Church in Boston in September.

To Trap Beaver

TORONTO (CP)—Beaver have multiplied so rapidly in the Bay of Quinte area that this year trappers will be licensed to help keep control of the numerous colonies which have become a nuisance. Harry G. Lumsden, biologist, lists 3,427 live beaver houses this season, not counting those on private property which the owners do not want touched, compared with 600 in 1947.

Clerk Foils Gunman

TORONTO (CP)—Clerk Connie MacKinnon, 18, slammed a cash register drawer on the fingers of a toy-pistol gunman who held up a shop in central Toronto. The man who had been reaching for a stack of $10 and $20 bills, howled with pain and fled, clutching about $7 worth of small-denomination banknotes.

Escape Bridge Collapse

ESPANOLA (CP) — A 240-foot bridge collapsed under a 20-ton tractor trailer yesterday, throwing the truck and two men into the Spanish River. The men, driver Clark Cameron and Ted Polden, freed themselves and swam ashore The bridge has a five-ton load-limit sign. Espanola is 50 miles southwest of Sudbury.

First Half Century Marked Era In Western Canada With Development of Cities

Greatest proportion of Canadian urban population increase, as shown in the summary of the decennial census from 1901 to 1951, stands out with sharp prominence beyond the Great Lakes, such as:

	1901	1951
Edmonton	2,626	159,631
Calgary	4,091	129,060
Regina	2,249	71,319
Saskatoon	—	53,268
(Not incorporated in 1901.)

Vancouver	27,010	344,833

EXPANDING RESOURCES

Obviously, legions of people in quest of new country and its opportunities, harkened to the Greeley slogan of advice: "Go West." Thousands of them were not from Canada at all, but from land-hungry corners of Europe. And, in this year of 1952 many of them with the descendants of the earlier adventurers are going to share a billion dollar grain crop. Others have recently found quick fortunes in the expanded discovery of Canada's resource of oil.

Some of the smaller centres are found in a relatively corresponding category of population increase:

	1901	1951
Medicine Hat	1,570	16,364
Moose Jaw	1,558	23,355

Prince Albert	1,785	17,149
Lethbridge	2,072	22,947
Fort William	3,633	39,497

Somewhat comparable proportions are conspicuous in a few Quebec centres:

	1901	1951
Granby	3,773	21,989
Three Rivers	9,981	46,074
Chicoutimi	3,826	23,216

Ottawa Reports Trade Surplus Of $164,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's surplus in foreign trade climbed to a six-year high of $164,400,000 in the first half of 1952, a marked contrast to a record deficit of $339,000,000 in the similar period last year. In June, a continuing high level of trade produced a favorable balance of $54,600,000, a reversal of the unfavorable balance of $44,600,000 in June last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. The 1952 surplus was the biggest since the $194,000,000 surplus in the first half of 1946.

Completing its half-year estimates, the bureau placed total exports at a peak of $2,114,700,000, a gain from $1,762,600,000 in the first half of 1951 and more than five times greater than the pre-war total of $392,400,000 in 1938.

The 1952 exports record was achieved by a 17-per-cent boost in volume and a 2.5-per-cent gain price. Volume of exports and imports was higher in the first six months than any similar period since the end of the Second World War.

DOLLAR VALUE SLIPS

The dollar value of imports slipped slightly in the half year to $1,350,300,000 from the peak of $2,102,400,000. But imports were higher than the $1,453,100,000 in 1950 and about six times greater than the $336,700,000 in pre-war 1938.

The bureau estimated that though volume of imports increased by two per cent, prices slipped by nine per cent.

"Changes from 1951 were greatly influenced by world price movements," the bureau said. Purchasing power of Canada's exports in the first half of 1952 was seven per cent greater than in 1948. In 1951, their purchasing power was only 95 per cent of 1948 power.

"This improvement of almost 13 per cent in the terms of trade made a major contribution to the sharp change in the half-year trade balance," the bureau added.

Jury Indicts Canadian In Fraud Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General James P. McGranery today announced a federal grand jury at Detroit has indicted Leonard Lewis Buhler, 30, a Canadian citizen, on charges of obtaining immigration permits through fraud.

He said the indictment was returned late yesterday.

Buhler, who has been living in Detroit, was arrested today by immigration service officers. Arrangements were made for an immediate arraignment.

DONATES FINGERPRINTS

McGranery said Buhler is accused of supplying the fingerprints of another person in connection with his application for border-crossing privileges, in order to conceal a criminal record in Canada.

The department has been conducting a broad investigation into the status of Canadians living or working in Detroit, who allegedly got their border cards through fraud.

McGranery said recently there was evidence that about 100 such persons got their permits by supplying false information on their financial status.

He said a number of self-styled "visa consultants" operating in the Windsor-Detroit area are involved.

The justice department last week named one such visa consultant as Mrs. Aline Steigerwald, of Windsor, sister of Paul Martin, Canadian minister for public health and welfare.

CONSULTANT CHARGED

The Detroit grand jury which indicted Buhler also made public a sealed indictment returned last Jan. 15 against William E. Tobin, a visa consultant of Windsor.

The indictment charges Tobin with fraud and false statement. The justice department said he was in-

Uses Pop Bottle As Weapon In Gas Station Fight

TORONTO (CP)—A young girl whacked a would-be thief over the head with a pop bottle yesterday to prevent an armed robbery of a service station in suburban Scarborough.

June Oxley, 16, first hit the intruder, identified by police as Lloyd Irvine, 22, with a fishing pole after, police said, he had slugged her uncle with a bottle, and then smashed him with a bottle of her own. Shaken and covered with blood Irvine was quickly overpowered by the uncle, Robert Oxley, and his brother, Stanley, proprietors of the service station.

Irvine was given hospital treatment and later charged with attempted armed robbery. Police seized a loaded revolver, a hunting knife and 250 rounds of ammunition.

Robert Oxley needed six stitches in a gash above his right ear.

STANDING BY COOLER

Mr. Oxley was standing beside the soft drink cooler in the combined service station and store, talking to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Oxley, while her husband was away at the bank.

Mrs. Oxley said a man entered the station, pulled a nickel-plated revolver from his jacket pocket and ordered her to stand aside. June was sitting on the steps in the station which led to the living quarters.

The man suddenly pulled the trigger twice, but nothing happened, Mrs. Oxley related. He shook the revolver and pulled the trigger again, without results.

A sheepish grin appeared on the man's face, Mrs. Oxley said, and the man told her he was just joking. He put the revolver back in his jacket pocket and went over to the soft drink cooler.

Mrs. Oxley said the man started asking questions about a town five miles east of Highland Creek. Then just as Mr. Oxley started to speak the man brought the pop bottle down on the side of his head and jumped on him.

Say British Ready For Compromise To Halt Red Coup

LONDON (AP)—Informal sources said Britain and the United States submitted broad proposals to Iran today designed to settle the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute and avert a possible Communist coup in the troubled Iranian kingdom. The proposals were said to provide for an emergency U.S. aid program and some important British concessions to the government of Premier Mossadegh in the festering 18-month-old oil row. The British charge d'affaires, George Middleton and U.S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, conferred with Mossadegh for three hours today in what informants here described as the weightiest western bid to end the deadlock yet made.

The informants gave this account: Henderson told Mossadegh the United States is ready to pitch in several million dollars worth of aid to tide Iran over her immediate economic difficulties.

READY TO TALK

Middleton indicated Britain is prepared to enter direct talks on the vital question of compensation for the estimated $1,500,000,000 oil industry built up by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company which Iran nationalized last year.

British willingness to relax the blockade on the Iranian oil industry as part of a general settlement also was indicated by Middleton.

A move of this sort would enable Iran to earn between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 quickly by selling the 2,000,000 tons of oil and oil products now stored.

The joint Anglo-American approach followed intensive talks between London and Washington on the explosive Iranian situation. Those talks were said to have produced an Anglo-American understanding that Mossadegh must be supported in office as being the best available way of avoiding a possible Communist coup.

U.K. Describes New Jet Best In World

LONDON (AP) — The Gloster Javelin, Britain's new jet flying triangle, was described officially today as faster than sound and "the most effective fighter in the world."

An announcement authorized by the R.A.F. said the strange-looking plane, packed with secret radar gear for high speed combat miles above the earth, is alone in its class.

The security veil was partly lifted from the fighter, with official approval, by Percy Grabbe, managing director of the Gloster Company which developed it.

The Javelin is the world's first twin-engined fighter of the delta, or triangle, wing design. With its complicated radar equipment it can operate in any weather, day or night.

PLANE 57 FT. LONG

The plane is 57 feet long and has a wing span of 52 feet The tip of its tail stands 17 feet from the ground.

Although the Javelin can fly faster than sound—660 miles an hour at sea level—it is "more manoeuvrable and docile at lower speeds than any fighter since the biplane era," Grabbe said.

It is specifically designed, he continued, to fight off jet bombers which in any future war "would carry fantastically powerful atomic explosives and operate from great altitudes."

New High Court Sets Aside Former Ruling

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters)—South Africa's new high court of Parliament today decided to set aside a decision of the appeal court which struck at the Malan government's policy of racial segregation.

The court, made up of members of the South African Parliament, overruled the appeal court's finding that the separate Representation of Voters Act was invalid. The Act would have removed voters of mixed blood in Cape Province from a common roll with white voters.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan set up the high court of Parliament as a result of the appeal court decision. The high court claims final authority in deciding the validity of constitutional legislation.

COURT NEEDED

Government spokesmen said a high court was necessary to protect the sovereignty of Parliament—its supremacy being unchallengeable.

Opposition members called it a political manoeuvre and have boycotted its secret sittings, which began Monday.

The high court is made up of both houses of Parliament.

The verdict empowers the South African government to remove colored voters from the parliamentary voters roll. Their influence will therefore be eliminated from the next general election, to be held about the middle of next year.

Under present arrangements about 40,000 colored voters take part in elections in 55 parliamentary constituencies in Cape Province.

US Policy Suicidal Dulles Declares

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—John Foster Dulles today rapped United States foreign policy as "suicidal" and proposed a plan to disintegrate "the empire of Soviet Communism" from within. The Republican foreign policy adviser delivered his sharp attack in an address to the American Political Science Association. He called upon the U.S. to pay more attention to the peoples and problems of Asia, Africa and South America, and to abandon as a failure its program of "containing" Communism.

"The empire of Soviet Communism can be disintegrated from within," Dulles said.

"Already it is over-extended, covering 800,000,000 of what were recently 19 different independent nations. The structure could be cracked by passive resistance, slow-downs and non-co-operation.

"That would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."

ALTERNATIVE IS WAR

The only alternative way to stop Soviet Communism, he said, is by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles said the Soviets traditionally believed the "road to victory in the west" lay through Asia—particularly China—and that non-western and non-white peoples could not be treated as "second-class expendables" if the west wanted to survive in a free world.

The chief architect of the Japanese peace treaty said present foreign policy involved "race discrimination on a global scale" by concentrating on the defence of predominantly-white western Europe.

Youth's Car 'Bites' Finger

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—Duane Partlow's automobile grabbed the end of Partlow's finger yesterday and it took firemen, mechanics and doctors three hours to induce it to let go.

The 17-year-old amateur mechanic was working on the engine of his 1937 model car in his back yard. A friend was turning the engine with a crank while Partlow held his finger under a valve lifter.

Snap. The valve came down on the finger. Grease nor tears would loose it and city firemen were called. They couldn't budge the stubborn valve.

A doctor was called and he administered sedatives to the trapped youth. Then, with the youth sitting on the frame and his finger still in the viselike bite, the automobile was towed to a repair shop.

Three hours after the valve snapped down on the finger, the motor's cam shaft was broken and Partlow was freed. He probably will lose the end of his finger.

Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Murdoch Maxwell MacOdrum, wife of the president of Carleton College, died today. She had been ill for several months. Mrs. MacOdrum was a native of Corner Brook, Nfld.

Bomber Flew At 605 M.P.H.

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's Canberra jet bomber flew the Atlantic from Gander, Nfld., to Northern Ireland yesterday at an av-average speed of 605.52 miles an hour, the Royal Aero Club announced today.

The plane's flying time for the round trip was seven hours 58 minutes 35.18 seconds. Time for the homeward flight was three hours 25 minutes 18.13 seconds, a record.

The east-west record, already held by a Canberra piloted by Wing-Cmdr. Roland Beamont, who piloted the jet yesterday, is four hours and 18 minutes. Yesterday, slowed by powerful head winds, he made it in four hours, 33 minutes 17.05 seconds.

The twin-jet was the first plane to make the double crossing in one day.

Falls 250 Ft. Boy Only Cut

MEAFORD (CP)—James Thompson, 15, of Toronto, escaped with only cuts and bruises today when he tumbled 250 feet down a cliff four miles east of this Georgian Bay town.

Thompson, with two American chums, Thomas and Joe Rowe, 15 and 13 of Port Huron, Mich., were on a hike and climbed down the cliff on ropes to have a swim. Thmopson fell as he clambered up the cliff.

Slipping on loose slate, he tumbled the 250 feet to the water's edge. A small plateau half way down broke his fall, but did not stop him.

The other boys helped wash and bandage his cuts and took him to a doctor. His condition is reported satisfactory.

May Ease Steel Ban For Canada In 1953

OTTAWA (CP)—Bans on the use of steel for non-essential construction in Canada may be eased early next year, Dr. H.H. Saunderson, Canada's materials co-ordinator, said today.

The defence production department official was commenting on a Washington dispatch in which U.S. government officials announced a plan to release more steel, copper and aluminum for construction by next April at the latest.

Dr. Saunderson said that if the United States eases its controls, Canada likely will be able to do the same. Both Canada and the U.S. had planned to relax some of their prohibitions during the third quarter of 1952, but the U.S. steel strike interfered.

Neighbors Swing Axes In Fight

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial police said today they are detaining a young couple following an ax-swinging incident at Puef, Que., 30 miles from the northern mining centre of Rouyn-Noranda.

Police identified the couple as Mr. and Mrs. Armand Moffett. They were held following a brawl with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bazinet, in which Mrs. Moffett allegedly hit Bazinet over the head with an ax.

No charge has been laid but police said the couple may be charged later.

The argument arose from a rock-throwing episode between children of the two families. Police said the parents were drawn into the affair. Bazinet was taken to hospital with severe head injuries.

Demand Communists Free German Jurist

BERLIN (AP)—U.S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly sent the Russians a new demand today for release of Dr. Walter Linse, snatched from West Berlin into the nearby Soviet Zone by Communists July 8.

Donnelly wrote Gen. Vassily Chuikov that he is unable to accept a previous Soviet explanation which virtually denied that the incident ever occurred.

There has been no word of Linse, member of the anti - Communist Free Jurists' League, since three East Germans forced him into a car and raced to the Soviet zone.

Small Boy's Dog Hero In Bush Search

ELMVALE (CP)—A crossbred St. Bernard-Newfoundland dog was the hero of a search yesterday for five-year-old Vance Gilson, lost in thick bush and farm land.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gilson was found shortly after dark on the highway three miles west of here, trudging along after his dog Duke who had apparently led him out of the bush and set him on the road home.

Residents of the district hunted the boy for three hours.

Elmvale is about 75 miles north of Toronto.

Miami Reports New Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The season's first tropical hurricane was born today in a swirling, squally area about 1,000 miles east southeast of Miami.

A hurricane hunting plane probing the tropical storm reported slashing winds of about 85 miles an hour in the northern semi-circle.

A hurricane packs winds of 75 miles an hour or more.

The noon advisory located the "poorly defined centre" about 250 miles north-northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Leaves Injured Father At Scene Of Accident

HAMILTON (CP)—A man alleged to have deserted the scene of an accident, leaving his 70-year-old father with a broken knee, is being sought by police today.

John Sholer, 70, was injured in a three-truck crash here yesterday. Police said his son, Clarence, left his truck after the crash and boarded a passing bus.

Drivers of the other trucks were not injured.

Police said a charge of driving a vehicle while his licence was suspended will be laid against Clarence Sholer.

Run Airlift For Pilgrims

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Added thousands of Moslem pilgrims surged into this Mid-East crossroads yesterday, swamping the United States Air Force "Hadji airlift" to the approaches of holy Mecca and Medina in Saudi Arabia.

The airlift can't go all the way to the shrines of Islam because infidels—the air crews—are forbidden entry.

Despite hourly departures by 14 C-54 transports, which carried 1,000 Mohammedan pilgrims in the first 24 hours of the modern magic carpet operation of good will, it appeared more than 8,000 others would be stranded here.

The pilgrims must reach Mecca before the holy gates close Thursday morning or the journey, which has eaten up the life savings of most, will be in vain. Ceremonies of the annual religious feast begin then.

The airlift cost is being paid from air force funds set aside for training pilots.

Chinese Reds Purge Strict Family System

HONG KONG (Reuters)—The strict family system, on which Chinese society has been based for generations, will be smashed by a new Communist purge campaign aimed at controlling the thoughts of more than 450,000,000 persons.

New plans by the all-powerful State Administrative Council, governing body of Communist China, to extend the informer system were announced yesterday by the Communist New China News Agency.

Every government officer in the country will open a special reception office where Chinese can meet Communist officials and denounce friends, relatives and other for opposing the regime.

Only a few months ago the daughter of a Peiping university professor denounced her father for the crime of "lack of hostility to the United States." He lost his job. Similar denunciations now will become a feature of daily life in China.

Will Come To Canada

Decides To Keep Boy Friend Girl Expelled By Reds

LONDON (AP)—A pretty English girl said today she has been expelled from the Communist party for refusing to give up a boy friend who spied on British reds for Scotland Yard. The couple say they're going to get married, go to Canada to live, and ignore politics.

The girl is Mary Johnson, pert 22-year-old brunette daughter of a Church of England vicar at Ratcliffe-on-the-Wreake. The boy friend is Tony Mathews, 21, a student from Belfast, Northern Ireland.

The Communist party of Britain exposed Mathews as an anti-Red fifth columnist and kicked him out last June.

Miss Johnson got her walking papers Monday in London's Communist Daily Worker, which published her photograph over a warning to its readers that her party card had been revoked.

The young couple said they will be married by Miss Johnson's father in a week or 10 days. And then, Mathews told interviewers at the vicarage, "we will go to Canada and live a peaceful life, with politics barred."

Miss Johnson nodded, but made it plain that she is not disavowing Communism.

"I will not let myself become an anti-Communist story."

Her mother shrugged her shoulders and said sadly:

"They train them well in the Communist party."

Meet Challenge With Force

Red POW's Create Incidents Trouble Quelled By Guards

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Defiant Communist war prisoners tested nerves of United Nations guards in a series of incidents this month and guards "met every challenge" with maximum force, killing four and injuring 64, the United States Eighth Army said today.

Most of the casualties occurred at the main U. N. war-prisoner camp on Koje Island of South Korea. It was on Koje last June 10 that U. S. paratroopers broke Red rule over prison pens in a battle in which 40 prisoners were killed and 140 wounded.

An Eighth Army spokesman summed up disturbances in July and August this way:

"In the last few weeks, prisoners of war and civilian internees in their new 500-man compounds have tried out the nerves of U. N. personnel, making trouble to see what force would be used against them. On every occasion we have used maximum force. We have met every challenge."

The army began yesterday to disclose the prisoner incidents in piecemeal announcements after a Communist broadcast charged the U. N. with mistreating prisoners in August a year ago.

An army spokesman said there had been no intent to withhold information and added that the delay was caused by a reorganization of the camp command.

REDS CHARGE SLAUGHTER

Gen. Nam Il, senior Communist negotiator at the Panmunjom truce talks, made propaganda capital of the POW troubles at today's truce session. He accused the U. N. of "shameless and cowardly slaughter" of captured Reds.

The prisoner disorders occurred on two islands and in camps on the South Korea mainland. Some prisoners were hurt in free-for-all fights among the prison inmates.

Fighting among prisoners has been common as Communist and anti-Communist factions clash, apparently for power within the stockades.

Million Missing POWs Problem For U.N.

GENEVA (AP)—The United Nations commission on prisoners of war opened its third session here today confronted with evidence on more than 1,000,000 missing German soldiers of the Second World War.

The Soviet Union, where most of the missing war prisoners of the three former Axis powers are believed to be held, has consistently boycotted the commission and ignored all its appeal to supply information.

Hans R. Hirschfeld, the German federal government's representative, brought 50 volumes of information to the commission's session.

The volumes contained the names of more than 1,000,000 missing German soldiers as well as nearly 100,000 identified prisoners of war who have not returned, and some 750,000 German civilians believed deported to the Soviet Union, including many women and 3,240 missing children.

Airport For City Still Remains Long Way Off

Peterborough's hopes of acquiring an airport are still far from fulfillment.

Every prospective site within a radius of five to seven miles of the city "has come to the attention of the federal Department of Transport in the last twelve years" as mentioned in a letter which Mayor Waddell left for the council's information before taking a holiday this week.

This letter was read at the finance committee meeting Monday, with another from D. A. McIntyre, Toronto, district controller of air services for the Department.

Two sites officially examined on August 15 were found unsuitable, and as already reported, a third location in the neighborhood of the Lillico farms on the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway has become more or less cluttered with houses and other buildings. And that's out, too.

REQUIREMENTS

Requirements were defined by Mayor Waddell as follows: 4,000 feet in one direction with zoning of 20 to 1, off the end; and width of 500 feet with zoning of 7-1.

That detail of zoning means, for example, one foot elevation for every 20 feet of extension.

It is preferable that accommodation should be available for two strips, they should not be in the proximity of populated areas; and drainage conditions should be good.

Mr. McIntyre is preparing a complete report of the surveys that have been made for an air field in this area. A representative of the department was here Monday continuing the inspection of property that might be considered suitable.

53,000 Unemployed In Ontario In August

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that 53,000 persons were unemployed in the province at the beginning of August. This is an increase of 15,100 from the corresponding date last year.

There was some improvement in manufacturing reported as a result of the increased volume of retail trade and the delayed effect of defence orders. However, this largely has been offset by the recent United States steel strike and the summer vacation period.

With employment during June fractionally below last year's figures, payrolls continued nine per cent above last year. Retail trade was 12.3 per cent ahead of last year, and this will gradually make itself felt at the manufacturing level, the survey said.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Night Low....56 Noon....82
Noon Barometer 29.6

Yesterday:
Highest.....89 Lowest...55

One Year Ago:
Highest.....76 Lowest...51

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion Public Weather Office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m. E.D.T.

SYNOPSIS:

Ideal vacation weather still prevails over Ontario today, but with temperatures reaching ever closer to the 90s and the humidity increasing day by day, conditions are becoming less ideal for those who must stay home and work.

Slightly cooler air has moved into the Prairies and maximum temperatures there were 10 degrees lower yesterday. However, changes in southern and central Ontario will take place slowly. A tendency for increasing cloud and higher humidity will be noticed during the next 24 to 48 hours, and as cooler air begins to approach the regions, the likelihood of showers will increase.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Thursday:

Eastern Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay, Haliburton regions, London, Toronto, Hamilton: Sunny today. Sunny with a few cloudy intervals Thursday. Continuing very warm. Winds light today, south 15 Thursday. Low tonight and high Thursday at St. Thomas, St. Catharines, Toronto and Hamilton 65 and 85, Wingham, Muskoka and Killaloe 55 and 85, Trenton and London 60 and 85. Summary for Thursday—mostly sunny. Very warm.

Give Quebec Health Report

OTTAWA (CP)—Expansion of Quebec's hospital, medical and general health services has been recommended by a committee established to survey the province's needs in the field of health. A 10-volume report containing scores of recommendations was made public today by the federal Health Department. The report represented two years' study by the committee, headed by Dr. J. Ernest Sylvestre of the Quebec Department of Health. The survey was financed by a federal health grant. Issued earlier were reports of seven other provinces — British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Still pending are reports from Manitoba and Newfoundland.

EXPERIMENT FAILS—U.S. Air Force, after long testing, has given up on the huge B-60 experimental bomber (bottom photo) and will concentrate full attention on the B-52 (top photo), a faster, single, heavy jet type. The B-52 Stratofortress is expected to replace the current B-36 as the chief atomic bomb carrier of the Strategic Air Command.

Only two provinces—Alberta and Saskatchewan—have recommended immediate adoption of a national health insurance program.

WOULD AID INDIGENTS

The Quebec report made no reference to national health insurance, but it urged greater assistance to indigent persons in need of care. Increases in the staff and facilities of practically all branches of provincial health services were recommended.

Noting that Quebec lacks sufficient hospital beds and that hospital facilities are not available in all regions of the province the committee recommended that new hospitals be opened in strategic locations. It asked that financial assistance be given so that one hospital in each region could have a special section for treatment of the chronically ill.

Some parts of the report were devoted to recommendations for the control of specific diseases.

To help control cancer, the committee recommended that financial aid be given to all important hospitals to enable them to establish or improve their cancer diagnostic centres.

ASSIST FAMILIES

The report recommended that the province assist cancer patients and their families, when necessary, by paying hospital and treatment costs and by providing an allowance for the family, especially when the head of the family is the one affected.

On tuberculosis, the report recommended the vaccination of all new-born children and "all persons untouched by tuberculosis."

Another recommendation read: "That the hospitals, when they admit any patient, proceed to the systematic detection of tuberculosis through chest X-ray examination and tuberculin tests and also to the systematic blood tests for the detection of syphilis."

Produce, Livestock Markets

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP)—Wholesale fruit and vegetable price changes here today were: watermelon, crate, $2.50; parsley, bushel, washed, $2.25-$2.50.

Potato prices were: Ontario, off truck, $3; to trade, $3.25-$3.50.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO (CP)—Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

Ample supplies moved slowly today in dull egg market trading. Quotations for eggs in fibre cases were: A large, 58 cents; A medium, 51, A small, 34-35; grade B, 39; grade C, 27-28. Wholesale to retail: A large, 62-64; A medium, 55-56; A small, 38-39; grade B, 44-45; grade C, 34-35.

Toronto—add produce

Butter prices were: first grade, 58 cents tenderable, 57¼-57½ cents non-tenderable; second grade, 55¼-56¼ western, 58¼-58½.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Offerings were about in line with the demand and grain prices moved in a narrow range early today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Barley came in for some good export buying, while oats received support from American shippers. Rye and flax trade was light. Trading turned dull after the opening flurry.

11 a. m. grain prices:

Oats: Oct. ⅝ higher 83⅛a; Dec. ¼ higher 81B; May ¼ higher 82 ⅛a.

Barley: Oct. ⅛ higher 1.27⅜b; Dec. ¼ higher 1.22a: May ¼ higher 1.21⅝.

Rye: Oct. 1 higher 1.77⅛b; Dec. 1¼-1 higher 1.77⅝b; May ⅞ higher 1.81b.

Flax: Oct. unch 3.90½; Dec. not open; May 1 higher 3.83½.

CHICAGO GRAIN

prevailed in grains at the opening today but dealings continued light.

Limited arrivals of cash corn were a help to that cereal.

Wheat started ⅛-½ cent higher, September $2.30¼-⅜; corn was ⅛-¼ higher, September $1.78¾-⅞, and oats were ¾ lower to ¼ higher, September 83¾. Soybeans were ⅛ to one cent higher, September $3.16-3.15¾.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario stockyard cattle prices today showed little change in dull trading. Receipts: cattle 170; calves 110; hogs 220; sheep and lambs 180. The holdover totalled 2,300 cattle including 1,200 stockers.

Medium to good steers brought $23-25.25 and common to medium steers and heifers $13-21. Good cows traded from $15-15.50. Bulls were $11-14. Common to medium stockers sold from $15-20 with calves upward to $26.

Calves were steady at $26-28 for choice vealers. Common to medium traded from $11-23.

Grade A hogs brought $26 and dressed sows $16.

Lambs sold at $28 for good ewes and wethers delivered by rail and $27 delivered by truck. Bucks were at $1 discount. A few heavy lambs, 110 pounds and up traded $1 lower. Common sheep were $5-8.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

BUFFALO (AP)—Cattle 400; market not established.

Calves 100; good to choice calves 36.00-39.00; mediums 33.00-35.00; common and culls 27.00-32.00.

Hogs 350; good and choice N. Y. state hogs 21.00-22.00.

Lambs and sheep 100; market not established.

MONTREAL LIVESTOCK

MONTREAL (CP)—Trading was at a slow pace and prices were generally not established in early trading today on the Montreal livestock markets.

Receipts were 107 cattle, 10 calves, 34 sheep and lambs and 119 hogs. Total offerings Tuesday were 162 cattle, 281 sheep and lambs and 119 hogs. Total offerings Tuesday were 162 cattle, 281 sheep and lambs, 1,782 hogs and 457 calves.

Out of the 107 cattle offered, about 50 were good western cows held over from Tuesday night. Early trading was quiet and no market could be established.

There were no early sales on calves, sheep and lambs.

Grade A hogs remained steady at 26. Sows made 15-16.

Can Prove Sanity Holds Certificate

COLLINGWOOD — An unsuccessful candidate for Dufferin-Simcoe in the last provincial election appeared in court here Tuesday to answer a charge of trespassing on the premises of the Collingwood Shipyards, Ltd.

Dressed only in shorts, shoes and a beard, Harry Marshall told the court he was the only person in Collingwood holding a certificate to prove he was sane. Magistrate Foster reserved judgment until September 8.

Police said they arrested Marshall after several complaints that a man would not leave the shipyard property.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 27-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 96⅛ cents. The pound sterling was $2.67¾, against $2.67⅝.

No Survivors In Crash

KARACHI (Reuters)—All 18 persons aboard a Royal Pakistan Air Force plane were believed killed yesterday when the transport crashed near Jhelum in the Punjab. The plane carried 15 passengers and crew of three. Earlier reports that the aircraft carried high Pakistan army and police officials were denied here.

Heavy Bombing Of Red Depots Allies Report

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nation planes roared into North Korea today in a follow-up of last night's heavy bombing of Communist supply depots near the Red capital of Pyongyang and in northeast Korea.

The United States Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers dropped explosive on Red front-line installations, then unloaded napalm (burning jellied gasoline) in support of Allied ground troops in the first clear weather in five days.

The U.S. Eighth Army said ground fighting was light and sporadic.

Seven B-29 superforts last night dumped 70 tons of high explosives on a Red supply area at Pyongyang. It was one of the military targets the U.N. had warned would be bombed out of existence.

Golab Coach Of Panthers

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Rugby Football Union today announced the appointment of Tony Golab, the former starry Ottawa Rough Rider backfielder, as coach of Hamilton Panthers, 1951 Dominion intermediate champions.

Former "Golden Boy" of Canadian football, Golab is a squadron leader in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was just recently appointed commanding officer of the Mount Hope air station near Hamilton.

Born at Windsor in 1919, Golab first achieved football notoriety at Kennedy collegiate there when he teamed with Toronto Argonaut star Joe Krol to form a formidable backfield pair. He later went to Sarnia Imperials of the O. R. F. U. and joined Ottawa of the Big Four in 1939.

With Riders he played in three Eastern Canadian championships and in 1941 was named winner of the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy as the most valuable player in the Big Four.

Golden Boy Demands Money

HAMILTON (CP)—Tony Golab, former "Golden boy" of the big four football union, has been coaching Hamilton Panthers, local intermediate grid team, for the past two weeks, but unless Tony can come to some proper arrangement financially with the Dominion champions he will toss in the towel before many more days have passed.

Right now the Panthers are without funds and Golab says that the only way they can get the needed money is to affiliate with the Tiger Cats. He has set his price and has let it be known that the answer must come soon or he will hand over the reins to some one else.

Hunt For Bandits Described To Court

WINNIPEG (CP)—A story of a police hunt for two suspected bank bandits in dense bush near Vivian, Man., July 2 was told last night at an inquest into the death of one of the suspects, killed by R. C. M. P. bullets.

The jury returned a verdict that Albert Proulx, alias John R. Zahara, 35, formerly of Ottawa, met his death by gunshot wounds "while resisting arrest."

The second suspect, Alexander Zakopiac, 33, of Winnipeg, shot in the foot by a member of the posse, was arrested and now faces charges of attempted murder and armed robbery.

R. C. M. P. Constable John Friend, 23, of Calgary was shot in the neck in the wild gun battle.

$140,000 Fire Razes Wood-working Plant

GATINEAU MILLS, Que. (CP)—Fire today razed a wood-working plant here causing damage estimated at $140,000. For a time the blaze threatened to spread to other buildings in this town 10 miles east of Ottawa.

Firemen had the blaze almost under control when a block in the hydrant cut off the water supply. The flames broke out anew and ran wild before hoses were brought into action again.

The mill buildings were gutted and thousands of dollars worth of lumber was destryed.

Girl 16 Slugs

June jumped up, grabbed a fishing pole and broke it over the man's head. The battle continued with the man and Mr. Oxley rolling up and down the floor.

The girl then picked up the large full bottle and smashed it over the man's head. He staggered back as Stanley Oxley, returning from the bank, entered the station.

Both men jumped on the gunman and pinned him to the floor. The revolver fell out of his pocket. Stanley Oxley said the man told them: "I give up; you've got me."

Mrs. Oxley then called police.

Fire-Damaged Lodge Back In Operation

PORT ELGIN (CP) — Sunset Lodge, damaged by fire yesterday, was back in full operation today.

The fire, believed to have started from defective wiring in a basement cupboard, burned a small corner of the hotel dining room and caused extensive smoke and water damage. Guests fled the building with their belongings.

Child Born In December Proves Costly In Tax Sense

OTTAWA (CP)—W. S. Fisher of the Income Tax Appeal Board, in a judgment made public yesterday, urged Parliament to consider at its next session an apparent injustice against parents of children born in December, the last month of the taxation year.

Mr. Fisher said he had "every sympathy" for W. G. McMurray of Toronto, who appealed his 1950 income tax assessment. But the judge said that because of the present wording of the Income Tax Act he had to dismiss the appeal.

Mr. McMurray claimed a $400 exemption for a daughter born Dec. 25, 1950. The Income Tax Department cut the deduction to $150 on the ground that the child was "eligible" for family allowance payment.

The appellant's complaint—and Judge Fisher agreed—was that when a child born and registered in December is "eligible" for family allowances that month, under the Family Allowance Act the actual payment is not made until the following month.

It would seem unlikely that parliament will heed the board's suggestion that the law be changed so as to correct this alleged discrimination against parents of December babies. Such an amendment could be made only at the instance of the government. At the past session of parliament, Welfare Minister Martin discussed the point and held that what the parents lose in income tax in the year of the child's birth, they gain when the child is 16.

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices mixed today in early afternoon stock market dealings after a firm opening. Western oils declined.

Industrials gained slightly from firm opening and golds also held steady. Base metals slipped in afternoon trading and western oils drifted steadily downward throughout the session.

Trading picked up after a slow opening and broadened from a narrow range of selected stocks to a fairly broad list of issues in western oils and industrials. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,423,000 shares.

Western oil losses outnumbered gains about two to one as leading and minor issues slipped. Sapphire and Del Rio resisted the trend to record penny gains. Albermont, Dome Exploration, Pacific Pete and Royalite slipped.

A few base metal issues traded heavily, mostly for penny losses. Geneva was an exception, gaining a cent in a three-hour turnover of about 33,000 shares.

Utilities were a weak spot in the industrial list but papers, steels, constructions, refining oils and miscellaneous issues made headway. Manufacturing companies slipped.

Active trading in a few junior golds and prospects bolstered a spotty gold list.

volved in the Buhler case, and that the grand jury acted against him because his alleged offences were committed before a United States officer at the American consulate in Windsor.

Tobin has not been in the U. S. since his indictment, and officials said there is no feasible way to move against him unless he should enter the United States.

FINGERPRINTS SWITCHED

McGranery said that Buhler is already under a deportation order as a result of an immigration service inquiry into his claim, upon obtaining border crossing permits, that he had never been convicted of any criminal offence. The attorney-general said that fingerprints which he submitted were checked by the R. C. M. P. and disclosed no record.

Actually, McGranery said, the prints were those of one Morley Ernest Hostine, of Essex, Ont., who was also alleged to have signed Buhler's name to the chart.

McGranery said that both Buhler and Hostine implicated Tobin in the case.

The department said that investigation disclosed that Buhler, a native of Colchester, Ont., had a record of convictions at Windsor for housebreaking and theft.

Windsor Hospital Offers New Course

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Metropolitan Hospital officials said today the city-operated hospital will shortly introduce a nurses' training program involving a two-year study and practice course followed by a one-year interneship.

Nurses would be paid during their third year—but at a lower rate than graduate nurses are paid.

Man's Body Found Floating In River

AMHERSTBURG (CP)—Fishermen found the body of Robert Brooks, 36, of Detroit, last night floating in the Livingstone channel of the Detroit River two miles north of here.

Brooks disappeared Saturday after he left his wife and two friends to go out fishing alone. The empty boat was found two hours later.

C.N.E. Passes Cut By 25 P.C.

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian National Exhibition officials today announced a 25-per-cent cut in the number of passes issued for this year's show.

Last year 1,080,604 passes of various types were handed out. A total of 940,000 were issued for children's day and warriors' day. Another 75,000 were given to exhibitors and persons participating in the various functions.

Civic officials previously were able to obtain passes for friends. This year they can draw them for their immediate families only. Many organizations submitting lists of members for passes were refused.

Passes valued at $20,000 for the grandstand show were issued last year. Major cuts have been made this year.

Organists Regret Poor Wedding Music

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—A resolution referring to the choice of "inappropriate" music at weddings came before the annual convention of the Canadian College of Organists yesterday.

The resolution asked that a motion be presented to the Canadian Council of Churches and Ministerial Associations expressing the regret of the College that the choice of music at weddings is too often of a secular nature. It also suggested that clerical groups discuss the matter and that the college would be glad to join in such discussions.

Reginald Geen, of Oshawa, president of the College, reported the founding of four new centres, with prospect of two or three more in short time. Centres were organized in Owen Sound, Chatham, and Moose Jaw, Sask., and the centre in Ottawa was revived.

Young Liberals Meet

OTTAWA (CP)—Young Liberals from Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec will gather at Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, for a regional summer conference Sept. 5-6, the National Liberal Federation announced yesterday. Speakers will include Health Minister Martin and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

FOR COMMUNITY CENTRE

A saving of $2,500 in the cost of excavating for St. Thomas memorial community centre is estimated in the work done without charge by a flock of bulldozers, trucks and other heavy equipment. These contracting firms offered their help free to the municipality. The work was begun Monday.

2 Survivors Of Shooting In Hospital

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—Two airmen who twice cheated death were scooped up out of the stormy Gulf of Mexico by a Coast Guard minesweeper yesterday and brought to hospital here.

They were crew members aboard an ill-fated B-17 bomber shot down by a rocket fired by mistake by a new-type automatically controlled jet fighter Monday.

Sgt. Charles D. Jones, 31, and airman Peter R. Rosing, 22, were the only known survivors of the crew of eight aboard the bomber.

An air force C-47 spotted the two in a life raft bobbing about in the Gulf 60 miles southwest of Panama City, and directed the minesweeper U.S.S. Seer to the spot.

ONE BADLY BURNED

Both came aboard under their own power, although Rosing had severe burns of the face and hands caused when the plane caught fire. Before the rescue they spent 24 hours being tossed about by 15-foot-high waves.

The air force refused to give up hope for the remaining crew members. It speculated that heavy tides might have carried any other survivors several miles from the spot where the plane came down.

The rocket which sent the B-17 plunging into the Gulf was fired by the pilot of an F-86D.

The air force said the pilot, Col. Arthur R. Debolt, 39, apparently mistook the B-17 "mother" plane for an uninhabited radio-controlled drone which it was guiding. The drone, which was to have been the target, was about 1½ miles behind.

Debolt, described as "an exceptional officer," was grief stricken at the error, and said he was unable to explain it.

For security reasons, newspaper men were not permitted to ask the rescued airmen about the accident which caused their plight.

Negotiators In Korea Call New Recess

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist negotiators today called their fifth straight week-long recess in the Korean truce talks after a Red propaganda blast over shooting of Communiss prisoners in U.N. prisoner-of-war camps.

The truce teams talked only 33 minutes in a new Communist-built conference hut at Panmunjom. Neither side budged on the prisoner-exchange deadlock, final issue blocking an armistice.

At the suggestion of Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, chief U.N. delegate, they recessed until Sept. 4.

Played Santa Claus

CHICAGO (AP)—A $42-a-week messenger who played Santa Claus with $30,000 of his boss's money was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail. Anthony Adams, 44-year-old bachelor, said he forged company vouchers to get the money to give to needy friends and relatives.

Fatal Game

DANESE, W. Va. (AP)—Hattie Lou Bragg, 7, was playing in front of her home yesterday, a 10-foot rope tied to her wrist. The free end caught on the front of a passing automobile. The girl was dragged 150 yards. She was injured fatally.

NO PEANUT PERMIT

City council knows John Colomrakos only by name in his application by letter to the finance committee Monday night for permission to sell peanuts, popcorn and potato chips on the streets. He was sponsored by Louis Yeotes. Committee decided not to alter its decision excluding mobile units from down town vending.

THE HALES IN MAILLE: "When you can get people to laugh together, you have already broken down many barriers."

Laughter Right Of Mankind, Society Belief

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS (NEA) —The 900 "Compagnons de Rabelais," scattered around the world in an international society dedicated to loving your fellow man, are loving them to such an extent that they've already adopted 232 poor French villages. That figures to almost one village per every three compagnons.

The society is a non-political group, based on the concepts of the great French writer, Francois Rabelais. Over 450 years ago, he wrote that "laughter is the right of man," and the Compagnons add to that: "Better to write of laughter than of tears".

Every member is pledged to love his fellow man, treasure liberty of thought above all else, agree to give friendship, hospitality and good cheer to fellow Rabelaisians wherever they may be. But the group, founded less than three years ago, is much more than an eating and drinking fraternity

RABELAIS: Hale had to paint in the laugh.

ADOPTED VILLAGE

It takes its cue from the founders, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald van Barkaloo Hale, of Santa Barbara, Calif. In 1946, the Hales adopted the martyred French village of Maille, near Tours. On one of their visits to their adopted village, they learned of the existence of "Les Amis de Rabelais," a group planning to found a Rabelaisian museum in the author's birthplace, La Deviniere, very near Maille.

"Les Amis" was an old society, mostly intellectual in character. But their efforts to restore Rabelais' home, where the maxims he wrote are scribbled on whitewashed walls, was stymied by lack of money.

The Hales interested themselves in the project, and in the society, although they approached from a non-intellectual avenue.

"The breaking down of barriers under the banner of laughter is what interested us," Mr. Hale says. "When you can get people to laugh together—and the world unfortunately shows signs of forgetting how to laugh—you have already broken down many barriers."

MEMBERS SELECTED

Admission to the "Compagnons" is limited to men and women "who have done something for their fellow-men in science, arts and letters and politics." All names must be proposed by two members, and submitted to the Prefect of Tours.

"We could have 10,000 members tomorrow," says Mrs. Hale, "but that is not our purpose. The object is to maintain and encourage friendly contact with members throughout the world."

All membership proceeds —the dues are $10 for a life member — go to maintaining and beautifying La Deviniere.

The membership card features a laughing portrait of Rabelais, who encouraged laughter but never had a picture painted of himself even smiling. So Hale, a noted artist, painted one specifically for the card.

About half the members are Americans, who've "boned up" on the history of their patron.

They know, for instance, that besides writing, he was a doctor who believed that laughter cured most ills.

They know the high church officials didn't approve of him, because his writings were often exuberant and coarse, and written in every-day French whereas most fashionable authors of his day used Latin.

But their greatest aim and pleasure is encouraging laughter, and doing good is one way they've found to create smiles.

Lonely Lands Enrich Settled World

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Earth's "empty lands" may be as important to mankind as the inhabited parts of the globe, according to a U.S. delegate to the seventeenth International Geographical Congress.

Dr. Henry J. Warman, of the graduate school of geography at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., urges teachers of geography not to ignore such portions of the world as the Arctic and the African deserts merely because few people live there.

A new concept of the lonely places as benefactors of all mankind, he said, might lead to mutual effort by nations to use them most efficiently. Thus, he continued, "the empty lands may become the one great unifying force directed to eliminate wars which divide people and to focus all atteniton on the whole world as the 'home of man'."

As an example of an uninhabited or sparsely settled place which is of international benefit, Dr. Warman cites the Arctic region, whence clear, cool, disease-free air pours down impartially upon Europe and North America to better human existence.

BEEF FROM PAMPAS

Parts of Canada, populated only by wild birds and animals, furnish timber and medicines to the entire world. From the pampas of Southern Argentina, peopled mainly by animals, comes beef for all. Africa's Sahara Desert not only produces the warm, dry air that contributes to the fine Mediterranean climate, but serves as a buffer between different peoples, he said.

"Permit me to draw this analogy," he says. "The earth is the home of mankind just as an actual house is the home of a man.

"Does this man regard the furnace as unimportant because no one lives in it? Is the icebox, the refrigeration unit less important to man because no one lives in it? Are reservoirs useless because of no settlements on their shores?"

Dr. Warman describes "empty lands" as areas in which the population does not exceed two persons per square mile. The world average is 40 a square mile.

He notes that earth's population today is approximately 2,300,000,000. Three-fourths of these human beings are located on a little more than one-eighth of the land surface.

A FLYROD conquered this 21-pound muskie, held by Frank Pierce, of Painsville, Ohio. It was Mr. Pierce's first fish, and was taken in Bradley Bay on the Trent River with a June-bug as bait. Mr. Pierce and a friend spent almost an hour landing the 'lunge.—W. W. Reid Photo).

Ohio Man Takes 21-Pound Muskie

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Catching a 21-pound 'lunge is nothing out of the ordinary for fishermen in this district, but a set of circumstances surrounding the taking of a fish this size at Bradley Bay, a few miles south of this town, on Tuesday morning made it a unique experience.

First of all, the fish was the first ever caught by Frank Pierce of Painsville, Ohio. It was the first time in his life that Mr. Pierce had gone fishing, and, he took it on a fly rod with a 15 pound test line ,using a june-bug spinner with three dew worms on the hook.

Mr. Pierce had often thought of going fishing after listening to visitors to his store at 263 Liberty Street in Painsville, tell of the big fish taken in the Kawartha district. He asked a friend about fishing tackle and was advised to get himself a fly rod. Mr. Pierce did just that.

On his arrival at Hendrick's Resort on Bradley Bay, he tried out his new fishing equipment, and took two friends along to show him how to use it.

After hooking the fish, Mr. Pierce, who is 67, didn't know what to do, so after playing the big fellow for several minutes, Bill Gooderich, of Youngstown, Ohio, took over. He played the fish for three-quarters of an hour before Art Worsley, the third companion in the boat, succeeded in gaffing it. Mr. Wosley hails from Hubbard, Ohio, and he and Mr. Gooderich had taken Mr. Pierce under their respective wings, to coach him in the art of angling.

Serious Developments Forecast In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters)—"Serious political developments" within 24 hours were forecast today by the nationalist newspaper Al Misri.

The paper hinted at recent "important" meetings to discuss the Army's land-reform plan. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, the commander-in-chief, had a three-hour meeting with Premier Aly Maher last night.

After his talk with Naguib, Maher said last night he "hoped" elections might be held before February. The administration at present is a non-party one, formed after the deposition of King Farouk.

Two Metals Removed Off Critical List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today took copper and aluminum off its critical list and indicated an improving metal supply situation may permit a big boost in military and civilian production next year.

The defence production administration forecast a better supply of steel, copper and aluminum in early 1953.

Copper particularly has become more plentiful, partly because not so much of it was used by manufacturers during the steel strike.

Gets Foreign Wheat

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—For the first time, Argentina yesterday received a bulk shipment of foreign wheat. It came in the freighter Rio Atuel from New Orleans in exchange for maize. The deal was made because of the failure of the Argentina wheat crop and the dollar shortage.

Re-Route The Trucks

Alderman Rehill's contention that trucks entering or leaving the city by Highway 28 south-west should be re-routed by Highway 7A has real merit. It is not a new suggestion, but one to which the Department of Highways should give renewed consideration. It is nonsense to permit these noisy, cumbersome commercial vehicles to use a road and streets through a primarily residential area when there is an alternative, primarily commercial route available, (as most of Lansdowne and George streets are).

* * *

The Department's objection that the 7A knoll at the junction of 28 is dangerous should carry no weight with the city council at all. Admittedly that junction is dangerous, but it is the Department's business to make it safe. The incline should be graded down. Anyway, through traffic from 28 to Number 7 east always uses this bypass. If the Council put its foot down and closed off Charlotte and Clonsilla — which are within its jurisdiction — to heavy commercial traffic, it might force the Department to do what it should have done long ago: get rid of the hazard at the junction. The objection that Lansdowne street has two railway crossings is taken only in favour of the truckers. Trucks can heed the warning signals, or come to a full stop there. Which is more important to the city: its amenities and the sleep of its residents, or the convenience of truckers? Anyway, Charlotte street has one railway crossing (at Bethune).

* * *

Port Hope required heavy commercial traffic on Number 2 to be diverted four miles out of its way: by Welcome and Dale. Is it outrageous that Peterborough should require a diversion which adds no miles at all?

* * *

The sleep of residents; that is something that must be taken into account on the Lansdowne Street route, too. There are many houses along it. The speed of trucks passing along Lansdowne, especially in the dead of night, is a municipal scandal. Before more trucks are routed that way, the 30 m.p.h. limit should be rigorously enforced—with vengeance if necessary.

Breathing Space In U.S.

One of the mysteries of the American scene is the paralysis that descends over political affairs every four years for the better part of a year. Owing to the prevailing uncertainty the President in office seeks to avoid engaging the country in any new commitments until it has made up its own mind for the next four years. Tariff agreements, seaways, treaties, all must wait until the end of the Marathon debate.

The first phase in the struggle is over. The two main parties have chosen their men. It is a miracle that two such superior figures should have emerged from the circus-ring atmosphere of the conventions. It is strange, too, that amongst all the candidates that were fighting so hard to be nominated the choice should have fallen upon two unwilling candidates.

Following the convention a deep lull appears to have fallen on the campaign. The lull is, of course more apparent than real, for there is plenty of activity taking place behind the scenes. The first duty of the successful candidate is to rally the forces of his party behind him. Eisenhower is having to use all his tact and ingenuity to heal the rift in the Republicans, while Stevenson is faced with the problem of keeping the civil rights issue from splitting the Democrats from top to bottom. He must also maintain enough contact with President Truman to demonstrate his continuity in line of succession and enough detachment to prove that he is not necessarily bound by the decisions of his predecessor.

The final phase of the campaign is due to start around Labour Day, when the two candidates will come before the public. They will state their aims in a series of speeches before the widest audience yet known except possibly for the Christmas broadcasts of the late King. It is up to both candidates to prove that they are not mere party politicians in an endeavour to capture the large number of voters who are not definitely committed to either major party. An attempt will be made to win over Republicans to Democrats and vice versa: a case in instance is the Solid South, where Eisenhower has high hopes of winning over the right wing of the Democrats who are frightened by the civil rights issue. It would be a strange irony of history if the "Dixiecrats" were to be received into the bosom of the party that freed the slaves.

We make no predictions as to the outcome of the election, which is a good deal more uncertain than in 1948, when the professional pollsters and crystal-gazers made such a hash of their prognostications. We would point out, however, that it will be no walk-over for Eisenhower. The appointment of an eminent soldier as Presidential candidate, is not without precedent, yet is not viewed with equanimity by all sections of American public opinion. Stevenson, though not looked on with favour by organized labour because of his reported approval of the Taft-Hartley Act, will be supported by them by and large as the lesser of two evils. We must not be deceived by the easy assumption in many American publications that an Eisenhower victory is certain. The majority of American newspapers and magazines is of the Republican persuasion and is apt to indulge pretty largely in wishful thinking.

Rough Justice

We are perturbed by a report from South Korea that the trial of twelve men alleged to be implicated in an attempt on the life of President Syngman Rhee on June 25 is to continue in camera on the grounds that one of the accused might make some "careless statement." It is a fundamental principal of law as we know it that the accused should be granted every possible safeguard for a fair trial compatible with public security. If these men were accused of spying on behalf of the enemy it would be necessary to exclude press and public to prevent highly secret information from reaching the enemy: in this case, however, we can see no reason for a secret trial unless it is intended to secure the conviction of the defendants by fair means or foul. These men are on trial for their lives, and they are entitled to a fair hearing in open session.

Admittedly there are extenuating circumstances for the South Koreans which we would do well to bear in mind when criticizing the workings of their civil institutions. During the long years of Japanese occupation Koreans were debarred from public service, and when they gained their freedom in 1945 politicians, judges and lawyers with no experience whatsoever had to be chosen to fill the gap. Furthermore the arbitrary division of the country along a line of longitude which took no account of the traditional borders of the provinces or the natural boundaries of river and stream handicapped the Koreans from the start, especially as the two halves of the country came under the wing of the two great rival world powers. Add to that the unfortunate necessity that war brings of temporarily suppressing certain ordinary democratic freedoms such as happened even in Canada during the last war. Under the circumstances it is unreasonable to expect as high a standard of legal impartiality in war-torn Korea as exists in this country.

It should be brought home very forcibly to President Syngman Rhee, as it was after the mass executions of poltical opponents at the time of the recapture of Seoul that the conduct of the present trial is arousing grave misgivings in the rest of the world.

August Languor

A day such as this is enervating in a delicious way. It comes after a cold whisper of summer's end, when evening noticeably descends earlier, and just before the calendar says we should all be putting away our playthings and girding our spirits for the usual routine the next nine months bring. Suddenly, with these feelings in our fibres, we get warmth and sun like today's, and lazily surrender ourselves to summer again. Indeed, the effort of doing anything more than lie in the lap of summer is too exhausting to be considered. We sag, and mop our brow — and like it. It is like waking up with the alarm clock to suddenly remember that it is fast, and drop off to doze for ten more minutes.

The southern Ontario climate holds many pleasant surprises like these. Some of the best are in August and September. It is the sort of weather that should make the air and sky and land adorable, and kindle poetry. One reason that Canada has few good nature poets is that the environment is generally too stern to stir affection and winged words to sing it. Why do our writers not seize rare moments such as these today? Perhaps the languor is too soporific for words.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Item from the London News Chronicle: "Mrs. Douglas Nicholes, of Cambridge, went to nurse King Farouk when he was sixteen months old. She said last night: 'He was a sick, delicate baby, I would not tolerate interference, and treated him as a normal English baby. Within a week he put on weight'." The hardy English oak method. And still from the little acorn the great thing grows.

Canada wants U.K. domestic policy studied. Why? Is home help better and easier to get in Britain than in Canada? Is British family life smoother and fuller? Is their cooking better?

Most Important Soviet Event Since The War

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

THE CONVENING of the nineteenth Communist Party Congress, announced in Moscow last week, is the most important event in the Soviet Union since the war. It is important for the outside world as well as for the Russians. It means that Stalin at last considers that he has got the Soviet Union on an even keel after the immense disorganisation brought about by the war and the frenzied development and consolidation of Communist influence since the war. It means that during the long silence of the past years the Kremlin has been taking stock, charting its future course, and is now ready to make a public announcement of it.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE OF THE SUREST signs of unsettlement in the Soviet Union has been, precisely, the failure of the Communist Party to call a New Congress. The one which will open on October 5 is overdue by ten years. According to the Party Statutes there should be a full Congress at least once in three years. The last was in 1939. That there should have been no Congress during the war was understandable enough. But as the years have passed since 1945 the failure to call a new one has caused the wildest speculation inside as well as outside Russia. It meant in effect that the Communist Party was being run under emergency powers, never explicitly assumed, but none the less real.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE TRADITIONAL functions of the Party Congress are two-fold. First, it discusses and approves the Party programme, or line, for the years to come; secondly it elects the Party Central Committee in which, between Congresses, all power is vested.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS ONE of the functions of the newly-appointed Central Committee, which has seventy members, itself to elect certain standing committees which act in its name. These, in the past, have been the Politburo, or Political Bureau, responsible for Party policy; the Ogburo, or organisational Bureau, responsible for Party discipline. The activities of these standing committees are co-ordinated by the Party Secretariat, also elected by the Central Committee. Stalin is the Secretary General.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL POLICY MAKING has thus been vested in the Politburo, which, running the Communist Party, runs the Soviet Union. This body, which is supposed to be elected every three years, has remained the same since 1939, from time to time co-opting new candidate members or full members. Thus, for thirteen years, the 1939 Politburo has been in effect a self-perpetuating dictatorship, with Stalin at its head.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE NEW CONGRESS will see the break-up of the Politburo, which we have come to think of as the natural government of Russia. There will never be a Politburo again. Instead there is to be a combined Politburo and Ogburo, called the Presidium of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. This does not mean that we shall see an entirely new set of figures. Stalin will remain the head of the Soviet Union, his new title will probably be Chairman of the Presidium of the Communist Party. The chief members of the Politburo and the Ogburo will be elected as members of the new Presidium, head, almost certainly by Malenkov, who will deliver the customary report on the state of the Party to the Congress. In the past this report has always been delivered by Stalin, and the choice of Malenkov on this occasion confirms the ten year old notion that Malenkov will be the head man in the Soviet Union when Stalin dies. This fact alone makes the Congress worthy of interest.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT THE CHIEF INTEREST lies in the fact of the Congress itself. During the war the Communist Party was greatly expanded to receive all patriotic Russians, regardless of their political ideas. Most patriotic Russians were in the Army, and thus, by the end of the war, the expanded Party consisted largely of Army officers, honest Russians with little or no knowledge of Marxist-Leninism and interested only in making the Soviet Union into a country fit for heroes to live in. After the war, for one reason and another, it was found that patriotism was not enough. Had a Party Congress been convened in 1946 the Army and ex-Army membership would have secured the election of a Central Committee which would have reflected fairly accurately the aspirations of the ordinary Russian and not at all accurately the designs of the professional politicians who were running the country.

✧ ✧ ✧

SINCE THE WAR purge after purge has restored the Party to something like its pristine integrity; and the convening of the new Congress means that Stalin can now rely on the Communist Party to elect the sort of Central Committee which he himself desires.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT ALSO MEANS that Stalin feels able to face the country with a tale of achievement won and a clear call for the future. It means, in a word, that Russia has turned the corner. It means that she has, in the eyes of Stalin, re-established herself after the devastation of the war and is able to take formal stock and to announce a programme for the future. It means, to us in the outside world, that, after October 5, we shall have a clearer guide to the conduct of the Soviet Union than we have had since the war.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE GREAT QUESTION is whether in her new confidence the Soviet Union will relax her pressure on the West, or whether she will increase it. The Congress may very well provide the answer.

An American Opinion: SWAN SONG

A Surplus Is A Surplus Is A Surplus

(CALGARY HERALD)

A "SURPLUS", according to our big friendly dictionary, is "what remains over and above what has been taken or used, an amount remaining in excess; superabundance." Personally, we are all in favour of superabundance.

But superabundance comes in six delicious flavours and none of them do we ever seem to taste, personally that is. Let us look at this superabundance of surpluses.

First, there is the niggardly or clubhouse surplus. It usually amounts to around $4.28 on the year's activities and hardly seems worthy of the efforts of a big firm of chartered accountants.

Then there is the uncounted surplus which is only accounted for when the teller disappears after lunch with a blonde and a big black bag.

There is what the labour unions call the hidden surplus or the amount which the employees should have received if the money hadn't been plowed back into business or gone to shareholders.

There is the God-given surplus through which large rolls of cash accrue in superabundant form to a government like that in Alberta, which does little but sit by the derricks, holding a big, leak-proof bucket.

Best of all, there is the federal government or surprise surplus, conjured up by Mr. Surplus himself, Doug Abbott. This is the fattest surplus of the lot and would in the terms of the Hollywood producer be labelled "supercollossalabundant" surplus. At last count, it amounted to a mere $262,475,000 for three months and was the biggest surprise of Mr. Abbott's superabundant career, since he only estimated a surplus of $9,000,000 for the whole year.

But the latest and most fascinating example is the mystery surplus. It comes from Hamilton, Ont. That is, it stays in Hamilton. Well, maybe it won't if Mr. Abbott finds out about it. At any rate, this surplus amounts to $1,090,266.18 and has been buried for 30 years in the books (some books!) of the municipality of Hamilton, a small town just outside Toronto. The auditors are at a loss to explain it and when you get an auditor at a loss to explain, that is something indeed.

Although Torontonians know Hamilton as a lethargic place, the town does bear the label, "The Ambitious City" and it is quite obvious some ambitious Hamiltonian in days gone by figured that the acid test of aspiration was to see if the place could grow twice as big on half the money. Well, Hamilton is just about twice as big as it was 30 years ago, so it must work. The mystery is how to locate another example.

We would most sincerely like to advise our mayor to get a ticket for Hamilton right away and find out how it's done. If he finds out, we'll be glad to show him how to spend it. In the meantime, we can only say, in the words of dear departed Gertrude, that a surplus is a surplus is a surplus and we wish we could find just one in our account books.

The Future Of Empire

(L'Evenement, Quebec)

Newspapers in Great Britain are predicting that Canada may some day become more important than Britain in the society of free nations of the Commonwealth. This would be an onerous honour to which many Canadians would not aspire. Whatever the circumlocutions of English politics it is clear that London is the heart and head of an empire of which the United Kingdom is only a part. At the same time Britain is the metropolis of an association of countries more or less free, of which Canada at the moment carries the greatest obligations which it discharges as well as possible. In some sense Canada is perhaps the least free today even though it is the most economically independent of the Commonwealth countries. It is more engaged than Great Britain toward the countries of the Atlantic Alliance. Its English friends might do well to remember that Canada is above all an American nation, and therefore directly interested in the continental defence of the new world. It would like to help Britain out of her difficulties, if possible, but it would be too much to ask that Canada endorse the obligations of London toward the colonies which make up the empire.

A Health Insurance Fund

(Western Farm Leader)

The present time of buoyant national revenues, and large surpluses, would seem to be ideal for the building up of a fund from which, in days to come, a national health insurance plan could be financed. There is an illuminating precedent. It was during the years of the last World War that the government established unemployment insurance. Heavy costs for defence did not then block the way.

The plan adopted served a double purpose. It assisted the nation in the fight against inflation. Its effect was similar to that of public subscriptions to the war loans. These tended, as did the contributions of industry and employees to the unemployment insurance fund, to take out of circulation part of the expanded currency, the pressure of which on short supplies had an inflationary tendency.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him: and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. . .

For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree; and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off. (Isa. 55:6-9, 12, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering: (for he is faithful that promised:) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works. . .

For ye had compassion on me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your bonds, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance. (Heb. 10:23, 24, 34.)

Letters To The Editor

GOOD TREATMENT WITH CONTROLS

Sir: For over a year the Provincial Govt. has been administering rent controls.

I do not know how others fare with them, but I have got better treatment.

Under Federal controls my rent was away too low. Fortunately the tenants left and I was free to increase it to a fair level.

Then the Provincial Government put all exempt properties under controls and an appraiser looked over my property. He not only upheld my rental, but congratulated me on not overcharging.

I have even heard people connected up with Federal rent controls say, "The thing was in a mess"—some properties at too low a rent and other and no better properties renting much too high.

It is this mess the Provincial Govt. and municipalities in taking over have to contend with and rectify.

Yours truly,
LANDLORD

DUST ON THE ROAD

Sir: After reading an article in your paper with regards to the Buckhorn Road I would like to express my view point.

Mr. Stewart made the remark that one should treat statements with regard to road situations from tourists with a grain of salt. I am surprised an intelligent man uttering such a statement. Apparently he is not aware of the value tourists are to this locality. We extend a cordial invitation to Mr. Stewart to our little village, travel main road, not via Burleigh or back road as all are doing. If he values his car, he had better hire a taxi and by the way wear an old suit as the dust would ruin a good one.

Sincerely,
A TRAVELLER

Canadian Sure Of Taking Women's Title

OTTAWA (CP)—Six tennis championships, including the junior men's and women's singles, will be decided today in the second-last day of the Canadian junior tennis championships.

Defending champion Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla., meets Stephen Gottlieb of New York on the Rideau Lawn Tennis club's new all-weather court for the junior men's singles title.

A Canadian is sure of taking the junior women's singles title, however, with defending champion Mariette Laframboise of Montreal and Carol Turcotte of Ottawa fighting for the honors.

Also scheduled for finals are the boys' singles, junior women's doubles and boys' and girls' doubles.

Miss Laframboise will pair off with Vonnie Davis of Toronto in the women's doubles in another all-Canadian match. They tangle with Ann Stacey and Judy Bryson of Halifax.

Carl Nargauer of Yonkers, N.Y., plays Jim Ionidis of Winnipeg for the boys' singles title.

Joan O'Brien and Carol Barton of Toronto yesterday moved into the finals of the girls' doubles and that title will be decided later in the day after a semi-final match is completed. Ionidis, boys' singles hopeful, and Frank Kanowsky, of Winnipeg, will join forces against Raul Karman of Havana, Cuba, and Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, Mich., for the boys' doubls.

HAMTRAMCK WINS THREE

Yesterday Dubie's clubmate, Joyce Pniewski, captured the girls' singles title when she ousted first-seeded Carol Wolf of Buffalo, N.Y., 6-3, 8-6. It was the third title captured by the young Hamtramck tennis club members, who entered the Canadian title matches for the first time this year. Earlier 11-year-old Dubie and Phyllis Saganski won the juvenile boys' and juvenile girls' singles championships.

Johnston, playing his last year of junior tennis, yesterday defeated Norgauer Johnston, an excitable player but good with placement shots and fast on the court, took the semi-final in straight sets 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Gottlieb, a perfectionist who goes to the extreme of checking the net and lines before he plays, ousted Joe Jacinto of East Rockaway, N.Y., 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Ionidis moved into the boys' singles final yesterday with a 6-1, 6-3 win over Gordon Daly of Toronto. In the other semi-final, Norgauer defeated Karman 6-0, 6-0.

GOLFER LOUIS BOWS OUT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Bob Williams of Cleveland, the tournament medalist, were eliminated from the United Golf Association's amateur tournament yesterday. Louis, defending champ, bowed to Willie Brown of Houston, Tex. 1-up. Williams was ousted by Jim Paul of New York, 3 and 2.

KNOCKOUT BLOW—Bobby Avila, of the Indians, slides safely into home to add another run in the Cleveland club's 6-4 kayo of the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Catcher Yogi Berra takes Joe Collins' tardy throw. The Indians took over first place by one percentage point with Luke Easter's three-run homer and Avila's triple play pacing the attack.

Favorites Ousted In Vancouver Tourney

VANCOUVER (CP)—The favorites were beginning to find their way to the sidelines today as play continued in the Canadian amateur golf tournament.

The field of 64 was to be pruned to 16 in the third and fourth rounds of the week-long club social over the mountainside Capilano course in West Vancouver.

Walt McElroy of Vancouver, the defending champion, joined a small, select group of also-rans after yesterday's second 18-hole match-play round. Previously sidetracked were Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck, N.Y., runner-up in the U.S. amateur last year, Pete Bogan, U.S. public links champion, and Dick Yost, U.S. amateur semi-finalist at Seattle last week.

A fairly large group gave signs they are able and willing to step into McElroy's shoes, among them Canadians Nick Weslock of Windsor, Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., and Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver; and Americans Sam Urzetta, 1950 U.S. champion from Rochester, N.Y., Ed Johnston of Towson, Md., Bill Campbell of Huntinton, W.Va., Frank Hardison of Glendale, Calif., and Bob Roos of San Francisco, who eliminated McElroy 3 and 2.

WESLOCK WINS EASILY

Weslock swarmed all over Mike Banks of Seattle, 9 and 8, and went on to fire an eight-under-par 64, two off the course record of 62 set by Al Mengert of Spokane, Wash., two years ago.

Johnston crushed R. W. Porter of Vancouver 10 and 8 in the most one-sided match so far. Both he and Weslock had eagles, Weslock on the par-five first and Johnston on the par-five fifth.

Some of the matches scheduled for today include those between Bill Shields, New York state champion, and Phil Farley of Toronto; Urzetta and highly-regarded Jack Ellis of Vancouver; Eddie Draper, Washington state champion, and Jim Harper of Edmonton; and Dave Edgell of Vancouver and Silverberg.

The fifth and sixth rounds will be run off tomorrow, leading to the 36-hole semi-finals Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

U.S. Golfers Pile Up Points At Match

By W.R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—Riding along on a comfortable point margin, the six-man team of American professional golfers was heavy favorite today to win the first international match against Canadians.

The Americans piled up 7½ point to Canada's 1½ in the three four-ball matches yesterday. Six singles are carded in today's windup, the feature match bringing together Julius Boros, U.S. Open champion, and Bobby Locke, British Open titleholder.

It promised to be a torrid match, with prestige as well as points at stake.

POSTS LOW SCORE

Locke, the South African golfing master, posted low medal score among the 12 players in the four-ball matches. He shot a nine-under-par 135 for the 36-hole distance over the Beaconsfield course while a gallery of 4,500 applauded.

Locke was teamed with Jules Huot of Montreal and the two took one point in three in their match against Boros and Doug Ford. They were one up after 18 holes but surrendered the lead to Boros' hot putting in the afternoon and the Americans went on to take the second 18 by a three-hole margin and win over the 36-hole distance two up.

Stan Horne of Montreal, playing with Gordie Brydson of Toronto, put together a pair of 34s in afternoon play to hold Jack Burke, Jr., American captain, and Cary Middlecoff even. The Canadians trailed by six holes after the morning round but by keeping the afternoon round all square split the single point that goes with each 18 holes.

The third point in each match goes to the 36-hole winner Dave Douglas and Ted Kroll of the United States raced off to a five-hole lead in the morning play against Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Pat Fletcher, Saskatoon, and added two more in the afternoon to trounce the Canadian pair seven up.

BEST PUTTERS

The Canadians' field game held up well enough with the Americans but in putting the Yanks were far more deadly except for Locke's great showing.

Bobby licked par consistently although he went one over at three holes. His putting repertoire included a sensational 45-footer and in the afternoon round he holed out a 100-foot pitch shot for an eagle three at the 28th hole.

Boris, whose 66 in the afternoon was low 18-hole medal score of the day, had a 36-hole medal of 136, only one stroke off Locke's score.

Horne's sensational putting in the second round brought him a 68 and 36-hole score of 139.

The American power was evident in every match. Each of the six Americans was under par in at least one of the 18-hole rounds. At the finish their worst score for the full day was 144—even par—by Dave Douglas.

A 67 by Jack Burke and a 79 by Middlecoff in the morning was too much for Horne and Brydson. But Jackie fell off to a 75 in the afternoon, three over par, and Middlecoff, although still under par, picked up on the 34th after twice slicing his tee shot behind a barn. He was given no medal score for the hole.

HORNE'S SCORE GOOD

Horne's medal of 139 placed him second among the Canadians. Leonard had 147 and Fletcher with 17 pars in the morning, 148 Brydson posted 150 and Huot, off his usual steady game, had 77-78 for 155.

Fletcher, who won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association title last month, is back in the singles competition draw today.

In the original draw announced Monday night, he was left off the singles line-up, his place taken by Bill Kerr, of the Beaconfield club, alternate and captain of the Canadian team. Fletcher was "damned mad" at the selection. He said he thought the C.P.G.A. champion belonged on the team throughout.

There were reports during yesterday's play that a further change had been made and the high-scoring Canadian in the four-ball matches would drop out. This arangement didn't materialize and late last night Kerr announced he would not play in the singles. He said his mates had done well and he wouldn't break up the six-man team.

Rough Riders Meet Als In First Tussle

MONTREAL (CP)—It's Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes in the curtain-raiser here tonight of the Big Four football season.

Alouettes, the big question mark of Canadian competition, got into action under a new ownership and management set-up. Since last fall, when they won only three games, the Als have been to the dry cleaners.

Coach Doug Walker, new to Montreal and the Canadian game, has picked Sam Etcheverry, 23-year-old former Denver University grid star, to do the quarterbacking against the Grey Cup champion Rough Riders.

ONLY EIGHT BACK

Only eight members of the ill-fated squad of 1951 are back. Of the eight U.S. imports to be in uniform, only Ray Cicia has been around before. Another, Frank Nagle, sits it out tonight while Etcheverry works but the Nebraska boy isn't out of the hunt for the quarterback spot and will get his chance before the import squad is pruned Oct. 1.

The Als have almost a half-dozen players on the sidelines with injuries. Even at their healthiest last year, they couldn't cope with Ottawa and there's no indication that coach Clem Crowe hasn't as good a club as in 1951.

Ottawa's big loss from the line-up is the husky tackle and long-range placement booter, Bob Gain, but despite this Rider fans insist the team is considerably strengthened.

STELCOS EDGE WESTON

WINNIPEG (CP)—Montreal Stelcos last night defeated Winnipeg United Weston 1-0 in the first game of the best-of-three Dominion soccer semi-final. The winner meets either Edmonton Legion or New Westminster in the Dominion final to be played here.

Suspend Maxim For Ducking Turpin Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim yesterday was suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission until he goes through with a title defence against Britain's Randy Turpin in London.

The 30-year-old 175-pound king and his manager, Jack Kearns, both were suspended indefinitely for their refusal to defend the crown this September under the promotion of England's Jack Solomons.

After hearing testimony from Solomons, Ted Waltham, general secretary of the British Boxing Board of Control, Kearns and others, the commission ruled unanimously that Maxim and Kearns had "refused to honor an agreement" to meet Turpin and declared their action "detrimental to the best interests of boxing."

There had been talk that Maxim would defend his crown against Jake La Motta, the Bronx bull, in Detroit this fall.

"I'm going to talk this whole matter over with a lawyer," said Kearns. "We're not trying to duck Turpin or anyone else."

SENATORS NOW LEAF FARM

TORONTO (CP)—Conn Smythe, managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs, and Tommy Gorman, owner of Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, yesterday announced the Senators will become a farm team for the leafs.

The agreement followed a ruling by the American Hockey League that players sent to the A.H.L. from the National Hockey League could not be recalled during the season.

Smythe and Gorman also announced the appointment of Johnny O'Flaherty of Toronto as coach of the Senators, replacing Bill Durnan, former Montreal Canadiens' goaltender who will coach a Rouyn, Que., team.

Under the agreement, which Gorman described as "the strongest affiliation possible," the Leafs will send players they may need later in the season to the Senators instead of to their A.H.L. farm team, Pittsburgh Hornets.

Gorman said the new affiliation, the first direct tie-up the Senators have ever had with a major league club, was "the biggest thing that has happened to hockey in Ottawa in years."

It is believed that the first Leaf help to the Ottawa club will be six players, but both Smythe and Gorman refused to name them.

Smythe said there will be an N.H.L. meeting in Chicago Sept. 10 to decide whether any action shoul be taken to counteract the A.H.L. ruling.

WINS SENIOR GOLF

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. G. F. Laing of Windsor, Ont., yesterday won his fourth consecutive Canadian seniors' golf association title with a 36-hole total of 154 in the two-day competition. Dr. Laing, who in 1931 was forced to give up golf for seven years because of arthritis, shot an eight-over-par 79 at the Royal Ottawa course to put with the 75 he scored Monday at the neighboring Rivermead course.

ANOTHER NO-HITTER

BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn. (AP)—Frank Ramsay, a 19-year-old left-hander, turned in Bristol's second no-hitter in two nights and fifth of the season as he blanked Bluefield 1-0 last night. His masterpiece came only 24 hours after Bill Bell, 18, had pitched his third no-hitter Monday night in blanking the same Bluefield team. Ron Necciai, now with Pittsburgh Pirates, started the string May 13 when he struck out 27 men in hurling the first of the five local no-hitters.

FIVE MEMBERS of the Professional Golfers' Association of America golf team to play in international matches against Canadian pros in Montreal this week arrived by special plane. Shown upon their arrival at the Duval Airport are, left to right: Doctor and Mrs. Cary Middlecoff, Dave and Mrs. Douglas Ford, Jack Burke, Jr., Julius Boros, U.S. Open Champion, and Ted Kroll. Also shown are Bob Gibson, editor of the P.G.A. Golfer, and Gordon J. Stringer, chairman of the P.G.A. match committee.

Greco Downs Savoie And Regains Title

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian welterweight title and veteran John Greco of Montreal are back together again.

This came about last night when the 29-year-old Greco defeated fellow-Montreal Armand Savoie, getting a unanimous decision in the 12-round title bout at the Forum.

Greco, champion since 1941, lost the title to Savoie in a close decision here some weeks ago.

Greco weighed 147, Savoie 139.

More than 8,000 fans contributed to a gross gate of $23,000 to see Greco force the fight all the way and win by a wide margin. The veteran was on the offensive continually, landing repeatedly to pile up the points while 23-year-old Savoie was never able to get along.

HOLDING CHARGED

Referee Tommy Sullivan awarded two rounds to Greco, charging continuous holding on the part of Savoie but the decision had little affect on the fight as they were rounds in which Greco had a margin.

In an eight-round, semi-final, Young Junior, 142½, Springfield, Mass., scored a technical knockout over Bryant Kelly of Niagara Falls, Ont., in the fifth round.

Kelly, 138½, was apparently injured when the two fighters' heads collided in the fourth and suffered a gash under the eye. The referee let the fight go on until the end of the round but then halted the bout.

Battles Devil Fish Nearly 7 Hours Half-Ton Monster Nearly Winner

BALBOA, Calif. (AP) — Gail Humphreys, employed by a sports fishing concern here, conquered a half-ton manta ray in a 6½-hour battle off the southern California coast, but he wants no more of them.

The 34-year-old fisherman is still resting from his weekend bout with the devilfish.

Humphreys and three companion were trolling for marlin in a 30-foot power boat when they sighted the great bat-like fish. The fisherman scored with a harpoon and the fight was on.
